Foreword

This is the twenty-second issue of The Clerical Directory over a sixty-seven year period beginning with 1898. The Directory has been edited successively by the Reverend Frederic E. J. Lloyd, the Reverend Andrew David Stowe, Mrs. Grace Stowe Fish, and since 1941 The Church Hymnal Corporation in behalf of The Church Pension Fund. The exacting task of compiling this issue was in the hands of Miss Dorothy W. Scully.

The biographies contain a vast amount of information packed in a small space. Reading is facilitated by a few minutes preview of the abbreviations pages.

The Directory is not a money making enterprise. The selling price per copy is set at a figure which it is hoped will balance costs.

Group photographs of the clergy are carried in this edition for the sixth time.

The General Convention Digest 1964 was graciously furnished by Henry McCorkle, the Editor of the Episcopalian. The 1956 edition was the first to carry a similar digest. These represent a remarkable "boiling down" of deeds of the recent Conventions and are a highly useful permanent quick-reference source.

The Reverend Darby W. Betts is, with the assistance of the Joint Commission on Architecture and the Allied Arts, the creator of the series, "The Church's Evolving Architecture," which first appeared in the 1956 edition. The first essay dealt with fifteen churches of various styles and periods. Subsequent articles have discussed churches built during the preceding triennium in each case. With essay, photographs, and descriptive captions, the series is intended to give a record and commentary of architectural development in our Church over the years.

We give our hearty thanks to the clergy for their cooperation in sending us their information. It is our hope that The Clerical Directory 1965 will enjoy the widest possible distribution among the clergy, parishes and lay people.
