GENERAL CONVENTION DIGEST

1967

The 62nd General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the U.S.A., meeting in Seattle, Washington, September 1967:

URBAN CRISIS

- Heard the Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, Presiding Bishop, call on all churchmen to walk "humbly and boldly alongside and in support of the dispossessed and oppressed," in confronting the urban crisis.
- Appointed a joint committee of Bishops, Deputies, and Triennial delegates to draft a response to the Presiding Bishop's call.
- Sent an open letter to Bishop Hines promising "external actions, and internal changes" regarding race and poverty and pledged $3 million per year for the next three years to support community development within urban ghettos.
- Urged all Church-related schools and institutions to point scholarship aid toward minority groups; national, diocesan, and parish administrators to limit business transactions to firms with nondiscriminatory policies; and equal opportunity for both black and white clergy, workers, and communicants at all levels of the Church's life.
- Advocated full participation of the poor in planning community programs; support for the Federal government's war on poverty; and the elimination of racial segregation in every facet of the nation's social fabric.
- Assured rural and overseas workers that the new emphasis on urban crisis would not weaken support in their areas of concern.

GENERAL CHURCH PROGRAM

- Passed overwhelmingly a worldwide and national program of "renewal and mission" for the coming triennium which is organized around overall goals, strategies, and priorities. Costs: for 1968, $14,654,053; total for the next triennium, $45,591,689.
- Re-ordered priorities at the last minute to provide $6 million for the urban crisis over the next three years, and thanked Triennial for pledging $3 million from the United Thank Offering for the same purpose.
- Defeated the proposed Partnership Plan which would have replaced the "quota" system with voluntary giving.
- Approved plans for special Theological Education, Good Friday, and Church School Missionary Offerings.
- Resolved that elected members of Executive Council make annual visits to all dioceses to interpret the General Church Program.
- Adopted a statement concerning the theological basis of stewardship and continued the work of a stewardship education officer.

UNITY

- Commended the "Principles of Church Union"; urged the document's study throughout the Episcopal Church, and ordered Episcopal representatives to participate in the Consultation on Church Union in developing a proposed plan of union.

Endorsed continued explorations into relationships with Roman Catholic, Orthodox, Lutheran, and other separated Christians.

• Heard Dr. Arthur Michael Ramsey, Archbishop of Canterbury, at a special ecumenical service assert that "Every Christian has a share in the drive toward Christian unity."
• Authorized all baptized Christians to receive the Holy Communion at Episcopal altars when in "spiritual need," and at ecumenical gatherings, and opened Episcopal pulpits and chancels to ministers of other churches for preaching and assisting in the Prayer Book Marriage and Burial Offices.
• Re-affirmed importance of ecumenically oriented college chaplains.

WAR AND PEACE

• Debated long and hard over the Church's position toward the war in Vietnam, eventually reaching a compromise resolution calling for U.S. "restraint" in the conduct of the conflict, and the development of "fresh, new ideas about alternative possibilities in our search for a just and durable peace."
• Witnessed twenty-four bishops sign a petition to President Johnson calling for cessation of the bombing in North Vietnam.
• Re-asserted its support for the rights of conscientous objectors; asked that the law be broadened to include C.O.'s outside the Churches; and suggested that seminarians no longer receive special deferments from the military draft.
• Offered advice and counsel to "selective" objectors—those who object to a specific war, not, like the C.O.'s, to all wars—but refused to give them the same recognition accorded conscientous objectors.

PRESIDING BISHOP

• Defined the role of the Presiding Bishop as chief pastor of the Church, charging him with initiating the policy and strategy of the Church; speaking for the Church; taking order for the Consecration of Bishops when duly elected; visiting every diocese; and a number of other prescribed duties.
• Limited his term of office to 12 years unless he should reach the age of 65 before that time.
• Provided for the election of a new Presiding Bishop should an incumbent resign, become disabled, or die.
• Defeated a proposal which would have included the House of Deputies in the nomination and election of a new Presiding Bishop instead of leaving the choice almost entirely to the House of Bishops as is the current practice.

HUMAN AFFAIRS

• Urged all Christians to work for liberalized abortion laws throughout the fifty states.
• Launched studies of the moral issues raised by modern medical technology and changed the name of the Joint Commission on the Ministry of Healing to Religion and Health.
• Called for the establishment of a number of centers over the nation dedicated to helping alcoholics.
• Directed Executive Council to study and express Christian attitudes with respect to birth control, contraception, abortion, sterilization, illegitimacy, divorce and re-marriage, marital sex, premarital sex, post-marital and extra-marital sexual behavior, sexual behavior of single adults, and homosexuality.
• Speeded relief to flood-ravaged Texas and Mexican communities.
• Gave a standing ovation to John Dillon, Chairman of the National Episcopal Student Committee, and adopted, in the House of Bishops, a position paper on youth which asks that "young people be included in responsible decisionmaking groups in the life of our Church,"... and that older Christians "listen and learn" from the young.

RENEWAL

• Cheered first step toward seating women in House of Deputies and warmly welcomed Mrs. Seaton Bailey, presiding officer of the Women's Triennial meeting.
• Voted to change the constitution so as to require General Convention to meet not less than once in every three years.
• Required all dioceses to elect deputies to General Convention no later than the year preceding a General Convention.
• Tabled a plan for reducing the size of the House of Deputies by establishing a system of proportional representation based on the number of communicants in each diocese and defeated another plan which would have limited each diocese to one vote in the House of Bishops. In addition the delegates for the ninth time in the history of the Church declined to revise the tallying of votes by orders.

- Realigned Provinces Eight (Pacific) and Nine (Caribbean), and resolved to study the realignment of all the other provinces with a view toward more and smaller groupings.
- Clarified role of Executive Council to carry out policies and programs of General Convention and to unify, develop, and prosecute missionary, educational, and social work, and such other duties committed to it by General Convention.

WORSHIP

- Adopted plan for a revision of the Book of Common Prayer, a draft of which is to be produced by the Standing Liturgical Commission, aided by a temporarily increased membership.
- Enabled the Commission to appoint consultants and a coordinator so that first drafts of further Prayer Book revisions may be considered by the 1970 General Convention for trial use.
- Authorized, for a period of three years, trial use of the new Liturgy of the Lord's Supper upon permission of diocesan bishops.
- Added the Jerusalem Bible to the list of approved translations for use during the lessons in Morning and Evening Prayer.
- Agreed to trial use for three years of specified modern Bible translation in lieu of the Prayer Book texts of the Epistles and Gospels used in the service of Holy Communion. Those specified, already approved for the lessons in Morning and Evening Prayer, are: the King James or Authorized Version, any one of the three Revised Versions, the New English Bible, and now, the Jerusalem Bible.
- Amended the Calendar and the Collects, Epistles, and Gospels for the Lesser Feasts and Fasts and for Special Occasions, and approved trial use for another three years.
- Directed the Standing Liturgical Commission to prepare a translation of the Prayer Book in simple, basic English for use in Alaska and other places where such linguistic needs exist.
- Put to rest an age-old dispute by granting lay administration of the chalice in services of the Holy Communion to lay readers licensed annually by their bishops for this purpose.

EPISCOPATE

- Accepted the resignation of the Rt. Rev. Austin Pardue, Bishop of Pittsburgh; consented to the elections of the Rev. Christoph Keller, Jr., of Mississippi as Bishop Coadjutor of Arkansas; and the Rev. Edward McNair as Suffragan Bishop of Northern California; and elected three new missionary bishops: the Rev. Edmond Browning to be Bishop of Okinawa, the Rev. William C. Frey to be Bishop of Guatemala, and the Rev. E. Lani Hanchett to be Suffragan Bishop of Honolulu.
- Seated and gave a voice, but not a vote to the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, resigned Bishop of California; the Rt. Rev. A. Ervine Swift, resigned Bishop of Puerto Rico; and the Rt. Rev. Donald J. Campbell, resigned Suffragan Bishop of Los Angeles. Later, the House of Bishops voted to seat and give a voice and vote to all bishops who at a future date resign their jurisdictions to make way for an indigenous bishop, as was the case with Bishop Swift.
- Approved in principle the report of a committee, headed by the Rt. Rev. Stephen Bayne, Jr., on theological freedom and social responsibilities and amended two canons to make heresy trials much more difficult. Upon passage of the canonical changes, Bishop Pike withdrew his demand for such a trial.
- Voted the right of diocesans or bishops coadjutor to be translated, i.e., to be elected to other posts, after serving five years in their present jurisdictions.

MINISTRY

- Hailed Dr. Nathan Pusey's report on Theological Education and created a nine-man board to upgrade the quality of schooling for clergy, but recognized that in certain ethnic situations a relaxing of language and other requirements was needed.
- Welcomed a thorough revision of the pension plan for Episcopal clergymen; ordered study of a similar plan for Women Church Workers; and embarked on an evaluation of recent surveys of clergy and bishops' salaries.
- Tidied up a series of canonical and constitutional items dealing with clergy discipline.
- Defeated a suggestion for a church-wide plan to bolster bishops' efforts to "rescue and reclaim" clergymen suffering from mental and emotional illness.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

- Stood in memory of Jonathan Daniels, an Episcopal seminarian who gave his life in the fight for racial justice, and adopted in the House of Bishops a position paper on Social Justice which, in analyzing the urban crisis, called not only for an "important shift in the budget of the National Church, but a total shifting of emphasis at every level of the Church's life to meet the national crisis."
- Turned down a resolution that Church property used for income producing purposes be subject to taxation; and that Church organizations should voluntarily pay proper taxes on such property.
- Rejected several memorials condemning the National Council of Churches.
- Supported the District of Columbia's fight for home rule.
- Condemned apartheid and asked all officials of the Church at all levels to review the Church's economic involvement in banks and corporations which do business in the Republic of South Africa, Rhodesia, Mozambique, Angola, and South West Africa.
- Voted to ask the Attorney General of the U.S. to reverse the current ruling which forbids the use of wine in the celebration of Holy Communion within the walls of federal penitentiaries.
- Bottled in committee resolutions designed to deal with world population problems and starvation; debated, but did not act to support Medicare, extend public assistance, and raise minimum benefits under social security; and defeated a measure calling on the U.S. Senate to ratify U.N. conventions denouncing slavery, forced labor, and withholding political rights from women.

DIOCESES

- Granted Idaho and Wyoming full diocesan status, but turned down a similar bid from Puerto Rico. Convention also created the Missionary Districts of Okinawa, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, and Costa Rica.
- Passed the first reading of a measure which would change all domestic districts into dioceses, and all overseas missionary districts into overseas dioceses and associate dioceses.
- Finalized a constitutional amendment allowing a diocese to cede a portion of its territory to an adjoining diocese.
- Accepted a set of standards for a modern Episcopal diocese (Criteria for a Viable Diocese) and recommended that all dioceses study them carefully.
- Defeated a canon setting up Metropolitan Councils which would include two or more dioceses sharing a common urban area.

ARTS AND COMMUNICATIONS

- Charged the Joint Commission on Church Music to collect and collate material for a future revision of the Hymnal and to prepare recommendations concerning anthems and service music.
- Commended the use of THE EPISCOPALIAN through the Parish Family Plan and urged all parishes and missions to take action to avail themselves of this continuing means of adult education.
- Recognized responsibility for financial support of the work of the Church Historical Society, which collects and preserves the archives and other records and documents relating to the history of the Church and publishes the Historical Magazine.
- Applauded Forward Movement publications and sponsored their continuing good work.
- Stated that the House of Bishops' Pastoral letters and position papers may be printed and distributed in lieu of being read from the pulpits of the Church.
- Rejected the creation of a division of ecclesiastical arts for Executive Council which was to have coordinated the fields of Church music, architecture, and allied arts.
- Heard the Rt. Rev. Ralph Dean, executive officer of the worldwide Anglican Communion call for better communication within the Anglican Communion.

FUTURE

- Passed the preamble to the constitution for the second time, thus officially making The Episcopal Church the alternate name for the Protestant Episcopal Church in the U.S.A.; and also legalized the name change of National Council to Executive Council.

- Installed the Very Rev. John B. Coburn, Dean of the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass., as the new president of the House of Deputies, after the retirement of Dr. Clifford P. Morehouse. Mr. Charles M. Crump, a lawyer from Memphis, Tenn., was elected vice-president, succeeding Dean John C. Leffler of Seattle.
- Elected to Executive Council the following bishops, priests, and lay persons: The Rt. Rev. Roger M. Blanchard, Bishop of Southern Ohio; the Rt. Rev. Albert Rhett Stuart, Bishop of Georgia; the Rt. Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, Bishop of Pennsylvania; Dr. Charles V. Willie, Cambridge, Mass.; the Very Rev. Gordon E. Gillett, Peoria, Ill.; the Very Rev. Lloyd E. Gressle, Wilmington, Del.; the Very Rev. William B. Spofford, Jr., Boise, Idaho; Mr. Emmet Harmon, Monrovia, Liberia; Mr. William Ikard, Mesquite, N.M., Dr. Clifford P. Morehouse, New York; Mr. Walker Taylor, Jr., Wilmington, N.C.; Judge Herbert Walker, Glendale, Cal.; Mrs. Seaton G. Bailey, Griffin, Ga.; Mrs. Robert H. Durham, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Harold C. Kelleran, Alexandria, Va.; Mrs. Cyrus M. Higley, Norwich, N.Y.; Mrs. Harold E. Sorg, Berkeley, Cal.; Dr. Charity Waymouth, Bar Harbor, Me.; Mr. John B. Tillson, Boston, Mass.; and Mr. Houston Wilson, Georgetown, Del.
- Called for a Council of Renewal which would study ecclesiastical structure, ethical practices, liturgical reforms, priorities of program, and strategies of mission and ministry.
- Approved the participation of the Episcopal Church in an Anglican Regional Council of North America which would include the Anglican Churches of Canada and the West Indies, and agreed that the next House of Bishops' meeting, scheduled for Augusta, Georgia, October 20-24, 1968, would be held in conjunction with the Anglican Bishops of Canada.
- Adopted a resolution on evangelism which will set up a leadership program for evangelistic enterprises at the national level of the Church.
- Urged the 1968 Lambeth Conference to recommend the elimination of the 39 Articles from Anglican Churches still retaining them in order to further free ecumenical dialogue.
- Scheduled a special one-week session of General Convention for 1969 in order to continue renewal in the Church, and selected Houston, Texas, as the site of the 63rd General Convention in 1970, and Jacksonville, Florida, as the location of the 64th General Convention in 1973.

THE CHURCH'S EVOLVING ARCHITECTURE

In writing this fifth in a series of essays on Architecture and the Church for the concluding Triennium, I find myself in the difficult position of being an angry middle aged man! As far as I have been able to see, the past three years have been the most barren, architecturally speaking, in the Church for a long time.

It has been said that the Arts are the best records of contemporary history, and while I cannot speak for anything but Architecture, what is being designed for the Church indicates a rather trivial period. I am sure that there has been much that is good that I do not know about. But from my own observation, and from the observation of knowledgeable architects and architectural critics that I have consulted, these have been days when the proportion of good church buildings to bad ones has been on the negative side.

Why is this? Perhaps it is because our days are so unsettled as to their meaning, and the prospect of the future is so unknown. As I look back over the history of Architecture I see great buildings rising in great times. They were not always quiet times, but they were usually times when people knew who they were, and where they wanted to go. The Byzantine, the Romanesque, the Gothic, the Renaissance, the Gothic Revival, the Victorian, the Neo-Gothic and even the so-called Modern styles knew what they wanted to do and express. Civil (I do not use "secular" by design) as well as religious thinking had definite goals, and Society was on a more definite course. New techniques, new materials, and new appreciations of life made themselves felt in Architecture, the Mother of the Arts, and great Church buildings were the result.

Today we find ourselves in more difficult circumstances. The idea that God is dead has respectable theological adherents. The relevance of the Church is seriously questioned on every side. The place of the parish in the life of the Church is more often consigned to the past than given a place in the future. The ministry is attracting fewer and fewer intelligent and able men. The congregations are losing from their membership the leaders in Science, Industry and the Arts. Is it any wonder that the level of what the architect can express and what the congregations demand in slipping?

Add to all this the elaboration in design and detail that is beginning to decorate Architecture after a period of functional and organic simplicity, together with rising costs of men and materials while the relative income of the Church goes down, and you have a sum total of discouraging factors that may well explain the low level of Church design.

As I said before, there are exceptions, a few of which I have illustrated here (it would not be fair to illustrate the rule), but the bulk of the Church's self-expression in Architecture has been quite pedestrian in the past three years.

However there is hope. The Church is recognizing her sorry state. She is realizing that her unhappy division into many parts produces small results in every sphere of life and example. She is coming to grips with her backwater position in history and her self-centered concern in on-going programs. She is cooling off in some areas and is warming up in others. Her lukewarmness is beginning to be recognized by her leaders and by her formerly subdued laity. The world is being seen as the chief sphere of the Church's concern more than the Altar, the Pulpit and pastoral care. Picket lines, protest marches, community organization, war on poverty, new theology and morality and a host of new activities are bringing new horizons and new men into the Church's service. Cybernation and Metropolia as primary facts of life together with the opening of the secrets of space have caused new fears, new hopes and new life.

Architecture in the Church will inevitably respond to these great changes. It will be a different Architecture than we have known heretofore. It will not be revivalistic or eclectic if the Church responds to the challenge of our time. It will probably express a Church on the move, a Church looking ahead to new hopes and ideas about God and Man rather than a Church looking back to old achievements for security.

As this begins to happen, the dreams, and the money to put the dreams into three dimensional form, will again be expressed by the architects serving the Church. And while our buildings may no longer be built for the ages, they will at least be built to suit the purposes of an age that is finding God again in the failures and successes of mankind.

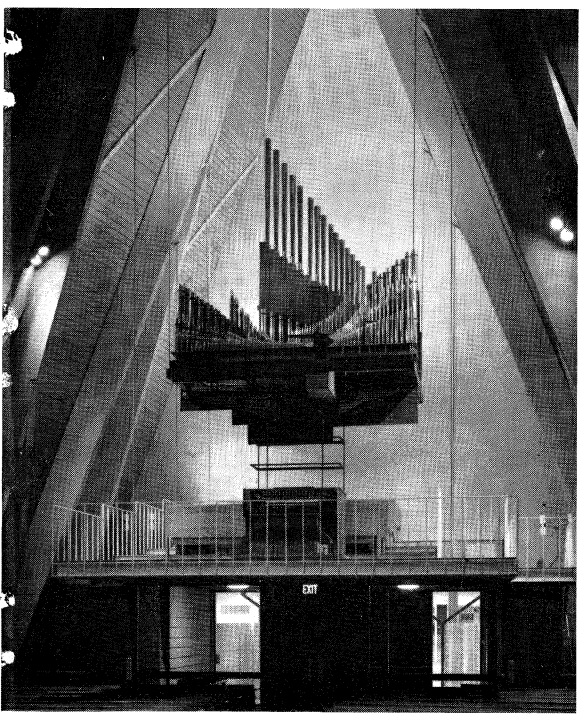
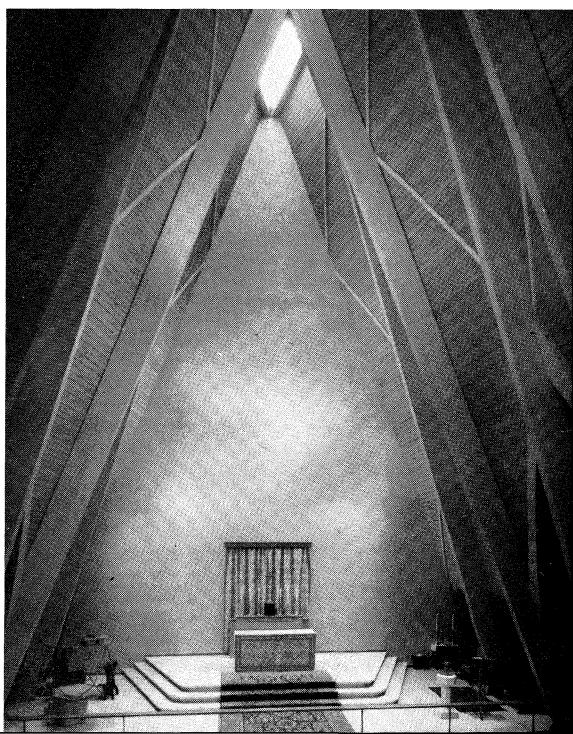
ST. PAUL'S, SEATTLE

St. Paul's, Seattle — The Rev. John B. Lockerby, Rector. Designed by Mr. Robert Theriault of Steinhart, Theriault and Anderson at a cost of $220,000 and completed in mid 1963, the exterior of St. Paul's Church, Seattle, expresses the hills of the city, the Olympic Mountains on one side and Mt. Rainer on the other. Set in the midst of pedestrian structures, it stands out with clarity and emphasis, qualities that should be in all church buildings of our cities.



▶ The West End of the Church boasts a Tracker-action-type Spaeth organ that was designed in collaboration with the Architect from start to finish. Acoustics and organ design work together with special effects that produce monumental properties in sight and sound.

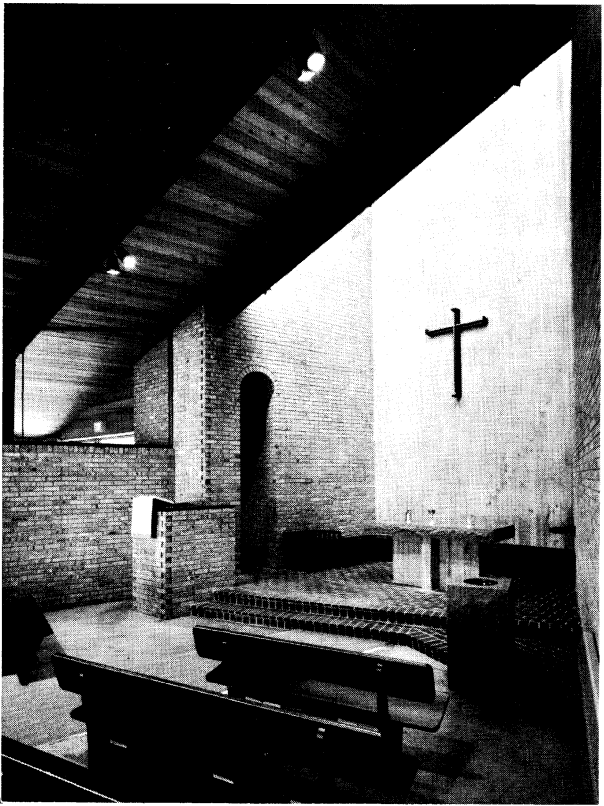


The Sanctuary end of St. Paul's, now furnished with ◀ a more appropriate Altar and other furnishings, shows the striking sense of space and grandeur achieved by good architecture in a small building.

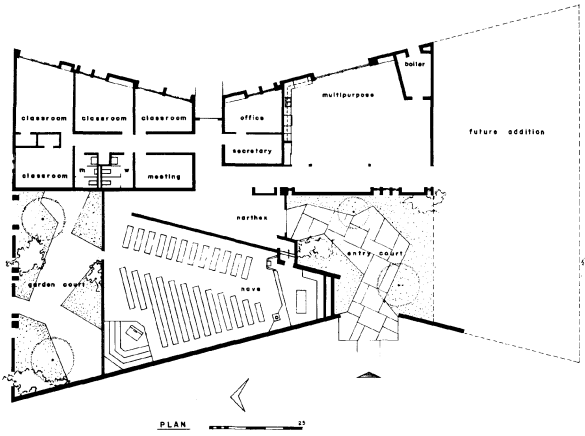
PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, LANSING, ILLINOIS

Edward D. Dart of Loebl Schlossman Bennett & Dart of Chicago has designed a handsome little Presbyterian church in Lansing, Illinois, to which Progressive Architecture gives the title "Stark Profile on the Prairie." Set on a five acre site which is flat, the forms of the building are entirely at home.

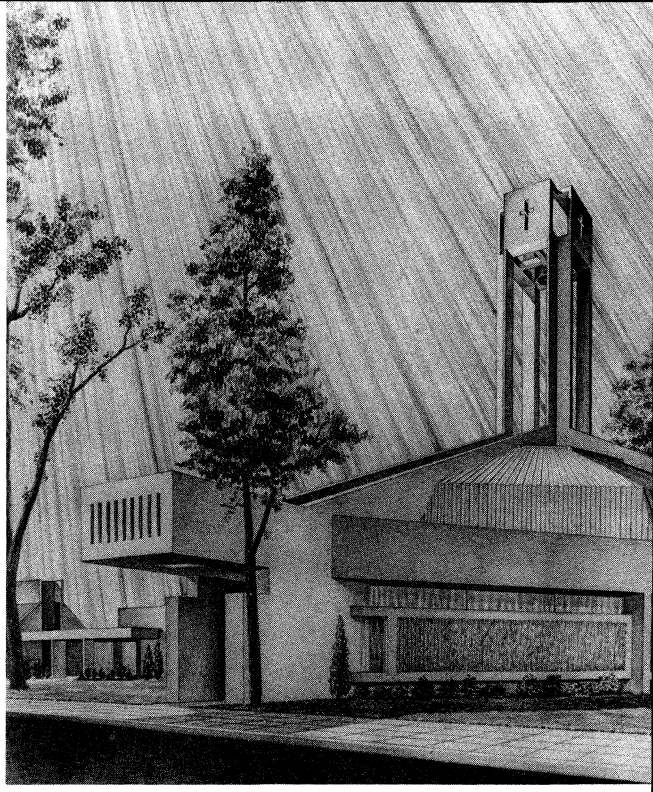
Ancient Architectural symbols and liturgical areas have been well expressed in contemporary terms; the scale is beautiful.



Future expansion of the Nave is provided for, together with a 2 story, 10 classroom wing to the right of the entry court. This will complete Dart's plan, "The idea of Lansing begins at the chancel. The communion table is the whole rationale and heart of the church and this is placed below the highest part of the tower. Everything else radiates from this."



The new All Saints, Palo Alto, is a successor to an ancient (for California) redwood Gothic church, attached to a Neo-Gothic parish hall, abutted by a contemporary education building. The Rector, The Rev. Richard Byfield, and the building committee decided that the old church could not be enlarged and that a complete break should be made since the same site had to be used. The building is of unpainted concrete with faceted glass covering the four aisles leading to the Altar from the four points of the Diamond. The first service will be held Christmas Eve of this year.



"This space of which the people within will make a church—this space which searches throughout its simplicity and ordered variety for integrity—this space which tries to be part of the feeling and thinking of they who are in it—this space which wants to reflect the beauty and strength within—this space which attempts to be art and hopefully an image of the holy—this space was made for they within who will make a church."
