FOREWORD

This twenty-fourth edition of The Episcopal Clergy Directory represents a complete departure from previous editions in style, preparation, format and cost. In its new version, at a cost substantially lower than previous editions, the Directory should prove to be a highly useful tool for the entire Church.

The book has been printed by computer from information edited and stored on magnetic tape. We have computerized this book for several reasons. First of all, to continue to use the conventional "hot metal" manual approach would be prohibitive from a cost and time standpoint. The ability of the computer to automatically update each biography, reset each page and automatically set new type became our only alternative.

Second, the ability to store this vast amount of information on magnetic tape gives us the ability to keep this file up-to-date on a gradual basis, thus avoiding the hectic last minute effort of gathering and inputting all changes from the last printing.

Third, and of primary significance, the biographical data stored and kept current becomes an invaluable data bank and has been set up in such a way as to allow anyone to extract whatever information might be required. Our hope is that various Church organizations might be able to draw from this data bank information that might be helpful in whatever research they might be doing.

This book contains full biographical data on every Episcopal bishop, priest and deacon (both men and women). It includes birth dates, parents' names, schools, colleges and seminaries, degrees (earned and honorary), ordination dates, parishes served, current address, wife's name, published works, diocesan and other outside-the-parish responsibilities and much more for every one of the nearly 12,000 ordained men and women of the Episcopal Church, including those who are active, inactive and retired.

To the many people involved in making the book possible, we extend our thanks, particularly to the clergy for their cooperation in furnishing information; to Mr. George Evers of the McCall Printing Company for his assistance with the technicalities of computerizing the book; to Mr. Ralph T. Green for his help in developing the format of the book; to Mr. John Ronan for his assistance to the editor; and especially to Mrs. Mildred N. Sanderson, the editor, for her devotion and meticulous accomplishment in compiling and editing the thousands of biographies which comprise this book.
