ORDER.

Of the Secretary of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

SECTION 1. A Secretary shall be chosen at every Convention, by ballot, by a majority of voters, after viva voce nominations. If but one person is nominated, the balloting shall be dispensed with. The Secretary shall continue in office until the meeting of the next Convention, and until his successor is chosen. He shall attend at the time and place appointed for the meeting of the General Convention; shall receive the testimonials of those who shall there attend as members of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies; shall record the names of those who present testimonials; and when such list is made, shall take the votes of those named in it for a President. The insertion, by the Secretary, in the list so made by him, of the name of any person who has presented a testimonial of his appointment as a Deputy, shall be prima facie evidence of the right of such person to a seat; but as soon as the House is duly organized, a Committee on Elections shall be appointed, to whom the testimonials of all those claiming to be members shall be referred.

The Secretary shall keep full minutes of the proceedings of the House; transcribe them with all Reports into a book provided for that purpose; preserve the Journal and Records of the House; deliver them to his successor, and perform such other duties as may be directed or assigned to him by the House. He may, with the approbation of the House, appoint an Assistant Secretary. If, during the recess of the General Convention, a vacancy should occur in the office of Secretary, the duties thereof shall devolve upon the Assistant Secretary, if there be one; if not, or if the Assistant Secretary shall die or resign, a Secretary shall be appointed by the Standing Committee of the Diocese in which the next General Convention is to meet.

SECTION 2. In order to aid the Secretary in preparing the list specified in the preceding section, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Convention of every Diocese, to forward to him, as soon as may be practicable, a copy of the Journal of the Diocesan Convention, together with a certified copy of the testimonials of members aforesaid.

These proceedings being, in the judgment of your Committee, in accordance with the provisions of the Vth Article of the Constitution of the Church in these United States, they recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

The following Message was received from the House of Bishops: (See p. 152.)

The House of Bishops informs the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies that it has passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Triennial Report of the Missionary Bishop to China be transmitted to the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

The Document referred to in this Message was received, and, on motion of the Secretary, was referred to the Committee on the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society (See pp. 83, 338.)

The Rev. Dr. Hicks, on behalf of the Committee on New Dioceses, presented the following Report, and the resolution contained therein was adopted.

The Committee on the Admission of New Dioceses report:

That, on the application of the Church in Kansas (see p. 29), they have received and have had laid before them evidence that, on the eleventh day of August, A. D. 1859, the Primary Convention of that Church effected the organization of the same, and that they then and there adopted a Constitution, the first Article of which is as follows:

"This Church, as a constituent part of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States of America, accedes to, recognizes, and adopts the General Constitution of that Church, and acknowledges its authority accordingly."

The Committee therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring (see p. 41), that the Diocese of Kansas be admitted into union with the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

For the Committee,

JOHN A. HICKS,

Chairman.

Oct. 6th, 1859.

On motion of Mr. Hoffman,

Resolved, That the Order of the Day be postponed, to give place for the presentation of the Report of a Committee appointed, by the General Convention of 1856, to prepare and lay before this Convention a Digest of the Canons of this Church. (See p. 74, Journal of 1856.)

Mr. Hoffman then presented the Report, and offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That, if the House of Bishops concur (see p. 48), the Report of the Joint Committee appointed to digest the Canons of this Church be referred to a joint Special Committee, composed of the Committee on Canons of each House (see pp. 28, 49), to consider and report what action in relation to the repeal of existing Canons may be necessary in case it is adopted; and also to report upon any emendations or additions to the same which may be submitted to such Committee by either House, or may be suggested by members of such Committee.

Mr. Newton offered the following amendment, to wit: to strike out all after the word "Resolved," to the words "to consider and report," and insert instead the words, "That the proposal of the Joint Committee appointed to digest the Canons of the Church be referred to a Joint Special Committee."

The proposed amendment was lost, and the question recurred on the original resolution.

The Chair put the same to the House, and it was decided in the affirmative.*

The Rev. Dr. Stevens offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committees "on Canons," "on the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society," and "on the General Theological Seminary," be enlarged by the addition, by the President, of one Clerical and one Lay Member to each.

The resolution was adopted. (See p. 43.)

The Rev. Dr. Talbot, the Order of the Day being further postponed for the purpose, called up the question pending at the adjournment of the House yesterday, to wit: the place of meeting of the next General Convention. (See p. 32.)

A Message from the House of Bishops was received as follows: (See p. 152.)

The House of Bishops informs the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies that it has unanimously passed the following resolution:

Whereas, The venerable Missionary Bishop of the North West has offered to this House his resignation of the Missionary jurisdiction which has been under his charge for twenty-four years; therefore,

Resolved, That, in accepting the resignation of the Missionary Bishop of the North West, this House hereby expresses its deep sense of the faithful manner in which the Missionary Bishop has performed his arduous work; and they also feel it to be their duty and their privilege to assure him of the gratitude of the whole Church for his earnest and self-denying and Apostolic labors.

Resolved, That this resolution be transmitted to the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies. (See p. 46.)

(See p. 35.)

Whereupon, the Secretary called the names of the Deputies-elect from the Diocese of Minnesota, and the Rev. E. G. Gear, the Rev. A. B. Paterson, D.D., the Rev. J. V. Van Ingen, D.D., and the Rev. The House now resumed the consideration of the resolution of the Rev. Dr. Talbot, touching the place of the next meeting.

The Rev. Mr. Thrall proposed to amend the resolution before the House by striking out "Chicago," and substituting "Philadelphia."

A vote by Dioceses and Orders was called for by the Delegation from California, which, being taken, resulted as follows:—

SECTION 1. If, during the Recess of the General Convention, the Church, in any Diocese, should be desirous of the consecration of a Bishop-elect, the Standing Committee of the Church in such Diocese may, by their President, or by some person or persons specially appointed, communicate the desire to the Standing Committees of the Churches in the different Dioceses, together with copies of the necessary testimonials; and if the major number of the Standing Committees shall consent to the proposed Consecration, the Standing Committee of the Diocese concerned shall forward the evidence of such consent, together with other testimonials, to the Presiding Bishop of the House of Bishops, or, in case of his death, to the Bishop who, according to the rules of the House of Bishops, is to preside at the next General Convention, who shall communicate the same to all the Bishops of this Church in the United States; and if a majority of the Bishops consent to the Consecration, the Presiding Bishop, or Bishop aforesaid, with any two Bishops, may proceed to perform the same; or any three Bishops to whom he may communicate the testimonials.

SECTION 2. The evidence of the consent of the different Standing Committees shall be in the form prescribed for the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies in General Convention; and without the aforesaid requisites, no consecration shall take place during the recess of the General Convention. Richmond, October 10th, 1859.

REVEREND AND DEAR SIR:—

I very much regret that being obliged to leave Richmond early to-morrow morning, I shall not again be able to avail myself of the provision so kindly made for me in the House over which you preside. But I cannot go without offering to the House, through you, my hearty thanks for the kind feeling evinced, and for the honor conferred upon me, by the invitation to occupy a seat specially provided for me, in its place of meeting. I am much gratified by what I have witnessed of the operation of your system, and by the tokens of vitality and prosperity presented to me. When I consider the extent of Territory represented in your Convention, and think of the magnitude of the interests at stake, and the important results that may depend upon its action, I feel that its importance cannot be too highly estimated. May God in his mercy be pleased to guide and bless all your labors, that they may tend to the advancement of his glory, the good of his Church, and the welfare of this mighty Confederation.

With thanks also for your personal courtesies and attention, I am,
Reverend and dear sir,

Yours, very truly,

H. NOVA SCOTIA.

The President of House of Delegates.

On motion, Ordered, That the above Communication be entered on the Minutes.

The House was adjourned.

SEVENTH DAY'S SESSION.

RICHMOND, VA., October 12th, 1859.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Morning Prayer was read by the Rev. Alexander H. Vinton, D.D., a Deputy from the Diocese of Pennsylvania, assisted by the Rev. Francis Vinton, D.D., a Deputy from the Diocese of New York.

The minutes of yesterday's proceedings, were read and approved.

The Rev. William Stevens Perry appeared as a substitute for the Rev. Henry S. Smith, a Deputy from the Diocese of New Hampshire.

The Rev. Mr. Gardiner, for the Committee on Expenses, presented the following Report:—

The Committee on Expenses, to whom was referred the Report of the Treasurer (see p. 30,) respectfully report, that they have examined the same, and find it correctly cast and duly vouched; and, that there is now due to the Treasurer for money advanced by him, $863.51, of which sum $228 will be received when the Assessments on the Dioceses for 1856 are fully paid; there will then remain a deficiency unprovided for of $635.51. This deficiency is due to arrearages which have been carried forward from one Convention to another. The Treasurer's account shows $4,300.51 paid out, while the total resources paid in, or expected to be paid, are $3,665. With the rate of assessment adopted by the last Convention, the increase in the number of the Clergy may be computed to raise the income sufficiently to meet an economical expenditure by the present Convention. To meet the arrears long since advanced by the Treasurer from his private funds, your Committee recommend the following Resolution :

Resolved, That the Secretary and Treasurer be authorized to draw upon the several Dioceses for their proportionate part of the indebtedness of this Convention.

Signed,      FREDERICK GARDINER,
                   CHARLES BRECK,
                   JAMES H. THOMPSON,
                   W. H. BATTLE,
                   Committee on Expenses.

The Rev. Dr. Cuming, Chairman of the Committee on Unfinished Business, presented the following Report :

 F. H. CUMING, Chairman.

Mr. Henry A. Tayloe offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That from and after Monday next, the speeches of Members of this House, shall be restricted to fifteen minutes in duration, unless, by the unanimous leave of the House, the period be extended.

The President put the question on this Order, and it was adopted.

Mr. Memminger presented the following resolution:—

Whereas, The Preamble and Resolutions adopted by the House of Bishops on the 18th day of the last Session of the General Convention, in relation to the use of the Book of Common Prayer, and published in the Journal of the said Convention (see p. 339), have disturbed the uniformity of worship which should prevail throughout our Church, and have been received in various Parishes as lawful authority for deviating from the Rubric.

And, Whereas, In the opinion of this House, no such change can lawfully be made, except by the joint action of both Houses in General Convention, and made known to the several Dioceses, and adopted in the manner prescribed by the Constitution of the Church: Therefore,

Resolved, That the House of Bishops is hereby respectfully requested to reconsider the said Preamble and Resolutions; and instead of any separate action upon the subject-matter, to send down to this House such proposals for any change of worship, as it may deem it expedient to be acted upon, in the manner required, by the Constitution of the Church, for making alterations in the Book of Common Prayer.

Which, on his motion, was referred to a Committee of Five. The President appointed on this Committee, Rev. Drs. Hawks, Mead, and Morrison, and Messrs. C. G. Memminger and J. Mason Campbell. (See p. 72.)

The Rev. Dr. A. H. Vinton, on behalf of the Rev. S. C. Thrall, providentially absent, offered the following resolution, which, on his motion, was referred to the Committee on Canons.

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that Article III., after being amended as follows, be numbered Article II.

Article II. The General Convention shall be composed of two Houses. The Bishops of this Church exercising jurisdiction in the United States, with their Assistant Bishops, if any such there are, shall form one House, to be known as the House of Bishops. The Clerical and Lay Deputies, to be elected from all the Dioceses who have already, or shall hereafter have adopted this Constitution, shall form the other, to be known as the House of Deputies. Each House shall have power to originate acts, pass upon them, and send them to the other House for their action; and, on the concurrence of both Houses in such action, it shall become the law of the Church. The House of Bishops shall, on or before the third day after any action is sent to them by the House of Deputies, inform the House of Deputies of their concurrence or non-concurrence (the latter with their reasons in writing if they see fit); and, on failure hereof, it shall have the force of law without the action of the House of Bishops: Provided, that any action of the House of Deputies which shall be sent to the House of Bishops later than the third day preceding the adjournment, shall become law only by the concurrent vote of both Houses. All acts of the Convention shall be authenticated by the signatures of the Presiding Officers and Secretaries of both Houses.

Resolved, That Article II. of the Constitution be amended by striking out the word "Convention" in the sentence, and inserting the words "House of Deputies."

Resolved, That Article II., as thus amended, be hereafter numbered Article III.

Mr. H. D. Evans offered the following resolution, which, on his motion, was referred to the Committee on Canons.

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that it be made known to the several Diocesan Conventions, that it is proposed to alter the Constitution as follows:—

1. Strike out the first three Articles.
2. Insert the following:

ARTICLE I. There shall be a General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, consisting of a House of Bishops and a House of Clerical and Lay Deputies. The two Houses shall be co-ordinate, and each shall have a right to originate and propose any acts or resolutions which it may think proper, and to concur in or reject any act or resolution proposed by the other House.

ARTICLE II. The House of Bishops shall consist of all Bishops of this Church exercising jurisdiction within the United States, and of all Assistant Bishops canonically elected and consecrated for any Diocese in connection with the Convention. In the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, each Diocese shall be entitled to a representation of both Clergy and Laity; such representation shall consist of not more than four Clergymen and four Laymen—communicants in this Church, residents in the Diocese, and chosen in the manner prescribed by the Convention thereof; and in all questions, when required by the Clerical and Lay representation from any Diocese, each Order shall have one vote; and the majority of suffrages by Dioceses shall be conclusive in each Order, provided such majority comprehend a majority of the Dioceses represented in that Order. The concurrence of both Orders shall be necessary to constitute a vote of the House. If the Convention of any Diocese should neglect or decline to appoint Clerical Deputies, or if they should neglect or decline to appoint Lay Deputies, or if any of those of either Order appointed should neglect to attend, or be prevented by sickness or any other accident, such Diocese shall nevertheless be considered as duly represented by such Deputy or Deputies as may attend, whether Lay or Clerical. And if, through the neglect of the Convention of any of the Churches which shall have adopted, or may hereafter adopt this Constitution, no Deputies, either Lay or Clerical, should attend at any General Convention, the Church in such Diocese shall nevertheless be bound by the acts of such Convention.

ARTICLE III. The General Convention shall meet on the first Wednesday in October, in every third year, from the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, and in such place as shall be determined by the Convention; in case there shall be an epidemic disease, or any other good cause to render it necessary to alter the place fixed on for any such meeting of the Convention, the Presiding Bishop shall have it in his power to appoint another convenient place (as near as may be to the place so fixed on) for the holding of such Convention; and special meetings may be called at other times, in the manner hereafter to be provided for. And this Church, in a majority of the Dioceses which shall have adopted this Constitution, shall be represented, before they shall proceed to business; except that the representation from two Dioceses shall be sufficient to adjourn; and in all business of the Convention, freedom of debate shall be allowed.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. F. Vinton, acting for the Rev. Mr. Thrall,

Resolved, That the Secretary of the House be directed to publish, in an Appendix to the Journal of this Convention, the Letter of Consecration of the Right Rev. Jonathan Mayhew Wainright, D.D., D.C.L., heretofore published in the Journal of 1853, correcting the typographical error, by which he is declared a "Deacon" at the time of his consecration, by striking out the word "Deacon," in said letter, and inserting the word "Oxon." (See Appendix N.)

The Rev. Dr. F. Vinton, for Mr. Thrall, offered the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary of this House be directed to prefix to the Clergy Lists, published in the Appendix to the Journal of the Convention, a list of the living Bishops of this Church in the order of their consecration. (See p. 339.)

Resolved, That the Secretary of this House be directed to append to the Clergy Lists, published in the Appendix to the Journal of the Convention, under their proper Episcopal jurisdictions, a List of the Foreign Missionary Clergy in those jurisdictions. (See p. 459.)

Dr. Vinton, acting in the same behalf, offered the following:

Whereas, part of Section 2 of Canon I. of 1850, is in conflict with Article III. of the Constitution of this Church,

Resolved, That Section 2, Canon I. of 1850, be amended by striking out the words "be entitled to a seat in the House of Bishops, nor shall he."

Whereas, part of Section 5, Canon I. of 1850, conflicts with the discretion granted to Bishops by the Ordinal,

Resolved, That Section 5, Canon I. of 1850, be amended by striking out the words, "nor shall any Deacon so ordained be advanced to the Order of Presbyters, who has not been in Deacons' Orders for at least one year."

Whereas, part of Section 4, of Canon II. of A. D. 1850, is in conflict with Art. III. of the Constitution,

Resolved, That Section 4, of Canon II. of 1850, be amended by striking out the words, "nor shall he have a seat in the House of Bishops."

All which, on motion of Dr. Francis Vinton, were referred to the Committee on Canons.

The following proposed Canon, presented by Mr. Hoffman, was, on motion of the Rev. Dr. Stevens, referred to a special Committee of Five.

SECTION 3, Canon V., Title III.—1. Whenever a Church or Congregation shall have been organized in any Foreign country, not within the limits and jurisdiction of any Foreign Missionary Bishop, and shall, by its Constitution, or Plan, or Articles of Organization, have acceded to and recognized the Constitution, Canons, Doctrine, Discipline, and Worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, and shall have declared its desire to be under the direction of the General Convention thereof, the same shall be subject to the Episcopal Government and Jurisdiction of the Presiding Bishop, for the time being, of the House of Bishops.

2. Such Presiding Bishop may select an Assistant from the Bishops or Assistant Bishops of the Church, and may assign to him such Episcopal duties, and the exercise of such Episcopal powers, as he may think proper, in relation to such Church or Congregation.

3. Such Presiding Bishop, or such Assistant (if thereto authorized), may, from time to time, assign to any other Bishop or Assistant Bishop of this Church, the performance of any Episcopal duties, and the exercise of any Episcopal power, in relation to such Church or Congregation, and for such period of time as he may deem expedient.

4. The Clergyman settled in any such Church or Congregation, shall, for the time being, and for all acts and matters done in such Foreign Country, or in discharge of duties in relation to such Church or Congregation, be subject to the jurisdiction of the Presiding Bishop, or of such Assistant named by him as above provided, without reference to the Canonical residence within the United States.

The Chair appointed on the Committee to whom this Canon was referred, the Rev. Dr. Hanckel, the Rev. Drs. F. Vinton and Ford, and Messrs. Chambers and Taylor. (See p. 61.)

The Rev. Dr. H. M. Mason, appointed, at the last General Convention, Typographical Corrector for the proposed Standard Bible, presented a Report. (See Appendix L.)

Mr. James S. Johnston offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That it be referred to the Committee on Canons, to consider the expediency of so amending Canon VI. of 1832, entitled "Of Assistant Bishops," as to limit the right of each and every Diocese having an Assistant Bishop, to a single vote on any question in the House of Bishops.

The resolution was adopted.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Stevens, the Committee on the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society were granted leave to retire for dispatch of business.

The Order of the Day, the hour having arrived for its consideration, was now called up, it being the question on the ratification of the proposed Amendment of the Vith Article of the Constitution.

Pending the discussion of this question, the stated hour of adjournment arrived. The debate was therefore suspended, the question not being mature for decision. (See p. 64.)

The Committee on the Amendment of the Constitution, to which was referred Message No. 8, from the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, together with a proposed Amendment of Art. III. of the Constitution, beg leave to report that,

Whereas, the apparent effect of the Article, as now proposed, is to take from the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies the right to originate and propose acts for the concurrence of the House of Bishops; therefore,

Resolved, That the House of Bishops does not agree to ratify the proposed Amendment to Art. III. of the Constitution.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Howe,

Messrs. Isaac F. Redfield, Lay Deputy from Vermont, Edward Walcott, from Rhode Island, C. B. Goddard, from Ohio; and Mr. James H. Williams, as substitute for Mr. Edmund Weston, elected a Deputy from Vermont; and Mr. W. C. Rives (in place of Mr. Tazewell Taylor, Deputy from Virginia), not before present, appeared and took their seats as Members of this House.

The Minutes of Wednesday's proceedings were read and approved.

The Rev. Dr. Wyatt, for the Committee on the General Theological Seminary, made a partial Report, which, on his motion, was committed. (See p. 89.)

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Cuming,

Resolved, That in cases where the Secretary of a Convention of a Diocese has omitted to send to the Secretary of the General Convention a certified Copy of the election of Trustees of the General Theological Seminary, the Journal of the Convention of such Diocese be received as the evidence of such election.

A Message from the House of Bishops was received as follows: (See p. 169.)

The House of Bishops informs the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, that it has passed the following resolution:

Resolved, The House of Clerical and Lay Deputies concurring, that a Joint Committee of the two Houses be appointed to devise a plan for the creation of a Church-Building Fund, for the purpose of assisting feeble Parishes and Congregations, at Missionary Stations, in the erection of Church Edifices, and that the Committee report at the present Session of the General Convention. Committee on the part of this House, Bishops Upfold, Clark, and Bowman. (See p. 78.)

Also the following: (See p. 169.)

The House of Bishops informs the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies that it has adopted the following Preamble and Resolution:

The Joint Committee appointed at the Session of the General Convention of 1853, on the preparation of a Prayer Book in the Spanish Language, and continued in the Convention of 1856, beg leave to report:

That the work of publishing a Translation of the Book of Common Prayer in the Spanish Language, having been undertaken by other Bodies connected with the Church, there is no necessity for the further continuance of the Committee. They therefore recommend the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, The House of Clerical and Lay Deputies concurring, that the Committee be discharged. (See p. 135.)

The Rev. Dr. Hanckel, from the Special Committee on a proposed Canon, "Of Ministers Officiating to Congregations in Foreign Lands" (see p. 58), presented a Report, with the draft of a Canon on the subject, as follows:

The Special Committee to whom was referred a proposed Canon for the Regulation and Government of Churches or Congregations in Foreign Countries, not within the jurisdiction of Foreign Missionary Bishops, respectfully report:

That they have considered the important subject, and have framed a Canon accordingly.

The necessity of such a Canon grows out of the fact of the establishment of a Church and Congregation of Americans in the City of Paris, in France, who, by their deliberate act, have desired to place themselves under the direction of the General Convention. The ease and frequency of intercourse with the Continent of Europe, together with the circumstance that Americans are residing in the Continental cities, render it expedient, in the judgment of your Committee, that some provision should be made, to enable such residents to continue to worship God according to the Faith and Discipline of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

And it especially behooves this General Convention to take under its protection and authority such Church or Congregation of American Citizens as have desired to be in Communion with this Church, and to be guarded by its shield and sceptre.

The Committee have specially considered the question whether any entangling alliances, or any unwise interference with Foreign powers, either ecclesiastical or political, could be consequential on the jurisdiction of this Church over its own members in Foreign Countries: and they assure this Convention that no evil of this character can, in their judgment, ensue. But, on the contrary, the Canon which shall recognize these foreign Congregations of Americans, will have an influence to maintain their allegiance, and to fix their affections toward the Episcopal Church in this land, and will tend to prevent them from wandering into error in religion, into viciousness of life, and into indifferency of conscience.

The object of the Canon, is to gather into the fold of Christ's Church the sheep and the lambs that are scattered abroad.

The Committee therefore recommend the adoption of the following Canon, and, if adopted, that it be sent to the House of Bishops for their concurrence. (See p. 64.)

TITLE . CANON III. SECTION III.

Canon, of Ministers ministering to Foreign Congregations.

1. Whenever a Church or Congregation shall have been organized in any Foreign Country, not within the limits and jurisdiction of any Foreign Missionary Bishop; and shall, by its Constitution, or Plan, or Articles of Organization, have acceded to or recognized the Constitution, Canons, Doctrine, Discipline, and Worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, and shall have declared its desire, duly certified by the Minister, one Church Warden, and two Vestrymen or Trustees, to be under the direction of the General Convention thereof, the same shall be subject to the Episcopal government and jurisdiction of the Presiding Bishop, for the time being, of the House of Bishops.

2. Such Presiding Bishop may, from time to time, assign to any other Bishop, or to any Assistant Bishop of this Church, the performance of any Episcopal duties, and the exercise of any Episcopal power, in relation to such Church or Congregation, and for such period of time as he may deem expedient.

3. The Clergyman settled in any such Church or Congregation shall, in all respects, be subject to the jurisdiction of the Presiding Bishop, or of such Assistant Bishop named by him, as above provided, in the same manner as if he had Canonical residence within the United States.

So the proposed Amendment was not ratified by this House.

The Rev. Mr. Burgess, moved to suspend the Order of the Day, that action might be had on the following resolutions:

Resolved, That on and after Monday, (17th inst.,) till otherwise ordered, this House will take a recess from 3 o'clock, P. M., of each day, except Saturday, till 7 o'clock, P. M., and hold Evening Sessions.

Resolved, That the resolution limiting speeches, upon any motion, to fifteen minutes each, be suspended at the Evening Session.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Hill, the proposal to suspend the Order of the Day, was laid upon the table.

The Report of the Committee on the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, then came up, in course, for consideration, embodying the following resolution, to wit: (See p. 59.)

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, (see p. 174,) that it is expedient to nominate and elect Two Missionary Bishops, one for the North West, and one for the South West.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

In gratitude for the unanimity with which this action was taken, the House spontaneously rose and sung the "Gloria in Excelsis."

After Prayer and the Benediction by the President,
The House was adjourned.

RICHMOND, VA., October 15th, 1859.

Morning Prayer was read by the Rev. George B. Manser, D.D., a Deputy from the Diocese of Vermont, assisted by the Rev. Joseph C. Talbot, D.D., a Deputy from the Diocese of Indiana.

Mr. Edward S. Rand, Jr., a Deputy from the Diocese of Massachusetts; and the Rev. Benjamin R. Gifford, as substitute for the Rev. Samuel Starr, a Deputy from the Diocese of Iowa, and Mr. Richard M'Allister, a Deputy from the same Diocese, appeared and took their seats.

The Minutes of yesterday's proceedings were read and approved.

Mr. Hoffman, on behalf of the Special Joint Committee, on the proposed Digest of Canons, (see p. 37,) made a Report in part, as follows:

The Joint Committee appointed to prepare and lay before the General Convention a Digest of the Canons of this Church, under appropriate Titles, Canons, and Sections, respectfully report, in part,

That they have compared the said Digest with the Text of the existing Canons, in every word, and have confined themselves to alterations of the following nature in such Digest:

Verbal and Clerical corrections.

Omissions of portions of existing canons which occasionally occurred, and the restitution of the original language in the instances in which it had been changed.

The substitution of a somewhat different phraseology, in some cases, in which it appeared clearly to the Committee, that the sense and intent of the law would be more clearly expressed and carried out.

The introduction of the word "Holy" before the word "Orders," where the ministry is designated, which in some cases had been omitted both in the original Text and Digest.

A notation of the collocation of Sections, or portions of Sections, in a few instances.

Some changes in the Titles of Canons better calculated to indicate the subjects of the provisions.

The Committee have also, from a minute comparison, satisfied themselves that no part of the existing Canons has been omitted.

The Committee are now engaged in executing the other part of the duty assigned to them, viz., in relation to the modifications of, or additions to the existing law, upon which they are not now prepared to report,

The Committee submit the following resolutions :

1. Resolved, That the Digest of the Canons of this Church now submitted, be approved and adopted.
2. Resolved, That a Committee of Two be appointed to print such Digest in such form, and with such reference to previous Canons on the same subject, by way of note, or otherwise, as they shall see fit.
3. Resolved, That the following be prefixed to the said Digest :—

A Canon of Ratification.

The following are declared and adopted as the Canons for the Government of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America. Passed in General Convention in Richmond, Virginia, October, 1859.

4. Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, (see p. 176,) that during the remainder of this Session, all references to the Committee of either House upon Canons, shall be understood to be to the Joint Committee of both Houses.

JOHN H. HOPKINS,

Chairman of Com. on Canons of the House of Bishops.

WM. COOPER MEAD,

October 15th, 1859.

Mr. Hoffman moved that the first resolution appended to this Report be adopted.

The Rev. Dr. F. Vinton moved that the resolution be laid on the table, which was lost.

The question then recurring on the resolution, it was adopted by the House.

On motion of Mr. Hoffman, Ordered, That the second resolution recommended in the Report be laid upon the table.

The third resolution was, on motion of the same, disposed of in like manner.

The fourth resolution was adopted, as reported by the Committee.

The Rev. Dr. Mead, Chairman of the Committee on Canons on the part of this House, presented the following Report.

The Committee on Canons, to whom was referred the several Canons proposed as Amendments to Canon IX. of 1853, (see pp. 32, 51,) with instructions to report on the same on Saturday morning, respectfully report :

That they have had the same under consideration, and propose the following Canon for adoption by this House :—

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, (see p. 124,) that the following Canon be passed as a substitute for Canon IX. of 1853 :—

*Substitute for Section VII., Canon XII. of Title I. of the Digest.*SECTION VII.—Officiating of Ministers within the Cures of others.

1. No Minister belonging to this Church shall officiate, either by preaching, reading prayer, or otherwise, in the Parish or within the parochial cure of another Clergyman, unless he have received express permission for that purpose from the Minister of the Parish or cure, or, in his absence, from the Churchwardens and Vestrymen, or Trustees of the Congregation, or a majority of them.

2. The ascertainment and defining of the boundaries of existing Parishes or parochial cures, as well as the establishment of a new Church or Congregation, and forming a new Parish, is left to the action of the several Diocesan Conventions, for the Dioceses respectively. Until a Canon or other regulation of a Diocesan Convention shall have been adopted, the formation of new Parishes, or establishment of new Churches or Congregations, within the limits of other Parishes, shall be vested in the Bishop of the Diocese, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee thereof; and in case of there being no Bishop, in the ecclesiastical authority.

3. Where Parish boundaries are not defined by law or otherwise, they shall, for the purposes of this Section, be settled and defined by the civil divisions of the State, as follows:

4. Parochial boundaries shall be the limits, as now fixed by law, of any village, town, township, incorporated borough, city, or the limits of some division of a city or town, which may have been recognized by the Bishop, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee, as constituting the boundaries of a parish or parochial cure.

5. If there be but one Church or Congregation within the limits of such village, town, township, borough, city, or such division of a city or town as herein provided, the same shall be deemed the parochial cure of the Minister having charge thereof. If there are two or more Congregations or Churches therein, it shall be deemed the cure of the Ministers thereof; and the assent of a majority of such Ministers shall be necessary.

6. When, under Diocesan Authority, a new Parish is constituted, and its boundaries defined, this Section shall be applicable to the same as so established.

7. If any Minister of the Church, from inability or any other cause, neglect to perform the regular services in his Congregation, and refuse, without good cause, his consent to any other Minister of the Church to officiate within his cure, the Church-Wardens, Vestrymen, or Trustees of such Congregation, shall, on proof of such neglect or refusal before the Bishop of the Diocese, or, if there be no Bishop, before the Standing Committee, or before such persons as may be deputed by him or them, or before such persons as may be, by the regulations of this Church, in any Diocese vested with the power of hearing and deciding on complaints against Clergymen, have power, with the written consent of the before-mentioned authority, to open the doors of their Church to any regular Minister of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

By Order of the Committee,

WM. COOPER MEAD,
Chairman.

The Rev. Dr. Stevens, from the same Committee, presented a Minority Report as follows:

The undersigned, a minority of the Committee on Canons, beg leave to dissent from the report of the majority of said Committee, and for the following reasons:

Because it is a legislation by General Convention, upon a subject which we believe should be left solely to Diocesan action; because no legislative act on this subject can be so framed as to avoid the vexatious questions and issues which will necessarily arise, as to the construction of said Canon; because the best way to regulate the building of Churches, and organizing of Parishes, and ministering the Word, is by the law of "supply and demand"; because it interferes with the rights of the Laity, in matters pertaining to their highest spiritual interests; because, as in most cases, a cure of souls in these United States cannot be bounded by geographical limits, so no Canon should be framed which shall limit that cure to a territorial district—which district may necessarily exclude many who do belong to the Congregation of the Parish so defined, and also necessarily include many who belong to the cure of another Rector; because it is a law which, if carried out, will produce more evils than it will remedy; because it is a law which will impede the growth of the Church.

Resolved, That, the House of Bishops concurring, the following Canon be adopted:—

Of Parish Boundaries.

Canon ., 1859. SECTION I.—Parish Boundaries in each Diocese of this Church may be established by the Convention thereof.

SECTION 2, Canon IX. of 1853, is hereby repealed.

WM. BACON STEVENS.

JAMES CRAIK.

P. WILLIAMS.

The Reports above presented were made the Order of the Day, for 1 o'clock on Tuesday next. (See p. 111.)

The Rev. Dr. Howe, on behalf of the Committee on the State of the Church, reported in part as follows, with resolutions affixed:

The Committee on the State of the Church respectfully report:

That it appears, from the statistics of the Church presented to them, that there has been a very large increase of contributions for Church purposes, and a consequent increase of the work of the Church, in its appropriate sphere, within the last three years. While this is gratifying and encouraging, all must feel that the Church has failed to reach its known ability; and, in view of this fact, your Committee believe it all-important to inculcate the doctrine that it is the duty of every member of this Communion to contribute a portion of his income, whether that income be small or great, to the support of the Church, in its varied operations for preaching the Gospel and sustaining the worship of God. This duty they deem of fundamental, practical importance, whether regard be had to the spiritual welfare of the contributors, or the enlargement and growth of the Church. This duty of systematic and frequent giving of a portion of one's income, is as important to Christian character as any other Christian duty.

Your Committee believe that the emphatic expression of such opinion by the Convention, would prove of the greatest advantage at the present time. Your Committee present the following resolutions, viz. :

1. Resolved, That, in the opinion of this House, it is the duty of every member of the Church to consecrate a definite percentage of his income to the advancement of the cause of our Lord and Saviour.

2. Resolved, That systematic and frequent offerings by persons and Parishes, according to their ability, must be mainly relied upon, under the Divine blessing, for the enlargement of the benevolent operations of the Church.

3. Resolved, That it be recommended to all Clergymen in charge of Parishes, to bring their flocks, as near as practicable, to compliance with the spirit of the Apostolic direction to the Church in Corinth : "Upon the first day of the week, let every one of you lay by him in store as God hath prospered him ;" and that, to this end, the clergy bring the subject especially to the attention of the people some time during the Advent season of each year.

4. Resolved, That the above resolutions be sent to the House of Bishops for their concurrence.

All which were, on motion of the Rev. Dr. Coxe, laid on the table, to be called up immediately after the disposal of the Order of the Day, on Monday. (See p. 116.)

The Rev. Dr. Hawks, for the Special Committee on the resolution of Mr. Memminger, bearing on the subject of the Canon "Of the Use of the Book of Common Prayer," presented the following Report :

The Special Committee, to whom was referred a preamble and resolution relating to certain resolutions adopted by the House of Bishops respecting the use of the Book of Common Prayer, have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report :

That, by the VIIIth Art. of the Constitution of the Church, the Book of Common Prayer, as adopted by the General Convention, is directed to be used in all the Dioceses which shall have adopted the Constitution ; and no alteration or addition shall be made to the Book of Common Prayer, or other Offices of the Church, or the Articles of Religion, unless the same shall be proposed in one General Convention, and, by a resolve thereof, made known to the Convention of every Diocese, and adopted at the subsequent General Convention. The effect of this Article is to make the whole Book of Common Prayer, with all its Rubrics and Ritual, as authoritative as any Article of the Constitution ; and we are not remitted to tradition or ancient usage to ascertain the form of worship thus sanctioned, but the express words of the Constitution point us to the Book established by the General Convention.

We therefore have as a starting-point a written document, unalterable except by the General Convention, after communication with the Dioceses. The General Convention is a body composed of two Houses. It follows of necessity that the concurrence of both is necessary to effect any lawful change, and that the separate action of either must be submitted to the other, before it can have any legal efficacy.

It appears to your Committee, that written law is chiefly valuable, in that it cannot be changed, saving by interpretation or new enactments made by lawful authority. Interpretation of the law, in cases that come up for adjudication, is the office of a court. Any more general interpretation is only another name for a legislative enactment, and, like an enactment, would require the sanction of the law-making power.

Your Committee have most carefully considered the preamble and resolutions of the House of Bishops, which form the subject-matter of the resolution referred to them, and can regard them in no other light than as an exercise of legislative authority. They possess none of the characteristics of a judicial act. No case is made, no parties appear, no court is organized. There is not a single feature which professes to be judicial.

Here, then, is a general interpretation of the intent and meaning of a Ritual and of Rubrics, by-resolutions of one branch of a legislative body. Such resolutions, if they have any legal force, are in fact a declarative statute. Of course, the other co-ordinate branch of the legislative body must have the same right, and may pass resolutions contrary to those of the other body. These, too, must have the same legal force; and we are thus presented with the anomaly of two statutes in the same government, in direct conflict with each other. The only alternative to this anomaly is to consider the action of each body as inchoate legislation, having no binding efficacy until transmitted to the other body, and adopted by them.

The action of the House of Bishops, in the matter under consideration, seems to your Committee to be a legislative proceeding. Without entering upon other considerations, there is one which seems to your Committee to be conclusive. The resolutions assert that the services of the Church, being separate services, may, as in former times, be used separately, and then adds, under the advice of the Bishop of the Diocese.

If indeed the services are separate and might be used separately, then as there was no Rubric or Canon limiting the discretion of the Minister, the clause in the resolution which subjects the matter to the advice of the Bishop, is entirely new, and gives an earmark to the whole enactment; and the third resolution authorizes the whole Book of Common Prayer to be set aside in certain cases, of which the Bishop of the Diocese is constituted the sole judge.

Your Committee consider it the well-established order of this Church, that no law can be enacted or changed without the concurrence of the Bishops, the Clergy, and the Laity. In the Worship and Doctrines of the Church they all have an equal interest, and, for the security of each, the Book of Common Prayer, the Administration of the Sacraments, and other rites and ceremonies of the Church, the Articles of Religion, and the Form and Manner of Making, Ordaining, and Consecrating Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, were made part of the Constitution of the Church. If the Bishops can in any manner change these particulars, then the rights of the Clergy and Laity are infringed; and even should the Clergy make a change, with the advice or consent of the Bishop, the rights of the Laity are infringed, and the change cannot have the force of law until they all consent.

Upon the whole matter, then, it seems to your Committee that the separate action of the House of Bishops, as published in the Journal of the Convention, is an infringement of the privileges of this House; and that it becomes a solemn duty which we owe to ourselves, to our constituents, to the Church, and to our posterity, to take appropriate action upon the matter. Such an infringement, even in cases of ordinary legislation, would present grave considerations. But in a case like this, where the Prayer Book and the Constitution; where the rights of Clergy and Laity; where the order and good government of the Church are involved, the matter assumes the gravest importance.

Believing these views to be founded on truth and justice, your Committee entertain the hope that they will have weight in inducing the Right Reverend Bishops to reconsider their action. The preamble and resolution referred to your Committee are conceived in that Christian spirit which directs us to apply, in the first instance, to our brother to correct what we think an error; and therefore meet our approbation. No opinion whatever is expressed upon the expediency of the measures proposed by the House of Bishops. All that is asked for, is the recognition of the just rights of this House as a co-ordinate branch of the General Convention, and each member is left free to act as he shall see fit, upon any measures that may be proposed.

The Committee therefore recommend the adoption of the preamble and resolution referred to them.

FRANCIS L. HAWKS.
C. G. MEMMINGER.
WM. COOPER MEAD.
J. H. MORRISON.
J. MASON CAMPBELL.
EDWARD A. NEWTON.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Hawks, this Report, with the resolution affixed, was ordered to be printed, and to be assigned as the Order of the Day for Tuesday next, at 12 o'clock. (See p. 99.)

Mr. Wm. Welsh, a Minority of the same Committee, made a counter Report as follows, which, on motion of Mr. Hoffman, the Secretary was directed also to have printed, and that it be made the Order of the Day for Tuesday next:

The undersigned, as a member of the Committee appointed to consider the preamble and resolution offered by Mr. Memminger, respectfully reports:

That he cannot unite with his colleagues in asking this House to pass the preamble and resolution referred for the consideration of the Committee, for the following reasons:

1st. Because the preamble and resolution of the Bishops is not officially in possession of this House, and therefore should not be considered by it.

2d. Because Mr. Memminger's preamble and resolution asserts that the House of Bishops adopted the preamble and resolutions, implying that the action was by that House as a co-ordinate branch of the General Convention, and consequently subject to revision by this House, whereas it is to be viewed as merely a concurrence of the Bishops sitting as a Synod or Council, answering a Memorial of various Presbyters, addressed to the Bishops, only asking that a commission of Bishops be appointed to consider whether some means could not be devised to better adapt the Episcopal Church to the social necessities of the day, etc.

3d. Because there was no adequate testimony presented to the Committee to substantiate what is asserted in the preamble, that the uniformity of the worship in our Church has been disturbed by the action of the Bishops, whilst my own observation, and the testimony of impartial witnesses, lead me to believe that the efficiency in the ministrations of our Church has been greatly promoted in the true spirit of the first Christian Council, where it was charged thus, "that it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things."

4th. Because the proposed preamble and resolution is aimed at one of the prerogatives of the Bishops, as invariably acknowledged by this House, that is, of interpreting the Rubrics and regulating the worship in accordance with the Book of Common Prayer. When decisions are asked for by this House, an answer is sent to it not for revision, but for information. When questions are submitted by others, no notice to this House is required. It may be seen in the Journal of 1847, that similar questions may originate elsewhere.

5th. Because the adoption of such a preamble and resolution could be of no possible benefit, whilst it would seem to cast reproach upon the Bishops for doing that which they, through the commission, expressly disclaim any intention of doing, as will be seen in the Appendix of Journal of 1856, from which I quote:

"It has been the purpose of the commission, however, so far as their present labors go, to leave the Prayer Book untouched: they have also doubted how far the consideration of such proposed alterations would fall within the duty assigned to them; and at all events, they felt that if any alterations of the Prayer Book were proposed, the House of Deputies would be entitled to take part in the preliminary discussions connected with them."

The authority for the Bishops to prepare and publish Forms of Prayer for occasions not provided for, can be seen in Canon XLVII.: "Of Forms of Prayer or Thanksgiving for Extraordinary Occasions."

The Bishop of each Diocese may compose Forms of Prayer or Thanksgiving, as the case may require, for extraordinary occasions, and transmit them to each Clergyman within his Diocese, whose duty it shall be to use such forms in his Church on such occasions. And the Clergy in those States or Dioceses, or other places within the bounds of this Church, in which there is no Bishop, may use the Form of Prayer or Thanksgiving composed by the Bishop of any Diocese. The Bishop in each Diocese may also compose forms of prayer to be used before legislative and other public bodies.

I append the preamble and resolutions approved by the Bishops, as expressing their views of the interpretation of the Rubrics; and if they are examined carefully by unprejudiced minds, they will not be found to conflict with a fair interpretation of the Rubrics. Before the adoption of this interpretation by the Bishops, each Deacon, Presbyter, and Bishop determined for himself what was public worship; what the special occasions requiring some variation from the Rubrics; hence there was great diversity in their construction. The Bishops having concurred in some general principles, greater rubrical conformity will result therefrom.

“PREAMBLE AND RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, the use of the Book of Common Prayer, as regulated by custom, has special reference to established Parish Churches, and to a population already incorporated with the Church :

And Whereas, our actual work is, or should be, among many, not yet connected with our Congregations, or where there are no established Parishes, and where said Parishes are yet in their infancy :

And Whereas there are or may be, in different Dioceses, peculiar emergencies, arising out of the character or condition of certain portions of the population, which demand some special services :

And Whereas, the Book of Common Prayer should be so used as most effectively to cherish true devotion, and set forth the Gospel and work of Christ, and contribute to the extension of his kingdom among men :

And Whereas, the House of Bishops have heretofore expressed opinions as to usages which may be allowed under existing Rubrics and Canons : therefore,

Resolved, as the opinion of the Bishops,

1. That the order of Morning Prayer, the Litany, and the Communion Service, being separate Offices, may, as in former times, be used separately, under the advice of the Bishop of the Diocese.”

The separation of the Offices referred to in the first resolution, was usual in England until the reign of Queen Elizabeth, and is now allowed by their Bishops. This separation was practiced in Bishop White's time, and has been ever since in many churches. This resolution declares that the advice of the Bishops should be asked.

“2. That on special occasions, or at extraordinary services, not otherwise provided for, Ministers may, at their discretion, use such parts of the Book of Common Prayer, and such lesson or lessons from Holy Scripture, as shall, in their judgment, tend most to edification.”

In the second resolution, the Bishops authorize the use of the Common Prayer Book instead of themselves composing forms as authorized by Canon XLVII.

“3. That the Bishops of the several Dioceses may provide such special services as, in their judgment, shall be required by the peculiar spiritual necessities of any class or portion of the population within said Dioceses, provided that such services shall not take the place of the services or Offices of the Book of Common Prayer in Congregations capable of its use.”

The third resolution was meant to provide for the case of persons too degraded to use the Book of Common Prayer.

That the whole subject may be fully considered, I offer the following resolution :

Resolved, That the preamble and resolution submitted to this Committee for consideration, together with Canons XLV. and XLVII. of 1832, be referred to a joint Committee of the two Houses, to consider and report, at the next General Convention, what modifications, if any, are needed in the mode of conducting the services of the Church, or in the use of the Book of Common Prayer, in established Parish Churches, and in the Missionary field, Foreign and Domestic.

WM. WELSH,

Minority of Committee.

The Rev. Dr. Stevens presented the following proposed Amendment of Canon I. of 1850, which, on his motion, was referred to the Joint Committee on Canons. (See p. 119.)

Canon I. of 1850.—SECTION 7. Every such Bishop may yearly appoint not less than two, or more than five, presbyters, resident within his Missionary jurisdiction, and acting under the appointment of the Board of Missions of this Church, to act as a Standing Committee in such Missionary Jurisdiction, upon all questions pertaining to the interest of such Missionary Jurisdiction; and in case of the absence of the Bishop from his jurisdiction, or of a vacancy in the Episcopate, said Standing Committee shall be the ecclesiastical authority of such Missionary Jurisdiction.

Resolved, That Section 7, of Canon I. of 1850, be marked as Section 8 of said Canon.

Mr. Bunker offered the following resolution :

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that this House adjourn on Friday, the 21st inst.

Which resolution was, on motion of the Rev. Dr. F. Vinton, for the present laid on the table.

On motion of Mr. Winans,

Resolved, That a Committee of Conference be appointed on the part of this House, to select and report to the Convention the place of meeting of the next General Convention. (See p. 82.)

The Chair appointed the Rev. Drs. Clarkson and Higbee, and the Rev. Mr. Shand, Mr. F. H. Huntington, and Mr. Joseph W. Winans, on the part of this House.

The Rev. Dr. Littlejohn presented the following Preamble and resolution, which were adopted:

Whereas, the House of Bishops has informed this House of the passage of the following resolution, "That a Joint Committee of the two Houses be appointed to devise a plan for the creation of a Church-Building Fund, for the purpose of assisting feeble Parishes and Congregations at Missionary Stations, requiring that the Committee shall report at the next General Convention, and that Bishops Uphold, Clark, and Bowman, had been appointed as such Committee on the part of the House of Bishops"; therefore,

Resolved, That the above resolution be adopted by this House, and that three of its members be appointed upon this Committee.

Mr. Hoffman offered the following Canon as a substitute for Canon XX., Title I., which, on his motion, was referred to the Committee on Canons.

SECTION 1. Every Minister who may officiate in any Church, Chapel, or other place of public worship, shall, before all sermons and lectures, use the Book of Common Prayer, as the same is or may be established by the authority of the General Convention of this Church, and in performing said service, no other prayers shall be used than those prescribed by the said Book.

SECTION 2. The preceding Section shall not apply to cases of a meeting in such Church, Chapel, or other place of public worship, held for the purpose of aiding any missionary, charitable, or ecclesiastical society or enterprise; nor where services are held, or sermons or lectures delivered in the open air: provided, however, that in all such cases one or more of the Collects, the Lord's Prayer, and the Confession, and either the Apostles' or Nicene Creed, shall be used; and no other prayer than such as is contained in the said Book shall be used.

SECTION 3. The term Church, Chapel, or other place of public worship, shall be construed to mean, for the purposes of this Canon, any building owned or held for the purposes of stated public worship, and which has been used for stated public worship for the space of one year.

SECTION 4. The Bishop of each Diocese may, by general regulation, authorize the use, separately, of the order of Morning Prayer, the Litany, and Communion Service, provided such permission shall not be construed to authorize the entire omission of either service.

SECTION 5. It shall be lawful for any Bishop, or Missionary Bishop of this Church, to select such parts of the Book of Common Prayer, and such Lessons, Anthems, Psalms and Hymns, as shall be suitable to be used by any Minister or Missionary of this Church, wherever there is no organized Church or Congregation, having had stated public worship in some fixed place for the period of one year: provided that the Lord's Prayer, Confession, and either the Apostles' or the Nicene Creed, shall form part of such selection. The Bishop may, from time to time, vary or add to such selection.

Canon XX., of Title I. of the Digest, is hereby repealed.

The Rev. Mr. Burgess having called up the resolution offered by him yesterday, viz.: That, after Monday next, the House take a recess from 3 until 7 o'clock, and hold Evening Sessions—the resolution was adopted.

The hour for the Order of the Day now arrived, to wit: the Report of the Committee on Canons, respecting Canons I. and II. of 1853. (See p. 64.)

It was accordingly taken from the file and read (see p. 48), as also the resolution of the Rev. Dr. F. Vinton (see p. 30), which occasioned the reference of those Canons to the Committee.

The Rev. Dr. Vinton moved to strike out all after the word "Resolved," in the resolution recommended by the Committee, and insert in lieu thereof the words of his resolution, as offered on the Third day of the Session.

On motion of Mr. E. F. Chambers, the whole subject was indefinitely postponed.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Coxe, the Canon recorded on pages 102-3 of the Journal of 1856, (which Canon contained the clause repealing Canons I. and II. of 1853), was referred to the Joint Committee on Canons. (See p. 106.)

The House was adjourned.

TENTH DAY'S SESSION.

RICHMOND, VA., October 17th, 1859

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Morning Prayer was read by the Rev. M. A. De Wolfe Howe, D.D., a Deputy from the Diocese of Pennsylvania, and Secretary of the House, assisted by the Rev. Junius M. Willey, a Deputy from the Diocese of Connecticut.

The Minutes of yesterday's proceedings were read and approved.

Mr. William Cornwall, a Deputy from the Diocese of Kentucky, and Mr. William Armor, as Substitute for Mr. William H. Stevens, a Deputy from the Diocese of Tennessee, appeared and took their seats.

The Rev. Dr. Mahan for the Committee on Elections, reported, recommending that leave of absence be granted for the remainder of the Session, to the Rev. Dr. Cuming, of Michigan, Mr. J. H. Thompson, of New Jersey, and Mr. Allen M. Thomas, of Rhode Island; and, on motion, leave was granted accordingly.

The Rev. Dr. H. M. Mason, from the Committee on a Standard Bible, made the following Report:—

Report of the Committee on Typographical Errors.

The Committee to whom, at the last General Convention, was referred the subject of Typographical Errors in the authorized version of the Holy Scriptures, with a view to the proposed Standard for this Church, respectfully report:

That since the last meeting of the General Convention, much progress has been made toward the attainment of a Standard Bible for the Church in this country; an object which the various acts of the great Council of the Church, through a long period of time, manifest to have been greatly desired, and which at no period was more desirable than it is now. Your Committee are of opinion that the present Standard, declared such at the Convention of 1823, being that of Eyre and Strahan, printed by Woodfall, should, with the exception of Typographical Errors, be the basis of the proposed Standard. That in order to avoid whatever Typographical Errors may there exist, the Edition of the Oxford Press of 1852 should be followed in the text; as it appears, from the testimony of the Superintendent of that Press, delivered before a Committee of the House of Commons, that a high premium offered for the detection of each error, has resulted in the detection of but three, in the lapse of the last twenty years.

Your Committee therefore recommend the passage of the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That the House of Bishops consenting, a Joint Committee be appointed, to whom shall be submitted the proof-sheets of the proposed Standard, as they consecutively appear from the press of the New York Bible and Common Prayer Book Society, after having undergone the examination of a Typographical Corrector, who shall be guided by the present Standard of this Church, except the Typographical Errors to be corrected by the Edition of 1852, printed at Oxford.

2. That a Typographical Corrector be appointed to carry out the above resolution.

3. That the Joint Committee have authority to issue the Bible so printed, as the Standard Edition of this Church.

HENRY M. MASON, Chairman.
M. A. DE WOLFE HOWE,
CHARLES W. ANDREWS,
HUGH DAVY EVANS.

The three resolutions recommended in the Report were, on motion, severally adopted.

The Rev. Mr. Hill then moved, that the Rev. Dr. H. M. Mason be appointed Typographical Corrector. The Chair put the question on this nomination, and it was confirmed.

The Rev. Dr. Howe, for the Committee on the State of the Church, presented the following:

The Committee on the State of the Church, beg leave to offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Trustees of the Missionary Bishops' Fund, be requested to report to this House their action under the Canon, during the past three years; and whether any, and if any, what steps have been taken by them to secure an Act of Incorporation for the Board as authorized by the Canon.

The resolution was adopted. (See p. 116.)

The President announced the appointment of the Rev. Drs. Littlejohn and Talbot, and Mr. William Welsh, to be a Joint Committee on the part of this House, to act with a like Committee, appointed by the House of Bishops to devise and report a plan for the creation of a Church Building Fund. (See p. 78.)

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Littlejohn,

Resolved, That the Committee on the State of the Church, be requested to prepare and publish in their Report, in Tabular Form, the Statistics of the last fifteen years, in regard to the increase of Communicants, Parishes, and Dioceses; also an approximate statement of the present number of Congregations in the Church unprovided with regular Clerical services, and the present number of occupied Churches in the different Dioceses.

A message from the House of Bishops was received, to the following effect, viz.: (See p. 178.)

The House of Bishops informs the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, that it has passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Committee of Conference on the part of this House, be appointed to confer with a Committee already appointed by the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, (see p. 78.) to determine the place of the next General Convention. Committee, Bishops Johns, McCoskry, and Kemper.

Also, the following: (See p. 178.)

The House of Bishops informs the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, that it has adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, The House of Clerical and Lay Deputies concurring, that clause third of Section VII. of Canon XIII., Title II. of the Digest (on the last line but one of page 35, as printed in the Report,) is hereby amended, so as to read as follows :

(3.) In case of the death or resignation of a Missionary Bishop, or vacancy by other cause, the charge of the vacant Missionary Episcopate shall devolve on the Senior Bishop of this Church, with the power of appointing some other Bishop as his substitute in said charge.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Mead,

Resolved, That this House concur in the proposed Amendment above communicated.

Mr. B. B. Richards offered the following resolution :

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that the Church in each Diocese shall be entitled to a representation in the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies in the General Convention of 1862, and each succeeding General Convention, as follows, to wit :

Each Diocese reporting at its last Diocesan Convention, prior to the assembling of any General Convention, not more than fifty Clergymen within said Diocese, shall be entitled to Two Clerical, and Two Lay Deputies ; each Diocese reporting not more than one hundred Clergymen, shall be entitled to Three Clerical, and Three Lay Deputies ; each Diocese reporting more than one hundred Clergymen, shall be entitled to Four Clerical, and Four Lay Deputies.

The resolution was, on motion of the Rev. Dr. Clarkson, laid upon the table.

The Rev. Dr. Clarkson, for the Committee of Conference on the place of meeting of next General Convention, (see p. 78,) reported as follows :

The Committee of Conference to whom was referred the place of the meeting of the next Convention, report, that the Joint Committee on the subject unanimously recommend to the House the passage of the following resolution :

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, (see p. 85.) that the next Session of the General Convention be held in the City of New York.

R. H. CLARKSON, Chairman.

The Rev. Dr. A. H. Vinton presented the following proposed Canon, which, on his motion, was referred to the Joint Committee on Canons. (See p. 86.)

CANON.

Whenever a Diocese shall be organized within the jurisdiction of a Missionary Bishop, he may, at his pleasure, become the Bishop of the same without election ; provided that he shall at the same time resign his jurisdiction as Missionary Bishop.

Mr. A. H. Churchill offered the following proposed Amendment of Article IX. of the Constitution, which was, on his motion, referred to the Joint Committee on Canons. (See p. 86.)

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, (see p. 86,) that it is expedient to amend the Constitution by substituting for the IXth Article of the same, the following :

Article IX. This Constitution shall be unalterable, except it may be amended, as follows :

The General Convention may propose Amendments to the Constitution to the Conventions of the respective Dioceses ; and whenever any Amendment so proposed, shall have been ratified by the Conventions of three-fifths of the Dioceses at the time in connection with this Church, then said Amendment shall form a part of the Constitution. Provided that such ratification shall be made before the next Stated Triennial Meeting of the General Convention.

Mr. George S. Yerger, a Deputy from Mississippi, asked leave of absence for the remainder of the Session ; which, on motion of the Rev. Dr. Mead, was granted.

The Order of the Day, to wit, the Report of the Standing Committee on the Foreign and Domestic Missionary Society, was now presented, as follows :

The Committee on the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, respectfully report,

That they have had laid before them the several Reports from the Missionary Bishops of this Church, (see pp. 31, 37,) and those holding special commissions to act as such, (see pp. 31, 42,) and also Reports from the several foreign fields occupied by the Board of Missions of this Church. (See pp. 36, 31.) These have been considered in their order, and their several statements and provisions have engaged as much of the time and deliberation of this Committee as the peculiar circumstances of the Committee permitted.

The Committee deem it unnecessary to prepare any argumentative paper on the importance and value of the Missionary Work, or to spread upon the Journals an elaborate detail of the work done and laid out to be done by the Board of Missions, and the several Missionaries. The reports of the various Bishops and Missionary statistics will be printed with the Journal as part of the documents of the Committee, and will thus be accessible to all members of the same. (See Appendix E.)

As the result of their earnest deliberations, and as embodying their unanimous opinions, the Committee beg leave to offer the following resolutions :

1st. That the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies approves the establishment of the Mission in Japan, the establishment of a Mission to Brazil, and the expansion of the Missions to China and Africa.

2d. That this House recommend to the Board of Missions, the taking such measures toward the establishment of a Mission or Missions, to the Spanish Main of South America, Central America and Mexico, as may be deemed proper in the judgment of the Foreign Committee.

3d. That as the expansion of Missions already established, Domestic and Foreign, and the establishment of new stations in still unoccupied fields, will require as a minimum for their support, not far from two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, this House would urge upon each Member of this Church, the imperative duty of contributing something to the Missionary Work of this Church.

4th. Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that the jurisdiction of the Missionary Bishop in China, be understood to include provisionally the Missions which are or may be established in the Empire of Japan.

5th. Resolved, That the House learns with pleasure, that the long pending differences connected with the jurisdictions respectively of the English Bishop of Victoria, and the Missionary Bishop of this Church in China, have been satisfactorily adjusted by the Lord Bishop of Victoria confining his jurisdiction to the Province of Chi-Kiang, and the Missionary Bishop to China to the Province of Kiang-Su.

6th. Resolved, That it is a matter of sincere congratulation and thanksgiving, that the Debt of the Domestic Committee has, through the exertions of its indefatigable Secretary and General Agent, been paid off, and that that Committee presents itself before the Convention free from debt.

7th. Resolved, That the Board of Missions be authorized and requested to cause a more general diffusion of Missionary Intelligence, and a more general collection of funds, either by Local Agents or by the formation of Auxiliary District Societies, as they may judge expedient under the direction of the Bishop of the Diocese.

8th. Whereas, The spirit of toleration in Religious concerns is cherished by the American people, and is guarded by the American Constitution :

And, Whereas, In the Island of Cuba, American Citizens professing the Religion of Protestants are not tolerated; their worship is not allowed; their dead are not buried with Christian Burial; nor are the bodies of their deceased permitted by the law, without oppressive exactions, to be deported to their native land for Sepulture :

Therefore, Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that a Joint Committee be appointed to address a Memorial to the President of the United States, in the name and behalf of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, requesting His Excellency, as the Supreme Executive of the Nation, to address the Court of Her Catholic Majesty in Spain, on this subject, and to take measures by treaty to procure for American Citizens in Cuba, the liberty to establish the Protestant Worship and the Protestant Ministry, with liberty to hold real estate sufficient for suitable Churches and Church-yards; and, that all except sanitary restrictions on the deportation of the dead be abolished in Cuba.

In behalf of the Committee,

WILLIAM BACON STEVENS, Chairman.

The question being on the adoption of these resolutions,

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Higbee, the first resolution was divided, so as to take the vote on each proposition contained in it, singly, and in order.

The vote of the House was then taken on the several parts of the first resolution, and they were all adopted.

The second resolution recommended by the Committee was then submitted to the judgment of the House, and on motion approved, as were also successively the third, fourth and fifth resolutions.

The Chair announced as the Committee on the Standard Bible—Rev. Drs. H. M. Mason, Howe, and Andrews, Mr. Evans, Mr. Newton, Rev. Mr. Weaver, and W. H. Bell. (See p. 96.)

The following Message was received from the House of Bishops: (See p. 179.)

The House of Bishops informs the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, that it has passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That this House concur with the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies in appointing New York as the place of Meeting of the next General Convention. (See p. 82.)

Two more of the resolutions presented by the Committee were then successively adopted by the House.

Pending the discussion of the last resolution, respecting the expediency of memorializing the Executive of the United States, with a view to the securing a measure of relief from the oppressive restrictions under which Protestants from these States labor, when sojourning temporarily on the Island of Cuba, the stated hour of adjournment arrived.

And the President declared the House adjourned.

The Joint Committee on Canons report the following resolution, providing a Substitute for Canon V., of Title II., of the Digest, (formerly XXXIV. of 1832.)

Resolved, That Canon V., of Title II., is hereby amended, so as to read as follows:

“Section 1, Title II., Canon V., Of Differences between Ministers and their Congregations.”

1. In cases of controversy between any Rector or Assistant Minister of any church or parish, and the Vestry or Congregation of such Church or Parish, which cannot be settled by themselves, the parties, or either of them, may make application to the Bishop of the Diocese, who shall thereupon require the Standing Committee of the Diocese to make a list of nineteen Presbyters thereof, if there be so many therein, and return the same to him. He shall then summon the said Rector or Assistant, and some one of the Vestry, or some one on the part of the Congregation, to attend, and the said number shall be reduced to nine, by striking off the names alternately by the Rector or Assistant Minister and such other party. The Rector or Assistant Minister to commence striking off.

2. If the whole number of Presbyters in the Diocese, be more than nine and less than nineteen, then all the Presbyters must be named on such list, and the striking off shall proceed in the manner aforesaid until nine remain. If the number be nine or less, then all the Presbyters are to be summoned. Should either party omit or decline to strike off names, the Bishop shall strike off in the stead of such party so omitting or declining.

3. The Presbyters thus selected or designated, shall be summoned by the Bishop to attend at some convenient time and place to consider such controversy.

SECTION II. If it shall appear to the Bishop and a majority of such Presbyters thus summoned, that there is no hope of a favorable termination of such controversy, and that a dissolution of the connection between such Rector, or Assistant Minister, and Congregation, is necessary to restore the peace of the Church, and promote its prosperity, the Bishop and such Presbyters shall recommend to such Minister to relinquish his connection with such Church or Parish on such conditions as may appear to them proper and reasonable.

SECTION III. If any Rector or Assistant Minister shall refuse to comply with the recommendation of the Bishop and Presbyters, they may proceed, according to the Canons of this Church, to suspend him from the exercise of any ministerial functions within the Diocese, until he shall retract his refusal; or, if the Vestry or Congregation shall refuse to comply with any such recommendation, they shall not be allowed any representation in the Diocesan Convention until they shall have retracted their refusal.

SECTION IV. When there is no Bishop, the Standing Committee of the Diocese shall perform all the duties herein allotted to the Bishop, as well as those directed to be performed by them: Provided that they shall not exercise any power under the preceding third Section, without the aid and consent of some Bishop of this Church.

SECTION V. This Canon shall not be obligatory upon any Diocese which has made or shall hereafter make provision by Canon upon this subject.

If any Minister of this Church acting under a Foreign Missionary appointment, and within the jurisdiction of a Foreign Missionary Bishop of this Church, shall commit any offence which comes within the provisions of Canon II., Title II.—“Of Offences for which Ministers may be tried and punished”; or shall refuse obedience to the lawful authority of the Missionary Bishop, such Clergyman shall be proceeded against according to the Constitution and Canons of any Diocese of this Church, which may have been selected at the time of the appointment of the Standing Committee of such Missionary jurisdiction, provided that a presentment shall first be made by the members of said Standing Committee; or, if the accused party be a member of the Standing Committee, by the other member or members thereof.

2. The Court for the trial of such Minister shall consist of five Presbyters, excluding the members of the Standing Committee; or, if there be not five, then of all the Presbyters of such Missionary jurisdiction. If there be more than five, then shall the Standing Committee select by lot the five who shall compose the Court; which Court shall proceed in the trial according to the Canons of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in so far as the same may be applicable to such a case: and where no provision is made adequate to the exigency, the Court shall consider and adjudge the case according to the principles of law and equity.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Stevens,

Resolved, That this Committee of Five be appointed by the House. (See p. 98.)

The Rev. Mr. Pinckney presented the following resolution:

Whereas, There appears to be a growing conviction in the mind of our Church in favor of changing our relationship to the General Theological Seminary; therefore,

Resolved, That the Special Committee just appointed be requested to devise a plan for changing the General Theological Seminary into a Diocesan Institution, and ceding it to the Diocese of New York, upon just and equitable terms.

On motion of Mr. W. H. Battle, the resolution was laid upon the table (see p. 98), to give place to the Order of the Day.

The Order of the Day, to wit, the last resolution reported by the Committee on the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, touching the restrictions on American Protestants in the Island of Cuba, now came up for consideration. (See p. 84.)

Pending the discussion of this subject, the following Message was received from the House of Bishops, to wit: (See p. 174.)

The House of Bishops informs the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies that it has passed the following resolutions:

Resolved, That all the portions of our Country north of 36° 30', not yet organized into Dioceses, or included within Missionary Districts, be within the jurisdiction of the Missionary Bishop of the North West.

Resolved, That the Secretary do inform the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies that this House nominates to the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies the Rev. Jacob L. Lay, D.D., Rector of the Church of the Nativity, Huntsville, Alabama, Missionary Bishop of the South West.

Resolved, That the House proceed, at 7 o'clock, after suitable devotions, to act on the nomination of the Missionary Bishops, nominated to this House by the House of Bishops.

The consideration of the Order of the Day was resumed. Various amendments and substitutes were proposed to the resolution as presented by the Standing Committee on the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, which were subsequently withdrawn to give place to the following Amendment, offered by Mr. Philip Williams.

Whilst the members of this House most anxiously desire to see the right of worship and of sepulture secured to our countrymen in the Island of Cuba, yet as the action of this House, as an organized religious body, may perhaps become a dangerous precedent, and be used hereafter as a reason for interfering with the politics of the Country: therefore,

Resolved, That the Report be recommitted to the Committee, with instructions to omit the resolution. (See p. 108.)

The question being submitted to the House on this preamble and resolution, it was adopted.

According to an order adopted by the House on Saturday last, the House took a recess until 7 o'clock.

Resolved, That all those portions of our Country south of a line running along the northern boundary of the Cherokee country and New Mexico, until it reaches the Diocese of California, not yet organized into Dioceses, or included within Missionary Districts, together with Arkansas, be within the jurisdiction of the Missionary Bishop of the South West.

The Rev. Mr. Kelly nominated, on the Committee to which was yesterday committed the question of the expediency and practicability of effecting a severance of the General Theological Seminary from all direct connection with the General Convention (see p. 94), the Rev. Francis Vinton, D.D., the Rev. Mr. Pinckney, the Rev. Dr. Mead, Hon. Murray Hoffman, and Hon. Judge Conyngham; who were thereupon appointed.

The Resolution offered yesterday by the Rev. Mr. Pinckney, on the subject of changing the General Theological Seminary into a Diocesan Institution (see p. 94), was, on motion, referred to the same Committee.

Mr. George R. Fairbanks presented the following resolution:

Resolved, That this House do assent to the Consecration of the Rev. Jacob L. Clark, D.D., as Missionary Bishop of the North West, and of the Rev. Henry Champlin Lay, D.D., as Missionary Bishop of the South West.

Which, on his motion, was for the present laid on the table.

The Rev. Dr. C. W. Fitch offered the following: Ordered, that the Secretary be instructed, in making up the Journal, to arrange the lists of the Dioceses alphabetically, in all places where they occur.

A division having been called for, the motion was lost.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. F. Vinton, Ordered, that it be referred to the Committee on Expenses, to provide for the cost of the copies of the "Richmond Enquirer," distributed every morning in this House for the use of the Members, with power to draw for the same. (See p. 119.)

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Craik,

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that a Special Committee, consisting of Members of each House, be appointed to consider and report to the next General Convention upon the whole subject of the Hymnody and Metrical Psalmody of the Church, and especially to inquire whether any improvement can be introduced into our present collection of Hymns and Metrical Psalms.

On motion, the blank was filled with "Five." (See p. 100.)

The President announced the following as the Committee on reprinting the Old Journals of the General Convention, contemplated in a resolution yesterday passed by this House: The Rev. Dr. Higbee, New York, the Rev. Mr. Willey, Connecticut, the Rev. Wm. S. Perry, New Hampshire, Mr. S. B. Ruggles, New York, Mr. Simeon Ide, N. Hampshire.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Higbee, the Secretary was added to the Committee.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Hawks, Ordered, that the report of the Committee on the subject of the Preamble and Resolutions of the Bishops, printed in the Appendix to the Journal of 1856, concerning the use of the Book of Common Prayer, be made at once the Order of the Day. (See p. 72.)

Pending the discussion of the report of the Committee, the Rev. Dr. Coxe offered the following as a substitute for the Preamble and Resolution recommended by a majority of the Committee:

Whereas, The Preamble and Resolutions adopted by the House of Bishops on the 18th day of the last session of the General Convention, in relation to the use of the Book of Common Prayer, and published in the Journal of the said Convention, have been considered by some as sufficient ground for disturbing the uniformity of worship which should prevail throughout the Church, and have been received in various Parishes as lawful authority for deviating from the Rubrics,

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that Canons XLV. and XLVII. of 1832 be referred to a Joint Committee of the two Houses, to consider and report, at the next General Convention, what modifications, if any, are needed in said Canons.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. F. Vinton, the House voted to take a recess.

EVENING SESSION.

The House resumed business at 7 P. M.

The President announced, as the Joint Committee on the part of this House, upon the Metrical Psalms and Hymns of the Church, the Rev. Dr. Howe, of Pennsylvania, the Rev. Dr. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, the Rev. Dr. Coxe, of Maryland, the Rev. Dr. Talbot, of Indiana, and the Rev. Dr. Andrews, of Virginia. (See p. 124.)

A Message from the House of Bishops, which had been recalled for amendment this morning, was now returned. It had reference to the bounds of the Jurisdictions assigned to the Missionary Bishops of the North West and South West respectively; and the emendation consisted in the omission of the words "or included within Missionary Districts" from Message No. 28. (See p. 98.)

The following Message was received from the House of Bishops, to wit: (See p. 192.)

The House of Bishops informs the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, that it has passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That this House concur with the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies in the appointment of a Joint Committee on Hymnody and Psalmody, as conveyed to this House in Message No. 22. Committee on the part of this House, Bishops A. Potter, Bowman, Burgess, Hopkins, and Whittingham.

The consideration of the Order of the Day being resumed, the Rev. Dr. Mahan offered the following amendment of the substitute proposed by the Rev. Dr. Coxe:

Whereas, The Preamble and Resolutions adopted by the House of Bishops on the 18th day of the last Session of the General Convention, in relation to the use of the Book of Common Prayer, and published in the Journal of the said Convention, have disturbed the minds of many in our Church, creating doubts both as to the effect of said Preamble and Resolutions, and as to the constitutionality of the mode in which they were adopted and published; therefore,

Resolved, That the House of Bishops is hereby respectfully requested to reconsider the said Preamble and Resolutions, and to throw the subject-matter into such shape as will admit of the joint action of both Houses of this Convention.

Mr. Battle moved that the House adjourn.

The Chair put the question upon this motion, and it was lost.

THIRTEENTH DAY'S SESSION.

RICHMOND, VA., October 20th, 1859.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Morning Prayer was read by the Rev. Wm. Shelton, D.D., a Deputy from the Diocese of Western New York, assisted by the Rev. Robert H. Clarkson, D.D., a Deputy from the Diocese of Illinois.

The minutes of yesterday's proceedings, were read, corrected, and approved.

The Rev. Dr. Mahan, for the Committee on Elections, presented the following Report:—

The Committee on Elections report that leave of absence has been asked by the Rev. Dr. McMasters, of Missouri, and Mr. Alfred Warner, of the same Diocese; by the Rev. Dr. Quintard, of Tennessee; Mr. Washington Hunt, of Western New York; Mr. Thomas H. Wright, M.D., of North Carolina; and Mr. J. W. Andrews, of Ohio: and recommend that it be granted.

On motion, leave was granted accordingly.

The Rev. Dr. Mead, for the Joint Committee on Canons, presented the following Reports:

The Joint Committee on Canons, to which was referred the proposed Canon to be entitled "Canon, of the Abandonment of the Communion of the Church by any Bishop, Priest, or Deacon," (see p. 79,) report as follows:

Resolved, That the following be adopted as a Canon of this Church, to be designated as Canon VII., of Title II. of the Digest. (See p. 126.)

Of the Abandonment of the Communion of this Church by a Presbyter or Deacon.

1. If any Presbyter or Deacon shall, without availing himself of the provisions of Canon VI. of this Title, abandon the Communion of this Church, either by an open renunciation of the Doctrine, Discipline, and Worship of this Church, or by a formal admission into any religious body not in communion with the same, it shall be the duty of the Standing Committee of the Diocese to make certificate of the fact to the Bishop of the Diocese, or, if there be no Bishop, to the Bishop of an adjacent Diocese; which certificate shall be recorded, and shall be taken and deemed by the Ecclesiastical authority as equivalent to a renunciation of the Ministry by the Minister himself. Notice shall then be given to the said Minister, by the said Bishop receiving the certificate, that unless he shall, within six months, make declaration that the facts alleged in said certificate are false, he will be deposed from the Ministry of this Church.

2. And if such declaration be not made within six months, as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the Bishop to depose said Minister from the Ministry, and to pronounce and record, in the presence of two or more Presbyters, that he has been so deposed.

Provided, nevertheless, that if the Minister so renouncing shall transmit to the Bishop receiving the certificate a retraction of the acts or declarations constituting his offence, the Bishop may, at his discretion, abstain from any further proceedings.

The Joint Committee further report as follows:

Resolved, That the following be adopted as a Canon of this Church, to be designated as Canon IX., of Title II. of the Digest. (See p. 126.)

Of the Abandonment of the Communion of the Church by a Bishop.

If any Bishop shall, without availing himself of the provisions of Section XIV., Canon XIII., of Title I., abandon the Communion of this Church, either by an open renunciation of the Doctrine, Discipline, and Worship of this Church, or by a formal admission into any religious body not in communion with the same, it shall be the duty of the Standing Committee of the Diocese to make certificate of the fact, to the Senior Bishop; which certificate shall be recorded, and shall be taken and deemed as equivalent to a renunciation of the Ministry by the Bishop himself. Notice shall then be given to the said Bishop, by the said Bishop receiving the certificate, that unless he shall, within six months, make declaration that the facts alleged in said certificate are false, he will be deposed from the Ministry of this Church.

And if such declaration be not made within six months, as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the Senior Bishop, with the consent of the majority of the House of Bishops, to depose from the Ministry the Bishop so certified as abandoning, and to pronounce and record, in the presence of two or more Bishops, that he has been so deposed.

Provided, nevertheless, that if the Bishop so certified as abandoning shall transmit to the Senior Bishop a retraction of the acts or declarations constituting his offence, the Bishop may, at his discretion, abstain from any further proceedings.

By order of the Joint Committee,
WILLIAM ROLLINSON WHITTINGHAM,
Chairman of the Committee of the House of Bishops.

Of the Trial of Ministers within the Jurisdiction of Foreign Missionary Bishops.

1. If any Minister of this Church, acting under a Foreign Missionary appointment, and within the jurisdiction of a Foreign Missionary Bishop of this Church, shall commit any offence which comes within the provisions of Canon II., Title II., "Of offences for which Ministers may be tried and punished"; or shall refuse obedience to the lawful authority of the Missionary Bishop, such Clergyman shall be proceeded against according to the Constitution and Canons of any Diocese of this Church which may have been selected at the time of the appointment of the Standing Committee of such Missionary Jurisdiction, provided that a presentment shall first be made by the members of said Standing Committee; or, if the accused party be a member of the Standing Committee, by the other member or members thereof.

2. The court for the trial of such Minister shall consist of five Presbyters, excluding the members of the Standing Committee; or, if there be not five, then of all the members of such Missionary jurisdiction. If there be more than five, then shall the Standing Committee select by lot the five who shall compose the court, which court shall proceed in the trial according to the Canons of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in so far as the same may be applicable to such a case; and where no provision is made adequate to the exigency, the court shall consider and adjudge the case according to the principles of law and equity.

3. The sentence of the court shall be rendered to the Bishop of such Missionary Jurisdiction, who shall have power to revise and modify the same; and the decision of the Bishop shall be final and conclusive.

A notice, or citation required by any Canon of this Church, when no other mode of service is prescribed, may be served by leaving a copy with the party, or at his last place of abode within the United States; and if he shall have left the United States, by also publishing a copy thereof in some newspaper, printed at the seat of Government of the State or Territory where such party last resided.

By order of the Committee,

WM. ROLLINSON WHITTINGHAM,

Chairman of the Committee of the House of Bishops.

WM. COOPER MEAD,

Chairman of the Committee of the House of Deputies.

The Rev. Dr. Stevens, Chairman of the Committee on the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, reported as follows:

The Committee on the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, to whom was recommended their report of the 17th inst., with instructions to omit the resolution asking for action in reference to certain privileges in the Island of Cuba, having had the same under consideration, beg leave respectfully to report back to the House their series of resolutions, amended according to the instructions of this House, leaving out the last one of the resolutions previously offered. (See p. 84.)

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Stevens, the series of resolutions, as amended, was adopted.

The Rev. Dr. Hawks offered the following proposed Amendment to Clause 2, Section VIII., Canon XIII., Title I., p. 37 of the Digest:

Clause 2, Section VIII., Canon XIII., Title I., is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Any Bishop elected and consecrated under the preceding clause of this Section, or any Foreign Missionary Bishop heretofore consecrated to exercise Episcopal functions in any place or country which may have been thus designated, shall have no jurisdiction except over such Clergy and Laity of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States as may be residing in the state or country for which he has been elected and consecrated, and over such other residents, not natives of the United States, as may voluntarily attach themselves to the Church under the government and direction of such Foreign Missionary Bishop. He shall be entitled to a seat in the House of Bishops while he continues in the exercise of the jurisdiction above named, but shall not be eligible as Bishop in any organized Diocese in the United States.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Hawks, the above Amendment was referred to the Joint Committee on Canons. (See p. 130.)

Mr. George R. Fairbanks moved to take from the table the resolution offered yesterday, of the consent of the House to the Consecration of the Missionary Bishops-elect, to wit:—

Resolved, That this House do assent to the consecration of the Rev. Jacob Lyman Clark, D.D., as Missionary Bishop of the North West, and the Rev. Henry Champlin Lay, D.D., as Missionary Bishop of the South West; and that the Secretary be instructed to transmit the Testimonials of this House, duly certified, to the House of Bishops.

And, on his motion, the resolution was adopted.

The Rev. Dr. Mead called from the table the resolution concerning the final adjournment of this Convention, which was offered on the 15th inst., and, amending it by substituting "Saturday" for "Friday at 1 o'clock," moved its adoption.

The Rev. Dr. Talbot proposed to amend by inserting "Monday" in the place of "Saturday."

The question being put on this amendment, it was negatived.

Next in order was the Rev. Dr. Mead's resolution, which, on the vote of the House, was adopted in the following words, to wit:—

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring (see p. 123), that this Convention will adjourn sine die, on Saturday, the 22d inst.

The Rev. Dr. R. S. Mason presented the following proposed Canon, which, on his motion, was referred to the Joint Committee on Canons. (See p. 128.)

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that the following Canon be adopted.

In all Congregations of this Church, in which the Holy Communion is stately celebrated, the Morning and Evening services of this Church shall be, during Canonical hours, performed as prescribed by the Rubrics of this Church; and those shall be esteemed Canonical hours, in which the Morning and Evening Services of the Church are in any Congregation ordinarily performed: At all other times and occasions of public worship, selections from the Liturgical Offices of this Church may be used, under the direction or permission of the Ecclesiastical Authority of any Diocese in which such deviations from the regular Services of the Church may be thought desirable or requisite.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Gardiner,

Resolved, That five thousand copies of the Journal of this Convention be printed; that three hundred and fifty copies of the Journal be reserved in the keeping of the Secretary; and that two copies be transmitted by him to every Clergyman of this Church having a parochial charge, one copy to every other Clergyman of this Church, two copies to each Lay Member of this Convention, and one copy to the Secretary of each Diocesan Convention, and to the Secretary of the Standing Committee of each Diocese, and to each Bishop in communion with this Church; and one copy to the Library of every Church College in the United States; and that the Secretary be authorized, in his discretion, to cause the Journal of this Convention to be stereotyped, and also to allow the Publisher of the Journal to strike off any number of copies over five thousand, at his own expense, for sale.

The Rev. Mr. Guion moved to amend, by directing that "two copies be given to each Clerical Member of the Convention, two copies to each Bishop of the Church, and one copy to each Clergyman of the Church."

The Chair put the question on the amendment, and it was rejected.

The vote was then taken on the resolution of the Rev. Mr. Gardiner, and it was adopted.

The Rev. Dr. Francis Vinton offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Committee of Three be appointed to revise the Rules of Order of this House, and to report to the next General Convention.

The question being put to the House on this resolution, it was rejected.

On motion of Mr. H. D. Evans, Ordered, that the Treasurer of the General Convention be instructed to pay the expense of printing the Report of the Typographical Director of the Standard Bible, which has been presented to this House.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Mead,

Resolved, That the House now proceed to the election of a Treasurer.

Mr. Herman Cope was nominated.

There being no other nomination, the vote was taken viva voce, and Mr. Cope unanimously elected.

Mr. Battle offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the question on the first Order of the Day, be taken at, or before 2 o'clock, and that immediately after the House shall have disposed of the Special Orders of the Day, it will proceed to the consideration of the Reports of Committees which have been made, in the order in which they may have been made, and that no other business shall be considered until these Reports shall be disposed of.

The Rev. Mr. Guion offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Evening Sessions of the House be not prolonged beyond 10 o'clock, P. M., but at this hour the President declare the House adjourned, unless it shall have previously adjourned by resolution.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Mead, the above resolution was laid on the table.

The Order of the Day, to wit:—The Canon "Of the Officiating of Ministers within the Cures of others," recommended by the Committee on Canons, (see p. 69,) together with the Minority Report, proposing a Canon "Of Parish Boundaries," (see p. 71,) then came up.

Pending the consideration of these documents, the following Message was received from the House of Bishops: (See p. 194.)

The House of Bishops informs the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, that it has passed the following resolution :

Resolved, That by the concurrence of both Houses, the following be enacted, as Section III., of Canon I., Title II.

(See Section III. reported by Joint Committee, on p. 108.)

The Rev. Mr. Whittle moved the adoption of the resolution contained in the Minority Report, embracing a Canon of Parish Boundaries.

Mr. E. S. Rand, Jr., proposed to amend as follows :

Of Parish Boundaries.

1. The Boundaries of Parishes shall be defined by the Conventions of the respective Dioceses.
2. Section II. of Canon IX., is hereby repealed.

The Rev. Dr. F. Vinton offered the following as substitute for the whole :

Section VII., Canon XII., Title I. Of Ministers Officiating in the Cures of others.

1. No Minister of this Church shall officiate either by Preaching or Reading Prayers within the Parochial Cure of another Clergyman, unless he have received express permission for that purpose from the Minister of the Parish, or in his absence, of the Church Wardens.

2. Parochial Boundaries for the purposes of this Section, may be established by the several Dioceses, respectively.

3. The Geographical extent of any Parish, the limits of which have been prescribed by Law or Charter, shall remain unaffected by this Section.

The vote being taken on the substitute offered by Dr. F. Vinton, it was lost.

Mr. Rand's Amendment being next in order, was submitted to a vote of the House, and also rejected.

Next followed the question upon the Resolution and Canon, as reported by the Minority, and its adoption moved by Mr. Whittle.

The Chair put the question on the adoption of the resolution, &c., proposed by the Minority of the Committee, which, on a division, was also lost. AYES, 53. NOES, 74.

The question now recurred on the Report of the Majority of the Committee on Canons. The draft of the Canon proposed by them having been read, (see p. 70,) it was on motion, Ordered, That it be considered by clauses.

On the repeated reading of the first Clause, the Rev. Mr. Guion moved that it be amended, by inserting the particle "or," between the words, "by preaching," and "reading prayer," and striking out the following words, "or otherwise."

The Chair put the question on this amendment, and it was lost.

Mr. S. H. Huntington moved to amend, by striking out all before the word "unless, &c." and inserting the words, "No Minister of this Church belonging to one Diocese, shall officiate by preaching, reading prayers, or otherwise, in the Parish, or within the Parochial Cure of a Clergyman of another Diocese." This amendment was also lost.

The Rev. Mr. Guion proposed the following—to amend, by inserting after the words, "or otherwise," the words, "excepting in visiting and baptizing the sick, burying the dead, and in performing the marriage ceremony, when one of the parties is not a resident of the Parochial Cure where the ceremony is to be performed."

The sense of the House on this amendment was taken, and it was rejected.

The question was then put by the Chair, "Shall the clause as reported by the Committee be adopted?" and it was decided in the affirmative.

The second clause having been read, the Rev. Dr. Higbee moved to amend, by striking out the last sentence, viz.: "Until a Canon or other regulation shall have been adopted, the formation of new Parishes, or establishment of new Churches or Congregations within the limits of other Parishes shall be vested in the Bishop of the Diocese."

A vote of the House was had on the Amendment, and it was lost.

The question was then taken on the second clause as proposed by the Committee, and it was adopted.

The remaining clauses, three, four, five, six, and seven, were respectively proposed to the House and adopted.

Mr. S. B. Ruggles, moved to add, as clause eight, the following:

This Canon shall not affect any legal right of property of any Parish.

The question being taken on its adoption, was decided in the affirmative.

The Rev. Dr. Mead offered the following:

Resolved, That the whole Canon be and is hereby passed by this House.

On motion it was Ordered, that the question on the above resolution be taken by Dioceses and Orders, which resulted as follows:

Clergy.—Dioceses represented, 31. AYES, 21. NOES, 9. DIVIDED, 1.

Laitie.—Dioceses represented, 26. AYES, 19. NOES, 7.

H. COPE.

The resolution was adopted unanimously.

The resolution was adopted. (See p. 128.)

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Breck, the Order of the Day was now taken up for consideration, to wit, the Report of the Joint Committee on Intercourse with the Church in Sweden as follows: (See p. 77.)

Report of the Committee on Intercourse with the Church of Sweden.

The Joint Committee, appointed at the last General Convention, on the expediency of opening an intercourse with the Church of Sweden, respectfully report:

That much attention, chiefly by written communications, has been given by them to this grave and important subject. In an age so remarkable as the present for the intercommunion of nations, it is desirable, that however separated by local distance, those Churches which are equally members of the one body of Christ, and are justly entitled to full fellowship with each other, should manifest that concord, as far as circumstances will admit, in conformity with the prayer of their divine Master for his disciples, "that they all may be one."

Of the Swedish Church, your Committee have no reason to doubt, that she retains the faith once delivered to the saints, and perpetuated through all time, by adhesion to the Apostles' and Nicene Creeds, to which she adds, as formally recognized, the Creed called Athanasian; while as evidence of her protest against the errors which had accumulated during the middle ages of Christianity, she also accepts the creed known as the Augsburg Confession. At the period of the Reformation, the Swedish Church, thus Catholic and Protestant in faith, appears to have also preserved the order of Bishops as then recognized throughout the Christian world, and as perpetuated from the times of the Apostles; nor have your Committee cause to believe, that this line of succession has ceased to be in that Church continued.

But, in Sweden, there is a union of Church and State, similar to that which exists in our sister Church of England; and, in any movement in ecclesiastical affairs, great respect is shown by the heads of the Church to the authority of the Crown. It was known to your Committee as a matter of historic notoriety, that in former times, the Crown of Sweden and Archbishops of Upsala, had taken much interest in the spiritual welfare of the Swedes emigrating to the new world, and had sent Clergymen of Swedish ordination, one of whom, at least, had filled the pastoral relation to a congregation of the then Church of England. It was also made known to your Committee, that the early records of these times, in relation to such Swedes, were becoming, or had become, translated from the Swedish, as the basis of what might be profitably used by any future historian of such times. Your Committee therefore conceived, that from what had been thus done in this country, a favorable opportunity presented itself, without compromising at present the position of our own Church, to further the object for which their appointment was made. They therefore addressed to the King of Sweden a communication as follows :

To His Majesty, Oscar, King of Sweden and Norway.

May it please your Majesty, we, citizens and subjects of the United States of North America, approach your royal person, with all the respect due to the Prince of a great nation illustrious for so many ages among the powers of Europe.

It may not be unknown to your Majesty, that there is a Church in these lands, which is commonly called the Protestant Episcopal, which is one with the Church of England in doctrine, worship, and discipline, and which before the Revolution that effected the political independence of our country, derived its origin and establishment from the care of the Church of the parent land.

While in Church and State we were dependent on Great Britain, many Swedes emigrated to our shores. They settled chiefly on the coasts of the river Delaware. They built houses of worship, preserving the doctrines and worship, and for some time the language of their forefathers ; and much interest was manifested in their welfare, by the Kings of Sweden and Archbishops of Upsala. Clergymen were sent from their native land to officiate among them, and these spiritual guides kept up a frequent intercourse with their parent country and Church. They were worthy disciples and ambassadors of their divine Master ; and such was their reputation, combined with the close affinity in faith and discipline of the Church of England, that they were sometimes, when they had acquired the tongue of their adopted land, called to exercise the pastoral jurisdiction over English Congregations.

In process of time, however, the descendants of these Swedes, after the event known as the American Revolution, becoming citizens of the United States, and aware that they made no essential change of faith, were absorbed into the Church of England ; or, as it was then called in this country, the Protestant Episcopal Church. In some cases they retained peculiar rules for the management of their parochial concerns, while the holy offices of Religion were administered to them by the descendants of Swedes deriving their sacerdotal powers by ordination through the English channel. Some of these Churches still regardful of the land of their ancestors, have been searching into the records, which acquaint them with the history of those venerable men, who, from that land, first preached the Gospel in this new world, in the Swedish tongue to Swedes, and administered to them the bread of life. Those records, as far as accessible in this country, have lately been translated into English, as a basis for the future history of the early Swedish Church in America ; and deep interest is felt, to acquire such information relative to the early Swedish Missionaries and their communications to Fatherland, as may be found only in the archives of Sweden.

Under these circumstances, we, who are also a Committee of the Church called Protestant Episcopal, and who have been appointed under certain resolutions friendly to the Church of Sweden—the Episcopal Members by the House of Bishops, and the Clerical and Lay Members by the House of Deputies, assembled in our General Convention—have undertaken, in connection with our appointment, to make this address and application to your Majesty.

We desire, that it may comport with your royal interest and care for the Church, over which the providence of God has placed you as “Defender and Nursing Father,” to cause to be translated into the English tongue, such documents as may exist in your royal archives, relative to the Swedish Clergy, who preached the everlasting Gospel to their countrymen emigrating to these shores. Such documents, which it is presumed exist in the letters and communications of those Swedish Clergy, long since gone to their rest in the Lord, would, together with the documents possessed in this country, constitute a precious memorial of an era dear to the hearts of many who in these regions still regard with esteem and reverence their ancestral land and Church of Sweden.

Your royal assent to our application, would no doubt also tend to the furtherance of kindly relations between two Churches, which, though separated by the broad waves of the Atlantic, are of kindred faith, alike meritorious of the names Catholic and Protestant, by retention of the faith once delivered to the saints, and perpetuated through all time, and by rejection of the errors which arose amid the corruptions and confusions of the middle ages of Christianity.

May that Triune God, who is the King of kings, and Lord of lords, preserve you happy in your public relations, and the stay of religion, till he crown you with the glory of His eternal kingdom.

HENRY M. MASON, Secretary.

Of the decease of the Prince to whom this document was addressed, information has lately appeared in the public prints; and as yet no answer to our communication has been returned. For that answer your Committee deem it proper to wait, before further steps be taken in a movement which seems to them to demand a prudent caution attempting Christian zeal. In the mean time, they present for the action of this Convention the following resolution:

Resolved, The House of Bishops consenting, a Joint Committee

Dr. Clark having positively and definitively declined the appointment of Missionary Bishop to the North West, the House of Bishops will proceed at 9 o'clock to nominate some Presbyter to that office; and that they express the earnest hope that the Members of this House will feel in duty bound to remain over the morrow, in order to act upon such nomination.

The House of Bishops informs the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies that it has passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That this House do not concur in the passage of a Canon entitled "Of Congregations or Parishes in Foreign Countries," because the proposed Canon requires, for the establishment of a Congregation of this Church in a Foreign Country, that it be authorized by, or not inconsistent with the laws of the Government of such country; and because there is not time to consider other amendments proposed by several members of the House of Bishops, and the subject must therefore be postponed until the next General Convention. (See p. 139.)

The Rev. Dr. Mead, for the Joint Committee on Canons, presented the following Report:

The Joint Committee on Canons, to whom was referred, by the House of Bishops, a proposed Amendment of Canon XII., Title I., (see p. 199,) respectfully recommend the adoption of the following resolution on the subject:

By order of the Committee.

W. R. WHITTINGHAM,

He shall be entitled to a seat in the House of Bishops, while he continues in the exercise of the jurisdiction above-named; but shall not be eligible as Bishop in any organized Diocese of the United States.

By order of the Committee,

W. R. WHITTINGHAM,

Chairman Com. House of Bishops

WM. COOPER MEAD,

Chairman Com. House of Cler. and Lay Deputies.

By order of the Committee,

WM. ROLLINSON WHITTINGHAM,

Chairman Com. House of Bishops.

WM. COOPER MEAD,

Chairman Com. House of Cler. and Lay Deputies.

Richmond, Oct. 22d, 1859.

Resolved. That Clause 3, of Section VII., of Canon XIII. of Title I., is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Clause 3, Section VII., Canon XIII., Title I.—1. In case of the death or resignation of a Missionary Bishop, or of vacancy by any other cause, the charge of the vacant Missionary Episcopate shall devolve on the Senior Bishop of this Church, with power of appointing some other Bishop as his substitute in said charge, until an election of another Missionary Bishop for the same.

2. In case of a vacancy in a Missionary Episcopate by death, resignation, or refusal to accept, more than twelve months before the meeting of a General Convention, it shall be the duty of the Senior Bishop of this Church to notify the same to the Secretary of the Board of Missions.

3. The Secretary of the Board of Missions, so notified, shall address a notice to each Member of the said Board, that, at the next Annual Meeting, if such Meeting be not to take place within three months; but if the next Annual Meeting be within three months, then at the next Annual Meeting thereafter, an election of a suitable person to fill the vacant Episcopate will take place; provided, that, if the next Annual Meeting not within three months, should fall within six months before a meeting of the General Convention, then no such notice shall be issued.

4. At such Annual Meeting, not less than seventy members of the Board being present, it shall be competent for the Board, by the votes of two-thirds of the members present, to elect a Bishop for the vacant Missionary Episcopate.

5. The evidence of such election shall be a certificate, to be subscribed by all the members voting for the Bishop-elect, in the form required by the Second Section of this Canon to be given by the members of a Diocesan Convention on the election of a Bishop.

6. The Board of Missions shall, by its Secretary, or by some person or persons specially appointed, communicate the fact of such election of a Missionary Bishop to the Standing Committees of the Churches, as provided in the case of Consecration during Recess, in Section third of this Canon; and if the major number of the Standing Committees shall consent to the proposed Consecration, the Secretary of the Board of Missions, or the person or persons appointed thereto by the Board, shall forward the evidence of such consent, together with other testimonials, to the Senior Bishop, who shall thereupon proceed as directed in the case of Consecration during Recess, in Section third of this Canon; and the provisions of the second Clause of said Section shall apply to Consecrations under this Section also.

Resolved. That the following be adopted as Clause 2 of Section VIII. of Canon XIII. of Title I. in the Digest, viz.:

Clause 2, Section VIII., Canon XIII., Title I.—In case of a vacancy in a Missionary Episcopate of a Missionary Station or Stations of this Church out of the territory of the United States, by death, resignation, or refusal to accept, more than twelve months before the meeting of a General Convention, such vacancy may be filled in the mode prescribed, and under the provisions and restrictions assigned in Clause 3 of Section VII. of this Canon.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. F. Vinton,

Resolved. That the resolutions and Canon be laid upon the table. (See p. 126.)

The Committee to whom it was referred to consider and report on the expediency and practicability of reprinting the old Journals, from A. D. 1785, to A. D. 1853, made the following Report:

The Committee appointed by the House to consider the expediency and to inquire into the probable cost of reprinting the Journals of the General Convention, from A. D. 1785, to A. D. 1853, inclusive, with an Index to the same, respectfully report :—

The first thirty years of our legislation as an independent Church had not passed, when, owing—to quote the language of Bishop White—to “the increasing difficulty of possessing sets” of these documentary annals of our Church history, the reprinting of the Journals of the General Convention from A. D. 1785 to A. D. 1814, inclusive, was imperatively required.

A few years later, and so rapidly had these documents disappeared, but one entire collection of the originals from which this reprint was made could be found, even by the venerable Presiding Bishop of the Church. At the present time, not only are the earlier editions wholly out of print, but the volume published by Bioren in Philadelphia, in accordance with the resolution of the Convention of 1814, and also many Journals of subsequent years, are rarely met with, even by the most indefatigable collector. So rare are these important documents, that it is believed by your Committee, after no little inquiry, that there are less than ten entire sets of the Journals of the General Convention in the possession of Dioceses or individuals in the land.

Efforts for the republication of these Journals, subsequent to the appearance of Bioren's edition in 1817, date back as far as the Convention of 1835. At this time, and apparently in consequence of the inability of the Secretary to procure, as directed, “ten sets of the Journals of the General Convention, from the organization of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States,” (see p. 25, Journal of 1835), for preservation among the Archives of the Convention, the following resolution was passed by the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies :

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that a Joint Committee be appointed to procure, by some publishing house, the printing at its expense and for its profit, of all the Journals of the General Convention since 1785, together with all the Pastoral Letters which have been set forth by the House of Bishops. (See p. 77, Journal of 1835.)

In this resolution the House of Bishops concurred, and appointed on their behalf the Right Rev. Benjamin T. Onderdonk, D.D., Bishop of New York ; but owing doubtless to the pressure of business attending the close of an important and exciting Session, the names of the members of the Committee from the lower House were not designated by the Convention, and consequently no action ensued.

At the following Session in 1838, the same resolution was passed by both Houses, with this additional clause :

—“and that the said Committee be, and hereby are, authorized to append to such edition of the Journals a suitable Index.” (See p. 48, Journal of 1838.)

This Committee, consisting of Bishop B. T. Onderdonk, and the Rev. Drs. Anthon and Hawks, submitted to the Convention of 1841 the following report :

The Joint Committee appointed by the last Convention to procure the printing of all the Journals of the General Convention, respectfully report :

That they have not accomplished the object of their appointment, but have reason to believe that there may be action on the subject by this Convention, which will greatly facilitate the measure. The Committee therefore respectfully submit for adoption by the Convention, the following resolutions:

Resolved, That a Joint Committee, consisting of one Bishop, chosen by the House of Bishops, and — Members of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, chosen by the said House, be appointed to procure the publication by some publishing house on its own account, of a complete edition of all the Journals of the General Convention, together with the Canons and other documents which have been published with these Journals, and a complete set of the Canons, including the Constitution of this Church, as the same shall be at the adjournment of this Convention, with a copious Index or Indexes to the whole.

Resolved, That the same Committee be authorized and appointed to superintend the printing of the Journals, &c., and to form the Index or Indexes, and to adopt efficient means for securing the entire accuracy of the edition.

Resolved, That the edition of the Journals, &c., thus published, be certified by the Committee as an edition published under the authority of the General Convention.

Resolved, That as soon as arrangements conformably to the above resolutions are made with a printer, the Committee do cause proposals for the edition to be extensively circulated; and, that they be authorized and requested to adopt in the name of this Convention, suitable measures to secure for the undertaking the general patronage of the Church. (Journal of 1841, pp. 110, 111.)

Respectfully submitted,

BENJ. T. ONDERDONK, }
HENRY ANTHON, } Committee.

These resolutions, covering the whole ground of action proposed by your present Committee, were on motion of Bishop Kemper, seconded by Bishop Meade, adopted by the House of Bishops, and concurred in by the lower House; and the whole matter committed to the Bishop of New York, with the Rev. Drs. Anthon and Mead, and T. L. Ogden, Esq. (Journal of 1841, page 113.)

At the session of the Convention in 1844, Bishop B. T. Onderdonk, in behalf of the Committee, reported that the Committee had not been able to accomplish the object of their appointment, and asked to be discharged. In this request both Houses concurred. (Journal of 1844, page 28.)

In 1853, the House of Bishops proposed to the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, "that the Secretaries of the two Houses be requested to prepare an Index to the whole series of Journals of the General Convention from the beginning," adding the suggestion, that this "Index, when approved by the Presiding Bishop," should "be printed in the same form as the Journal." (Journal of 1853, pp. 115, 116.)

The House concurred in this resolution, with the provision that the funds in the Treasury of the Convention be sufficient to meet the cost. (Journal of 1853, page 143.)

At the last meeting of the Convention, the subject was again agitated, and the Secretary was "appointed a Committee to confer with publishers about issuing a stereotype edition of all the Journals of this Convention, at the expense and for the profit of said publishers." (Journal of 1856, page 129.)

This has been found impracticable.

In view, then, of this almost continuous legislation of the Convention on this subject, expressive of the deep sense of need felt throughout the Church, in the matter, your Committee are convinced that the work is one that should be done, and done at once. Each unsuccessful attempt—each three-years' delay—but adds to the difficulty of ever securing the result desired. The Committee have, therefore, in the limited time at their disposal, made such inquiries as were in their power, as to the probable cost of this republication, and have also discussed the best manner of effecting the same; and while they are convinced both from the magnitude of the work, and the want of success of previous Committees, that this reprint would not be undertaken by any responsible publisher solely at his own risk, they feel certain that the end desired may be attained by means of subscriptions from the many individuals, libraries and legislative bodies of our Church, to whom such documents would be peculiarly valuable and interesting.

The whole work, in its integrity, might be compressed into four or five volumes of six hundred and fifty pages each; and should an edition of a thousand sets be called for, could be furnished to subscribers in a clear and distinct type, printed on good paper, and in size and general appearance uniform with the present Journals, at a cost of about one dollar and fifty cents per volume. If a larger number should be subscribed for, the price would be materially lessened.

The Committee would also propose the addition to each volume of an appendix of brief historical notes, prepared under the direction, and subject to the revision of the Historiographer of the Church, and designed to elucidate points of interest obscurely set forth on the printed page of the Journal. They also recommend the preparation of a full analytical index to be comprised in an additional volume, the beginning of which has already been made by one* of their number, and the plan of which they unanimously approve. Without this, even the republication of the Journals would be of comparatively little value. With its assistance, the whole legislation of the Church would be made easily accessible to any investigator.

In view of these statements, and feeling confident that a suitable publisher can be found to undertake the work upon reasonable encouragement by pledges or subscriptions from members of the Church, the Committee would respectfully offer the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, It is the duty of the Church to make generally accessible the annals of its legislation, both for the guidance of its law-makers, and for the information of students of its history:—

And, Whereas, The documentary history of the General Convention is now wholly out of print, and rarely to be met with,

Resolved, That a Committee of six be appointed from this House to secure, either by subscription or otherwise, the republication of the Journals of the General Convention from A. D. 1785, to A. D. 1853, inclusive, provided that no pecuniary obligation be assumed by this Convention.

Resolved, Further, that the said Committee be authorized and empowered to add to this republication suitable historical notes and a copious Analytical Index, and that they have full power with reference to the same.

Respectfully submitted.

EVENING SESSION.

The Canon "Of a Bishop resigning his jurisdiction, and becoming a Parish Minister" being under consideration, the question on concurrence with the House of Bishops in enacting the Canon was taken, and it was decided in the negative. (See p. 118.)

The Rev. Dr. Littlejohn offered the following resolutions:

Whereas, the rapidly-growing demand, in all parts of the country, for the services of the Church, and the present impossibility of supplying regular Clerical services in Parishes and Congregations already in existence, make it imperatively necessary that the Church should, through this General Convention, adopt some measures promotive of an immediate increase of the Ministry; therefore,

Resolved, That the Parochial Clergy be earnestly requested to bring the Church's pressing need of additional laborers before their respective Congregations at least once a year, or oftener if thought expedient; also, to solicit offerings for the education of indigent candidates for Holy Orders; and, at all suitable times, and in all suitable ways, to impress the Church's wants upon the minds of the young.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the Clergy to urge upon their Congregations the duty of bestowing upon the Training-schools and Colleges of the Church a more liberal and effective patronage, and that the Heads and Teachers of our Institutions of learning be invited to lend their aid, in such forms as their judgment may approve, in the great work of supplying pious and well-educated candidates for Holy Orders.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Stubbs, the first resolution was amended by striking out the words "at least once a year," and inserting "especially in the Ember seasons."

this House, the following persons: the Rev. Dr. Randall, the Rev. Dr. Van Ingen, Mr. Chambers, Mr. Canfield, and Mr. Huntington. (See p. 141.)

(See p. 136.)

I congratulate you, brethren of the Clergy and Laity, that we have come to the close of another Session of the great Council of our Church in harmony and peace. Throughout our deliberations, the voice of party spirit has not once been heard. All seem to have been actuated alike by a pure, earnest, controlling desire for the prosperity of the Church of Christ, and the increase of pure religion and virtue.

The credit of this blessed condition of things, none, I trust, will presume to ascribe to ourselves. Let us, with devout gratitude, give all the praise, where alone it belongs, to a gracious, overruling guidance of the Spirit of God.

That you have thought my conduct, in the administration of the office which your partiality conferred upon me, at all worthy of favorable notice, is owing more to your charitable construction than my own deserts. I thank you for it with my whole heart; and, as an expression of my sense of your kindness, would pray that God, in his good providence may always have you in his holy keeping, and conduct you in health and safety to your homes, and to a reunion with your families and friends.

Signed by order of the House,
WILLIAM CREIGHTON, D.D.,
President.

CANON

Of the Officiating of Ministers within the Cures of others.

1. No Minister belonging to this Church shall officiate, either by preaching, reading prayers, or otherwise, except in visiting the sick, administering Baptism or the Holy Communion to the sick, solemnizing Matrimony between persons, one or both of whom shall belong to his own cure, or burying the dead, within the Parish or parochial cure of another, unless with the express permission of the Minister of the Parish or parochial cure in which he shall so officiate; or if such cure be vacant, or the Minister thereof be absent, of the Church Wardens and Vestrymen of the Congregation, or a majority of them.

2. The ascertainment and defining of the Boundaries of existing Parishes, as well as the establishment of new Churches and Congregations, and forming of new Parishes, is left to the action of the several Diocesan Conventions for the Dioceses respectively.

3. Until a Canon or other regulation of a Diocesan Convention shall have been adopted, the formation of new Parishes or establishment of new Churches or Congregations within the limits of other Parishes, shall be vested in the Bishop of the Diocese, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee thereof, and in case of there being no Bishop, in the ecclesiastical authority; provided, that no Church Building shall be erected or occupied for the purposes of the worship of this Church within one mile of any Church Building owned or occupied by any organized Congregation in connection with this Church, without the permission of the Minister and Vestry of such Congregation.

4. Until action is had by the Dioceses respectively, a Parish or parochial cure shall be taken, in any city, town, borough, or village having more than two thousand inhabitants, to extend half a mile in every direction from the Church building with which it is connected. In other cases, the limits of a parochial cure shall be co-extensive with those of the district within which the Church building with which it is connected shall be situated, such district being one established by law for election purposes, the voters residing within which are to vote at one place.

5. If there are several Church Buildings owned or occupied by organized Congregations in connection with this Church, within any district, such as is mentioned in the last clause, or in any city, town, borough, or village within half a mile of the place where any Minister is desirous of officiating, it shall be the duty of such Minister to obtain the permission required in the first clause of this Section, from the Ministers of a majority of such Congregations, or from all, if there are not more than two.

6. If any Minister of this Church, from inability or any other cause, shall neglect to perform the regular services of his Congregation, and refuse, without good cause, his consent that some other Minister of the Church may officiate within his cure, the Church Wardens, Vestrymen or Trustees of such Congregation shall, on proof of such neglect and refusal before the Bishop of the Diocese, or if there be no Bishop, before the Standing Committee, or before such persons as may be deputed by him or them, or before such persons as may be, by the regulations of this Church in any Diocese, vested with the power of hearing and deciding on complaints against Clergymen, have power, with the written consent of the before-mentioned authority, to open the doors of their Church to any regular Minister of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Verbal and clerical corrections ; omissions of portions of existing Canons, which occasionally occurred ; and the restitution of the original language in such instances in which it had been changed.

The substitution of a somewhat different phraseology in some cases, in which it appeared clearly to the Committee, that the sense and intent of the law would be more clearly expressed and carried out.

The introduction of the word "Holy," before the word "Orders," where the ministry is designated ; which, in some cases, had been omitted, both in the original Text, and in the Digest.

A variation of the collocation of Sections, or portions of Sections, in a few instances.

Some changes in the Titles of Canons, better calculated to indicate the subjects of the provisions.

These changes have been unanimously agreed to.

The Committee are now engaged in executing another portion of the duty assigned to them, namely, in relation to the modifications of, or, additions to, the existing law, upon which they are not now prepared to report.

The Committee propose the following resolutions :

1. Resolved, That the Digest of the Canons of this Church now submitted, be approved and adopted by this House.

2. Resolved, That the Joint Committee of Canons be appointed to print such Digest in such form, and with such reference to previous Canons on the same subject, by way of note or otherwise, as they shall see fit.

3. Resolved, That the following be prefixed to the said Digest.

That no further modification is needed, in their judgment, at this time, in the Canon submitted to the Committee.

By order of the Committee.

JOHN H. HOPKINS,

Chairman of Committee of House of Bishops.

WM. COOPER MEAD,

Chairman Com. House of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

Bishop Hopkins presented the following Report:

The Joint Committee on Canons, to which was referred, on the motion of the Right Rev. Bishop Williams, certain amendments in the XLIIId Canon of 1842, entitled "Of Crimes and Scandals to be censured," As also, an amendment of the same Canon, proposed by the Right Rev. Bishop Eastburn, respectfully report:

That they recommend the adoption of the amendment proposed by the Right Rev. Bishop Williams, and present herewith the Canon as amended, in its complete form.

They do not recommend the adoption of the other amendment, being unanimously of opinion that it is unnecessary, as it is not to be doubted that no Minister, without Canonical jurisdiction, can perform an act of discipline.

By order of the Committee,

JOHN H. HOPKINS,

Chairman of the Committee House of Bishops.

WM. COOPER MEAD,

Chairman Com. House of Cler. and Lay Deputies.

Resolved, That Section II. of Canon XIII. of Title II., is hereby amended, so as to read as follows:

SECTION 1. If any persons within this Church offend their brethren by any wickedness of life, such persons shall be repelled from the Holy Communion, agreeably to the Rubric.

SECTION 2. There being the provision in the Second Rubric before the Communion Service, requiring, that every Minister repelling from the Communion shall give an account of the same to the Ordinary; it is hereby provided, that on the information to the effect stated being laid before the Ordinary, that is, the Bishop, it shall not be his duty to institute an inquiry, unless there be a complaint made to him in writing by the repelled party, within three months from such repulsion. But on receiving complaint it shall be the duty of the Bishop, unless he thinks fit to restore him, from the insufficiency of the cause assigned by the Minister, to institute an inquiry, as may be directed by the Canons of the Diocese in which the event has taken place. And should no such Canons exist, the Bishop shall proceed according to such principles of law and equity, as will insure an impartial decision. The notice given as above by the Minister, shall be a sufficient presentation of the party repelled.

SECTION 3. In the case of a great heinousness of offence on the part of members of this Church, they may be proceeded against, to the depriving them of all privileges of Church membership, according to such rules or process as may be provided by the General Convention; and until such rules or process shall be provided, by such as may be provided by the different Diocesan Conventions.

Which, on motion of Bishop Whittingham, was adopted.

Bishop Hopkins, from the Joint Committee of Canons, presented the following Report, which, on motion, was ordered to be printed.

The Joint Committee on Canons report the following Resolution, providing a substitute for Canon V. of Title II. of the Digest, (formerly Canon XXXIV. of 1832.)

Resolved, That Canon V. of Title II. is hereby amended, so as to read as follows :

Of Differences between Ministers and their Congregations.

SECTION I. (1). In cases of controversy between any Rector or Assistant Minister of any Church or Parish, and the Vestry or Congregation of such Church or Parish, which cannot be settled by themselves, the parties, or either of them, may make application to the Bishop of the Diocese, who shall thereupon require the Standing Committee of the Diocese to make a list of nineteen Presbyters thereof, if there be so many therein, and return the same to him; and he shall then summon the said Rector or Assistant Minister, and some one of the Vestry, or some one on the part of the Congregation to attend; and the said number shall be reduced to nine, by striking off names alternately by the Rector or Assistant Minister, and such other party; the Rector or Assistant Minister to commence such striking off.

(2). If the whole number of Presbyters in the Diocese be more than nine, and less than nineteen, then all the Presbyters must be named on such list, and the striking off shall proceed in the manner aforesaid, until nine remain. If the number be nine or less, then all the Presbyters are to be summoned. Should either party omit or decline to strike off names, the Bishop shall strike off instead of such party so omitting or declining.

(3). The Presbyters thus selected or designated shall be summoned by the Bishop to attend at some convenient time and place, and consider such controversy.

SECTION II. If it shall appear to the Bishop, and a majority of such Presbyters thus summoned that there is no hope of a favorable termination of such controversy, and that a dissolution of the connection between such Rector or Assistant Minister and Congregation is necessary to restore the peace of the Church and promote its prosperity, the Bishop and such Presbyters shall recommend to such Rector or Assistant Minister to relinquish his connection with such Church or Parish, on such conditions as shall appear to them proper and reasonable.

SECTION III. If any Rector or Assistant Minister shall refuse to comply with the recommendation of the Bishop and Presbyters, they may proceed according to the Canons of this Church to suspend him from the exercise of any ministerial functions within the Diocese, until he shall retract his refusal; or if the Vestry or Congregation shall refuse to comply with any such recommendation, they shall not be allowed any representation in the Diocesan Convention, until they shall have retracted their refusal.

SECTION IV. Where there is no Bishop, the Standing Committee of the Diocese shall perform all the duties herein allotted to the Bishop, as well as those directed to be performed by them, provided that they shall not exercise any power under the preceding third section, without the aid and assent of some Bishop of this Church.

SECTION V. This Canon shall not be obligatory upon any Diocese which has made, or shall hereafter make provision by Canon on this subject.

Canon V. of Title II. of the Digest is hereby repealed, and the foregoing enacted in its stead.

By order of the Committee,

JOHN H. HOPKINS,

Chairman Com. House of Bishops.

WM. COOPER MEAD,

Chairman Com. House of Cler. and Lay Deputies.

(See p. 212.)

On motion, the House resolved itself into a Council as Bishops.

The Bishops as a Council having risen, the House resumed its ordinary business.

On motion, the House adjourned.

THIRTEENTH DAY'S SESSION.

WEDNESDAY, October 19, 1859.

The House met pursuant to adjournment, and attended Divine Service in St. Paul's Church, with the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

Present as yesterday.

The Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Bishop Polk moved to suspend the rule of order to allow the introduction of a motion, relating to the boundaries of the jurisdiction of the Missionary Bishops. Adopted. (See p. 190).

Bishop De Lancey moved that the Secretary be instructed to request of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, the return of Message No. 23 of this House, declaring the boundaries of the jurisdiction of the Missionary Bishops.

Bishop Williams moved to refer the subject of the boundaries of the Missionary Bishops' jurisdiction to a Committee of three. Adopted.

The Presiding Bishop appointed Bishops Elliott, Hawks, and Kemper, said Committee.

MESSAGE No. 20.

The House of Clerical and Lay Deputies informs the House of Bishops that it has elected, on nomination by the House of Bishops, the Rev. Jacob Lyman Clark, D.D., to be a Missionary Bishop for the North West, and the Rev. Henry Champlin Lay, D.D., to be a Missionary Bishop to the South West, in States or Territories not organized into Dioceses.

The Committee on Amendments of the Constitution submitted the following report:

The Committee on Amendments of the Constitution to which was referred Message No. 12, from the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, together with the proposed Amendment of Article VI. of the Constitution, begs leave to report:

That it recommends to this House concurrence with the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, in their rejection of the proposed Amendment of Article VI. of the Constitution.

STEPHEN ELLIOTT,
J. JOHNS,
GEO. UPFOLD.

And, on motion of Bishop Williams, the recommendation of the Committee was adopted.

The Committee on Amendments of the Constitution submitted the following Report:

The Committee on Amendments to the Constitution, to which was referred the Amendment of Article V., proposed by the Bishop of Maryland, which Amendment is as follows:

Proposed Amendment to Article V. of Constitution.

A Protestant Episcopal Church, in any State or Territory of the United States not now represented, may, at any time hereafter, be admitted on acceding to this Constitution; and new Dioceses may be formed within any State or Territory, or from portions of one or more already admitted into union, under the following restrictions:

No such Diocese, to be admitted into union, shall be formed, unless with the previously obtained consent of the General Convention. In order to such consent, it shall be necessary that the proposed Diocese shall contain at least thirty Presbyters resident and Canonically officiating within its bounds, and qualified by the Constitution or Canons of the Diocese out of which it is to be formed, to vote for a Bishop, and fifteen regularly organized and self-supporting Parishes. Nor shall such consent be given, if the formation of the proposed new Diocese would reduce the number of Clergy and Parishes in the Diocese now in union, out of which it should be formed, below the limits required for the new Diocese.

A new Diocese may be formed within any existing Diocese, on the proposal of the Bishop of the same, by the vote of two thirds of the Diocesan Convention, at two successive Conventions, with an interval of at least one year: Provided, That such Diocese shall be entitled only to elect a Bishop, agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution and Canons of this Church, who shall have exclusive Diocesan jurisdiction therein; but shall proceed no further in Diocesan organization, unless admitted into union by the General Convention, being otherwise included for all Diocesan purposes in the Diocese in union out of which it shall have been formed.

In case, &c., — thereof (4th paragraph of existing Article unchanged).

Whenever the division of a Diocese into two Dioceses shall be ratified — Convention of the new Diocese (5th paragraph of existing Article unchanged).

The Bishop of a Diocese, not admitted to union with the General Convention, shall be eligible on the occurrence of a vacancy in the Episcopate of the Diocese in union with which his Diocese may be connected; but unless and until so elected, shall have only a seat and deliberative voice in the House of Bishops, but no vote—

Begs leave to Report, That in the opinion of this Committee, the time will soon come when the Church shall have to meet the question of (smaller Dioceses and) an enlarged Episcopate. But they are satisfied that the Church is not ready for the introduction of an Episcopate, such as that proposed by the Bishop of Maryland. The Church in this country, in all its legislation, has shown itself very jealous of any increase in the Episcopate, which has not been strictly Diocesan. In proof of this, your Committee refers to its very stringent provisions in relation to its Missionary Bishops, to its unwillingness to grant Assistant Bishops except in cases of the last emergency, and to its express declaration in Canon VI. of 1832, that "No person shall be elected or consecrated a Suffragan Bishop, nor shall there be more than one Assistant Bishop in a Diocese at the same time."

The Committee, therefore, recommend that the proposed Amendments of Article V. be laid upon the table.

STEPHEN ELLIOTT,
J. JOHNS,
GEORGE UPFOLD.

And, on motion of Bishop Eastburn, the Resolution proposed by the Committee was adopted.

Bishop McIlvaine submitted a Report from the Committee on Foreign Missions, which, on motion of Bishop De Lancey, was referred back to said Committee for further consideration. (See p. 195.)

of the State of New York, on the 13th day of April, 1858, and the By-Laws reported by the Trustees to this House, as the Laws and Regulations for the Government of the Fund for the Relief of the Widows and Orphans of deceased Clergymen, and of aged, infirm, and disabled Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, be approved and adopted, and that the object be, and hereby is, commended to the sympathy and support of the Church at large.

In Title I., Canon VII., strike out all that relates to the formal admission of a Deacon as a candidate for Priest's orders; and in Section XIII. of this Canon, in addition to the Testimonial prescribed, add a Testimonial similar to that required of a candidate for Deacons' orders, from at least one Presbyter of this Church, from personal knowledge of the candidate for one year.

The Joint Committee on Canons, to whom was referred a proposed additional Section to Canon XIII., Title I. of the Digest, beg leave to report the following to be numbered in the Digest as Clause 7, Section VIII., Canon XIII., Title I.; and they also recommend that Clause 7 of the Digest be marked Clause 8.

Clause 7, Section VIII., Canon XIII., Title I.—Every such Bishop may yearly appoint not less than two, nor more than five, Presbyters resident within his Missionary jurisdiction, and acting under the appointment of the Board of Missions, to act as a Standing Committee in such Missionary jurisdiction upon all questions pertaining to the interests of such Missionary jurisdiction; and in case of the absence of the Bishop from his jurisdiction, or of a vacancy in the Episcopate, said Standing Committee shall be the Ecclesiastical authority of such Missionary jurisdiction.

By order of the Committee,

JAMES H. OTEY,

Chairman pro tem., of the Committee of the House of Bishops.

WM. COOPER MEAD,

Chairman of the Committee of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

Bishop Otey, from the Joint Committee on Canons, submitted the following report:

The Joint Committee on Canons respectfully report the following for adoption by the General Convention, and offer the following resolution to that effect:

Resolved, The House of Clerical and Lay Deputies concurring, that the following be adopted as Section XVII. of Canon XIII., of Title I.:

Of a Bishop resigning his Jurisdiction and becoming a Parish Minister.

SECTION XVII.—1. No Bishop who shall have resigned or may hereafter resign his jurisdiction as a Bishop of this Church, shall officiate as the Rector, stated Minister, or Assistant Minister of any Church, Parish, or Congregation in this Church, until he shall have obtained the written consent of the Bishop; or if there be no Bishop, of the Standing Committee in which such Church, Parish, or Congregation shall be situate.

2. Any Bishop who ceases to have jurisdiction, and becomes a Rector, Stated Minister, or Assistant Minister of any Church, Parish, or Congregation, shall, while in such Cure, not perform any Episcopal act in the Diocese in which his Cure is situate: he shall also, while he holds such Cure, be subject, in all matters concerning said Cure and his relations thereto, to the Ecclesiastical authority and to the Canons of the Diocese in which his Cure is situate.

By order of the Committee,

JAMES H. OTEY,

Chairman pro tem. of Com. of House of Bishops.

WM. COOPER MEAD,

Chairman of Com. of House of Cler. and Lay Deputies.

On motion, the House concurred in the first Section.

The second Section being under consideration, Bishop Johns moved to strike out the clause, "not perform any Episcopal act in the Diocese in which his Cure is situate." Lost.

On motion, the second Section was adopted; and the House passed the whole Canon, and the Secretary was instructed to give notice of the same to the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

Bishop Upfold submitted the following Report, and, on motion, the Committee was continued. (See p. 169.)

The Joint Committee appointed to devise a plan for the creation of a Church Building Fund, respectfully report that they have made some progress in the business committed to them, but are unable at present to mature the plan, and ask to be continued.

GEORGE UPFOLD,

Chairman.

Bishop Hopkins, from the Special Committee on the relations of this Church to the Church of England, submitted a Report, which, on motion, was referred back to the same Committee for further consideration.

Bishop Elliott proposed the following Amendment, § VIII., Section 4, p. 29 of the Digest, to insert after the words "Diocese or Missionary district," the words "whether Domestic or Foreign;" and after the word "to another," insert again "whether Domestic or Foreign." Which, on motion, was referred to the Joint Committee on Canons. (See p. 206.)

Bishop De Lancey's resolution, offered on the tenth day, to strike off of the minutes all relating to the resolutions of the Diocese of Illinois, except the Report of the Special Committee, was then adopted.

On motion, the House adjourned.

FIFTEENTH DAY'S SESSION.

FRIDAY, Oct. 21st, 1859.

The House met pursuant to adjournment, and attended Divine Service in St. Paul's Church, with the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

Present as yesterday, with the exception of Bishops Upfold, Green, and Williams.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Committee on the General Theological Seminary submitted the following Report:

The Committee on the General Theological Seminary, beg leave to report, that the only matter committed to them is a Report of a Committee of the Trustees of the General Theological Seminary, presenting reasons for the adoption of a resolution which that Committee recommended for the approval of the Board of Trustees, which resolution, unanimously adopted, is to the effect that the Board of Trustees cannot, on either legal or moral grounds, concur in the changes in the 3d and 4th Articles of the Constitution of the Seminary, as proposed by the General Convention of 1856.

Your Committee, in returning the said report and accompanying resolution to the custody of the House, have no further action to propose.

H. POTTER,
THOMAS ATKINSON.

Bishop Hopkins, from the Committee on the Relations of this Church with the Church of England, submitted the following Report; which, on motion, was adopted, and ordered to be printed in the Journal. (See p. 151.)

The Committee to which was referred the subject of the relations of this Church, with the Church of England, respectfully report as follows:

That there is a matter of considerable moment, in which the relations of the two Churches demands a more satisfactory adjustment, in accordance with the primitive and indisputable practice of ecclesiastical comity.

The subject involves the mode of introduction of Clergymen of the Church of England to our Bishops, when they seek to be associated with Parishes within their jurisdiction, and in case they desire to return, the mode in which they should be received. According to our rule, every Clergyman desiring to leave the jurisdiction of one Bishop for that of another, is bound to obtain a Letter Dismissory, in regular form. Such we presume to be the invariable practice of the Church of England, from which we derived it, in accordance with the fixed rule of the Catholic Church, in all ages. The Bishops of that venerated Church, however, have not yet extended this wholesome rule to their Brethren in the United States, although your Committee would fain hope that there can be no serious difficulty with regard to it, when the subject is fairly placed before them. It is our desire to give the freest access to our Parishes whenever a Presbyter of the Church of England wishes to cast in his lot amongst us. But we respectfully maintain the high expediency of requiring the proper ecclesiastical proof of his worthiness, not only when he is admitted to our jurisdiction, but also when he leaves it again for that of our mother Church, fully believing that no Clergyman ought to pass from Diocese to Diocese, without the formal approval, as well of the Bishop that dismisses him, as of the Bishop by whom he is received. In no other way that we can conceive, could both the Churches be guarded so well from imposition or mistake in this important matter, or be able properly to sustain their reciprocal discipline.

In view of these considerations, your Committee recommend the adoption of the following resolution.

Resolved, That the Senior Bishop be requested to address the Most Reverend, the Archbishops, and the Right Rev. the Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, on the foregoing topics, expressing the respectful and affectionate wish of this House, that they may be led, in their wisdom and discretion, to adopt such measures on this subject as shall be in harmony with true Catholic principle, and draw our respective Churches more closely together in the bonds of primitive Christian fraternity.

JOHN H. HOPKINS, Chairman.

B. B. SMITH.

CHAS. P. McILVAINE.

Bishop Bedell submitted the following Report, which, on motion of Bishop Cobbs, was accepted.

The Committee appointed to prepare or to adopt a Book of Psalm and Hymn tunes, chants and anthems, and for other purposes, beg leave respectfully to report :

That they entered immediately on their work ; that for nearly two years they devoted to it an amount of time, which, could they have foreseen, they might have hesitated to accept their commission ; that they have directed to be laid on the desk of each Bishop a copy of the proposed book for their examination, and that if desired, they are ready to take such further action as the Bishops indicate.

Since the book was published the Committee have discovered imperfections, which, in the excitement of preparing it, naturally escaped their notice. A careful review, with such assistance as the opinions and experience of the Bishops might afford, and with such other aid as their wisdom may provide, would enable the Committee, at some future time, to propose to the Church a book still more generally acceptable.

Nearly seven thousand copies of this proposed book have been issued, and such favorable assurances have been received from many quarters, from Clergymen who have adopted it in their Churches, and from Laymen who have made it a household book, that the Committee are encouraged to believe, that after revision, it may become generally a companion of the Prayer Book among such as desire to further congregational singing.

The Committee have kept this object of encouraging congregational singing steadily before them, and they will only ask your venerable House to take such further action in the premises as may seem best calculated to accomplish this end.

In conclusion, your Committee adopt as part of their Report the Preface which they were instructed to prepare, in the words following, to wit:

Recollecting the various and conflicting tastes by which we shall be judged, we trust, that without attempting the impossibility of pleasing all, we have grievously offended none. Those who prefer the solid old psalmody will find much of that character; another proportion is of a school more modern, but free from the present modern levity; while those who delight in flowing tuneful melodies will admit that they have not been stinted. These different preferences must be indulged, as long as we have psalms and hymns to which they correspond. Strains of solemn praise and adoration have their utterance in the stately chorals, while the devotion of subjective religion wants the "feeling" tune akin to the sentiment expressed. Providing for all the kinds of sacred song which have their place in our worship, we have allowed ourselves a commensurate range in the character of the tunes. Extracts from secular composers, commonly found in publications like the present, we have eschewed. Original contributions have not been wholly rejected. Here and there a tune has been admitted, only because, in some quarters, it is an old favorite; but our staple is that which has been long and deservedly loved in the "assemblies of the saints."

There are many admirable tunes extant which would have been a valuable addition to our collection, but they are not adapted to our metres. This is a loss; an adequate Tune Book for the Church requires an adequate Hymn Book. In those European countries in which congregational singing most prevails, there is no end to their devotional songs, in every variety of metre with appropriate melody.

Great pains have been taken in the assortment of words and music in harmonious connection. The replies to our circular asking for aid in such arrangement presented so little agreement, that, with a few exceptions, we were left wholly to our own choice. Most of the adaptations we venture to commend, those particularly which are designated by an asterisk. With the others we did the best in our power with the materials at command. Reviewing this part of our work, we believe it will largely contribute to that permanent association of the same psalms and hymns, with the same tunes, which animates devotion, facilitates singing, and cherishes the feeling of unity among the members of the same body. The songs of Zion thus used affect the soul like old household or national airs.

In selecting the chants we have avoided the extremes of both the "plain song" and the florid, taking the best varieties of the English chant as that which has grown up with our English Psalter, to which the experience of centuries has proved it a suitable accompaniment. In those few of the chants in which the reciting note is too high, and which were admitted because of their merit in other respects, or because they would be generally looked for in our pages, the fault may be partially remedied by transposition to a lower key; but as it is a serious fault, we recommend the use of chants in which it does not occur. Occasionally also a psalm or hymn tune may be found set too high. But this, a sensible organist will know how to regulate, according to the capacity of the congregation.

We hoped to enrich our book with a Te Deum, above the style of a chant, and yet an anthem so simple and accordant with the words as to obtain universal acceptance, desiring that in the grandest of our prose canticles we might every where sing with the same voice as, in our metre psalmody, we do in Old Hundred. After adopting the likeliest means to secure the object, we have been disappointed; but as the results of our effort were too good to be lost, they have been committed to another publication.

The Canticles from the Psalms and other places of Holy Scripture, part of them making a series for the ecclesiastical seasons, we present as a new and we hope an acceptable portion of our work. These may serve as easy congregational anthems, and supply a want much felt in "Third services" on Sundays, and on many other occasions.

In behalf of the Committee.

G. T. BEDELL.

Bishop Cobbs offered the following resolutions, which, on motion, were adopted.

Resolved, That this House duly appreciates the zeal and ability with which the Committee have discharged the laborious duty entrusted to them.

Resolved, That the subject of the Tune Book be referred to the same Committee for revision, as suggested by the Committee, and that the Committee be requested to report to the next General Convention.

On motion of Bishop Bedell, the following resolution was adopted.

Resolved, That the Rectors of Parishes are hereby requested to communicate with this Committee, and afford them the benefit of judicious criticisms upon the Tune Book.

Bishop Whipple asked leave of absence for the remainder of the present session.

On motion, leave was granted.

Bishop Alfred Lee moved to take up Message No. 24, from the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, immediately after recess. Adopted.

MESSAGE No. 26.

The House of Clerical and Lay Deputies informs the House of Bishops that it has passed the following resolution:

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that the following Canon be passed as a substitute for Canon IX. of 1853.

Substitute for Title I., Canon XII., Section 7 of the Digest.

Officiating of Ministers within the Cures of others.

(1.) No Minister belonging to this Church shall officiate either by preaching, reading prayers, or otherwise, in the Parish or within the Parochial Cure of another Clergyman, unless he has received express permission for that purpose from the Minister of the Parish, or Cure, or, in his absence, from the Churchwardens and Vestrymen, or Trustees of the Congregation, or a majority thereof.

(2.) The ascertainment and defining of the boundaries of existing Parishes, or Parochial Cures, as well as the establishment of a new Church or Congregation, and forming a new Parish, is left to the action of the several Diocesan Conventions for the Dioceses, respectively. Until a Canon, or other regulation of a Diocesan Convention shall have been adopted, the formation of new Parishes, or establishment of new Churches or Congregations, shall be vested in the Bishop of the Diocese acting by and with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee thereof; and in case of there being no Bishop in the Ecclesiastical authority.

(3.) Where Parish boundaries are not defined by law or otherwise, they shall, for the purposes of this section, be settled and defined by the civil divisions of the State, as follows:

(4.) Parochial boundaries shall be the limits, as now fixed by law, of any village, town, township, incorporated borough, city, or the limits of some division of a city or town, which may have been recognized by the Bishop, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee, as constituting the boundaries of a Parish or Parochial Cure.

(5.) If there be but one Church or Congregation within the limits of such village, town, township, borough, city, or such division of a city or town as herein provided, the same shall be deemed the Parochial Cure of the Minister having charge thereof. If there are two or more Congregations or Churches therein, it shall be deemed the Cure of the Ministers thereof; and the assent of a majority of such Ministers shall be necessary.

(6.) When under Diocesan authority a new Parish is constituted, and its boundaries defined, this section shall be applicable to the same as established.

(7.) If any Minister of the Church, from inability or any other cause, neglect to perform the regular services to his Congregation, and refuse, without good cause, his consent to any other Minister of the Church to officiate within his Cure, the Church Wardens, Vestrymen, or Trustees of such Congregation shall, on proof of such neglect or refusal before the Bishop of the Diocese, or, if there be no Bishop, before the Standing Committee, or before such persons as may be deputed by him or them, or before such persons as may be, by the regulations of this Church in any Diocese, vested with the power of hearing and deciding on complaints against Clergymen, have power, with the written consent of the before-mentioned authority, to open the doors of their Church to any regular Minister of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Resolved, That it be recommended to all Clergymen, in charge of Parishes, to bring their flocks as near as practicable to compliance with the spirit of the Apostolic direction to the Church of Corinth—“Upon the first day of the week; let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him.” And that to this end, the Clergy bring the subject especially to the attention of the people, some time during the Advent season of each year.

Resolved, That the above resolutions be sent to the House of Bishops for their concurrence.

The Joint Committee on Canons respectfully report, that it has taken the subject of the provision of a mode of electing a Bishop for a Missionary jurisdiction vacant during recess of General Convention into consideration, and deems it expedient to make such provision, by the Amendment of Clause 3d of Section VII., and the addition of a new Clause in Section VIII. of Canon XIII., of Title I., in the Digest; and that it accordingly recommends the adoption of the resolutions appended to this Report.

WILLIAM ROLLINSON WHITTINGHAM,

Chairman pro. tem. of the Committee of the House of Bishops.

3. The Secretary of the Board of Missions, so notified, shall address a notice to each member of the said Board, that at the next Annual Meeting, if such meeting be not to take place within three months; but if the next Annual Meeting be within three months, then at the next Annual Meeting thereafter, an election of a suitable person to fill the vacant Episcopate will take place: Provided, that if the next Annual Meeting, not within three months, should fall within six months before a Meeting of the General Convention, then no such notice shall be issued.

(1.) It shall be lawful for persons belonging to this Church, but resident in any Foreign Country (other than Great Britain and Ireland, and the Colonies and Dependencies thereof,) not within the limits of any Foreign Missionary Bishop of this Church, to organize as a Church or Congregation.

(2.) Such Church or Congregation shall be required, in its Constitution, or Plan, or Articles of Organization, to recognize and accede to, the Constitution, Canons, Doctrine, Discipline, and Worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, in order to its being received under the direction of the General Convention of this Church.

By order of the Committee,

J. WILLIAMS,

Chairman pro. tem. of the Com. of the House of Bishops.

W. M. COOPER MEAD,

Chairman of the Committee of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

Bishop McIlvaine presented the following Resolutions relative to Church Music, which, on motion, were adopted.

Resolved, That in the opinion of the House of Bishops, there is very much in the prevailing manner of conducting those parts of our public worship which require the aid of sacred music, to which the serious attention of the Clergy and their Congregations should be directed—as, not only not promotive of a devout spirit, but very injurious thereto; as directly calculated to nurture a lifeless formality, by making the Congregation mere passive listeners to musical sounds, confined to choirs, in the formation of which there is often little reference to fitness of personal character; as virtually depriving the Congregation of their proper privilege of uniting with their voices in the worship of the Church when its words are sung as well as when only read; as impairing the beautiful simplicity of our public worship, and thus rendering it, in the parts referred to, unadapted to the greater number of our people, and so taking therefrom one of its chief excellencies, as being Common Prayer, accommodated to all conditions of worshipping Christian people; as causing, moreover, a needless delay and interruption of our Morning and Evening Prayer, by the introduction of music, especially such as is merely instrumental, which unprofitably and needlessly abridges the time allotted to the preaching of the Word, and, by fatiguing the hearers, both in body and mind, interferes with their ability rightly to receive the same; and lastly, as creating in all these particulars, an influence which, in our opinion, is decidedly counteractive of the proper work of God's Church, as his appointed instrument of cherishing and promoting his worship in spirit and in truth.

Resolved, That, in the opinion of the House of Bishops, the evils referred to proceed chiefly from the following causes, namely: First, from an oversight of the principle that the object of Church music is not the gratification of a cultivated musical taste, but by the aid of simple and appropriate music, to cultivate devout affections among all classes of worshipping people, and to enable them to commune with one another in the united and animated expression of the same.

Secondly, from the selection by organists and choirs of such tunes and chants as, on account of their not being sufficiently familiar to the Congregation, or from their want of due simplicity, the Congregation cannot be expected to unite in singing.

Thirdly, from the use of musical compositions, especially such as are called chants, which require too much time in the performance, and also from the introduction of voluntaries on the organ, before the chants, and between the verses of psalms and hymns, which, having no value, but as exhibitions of instrumental music, are wearying to the Congregation.

Lastly, from the extent to which the control of this part of the worship of the Church is virtually taken out of the hands of the Rectors of Parishes, where alone the Church law has placed it, and is exercised by Committees and Vestries, and chiefly by organists and choirs.

Resolved, That in the opinion of the House of Bishops there can be no material improvement of our public worship in the particulars mentioned, except as each Parish Minister shall faithfully perform the duty assigned him by the Law of this Church, which, in the words of the Rubric, is, that "with such assistance as he can obtain from persons skilled in music, he shall give order concerning the tunes to be sung at any time in his Church, and especially shall suppress all light and unseemly music, and all indecency and irreverence in the performance."

Resolved, That it be recommended to all the Pastors of our Churches, that they endeavor by all suitable measures to promote a general participation of their people, by voice, in those parts of our worship which are sung, as well in those which are not.

Resolved, That in the opinion of the House of Bishops, it is particularly incumbent on the Rectors in our larger and older cities, to see that the music of their Churches be so conducted as to afford a wholesome example to those in our humbler and younger Congregations, who naturally look to such sources for guidance in matters of external order and expediency.

Bishop Kemper, from the Committee appointed to inform Dr. Lay of his election as Missionary Bishop of the South West, read a letter from Dr. Lay, declaring his acceptance of the Bishopric.

The Order of the Day was called up, being the election of a Presbyter to be nominated to the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, for election as Missionary Bishop for the North West.

The House then proceeded to ballot; whereupon, it was found that the Rev. Joseph C. Talbot, D.D., Rector of Christ Church, Indianapolis, was elected to be nominated to the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, as Missionary Bishop for the North West.

On motion,

Resolved, That the Secretary do inform the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, that this House nominates to the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies the Rev. Joseph C. Talbot, D.D., Rector of Christ Church, Indianapolis, as Missionary Bishop for the North West.

On motion, the House adjourned.

SIXTEENTH DAY'S SESSION.

SATURDAY, October 22d, 1859.

The House met pursuant to adjournment, and attended Divine Service in St. Paul's Church, with the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

Present as yesterday, with the exception of Bishop Whipple.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Bishop Whittingham, from the Joint Committee on Canons, submitted the following Report, which, on motion of Bishop Elliott, was adopted.

The Joint Committee on Canons, to which was referred, on the Thirteenth day's Session, certain alterations and additions, proposed by Bishop Upfold, in Title I., Canon V., Section 2; Title I., Canon VII.; Title III., Canon II., Section 1; and Title I., Canon XIII., Section 13, respectfully report, that it is inexpedient to act on the same at this period of the Session.

The third resolution, reported on the Tenth day by the Joint Committee on Canons, being called up by Bishop Whittingham, was, on his motion, laid on the table for the present. (See p. 222.)

Bishop De Lancey, from the Committee on Consecrations, submitted the following Report:

The Committee on Consecrations respectfully report:

Resolved, That the House of Bishops do consent to the Consecration of the Rev. Henry Champlin Lay, D.D., Presbyter, as Missionary Bishop of the South West, and request the Bishop of Virginia, Presiding in this House, to take the necessary measures for such Consecration.

Respectfully submitted,

That they have had the subject committed to them under consideration. They find themselves, through want of time, unable to mature and recommend the Forms called for, during the present Session of this body. They propose, however, if authorized by the House, during the recess of the Convention, to prepare, and cause to be printed, the various Forms required—to send specimens of the same to the several Bishops, informing them where, and on what terms, said Forms may be had.

N. H. COBBS, Chairman.

Bishop Hopkins called up Message No. 30, from the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, and moved the adoption of the Canon on Parishes or Congregations in Foreign countries.

Bishop Bedell moved that this House do non-concur, for the following reasons, which were submitted by Bishop Burgess:

Because, the Canon requires for the establishment of a Congregation of this Church in a Foreign country, that it be authorized by, or not inconsistent with the laws of the government of such country; and

Because, there is not time to consider other Amendments proposed by several members of the House of Bishops, the subject must therefore be postponed until the next General Convention.

Adopted.

On motion of Bishop Cobbs,

Resolved, That the several Rectors be requested to read to their Congregations the resolutions offered by Bishop McIlvaine, in reference to Church music.

The House took a recess.

On motion of Bishop Polk,

Resolved, That the Presiding Bishop be requested, immediately after the reading of the Resolution of this House, dispensing with a Pastoral Letter, to address to the Convention a few words of Pastoral advice and parting counsel.

By order of the Committee,

Chairman of Com. of House of Cler. and Lay Deputies.

The Rev. Dr. Mead and the Hon. E. F. Chambers, as a Committee on the part of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, appeared and announced to this House, that the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies had finished its business, and was prepared to receive the House of Bishops, and to hear the Pastoral Letter.

On motion,

The Committee submitted the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted :

Resolved, That this House will not separate without expressing, in terms of more than ordinary warmth, their grateful sense of the careful and judicious arrangements adopted by the Bishop and Assistant Bishop of the Diocese of Virginia, and the Rector and Officers of St. Paul's Church, Richmond, for the accommodation, comfort, and enjoyment of the members of the Convention, and of the exceedingly cordial, generous, and considerate hospitality of the citizens of Richmond; and they desire in particular to commend the constant attendance and devout and cheering union of so many worshippers on all the occasions of public religious services which have been connected with the meeting of the Convention.

PRAYER.

ALMIGHTY GOD, our Heavenly Father, who of Thine infinite love hast given Thine only Son Jesus Christ to die on the Cross for the redemption of the world, we pray Thee to send forth more laborers into Thy Harvest. Stir up many faithful men to seek the Office and Ministry appointed for the salvation of mankind. Sanctify their hearts; enlighten their minds; guide and prosper them in their studies; train them in Thy heavenly nurture, and give them the abundance of Thy grace, that they may become able Ministers of Christ.

Grant us Thy favor and blessing in working together for the increase of the Ministry of Thy Holy Church, and bring our labors to good effect. Breathe into our hearts a love of this sacred cause. Bless all who aid us by their prayers and offerings, and grant that both we and they may strive with one mind for Thy glory and the salvation of men, that so the bounds of Thy blessed Kingdom may be enlarged to the breaking down of the kingdom of Sin, Satan, and Death; till at length the whole of Thy dispersed sheep being gathered into One Fold, shall become partakers of everlasting life by the merits and death of Jesus Christ our Saviour. AMEN.

Bishop De Lancey offered the following resolution:

The Bishops of this Church shall hold the office of Presiding Bishop in succession, and for three years, commencing with the time of the adjournment of each General Convention.

Prayers were offered by Bishop McIlvaine. Bishop Burgess read the resolution adopted by the House, expressing their thanks to the Bishops of Virginia, and the Rector and Officers of St. Paul's Church. Bishop Meade then made an address.

The two Houses united in singing the Gloria in excelsis, and the services were concluded with the Benediction, pronounced by the Presiding Bishop.

The Bishops then returned to their own room, when the minutes of the day were read and approved, and, on motion, the House adjourned without day.

Appendix A.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE CHURCH.

THE Committee report to the Convention the following results of their investigations into the Statistics furnished by the reports from the several Dioceses, comparing them with those presented to the last General Convention.

The Candidates for Orders were then 243, now 291.

The Ordinations of Deacons were then 254, now 301.

The Ordinations of Priests were then 227, now 238.

The Confirmations then reported were 30,644, now 43,401.

The Communicants then reported were 119,540, now 139,611.

The Baptisms then reported were 70,527, now 89,044.

The Churches then consecrated were 155, at this time 198.

The whole number of Parishes was 1825, now 2120.

The partial Report and accompanying Resolutions already submitted by the Committee and received by this House, will make it less needful that further suggestions should be now presented. With reference to the Statistics above given, your Committee must acknowledge their incompleteness; while other particulars, not here specified, but of equal interest, are confessedly needed to make this at all worthy of its intention as a view of the State of the Church. But it has been impossible to make a full compilation and comparison of these facts, because so many reports are deficient in items essential to this summary; and others have come in only on the 14th day of the Session, when they should have been ready at its opening.

Your Committee cannot fail to call the attention of this House to the mournful deficiency in the number of Candidates for Holy Orders, when compared with the pressing necessities of the Church in this respect. If the average term of candidateship is two years, we have an accession of only one hundred and fifty per annum to the ranks of the Ministry of our Church; and in fact, during the last three years, the accessions have not reached one hundred per annum. Meanwhile death is thinning these ranks, and disease and advancing age are, year by year, withdrawing from active labor many who survive. In this connection we notice, too, that though many Parishes are vacant, and many Clergymen are ministering to two, three, or more Parishes, yet the whole number of Clergymen in some of the Dioceses far exceeds that of the Parishes in those Dioceses. It is true that a few Parishes claim the services of more than one clergyman; but it is equally true that the number of those upon whom the solemn vows of Ordination rest, who yet are unoccupied in Parochial work, is alarmingly great. The Church has need to pray as much as ever, that the Lord of the Harvest would send forth laborers into his harvest.

With this prayer, which we doubt not is fervently offered, the Church, it will be seen from these Reports, is putting forth new efforts to this end. Societies have been formed, and contributions have, in various methods, been largely obtained, to call forth and to aid young men in preparing for this sacred work. Facts abundantly prove that such efforts are necessary; and there are many encouraging tokens that the next six years—perhaps the next three years—will show a marked advance in this particular.

We leave this topic with a single question. It has been mentioned that during the past three years, forty-three thousand persons have ratified their Baptismal vows in Confirmation. How many of these might be reasonably expected to respond to the call for laborers in the ministry, “Here am I Lord, send me?”

The number of adult Baptisms is so much greater than in former years, as to be worthy of especial notice. While every Pastor must count it one of his most delightful duties to receive, in the name of Christ, the little ones whom parental faith and piety may present to Him in this Holy Sacrament, it is surely a cause for rejoicing that so many come in adult years to seek admission to His visible Church through this appointed door of entrance. Faithful, valiant soldiers of Christ, are surely needed in the Church, to do battle against the world, the flesh, the devil. Supposing those baptized as adults to have been amongst the number confirmed during these three years, they will be seen to have amounted to about one-third of that number. Though in one aspect so pleasing, this is, in another view, a sad testimony to the neglect of Infant Baptism so frequent in this Christian land.

This House has seen and known, during this session, many gratifying demonstrations of the progress of the Church in other particulars. The two new Dioceses, Kansas and Minnesota, both formed in regions which, a few years ago, were the abode of the Savage, are forerunners, we doubt not, of many other like accessions from the country lying between the Great River of the West and the slopes of the Rocky Mountains.

The Consecrations of the Bishops of Texas, New Jersey, and Minnesota, and the Assistant Bishop of Ohio, made the 13th inst. a memorable day in the History of the Church; and the deep feeling then called forth was still further deepened by the delightful spirit of unanimity in both Houses that characterized the steps pertaining to the election of those two beloved brethren, the Rev. Dr. Clark and the Rev. Dr. Lay, to the arduous and responsible office of Missionary Bishops in the ecclesiastically unorganized territories of the far West.

No words of the Committee are called for to deepen the convictions of those who have composed this Convention, that the Church has, in these solemnities and these enterprises, set up way-marks of progress that shall be looked back upon with affectionate interest by generations to come.

But your Committee is constrained to close this Report, referring the House of Deputies and the House of Bishops, with the whole Church, to the Reports from the several Dioceses, and the accompanying Tables, as they shall appear in the Journal. The work before the Church, the work at home, and the work abroad, grows in importance and in promise, year by year. With forty Bishops, with more than two thousand Clergymen, with one hundred and forty thousand Communicants, the Protestant Episcopal Church of these United States ought, under God, to be aiming at and achieving great things. What is most of all desirable is a still larger measure of true piety in the Church; a piety formed by an abundant effusion of the Holy Ghost; a piety showing itself in deeds as well as by words; giving life and energy to the hallowed, and venerable, and precious forms which have been her heritage from the days of old; a piety which shall make those who have looked upon her with doubt and suspicion and distrust, acknowledge her as the very Spouse of Christ, the Temple of the Holy Ghost; a piety which shall adorn the homes of our people as well as their sanctuaries; which shall write "Holiness unto the Lord" on their substance and on their persons; which shall clothe them, in the sight of God and of men, with all the graces and fruits of the Spirit. Every member, as well as every Minister of the Church, should recognize his own personal obligation to do all in his power for the Master and Saviour whom he therein serves. So only can the State of the Church be such as that Master and Saviour, in His omniscience, will approve and will delight to own and to bless.

The Committee propose the adoption of the customary resolution:

Resolved:—That the view of the Church herewith presented be transmitted to the House of Bishops, soliciting their prayers and blessings, and requesting that they will draw up and cause to be published a Pastoral letter to the Members of the Church.

In behalf of the Committee,

R. B. CLAXTON,	M. A. DE WOLFE HOWE,
Secretary.	Chairman.

MAINE.

There are canonically resident in the Diocese of Maine eighteen clergymen; namely, one Bishop, sixteen Presbyters, and one Deacon.

Since the last General Convention, five have been ordained Presbyters, and three have been admitted to the order of Deacons.

Four have been enrolled as Candidates for orders, and the present number of Candidates is three.

Three new Parishes have been organized, and the present number is eighteen, one of which is not yet in union with the Diocesan Convention.

Three churches have been consecrated, St. Steven's Church in Portland, St. Philip's Church in Wiscasset, and Christ Church in Eastport.

The Parochial Statistics show that seven hundred and sixty-nine infants, and two hundred and seventy-three adults, in all one thousand and forty-two, have been baptized; five hundred and fifty-five persons have been confirmed; that seven hundred and forty-two have been added to the body of communicants, making the present number fourteen hundred and forty-two; that the marriages solemnized have been one hundred and eighty; that there have been four hundred and twelve burials; that there are one hundred and ninety-two Sunday-School Teachers, and thirteen hundred and eight scholars.

The Clergy of the Diocese are thoroughly united and earnest in their work in this part of the field. The need of considerable addition to their number is pressing.

Four Parishes are now vacant, and promising stations wait the appointment and labor of Missionaries.

Under the blessing of our Lord, unusually large numbers have been added to the participants in the communion, amounting to more than three-fourths of as many as all reported in 1856.

The liberal offerings of the Parishes to the treasury of Diocesan Missions, and the prudence and zeal of the Bishop and of the Board, having Missions in charge, are means which God has blessed to the increase and prosperity of the Church in the Diocese.

A small sum of money, the legacy of a lady from without the Diocese, placed at the disposal of the Bishop, has enabled him to commence a building-fund, already of profit in the erection of new churches.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Within the period since the meeting of the last General Convention, a new impulse has been given to the Missionary work in the Diocese of New Hampshire. The results which have already been attained may not seem large in themselves; but they are so, as indications of the awakening of dormant zeal, and the sure harbingers of better things to come. They are most important also in their influence upon the courage and hope of the Church, inspiring us with the conviction that, with well-directed effort, far more can be accomplished to build up our beloved Church in fields which have hitherto been abandoned to the undisturbed possession of “false doctrine, heresy, and schism.” Soon after the meeting of the last General Convention, services were commenced by the direction of our Diocesan Missionary Board, at Nashua, a city of about eight thousand inhabitants. In consequence of the failure of a previous attempt, feeble hopes of success were entertained. Yet God smiled upon the effort. A good congregation was soon gathered, and a Missionary secured, and by the liberality of one of our clergy, joined to the exertions of the people of the parish, the means were provided for his support. All the enterprise needs now, to give it permanence and stability, is a church building, and this, it is hoped, will ere long be secured. A parish has also been organized and admitted into union with the Convention, in the village of Keene. It has called a Rector, and is already self-supporting. Initiatory services have been held in several other places, with good prospect of success. Two of the parishes, viz.: St. Paul’s, Concord, and St. Mark’s, Holderness, are engaged in building churches. A chapel has been erected by the founder of St. Paul’s School, Concord, which was consecrated in January last; and where, not merely the spiritual nature of the school is provided for, but efficient Missionary work is done among the destitute population of the neighborhood.

These are signs of life for which we desire to be thankful to the Great Head of the Church. We have no disposition to glory in the past. We have too deep a sense of our shortcomings. But we believe there is a spirit aroused to make greater efforts, which, if God be with us, augurs well for the future prosperity of the Church.

ISAAC G. HUBBARD.

VERMONT.

By referring to the statement of statistics, herewith presented, it will be seen that the Church in this Diocese is steadily advancing. The increased number of communicants and attendants upon our services, where regularly maintained, presents grounds of great encouragement.

The size and position of our Diocese will not warrant the same results of labor as are found in some other portions of the country.

Without any very large and populous towns, and being entirely inland, we are to look for the growth of the Church among an almost entirely agricultural people.

In such a community it cannot be expected that our progress will be as rapid as in Dioceses embracing places of more concentrated population. Yet it will be seen by the annexed tabular view, that, while there is still much land to be possessed, we have not been inactive or stationary. The growth of the Church in the Diocese of Vermont is very apparent and encouraging.

The number of Confirmations during the past year exceeds that of any former year. The people of the Diocese, though not yet generally acquainted with the distinctive peculiarities of the Church, are ready to hear and examine with favor, when these principles are brought to their consideration.

This spirit of inquiry is leading to very favorable results.

The Vermont Episcopal Institute, from which we hope for much good to the Diocese, has not yet gone into operation. The buildings are nearly completed, and though without endowment, except in one professorship of ten thousand dollars it has no debt. It is expected to be ready for occupancy by Easter next. The liberality of friends at home and abroad toward this object, has been truly generous.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The statistics of this Diocese since the last General Convention present, for the most part, a very cheering picture.

The Church in Massachusetts has outlived at length much of early prejudice, and, by her stability amid the changes going on around her, as the conservator of Truth and the nursery of Piety has commended herself to general favor. The accessions to her fold from other Christian bodies increase year by year. The flow to her Communion has never been rapid; but as the strong bonds are loosening of denominational existence on the part of the once dominant and influential sect, numbers of its thoughtful members find their home with us.

The acknowledged excellence of the numerous agencies in Massachusetts for the relief of want, which have become endeared to the people by their long continuance and useful service, has barred the way to the establishment, by our Church, of many similar institutions under her peculiar care. But while, in the direction of these general charities, the Churchmen of the Diocese are not without their influence, they have begun in some places to lay the foundations of their own proper work.

Among the organizations for Christian benevolence may be named the excellent "Church Home for Orphans," which went into operation toward the close of the year 1855; "St. Stephen's House," first opened in Boston in 1847, which, under the charge of its faithful and unwearied almoner, daily dispenses its bounty to the suffering poor: while St. Stephen's Chapel—the pious erection of one of Massachusetts' noblest sons—as constantly calls, without money or price, to the Gospel feast for the soul. The Societies for the "Relief of the Aged and Indigent Clergy," and for the "Relief of the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen," should be added to this list, not to enumerate others of a much humbler range.

In 1856 the "Margaret Coffin Prayer Book Society," so called from the lady whose name it bears, was organized in Boston. The occasion of its formation was a wish expressed by the late Miss Coffin, who had been active during life in the gratuitous distribution of copies of the Liturgy; and who left, in the form of a private memorandum, among her private papers, a request that the remainder of her Prayer Books on hand might be dispensed by her friends, to whose discretion she deferred to collect further funds, and to form, on the basis of a small bequest for the purpose, a Prayer Book Society. The carrying out of this suggestion, independently of any considerable endowment, has resulted in the establishment of a most useful agency.

At the last Convention of the Diocese, its Board of Missions was reconstructed upon the following plan. The three Missionary Districts into which the Diocese is divided were empowered to elect three representatives each, who, together with the Bishop and a body of laymen, should have the charge of Diocesan Missions. Each Parish contributing fifty dollars and more, is entitled to a lay representative in the Board. The experiment as yet is hardly under way, but it is hoped that new vigor and life will be imparted by uniting the central organ with the District Associations, which have proved, under God, most effective instruments in extending our Church's borders.

It only remains to be added, that five of the Clergy of the Diocese have been withdrawn by death from their earthly toil; among whom the venerable and beloved Dr. Asa Eaton is also numbered. The fathers in the Ministry, who have linked us to the distant past, are rapidly entering into their rest, and their works do follow them.

RHODE ISLAND.

The Tabular Digest accompanying this Report, and intended to be a part of it, will give a sufficient account of the Statistics of this Diocese for the last three years. As an introduction to this, a few additional remarks and facts will comprise all that may be presumed to be of interest to the Church at large.

In a part of our country where the population increases but little, owing to the drain of constant and frequent emigration, the growth of the Church in this Diocese must of necessity be slower than in those new Dioceses which are rapidly filling up by immigration. Still we are permitted to witness, from year to year, tokens of increasing life and healthful growth. The Missionary efforts within the Diocese, under the direction of our Convocation, have been continued with their accustomed zeal and good effect.

In his address to our last Convention, the Bishop thus speaks:

“In the general review of our Diocese, it would appear that we are making quiet and steady advance. Unbroken harmony continues to prevail throughout our borders. The unity of the Spirit is kept in the bond of peace. There is among us no disposition to narrow the comprehensive limits so wisely established in our Communion, and no tendency to get beyond those limits, on the right hand or on the left.”

The amount given for Missionary and charitable purposes is very imperfectly stated in the Tabular Digest; very much is so given among us, which never passes through any of our Diocesan channels. As an instance, one of our Churches, it is believed, now supports three Missionaries—one Domestic, and two Foreign. In the address already referred to, our Bishop says: "I am happy to state that, in the city of Providence, more than fifty thousand dollars have recently been raised for Church objects; and we hope, in the course of another year, that a free Church will be erected in the north part of the city, a new Church for the Parish of St. Stephen, and Grace Church be completed according to the original plan."

Reference is here made to these signs of vitality, health, and growth, only to ascribe all the glory to God; while we confess that we have done less than was our duty, and that we need greater measures of the Holy Spirit, that the work of Christ and his Church may be still more effectually done in all parts of our Diocese.

CONNECTICUT.

A comparison of the Statistics of this year with those presented to the General Convention three years ago, gives proof of such a measure of progress as, in view of the limited territory of the Diocese and the almost stationary character of its population, may justly be regarded as decidedly creditable and encouraging. It is specially gratifying to notice that the increase is most conspicuous in the number of those confirmed and admitted to Communion, and in the amount of pecuniary contributions, as they are most indicative of the blessed work of the Spirit in making men new creatures, and inducing them to consecrate their gain to the Lord. This good work has never gone on more prosperously, under the quiet, patient labors of an earnest and faithful Ministry, than during the three years last past. That period of time has furnished almost no events of moment, few contributions to the outward history of the Diocese; but no other has been more distinctly marked with tokens of prosperity and healthful growth. Perhaps the most promising signs, in addition to those already mentioned, are an increased supply of Ministers and greater stability of the pastoral relation. Scarcely a Parish in its borders is destitute of a Minister; and the relation of pastor and people seems to be becoming more sacred in the eyes of both parties, and less liable to be dissolved for trifling causes.

With a wise and efficient oversight, an intelligent and industrious Ministry, and great harmony of feeling and action, the Diocese of Connecticut has much reason to view the past with gratitude, the present with satisfaction, and the future with hope.

NEW YORK.

By the mercy of God the Church has been prosperous in this Diocese within the last three years. The rite of Confirmation has been administered by the Provisional Bishop on nearly five hundred occasions since the last General Convention. Through the Divine blessing upon the energy and zeal of the Clergy, there have been presented for Confirmation, as will appear from the Statistics below, nearly three thousand persons more than were reported for the same time to the last General Convention. By the enlargement of some Churches, and the erection of others, accommodation for worshippers has been considerably extended in many places; and in our large cities, especially in New York, particular regard has, by the supply of Mission Chapels and otherwise, been bestowed upon the poor. Institutions of various kinds, established for their relief, have been opened and sustained with prospect of permanent and increasing good.

St. Luke's Hospital, of which the foundation was reported three years ago, and of which the cost of building and furniture, exclusive of land, has been about two hundred and ten thousand dollars, entered soon after on its active career with immediate prosperity. It has now forty-five charity beds, and about sixty patients, of all religious classes who will receive its pastoral care. With the Rev. Dr. Muhlenberg as its Resident Pastor, the daily reading of the Scriptures and prayers in its Wards, its Chapel communicating with them, and service on the Lord's Day, it is a Christian Hospital, and, as such, commands the confidence of all Churchmen among us.

By the munificence of John Bard, Esq., a Training School, preparatory of candidates for the General Theological Seminary, has been lately established at Anandale, in Dutchess County. For this important purpose, land and buildings, to the value of at least sixty thousand dollars, have been transferred by the liberal donor to a Board of Trustees, as the rightful property of the Diocese. The Training School is already begun under the care of a Presbyterian of the Diocese.

Trinity School, New York, now in the one hundred and fiftieth year of its existence, affords the highest grade of thorough Christian education to the most needy applicants, as well as to others; and, with its gifts of books and stipends to its beneficiaries, is continuing to do a good and lasting work among the young.

The Orphans' Home in New York, sustained as yet by annual charities, is filled with inmates to its utmost capacity.

In the city of Brooklyn, the Church Charity Foundation, composed of the Communicants and the Parochial Clergy of King's County, in order to provide at once a proper home for the Aged and for the Orphan, has begun a spacious Gothic edifice with its Chapel, at a cost of twelve thousand dollars for the ground, and to expend fourteen thousand dollars more in buildings. Meanwhile, it has in charge already thirty Beneficiaries. A Training House for Servants and Nurses forms a part of the complete plan in contemplation.

St. Luke's Home for Indigent and Aged Females, which first began in May, 1852, formally opened its own newly-purchased edifice on the 25th day of May, 1857. It is well situated in the city of New York, and cost thirteen thousand dollars. Its Trustees are chiefly Laymen; and it is in the care of a Board of Ladies, representing most of the city Parishes. It is supported by the contributions of the pious. It gives comfort to about thirty inmates.

In the city of Troy, the Church Asylum is doing similar good among the "aged, sick, infirm, and destitute." It is sustained by annual subscriptions. It has begun an Accumulating Permanent Fund.

The Corporation for the Relief of Widows and Children of Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the State of New York, has existed since the year 1769. It is supported by a payment of eight dollars per annum from each contributor; and this entitles his widow and children to certain annuities. For the year ending September 1st, 1857, the number of Contributors was 63; and of Annuity-tants, 129. For the year ending September 1st, 1858, the Fund amounted to $93,265.15; and the Contributors were 68, the Annuitants 128. For the year ending September 1st, 1859, the Fund amounts to $96,759.47; the Contributors being 75, and the Annuitants 130.

The New York Bible and Common Prayer Book Society, and the Protestant Episcopal Tract Society, both depend for their means of operation upon the Diocese of New York, but disperse their publications over the entire country, and especially upon Missionary Territory. Of these Institutions, the former has, since the last General Convention, gratuitously distributed 2286 Bibles, 2079 Testaments, 33,632 Prayer Books, and 201 Psalms and Hymns. The latter has within the same time, given away 3,210,636 pages of its Tracts. Large sales at low rates are not included in this statement.

The Missions under the authority of the Convention of the Diocese, are sustained at 73 Stations within its borders, having 61 Missionaries at their posts. More Stations and more Clergymen are needed for this work.

The Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund of this Diocese has increased its invested capital, since 1856, from $23,500 to $33,752. This has been done chiefly by collections in Churches. It also sustains 12 Clergymen by appropriations delicately placed in their hands.

The Society for Promoting Religion and Learning is accredited by the Convention as its Education Committee. Though receiving but a small amount in contribution from the Parishes, it has supported in whole or in part, during the past year, 50 Candidates in the General Theological Seminary, 14 in different Colleges, 12 in Schools, or under private ministerial instruction—76 Candidates and Students in all, at an expenditure of $8669.75; besides the gift of $430 for text-books to Candidates in the Seminary; $500 loan, without interest, to the graduating class for the purchase of books; and $400 for aiding necessitous Students by the hands of the Provisional Bishop—making in all $9999.75. During each of the two previous years, it sustained in this manner 54 Students, and made similar grants in proportion.

The Episcopal Fund of this Diocese remains in two parts, the Disposable and the Accumulating. The Disposable, invested in Bonds and Mortgages, and in State Stocks, amounts to $67,500. The Accumulating, besides cash on hand, has in Bonds and Mortgages $17,500. The Episcopal Residence, owned by the Diocese in the city of New York, has, on account of its location, been rented by the Trustees. In order to meet a deficiency in the support of the present Episcopate, an apportionment of the sum required is made among the Parishes by a Committee annually appointed by the Convention for the purpose. To this object, during the last three years, there have been given $16,364.35. Meanwhile, the Accumulating Fund has been increased from $15,076 to $19,289.61.

For General Missions, in care of the Board appointed by the General Convention, this Diocese has, since September, 1856, given to the Domestic Committee $49,735.46, and to the Foreign Committee, $57,949.75.

Many contributions to the enterprises of the Church in various parts of the land are made from this Diocese, but never reported to its Convention. In this respect, no fair account of its work can be attempted.

In other respects, the condition of the Diocese may further be seen in the following

There are about sixty or seventy Churches and Chapels, from which no Parochial Reports have been received in this Diocese since the last General Convention. An approximation, therefore, only can be made towards the true sum of Baptisms, Marriages, Burials, Communicants, and Contributions. ## WESTERN NEW YORK.

Since the last General Convention (1856), 24 new Candidates for Holy Orders have been admitted; 1 Candidate has been transferred to another Diocese; 1 Candidate has died; 12 Candidates have been ordained Deacons; the present number of Candidates is 21; 11 Deacons have been ordained Priests; 5 Churches have been consecrated; 10 new Congregations have been organized and admitted into union with the Convention; 5 new Churches have been erected, and await consecration; 56 Parsonages are provided for the Parishes; 1 Rector has been instituted; 6 Clergymen have died; 1 Clergyman has been deposed; 36 Clergymen have been received into the Diocese; 25 Clergymen have been transferred to other Dioceses.

The average number of Missionaries annually employed has been 60. The present number is 48.

The Diocese consists at present of the Bishop, 125 Presbyters; 10 Deacons; 20 Candidates for Holy Orders; 156 organized Congregations (several of which are reduced by fluctuations and removals to a mere nominal existence), with 130 Church edifices, of which 8 Churches are in use awaiting consecration on removal of debt; 7 Church edifices are in progress of erection, 2 of which are to replace old buildings.

The Christmas Fund for Disabled Clergymen has afforded aid to 12 Clergymen, to the amount, in three years, of $3475. The whole sum collected, in the past three years, is $4709. A small fund, the result of such collections beyond the annual appropriations, exists, amounting to $5000.

For Educational purposes, the Diocese has Hobart College, with about one hundred Students, under a President and three Professors, and two Tutors; the Caryville Collegiate Seminary, several private Seminaries, and a few Parochial Schools. Funds are being collected for the establishment of a Training School for Candidates for Orders, the Senior Department of which will, under God, commence at an early day.

The system of Monthly Collections and Donations in all the Churches, for Church objects, still commands the confidence of the Diocese, and has but once, since it began, failed to meet the quarterly drafts of the Missionaries and Beneficiaries. Its annual supply for Diocesan Missions averages $5000. The whole amount received for Church objects, aside from Parish objects, for the last three years, is $41,860. The Episcopal Fund is reported to be $50,000, under the management of five incorporated Trustees, and invested mostly in bonds and mortgages.

The De Veaux College for Orphan and Destitute Childrer is endowed with $162,520, and saleable lands worth $25,111, aside from the Permanent Domain of three hundred and forty acres, which cannot be sold. The Bishop and Standing Committee each receive, in January of each year, a statement of the funds and condition of the College, which was opened successfully in May, 1857, and has now thirty-two pupils, clothed, fed and educated under a President and two Professors, with a Matron and other officers.

Since the last Convention there have been :

The Bishop of the Diocese has been absent from the country for recreation, at the desire and expense of the Convention. This absence explains the diminished number of persons confirmed. While abroad, he had the satisfaction of uniting in the Consecration of an English Colonial Bishop with the Archbishop of Canterbury, and of a Scot-fish Bishop with the Primate of the Scottish Episcopal Church, and of thus interlinking our Branch of the Church with that of England and that of Scotland, to both of which we are so deeply indebted.

The Diocese continues to enjoy harmony and unity among the Clergy and Laity, in their labors for the good of the Church and the salvation of men.

NEW JERSEY.

Since the last General Convention, this Diocese has been bereaved by the loss of its beloved Bishop and Head: it having pleased Almighty God to remove from the scene of his earthly labors, the Right Reverend GEORGE WASHINGTON DOANE, D.D., LL.D., after an Episcopate of nearly twenty-seven years. He fell asleep in Jesus on Wednesday, in Easter week, 27th April, 1859. His last words were an epitome of his life:—"I DIE IN THE FAITH OF THE SON OF GOD AND IN THE CONFIDENCE OF HIS ONE CATHOLIC AND APOSTOLIC CHURCH. I HAVE NO MERITS—NO MAN HAS—BUT MY TRUST IS IN THE MERCY OF JESUS." To his "remarkable mental and moral characteristics, his untiring, self-sacrificing and intense devotion of himself, soul, body, and spirit, to the cause to which he consecrated his life, and his eminence as a poet, an orator, and a divine, which identified his name with the history of the Church and country, and highly distinguished the State of his birth," his flock and the whole Church have borne the strongest testimony. During his brief Episcopate, the number of the clergy in the Diocese increased from eighteen to ninety-eight, and the communicants from six hundred and forty-seven to more than five thousand.

At the late Diocesan Convention, exactly one month after the death of Bishop Doane, the Reverend WILLIAM HENRY ODENHEIMER, D.D., was duly elected his successor. He now awaits the confirmation of his election by the General Convention, and his Consecration to the Episcopate, that he may enter upon the duties of that high and holy Office.

An increased interest has been manifested in the Missions of the Diocese. A quarterly collection is recommended by the Convention to be made in each parish for this object; and the funds thus obtained are appropriated towards the support of the Missionaries by the Bishop and the Standing Committee. Twenty stations are now receiving aid from these collections.

St. Mary's Hall and Burlington College are doing faithfully the work of Christian education. The former, which has sent forth so many churchwomen into every Diocese in the United States, is in a most flourishing condition. The latter greatly needs endowment to enable it to do all that is desired. Together, they number about two hundred and thirty pupils.

The Permanent Episcopal Fund is $13,000. Each parish of the Diocese is called upon to contribute annually 8 per cent. upon the salary paid to its clergyman for the increase of this fund and the payment of the Bishop's salary. Efforts, which promise to be successful, are being made to increase the Permanent Fund by a subscription of $50,000.

The Corporation for the Relief of the Widows and Children of Clergymen, founded in 1769, is year by year exhibiting the wisdom of its founders in the timely aid which it furnishes to the families of deceased clergymen. The amount of its funds is about $30,000. Seven families are at present reaping the benefit of its provisions.

A fund for Disabled and Infirm Clergymen of the Diocese is beginning to be gathered by an annual collection in each parish. It now amounts to about $1000.

The Episcopal Society of New Jersey, for the promotion of Christian knowledge and piety, has a fund of $2000.

The Parochial Reports for the last year, in consequence of the vacancy of the Episcopate, were very imperfectly made. This fact has necessarily decreased the aggregate of the Statistics of the Diocese, for the last three years. As far as they can be ascertained, they are as follows:

There are at present one hundred and two Clergymen, (eighty-four Presbyters and eighteen Deacons), and eleven Candidates for Orders. Since the last General Convention, four clergymen have died: the Rev. James Chapman, the Rev. Hamble J. Leacock, the Rev. Stephen Douglass, and the Rev. George Y. Morehouse. Thirty-two clergymen have been received into the Diocese; twenty-three have been transferred to other Dioceses; twenty-five have been ordained, and twenty-five instituted into the Rectorships of parishes. Five churches have been consecrated.

During the last three years the Diocese has grown even beyond its former rapid rate of increase. Several of the older parishes have made the seats in their churches free to all, and everywhere the parochial work is more and more faithfully performed.

PENNSYLVANIA.

The Church in this Diocese has continued to prosper under the wise and efficient administration of its revered Diocesan. His multiform labors have, however, to the great grief of the Diocese, and indeed of the whole Church, impaired his once robust health. This calamity constrained the Bishop, in the spring of 1858, to ask the Diocese to appoint him an Assistant. The choice was happily consummated at the Annual Convention of that year, and the Right Rev. Dr. Bowman has, since the time of his consecration in September, 1858, been pursuing his earnest and very acceptable labors as Assistant Bishop of the Diocese. We yet have hope that our venerable Bishop may be so far restored as to take an active share in the Episcopal administration of the Diocese; and in any event, regard it as a great blessing that he is still spared, by his wise counsels to suggest and supervise the efforts of others.

The increase of the Church in the city of Philadelphia for the past three years, may be inferred from the fact that twelve new parish churches, some of them large and costly structures, have, within that period, been built for the use of newly-formed congregations. The increase in the interior of the Diocese has been less rapid, yet still it is very encouraging. It has been more decided within the last three years, than in any corresponding period of previous time.

At the late Diocesan Convention, a plan was devised for uniting the Missionary operations within the Diocese under one agency. A "Board of Missions," appointed by the Standing Committee, with the Bishop at its head, and responsible to the Convention, is now just entering on the conduct of our Diocesan Missions—the two Societies, which heretofore have done good service in this field—the "Advancement" and the "Diocesan,"—having, in a spirit of generous concession and fraternity, agreed to make over their work and resources to this elected agency of the Convention, that there may be a fair experiment of its comparative efficiency and power.

One of the most interesting enterprises which has distinguished the history of the Church in Pennsylvania of late years, is the establishment of the Hospital of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Philadelphia. It was opened for the reception of the sick and suffering about five years ago, in the old mansion that providentially was standing on the land which a generous daughter of the Church gave for its location. The institution has ten acres of land in a commanding situation, very near to the densely-inhabited portion of our city. It has about $50,000 in the way of endowment, and a subscription of $100,000, in sums of $5000 each, has just been completed towards the erection of a portion of the permanent building. Ever since the house now used for the Charity was opened, it has been filled with those who are thankful to receive the relief which skill and tender care can afford to the suffering body, and the counsel and solace which the minister of Christ can impart to the weary soul.

“The Church Home for Friendless and Orphan Children,” in Philadelphia, has, since the last General Convention, been established, and a large and appropriate building for its use erected and paid for. The current expenses of the Institution are met by the annual contributions of the members of the Church in the section of the city where the “Home” is located. There is in the Diocese an increasing attention to the training and nurture of the lambs of Christ’s flock. Church schools of various grades are being multiplied, and the living generation are thus taking care that they who come after shall be shown “the praises of the Lord and his strength, and His wonderful works that He hath done.”

On the whole, we may say that the Church is advancing in this great Diocese with sure and steady steps, commanding more and more the attention and respect of all people, and entering hopefully upon that great errand of beneficence to all sorts and conditions of men within our boundaries which the Lord has commissioned her to dispense.

DELAWARE.

The Church in this Diocese is believed to be advancing with a steady and healthy growth. The church buildings erected during the last three years are substantial and beautiful. An effort has lately been initiated, under favorable prospects of success, for reviving the old church at Dover, wherein Dr. Inglis, afterward Bishop of Nova Scotia, ministered before the Revolution. Since the last Triennial Convention, the Rev. Richard F. Cadle, widely known throughout our Church as one of her oldest missionaries, and justly esteemed for his unwearied devotedness and holiness of life, has been called to his reward. The Diocese has also mourned the loss of an energetic and noble-hearted layman, Alexis I. Du Pont, who was a member of this body at its last Session.

MARYLAND.

The Diocese of Maryland, co-terminous with the State of the same name, has an extent in terra firma of not quite nine thousand square miles. The Chesapeake Bay, not counted in this extent, which severs the territory into two widely separated districts known as the Eastern and Western Shores respectively, and its navigable affluents have a development so great that, if the whole area were reduced to a regular shape with parallel sides, no point within it would be at a greater distance than six and a half miles from navigable water. The aggregate length of completed rail-roads within the State does not exceed four hundred miles; but their directions and locations are such as, with the facilities afforded also by steamboat intercommunication, to permit any parochial point to be reached from Baltimore in a day's journey.

The entire population was ascertained, by the Census of 1850, at five hundred and eighty-three thousand souls; and, at this date, doubtless exceeds six hundred and fifty thousand.

This territory is divided ecclesiastically into eighty-five Parishes, the assignment of the metes and bounds of which, as well as the creation of the corporate and other legal privileges ascribable thereto, are lodged by the law of the land with the Diocesan Convention. The exercise of this quasi-sovereign authority has been hitherto rather unsystematic and mostly ex re nata: so that, while some Parishes comprehend three and four hundred square miles, others contain less than five; and while the communicant Church members in some are counted by thousands, in others they are reckoned but by decades. As a partial remedy for this inequality, and especially in reference to the circumstances of residence in cities and towns, a law of the State, dating at about the beginning of the present century, cedes to the Diocesan Convention a power, similar to that already mentioned, of creating, by its own acts, public incorporations called Congregations, which ecclesiastically differ from Parishes only in having no territorial limits. Of such Congregations, there exist at present forty-one; making an aggregate with the Parishes of one hundred and twenty-six ecclesiastical Corporations within the Diocese.

Each of these Corporations has its own Church edifice; and some, for the convenience of their members, have more than one; so that, in the whole Diocese, there are one hundred and seventy-three places of worship. Of these, say sixteen-and-a-half per cent. are built with stone; fifty-eight per cent. with brick; and twenty-five-and-a-half per cent. are wooden. About ten per cent. are in worse than tolerable repair.

The capacity of these edifices varies, of course—and, in fact, widely. Thus, some can accommodate fifteen hundred persons; others overflow when only one hundred and fifty are assembled. The indications of the Census of 1850, in this respect, tolerably near in the assignment of the number of buildings, are very much astray in estimating the accommodations at 60,105 sittings. A Return made to the Diocesan Convention in 1857, from 80 Parishes and Congregations, gave an average of 47 families for each; which, doubtless applicable still, would show the entire accommodations in the 173 since and now existing Houses, as corresponding to 8,131 families. And if we use the factor derived from the Census itself, which states a population of 492,666 souls to be assembled in 87,384 families, or nearly five and five-eighths persons to a family, we have 45,842 as the number at present.

The probability of this number is affirmed by reference to other indications. Thus, the infant baptisms, reported in May, 1859, amounted to 2,265; if we consider the children of one year old and under—which period includes the age at which they are usually baptized—as constituting ordinarily five per cent. of the aggregate population of which they form part, we shall have an aggregate of those whose ecclesiastical proclivities are indicated by sending their proportion of children to Baptism, amounting to 45,300. The probabilities derivable from the Returns of Burials and Marriages indicate, it is true, a somewhat higher result; but upon this it is to be considered that many persons resort to the Offices of the Church for burial and marriage from other motives than adhesion to her communion—from fashion, it may be, from convenience, or from necessity. The numbers, therefore, buried or married might be expected to be disproportionate in the statistical elements of population.

Taking, then, the Return of Burials in the Diocese for the last year, viz., 916, and applying to it the factor (one-and-sixty-five-one-hundredths per cent.) resulting from the ratio of the aggregate population to the Deaths inscribed in the Census of 1850, we deduce 55,510 as the partial population corresponding; a number transcending, by about eighteen per cent. that derivable from the element of Baptisms. So, if from the whole number of Marriages returned for the same year, viz., 572, we discount the number 165, representing that class not requiring a civil license (which discount is necessary in order to bring the question under the domain of the factor derived from the Census, and founded there upon the fiscal returns of the proceeds of sale of licenses), and apply to the remainder the Census factor, namely, three-fourths per cent., we have a result of 54,149 as the partial population: a number still transcending that calculated from the Baptisms, but sufficiently accordant with that indicated by the Burials.

Upon all these results, then, we are warranted in taking 50,000, in round numbers, as representing that portion of the entire population of the Diocese, or probably one-thirteenth as the fair proportion, attached to the Episcopal Church. Such is the population concerned in or contributing to the Lay-movement within the Diocese.

Besides the Churches and Chapels in which this population is from time to time assembled, several Parishes and Congregations—rather more than one-fourth of all—own land, which still bears the old, distinctive name of Glebe; and, varying of course in quantity, in no case exceeds three hundred acres. Since the adoption of a new civil constitution for the State, traditional jealousy of spiritual corporations has expressly restricted any of them (except the Diocesan Convention, which is also an incorporated body under our laws) from holding more than five acres, unbuilt on. This restriction covers, of course, Grave-yards, which are not in fact owned by more than one-twelfth of the whole number. Some of these yards, acquired and owned prior to the restriction in question, double and even triple the limit assigned by it. Rather more than one-third own Parsonages or Rectories; and in a few cases is held real estate, which does not come under any of the preceding descriptions.

Personal estate, in different funds, is owned by rather more than one-twelfth; but probably in no instance exceeding the nominal value of ten thousand dollars. All the Church property of whatever kind was estimated, in the Census already mentioned, at somewhat above six hundred thousand dollars. It may, at this time, be set down at, say, one million.

This sum by no means represents all the expense outlaid upon the acquisition or improvement of existing Church property, but only the visible, tangible relics of the contributions which have been applied to such purposes. Thus, the Church edifices themselves, several of which have respectively cost much more than the tenth part of the sum mentioned, have no market value materially beyond that of the ground on which they stand. And as little does this sum represent a capital producing revenue. On the contrary, the revenue drawn from the personal estate just referred to—the only source in the category of productiveness—hardly, if at all, exceeds twenty-five hundred dollars per annum, and is relatively of too little importance to be more than cursorily mentioned.

Using the term revenue, then, not in its strict sense of a fixed annual or otherwise periodical income, it may be said that the Church revenues of the Diocese are derived in two ways: 1st. Rental of pews or sittings in the respective edifices. 2d. Voluntary contributions, either collected at the Church, made after formal subscriptions, or otherwise tendered and paid to the proper officers. Moneys received in the first of these ways are to be considered, universally, as applicable to and expended for parochial purposes. The highest amount is not known to exceed, in any case, six thousand five hundred dollars per annum; and the aggregate sum, thus raised annually in the Parishes and Congregations using this resort, may be set down at fifty thousand dollars.

As to the second of these ways, moneys received when the Holy Communion is celebrated, are, probably to the extent of ninety-five per cent., regarded and disposed of as Alms for the poor; what is collected at the Offertory without Communion (very generally practiced in this Diocese), as well as in all other ways, is applied specifically to some particular object designated, or parochially, or to any destination that circumstances render expedient. This last will, therefore, come properly under the head of Contributions, and will be presently treated in detail.

With regard to the system of Church Sittings, different habits prevail, to about an equal extent, in the Parishes and Congregations. Pew-rents prevail with one-third of the number; pews, owned by occupants but not rented, are preferred by another third; while with the remainder the seats are free. But this equality of proportion does not hold with respect to the seats themselves: it is likely that much more than half of the forty-five thousand are rented.

The salaries of the Clergy vary nearly for every individual case; and the individual amounts descend from four thousand dollars per annum—barely reaching the plural—to zero; which last category covers at least four per cent. of the whole number; and, if in it be included cases of admitted uncertainty would exhibit a still higher ratio. The aggregate amount paid for this item, including an approximate valuation of Parsonage or Glebe in sundry cases, does not fall short of eighty thousand dollars per annum. And the outlay for the other expenses of maintaining Public Worship, including an unfortunate item of interest not infrequent, is at least an equal amount.

These general statements fitly lead to the exhibit of the sums actually contributed, as reported to the Convention, for Church purposes during the last triennial period, from June, 1856, to June, 1859, and which may be grouped as follows, viz.:

Communion Alms,.....	$35,179
Parochial use,.....	155,295
Diocesan purposes,.....	30,473
Extra Diocesan charities,.....	21,782
Unspecified, but for the greater part Parochial, .....	84,004
Total,.....	$326,733

It is hardly necessary to say that the Returns from which this exhibit is made are only partial, as respects both the sources whence Reports were due, and the comprehensiveness and precision of the documents returned. It is quite certain that the aggregate just given should be augmented by at least one-third; and this, exclusive of all payments that may have been made on the subscriptions (exceeding $50,000) for the College of St. James. And another third should be added for the ordinary support of the Clergy and parochial expenses of Public Worship; the former item being entirely outside of the Returns, and a part of the latter not being covered by the indications furnished. The amount contributed for the Maintenance and Extension of Public Worship in the Diocese during the last three years, irrespective of Alms to the Poor, as well tabulated as unrecorded and unknown except to the giver, no doubt exceeds a half a million of dollars.

From these secular statements, we may pass to three others, more strictly religious in their character; the numerals in the first of which are liable to the same probabilities of deficiency which have been noticed just now. The last two are exact.

1. LAY-MOVEMENT.—Baptized: Adults, 541; Infants, 6,377; Undistinguished, 777—aggregate, 7,695. Buried, 2,835; Married, 1,717.

And the number of Communicants (complete) on 1st June, 1859, was not less than 10,580.

2. CLERGY-MOVEMENT.—Died, 6; Dimitted to other Dioceses, 32; Entered by letter, 33, and by Ordination, 12; Intra-Diocesan changes by resignations of cures, 55, and by acceptances of ditto, 43. The aggregate number is 153, consisting of 1 Bishop, 146 Priests, and 6 Deacons; and there were, on the last-mentioned date, 19 Candidates for Orders.

3. EPISCOPAL ACTS.—Confirmation, on 229 occasions, of 2,968 persons; Consecration of 13 Churches and of 1 Burial-ground; Cornerstone of 1 Church laid; Dedication of 1 Church renewed; Institution of 2 Rectors; Licenses to 7 Lay-readers; Ordination, on 12 occasions, of 14 Priests and of 12 Deacons; and Visitation of 268 Parishes and Congregations in 220 separate places.

Such are the details proper to be laid before the General Convention, in order to present an accurate view of the State of the Church in Maryland during and at the close of the Triennial period terminated on the first of June last.

The Diocese of Maryland has continued to enjoy abundant tokens of the Divine presence and blessing during the past three years. Under the present Episcopate, the number of the Clergy has more than doubled. The increased demand for Episcopal services has led to a movement for the division of the Diocese, which has been amicably discussed, and entertained with such a degree of favor, that it was negatived in the last Diocesan Convention, by a single vote of the Lay Order.

The Statistical Tables herewith presented according to the Canons, will supply all the requisite information of a statistical kind; but a brief notice of some of the more interesting features of Church work in the Diocese, may be not unworthy of a place in this Report.

Nor will it be improper to record, as preliminary, the names of the Presbyters of the Diocese who, since the last General Convention, have rested from their labors. The Rev. Philip Berry, formerly of Magdalen College, Cambridge, (England,) at the time of his death had lately returned to his Diocese, after laboring in Virginia; and the Rev. William Armstrong, after a long and honorable career in the same Diocese, was, at the time of his decease, Rector of the Parish of All Saints, Frederick. The Rev. Hector Humphreys, D.D., presided for many years with distinguished ability and success over St. John's College, Annapolis. The Rev. Robert W. Goldsborough was the devoted and self-sacrificing servant of the Church in Maryland, for many years, and at the time of his death was Rector of St. John's Parish, Caroline County. The Rev. Henry V. D. Johns, D.D., Rector of Emmanuel Church, Baltimore, closed a long career of usefulness on the morning of Good Friday last, and his remains were attended to the grave on Easter Day, by a vast concourse of citizens, attesting the general regret of the community in which he had lived. On the same day, were buried, in hope of a blessed resurrection, the remains of the Rev. W. W. Arnett, D.D., Rector of Emmanuel Church, Cumberland, who had lately removed into the Diocese from Wisconsin.

The College of St. James is pursuing its career of usefulness, with a degree of prosperity highly gratifying to its friends. The subscriptions for effecting the removal of the College to Baltimore County, have already reached the required sum, and will probably be made up to $75,000 in a short time. Plans for the new buildings are now before a Committee for final acceptance, after long and mature consideration; and it is proposed that within a few weeks, the corner stone of the fabric shall be laid. Before another General Convention, it is confidently expected that the new site will be occupied by the College itself.

The "Church Home and Infirmary" is an Institution of the Church in Baltimore, which deserves notice, and which, it may be hoped, will encourage the formation of many similar charities. About five years since it was projected, on a limited scale, and was regarded by many as impossible at that. To raise $5,000 was the first plan, and has been found practically the most difficult part of the undertaking. By the blessing of God, and a concurrence of favorable circumstances, it is now in possession of commodious and even spacious buildings, on the most elevated and beautiful site in the city, and owns a property estimated at $75,000. Liberal gifts on the part of many churchmen and churchwomen in Baltimore, have enabled the institution to realize this prosperity; but it is proper to add, that the sum of $5,000 has been given by W. Newton Mercer, Esq., of New Orleans, with a conditional offer of $3,000 additional, to be paid on the 1st of January, 1860.

But the special feature of this Institution, and that which demands particular remark, is the fact that its internal management, the care of the sick, and all its charities, are entrusted to a Society of Christian women, known as "The Deaconesses of the Diocese of Maryland." These ladies perform their benevolent duties without fee or reward, and are subject to the immediate control of the Bishop of the Diocese. Candidates are admitted to the Society after probation, but without the exaction of any vow or other formality than that of recognition, by the Bishop, as servants of the Church.

The City Missions of the City of Baltimore are in a prosperous condition. Three Stations are maintained under the care of as many Missionaries, and the degree of blessing which has attended their labors heretofore, has prompted the establishment of a fourth Station, to which a Missionary will soon be appointed.

In the Diocese at large, Missionary operations, owing chiefly to the lack of laborers, are not in so encouraging a condition. But large portions of the population, heretofore estranged from us, are turning to the Church for a supply of the Gospel, and calling for the ministrations of the Bishop and his Clergy, with an earnestness which proves that nothing but the supply of laborers is needed to secure a degree of prosperity and increase, which we have scarcely had the faith to hope for. The cry for the increase of the ministry, by some efficient instrumentality, with the blessing of GOD, must be regarded as not less loud in Maryland than in many of our Western States.

As compared with former Reports, the Church will be seen to be in a prosperous condition. The Statistics, however, are believed to be still very defective, on account of the difficulty of procuring them from large districts which are thinly populated. Emigration, also, is constantly going on; so that the fruits of the labors of our Ministers have often to be looked for in the rising Parishes of the West. There is an increasing attention to the spiritual interest of the colored population, of which no adequate report has as yet been given. The Theological Seminary is in a highly prosperous condition. Christian discipline in the Church, and a tone of spiritual religion in the Diocese, is believed to be steadily improving.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Diocese of North Carolina continues to advance in strength and general prosperity, in such manner as to give ground to believe assuredly that God's blessing rests upon it, and reason to hope that His Grace will, in the future, be more abundantly vouchsafed it. The number of the Clergy is 47, consisting of the Bishop, 34 Presbyters, and 12 Deacons. One of the most beloved and useful of its Presbyters, the Rev. John H. Parker, has been taken to his rest by the hand of God. Nine Deacons have been ordained, and eight Presbyters. Three Deacons and seven Presbyters have been received into the Diocese from others; and three Deacons and 16 Presbyters have been transferred from it. One Presbyter has been suspended, but subsequently restored; and one Deacon has been deposed. There are 11 Candidates for Holy Orders. Six Churches have been Consecrated. There are 63 Parishes, two of which are not in union with the Convention. There are 67 Church buildings, and 18 Parsonages.

The Church Building Society has already accomplished much good, and is likely to be of signal benefit.

The religious instruction of the slaves has been followed up, it is hoped, with increased diligence and success; but it must be acknowledged that the Diocese is still far below the standard of duty in this important work.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

The State of the Church in this Diocese may be considered as, in all respects but one, increasingly flourishing.

The number of Candidates for Holy Orders (ten), though still much below the wants of the Diocese, is considerably above the usual average.

The number of Clergy (72) is much below the wants of the Diocese. Seven of these are, from age and other causes, not regularly engaged in Parochial or Missionary work; leaving but 65 for efficient action. There are 67 Parishes and Churches on the list, though three of these are practically defunct, and several Missionary Stations. Seven of the Clergy are acting as Assistant Ministers, leaving six Churches, besides Missionary Stations, unprovided for. Moreover, the number of canonically resident Clergymen has not increased for ten years past, while the number of Churches has increased by eight in three years. But public attention having been recently turned to this deficiency, and a Diocesan Theological Seminary having been established, it is hoped that this deficiency will be diminished or removed.

The Society for the Relief of Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen meets all the demands upon it liberally, and is increasing its funds by the annual addition of three or four thousand dollars.

The Fund for the Relief of Aged and Infirm Clergy has but one on its bounty, and is also rapidly increasing.

The Church Home has 40 inmates, of whom 32 are sustained by the bounty of the Church, at an annual expense of more than three thousand dollars.

The Ladies' Society for the Support of Missions in the city of Charleston has a fund of near $10,000, and supports two Missions.

Calvary Church, chiefly for negroes, is supported by voluntary contributions, under the direction of a Committee appointed by Convention.

The Female Bible, Prayer Book, and Tract Society has, for many years, distributed a considerable number of copies of the Word of God, of our invaluable Prayer Book, and of Religious Tracts.

About 50 Chapels, for the benefit of negroes on plantations, are now in use for the worship of God and the religious instruction of slaves. Many planters employ Missionaries or Catechists for this purpose; many more would do so, if it were possible to procure them. Some of the present Candidates for Holy Orders are looking forward to this special work. In one Parish (All Saints, Waccamaw) are 13 Chapels for negroes, supplied with regular services. The number of negroes attending the services of the Church in this Diocese cannot be shown by Statistics; it is very large, and increasing annually.

Of the number of Parishes not in union with Convention, two are Missions to the poor (chiefly whites) in the city of Charleston; and one a Mission chiefly for the benefit of slaves in the same city; but a number of whites are regularly in attendance, and a full corps of respectable white teachers assists in giving Sunday-School instruction.

The Report on the number of Communicants in this Diocese is imperfect; as, in several instances, the number of negroes in Communion with the Church has not been reported to the Diocesan Convention, on account of vacancies in the pastoral care of some Parishes. The whole number of Communicants is doubtless near six thousand.

FLORIDA.

Though the Church in Florida continues to be small and feeble, yet it is believed we are making steady, if not rapid progress. Among the signs of encouragement, are an increased desire for the services of the Church in many places through the entire year, and greater liberality, not only in rendering a support to those who are appointed and ordained to attend to this one thing, but in general it will be found that our contributions to all Church work, and especially to Missions, will bear a favorable comparison, according to our ability, with other sections of the country where the Church is older and stronger. This is not said to encourage a feeling of satisfaction with our own efforts, for though we have tried, by God's assistance, to keep the Church alive through heavy and severe discouragements, such as have not fallen to the lot of many new Dioceses, yet we might have done more for Christ's kingdom. But still we rejoice in the well-founded belief that the darkest period in our history is well-nigh at an end, and a brighter sun is rising to gladden our hearts in the future. By a well-devised system of internal improvement, now in the course of rapid execution, the greatest hindrance to the advancement of the Church is being removed, namely, the difficulty of traversing the State on Missionary errands, or even of meeting in Conventions. With these improvements, we have endeavored to keep pace, and not only have several new Stations, and one or more Churches been established, but most of our existing Parishes have been so stimulated as to begin a new growth. It may be confidently predicted that before another Report is required to be made to this Body, several of our Parishes on the seaboard, which will be connected with the interior country of our own and other States, will double their present strength and efficiency. I mention this, because Florida, not being in the West, and consequently, not swept by the tide of Missionary sympathy that must be so refreshing to our Western brethren, must depend, under God, for building up the Church of Christ under her beautiful sky, for the most part, to our own sacrifices, energy, and devotion.

ALABAMA.

Clergy—Bishop, 1; Presbyters, 26; Deacons, 4; Total, 31. Candidates for Holy Orders, 8. Parishes in union with the Convention, 37; Churches consecrated, 5. Confirmations, 581. Baptisms—Adults, 230; Infants, 1107. Communicants, 1673.

Contributions to Missions.—Diocesan, $1,285.20; Domestic, $1,923.80; Foreign, $1,592.42. Miscellaneous and Special Offerings, $3,652.01. Unspecified Offerings, $14,531.87. Episcopal Fund, Permanent, $3,534.25; Special, $23,061.80. Fund of Society for Relief of Widows and Orphans, etc., $5,812.17.

These Statistics, gathered from the three last Diocesan Journals, show a steady though gradual growth of the Church in this Diocese in numerical strength. Gratifying evidence might be given of much greater growth in moral power and in the confidence of them that are without.

The Diocese has sustained no loss of Clergymen by death. Of those ordained to Holy Orders, two have come from the Ministry of the Methodist Protestant Communion; and among the Candidates for Holy Orders is one who, for many years, has been a Minister of the Methodist Episcopal Communion.

A Fund is being raised to establish a Diocesan Female Seminary at Montgomery. About $20,000 have been subscribed already.

Increasing attention is given in this Diocese to the religious instruction of the blacks.

MISSISSIPPI.

In presenting this Tabular view of the State of the Church in Mississippi, it may be necessary to add, that for several reasons it must be regarded as furnishing only an approximate view of the real condition of the Church in this Diocese. This is, in part, owing to the fact that the reports of the Parishes in the Diocesan journals from which the Statistics below are taken, are many of them very incomplete; while from others, owing to vacancies in the Rectorship, there is no report at all. But this is mainly owing to a cause over which we have no control—the impaired health of our beloved Diocesan, brought on by over-exertion in the discharge of the onerous duties of his extensive field. On the urgent solicitation of his friends, he has been prevailed on to suspend his labors for a considerable portion of the time over which this Report extends, and to seek in a more bracing clime that relaxation and repose which will, we trust, by the blessing of God, result in his speedy and permanent restoration. In consequence of this interruption in the labors of our venerable Bishop, the Table of Statistics can scarcely be relied on as furnishing an accurate view of the condition of the Church in Mississippi. The real state and actual progress of the Church is unquestionably much greater than the figures in the Table indicate. At the present moment, in nearly every Parish, there are classes of candidates awaiting the visitation of the Bishop, that they may receive the Apostolic rite of “laying on of hands.”

Among the encouraging features of the State of the Church, is the steady and healthy increase in the number of Communicants, the number of Parishes organized, and notwithstanding the financial pressure, the increased amount of contributions,—all give evidence that the Church is steadily, though it may be silently, advancing in this Diocese.

But if there is one feature more gratifying than another, it is the large number of adults who have been admitted to holy Baptism within the last three years, and especially in the fact that so large a portion of these are from among our slave population. Never before in the same space of time, have so many of this portion of our population been brought into the bosom of the Church in the Diocese of Mississippi. Never before has this field presented such an inviting aspect to the laborer in the spiritual harvest. On every hand is observed the increasing desire on the part of masters to give unto their servants the blessings of the Gospel and the Church, and could we only comply with their pressing invitations to preach the Word of Life to those who sit in darkness and the shadow of death in our “Africa at home,” the time would soon come when we should behold thousands of “Ethiopia’s sons stretching out their hands unto God.” May the Lord of the harvest send forth more laborers into this inviting portion of his moral vineyard!

Of our institutions of learning in the Diocese, it is gratifying to record that Saint Thomas' Hall, at Holly Springs, has been resuscitated under the most flattering prospects, through the energetic labors of the Rev. Dr. Ingraham. The excellent Institution at Pass Christian, under the supervision of Dr. Savage, is faithfully carrying on its work of usefulness among the daughters of the South, while "Wilson Hall," and "Rose Gates School," (a female institution of high order at Okolona), are in a prosperous condition in the northern portion of the Diocese.

On the whole, we thankfully recognize, in the progress of the Church during the three years last passed, encouraging tokens of the blessing of our great Head, while we look forward to the future with hope that the time to favor Zion will soon come.

LOUISIANA.

Our Table of Statistics exhibits a continued and steady growth and increase of the Church in the Diocese of Louisiana, such as to call for devout thanks to the great Head of the Church for the manifold manifestations of his presence and blessing among us. We nevertheless are compelled to lament that this growth and increase have not been as great as we might desire, or as ought reasonably to be looked for as the result of the means employed and the labors put forth. Could we always retain the advantages gained, we might exhibit a much more prosperous condition than even the present gratifying Report exhibits. This drawback to the permanency of our success is attributable, we think, mainly if not entirely, to the lack of educational institutions in which the distinctive features of the Church are clearly set forth and prominently inculcated, so as to counteract that laxity of opinion so extensively prevalent in regard to the clearly-defined and binding character of positive religious duty, and conformity to religious ordinances.

This deficiency, we have good reason to believe, is soon to be partially supplied by the establishment of the proposed University, which, we trust, will not only operate favorably upon the youth instructed therein, but which will infuse a tone of healthy sentiment into our whole Church and community, calculated to correct the lax and illy-defined notions prevalent, and which are subversive of all rule, authority, and good government. We look then to the establishment and carrying into effect of the university of the South, as the great desideratum in raising up and training stedfast and enlightened champions of the truth, and in securing permanency and stability to our efforts and labors.

TEXAS.

Since the meeting of the last General Convention, it has pleased God to remove from the scene of his earthly labors, the Right Rev. Geo. W. Freeman, D.D., who for a series of years went in and out among us as our Chief Pastor, and to whom this Diocese owes a heavy debt of grateful affection. Ever firm, faithful, and conscientious in the discharge of his high and responsible duties, and at the same time kind and conciliatory, he did much to lay a broad and strong foundation for the Church in Texas. After a life of self-denying devotion to the best interests of the kingdom of the Redeemer, he now "rests from his labors, and his works do follow him."

On the 6th of May last, our Convention unanimously elected to the Episcopate of the Diocese, the Rev. Alexander Gregg, of South Carolina. Happily for the Church in Texas, Mr. Gregg has been led to accept the invitation, and has decided to enter upon the great work so evidently pointed out by the providence of God.

This day he has been solemnly Consecrated to be our Bishop, and we can now rejoice in having a Chief Shepherd who will look after and care for our scattered flock, and through whose efficient instrumentality, the drooping hearts of God's people will be revived, and the Church be established in all our borders.

Richmond, Oct. 13, A.D. 1859.

From the above Tabular statement it will be seen that although the Church in the Diocese of Tennessee is still feeble, its growth and prosperity are steadily increasing. In the year 1857 the Diocese sustained a great loss in the removal, by death, of the Rev. Charles Tomes, of Nashville. While we lament the separation from us of one so devoted to his sacred vocation, so efficient in the work of the ministry, so faithful and true, and so eminently a lover of the brethren, yet we rejoice in the blessed heritage he has left us, of an example in all that is "lovely and of good report."

KENTUCKY.

The Diocese of Kentucky is slowly but steadily progressing. There has been a manifest and gratifying increase of strength and life in the last two or three years.

The Convocation movement has both excited and directed the Missionary feeling of the people, and very marked and happy results have ensued. Several new Stations have been occupied, and there is a large demand for more Ministers.

It is a subject of especial gratification, that Shelby College, with its liberal appointments, rare library, noble telescope and apparatus, is now relieved from all its pecuniary embarrassments, and is reorganized, with a full Faculty, in a way to secure confidence and success. It is, indeed, like making a new beginning; but that beginning is very auspicious, and the results cannot be doubted.

The interest of the fund of $10,000, the property of the Theological Seminary, is employed in the education of young men seeking the sacred Ministry; and it is trusted that, at no distant day, the Theological Seminary of the Diocese will be reorganized.

The number of Clergy connected with the Diocese is 32. Six new Parishes have been received into connection with the Convention, the whole number of Parishes being 31; Baptisms, 1299; Confirmed, 693; Communicants—added, 471, whole number, 1936; Marriages, 182; Funerals, 443; Sunday-School Teachers, 301; Sunday-School Scholars, 2354; Churches built, 3; Ordinations to the Diaconate, 5; to the Priesthood, 6; Candidates for Holy Orders, 6; Number of Pupils in Parochial Schools, and in Schools under the superintendence of the Clergy or Laity of the Church, 689; Contributions for Church objects, not including the current expenses of the Church, $96,869.43; of this sum there was contributed for Foreign and Domestic Missions, $5,658.79, and for Diocesan Missions, $9,996.48.

OHIO.

The Diocese of Ohio, in making another Triennial Report, finds renewed occasion for grateful acknowledgments to Almighty God. Its growth, though not rapid, continues to be steady and healthful. The pecuniary embarrassments felt so painfully in many sections of our Country, have greatly interfered with the ability of the Ohio Church to carry out fully the plans formed by its Bishop, its Clergy, and its Laity for Church extension. Yet the accompanying figures will show a most remarkable increase in the Contributions made to the cause of Diocesan Missions and of Ministerial Education. During the three years ending the first of last June, no less than $13,615.82 were expended in aiding Beneficiaries preparing for the Holy Ministry:

52 of this class having received aid during the past year. Nearly $10,000 were contributed in the same period for Diocesan Missions. The results of these expenditures must make themselves seen, through God's blessing, in the next three years, and, we trust, through many years to come.

The protracted indisposition of the venerable Bishop of the Diocese, and his absence from the Country for many months, have necessarily diminished the number of Confirmations that might otherwise have been expected. The election of the Rev. Dr. Bedell, now happily consummated by his Consecration to the office of Assistant-Bishop of the Diocese, gives new encouragement to the hopes and efforts of all who are laboring for the welfare of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Ohio.

The Institutions at Gambier, founded as they were by the energetic and great-hearted Pioneer Bishop of the West, are more than ever effective for the great purposes to which they are devoted. The vested funds have been largely increased by the liberal response to the appeals of Bishop Melvaine, and by the legacy of the late Mr. Johns of Maryland. Ascension Hall, a noble structure, costing about $30,000, is now nearly completed; and the increasing number of students makes it probable that even the additional room thus gained will be insufficient to accommodate the many who are drawn thither by the rising reputation of these Institutions. The Catalogue for 1858-9 gave the names of 229 in the several departments; 21 being members of the Theological Seminary, and probably 80 at least looking forward to the Holy Ministry. Another effort in this direction has been lately made, by the transfer to the Convention by its Trustees of an institution having a moderate endowment, both in lands and in money, and located at Worthington, near Columbus. This will serve, for the present, as an additional preparatory school for Kenyon College.

We have only to add that a delightful spirit of union and harmony characterizes the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese. They recognize the comprehensive character of the Church, as offering to embrace all who avow and manifest their love to the Saviour, and their adherence to the great principles of Christian Truth, as they have come down to us from the Apostles' times. They make no "private interpretation" the badge or standard of Churchmanship: but they accord to all, what they claim for themselves, the largest liberty consistent with a cordial reception of God's Word as the only and all-sufficient Rule of Faith, and the Book of Common Prayer as at once an authorized Standard of Interpretation, and an invaluable aid and safeguard to the devout worshipper.

INDIANA.

This Diocese, from various causes one of the most difficult fields of labor in our Ecclesiastical Confederation, has, nevertheless, since the last General Convention, been slowly but steadily growing, and presents, at this time, an encouraging prospect of future progress. Four new and beautiful Church edifices have been erected within two years past, the cost of three of which has been entirely defrayed by their respective Congregations, without soliciting any extraneous aid. Two of these Churches have been Consecrated, the other two are awaiting Consecration.

The Diocese at present consists of the Bishop, 24 Presbyters, 4 Deacons, 3 Candidates for Holy Orders, 29 organized Parishes, 9 Missionary Stations, 1192 Communicants, 158 Sunday-School Teachers, 1036 Sunday-School pupils. Since the last Triennial Report, 5 Candidates for Holy Orders have been ordained Deacons, and 6 Deacons have been advanced to the Priesthood; 2 Church edifices have been consecrated, 1 Clergyman has died—the Rev. Albert Bingham. Since the last General Convention, there have been—

Confirmed,.....	389
Marriages,.....	187
Burials,.....	346
Contributions,.....	$46,652 58

The Diocese, by assessments on the Parishes, raises $1000 per annum for the support of the Episcopate; the Bishop having no Parochial cure, and devoting himself exclusively to the duties of his Episcopal office. Incipient measures have been taken for the erection of an Episcopal residence in the city of Indianapolis, which were arrested by the commercial embarrassments of 1857. The enterprise will be persevered in, and the hope is indulged that it will ere long be completed.

ILLINOIS.

The tokens of God's blessing upon this Diocese are too manifest to be allowed to pass without special remark. As the geographical position of the State, its untold resources of wealth and their rapid development, point to its attaining, at no distant day, a position of the first rank among the States of the Union, so the rapid growth of the Diocese, under God's blessing, in the number of its Clergy, its organized Parishes, its Communicants, and in attachment to sound conservative principles, point to its assuming, within a short space of time, a position among the first of the Dioceses of the American Church. As our vast and fertile prairies have, within the last three years, been settled with a rapidity unparalleled in the history of the State, so the opportunities for extending the Church have multiplied far beyond the power of the Church to meet them. The cry in this, as in every other Diocese, is for more laborers. And the strong hope is indulged, that when Jubilee College, now placed in connection with the Convention, shall receive, as it should have, more of the patronage and fostering care of the Diocese, it will serve as a Training School to supply largely the ranks of the Ministry. The Diocese has at present an efficient Missionary system to supply means, and, with its Training School to supply men for the destitute places, it is believed that each successive Triennial Report will exhibit an increase second to no other portion of the Church.

KANSAS.

The primary Convention of the Diocese of Kansas was held at Wyandott, August 11th, 1859, and the Diocese was admitted into union with the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church at its present Session. The table below will give the chief items, serving to indicate its strength and condition.

MICHIGAN.

There have been 10 Ordinations—6 Deacons and 4 Priests. 13 Ministers have been received into the Diocese, and 8 transferred to other Dioceses. 3 Clergymen have deceased, viz., Rev. N. M. Bruce, Rev. Chas. Aldis, and Rev. John Bramwell.

The number of Ministers canonically resident in the Diocese is 49, viz., the Bishop, 44 Presbyters, and 4 Deacons. There are 3 Candidates for Orders, and 10 Lay Readers. 7 Parishes have been organized, and been admitted into union with the Convention. The present number of Parishes in union with the Convention is 49. 7 Corner-stones have been laid, and 9 Churches Consecrated. There are 40 Church edifices in the Diocese, furnishing sittings for 12,300 persons; and 5 Parsonages. Confirmations, 1016; Baptisms (Infants, 1066, Adults, 369) 1435; Marriages, 561; Burials, 666; Sunday-Schools, 40; Sunday-Scholars, 2557; Teachers, 342; total 2899; Communicants added, 1016; died and removed, 277; present number, 2701, showing a net increase of 739 Communicants in 34 Parishes, for out of 49 organized Parishes, we do not, at any Diocesan Convention, receive reports on an average from more than 34 Parishes. Had we Statistics of all these non-reporting Parishes, we could show a much greater increase. The present number of Communicants cannot be much less than 3000; but taking, as we must necessarily do, the Journals of the Diocesan Convention as the basis of this Report, we report only 2701.

Contributions to the Episcopal Fund, $4261.34; to the Diocesan Fund, $2019.59; to Diocesan Missions, $3718.26; to General Domestic Missions, $1417.02; to General Foreign Missions, $783.37; Communion Alms, $4247.31; Miscellaneous and Specified objects, $26,898.23; Unspecified objects, $1347.21; Total Contributions for the last three years, exclusive of Church building and Ministers' salaries, $44,642.33.

It will be seen, by an examination of the Statistics herewith presented, and a comparison with those presented at the last General Convention, that the Church in the Diocese of Michigan has been steadily progressing, and, under the blessing of God, is in a highly prosperous condition. She is making herself known and her influence felt in all parts of the State, and attracting more and more to her fold men of standing and influence in the community. In Detroit an enterprise has been inaugurated by a gentleman, closely identified with the interests of the Church in the Diocese, and, by his Christian liberality, not unknown to the Church in general, which promises great usefulness—I mean the establishment of the new Parish of St. John. A magnificent stone Chapel has been built for temporary use, to be converted hereafter into a Lecture and Sunday-School room; a large and commodious Parsonage has been erected and fitted up with all the modern improvements—all at a cost of about $25,000, two-thirds of which have been paid by the gentleman above mentioned. Another Parish—St. Peter's—has still more recently been organized in that city, an eligible building lot generously donated by Ex-Governor Woodbridge, a temporary building is now being erected. And, under the pastoral supervision of the Rev. Dr. Keighly, this young Parish already exhibits marks of vigor and life. St. John's Chapel will be filled at once, it being understood that there are sixty families who have expressed a desire to connect themselves with this Parish.

We see, therefore, in the large increase in the number of Baptisms and Confirmations, in the amount of Contributions, in the noble Episcopal Fund now being created, the income from which will, before the next General Convention, set the Bishop free from Parochial charge; in the number of Parishes organized, and Churches of the first class erected and consecrated, and, above all, in the delightful harmony which has ever characterized the counsels and action of the Church in this Diocese, not only unmistakable indications of increasing life and vigor, but the fairest promise of future growth and prosperity.

WISCONSIN.

The Church in this Diocese continues to increase in numbers and influence; the Clergy are full of zeal; the flocks to whom they minister faithful and devoted.

Its Clergy number 46:—Bishop, 1; Priests, 44; Deacon,
1. Candidates for Holy Orders, 9. Parishes, 51.

The following Statistics exhibit the work of the Diocese during the last three years:—Ordained to the Diaconate, 10; to the Priesthood, 10. Churches consecrated, 6. Baptisms: Infants, 1,804; Adults, 390; total, 2,194. Confirmations, 1,039. Communicants added, 1,328; whole number, 2,500. Marriages, 412. Burials, 625. Sunday-School Teachers, 300; Scholars, 2,000. Parochial contributions, $53,046.97. Missions: General and Diocesan, $10,042.57. Twelve Clergymen have been received, and eight transferred to other Dioceses.

The Female Seminary at Oconomowoc, under the auspices of the Convention, continues in successful operation, and is justly regarded as an important and highly useful institution, combining, as it does, careful Christian culture with thorough secular education.

Racine College has recently undergone important changes. It is now divided into a Grammar School and a Collegiate Department. From this time forth, the preparatory students of Nashotah House will pursue their studies in the Collegiate Department of this noble Church institution. The Faculty are numerous and able, and the aim of the Board of Trustees is to make Racine College to Wisconsin, what St. James' is to Maryland.

The venerable Bishop of Wisconsin, having resigned his Missionary jurisdiction, it now becomes a duty for the Diocese to provide for the entire support of its Bishop.

Our Episcopal Fund now amounts to $2,888.42, which sum is securely invested, and agents have just been appointed by the Standing Committee to visit the several Parishes, in order to solicit subscriptions to this Fund.

As we cannot hope to obtain enough by this means for the full endowment of the Episcopate of Wisconsin, we shall in all probability be constrained to appeal to the numerous friends of our beloved Diocesan, for aid to enable Wisconsin to furnish to this venerable servant of the Church an adequate support.

Long may his devoted life be spared to bless this Diocese with his counsels and his untiring labors.

IOWA.

The Diocese of Iowa, as will be seen by the accompanying Statistical Table, has made cheering and hopeful progress from year to year, since the last General Convention. Our Bishop has been unceasing in his anxious and laborious work for the extension of the Church, though altogether unusual hindrances have impeded his efforts. Nearly the whole of 1858 was a year of floods and storms. The small streams became rapid rivers, and the condition of the roads and destruction of the bridges rendered a visitation of remote parts of the Diocese next to impossible. Still Central Iowa was visited later in the season, and during the whole year the Parishes made accessible by river and railroad, were often gladdened by his presence and by his kindly encouragement and counsel.

It is needless to speak of the financial depression which has been felt everywhere. It has operated with peculiar and fatal stringency in Iowa, where, for several years the crops partially failed, and in the central portions of the State the farmers have no facilities for getting their produce to market. No class of men feel this state of things more oppressive than the clergy, and no institutions suffer more directly from it than those of religion and the Church.

The "loud and bitter cry" also, of the want of more and faithful ministers, which rises up from all parts of our extended land, ascends with peculiar emphasis and meaning from the great plains of Iowa. The people who have hitherto clustered on the wooded banks of her countless streams, are now pushing out on to the open prairies, and dotting their vast surfaces with their humble homes. Among all these are many of the children of the Church, and the Church must take care of them, or prove unfaithful to her trust. "How shall they hear without a preacher, and how shall they preach unless they be sent?"

Is there no remedy for the evils which are so urgent and daily increasing? Cannot the fathers of the Church suggest a system of itinerancy after the example of the early Apostles of Christ? Can there not be found good and earnest men to enter a duly constituted Order of Itinerants, and so seek out and save to the Church of God many of her children scattered far and wide amid the teeming multitudes of the West?

MINNESOTA.

Territory, 97,000 square miles ; Population, 175,000.

The Church in Minnesota was organized at a Convention called by the Missionary Bishop of the North West, at the request of a number of the Clergy, and held September 16th to 18th, 1857, at the city of St. Paul. Fourteen Clergymen and Lay Delegates from fourteen Parishes were present at the Convention. The Diocese of Minnesota was admitted into union at the present Convention.

The first significant Missionary work for the Church in Minnesota was that of the Rev. Messrs. Breck, Wilcoxson, and Merrick, as an Associate Mission, in 1850, under the sanction and oversight of the Missionary Bishop.

In 1853 there were five Missionary Clergy there, besides two Chaplains resident at Forts. In 1857 there were 15 Clergy, three of whom were chaplains, and two Missionaries to the Indians.

At this time there are 19 Presbyters and 2 Deacons, one of the latter "a full-blooded Chippewa."*

The Rev. Henry Benjamin Whipple, D.D., then Rector of a Church in Chicago, Ill., was unanimously elected its Bishop, at the Second Annual Convention held June 29th, 1859, and was consecrated on the 13th of October, at Richmond, Va.

EARLY OCCUPATION.

The presence of the Church was known, and its holy ministrations enjoyed in Minnesota long before its being erected into a Territory. The Rev. Ezekiel G. Gear, then and for many years before, Chaplain at Fort Snelling near * Bishop Kemper's Address.

St. Paul, the capital and focus of the Territory, made there the first movements for gathering and organizing a Parish within its limits, viz., the Parish of Christ Church, St. Paul. He represents the Diocese as one of the Deputies to this Convention.

Under the active and extended itinerancy of the Associate Mission, and soon after of the Rev. J. S. Chamberlaine, the Church was known and its blessings dispensed over a very large extent of the new Territory along with the first advances of its settlement: and advantages were thus secured and a blessing won, which can scarcely be over-estimated. The Church is everywhere known in Minnesota and respected.

Much valuable property has been acquired by the Church in virtue of this early occupation—sites for Churches, Parsonages, and Schools, and lands available for the promotion of its general weal.

For this result, the Church owes a large debt of gratitude to the Rev. Mr. Breck and his associates, and to the Rev. Mr. Chamberlaine, as well as to those whose bounty enabled them to achieve it.

The population of the State is made up very largely of the foreign element; and it is only by the infusion into this mass of the intelligent and Christian emigration from our older States—removing thither from whatever motive—that its nationality, as well as its subjection to our Lord and Saviour, through his Church, could, humanly speaking, be secured.

The first settlers were Canadian French. A very large proportion of the population is Roman Catholic—French, German, and Irish. There are large colonies of Swedes and Norwegians, and many German Lutherans. The extreme healthfulness of its climate and the fertility of its soil, have already attracted to it a population of about one hundred and seventy-five thousand; and to plant the Church everywhere among them needs only now the nursing care of our brethren in the older States for a few more years.

INSTITUTIONS AND ASSOCIATIONS.

The Minnesota Church Foundation is a Board of Trustees, organized under a Charter approved by the Convention, and accredited and regulated by Canon as the organ of the Diocese, and its Trustee and Depositary for holding and managing gifts of money and lands for the uses of the Church therein.

No lands entrusted to this Board can be alienated or appropriated, or the proceeds of the same applied, without the written consent and approval of the Bishop of the Diocese, who has also the right of visitation. Its actings and doings are open to the inspection of the Convention.

The St. Anthony Falls Mission, under the Rev. Mr. Chamberlaine, is also an incorporated Board, for like purposes, but mainly occupied with Church building.

The Associate Mission, under the Rev. Mr. Breck, first having its centre at the city of St. Paul, then for several years in the Indian Country, and now at Farribault, about fifty miles southwest from St. Paul, holds lands and buildings in the Indian Country, and also at Farribault, where a flourishing School is now in active operation, while a member of the Association resides near the Indian Country, and a Deacon (Chippewa), under his direction, occupies the Mission Station among his people.

Christ Church Orphans' Home and Hospital for Minnesota, located at St. Paul, has, under a charter, acquired some valuable property by donations for the sacred works which its title indicates.

Neither of the three last-named institutions are as yet connected with the Convention of the Diocese.

The Church property originally purchased by the Rev. Mr. Breck, with bounty entrusted to him by the Church, and held by him in trust, was by him conveyed, under the same tenure, to the Rev. Dr. Van Ingen on his removal to Minnesota, and again conveyed by the latter to a Board of Trustees, organized under a charter presented by Dr. Van Ingen to the Primary Convention, and by it approved. This Board is the Minnesota Church Foundation, referred to above, and recognized by Canon.

The Statistical Report from the Diocese is, almost necessarily, imperfect. One of the largest and most liberal Parishes has made no report of its Contributions, beyond that of a single sum for a Parochial purpose. The Journals of 1858-59 show the following:—

Confirmations, (in 1858, 107, in 1859, 109),.....	216

There is no report of contributions from St. Paul's Parish, St. Paul's, except $1,100 for Church building, although it has been the principal contributing Parish in the Diocese. The same Parish has also paid about $8,000 in the last three years for the erection of its Church edifice, which would increase the above total.

CALIFORNIA.

In February, 1857, the Right Rev. Wm. Ingraham Kip, D.D., then Missionary Bishop, was, by the unanimous vote of both Orders, represented in Convention, elected Bishop of the Diocese. He accepted in July following, and has since been its Diocesan.

It is impossible to present an exact Table of the Statistics of this Diocese from the Parochial Reports at Convention, as the annual meeting is held in the beginning of May. Five months, therefore, have elapsed since the last Statistics were collected. The following is the nearest approximation which can be made.

Ordinations.—Deacons, 4; Priests, 2; Total, 6. Candidates for Orders, 3. Clergy.—Bishop, 1; Presbyters, 11; Deacons, 2; Total, 14. Parishes, 17. Church Edifices, 9. Baptisms.—Adults, 78; Infants, 731; Total, 809. Confirmed, 291. Marriages, 305. Burials, 287. Communicants, 733. Sunday-School Teachers, 110; Scholars, 859. Collections.—Diocesan Fund, $639.00; Diocesan Missions, (one year), $705.00; General Domestic Missions, 818.79; General Foreign Missions, $76.75; Parochial Purposes, etc., $28,686.45; Total, $37,883.86.

The Episcopal Fund amounts to only $371.75, and the interest is not to be used until the principal has been increased to $10,000.

Besides the above fourteen Clergy, there is one (Rev. Dr. Hatch) laboring in this Diocese, who is canonically connected with the Diocese of Missouri.

There are two Seminaries under the influence of the Church, both situated in San Francisco. San Francisco College (for boys) is under the charge of the Rev. John Chittenden, (late of St. John's College, Cambridge), assisted by a gentlemen lately of Oxford University. St. Mary's Female Seminary is under the charge of the Rev. Dr. Ver Mehr.

The number of Communicants (733) given above, is only the number of those who are reported from the different Parishes. There are probably as many more dispersed through the State and registered in no Parishes. There are but seventeen Parishes scattered over a country nine hundred miles in extent, while in every little hamlet and mining town are found some who were Communicants of the Church at home. It will be seen, by comparing this report with that made to the General Convention in 1856, that in every particular exhibiting its strength, the Diocese has doubled in its Statistics. With fostering care from the East, so as to allow an increase of the Clergy, the same result, with God's blessing, will be attained in the next three years.

Appendix E.—1.

REPORT OF THE RIGHT REV. JACKSON KEMPER, D.D., AS MISSIONARY BISHOP FOR THE NORTH-WEST.

DEAR BRETHREN:

Since my last Report to the Church, which was dated 9th October, 1858, I have been twice to Minnesota and twice to Kansas. Both these Missionary Districts have been organized into Dioceses, and will apply as Dioceses for admission into union with the General Convention at this present Session.

Minnesota, with its bracing and healthy climate, and its intelligent population, presents a fine field for the Church. It has now twenty Clergymen, seventeen consecrated Churches, and at least twenty-two organized Parishes, with several Stations of great promise.

During the past year, dating from the last meeting of the Board of Missions, the Rev. Edward R. Welles was received into Minnesota from the Diocese of Western New York, and the Rev. John N. Fitch, from Vermont, while the Rev. D. P. Sanford was transferred to Connecticut, the Deacon the Rev. B. S. Judd, to Tennessee, and the Rev. Dudley Chase to Iowa. There are at present three Candidates for Holy Orders, viz.: George Barnhart, George C. Tanner, and Charles W. Clinton. Mr. George T. Williams was for a short time a Candidate with us, but has been transferred to the Diocese of Virginia.

I have laid with due solemnity the corner-stones of Churches to be built, at Nuuah, Anoka, Hassan (crow wood), and Red-wing.

Ninety-one persons have been confirmed. At Minneapolis, 25; at St. Cloud, 3; at Nuuah, 2; at Hassen, 7; at Northfield, 1; at Faribault, 18; at St. Peter, 1; at Shakopee, 3; at Red-wing, 11; at Stillwater, 1; at Hastings, 6; at Christ Church, in the City of St. Paul, 5; at Minnetouka Falls, 2; at Chanhassan, 3; at Belle Plaine, 2; and at St. Paul's Church, in the city of St. Paul, 10.

There have been two Ordinations. On the 23d June of this present year, I admitted, in the Church of Gethsemane, at Minneapolis, Mr. M. L. Olds to the Diaconate. At that interesting occasion the sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Gear, while the Rev. Messrs. Fitch, Jones, Gray, and Knickerbacker, were present, and took part in the solemn services. On 3d July, at Faribault, amidst circumstances of the deepest interest, the Chippewa, John Johnson Emmegabowh, became a commissioned Herald of the Cross, by the laying on of my hands. He was educated while a youth by the respectable denomination of Methodists, and has for many years been attached to the Indian Mission at Gull Lake, as interpreter, where he was under the frequent and in some respects almost daily observation of the Rev. Messrs. Breck, Peake, and Manney. As they considered him apt and meet to exercise the Ministry, I ordained him with much pleasure.

It is probably unnecessary and perhaps inexpedient to describe the present position and future prospects of the Clergy of Minnesota. Not a few of them have worked most admirably and successfully. They will soon, I trust in God, have in their midst, and for life, an apostolic Bishop of their own unanimous and hearty choice, and under whose administration, I believe, the Diocese will flourish as a garden of the Lord. Innumerable difficulties will surround him; for emigration has been checked, many a rich man has been ruined, while others have a severe struggle for bare existence. Not a few villages, once promising, are decaying. Some of the most self-sacrificing clergy are discouraged; but these gloomy times will soon cease. The natural energy of the people, with the caution and prudence they have been taught of late, will enable them to rise above their present difficulties, and I cannot but hope, and pray, and believe, that the trials to which they have been subjected for a year or two, will be overruled to their temporal and spiritual benefit.

I have alluded to the election of a Diocesan, and the earnest request, now presented to this Body, that the man of their choice may be consecrated to the arduous office of a Bishop. The contest during the election was an earnest one, conducted by men who in the fear of God thought for themselves, who were uninfluenced by any worldly considerations, and determined to elect one who, like themselves, possessed the pioneer spirit of self-sacrifice for the love of Christ. They knew the work to be of God, and therefore they believed with the faithful of olden times, that He, the great Shepherd of Israel, would provide, and I rejoice to say that the Rev. Dr. Whipple, acting from a true and deep sense of duty, accepted the office before any preparations were made for his support. Will not men who thus act for Christ and his Church be sustained and blessed?

Finding the position I held towards Kansas altogether unsatisfactory, I resigned, with all respect, the anomalous commission which I received after the close of the last General Convention, and at the same time made known to the venerable presiding Bishop, that if he would take upon himself the responsibility of that charge, I would cheerfully visit the territory for him. To my surprise he sent me, after the lapse of a few weeks, a full commission in reference to that vacant Missionary district. This was altogether unexpected, but according to a uniform rule by which I have endeavored to govern myself since I was ordained—that where the Church bids me to go, I am commanded to go by my Divine Master—I accepted the appointment without hesitation, and have endeavored to fulfill it. I was in Kansas the latter end of last October, but was prevented from doing much by incessant rains. The roads were broken up to such an extent that public conveyances were withdrawn. I returned this midsummer, and was enabled to visit every Parish and Station. The Church papers have alluded to my journeys, which were really highly interesting and gratifying. I will, therefore, merely add that, at Leavenworth City, which now contains more than twelve thousand inhabitants, I have consecrated St. Paul's Church, preached several times, administered the Lord's Supper, and confirmed eleven persons. The Rev. Hiram Stone is the Missionary. Here, too, I held an ordination. At Elwood I have preached, celebrated the Holy Communion, of which nine persons participated, and confirmed two persons. The Rev. Mr. Ryan occupies a brick parsonage. There is a church nearly finished. At Wyandott, I have consecrated St. Paul's Church, preached, confirmed four persons, and administered the Holy Eucharist. There is a brick parsonage, which the Missionary, the Rev. Mr. Nash, occupies. Near to this place is Quindaro, where we once had a Missionary. The place is decaying. At Atchison I confirmed two persons and preached. Here the Rev. Mr. Staudenmeyer officiates without any Missionary aid. At Lawrence I preached, administered the Lord's Supper to nine, consecrated Trinity Church, and assisted in the performance of some parochial duties. There is here, likewise, a brick parsonage. The Rev. Charles Reynolds not only officiates here, but with a zealous Missionary spirit, visits several places, and has lately, since my return, discovered some new and promising openings for the Church. At Waukarusa, a small settlement within the mission of Mr. Reynolds, I preached. At Lecompton I preached and confirmed three persons. Here the Rev. Mr. Ellis had officiated with acceptance for some time. I regret to state that I have been lately called upon to transfer him to Florida. At Tecumseh I preached. Here is the foundation for a Diocesan Female School. The Rev. Mr. Callaway officiates here and at Topeka, in the neighborhood of which he has a good brick parsonage. Divine service is held in the third story of a building. There was public worship at night, at which I preached, but owing to a storm of rain the audience was small. At Junction City and Fort Riley I preached on the same day, the fourth of August, and the next morning I preached at Ogden. To these places the Chaplain, the Rev. David Clarkson, devotes his attention as circumstances permit. This excellent brother, who is conscientious in the performance of his duty, and most exemplary in his conduct, had been lately attacked in a Washington City paper. Every officer at the Fort bore testimony to the utter falsehood of the charges. The infamous slanderer should be known and exposed. At Manhattan I preached and confirmed two persons. The Rev. N. O. Preston is the Missionary here, and is doing, in all respects, a good work. At Minneola I preached to a large congregation, and likewise at Prairie City on Sunday, 7th August. At this latter place I confirmed three persons who had been duly prepared by the Rev. Mr. Reynolds. With his aid, and that of the Rev. Mr. Callaway, I was enabled, by starting at three o'clock in the morning, to travel forty miles, and meet both these appointments. On 8th August I preached at Ossawatimie, on the 9th at Paola, and on the 10th at St. Marysville, Spring Hill, and Olathe.

At the request of a majority of the Clergy, I called a Convention, which assembled at Wyandott the 11th August. Twice I took the liberty of publicly advising the brethren not to organize a Diocese, but to continue a Missionary District, in full expectation that they could enjoy all the benefits which result from Episcopal visitations by the appointment, at this General Convention, of a Missionary Bishop for Nebraska and themselves. But a Diocese was desired and formed, and admission will be requested at this meeting of the General Convention. The soil of Kansas is admirably adapted to agriculture. The territory is increasing in population, and has many intelligent inhabitants, among whom there are not a few attached to the Church.

I now, with deep emotion, tender to the Church my resignation of the office of Missionary Bishop, which, unsought for, and entirely unexpected, was conferred upon me twenty-four years ago. Blessed with health, and cheered by the conviction of duty, I have been enabled to travel at all seasons through Indiana, Missouri, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Minnesota, and partly through Kansas and Nebraska.

My days must soon be numbered, for in less than three months I will be seventy years old. As age advances, I trust I have an increasing love for our Divine Master, and that Church for which he shed his most precious blood. The adorable Saviour's prayer for the unity and peace of his flock is most deeply impressed upon my mind, and truly anxious that we, the members of this branch of his mystical body, should obey his precepts and follow in his steps, I solicit that every effort that is not sanctioned by due authority, either Diocesan or general, be discouraged and abandoned. I rejoice and thank God, that with respect to the Foreign field there has been no attempt to interfere or intrude. No true Churchman would ever think of it. And why cannot every member of our Communion repose with confidence on the ability, judgment, and zeal of the General Convention and its Board of Missions? Let us all, then, throw our contributions for the Home field into the Domestic Committee. The amount placed at the disposal of that body is vastly inferior to what it ought to be. There should be thousands of dollars instead of hundreds; we should not rest satisfied until the annual receipts of the Treasury are twenty thousand dollars per month.

If any one, perhaps I, can realize the immense field of labor and final triumph that is before us. Let our Missionary Bishops be increased—let them be multiplied. The West, the mighty West, demands immediate and thorough attention. Thus far, what we have even attempted, has been but, as it were, a drop in the ocean. What ought we not to do for Pike's Peak (soon to be organized into a Territory) with its one hundred thousand inhabitants? What for New Mexico, Dacotah, Deseret, and those other vast regions, both South and West, into which the hardy emigrant is pressing, and where, I fear, before we act, there will be a million of people, and among them a goodly number who once enjoyed all the sacred privileges we now possess.

I cannot close this, my last Report, without referring to the Aborigines of our country, who deserve at our hands, intense and abiding interest, instead of neglect, injury, and destruction. They have immortal souls, precious in the sight of the Redeemer. Their minds are open to the convictions of purity and truth. We have done much, and not altogether in vain, among the Chippewas of Minnesota, and quite a number of their children are now under religious training both at Gull Lake and Faribault. But could the members of the Church have been with me among the Oneidas, on the 19th September, they would require no arguments to secure an interest in their very heart of hearts for the poor Indian. The day was exceedingly tempestuous. The faithful Missionary and myself had to ride eighteen miles through heavy rains before we were ready for divine service. The Church was entirely full. The singing, including some good chants, was excellent. The responses were general. The whole of the service was in the Oneida language, excepting the lesson and sermon, which were translated sentence by sentence. Fourteen young persons were presented for Confirmation, and were earnestly admonished to lead, henceforth, a holy life. The memorials of our dying Saviour's love were received by one hundred Communicants at the close of these solemn services, which occupied three hours; every person present, in due order, came up and shook hands with me. Now here there was most evidently, courtesy, reverence, worship, and obedience to that Great Spirit, in whose hands are the issues of life. These people had sought the Lord in his appointed ways. Surely they will find Him an all-sufficient and a gracious God. And why should there not be a hundred similar congregations among the red race of this country?

Appendix E.—2.

REPORT OF THE RIGHT REV. HENRY W. LEE, D.D., BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE OF IOWA, PERFORMING EPISCOPAL DUTIES IN THE TERRITORY OF NE- BRASKA.

The undersigned, in compliance with a Resolution of the House of Bishops, respectfully reports that in the month of November, 1856, he received a letter from the Presiding Bishop, suggesting that he perform Episcopal duties in the Territory of Nebraska, that being a portion of the Missionary jurisdiction created in 1856, and left unprovided with Episcopal oversight by the failure of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies to confirm the nomination of a Missionary Bishop, made by the House of Bishops. The Presiding Bishop did not regard himself as authorized by the Canon to divide the jurisdiction created by the House of Bishops, or to make a formal appointment of a Bishop to perform Episcopal duties in said jurisdiction. Under these circumstances, the undersigned consented to perform Episcopal service as requested, no one having canonical jurisdiction, and he, therefore, having as much as any.

Acting under this informal arrangement, the undersigned has visited the Territory of Nebraska at various points, and exercised a general supervision over the few Parishes and Clergymen within its borders.

I have confirmed two persons in Trinity Parish, Omaha City, and one in Florence, and laid the corner-stone of Trinity Church in the first-named place, besides preaching and delivering addresses on these and other occasions. I have visited Plattsmouth and Nebraska City. In the place last named, a church is now in process of erection, as well as at Omaha City. The Rev. Eli Adams is officiating at Nebraska City, and the Rev. George W. Watson, at Omaha City. Besides these, the only other Clergy in the Territory are the Chaplains at Forts Kearney and Laramie; though the Rev. Melanethon Hoyt, of Sioux City, Iowa, at my request, performs occasional services in those portions of the Territory adjacent to his more immediate field of labor. The towns of Nebraska, with a very few exceptions, are as yet small settlements; and though many more Missionaries might be most usefully employed throughout this vast domain, it has been deemed inexpedient to attempt any general organization of Parishes until more favorable circumstances shall warrant the appointment of additional laborers. The Domestic Committee have felt unable to make any special appropriations for this Territory, and hence it has been impracticable to increase the small number of Missionaries who are there holding forth the Word of Life; those now in the field being chiefly sustained by funds designated for that purpose by the Missionary Association for the West, and passed through the Treasury of the Domestic Committee. The Territory is but sparsely settled, and during the past two years emigration has been much diminished. Pecuniary embarrassment has sadly crippled the energies of the people, and a combination of circumstances has prevented a vigorous prosecution of the work of Church extension.

Through the liberality of various individuals, and of the Sunday-School of St. George's Church, New York, a Fund has been given for Church purposes in Nebraska, a portion of which has already been applied for Church building, the remainder being held in trust for the objects in view.

It is the earnest hope of the undersigned that he may be speedily relieved of his charge of Nebraska, which he undertook with reluctance, and the duties of which he has most imperfectly performed.

HENRY W. LEE,

Oct. 7, 1859.

Appendix C.—3.

REPORT OF THE RIGHT REV. JAMES H. OTEY, D.D., ACTING MISSIONARY BISHOP OF ARKANSAS.

The undersigned, acting under the authority of a commission from the Right Rev. Thomas C. Brownell, D.D., LL.D., Presiding Bishop, has, since May, 1858, performed the duties assigned to him under the Canons of the Church. He begs leave to refer to his annual report to the Domestic Committee of Missions for the detail of official acts in his visitations.

There are five Clergymen regularly settled over Parishes in Arkansas, viz.:

The Rev. Otis Hackett at Old-river-lake village in Chicot County. The congregation to which he ministers are intelligent, wealthy, and liberal. They have purchased a parsonage for their minister, which is now occupied by him. They have made ample provision for the support of himself and family, and have also taken the necessary measures for erecting a house of worship, which will probably be finished and ready for occupation by the winter.

The Rev. Wm. Binet has charge of the congregation at Van Buren. The necessity of a church edifice is deeply felt here, the building now used for worship being entirely too small to accommodate the congregation. Accordingly, measures have been taken to collect funds for the erection of a Church, and the effort for that purpose seems, from information last received, to have excited much interest and met with considerable success.

The Rev. John Sandels has been transferred from the Diocese of Tennessee, and has taken charge of the Church and congregation at Fayetteville. He is greatly encouraged in his work, which includes the establishment of a school, for the foundation and endowment of which the late Bishop Freeman manifested a deep interest, and for which he labored earnestly during the last three years of his life.

The Rev. Wm. Eppes has been transferred from Florida to my missionary jurisdiction, and has taken charge of the Church at Camden, formerly under the care of the late Rev. Mr. McHugh. He is laboring with much encouragement, in the evidences of interest manifested by his people in his work. It was my purpose to visit that part of Arkansas last May, and made my appointments accordingly. A severe illness prevented me from accomplishing my object.

The Rev. John T. Wheat, D.D., has accepted the charge of Christ Church, Little Rock, upon the call of the Vestry. He has been transferred, within the last few days, by the Bishop of North Carolina, to my jurisdiction. His labors have been very acceptable to the congregation, and given promise of great usefulness.

The Rev. Wm. Stout has been transferred from the Diocese of Mississippi to Arkansas, and has settled at Little Rock. He has no parochial charge, but performs Missionary labors wherever opportunity presents itself. He has been a liberal contributor to the Missionary Funds expended in Arkansas, and given much personal labor to the work of preaching the Gospel at different places, and "strengthening the things that remain."

The Rev. John Burke and the Rev. Daniel McManus are Chaplains in the United States Army; but having received no report from them, as the Canons require, I do not know at what station they officiate.

The Rev. F. W. Boyd has been laboring during the last spring and summer at Helena. He has as yet presented no letters dimissory, changing his canonical residence, for the reason that his settlement at Helena was made contingent upon the erection of a Church edifice by the Vestry. The Vestry have not felt themselves able yet to undertake that work.

There are several places which can be readily made Missionary Stations, where the people make liberal offers to support the Ministry. See Report to Domestic Committee.

I have ordained one Deacon since I took charge of the Mission, the Rev. David Margot, and have since transferred him to the Diocese of New York.

I have also transferred the Rev. John H. D. Wingfield to the Diocese of Virginia; and the Rev. Andrew F. Freeman, late Rector of Christ Church, Little Rock, to the Diocese of Georgia.

I have admitted to the list of Candidates for Holy Orders, Mr. Langstroth, resident at Little Rock. He is at present the only Candidate in the State. In December last, with the rites and solemnities prescribed, I consecrated, at the request of the Rector, Wardens, and Vestry, Christ Church, enlarged by the addition of nearly one half to its former dimensions, and the entire reconstruction of the chancel, to the worship of God.

Many considerations lead me to remark that the whole of Arkansas seems to be a field for Missionary labor, now "white unto harvest." From very many places the cry comes earnestly, repeatedly, "Come over and help us," and that with assurances of reasonable support for the helpers. Hitherto few appear to regard the call.

The necessity of Episcopal supervision is obvious, and is earnestly demanded. I trust that the General Convention will take measures to relieve me from this charge at the earliest possible moment—a charge which I have managed very inadequately, considering its magnitude, and to which my own Diocesan engagements, and the increasing infirmities of age, render me unequal.

JAMES H. OTEY, Acting Miss. Bishop.

REPORT OF THE RIGHT REV. THOMAS FIELDING SCOTT, D.D., MISSIONARY BISHOP OF OREGON.

October 7, 1859.

FATHERS AND BRETHREN :

In obedience to the Canon, I proceed to give a brief account of the condition of the work entrusted to my oversight, within the last three years.

It will be remembered that until the close of 1855, there were but two Clergymen engaged with me in that wide field, and one of these a Chaplain in the army. Then a young brother, a Deacon, was added to the number. In May, 1856, a Candidate was admitted to Deacon's Orders, with limited qualifications, who still devoted most of his time to providing for the support of his family. Within a few weeks from that date, two others were added to our list, one a Deacon of limited qualifications, and the other so disabled by wounds received on his way as to be entirely unfit for ministerial duty. Such was our Clerical force at the meeting of General Convention in 1856.

Up to that time we had erected three Houses of worship, small, indeed, but substantial, and sufficient for our wants. We had also, by the kindness of our brethren, purchased a suitable property for a Diocesan School for Boys, and had commenced its exercises.

Shortly after my return from General Convention, the Rev. John-ston McCormac, the Deacon first alluded to above, was admitted to the Priesthood, and I found the Rev. John Sellwood so far recovered as to be engaged, to a limited extent, in the duties of the Ministry. He has gradually regained strength, so as to officiate twice on each Sunday, besides attending Sunday-School. No addition has been made to the number of our Clergy during the past three years.

It is unnecessary for me to give a detailed statement of my own labors, as these have been reported to the Board of Missions from time to time, and published in the "SPIRIT OF MISSIONS." My time has been occupied in frequent visits to the several places where the Missionaries hold stated services; in exploring other parts of the field where we have been unable, for want of laborers, to establish services, and in supplying some other points within my reach, with occasional ministrations. One Church edifice has been built and consecrated, St. Mary's Church, Eugene City, and the Rev. Mr. McCormac occupies that Station.

At the several places where we have stated services, the prospects are decidedly promising. All things considered, the number of Baptisms and Confirmations has been encouraging. For instance, at Portland, four adults have been baptized, and eleven persons have been confirmed. At Milwaukie and Oswego two adults have been baptized and two confirmed—two others having been confirmed elsewhere. At Champoeg two adults have been baptized and five have been confirmed, At Salem, five adults have been baptized and ten have been confirmed. And at Eugene city, our newly-occupied Station, four have been confirmed. These were nearly all heads of families, and in six instances, husband and wife were confirmed side by side.

Another house of worship is under contract to be finished this Fall, viz., at Butteville, and I trust this will be speedily followed by another at Champoeg. This will give the Rev. Mr. Fackler suitable accommodations at these two points, with promise of extended usefulness. Recently, also, a building was purchased, with its lots, in the town of Vancouver, where Dr. McCarty holds Sunday-School in the afternoon, and service at night, on each Lord's Day. This building, with small expense, is converted into a very comfortable chapel for the large and attentive congregation who attend upon it.

Not only is the sphere of our labors gradually enlarging, but it is safe to say that as the Church becomes known, and its services understood, the way is being prepared for larger accessions to our numbers and greater permanency in all our institutions. Nor must I fail to add, as an additional ground of encouragement towards this permanent growth, that it is built upon the faithful preaching of the Gospel. So far as I know, or believe, the brethren do preach "Christ crucified" as the one only Saviour, and salvation by his grace as the only hope of the world. As the result of this preaching, we have enjoyed many evidences of the Spirit's power in the conversion of sinners to the knowledge and love of the truth. Some of my visitations, embracing several days of visiting and service, have been peculiarly refreshing, as seasons of deep spiritual interest. We have also distributed and put into use a large number of Prayer Books, Tracts, and other religious books.

In the summer of 1857, by the request of the Bishop of London, I visited Victoria, Vancouver's Island, and confirmed nineteen persons presented for that rite by the Rev. M. Cridge. Services were held daily for eight days, and it was altogether a most interesting season. Now that a Bishop has been provided for British Columbia, and the means furnished for sustaining a number of Clergymen for that District, I look forward to a pleasant intercourse and fraternal co-operation with them in doing the work of our common Master on the Pacific coast.

Under the faithful labors of the Rev. John Sellwood, often beyond his physical strength, Trinity Church, Portland, is now prepared to assume its own support, and I trust they will shortly have a settled Rector. We greatly need some additional laborers to occupy several points, as centres of Missionary effort. As a means of aiding to furnish them on the ground, and to supply the many others who are to be workers together with them, we are anxious to add to our Diocesan School a department for training young men for the ministry. With this instrumentality, we might hope, by-and-by, to furnish our own laborers.

I am painfully conscious that the results of my ministry, so far as they can be put in figures, are not flattering. You will judge for yourselves how far they are otherwise as beginnings, as foundations, as sowings from which more abundant reapings may be hereafter gathered. The amount of travel necessarily involved is, I confess, a weariness to the flesh. Those who can speedily visit every part of their Dioceses, holding services several times a day, can form little idea of the loss of time involved in journeying for days together in order to hold one service. This suggests the propriety of taking measures, at the earliest practicable period, to place a portion of the Territory now under my jurisdiction, under that of another appointed for that purpose. This would not only give to Washington Territory a more efficient Episcopal supervision, but enable me to devote my own time to much better purpose in the State of Oregon.

Asking the continuance of your prayers and fostering care in prosecuting this arduous work in so important a portion of the domestic field.

I am, very truly,

Your servant and Brother,

THOMAS F. SCOTT.

To the General Convention, etc., Richmond, Va.

REPORT OF THE RIGHT REV. WM. JONES BOONE, D.D., MISSIONARY BISHOP TO CHINA.

Since my last Report great changes have taken place in the East, in India, and China, and Japan.

In India a great rebellion has broken forth, and been put down by the strong hand of power; the highest civil and military officers are crying out that the Gospel must be recognized and sustained; the East India Company has ceased to exist; the old dread of interfering with the superstitions of the natives is passing away; and the people of England, upon whom the government of the country has now devolved, are awakening to the great responsibility of having one hundred and eighty millions of heathen subjects imposed upon them, and are preparing to make there a vigorous onslaught on the strongholds of heathenism. A great work God is there giving to the English Church, and we should deeply sympathize with them in the noble effort they are making to discharge their duty in India.

In China a complete revolution has taken place in the policy of the Government towards foreign nations. The Emperor has entered into Treaties with the four great nations of the West, Russia, the United States, England, and France. In each of these Treaties an entire article has been set apart to the subject of Christianity.

In the American Treaty the Emperor "recognizes the Christian Religion as teaching men to do good, to do to others as they would have others do to them." In the Russian Treaty he commends Christian Missionaries as "good men, who seek no material advantages for themselves, permits them to propagate the doctrines of Christianity among his subjects, and allows them to pass everywhere in the country." In the French Treaty he "grants to the members of all Christian Communions full security for their persons, their property, and the free exercise of their religious worship; and to Missionaries who peaceably enter the country, entire protection, if furnished with passports."

By the clause of our Treaty which secures to Americans all the privileges conferred on the most favored nations, we are entitled to all the privileges granted by the Russian, French, and English Treaties, as well as our own. It will therefore be seen, by putting these Treaties together, that we are allowed to enter the country to propagate the doctrines of Christianity among the Chinese, to pass everywhere without molestation, and, wonderful to say, wherever we go, into whatever village or town, we have the Emperor of China himself to introduce us and our work: we can read from the Russian Treaty his commendation of ourselves as "good men, who seek no material advantages for themselves," and from the American, "his recognition of the religion of Jesus as good," and proceed from this to show them why they should regard it as the very best gift that ever came down from Heaven to earth.

Was ever such vantage ground given before in the history of the world to preach the Gospel in a heathen empire?

In Japan we have noticed the greatest revolution of all. Secluded from foreign intercourse for more than two hundred years, it has suddenly thrown aside its exclusive policy, and admitted foreigners to reside within its territory, and to trade at its Ports. It has pleased God to use the might and power of these United States to open this country to foreign intercourse; and what a debt of gratitude do we owe to our Heavenly Father, that He enabled us to do this without firing a gun, or staining our hands with a single drop of Japanese blood.

I believe that God is going to throw the evangelization of Japan mainly on these United States. It was a United States squadron, under Commodore Perry, that first slipped in our entering wedge, after that country had shut out all foreign intercourse for more than two hundred years. It was an American Consul-General who there recently negotiated a treaty, so complete in all its parts, that the Ambassadors of England, Russia, and France, who followed after him with Navies at their heels, had nothing to do but to copy it. And yet we are informed that Mr. Harris had not seen one of our ships of war for more than a twelvemonth, when he went up unaided and alone to Yeddo, and negotiated that treaty.

These dispensations of God's providence in the East have stirred up the heart of all Christendom. The Romanists have determined to send out one hundred Missionaries to China. The Church of England is calling loudly for men to go to India. A single Congregation of the Dutch Church in the city of New York have sent out three Missionaries to Japan, and have pledged themselves to sustain them there. Two members of that Congregation have each taken upon himself the support of a Missionary—an example worthy to be held up before the eyes of the Laity of our Church.

Our Foreign Committee, I am happy to report, were not unmoved by these great doings in the East. As soon as they heard of the invitation of the Prince of Satzuma, who is the Governor of Nagasaki, to Mr. Syle to come to that place, and his offer to him, through his interpreter, of a house for himself and his family if he would come, they unanimously resolved to establish at once a Mission to Japan; and they selected two of our Chinese Missionaries, Messrs. Liggins and Williams, men admirably suited for this work by three years' training in our Mission at Shanghai, and commissioned them to go forthwith to Nagasaki as our Apostles to Japan. These brethren are placed under my jurisdiction, until other provision is made for their superintendence.

The fact, however, which affords me the greatest pleasure to report to you, is that our Foreign Committee have resolved largely to increase our Mission to China, and that God in his Providence has provided both the men and means for this object.

They have appointed Rev. H. M. Parker, Rev. Thomas S. Yocom, Rev. Elliott H. Thomson, Rev. D. D. Smith, Rev. S. I. J. Schereschewsky, Rev. Henry Purdon, Mr. James T. Doyen, Mr. Edward Hubbell, and Mrs. Jane Doyen to the China Mission. And all these brethren, with Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Yocom, Mrs. Smith, and Mrs. Doyen, expect to sail (D. V.) with Mrs. Boone and myself in the ship Golden Rule, on the 13th inst.

Of my personal doings and official acts, I have not much to report, having been obliged by ill health to leave my field of labor and return to this country in 1857.

January 11th, 1857, being the First Sunday after Epiphany, I ordained Rev. John Liggins and Rev. Channing Moore Williams to the Order of the Priesthood. In the year 1857 I confirmed five persons.

Since my return to this country, I have officiated once at a Confirmation, and twice in the Ordination Service. 1st April, 1859, by permission of the late Bishop Doane, of New Jersey, I held a Confirmation in Grace Church, Orange, and confirmed Hay Kway, a Chinese who accompanied me to this country, and my own son William, a lad of thirteen.

July 7th, at St. George's Church, New York, by permission of Bishop Potter, the Provisional Bishop of the Diocese, I held an Ordination, and ordained Elliott H. Thomson, Dudley D. Smith, Samuel I. J. Schereschewsky, and Henry Purdon, Deacons.

July 10th, being the Third Sunday after Trinity, I held a special Ordination in the Church of the Ascension, New York, and ordained Henry M. Parker Deacon. I have not received any report of the baptisms in China during the last year.

We have 1 Bishop, 3 Presbyters, 8 Deacons—6 Americans and 2 Chinese; 12 female Missionaries, 7 married and 5 single; 4 Candidates for Orders, 2 Americans and two Chinese. This account supposes that Mr. Liggins and Mr. Williams have gone to Japan.

In reviewing the past three years, we have ground for great encouragement, both from what God has been doing for China, and from His blessing upon the efforts that have been made to enlist men and means for His service.

I trust we shall be willing and anxious to enter in more and more at this open door, until the sweet savor of the Saviour's name shall be spread throughout the eighteen Provinces of the China Empire.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. J. BOONE,

New York, 12th July, 1859. Missionary Bishop to China.
To the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States.

REPORT FOR THE YEARS 1856, 1857, 1858, OF THE RT. REV. JOHN PAYNE, D.D., MISSIONARY BISHOP TO AFRICA.

Three years' history is an eventful chapter in the life of a Congregation, or a Church, whether in a Christian or heathen land. If united by faith to Christ, the living Head, there must be fellowship with the life of Christ, in all the phases in which that life is manifested, in the mortal bodies of His militant Church. There must be a "filling up of that which is behind of the sufferings of Christ," "the accomplishment of the same afflictions that are in the world," "the good fight of faith," the long patience of Him who "shall not fail nor be discouraged," with the effectual working of grace to sustain and comfort the believer, and the successful preaching of the Gospel, converting sinners and extending the Redeemer's kingdom.

Such, at least, has been the life of the African Mission in the period of which I now report.

Although in view of the great unoccupied field before us, the number of such laborers has been small, God has continued to cheer us from time to time by accessions of foreign Missionaries and Assistants, while in the field itself, the Corps of Colonist and Native Ministers, Catechists and Teachers, has constantly increased. In the present advanced stage of our operations, all who engage in the service of the African Mission are, of course, fully aware beforehand of the privations and dangers attending it; and cheerfully have our beloved fellow laborers met them, as sent by God. Some, after making trial of the climate, found themselves unfit for it, and properly returned to the United States. Others, after different terms of faithful labor, have been taken to receive the faithful laborer's reward.

Of these, Mrs. Virginia Hoffman, and Miss Isabella Alley, died of consumption in March and September, 1856. Rev. H. Holcomb was cut down in the vigor of manhood, after one year's service in 1857. While Mrs. Anna M. Payne peacefully passed away in the midst of those whom she had been training in the knowledge and practice of our holy religion for twenty years, in 1858. Nor has it been only the ranks of the foreigners that death has invaded. In the death of Mr. A. W. Tubman, a beloved teacher, and Candidate for Orders, the Mission has lost one of the most promising of her children.

In what has "come upon it from without" too, the Mission has been severely tried. Towards the close of 1856, the Colony at Cape Palmas and the natives around it, both the objects of our constant care and efforts, became involved in deadly strife. Native towns and villages were burned, and their inhabitants driven into the forests. Colonist homes too, and our earliest station at Mt. Vaughan, were destroyed, and a number of Colonists killed. For a season, the whole region was threatened with war. But He who "maketh wars to cease unto the ends of the earth," interposed. In two short months peace was restored. And in about a year, our loss at Mt. Vaughan was more than repaired, in a noble building for the High School, provided by the liberality of the Mission's friends in this country. And through all, and by all, "the word of God grew and multiplied."

In proceeding to give a detailed report of the work committed to my oversight, I shall do so under a twofold division, which will need to be more and more regarded by the Church as our operations enlarge, namely, that of Colonist and Native.

By Colonist, I of course refer to efforts for the emigrants from this country to Liberia, their descendants and the natives living in their families. These, together, make a population of about fifteen thousand, distributed in five principal settlements, along 300 miles of coast. As emigrants from this country, they have always seemed to me as much to claim our consideration as any part of the population of our own country. But for several other reasons they especially need attention.

Perhaps no Colony was ever planted under greater disadvantages than Liberia. Of the settlers, comparatively few could read, and still fewer possessed sufficient property even to make themselves comfortable. Under such circumstances, they had placed on them the grave responsibility of establishing and sustaining their political, educational, and religious institutions.

Our American Colonies, with so much greater advantages of education and wealth, for near two hundred years needed and received the fostering care of the mother country. How much more this infant Liberian Colony of less than forty years, must need the assistance of the religious and philanthropic in the United States!

It has been gratifying to observe that our own Church has ever appreciated this view, and generously responded to appeals in behalf of the Colony. Thus the Sunday-School of St. George's Church, New York, has nobly raised some twelve thousand dollars for Trinity Church, Monrovia, now nearly completed. Grace Church, Clay-Ashland, fifteen miles from Monrovia, on the St. Paul's River, was built by funds specially contributed. A portion of the sum necessary to erect a Church at Bassa Cove, was also raised, which it is hoped will ere long be completed. At Sinoe, a small Church has been provided in a similar manner. While at Cape Palmas, St. Mark's Church was built several years ago with funds chiefly from the Diocese of Maryland, and is now being enlarged by means again raised in this country. At Cape Palmas, also, the Orphan Asylum and High School, both for Colonists, with fine buildings, and boarding scholars, supported by friends in this country, are noble monuments of the readiness and zeal of the Church to sustain efforts especially intended for the Colonies. Indeed, we apprehend there is but one sentiment on this subject.

It was cause of thankfulness, therefore, when several years ago we were authorized to extend our operations to the principal Liberian settlements, as it is now that we can report a steady improvement wherever well directed efforts have been made.

At five points, Congregations have been organized, namely, Cape Palmas, Sinoe, Bassa Cove, Monrovia, and Clay-Ashland.

In St. Mark's Church, Cape Palmas, the Rector reports at the close of last year, eighty-two Colonist Communicants, and eleven Confirmations. Connected with this Church is a Parish School of twenty-five boys, and a Female School of thirty. In the Orphan Asylum are twenty-six girls, supported, with the Institution in general, by a Female Association in Philadelphia. At the High School, are sixteen boarding scholars, sustained also by friends in the United States, while a number are allowed to attend the Institution as day scholars.

The active Rector of St. Mark's and of the Orphan Asylum, is now engaged in erecting a Hospital in the immediate neighborhood of the Asylum. This Institution is in part for Colonists; but it is also designed for invalid natives, and foreigners of all nations visiting the Port of Cape Palmas, and therefore appeals to the philanthropic and Christian everywhere, who may be interested in Africa.

At Sinoe, ninety miles above Cape Palmas, the Congregation is smaller than at any other point. It was designed that Rev. H. Greene, placed here in 1856 in the room of Rev. T. A. Pinckney, returned to the United States, should give his attention chiefly to the work of education, so much needed in the community. There is also a wide field for him amongst the natives around the Colony. I made a visitation to this Station in May 1856 and 1858. On the latter occasion I confirmed six persons.

Bassa Cove. The interests of this Station have suffered by changes. In 1856, Rev. Mr. Rambo was compelled by ill health to leave for the United States. Since that time, Mr. R. McMorine, Colonist Catechist, and Mr. A. Tubman, Teacher, have faithfully labored to sustain religious services and a school. I visited this Station in 1856, when I confirmed nine persons. And again in May 1858, when I confirmed eleven. On the latter occasion, I examined the region lying along the Mecklin River, to the distance of thirty miles; I found it undulating and mountainous, densely populated by native Bassas, and every way a most important and inviting Missionary field.

Monrovia. At this place, is the Congregation of Trinity Church, for which a fine Church building is now in course of erection. Various untoward events have retarded the Church building and growth of the Congregation. But it is hoped and believed, that under the efficient services of the present Minister, Rev. G. W. Gibson, both will now advance. In my two visitations made to Monrovia in May 1856 and 1858, on the former occasion I admitted Rev. H. Greene to the Order of Presbyters, and confirmed eight persons; and on the latter, I confirmed nine persons. At this place, Miss G. Williams continues to teach efficiently a school of 35 to 45 children. The long cherished plan of erecting a Mission House at this Station, has not yet been carried out for lack of funds. Would that God might put it in the hearts of some benevolent friends to give two thousand dollars for this purpose!

Clay-Ashland, fifteen miles above Monrovia, is one of the most populous agricultural districts in Liberia. But owing to the irregularity in the services in Grace Church, and other untoward events, the Congregation here has not increased as was reasonably to be expected. This place, like Monrovia, was visited by me in 1856 and 1858. On the former occasion, I consecrated Grace Church, and confirmed six persons. On the latter, I confirmed nine persons. This church is still under the pastoral care of Rev. A. F. Russell. Mr. Russell also preaches occasionally at other points in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Caroline De Coursey continues to teach here a day school of about thirty scholars.

NATIVE DEPARTMENT.

On the upper waters of the St. Paul's River, in Mesurado County, on the Mecklin River, in Bassa County, and around Sinoe, there are everywhere wide-opened doors for the spread of the Gospel amongst the natives. And when our Stations at these points shall have been strengthened, or God shall have poured out upon our Colonist brethren a greater zeal for the salvation of their kindred after the flesh, it is hoped these doors will be entered by many. Thus far, God does not grant this honor to our Mission. And, therefore, in reporting of operations amongst the natives, I must speak as formerly of Cape Palmas and parts immediately adjacent.

The Stations here along the Coast, remain very much as when I last reported to the General Convention. For details, therefore, I beg leave to refer to my Report to the Board of Missions, and to general Statistics given below. In reviewing this portion of the field, while there may not perhaps have been as many adult baptisms as in former years, there has been a very marked change produced in the popular mind in favor of Christianity. This, in connection with the preaching of the Word, is attributable to two causes. The first of these was the impotence of greegrees to protect in war, as manifested in the late collision between Colonists and natives. It was soon after this, that in visiting Rocktown and Fishtown, hundreds of these vanities were given me to be burned up. The other cause was a disastrous expedition to a famous oracle some two hundred miles in the interior. In this case, the members of the expedition were killed or enslaved. A deep and wide-spread conviction of the utter vanity of idols, and that God was fighting against them, followed these events.

INTERIOR STATIONS.

A very general desire has been long felt in the Church that Stations might be opened in the interior. In this the Missionaries have always shared; but only the latter have been aware of the difficulties in accomplishing this object. The Tribes all along the coast of Africa act as commission merchants for those of the interior: or, rather, they make large profits on the latter, owing to their ignorance of the real value of the foreign articles in which they barter. Simply on this ground, the Coast people everywhere oppose foreigners going in the interior. It was thus that we were prevented for years from reaching the mountain regions north of Cape Palmas. Indeed, we only succeeded at last by establishing a chain of Stations along up the Cavalla River, thus removing prejudice, until we arrived at the point where we hope to find a healthy interior Station. And, most remarkably, just as this was accomplished, the Bohlen legacy of $25,000 was announced, enabling us to occupy (as we hope, efficiently) the interesting position hereafter to be known as Bohlen Station.

Our operations thus extend along 300 miles of coast and 90 miles interior, with every opportunity of occupying other Stations as fast as the Lord of the harvest shall send forth laborers into his harvest.

The progress of the African Mission, especially regarding the Colonist department of its operations, suggests the inquiry, Is it not time for the General Convention to adopt some measures with a view to its fuller organization?

All Missionary operations must of course be considered preparatory to such organization. This view is well expressed in a Paper of the Church Missionary Society:

“Regarding the ultimate object of a Mission, viewed under its ecclesiastical aspect, to be the settlement of a Native Church, under Native Pastors, upon a self-supporting system, it should be borne in mind that the progress of a Mission mainly depends upon the training up and location of Native Pastors; and that when a Missionary, surrounded by well-trained Native Congregations, under Native Pastors, is able to resign all pastoral work into their hands, then to relax his superintendence over the Pastors themselves, till it insensibly ceases, and so the Mission passes into a settled Christian community,—then, as it has been happily expressed, ‘the euthanasia of a Mission takes place,’ and the Missionary and all his Mission agency should be transferred to ‘the regions beyond.’”

The happy consummation of Missionary efforts here referred to would be reached in a civilized community, like Liberia, much sooner than amongst Natives. But, even with the former, time must be allowed for gathering well-trained Congregations, inasmuch as but few of the emigrants were members of the Episcopal Church before emigrating to Africa. It is respectfully suggested, therefore, might not the other feature referred to above—namely, the self-supporting period—be adopted by the General Convention as the index of the preparation of the Liberian Churches for Diocesan organization, and some legislation be inaugurated on that basis.

I would beg leave further to suggest that the General Convention amend the Canon on Foreign Missionary Bishops, or else make an additional Canon to provide for the Trial of a Clergyman connected with a Foreign Mission. Such Canons are now provided by the several Dioceses, and of course somewhat differ. The Convention will therefore perceive our difficulty where no Diocesan organization exists, and no Canon to meet the case is provided.

Very respectfully submitted,

JOHN PAYNE,

Miss'y Bishop of the P. E. Church, U. S. America, at Cape Palmas, and parts adjacent.

The course of instruction has not materially changed. The Trustees refer to the Reports of the Committees appointed to attend each Examination of the Students, which show the thoroughness of the instruction, and express the satisfaction of meeting, in the discharge of their duty, evidences of the superior advantages which Students enjoy in the Seminary to fit them for their high and holy calling.

The revision of the whole course of instruction, for the consideration of which a Committee was appointed, as mentioned in the last Report, has not yet been completed. The Committee made a Report in June, 1857, accompanied by letters from the Professors, containing suggestions as to changes and improvements in the course of instruction, and which were all printed in the Proceedings for that year. The Board then passed certain resolutions embracing modifications and changes suggested in the Report, but suspended further action thereon until the whole matter had been reconsidered and perfected by the Committee to whom it was again referred. Since that time, the Committee have not been able to perfect the subject entrusted to them so as to make their final Report.

The Board have not yet made an appointment to the Professorship of Pastoral Theology and Pulpit Eloquence. The financial condition of the Seminary made this delay a matter of prudence. The studies in this department have not, however, been neglected. Professors Johnson and Mahan have given such instruction therein as was compatible with their other duties; and the Rt. Rev. the Provisional Bishop of New York, on the invitation of the Faculty, kindly consented to lecture to the students on the Ministry of the Church and on Pastoral Duties. For the valuable services thus rendered, the Board have expressed to him their thanks.

The Board report with sadness the death, in April of the present year, of the Rev. Bird Wilson, D.D., LL.D., who for thirty years was actively engaged in promoting the interests of the Seminary as Professor of Systematic Divinity. After a long and faithful service, he resigned his office in 1850, and was immediately appointed Emeritus Professor, as an expression by the Trustees of their deep sense of the untiring fidelity with which his valuable services had been rendered, and of the just claim which they conferred to an honorable retirement. The Board, at their last annual meeting, recorded their high estimate of his character and worth.

The buildings and grounds of the Seminary are in good condition. They are examined by a Committee for that purpose every year, so that any deficiency or necessary repair reported by them may be attended to. They have had for many years the watchful supervision of James N. Wells, Esq., to whom the Board are indebted for close attention to their care and preservation.

There have been no alterations made to the Statutes since the last Triennial Report.

The Board of Trustees have had under consideration the amendments proposed by the last General Convention to the Third and Fourth Articles of the Constitution of the General Theological Seminary, and have given to them that deliberate examination which their great importance might well demand. At the first meeting after the General Convention, the Board referred these Amendments to a select Committee of nine to consider and report thereon. The Report of this Committee was made to the Board at the next Annual Meeting (1858), and shows how fully the proposed Amendments were examined in their legal and moral bearings on the welfare and prosperity of the Institution. So satisfactory did the conclusions at which the Committee arrived appear, that the resolution of non-concurrence passed unanimously. Copies of the Report are among the Documents transmitted for the information of the General Convention.

The following were the Resolutions passed by the Board :

Resolved, That this Board of Trustees cannot, either on legal or moral grounds, concur in the changes in the Third and Fourth Articles of the Constitution of this Seminary, as proposed by the General Convention of 1856.

Resolved, That the Secretary of this Board transmit a copy of the above Resolution, and of the preceding Report, to both Houses of the next General Convention."

The Board have also had under consideration, at their late Triennial Meeting, two subjects which it is proper should be embraced in this Report. The first relates to the Third Article of the Constitution, which declares :

"The Trustees shall be resident in the Dioceses from which they are appointed;" and also "Upon the removal of any Trustee from the Diocese from which he shall have been appointed, his office shall thenceforth be vacated, and the Board of Trustees shall have power to supply the vacancy, pursuant to the provisions of the Third Article of this Constitution."

Upon the Report of a Committee appointed to consider what constitutes "residence" in this Article (which Report will be found in the printed Proceedings of the Triennial Meeting), the Board passed the following Resolutions :

Resolved, as the sense of this Board, that a Diocesan Convention should nominate only such persons as Trustees of this Institution as are actually and personally resident, in a civil sense, within the Territorial limits of the Diocese at the time of their nomination."

Resolved, That a Trustee, losing his domicil, or civil residence, within the territorial limits of the Diocese from which he was appointed, is no longer entitled to a seat in this Board as a Trustee from said Diocese."

The other subject considered at the late Triennial Meeting, had reference to the "Practicability and Expediency of removing the location of the Seminary beyond the limits of the City of New York."

A Committee appointed to consider this subject, reported in full to the Board at their late Triennial Meeting ; which Report will be found in the printed Proceedings.

The following Resolutions were passed by the Board :—

Resolved, That the Committee on the Removal of the Seminary be continued, and empowered, in conjunction with the Treasurer and Finance Committee, to treat with our venerable Emeritus Professor, Clement C. Moore, LL.D., for the payment of the mortgage of seven thousand three hundred and twenty dollars, given to him by this Board in June, 1834, upon the Block upon which the Seminary stands, and procure a discharge and satisfaction thereof from him ; and that the fund called the 'Personal Estate,' referred to by the Finance Committee in June last, or so much of it as shall be necessary, is hereby appropriated for that purpose.

Resolved, That it be referred to the Committee on the Removal of the Seminary, to consider further the necessity and expediency of such removal ; and also the best mode of providing for the accommo-dition of the Professors and Students; and to suggest a proper location for the Seminary in case it shall be deemed expedient to remove it; and to report to the next meeting of the Board."

In conclusion, the Trustees, while they express their gratitude to Almighty God for what has already been accomplished by the General Theological Seminary, in training so many faithful, wise, and devoted sons to build up and strengthen the Church in this land, express also the fervent hope that a greater share of the Divine blessing is yet in store for it in the future; and the earnest prayer that the wisdom which is from above may so guide all who are to direct or counsel the administration of its affairs, that it may attain its great objects—the promotion of the glory of God, and the spiritual and eternal welfare of man.

All which is respectfully submitted.

By order of the Board of Trustees,

EDWARD N. MEAD,

Secretary.

Concerning Proposed Changes in Articles III., VI., of the Constitution Governing the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States.

To the Secretary of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

REV. AND DEAR SIR:

In compliance with the order of the Convention of the Diocese of New York, I transmit herewith a copy of the Resolutions passed by said Convention on this twenty-ninth day of September, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, respecting certain Proposed Changes in Articles III., VI., of the "Constitution of the General Church," communicated by the Secretary of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, to the Provisional Bishop of this Diocese, and by him laid before the Convention of the Diocese of New York.

I remain yours very respectfully,

WILLIAM E. EIGENBRODT,
Secretary of the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New York.

New York.
Sep., 29, 1859.

To the Secretary of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

THIS CERTIFIES,

That on the 29th day of September, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New York, then assembled in the City of New York, passed the following Resolutions:

Resolved, By the Convention of the Diocese of New York, That in its opinion, the change proposed by the last General Convention in Article III., of the Constitution of the Church General, is judicious and expedient.

Resolved, That in the view of the Convention of the Diocese of New York, the proposed change in Article VI. of the Constitution is of doubtful policy and inexpedient.

Resolved, That the Secretary of this Convention send a copy of the foregoing Resolutions to the Provisional Bishop and to the Secretary of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

In witness whereof I have hereunto put my name this twenty-ninth day of September, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, in the City and Diocese of New York.

Appendix I.—2.

A COMMUNICATION FROM THE DIOCESE OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

I hereby certify, that at the last Convention of the Diocese of South Carolina, held in Charleston in May last, the following resolutions were passed unanimously, viz. :

1. Resolved, That this Convention declares that, in its judgment, the proposed amendment of Article III. of the Constitution of our Church would be perilous to the rights of the Clergy and Laity.

2. Resolved, That to authorize the General Convention to establish Courts of Appeal from Diocesan decisions, in any case, would be to endanger the rights of the Dioceses and the peace and unity of our Church.

These resolutions, and the Report of a Committee which brought them forward, were ordered to be laid before the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies of the General Convention. This Report is on pages 47, 48, and 49 of the Journal of South Carolina, 1859.

Appendix K.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE FUND FOR THE RELIEF OF WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF DECEASED CLERGYMEN, AND OF AGED, INFIRM, AND DISABLED CLERGYMEN OF THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

Sept. 16, 1859.

The Trustees of the Fund, instituted by the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, at its meeting in 1853, for the relief of Widows and Orphans of deceased Clergymen, and of Aged, Infirm, and Disabled Clergymen of the said Church, beg leave respectfully to present to their Constituents the following Report:

In discharge of the duty devolved upon them by the Convention, and in pursuance of their instructions, the Trustees, immediately after their appointment, met and organized themselves as a Board by the election of a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary and a Treasurer. They prepared and caused to be presented to the Legislature of the State of New York the Memorial, a copy of which, marked (A), is appended to this Report, and made part of it.

The Legislature of New York, in compliance with the prayer of said Memorial, were pleased, on the 13th of April, 1855, to pass the Act of Incorporation of the Trustees of the said Fund, a copy of which, marked (B), is also appended to this Report and made part of it.

The Trustees organized themselves under this Act, and proceeded, to the exercise of a power granted in the said Act for that purpose, to frame and adopt a Code of By-laws for the government of the said Corporation thus created, and for the accomplishment of its benevolent and declared objects, according to the supposed intentions of the Convention and the Church. A copy of this Code of By-laws, marked (C), is also appended to and made part of this Report.

The Institution thus authorized by the Convention, and legally created by Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, combining as it does the principles of Annuity, Life Assurance, and a simple charity, is necessarily complicated in its character, and therefore difficult to be organized under a clear, practical, and safe Code of By-Laws. This can hardly be done by any a priori reasoning, however just and wise. Actual experiment must be, at once, the test of merit of any system adopted, and the instructor in its improvement.

The Trustees, therefore, fully aware of the intrinsic difficulties of the case, submit with diffidence the Code they have prepared, relying for the remedy of its errors and the supplying of its defects, upon the suggestions of actual experience, and the practical working of the Institution.

Should the proceedings of the Trustees, and the Plan of the Institution they herewith submit, meet the approbation of their Constituents, they beg leave respectfully to suggest that the Convention will, in its wisdom, devise and adopt such measures as will give to the Institution practical effect, and assure, in the greatest degree, the accomplishment of its benevolent objects. All of which is respectfully submitted.

By order of the Board of Trustees,

ALFRED LEE,
President of the Board.

New York, Sept. 16, 1859.

(A.) MEMORIAL.

To the Honorable, the Legislature of the State of New York.

The Memorial of the undersigned respectfully represents :

That the necessity and propriety of some more adequate provision, than at present exists, for the Widows and Orphans of deceased Clergymen, and for Aged, Infirm, and Disabled Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, have long been felt and universally acknowledged.

Deeply impressed with this necessity, and with the propriety of making some early and effectual provision for this object, the General Convention of the Church, at its meeting in 1853, instituted a Fund, and appointed the undersigned Trustees of the same, with instructions, among other things, to procure an Act of Incorporation of the Trustees of the Fund.

The better to inform your Honorable Bodies of the precise nature and objects of this Fund, and of the action of the General Convention of the Church in regard to the same, the undersigned beg leave to submit, accompanying this their petition, and to make it a part thereof, a printed statement upon the subject.

Therefore, to enable the undersigned more effectually to discharge the duties thus devolved upon them in relation to this Fund, and more fully to accomplish its beneficent objects, the undersigned respectfully pray that your Honorable Bodies will be pleased to grant them, as Trustees of the Fund in question, an Act of Incorporation, and such further and other aid as to your wisdom may seem meet and proper.

8. SECRETARY.—It shall be the duty of the Secretary, under the direction of the President, to give notice of all meetings of the Board of Trustees, and to attend the same. He shall keep accurate minutes of the proceedings of the Board, and record the same, when approved, in its Journal. He shall conduct and regularly report the correspondence of the Board, preserve its archives, and together with the President, certify its acts. He shall have the custody of the seal of the Corporation.

9. TREASURER.—It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to receive all moneys belonging to the Fund; and so often as they shall amount to one hundred dollars, to deposit the same, in the name of this Corporation, in such Bank or Trust Company as shall be designated for that purpose by the Board of Trustees. The moneys thus deposited shall be drawn out only for the objects of the Fund, and upon the warrant of the Committee on Finance and Investment, signed by the Treasurer, and countersigned by the Secretary. The Treasurer shall have the custody of all contracts and other securities belonging to this Corporation, and shall keep the same in some safe place of deposit. He shall, at each meeting of the Board, present a concise statement of the condition of the Treasury, and of the outstanding liabilities of the Corporation. He shall annually present to the Board of Trustees a detailed account, made up to the first day of January, of all receipts and disbursements during the year, on account of the Fund, which account and statement shall be referred to the Committee on Finance and Investment for audit, examination and report.

10. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—The Executive Committee, in the recess of the Board of Trustees, shall possess the powers and discharge the duties of the Board. They shall, at each meeting of the Board of Trustees, report for the information of the Board, their acts since the last meeting of the Board.

11. COMMITTEE ON FINANCE AND INVESTMENT.—The Committee on Finance and Investment shall, from time to time, devise and report to the Board of Trustees, measures for increasing the Fund. They shall, under the general direction of the Board, make all investments, whether temporary or permanent, of moneys belonging to the Fund, and report the same to the Board for its information. They shall examine and certify, for the approval of the Board, all bills and claims upon the Fund; and shall draw their warrant for all disbursements on account of the Fund, authorized or approved by the Board. They shall audit the Treasurer's annual account, compare the entries therein with their respective vouchers, and certify the result, with their suggestions, to the Board of Trustees.

12. COMMITTEE ON APPLICATIONS.—The Committee on Applications for annuities or relief out of the Fund, shall receive and examine all such applications, and report the facts in each case, and their opinions thereon, to the Board of Trustees.

13. QUORUM.—At all meetings of the Board of Trustees, four members present shall, in all cases and for all purposes, constitute a Quorum for the transaction of business.

14. ORDER OF PROCEEDINGS.—At all meetings of the Board of Trustees, the following shall be the order of proceedings, viz. :—1. Prayer.—2. Reading and approving the Minutes.—3. Reports and Communications from Officers the Board.—4. Reports from Standing Committees.—5. Reports from Special Committees.—6. Special Orders.—7. Unfinished Business.—8. Miscellaneous Business.

15. DIVISION OF THE FUND.—The Fund of this Corporation shall be divided into two Departments, to be denominated,—1. The Close Department, and—2. The Open Department. Appropriations out of the first or Close Department of the Fund to depend upon the contributions to the Fund; but out of the second, or Open Department upon the peculiar circumstances of each particular case, and to be made in the sound discretion of the Trustees of the Fund, independent of any contributions to it by the applicant for relief, or by any other person for his account, although with a proper regard to such contributions when made.

16. CLOSE DEPARTMENT.—The Close Department of the Fund shall consist of the annual and other contributions made to it by Clergymen or others for their account; and other contributions specially made to this department of the Fund, together with the accumulations of the Fund; as hereinafter provided. Any Clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, who shall, at one or several times, have contributed to this Department of the Fund the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars, or ten dollars annually for fifteen years; or any such Clergyman for whose account such contribution shall have been so made, shall thereafter, that is, after the expiration of fifteen years from the time of the first contribution, be entitled to receive out of the said Fund, an annuity or annual sum of Fifty Dollars, payable half-yearly, on the first days of January and July in each year, during his natural life. And so in like proportion for any larger sums so contributed for any such Clergyman, or by any other person for his account; and from and after his death, his widow, should he leave any, shall be entitled to the same annuity, payable in the same manner, during her natural life, or until she shall marry again; and from and after her decease or marriage, the child or children of such Clergyman, should any survive the death or marriage of his widow, shall receive the same annuity, payable in the same manner, until the youngest, if there be more than one, shall attain the full age of twenty-one years, or decease, when the said annuity shall cease or determine. If at the death or marriage of the widow, there be more than one such child surviving, they shall enjoy the said annuity equally until they shall respective reach the age of twenty-one years, or decease, when each child so successively attaining the age of twenty-one years, or dying, shall cease to participate in the said annuity, and the whole annuity shall survive to the survivors or survivor of such child, until they shall all, including the youngest, successively attain the age of twenty-one years, or decease, when the said annuity shall wholly cease and determine.

If the income of this Department of the Fund shall, at any time, have so increased, as after paying the annuities chargeable upon the Department, there shall remain a surplus of income, one-half of the same shall be divided annually pro rata, among the annuitants, and the dividends thus made shall be distributed, as herein above provided in regard to the annuities themselves; and the other half of the said surplus shall be annually added, by way of accumulation, to the principal of this Department of the Fund, until by such accumulation, or otherwise, the said Fund in this Department shall amount to the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, when and thereafter annually the whole of such surplus income shall be divided among the annuitants, and the dividends distributed as herein above provided in relation to the first half of the said surplus. But if at any time hereafter, by the payment of annuities, or any other cause, the principal of this Department of the Fund shall become reduced below the said amount of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, the aforesaid second half of the said surplus shall cease, temporarily, to be divided and distributed among the annuitants, and shall be again added annually to the principal of this Department of the Fund, until the same, by such accumulation or otherwise, shall be fully replenished and kept at the aforesaid amount of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, after which the said second half of the said surplus, as well as the first, shall, as before, be divided and distributed among the annuitants, as herein above provided. If any Clergyman who has contributed to the Fund of this Corporation, or for whose account such contribution shall have been made, shall die before the contributions are completed which would have entitled him to an annuity as herein above provided, his widow or children, should he leave either, shall have the right, either in one sum, or by annual payments, to complete the contributions which, if made in the lifetime of such Clergyman, would have entitled him to an annuity, and they shall enjoy the annuity, with all its incidents, as herein above provided, to commence at the expiration of fifteen years from the time of the first contribution to the said Fund by such Clergyman, or by any other person for his account.

The Clergymen contributing, or for whom contributions are made as aforesaid, in order to entitle them to receive the annuity above provided for, shall each, in case of marrying more than once, make to this Department of the said Fund, a special contribution of twenty dollars for each time he shall so marry after his first marriage.

17. OPEN DEPARTMENT.—The Open Department of this Fund shall consist of grants or donations, specially made to it, and of its accumulations, by interest or otherwise. It is intended for the relief and benefit of deserving Clergymen, or their families, who, from any cause, have not made the contributions to the Fund, or for whose account such contributions have not been made by any other person, as would entitle the parties to the annuity provided for in the Close Department of the Fund.

18. APPROPRIATIONS OR GRANTS.—Appropriations or Grants out of the Open Department of the Fund, therefore, may, in the sound discretion of the Trustees, be made for the relief or benefit of deserving Clergymen, or their families, who have made no contribution to the Fund themselves, or for whose account no such contribution has been specially made by others. Such Appropriations or Grants shall depend solely upon the peculiar circumstances and merits of the particular case, independently of any contributions to the Fund previously made, either by the parties themselves, or by any others for their account; but always, however, with a proper regard to any such contributions when they have been made.

Such Appropriations or Grants shall always be made out of the income of this Department of the Fund, and in no case from the principal thereof, unless so specially directed by a Contributor to the Fund at the time of making his or her contribution.

19. DONATIONS.—Where a donation contribution or devise is made to the Fund of this Corporation without any specific designation of the Department of the Fund to which it is to be applied, both the principal and interest of such donation, contribution, or devise may be appropriated by the said Trustees to either or both of the said Departments, as in their sound discretion they may judge to be most conformable to the intentions of the donor, contributor, or devisor, most in harmony with the general spirit of this Corporation, and most conducive to the accomplishment of its objects.

20. INVESTMENT OF FUND.—The Fund of this Corporation, in both its Departments, shall be invested in the most productive securities, reference however being always had to the sufficiency and safety of the security.

21. MANAGEMENT AND APPLICATION OF THE FUND.—The Fund in both Departments shall be managed in the most economical manner, and be faithfully appropriated only to its legitimate, proper, and declared objects.

22. ADOPTION AND ALTERATION OF BY-LAWS.—The foregoing are duly adopted and hereby declared to be the By-Laws of this Corporation; and no existing By-Law shall be either modified or rescinded, nor shall any new By-Law be adopted, unless notice thereof shall have been given at a previous meeting of the Board of Trustees, and the same be adopted by the affirmative vote of five Trustees.

Appendix L.

I.

When the Volume of Inspiration was known to be closed, the people who, in different nations, were converted to the faith of the Gospel, became desirous of possessing, in their own tongue, the written record wherein, if anywhere, must be contained all that was necessary to be believed for salvation. The history of the British Isles furnishes assurance, that the duty of having the Holy Scriptures in a language understood by the people was appreciated probably before, but certainly during the Saxon rule, and after the Norman Conquest. There was, indeed, but echoed the general sentiment of the Christian mind in England, when in 1390, to the opposition against the circulation of the whole Bible recently translated by Wickliff, the Duke of Lancaster, in open Parliament, declared: "We will not be the dregs of all: seeing other nations have the law of God, which is the law of our faith, written in their own language."

It was reserved, however, for the era of the Reformation to witness and to foster a more intense desire for the diffusion in England, and in other lands, of the written Charter of Divine truth, and for that diffusion the art of printing then discovered, as if by the overruling Providence of God, gave facilities which had previously been unknown to mankind. From the first effort of William Tyndale, who, in 1526, printed the New Testament at Antwerp, to the complete translation of the sacred volume in 1568, called the Bishop's Bible, which appeared under the auspices of Archbishop Parker, the interest of the subject, has given occasion to accurate and even voluminous narratives, alike creditable to their authors, and replete with instruction, at least to the antiquarian reader.

In this Report it would scarcely be meet to reiterate, in however condensed a form, the information contained in such volumes. The eagerness of men to peruse the pages of Inspiration in their native tongue, and perhaps the correspondent eagerness of those who were competent to the task, to gratify that desire, would produce a greater or less degree of hastiness in the translations that from time to time appeared. Nor were there wanting those who, from opposite motives, were busy in tracing and magnifying the minor and for the most part inconsequential faults in these translations, and thus impair their estimate in the public mind. Whatever the justice or the motives of these cavils, their issue was found in the matchless version of the Scriptures into the English tongue, known as the Bible of King James. At the very commencement of his reign, this Prince had favored the suggestion made in the Conference held at Hampton Court of a new translation, which, embodying the merits, should avoid the errors, whatever they were, of its predecessors. The task was intrusted to fifty-four of the most learned of the kingdom, it might be said of the age—an age which has never been surpassed for biblical knowledge and deep acquaintance with the original tongues in which the inspired volume was written. These translators were divided into six classes, who had their respective portions, including the Apocrypha, assigned them, and prosecuted their labors under instructions which, though found in books readily accessible, it may not, even in a Report I would render as brief as possible, be unmeet I should transcribe.

1. The ordinary Bible read in the church, commonly called the Bishop's Bible, to be followed, and as little altered as the original will permit.

2. The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names in the text, to be retained as near as may be, accordingly as they are vulgarly used.

3. The old ecclesiastical words to be kept, as the word Church not to be translated congregation.

4. When any word hath divers significations, that to be kept which hath been most commonly used by the most eminent fathers, being agreeable to the propriety of the place, and the analogy of faith.

5. The division of chapters to be altered either not at all, or as little as may be, if necessity so requires.

6. No marginal notes at all to be affixed, but only for the explanation of the Hebrew or Greek words, which cannot without some circumlocution, so briefly and fitly be expressed in the text.

7. Such quotations of places to be marginally set down, as shall serve for the first references of one Scripture to another.

8. Every particular man of each company to take some chapter or chapters, and, having translated or amended them severally by himself where he thinks good, all to meet together, to confer what they have done, and agree for their part what shall stand.

9. As any one company hath dispatched any one book in this manner, they shall send it to the rest, to be considered of seriously and judiciously, for his Majesty is very careful on this point.

10. If any company, upon the review of the books so sent, shall doubt or differ upon any places, to send them word thereof, to note the places, and therewithal to send their reasons; to which if they consent not, the difference to be compounded at the general meeting, which is to be, of the chief persons of each company, at the end of the work.

11. When any place of special obscurity is doubted of, letters to be directed by authority, to send to any learned in the land for his judgment in such a place.

12. Letters to be sent from every Bishop to the rest of his Clergy, admonishing them of this translation in hand, and to move and charge as many as, being skilful in the tongues, have taken pains in that kind, to send their particular observations to the company, either at Westminster, Cambridge, or Oxford, according as it was directed before in the King's letter to the Archbishop.

13. The directors in each company to be the Deans of Westminster and Chester for Westminster, and the King's professors in the two Universities.

14. These translations to be used, when they agree better with the text than the Bishop's Bible, viz.: Tindal's, Coverdale's, Matthew's, Whitchurch's, Geneva.

15. Besides the learned persons employed with them for the Hebrew and Greek, there should be three or four of the most eminent and grave divines of their University, assigned by the Vice-chancellor, upon conference with the rest of the heads, to be overseers of the translations, as well Hebrew as Greek, for the better observation of the rules appointed by his highness, and especially concerning the third and fourth rule.

In conformity with these judicious regulations, the venerable men to whom this great work was committed, each book having passed the scrutiny of all the translators successively, brought their labors to a close in the compass of a little less than three years. Three copies of the work, when thus completed, were sent to London; and from them a committee of six, two from Oxford, two from Cambridge, and two from Westminster, prepared in nine months the copy for the press; Dr. Bilson, Bishop of Winchester, and Dr. Myles Smith, afterward Bishop of Gloucester, having reviewed the whole volume, and prefixed the arguments or contents of chapters, and the latter written the preface which still adorns the larger and genuine editions of this noble monument of learning and pious zeal. The first printed edition is that of 1611, though there are copies which bear the dates of 1612 and 1613. The typographical execution of the volume, in the old English characters, is not without merit for an age yet far from the excellence in the art of printing attained in modern times. But the errors of the press were not a few; and the many editions which, from time to time appeared, sometimes retained, sometimes amended, these errors, but not unfrequently with the addition of many errors of their own, till the evil became so great as to require and obtain, in the reign of George I., the royal interference.

In the mean time, however, in an edition by Dr. Scattergood, many judicious marginal references to parallel passages, and in another under the auspices of Dr. Tenison, Archbishop of Canterbury, chronological dates, and an index by Bishop Lloyd, and accurate tables of Scripture weights and measures by Bishop Cumberland, had been added. In both editions, especially the latter, the errors of the press were numerous, and the correction of the evil became the more imperative, as those errors not infrequently affected, though undesignedly, even the sense of the text. When, as an exemplification, for "Joshua the son of Nun," it was printed, "Joshua the son of a Nun;" for "thou shalt not commit adultery," it was printed, "thou shalt commit adultery;" for "look ye out seven men whom we may appoint," it was printed, "whom ye may appoint;" for "the lord of the vineyard," "the lord of the vinegar;" for "than she which hath no husband," "she which hath an husband;" there was stern occasion to provide, as far as human skill could effect it, for the integrity of the sacred volume, and secure a standard of the work of the translators, such as might be relied on in future times. The task was, therefore, committed to Dr. Blaney, under the direction of the Vice-chancellor and Delegates of the Clarendon Press at Oxford. The result of his labors, which are before me, but which it would be superfluous here even to abridge, was given in a detailed report to his constituents in 1769, and was so acceptable, that his edition became the standard from which all subsequent editions have been executed. It is the last, as it is the most complete revision made of King James' Bible, and the editions from it printed by Woodfall, and published by Eyre and Strahan, in 1806, and then in 1812, in which were corrected the few typographical errors that had escaped the eye of Dr. Blaney, may be considered as having effected all that can be desired, in securing the integrity of the English Bible, to those who speak the Anglo-Saxon tongue.

II.

A few years ago, when the public mind in England became stirred with apprehension, a fac-simile of the original edition of the translators, that of 1611, gave assurance to the world, that, except in the correction of typographical errors, and changes from an antiquated, to a more recent mode of spelling, the text of this noblest of modern versions had remained free from the hand of innovation. But if, even in England, where the integrity of the Bible is comparatively preserved by certain legislative enactments, still more in this country, where the right of printing it is indefinitely allowed, a lively concern has from time to time been felt, at the too great carelessness apparent in many editions of the Scriptures, with regard to typographical, or more serious deviations from that which, since the time of Dr. Blaney, has been considered the standard of the Anglican Church. In this concern, the Protestant Episcopal Church of this country, as the natural and hereditary guardian of the English Scriptures, was early participant.

In the General Convention of 1817, it was resolved that the House of Bishops be respectfully requested to designate and establish some specific edition of the Old and New Testaments, without note or comment, to be considered as the authentic version or standard, by which the genuineness of all copies of the Holy Scriptures used by the members of this Church, is to be ascertained. To this request it was replied, that "the matter requiring very serious attention and deliberation, the House of Bishops has resolved, that its members will give such attention and deliberation to the subject, previously to the next meeting of the General Convention, and report at the said meeting." In conformity with these proceedings, a joint committee of the two Houses of Convention, appointed in 1820, Bishop White being chairman, reported, in 1823, that "having taken into consideration certain testimonies borne to two editions of Eyre and Strahan, published in the years 1806 and 1812, the said editions are believed by them to be the most perfect of all, concerning which intelligence has been obtained by them. Accordingly, they recommend the adoption of the latter of these editions as the standard. We believe it to be the same of which some copies have been imported by J. Potter, bookseller, and are now for sale by him, the title-page of which bears the date of 1813." From the time of this Report, with the exception of a joint committee of both Houses to act under the second Canon of 1823, the subject of a Standard Bible lay dormant, till, in 1835, the explicit proposition was for the first time presented, that there should be published, in this country, under the sanction of the General Convention, a standard edition, conformable to that of England, as recognized by our Church. At every subsequent Convention, the subject, under modified resolutions, was kept alive, with no voice of dissent to its importance. But it is due to the far-sighted zeal of the New York Bible and Common Prayer Book Society, that the measure thus far approximated the desired end. At the Convention of 1850, this Society submitted its proposal to become the publishers of the Bible, which, when sanctioned by the General Convention, should be the standard of the Church. The proposal was accepted, and a Committee appointed, which, in 1853, made its report. In this report was embodied, respecting the standard text in England, important information, derived from two sources; the British and Foreign Bible Society, and the Archbishop of Canterbury, than which sources of information the Committee deemed there could be none higher. "I beg to inform you," writes the editorial Superintendent of the British and Foreign Bible Society, to one of the Committee, "that all Bibles and Testaments of our authorized version, printed in England, are printed either at one of our Universities, Oxford and Cambridge, or by the Queen's printers. I find that these printers all agree, in considering the edition of 1611, King James' Bible, as their standard; although the obsolete orthography of this is in various instances corrected, and the medium quarto English type, printed at Oxford, is taken as the most correct edition, for the copy generally used in all editions, both by the Universities and by the Queen's printers. The British and Foreign Bible Society have ordered that a copy of this edition be sent to you to be presented from them to the Committee of the General Convention. This edition has been the most frequently read and corrected, and is, therefore, regarded as the most accurate. The adoption of this as the standard copy, was agreed upon by the Delegates of the University Press at Oxford, and the Syndics of that at Cambridge; their respective bodies of superintendence having had a correspondence on the subject for some time." "A correct text," says the Primate of all England, "according to the edition of 1611, was adopted in both the Oxford and Cambridge Bibles."

The Secretary of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge has furnished me with the following statement from Mr. Combe, the Superintendent of the Oxford Press: "The text for all the Oxford editions of the Bible is now the same, and is in conformity with the edition of 1611, which is, and has been for many years, adopted for the standard text. The medium quarto book is stereotyped, which protects it from casual errors; and having been long in use without the detection of any error, I have reason to think that it may be considered as perfect as a book can be, and may therefore be fairly received as the standard book of the Society." The Convention at which this Report was made, showed its continued interest in the subject, by the appointment again, on the part of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, of a Committee, which should report to the next General Convention; and the Report, which was consequently, in 1856, brought in, resulted in the present advanced stage towards possessing a Standard Bible of our own, of the Church in this country. A Typographical Corrector was appointed by the House of Bishops and by the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, and by the latter body a Committee of five, to whom the Corrector should submit the proposed corrections when made, or in their progressive stages. In conformity with his appointment by the two Houses, the Corrector presents this his Report to this Convention.

III.

The first duty of an agent, is to regard the will of his constituents and the purpose of his appointment. The caution of the Convention of 1856 confines the person appointed to the correction of typographical errors in the authorized translation of the Holy Scriptures, referring to the present standard edition. He has no authority, if even he were willing, to exercise the office of translator of a single word. He is restricted, with regard both to the text and what are known as its accessories, in the correction of errors, to those merely of the press; and in carrying on his labors, the edition to which he is to conform himself is that which the Church in America yet recognizes as her standard. This standard is the edition published in 1806, and again in 1812, by Eyre and Strahan; since it was made such by the joint resolution of the General Convention of 1823; since no other has been substituted, and since that resolution is yet unrepealed. In this aspect of the subject, the Committee appointed by the last General Convention having met, adopted, as the base of the operations of the Typographical Corrector, the resolution: That he should examine the four leading British editions, including the present standard of the Church in America; the majority of these to be in any case decisive; but where any two differed from the other two, the edition of 1611, that of the translators, was to determine the difference. Under this resolution, alike simple and safe in its effects, the course of the Corrector has been pursued.

1. Of the Editions used.—For some years before his appointment, the Corrector had been in the habit of collating the medium quarto edition, stereotyped at Oxford, with other editions of note, whether of this country or England; and his personal examination had justified the report of the Committee of 1853, that in that edition there were “but very few particulars which the Committee would prefer to change, not one which would importantly affect the sense, and but few of which a doubt might not be entertained whether they are even typographical errors.” This edition is that avouched, in 1851, by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the British and Foreign Bible Society, as at that time, for the text of the Holy Scriptures, the standard in England. Subsequently, however, in 1851 and 1852, there appeared from the Oxford Press an edition well meritorious of the character given it in a private letter by the Superintendent of that Press, when he says, “We have a new royal quarto Bible, with marginal references, set wholly from end to end in new type, which I trust will be the best book in the market.” Except in beauty of type, it might be considered, either in respect to text, contents of chapters, or marginal references to the Old and New Testament, identical with the edition which has been mentioned. The third edition, of which use has been made, is that to which both the others are indebted for their excellence. The edition of 1806, by Eyre and Strahan, referred to in the resolution of the Convention of 1823, which established the standard for our Church, and to which edition the Corrector has considered himself, by the terms of his appointment, obligated, above all others, to have respect. The fourth edition collated is that of Edinburg, differing, especially in its additional various readings, as they are termed, from the other editions, and in other respects worthy of less regard. In the American editions, the errors in some have been found so numerous, and in others, the omissions, and still more the innovations, so reckless and so rash, that, particularly in what are called the accessories, they have been used rather as warnings than as guides.

2. Of the General Characteristics of the English Editions used.—These editions may be considered in relation to the text and its accessories. By the text is to be understood that version of the Canon of Scripture, in connection with the Apocrypha, made by the translators under King James, in which certain words in italic type represent words not in the original tongues, but introduced on account of the English idiom. Of this text, the last revision by Dr. Blaney, which has now received the sanction of near a hundred years, made no changes as an improved version, but chiefly, if not wholly, had regard to typographical errors, to the punctuation corrupted from that cause, and to the italicized words. Of the text, the Oxford editions of 1850 and 1852 may be considered the most perfect extant. They are nearly identical with each other, and also with the Eyre & Strahan edition of 1806, except that in some cases the former editions use the colon, the favorite stop of the translators, where the latter edition uses the semi colon, though in no instance to affect the sense. The use of the paragraph mark (§) may be referred to the accessories. By the accessories is to be understood whatever is not, in the above sense, the text; such as, the running titles at the top of the columns in each page, the contents of each chapter, the marginal readings, and the marginal references, to which is to be added the chronology. The running titles must of necessity differ in every edition, according to the size of the type and page. As a quarto edition, those of 1852 are unexceptionable. The contents of chapters are more consequential. They constitute, as originally presented, the brief sense of the translators respecting the portions of Scripture to which they are attached. Whenever affixed, or of whatever kind, these contents must bear positively or negatively the nature of a comment. Considerable alterations, to use his own language, but more correctly a few, were made in them by Dr. Blaney but it is worthy of observation, that both the Oxford editions return to the captions of the translators, except in punctuation, and in a very few changes of words, of which the most remarkable is in Matt. xxvi., where, for the word feet, in the editions of 1611 (probably a typographical error), is correctly substituted the word head in the others. The marginal readings, or “the diversity of senses,” placed in the margin by the translators, are preserved in the Oxford editions, with the addition of those introduced in the last revision, and, of course, retained in the edition of 1806, our present standard. In connection with these marginal readings, to which the translators make special allusion in their preface, it is to be remarked, that the edition of 1852, in one respect, differs from all others. The marginal readings are of two sorts; the one, being a more literal rendering, the other a somewhat different sense of the original word, whether Hebrew or Greek. The attention of the reader is, in the former case, attracted by a cross, in the latter, by two parallel lines, placed before the word in the text; though the parallel lines are occasionally used for both. In the edition of 1852, the Arabic numbers are invariably substituted for both. The distinction between the two sorts of marginal readings made by the translators, is in no degree lessened by the simpler and more graceful mode of attracting notice, used in the edition of 1852; since that distinction is in all the editions noted by the abbreviations Héb. and Gr.

affixed to the word in the margin, when the translation is more literal; and the word Or, when the translation is for a differing or modified sense. No Bible, meritorious of use in our Churches, can be destitute of the Apocrypha, from which the lessons on certain holy days are taken; and to the Apocrypha the translators introduce marginal references, pertinent, though not numerous. To these references to the Apocrypha, Dr. Blaney added a few others, equally pertinent, inserted among the large number of additional references which he made to the Canonical Scriptures; and all these references to the Apocrypha are found in our standard of 1806 or 1812, but are wanting in the later editions of Oxford. The last generic difference to be noted in the editions used, is observable in the use of the paragraphic marks (§) employed by the translators. In both the Oxford editions there is a complete, in the Edinburgh a partial, coincidence with the Prince's edition of 1611; while that of 1806 has these marks in greater number, and often in a different location as to the verses. In the chronological dates, the editions used are in agreement, except in a few instances arising from dislocation of type below or above the proper verse, chiefly in the editions of 1806 and 1850, which, however, are rectified in the editions of 1852, the translators, as is well known, using no chronological dates in their margin.

IV.

Of Typographical Errors.—The title of his office indicates to the Typographical Corrector its limits; the views of the Committee with whom he acts and his own, the mode of its exercise. Within the confines of such an office, it may be remarked, that all the English editions employ in the body of the text the letters of the alphabet, repeated when necessary, to indicate the marginal references. The first index in every chapter is always the letter a, and so consecutively, with the almost general omission of the letters j, v, and w, for reasons easily apprehended. Exceptions to the omission, exceptions very rare in all the editions, and most rare in that of 1852, are to be found; and the Corrector deems them typographical errors, and would have the proposed standard in this respect of perfect uniformity. The location of any reference to a chapter of the book for which the references are made, is in the regular order of the Sacred books. The exception sometimes occurs of its being placed before all others; but the exception is rare, most rare in the edition of 1852, and is invariably to be counted an error of the press.

Of Punctuation.—The change of a point may stringently affect the sense of a passage. The learning as well as proof-reading accuracy which have evidently been employed on the recent English editions, have so guarded the will of the translators in combination with a regard to uniformity, that an adherence, in any standard in this country, must be conceded to that will. He that, in Luke xiii. 24, 25 (where the words occur, "shall seek to enter in and not be able. When once the master of the house hath risen and shut to the door"), should employ at able a comma for a period, would materially change the sense in all the English copies (not for the better, if the Ductor dubitantium of Bishop Taylor is to be trusted), but in doing so would impose an individual opinion upon a doctrinal question; and of other passages, such as Rom. iv. 1, 1 Cor. xvi. 22, Heb. xiii. 7, and Rev. xiii. 8, the like observations may be made. Dr. Blaney, indeed, carefully attended, as he says, "to the punctuation, not only with a view to preserve the true sense, but also to uniformity as far as was possible." But it would be difficult to find instances in which, by the substitution of a period for a colon, a colon for a semicolon, or that for a comma, or in the use of the parenthesis, he had anywhere substituted his own for the sense of the translators. The same adhesion to that venerated sense, is to be found as to pointing in the editions of 1806, 1851, and 1852, the last being well-nigh identical with the second, and the second with the first, except that both the latter more often use the favorite colon of the translators than the semicolon, the sense remaining unaffected in either, as even in the more variant Edinburgh. In the few passages which occur a second time in different books of Scripture, such as 2 Sam. xxii. compared with Ps. xviii., it might be proper to observe perfect uniformity of punctuation: but the sense in all the editions being unaffected, the rule of adhering to the united voice of the English editions does not permit the Corrector to suggest, even in this immaterial particular, any change.

Of the Indefinite Article.—The English copies follow each other's example in the almost constant use of the article an instead of a, before even an aspirated h; and the dignity of sound as well as practice of the translators justifies the avoidance in the sacred volume of the modern custom of applying in all cases the a when the succeeding word begins with an h that has an aspirate. There is no question of the use of a before a consonant.

Orthography.—Were individual judgment to be exercised in the spelling of words, scarce a page of the sacred volume would not exhibit in each new edition variations from the editions that had gone before. Time may sanction a change in the formation of words by letters, but it is not meet that the Bible should begin the work of innovation. "Music" may be no less musical to the ear and not less agreeable to the eye with a k than without one; nor, where the spelling of a word, as skull or scull, is sometimes varied, is it requisite to sacrifice an agreeable or common variety to uniformity. It is in such cases that a majority of the English copies should decide the doubts or even the preferences of a Corrector of the press.

Of Italicized Words.—Of any two languages, the idiom will always require that, in a translation from one to the other, there must be inserted in the version certain dependent and connecting words which are not in the original. These words have been noted by King James' translators in a smaller type, and in later editions by italic letters. These indexes to what the difference of idiom might require, were made more numerous by the accurate hand of Dr. Blaney, whose revision, as we have seen, has been the standard of all subsequent editions in Great Britain. That where he or the translators may have omitted them, there are no italicized words, or that neither has sometimes superfluously introduced such words, it were rash to affirm. The scholarship of individuals may occasionally detect, or suppose that it detects, such superfluity; but the instances of error would be so rare, and the sense of the passage so unaffected, did the error exist (an existence which would be questioned), that it is preferable to exclude the hand of ino- vation where the majority of the English copies agree. This observation, sustaining the claims of authority, is to be applied to—

Capital Letters and Parentheses.—Various reasons might be given why a few words, such as Cherubims (preferable to Cherubim), should, in the English copies, for the first time have a capital letter, yet not afterward. But the voice of authority, that is, of a majority of English copies, becomes still more potent when, in such words as spirit or angel, a doctrinal truth becomes affected. In the case of the words Most High, however, when they are not used as attached adjectives, but instead of one of the sacred names itself, the use of small letters, as occasionally in the edition of 1806, should be made uniform as in the edition of 1852, which is, as usual, the most accurate.

Of Proper Names.—Whether, in the mode of expressing the proper names of the Old and New Testaments, the translators were influenced or not by the Masorites in the former, or by the Greek refugees to Europe after the fall of Constantinople in the other, Dr. Blaney, and the subsequent English standard editions, made no change in this respect. The slightly varied spelling of the same names, occurring in the Old and New Testaments, such as Noe in the latter, for Noah in the former, Juda for Judah, Balac for Balak, has been, in all the British copies, retained. The translators had, no doubt, their reasons, as certainly very good ones might be assigned, for this varied spelling, and no change in this particular could be made under any claim of an error of the press. It may be remarked, however, on this subject, that in Exod. vi. 21, the Zithri of the editions of 1806, 1850, and 1852, should undoubtedly be printed Zichri, as it is in the translators' and Edinburgh editions.

Of the words Lord and God.—There are three names employed in the Old Testament for the Supreme Being—Elohim, Adonai, and Jehovah. The first, whose derivation and plural form speaks what he is or ought to be to us, to be worshipped in the Unity of his essence, but Trinity of persons, is translated God. The second, whose derivation intimates that he is the basis of all things, without whom the universe would fall to nothing; and the third, whose derivation declares him to be the Being of all beings, not only the basis but the perfection, in the concrete and the abstract, are both translated Lord. But the marked distinction is made between the two, by the translators, that the word Lord for Adonai is always printed in small letters; for Jehovah, in capitals. In the observance of this mode of printing, the English copies are occasionally, yet very rarely, dissonant, as in Josh. vii. 8, where the editions of 1611 and 1806 have Lord for Adonai in capital letters, while the editions of 1850, 1852, and the Edinburgh, preserving the rule of the translators, have merely the usual smaller type for the letters, except the initial; and so, also, in Ps. cx. 5, where the Edinburgh and 1806 editions, printing in capitals, are corrected by the editions of 1850, 1852, as well as by that of the translators. The point is one of much importance; but, as in the above instances, authority, or the voice of a majority of the editions, will correctly guide a corrector of typographical errors. That guide, it may, in conclusion, be remarked, he would not always have in the use of the vocative O, as distinguished from the optative oh; the only exception, perhaps, in which he would not have it in the printing of the sacred volume.

In bringing this Report to a close, I am aware of the too brief, because generalizing aspect, it will present to your honorable body, as compared with the deepening interest attached to the subject. But, by the brevity of the Report, the labor bestowed upon the subject will not, I trust, be weighed. I do not regret the hours, the days, the months, I might say the years, nor even the strain upon the finest of the human organs, which have been spent upon the task assigned me, and even before it was assigned; for they have been spent upon the Word of God, and in the service of His Church. But he would little understand the nature of his task, who should suppose that, in the examination of the English Bible and its accessories, word by word, letter by letter, and point by point, no other faculty is required than that of accurately comparing one printer's page with another; or that the task would not often exact all the learning that might be possessed by the Examiner, and awaken many doubts to perplex his mind. The result, indeed, is simple; far otherwise the process. But that process which embraces many thousand written annotations upon the differences in the four editions examined, fortifies the assurance given to the Convention of 1853, by the committee on a Standard Bible. An examination of the medium quarto edition, published at Oxford as the Standard Bible of the Church of England, had resulted, say the committee, "in the discovery of a very few particulars which they would decidedly prefer to change, not one which would importantly affect the sense, and but few, of which a doubt might not be entertained whether they were even typographical errors."

In fulfilling the office assigned me, I would not be supposed ignorant or regardless of the agitation which, within the last few years especially, has risen upon the subject. Most, I might say all, of the pleas for changing or amending the translators' text and its accessories, or rather both, as exhibited in the modern English copies, since the time of Dr. Blaney's revision, I have weighed, and found wanting. With a few exceptions, these pleas do not touch the sense of the translators in the text. But the proposed changes, called typographical, are, in general, so questionable, and indeed have been called to such strict account, that, had the commission of your Reporter been of a wider range than was designed, or than he conceives to have been designed, his prudence would have sustained what his judgment dictated, by not acquiescing in such, too often, sweeping changes.

The tenor of the resolutions of every General Convention since 1823, speaking on the subject of a Standard Bible, has, too plainly to be mistaken, explained the purpose and object of the Church; and this purpose and object I seemed to myself clearly to apprehend. The scholarship of England, and a system of proof-reading more accurate than any to which, in this country, we have attained, produced that edition of the Holy Scriptures, as finally revised by Dr. Blaney, which was published by Eyre and Strahan, in 1806, and which the Church, since the Convention of 1823, has acknowledged its standard. More beautiful in typography, and even more exempt from typographical errors, is that edition of 1852, to which allusion has been so often made in this report; and in which, as has been also explained, the simpler Arabic numbers are employed instead of the cross and parallel lines, for indicating where the marginal readings occur. Than this edition, no safer guide, with one exception, can be found, from which to reprint the standard for the Church in this country. That one exception exists in the omission of the marginal references to the Apocrypha; which are to be found in the translators' own edition of 1611. in that of D'Oyly and Mant, published by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, and republished in this country by Bishop Hobart, and were somewhat increased in number by Dr. Blaney, in the edition of 1806, which is to be considered as yet our standard. These references, therefore, should, in any reprint from the edition of 1852, be reinserted and restored. In a word, a Bible which, with this reinsertion, should make that of 1852 its model, would present as perfect a reprint of the Holy Scriptures, the acknowledged rule of faith in the Church of England, and the American, as human art or skill, in the present day, could effect. That I have sometimes, though rarely, found in that edition points, which, as a typographical corrector, my individual judgment might wish changed, may well be supposed; but in whatever concerns the time-honored palladium of faith to all that speak the Anglo-Saxon tongue, the danger, from even trivial innovation, enforces the sternest reluctance to insert an entering wedge, under the plea of typographical correction. A fancied error of the press is not to be made the plea of varying, still less changing, the sense of the translators, as expressed in their own, and the majority of the authorized editions of the sister Church of England. In this respect, the rule of the Committee with whom I act, is a safe and sufficient protection; so safe, that in a case where the edition of the translators and the present standards of England and our own coincide, a change should be effected only by specially invoking the voice of the General Convention.

Appendix M.

PROPOSED CANONS WHICH LIE OVER FOR ACTION IN THE GENERAL CONVENTION OF 1862.

“Canon on the Use of the Book of Common Prayer,” proposed by Mr. Hoffman as a substitute for Canon XX., Title I.:—

SECTION 1. Every Minister who may officiate in any Church, Chapel, or other place of public worship, shall, before all sermons and lectures, use the Book of Common Prayer, as the same is or may be established by the authority of the General Convention of this Church, and in performing said Service, no other prayers shall be used than those prescribed by the said Book.

SECTION 2. The preceding Section shall not apply to cases of a meeting in such Church, Chapel, or other place of public worship, held for the purpose of aiding any missionary, charitable, or ecclesiastical society or enterprise; nor where services are held, or sermons or lectures delivered in the open air: provided, however, that in all such cases one or more of the Collects, the Lord's Prayer, and the Confession, and either the Apostles' or Nicene Creed, shall be used; and no other prayer than such as is contained in the said Book shall be used.

SECTION 3. The term Church, Chapel, or other place of public worship, shall be construed to mean, for the purposes of this Canon, any building owned or held for the purposes of stated public worship, and which has been used for stated public worship for the space of one year.

SECTION 4. The Bishop of each Diocese may, by general regulation, authorize the use, separately, of the order of Morning Prayer, the Litany, and Communion Service, provided such permission shall not be construed to authorize the entire omission of either Service.

SECTION 5. It shall be lawful for any Bishop, or Missionary Bishop of this Church, to select such parts of the Book of Common Prayer, and such Lessons, Anthems, Psalms, and Hymns, as shall be suitable to be used by any Minister or Missionary of this Church, wherever there is no organized Church or Congregation, having had stated public worship in some fixed place for the period of one year: provided that the Lord's Prayer, Confession, and either the Apostles' or the Nicene Creed, shall form part of such selection. The Bishop may, from time to time, vary or add to such selection.

Canon XX. of Title I. of the Digest is hereby repealed.

Substitute for the same, proposed by Rev. R. S. Mason, D.D.:—

In all Congregations of this Church, in which the Holy Communion is stately celebrated, the Morning and Evening Services of this Church shall be, during Canonical hours, performed as prescribed by the Rubrics of this Church; and those shall be esteemed Canonical hours in which the Morning and Evening Services of the Church are in any Congregation ordinarily performed. At all other times and occasions of public worship, selections from the Liturgical Offices of this Church may be used, under the direction or permission of the Ecclesiastical Authority of any Diocese in which such deviations from the regular Services of the Church may be desirable or requisite.

“Canon of a Bishop who has resigned his Jurisdiction, and become a Parish Minister,” proposed by Rev. Dr. R. S. Mason:

Every Bishop who has resigned his jurisdiction shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Bishop in whose Diocese he resides; and Canons VI. and VII. of 1856 shall be applicable to the case of every resigned Bishop, provided that in the form of the Testimonial in the 2d Section of the VIth Canon, instead of the words, “is a Presbyter,” shall be read, “is a resigned Bishop, acting as a Presbyter.”

Canon of the same, proposed by Rev. Dr. A. H. Vinton:

If any Bishop of this Church shall resign his jurisdiction, and his resignation shall be canonically accepted by the Bishops of this Church, he shall thereupon and thereby become canonically resident within the jurisdiction of the Presiding Bishop of the House of Bishops, and shall, until he be restored to jurisdiction by election to the office of a Diocesan or Missionary Bishop, be subject to all the regulations and restrictions, and entitled to all the privileges which apply to the Presbyters of this Church.

Canon of the same, proposed by Rev. Dr. Mahan :

A Bishop resigning his jurisdiction, whose resignation has been duly accepted, shall be subject to the Canons and Ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese in which he shall reside ; saving only the privileges of his Order, as secured by the Constitution and Canons of this Church.

Canon of the Title of Bishoprics in case of the Division of Dioceses, proposed by Mr. H. D. Evans :

Whereas, our venerable mother the Church of England has always professed the highest respect for the Doctrines, Discipline, and Practice of the Primitive Church of the first four centuries, as also this Church has done :

Whereas, also, through that whole Church in the earliest ages, as well as our Mother Church, and indeed all Churches of Apostolic descent over the whole world at the present time, the usage has prevailed and does prevail (with some small exceptions), that Bishoprics should take their titles from 'cities,' not countries, as 'of Jerusalem,' not 'of Palestine,' 'of Ephesus,' not 'of Ionia,' 'of Canterbury,' not 'of Kent : ' and

Whereas, This Church unwittingly adopted a different custom at its first reception of the Episcopacy, in order to correct this anomaly and to bring us back to the universal usage, this Church in General Convention assembled enacts—

§ 1. That, in case of all divisions of Dioceses from this time henceforth, the Bishoprics into which they are divided shall be called each of them by the Title of the largest City within its limits.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON CHURCH UNITY.

The Commission on Church Unity report that they have had one meeting during the recess of the General Convention, and have not seen cause for more. In consequence of the restricted nature of the powers committed to them, no occasion for action consistent therewith has been presented. At the same time, however, your Committee have seen, with much gratification and encouragement, impressive evidence that among several of the various forms and confessions which divide the Protestant Christian community, not only of this country, but of Europe, also especially of Great Britain, there is an increasing sense of the magnitude of the evils involved in, or resulting from the present divisions; a growing desire and searching of heart not only for more of the unity of the spirit, but also for more of the unity of the spirit in that "bond of peace," which nothing but a close harmony and communion in visible Church institutions can create. Your Committee perceive this increase in a more active inquiry, in various ways, into the nature and extent of the evils of which our present separations are the cause; in books which have recently been issued on the subject, which, whatever the soundness of their views, evince an encouraging earnestness to discover the true remedy and its most effective application; in the nearer drawing together of brethren of differing ecclesiastical institutions, but essentially the same Christian faith, on grounds common to all, for affectionate intercourse, sympathy, and prayer; above all, in the increase, far and wide, of a spirit of prayer, to confess before God the greatness of the evil and the helplessness of His people without His guiding, sanctifying, overruling grace, to apply the remedy.

For all this we bless "the God of all grace and consolation." For the far wider extension and strengthening of all such good desires and efforts, your Committee unite their earnest prayers, with those of their brethren in this House. The daily prayer of the Church on earth—"thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven,"—is the family prayer of all the household of faith; for a blessed union among all the subjects of that kingdom, not only in the inner life of the living branches of the true Vine, by participation in the one spirit of Christ, but in its manifestation and outworking also, by a brotherly harmony and communion, as laborers together with God in all the work committed of God to his Church on earth.

The Commission recommend a continuance of the reference of the subject of Church Unity to a Committee of the House of Bishops.

All which is respectfully submitted.

CHAS. P. McILVAINE, Chairman.

MEMORIAL OF THE REV. MR. LAMSON.

At a meeting of the male members of the Congregation of American Episcopalians worshipping in Paris, under the charge of the Rev. W. O. Lamson, held on the 11th of April, 1859, pursuant to public notice given at Divine Service on the previous Sunday, the following Report of the Committee on the organization of the Church, was submitted by its Chairman, the Hon. Hamilton Fish, and, on motion, was unanimously adopted. The following named gentlemen were subsequently elected Wardens and Vestrymen :

HAMILTON FISH,	} Wardens.
GEO. F. JONES,
H. S. LANSING,	} Vestrymen.
EDWARD BEYLARD, M.D.,
JOHN LAMSON,
DANIEL LEROY,

The Committee appointed to report on the name and on the organization of the American Protestant Episcopal Congregation in Paris, and also on the powers of a Vestry, or on a Permanent Committee in lieu of a Vestry,

Respectfully submit the accompanying plan of organization, embracing, in the opinion of the Committee, the several points submitted to them :

The Committee are of opinion, that in case the accompanying plan of organization be adopted by the Congregation, the appointment of a Committee resident in the United States, may be of most important aid ; this Committee need perhaps only be temporary.

They recommend, therefore, the adoption of the following resolution :

Resolved, That Rev. Dr. Vinton, Rev. Dr. Morgan, Mr. B. R. Winthrop, and Hon. John A. Dix, be appointed a Committee to aid, by counsel and otherwise, the objects, the establishment, and maintenance of the American Episcopal Church in Paris ; and that this Committee be requested in their discretion to add to their number, and to appoint auxiliary Committees.

The American Protestant Episcopalians in Paris, who have associated and formed a Congregation under the ministrations and charge of the Rev. W. O. Lamson, gratefully acknowledging the opportunities, which, under the Divine blessing, have been thereby afforded to them, do adopt the following

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION.

I. The Church shall be known as "The American Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity in Paris," and shall ever profess and maintain the faith and doctrines, and shall forever worship according to the forms and usages of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

II. There shall be a Vestry, to consist of the Rector and six male lay members of the Congregation, of whom two shall be Wardens. The lay members of the Vestry shall be chosen by the adult male members of the Congregation who either being Communicants of the Church, or having been for not less than one year regular attendants upon the services, and contributors to the support and maintenance of this Church, or of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, shall also, for at least three months immediately preceding the election, have been attendants upon, and have either purchased, or hired, and paid for seats in this Church.

III. The first election of Wardens and Vestrymen shall be made by the Congregation present immediately upon the adoption of this plan of organization. They shall forthwith be divided by lot into two classes (each class to consist of one Warden and two Vestrymen), the term of office of one class shall continue until the persons to be chosen in 1860, shall enter upon the duties of their office; the term of the other class shall continue until the persons to be chosen in 1861, shall enter upon the duties of their office. The Wardens and Vestrymen thereafter to be elected, shall be elected, and shall serve for two ecclesiastical years, and until their successors shall be chosen and shall enter upon the duties of their office.

IV. The election of Wardens and Vestrymen shall regularly be held on the Monday in Easter Week in each year, at such place and at such time (between the hours of eleven in the forenoon and five in the afternoon), as the Vestry shall from time to time designate.

Notice of the time and place of holding the election shall be given, during morning service, for two successive Sundays immediately preceding the holding thereof, and also, in case the Vestry deem proper, in any other manner that they shall direct.

The elections shall be by ballot, and the persons having the largest number of votes for the representative offices shall be chosen. The polls shall, at all times, be kept open for one hour, and not longer; the elections shall be held by such persons and under such regulations, and shall be certified in such manner as the Vestry by general regulations shall direct.

V. A quorum of the Vestry shall consist of not less than four members; provided the Rector, or one at least of the Wardens, shall be of that number.

Any vacancy which shall occur in the Vestry from death or resignation, or the permanent removal from Paris of any Warden or Vestryman, shall be temporarily filled by the Vestry, on the nomination of the Rector, or if the office of Rector be vacant, or the Rector be absent from the Parish, then by the Vestry without such nomination—the person thus appointed is to serve during the remainder of the term of him in whose place he may have been appointed.

VI. The Vestry shall have charge of all the temporal affairs of the Church, shall appoint a Secretary and a Treasurer from their own number, shall appoint and employ, at their discretion, such subordinate officers and agents as they shall deem necessary, shall keep minutes of their proceedings, and shall, from time to time, make such regulations as they shall think proper for the management of the Church. They shall, by standing rules, prescribe the time and manner of calling and holding their own meetings, and the order and mode of transacting their own business.

They may recommend any amendments or additions to this plan of organization, and such amendments or additions shall take effect, and become operative as part of the plan of organization, provided they receive the written assent and approval of the Presiding Bishop of the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, but not otherwise; and no amendment or addition can be made that shall not be conformable to the laws and regulations of France. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in the Rectorship, it shall be filled by the Vestry with the written assent and approval of the Presiding Bishop aforesaid, but not without such assent. The Rector shall preside at the meetings of the Vestry, if he be present; if he be not present, one of the Wardens shall preside.

VII. This Congregation desires to, and hereby does, place itself under the ecclesiastical control and supervision of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, which is hereby requested to take into consideration, at its next meeting, the establishment and condition of this Church, and either to take it under its own jurisdiction, or to attach it to some one Diocese, and otherwise to take such action as to the Convention shall seem proper.

VIII. The Rector shall report to the General Convention at its next meeting, the condition and prospects of the Church, together with a copy of this plan of organization, and also any statement, report, or suggestion, which the Vestry shall think proper to make.

To the Right Reverend the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

MEMORIAL.

The undersigned, a Presbyterian of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, canonically attached to the Diocese of New York, but at present officiating as Rector of "The American Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity in Paris, France," respectfully represents:

That at the formal organization of the Church in Paris, at a meeting held in April last by the American Episcopalians, to whom he had been ministering for several months previous, it was made his duty to present at the next meeting of the General Convention of the Church in America, an account of the condition and prospects of the Church, together with suggestions or statements which the Vestry might think proper to make. The undersigned proceeds to discharge this duty by laying before both Houses of the General Convention such information as to the establishment, operation, and needs of the Church in Paris, as shall afford a proper basis for any action that may be deemed wise in the premises.

Strong convictions, founded upon personal observation, of the need and importance of an American Episcopal Church and Ministry in Paris, induced the undersigned to submit his views to several of the Bishops and many of the Clergy and Laity of the Church, by whom they were approved, and from whom he received such encouragement as persuaded him to give himself to the work. Accordingly, on the 15th of August, 1858, soon after his arrival, he held the first service in Paris, in the attempt to found here a Church for the ministrations of the manifold blessings of our beloved American Church. After a brief interruption, the services were resumed on the 12th September, 1858—since which time they have been regularly held. Up to a recent date, and while waiting for permission from the French Government to establish them independently, they were held under the protection of a French Protestant Chapel, and amid great inconveniences, among which was the inability to have more than one Service on Sunday. Upon the issue of the needful authority, the Services were removed, on the 15th May last, to a more convenient locality, and a second Service for the first time established. The present place of worship is too small for the wants of the Church, unattractive in its appointments, and devoted to secular uses during the week; and therefore necessarily surrounded with inconveniences by which the usefulness of the Church is hindered. Yet it is weekly filled with a devout congregation, but a small portion of which is permanent, or even the same from Sunday to Sunday. And the great satisfaction which large numbers thus find in its familiar and beloved worship, together with the yet more important private ministrations, have fully justified the convictions on which the movement was based. It would not be proper, even were it necessary, to state here the many considerations which have from the first urged, and do now more strongly than ever urge, the adoption of all necessary measures to give permanence to an establishment that has so promptly and fully evinced its great and signal usefulness. Moved by them, the zealous and intelligent Congregation of American Episcopalians that had been drawn together here, proceeded in April last to organize the Church—with the aid of two of the Bishops of our Church, who were then in Europe—upon a plan that should surround it with the necessary protection, and afford it all possible facilities for its work. A copy of this plan of organization is submitted herewith, in order that it may receive any modification or amendment which the wisdom of the General Convention may judge necessary or proper. Its form was adopted by the Congregation, subject to such a revival by the highest legislative authority of the Church; and it is their earnest prayer that its general provisions may receive such attention at the hands of the General Convention as will not only place the Church here in proper relation to the Church at home, but also to give to it the great moral support of such sanction as can be accorded to it. All care has been used to draw as closely as possible its ties to the Church at home, as well as to avoid all unnecessary departures from the letter and spirit of the Constitution and Canons of the Church. Provision has also been made to preserve the integrity of its Constitution, by requiring all proposed amendments thereto to have the sanction of the Senior Bishop of the House of Bishops.

The relations of the Church to the establishments of the Anglican branch of the Church here are of the most friendly character; and, by the demonstration it affords of their common faith and purpose, it is calculated to draw more closely the bonds of sympathy between the two branches of the Church.

It only remains that the undersigned present to the General Convention the following statement of the parochial or pastoral work performed during the eleven months of his Ministry here, amid hindrances and inconveniences of the most serious kind.

There have been 75 public Services held—during which there have been 18 administrations (public) of the Holy Communion, showing an average of nearly forty Communicants.

There have been three public Confirmations by Bishops of the American Church. The first was held by the Right Rev. the Bishop of South Carolina, on the 17th October last; the second by the Right Rev. the Bishop of Western New York, on the 21st March last; the third by the Right Rev. the Bishop of Pennsylvania, on the 29th May last—the number in all of persons confirmed being seven.

There have been eleven Baptisms—three adults and eight infants; one Marriage, and four Burials. Visitation and Communion of the Sick and Consolation of the Dying, have in several instances testified to the great value and comfort of the Church's Ministry here.

These results may be regarded as only the beginning of the usefulness that is so significantly promised to this young Church. When its existence shall be more widely known, its ministrations of every kind will be more numerous and generally sought. And it is in view of such future usefulness, as well as of its present necessities, that the Rector and Vestry are anxious to remove the only remaining obstacle to the full exercise of its happy influence—the want of a suitable building, fitly appointed, and entirely consecrated to holy uses. This they hope soon to accomplish through the Christian zeal and aid of Churchmen at home and abroad; and to this end they earnestly ask at the hands of the General Convention some action which shall sanction its existence, general objects, and claims, and commend it to the support and encouragement of the Church at large.

WILLIAM O. LAMSON.

BISHOP DE LANCEY'S LETTER.

LONDON, ENGLAND, May 30th, 1859.

To the Right Rev. Thomas C. Brownell, D.D., Presiding Bishop of the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America:

RIGHT REVEREND AND DEAR SIR:—

I deem it to be matter both of interest and propriety that I should, before leaving England, communicate to you as Presiding Bishop, in such form that it may be put on record in connection with the history of our American Protestant Episcopal Church, THE FACT that a Bishop of our branch of the Church has, in my person, been for the first time a participant in the act of Consecration of a Colonial Bishop* of the Church of England and Ireland, and also of a Bishop of the Scottish Episcopal Church.

I therefore address to you this brief letter, to be laid before the House of Bishops at the approaching General Convention.

As Bishop of Western New York, I was present, by invitation, at the services in Westminster Abbey, on the twenty-fourth day of February of this current year, eighteen hundred and fifty-nine, at the Consecration of the Reverend George Hills as Bishop of British Columbia; and I united, by request of the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Consecrator, with the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishops of London, Oxford, Norwich, and Newfoundland, in the imposition of hands on the Rev. George Hills, thus consecrated as Bishop of British Columbia.

The Bishop designate was presented for Consecration by the Bishops of Oxford and Norwich, and the sermon was preached by the Bishop of London. I assisted also with the other Bishops in the administration of the Lord's Supper by the distribution of the elements. The following are the names of the Bishops present, viz.: John Bird Sumner, Archbishop, and Consecrator; Archibald Campbell Tait, Bishop of London, Samuel Wilberforce, Bishop of Oxford, John Thomas Pelham, Bishop of Norwich, Edward Field, Bishop of Newfoundland, William Heathcote De Lancey, Bishop of Western New York—Assistants.

I was present also by invitation at the Services in St. Paul's Church, Edinburgh, Scotland, on the twenty-sixth day of April, being Tuesday in Easter week, of this current year, eighteen hundred and fifty-nine, at the Consecration of the Reverend William Scot Wilson as Bishop of Glasgow and Galloway, and by invitation of the Primus of the Scottish Episcopal Church, the Rev. Charles Hughes Terrott, Bishop of Edinburgh, I united with the Primus, the Consecrator, the Bishop of St. Andrew's, Dunkeld, and Dunblane, the Bishop of Brechin, and Bishop Walter John Trower, assistants, in the imposition of hands.

* The Right Rev. Charles P. McIlvaine, D.D., D.C.L., Bishop of Ohio, united in the imposition of hands at the Consecration of the Bishop of Lincoln, in 1853.

The Bishop-elect was presented by the Bishop of St. Andrew's, Dunkeld, and Dunblane, and the Bishop of Brechin; and the Sermon was preached by Bishop Walter John Trower.

The names of the Bishops uniting in the Consecration are as follows: Charles Hughes Terrott, Primus and Consecrator; Charles Wordsworth, Bishop of St. Andrew's, Dunkeld, and Dunblane, Alexander Penrose Forbes, Bishop of Brechin, Walter John Trower, late Bishop of Glasgow and Galloway, and William Heathcote De Lancey, Bishop of Western New York, in the United States of America—Assistants.

I was cordially welcomed to these solemn services as a Bishop of the American Protestant Episcopal Church with warm expressions of sympathy and affection.

I earnestly commend you to the grace of God, and imploring the Divine blessing on his Church here and at home,

I remain, most sincerely and faithfully,

Your friend and brother,

WILLIAM HEATHCOTE DE LANCEY,

Bp. of Western New York.

THE CHURCH OF SWEDEN.

In an interview at the Bishop of London's with Count Platen, the Swedish Minister in England, he very courteously offered to obtain any information respecting the Church of Sweden that I might wish to possess. In consequence of this kind offer, the following correspondence took place. The answer of his Lordship was not received in time for the General Convention; but, having reached me before the printing of the Journal is completed, the Secretary has consented to publish it, on my responsibility, as an Appendix to the Journal,—in which the Bishops, to whom I had named the correspondence, would doubtless have directed it to be inserted.

Geneva, N. Y., March 21, 1860.

WILLIAM H. DE LANCEY.

II.

LONDON, June 6, 1859.

MY DEAR COUNT PLATEN:

Agreeably to your very kind permission, I address you a few questions in regard to the Church of Sweden.

At the last General Convention or Synod of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, a Commission was appointed to take measures to open an intercourse between the Church of Sweden and our Church in America. I am not one of the Commission, but the information, you are so kind as to offer, will be most gratefully received. I am not aware of their having made application directly to your Church authorities. Will you allow me to say to them, on my return, that they may address themselves to you for information and guidance?

Your knowledge of the English language will greatly aid them in the communication of their views and wishes. * * *

[The forty questions appear in connection with the answers.]

I trust your Lordship will not be alarmed at the extent of my inquiries. I regret that my absence from London has deprived me of the opportunity of personal intercourse on these points. I am to leave England on the 11th instant for home. I leave London to-day. A letter can reach me at Liverpool before I start. Please to address all letters and papers to me to the care of Stephen B. Guion, Esq., Liverpool, England, who will forward them to me in America.

With profound acknowledgments of your kindness in offering me this information, and praying God to bless you and yours,

I remain, respectfully and truly,

Your Lordship's most obedient servant,

WILLIAM HEATHCOTE DE LANCEY.

(Signed,)

To his Excellency Count PLATEN, Swedish Minister London.

III.

LONDON, 49 GROSVENOR PLACE, S. W., 16th Feb., 1860.

MY DEAR BISHOP :

You may feel astonished at my not having given an earlier answer to your letter of June 6th, last year; but I hope you will allow my wish to give sure and satisfactory answers to your questions sufficiently to give an excuse. Such as they are, I now send them. The source from which they have been drawn is such that I feel full confidence in their exactitude.

I should feel sincerely happy if, in any way, they would contribute to a closer communion between confessors of the Protestant faith in the Old and in the New World. If, in furtherance of such an end, I can be of any use, I hope you will not doubt my willingness, but confide your wishes to, my dear Bishop,

Yours, very truly,

PLATEN.

Rt. Rev. Dr. DE LANCEY, Bishop of Western New York.

IV

1. Is the Church established by law in Sweden?

Yes! Its fundamental law is the "decretum Upsaliense," or decree of the Synod at Upsala, 1593. Its constitution is laid down in the Swedish Church-law of 1686, and subsequent statutes, by which that law has been altered or augmented. As a great part of this law is now antiquated, a new one has been prepared, but has not yet been under discussion at the Diet. Partial alterations of the old law have been, and are still being made, partly by the Diet with the sanction of the King, partly by decrees issued by the King alone. The representation of the Church coincides with that of the State at the triennial meetings of the Diet, or Swedish Parliament.

2. *What amount of support in money does the State grant?*3. In what ways is the aid of the State applied?

As the Church of Sweden is almost entirely maintained by tithes and rates, paid by the holders of property in each separate parish, the amount of money granted directly by the State is very inconsiderable, amounting to about 30,000 Rix-dollars annually. Of this, 11,000 goes to supplying the spiritual wants of the poor Laplanders in the north of Sweden, and the rest to salaries, etc.

4. Are Ministers regarded and treated as officers of the State?

Yes!

5. Do the Ministers exercise any civil power in legislation or administration?

In legislation the Clergy take an important part, by sending delegates to the Diet, at which they constitute the Second Order, ("Staud.") This is formed of the 12 Bishops, 45 Ministers, ("Kyrkoherdar," pastors,) elected from the different Dioceses and the town of Stockholm; 2 Professors elected by the Universities, (Upsala and Lund); 2 Professors from the Academy of Science at Stockholm. The "Comministers" have also the right of sending one of their own choice from each Diocese, and one ditto for Stockholm; but they do not always make use of it, on account of the expense.

In administration, Ministers exercise a civil power in many instances. For example: at the meetings of the rate-paying members of the parish, the Minister is always chairman; license to marriage can only be granted by the Clergy,—in each case, in that parish where the bride has her residence; the Consistories over which the respective Bishops preside constitute ecclesiastical Courts, where appeals are received and judgment given, not only in purely ecclesiastical matters, but also in many instances where civil matters are mixed with ecclesiastical.

6. Are the Ministers elected to their respective parishes by the Congregation, or appointed by the State?

In some parishes, (418,) the Minister is appointed by the King; but in most of them, (629,) the Minister is elected by the Congregation, who choose one of three, presented by the Consistory. In 97 parishes, the Minister is appointed by a "Patron," who has such a right, as owner of some large estate in the parish. 68 parishes are prebends to the Bishops, Theological Professors, and Lectors at the Universities and the higher schools.

The Ministers are generally assisted by "Comministers," (resident Curates,) who are chosen by the congregation in the same way as the Ministers.

7. Is any provision made by the State for aged or disabled Clergymen, or for the widows and children of deceased Ministers?

The State does not provide any direct means for this purpose; but Ministers, when disabled by age or illness, are, by the Consistory, provided with a Curate, who resides with the Minister, and is paid by him, the Minister retaining the income of his living. Poor Curates, in case of illness, receive support from a "cassa pauperum sacerdotum" in each Diocese. The widows and children of deceased Ministers receive the income of the living for one, or, in case of great poverty, for two or three years after the death of the husband or father, (with the obligation to maintain the officiating clergyman.) Afterwards, they receive an annual (small) support from funds contributed annually by all the Ministers of the Diocese.

8. Do Ministers report statedly to the Government the condition and progress, and all the statistics of their parishes?

Such reports are given: (1.) To the Ecclesiastical Department every third year, about the national schools, of which there is one in every parish. (2.) To the Board of Statistics, annually, is to be reported about alterations in the population, by births, marriages, deaths, by emigration or the contrary; about vaccination of children, the condition of the harvest, remarkable occurrences in nature, etc. (3.) A summary of the above is to be given every fifth year. (4.) Report of births, marriages, and deaths in noblemen's families to be sent annually to the Heraldic office. (5.) To the respective Judicial Courts, are sent quarterly and half-yearly reports about deaths that have taken place (in order that widows and fatherless children may be taken care of, when necessary).

9. Are all Church buildings erected and repaired by the State?

The Churches are both erected and repaired by the Congregations. Sometimes, when a new Church is to be built, collections are made over the whole country in aid of the funds of that parish, which has to pay the expenses. In some parishes, where there is a "patron," who appoints the Minister, he must also maintain the Churches

10. What style of architecture, and what material are employed?

The design to new Churches is to be approved of by a Government officer for that purpose. There is no decided "style of architecture" employed. The new Churches are made large, of stone or brick, and sometimes also of wood, (in the Northern provinces).

11. Are contributions for charity, or for Church and benevolent objects, regularly made by the Congregations, and on what system or plan?

Voluntary contributions to such objects are made by collections in the Churches, at marriages, baptisms, etc., and also by subscriptions. The chief contributions for maintaining Churches and schools are, however, made by rates decided upon at regular meetings of the parishioners, with the Minister as chairman.

12. Is the form of the Ministry in the Established Church of Sweden exclusively Episcopal?

Yes! (See Doctor A. E. Knos' book: "K. Darstellung der vornehmsten Eigenthümlichkeiten der Schwedischen Kirchenverfassung—Stuttgart, 1852.")

13. From what source is the Episcopacy derived?

The Episcopacy in Sweden is almost as ancient as the introduction of Christianity in the IXth—XIIth centuries. Ansgarius (born in France 801) was sent as Missionary to Sweden, and arrived there 829. He was afterwards made Archbishop at Hamburg, with ecclesiastical power over the whole Scandinavia. He ordained and sent to Sweden, its first Bishop, Gautbert or Simon, 837. Ansgarius died February 4th, 865, in Bremen, to which place his residency had been changed. During the following century, regular Bishoprics were erected in Sweden at Upsala, Linköping, Skara, Westeras, and Wexio. The first Swedish Synod was held 1152 at Linköping, under the presidency of the Cardinal Nicolaus Albanensis (afterwards Pope Hadrian IV.). At this Synod, it was decided that a Swedish Archbishopric should be erected at Upsala, which was done 1164, when Stephanus became Archbishop there. After the Synod at Skenninge, 1248, where the Church matters were regulated according to the usages in the Church generally at that time, Bishops were elected by "Collegia Canonicorum," the election was approved of by the King, and sanctioned by the Pope. At the Reformation, Gustavus I. retained the Bishoprics as before. Before the Reformation, the Bishoprics in Sweden were only six, viz.: Upsala, Linköping, Skara, Strengnäs, Westeras, and Wexio. To these, came in 1660, Lund, when the Province of Scania was seceded by Denmark. Superintendents were appointed, after the Reformation, at Gothenburg, Calmar, Carlstad, Hernösand, and Wisby, which were afterwards made Bishops; at the three last mentioned places in 1772.

14. Is the Episcopal form of the Ministers regarded as of Divine authority and obligation, or as matter of expediency?

The Episcopacy, as it is after the Reformation, is considered as the best and most ancient form of Church government, but is not regarded as of Divine institution.

15. Is there a succession of Bishops, from the Apostles down, in the Swedish Church?

Yes! It is generally considered so, as the first Evangelical Lutheran Archbishop, Laurentius Petri (Nericus) was ordained 1531, by the Roman Catholic Bishop at Westeras, Petrus Magni.

16. Is such a succession traceable through any National Church to Sweden, and through what Church?

As the first Bishops in Sweden were ordained by the Archbishops at Bremen, the succession in question can be traced from thence, and seems afterwards never to have been interrupted in Sweden. (See Qu. No. 13.)

17. What number of Bishops is there in Sweden, and what power do they exercise?

The number is twelve, with the Archbishop included. They have a great deal of influence, as members of the Diet, as presiding over the Consistories, and as Ephori over all the public schools in their respective Dioceses. They also convene provincial Synods, over which they preside, make visitations in the parishes, etc.

18. By whom are the Bishops appointed?

The King appoints one of three, who have obtained the greatest number of votes from the Clergy in the Diocese. The Archbishop is likewise appointed by the King; but at the previous election for the three candidates, the following have an equal share: the Clergy of the Diocese of Upsala; the Consistory of the University at Upsala; the Consistory of the Clergy at Stockholm; and the Consistories of the twelve Dioceses.

19. By whom are the Bishops consecrated?

By the Archbishop.

20. What is the extent of a Diocese in territory and population?

At the end of 1855 this was, as near as could be ascertained, as follows:

Upsala	Diocese.....	580	Swedish quadr. miles, with	327,862	inhabitants.
Linköping	" .....	350	" .....	349,794	"

21. Is the form of Consecration prescribed, and can a copy of it be obtained?

Yes! See Cap. 13, of the Swedish Agenda of 1811 ("Svenska Kyrko-Handboken"), which can easily be obtained from any bookseller in Sweden.

22. Are forms of worship used for Sunday and daily service, for Baptism, Matrimony, the Holy Communion, and other holy public offices?

Yes! (See previous question.)

23. Is any part of public worship extemporary?

No! the Liturgy is always used.

24. Is preaching extemporary, or by written discourses?

It is done in both ways. The tendency is now to the former, although the latter is perhaps at present the most prevalent.

25. Has the Swedish Church, Articles of Belief which the Clergy profess, and are required to sign at Ordination?

At the Ordination (see the Swedish Agenda, Cap. 14), each Candidate declares that he will be faithful to the doctrines contained in the Holy Scriptures, and expounded by the "unchanged confessio Augustana," and decretum Upsaliense of 1593.

26. Does the Swedish Church adopt the Apostles' Creed, the Nicene Creed, and the Athanasian Creed?

Yes!

27. Are there Synods, and what powers do they possess? and how are they constituted and composed?

No general Synod has been held in Sweden since 1593; but diocesan Synods are frequently held (according to law, every sixth year). At these, many important questions are discussed, both with respect to the concerns of the Diocese in particular, and the state of the Church of Christ in general. These Synods last three days, and begin each day with a solemn service in the Cathedral, after which the Clergy proceed to another room for deliberation. Laymen are freely admitted, but do not take part in the proceedings.

Among subjects, which are here decided upon, may be mentioned: the amount of salary to be paid to Curates; the annual support to be given to widows and children of deceased Clergymen; the classification of parishes; the education in the national schools; the formation of parish libraries; the holding of Bible meetings, etc. Orations are also held, and doctrinal questions discussed.

There are also in many districts of the respective Dioceses, meetings held by the Clergy belonging to such a district; but these have no power of imposing laws, and serve only to mutual encouragement in doing good.

28. Are the laity admitted as members of the Synods?

As auditors, but not as members. (See above.)

29. What offices may laymen hold in the Church, if any?

No laymen can hold any purely Clerical office. Laymen are admitted as members of the Consistories, and officiate as Churchwardens, etc.; but these offices may not be considered as "offices in the Church." Laymen are also permitted to preach in the Churches, with permission from the Bishop and the Minister. This is frequently the case with students who study for the ministry at the Universities.

30. Is religious education invariably connected with secular education?

Yes, in all public schools, except, perhaps, in some formed for specific objects, f. ex. agriculture, mechanical arts, etc., when a general education is presupposed.

31. Is education, secular and religious, voluntary, or enforced by law?

To a certain extent, as necessary for "Confirmation," education is enforced by law, although recourse to it is seldom, if ever, needed. (See No. 35.)

32. Is religion taught in all schools and Colleges?

See No. 30.

33. What is the general course of study in Colleges?

At the Provincial Schools, where the students are prepared for the Universities, the following amount of knowledge, as prescribed by law, is required before the course is finished, which takes about ten years, generally from the age of eight to eighteen. The instruction is given in seven classes, the three highest for two years.

In Religion: reading of the New Testament in Swedish and Greek; a Manual of the Church Dogmas; Luther's Catechism, with explanations; Biblical and Church History.

In the Swedish Language and Literature: exercises in writing and speaking, with readings from Swedish, Danish, and Norwegian authors.

In Mathematics: Arithmetic; Geometry after Euclides; Algebra; the Elements of Trigonometry, with use of Logarithmical tables; solving of problems, etc.

In Natural Sciences: the Elements of Botany, Zoology, Chemistry and Physics. In the study of Botany, the Linnean System is generally used. In Physics, the doctrines on Heat, Light, Magnetism, and Electricity, are explained.

In History and Geography: the Elements of Universal and Swedish.

In Metaphysics: Logic and Psychology, according to Swedish manuals.

Of the Modern Languages: German, French, and English are taught. Latin, Greek, and Hebrew are studied by those who wish it, but none are compelled to do it. The majority, however, study at least the two first named; and those who study for the Ministry, also Hebrew.

At the Universities, the course of study is more free, and varies according to inclination and ability, both of professors and students.

34. What proportion of the youth of the land attend Colleges?

On the 31st December, 1855, the number of pupils in the Public Schools was 648,835. The number of students at the Universities is about 2,000; but of these many are absent as tutors in the provinces, for a year or two. The number of those present at the Universities is at Upsala about 900, and at Lund about 400.

35. Is the education of females enforced by law, and what is it?

To a certain extent, the education of girls as well as of boys, is enforced by law, viz.: to be able to read well, and know Luther's Catechism with explanation, as required before "Confirmation" can take place. (See No. 31.)

36. Does dissent from the Established Church prevail?

Not generally. (See under No. 39.)

37. What is the number of Bishops, Dioceses, Clergy, and Parishes?

The number of Bishops, as well as Dioceses, is twelve. The number of officiating Clergymen was, on the 31st December, 1855, 2,877. Besides these there were, at the same time, 390 ordained Clergymen, occupied with other engagements, as teachers in the schools, etc.

The number of "parishes" or livings (Sw. "Pastorat") is 1967. These, however, generally consist of several "congregations" (Sw. "Församling" or "Socken"), which have been joined together under one minister (Rector or Pastor). The number of these "Församlingar" (or "Socknar") is about 2,521, and they have generally their own Church, school, relieving officers for the poor, etc.

38. What is the extent of the Church population?

39. What is the extent of the Dissenters?

The number of those registered in the Ministers' books as belonging to the Established Church was, on the 31st December, 1855, 3,637,466. Of these, a few are Roman Catholics, and about 4000 Baptists, which, however, have not yet officially seceded from the Established Church; but many of them will no doubt do so, if permission is given to have their own form of worship, as it is expected it soon will.

40. Are the Government, the Clergy, and the people generally, satisfied with the religious system of the country?

There is some discontent among those who desire that the Church should be separated from the State; but this opinion is not shared by the majority, which is contented with the present system, and only desire partial improvements.

Digest of the Canons

FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH

IN THE

United States of America,

PASSED AND ADOPTED IN GENERAL CONVENTION, IN RICHMOND, VIRGINIA,
OCTOBER, 1859:

TOGETHER WITH

The Constitution.

---

KING & BAIRD, PRINTERS, 607 SANSON ST.

THE undersigned were appointed to superintend the publication of the Digest of the Canons as adopted by the General Convention, in October, 1859. The distribution is into Titles, Canons of each Title, Sections of Canons, and occasionally Clauses of Sections. At the head of the page the Title, number of the Canon, and the general subject, are stated. In the margin is a summary of the particular enactment.

The historical notes at the foot of the page refer to the Canons as they may be found in the Journal of 1856. That Journal will, it is presumed, enable any one to trace any particular Canon, from its origin through all its modifications, to this time. It was found impossible for either of the undersigned to make a complete historical notice of the succession of each provision, within the time prescribed for the Canons to go into effect.

IN PHILADELPHIA, OCTOBER, 1789.

ARTICLE 1.

There shall be a General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, on the first Wednesday in October, in every third year, from the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-one; and in such place as shall be determined by the Convention; and in case there shall be an epidemic disease, or any other good cause to render it necessary to alter the place fixed on for any such meeting of the Convention, the Presiding Bishop shall have it in his power to appoint another convenient place (as near as may be to the place so fixed on) for the holding of such Convention; and special meetings may be called at other times, in the manner hereafter to be provided for; and this Church, in a majority of the Dioceses which shall have adopted this Constitution, shall be represented, before they shall proceed to business; except that the representation from two Dioceses shall be sufficient to adjourn; and in all business of the Convention freedom of debate shall be allowed.

Vote by Dioceses and Orders.

*Dioceses unrep-

The Church in each Diocese shall be entitled to a representation of both the Clergy and the Laity. Such representation shall consist of not more than four Clergymen, and four Laymen communicants in this Church, residents in the Diocese, and chosen in the manner prescribed by the Convention thereof; and in all questions when required by the clerical and lay representation from any Diocese, each Order shall have one vote; and the majority of suffrages by Dioceses shall be conclusive in each Order, provided such majority comprehend a majority of the Dioceses represented in that Order. The concurrence of both Orders shall be necessary to constitute a vote of the Convention. If the Convention of any Diocese should neglect or decline to appoint clerical Deputies, or if they should neglect or decline to appoint lay Deputies, or if any of those of either Order appointed should neglect to attend, or be prevented by sickness or any other accident, such Diocese shall nevertheless be considered as duly represented by such Deputy or Deputies as may attend, whether lay or clerical. And if, through the neglect of the Convention of any of the Churches which shall have adopted or may hereafter adopt this Constitution, no Deputies, either lay or clerical, should attend at any General Convention, the Church in such Diocese shall nevertheless be bound by the acts of such Convention.

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE 3.

The Bishops of this Church, when there shall be three or more, shall, whenever General Conventions are held, form a separate House, with a right to originate and propose acts for the concurrence of the House of Deputies composed of Clergy and Laity; and when any proposed act shall have passed the House of Deputies, the same shall be transmitted to the House of Bishops, who shall have a negative thereupon; and all acts of the Convention shall be authenticated by both Houses. And in all cases, the House of Bishops shall signify to the Convention their approbation or disapprobation (the latter with their reasons in writing) within three days after the proposed act shall have been reported to them for concurrence; and in failure thereof, it shall have the operation of a law. But until there shall be three or more Bishops, as aforesaid, any Bishop attending a General Convention shall be a member ex officio, and shall vote with the clerical Deputies of the Diocese to which he belongs; and a Bishop shall then preside.

ARTICLE 4.

The Bishop or Bishops in every Diocese shall be chosen agreeably to such rules as shall be fixed by the Convention of that Diocese; and every Bishop of this Church shall confine the exercise of his Episcopal Office to his proper Diocese, unless requested to ordain or confirm, or perform any other act of the Episcopal Office by any Church destitute of a Bishop.

ARTICLE 5.

*Admission of

A Protestant Episcopal Church in any of the United States, or any Territory thereof, not now represented, may, at any time hereafter, be admitted on acceding to this Constitution: and a new Diocese, to be formed from one or more existing Dioceses, may be admitted under the following restrictions.

Consent required.

No new Diocese shall be formed or erected within the limits of any other Diocese, nor shall any Diocese be formed by the junction of two or more Dioceses, or parts of Dioceses, unless with the consent of the Bishop and Convention of each of the Dioceses concerned, as well as of the General Convention.

*Limit of
and Parishes.*

No such new Diocese shall be formed which shall contain less than fifteen self-supporting Parishes, or less than fifteen Presbyters who have been for at least one year canonically resident within the bounds of such new Diocese, regularly settled in a Parish or Congregation, and qualified to vote for a Bishop. Nor shall such new Diocese be formed if thereby any existing Diocese shall be so reduced as to contain less than thirty self-supporting Parishes, or less than twenty Presbyters who have been residing therein and settled and qualified as above mentioned: Provided that no city shall form more than one Diocese.

*Rights of the Diocesan, and
Bishop.*

In case one Diocese shall be divided into two Dioceses, the Diocesan of the Diocese divided may elect the one to which he will be attached, and shall thereupon become the Diocesan thereof. And the Assistant Bishop, if there be one, may elect the one to which he will be attached; and if it be not the one elected by the Bishop, he shall be the Diocesan thereof.

CONSTITUTION.

Whenever the division of a Diocese into two Dioceses shall be ratified by the General Convention, each of the two Dioceses shall be subject to the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese so divided, except as local circumstances may prevent, until the same may be altered in either Diocese by the Convention thereof. And whenever a Diocese shall be formed out of two or more existing Dioceses, the new Diocese shall be subject to the Constitution and Canons of that one of the said existing Dioceses to which the greater number of Clergymen shall have belonged prior to the erection of such new Diocese, until the same may be altered by the Convention of the new Diocese.

No alteration or addition shall be made in the Book of Common Prayer, or other Offices of the Church, or the Articles of Religion, unless the same shall be proposed in one General Convention, and by a resolve thereof made known to the Convention of every Diocese, and adopted at the subsequent General Convention.

Three Orders of Ministry.

Of the Admission of Persons as Candidates for Holy Orders.

§ I. All persons seeking admission to the ministry of this Church, are to be regarded as candidates for Holy Orders.<sup>b</sup>

Who are deemed Candidates.

Every person who desires to become a candidate for Holy Orders in this Church, shall, in the first instance, give notice of his intention to the Bishop of the Diocese in which he intends to apply ; or, if there be no Bishop, to the Standing Committee ; in which notice he shall declare whether he has ever applied for admission as a candidate in any other Diocese. No person who has previously applied for admission as a candidate in any Diocese, and has been refused admission, or, having

§ III. A person desirous of becoming a candidate for Holy Orders, shall apply to the Bishop, or, if there be no Bishop, to the Standing Committee, of the Diocese in which he resides, unless the said Bishop or ecclesiastical authority shall give their consent to his application in some other Diocese.<sup>b</sup>

§ IV. No person shall be considered as a candidate for Holy Orders in this Church, unless he shall have produced to the Bishop to whom he intends to apply for Orders, a certificate from the Standing Committee of the Diocese of the said Bishop, that, from personal knowledge, or from testimonials laid before them, they believe that he is pious, sober, and honest; that he is attached to the doctrine, discipline, and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church; a communicant of the same; and, in their opinion, possesses such qualifications as will render him apt and meet to exercise the ministry, to the glory of God and the edifying of the Church. § V. It is also to be made known to every candidate, for whatever order of the ministry, that the Church expects of him what never can be brought to the test of any outward standard,—an inward fear and worship of Almighty God, a love of religion, and a sensibility to its holy influences, a habit of devout affection, and, in short, a cultivation of all those graces which are called, in Scripture, the fruits of the Spirit, and by which alone His sacred influences can be manifested.<sup>b</sup>

§ VI. The requisitions of this Canon being fulfilled, the Bishop may admit the person as a candidate for Holy Orders, and shall record the same in a book to be kept for that purpose, and notify the candidate of such record: and in any diocese where there is no Bishop, the Standing Committee may, on the same conditions, admit the person as a candidate, and shall make record and notification in the same manner.<sup>c</sup>

§ V. apply to the Court if in session, or if not, to any member thereof, who shall thereupon appoint a commissary to take the deposition of such witness; and such party so desiring to take the deposition, shall give to the other party reasonable notice of the time and place of taking such deposition, accompanying such notice with the interrogatories to be propounded to the witness; whereupon it shall be lawful for the other party, within six days after such notice, to propound cross-interrogatories; and such interrogatories and cross-interrogatories, if any be propounded, shall be sent to the commissary, who shall thereupon proceed to take the testimony of such witness, upon oath or affirmation, and transmit it under seal to the Court. But no deposition shall be read at the trial, unless the Court have reasonable assurance that the attendance of the witness cannot be procured, or unless both parties shall consent that it may be read. Provided, that in any Diocese in which the civil government has authorized the ecclesiastical courts therein to issue summons for witnesses, or to administer an oath, the Court shall act in conformity to such laws.

In case of service by any other person, the fact may be proved by the affidavit of such person. If the person to be served with any notice or paper shall have left the United States, it shall be a sufficient service thereof to leave a copy of such notice or paper at his last place of abode within the United States, sixty days before the day on which the appearance, or other act required by the said notice or paper, is to be performed.

Accused may have Counsel.

[6.] The accused party may, if he think proper, have the aid of counsel ; and if he should choose to have more than one counsel, the Church Advocate may have assistant advocates, to be named by the accusers ; but in every case the Court may regulate the number of counsel who shall address the Court or examine witnesses. The Church Advocate shall be considered the party on one side, and the accused on the other. All counsel must be communicants of the Church.

Counsel to be Communicants.

Court to express Opinion on each Charge and Specification.

[7.] The Court, having fully heard the allegations and proofs of the parties, and deliberately considered the same, after the parties have withdrawn, shall declare respectively, whether, in their opinion, the accused is guilty or not guilty of each particular charge and specification contained in the presentment, in the order in which they are set forth ; and the accused shall be considered as not guilty of every charge and specification of which he shall not be pronounced guilty by a majority of the members of the Court.

Decision to be reduced to Writing and signed.

[8.] The decision of the Court as to all the charges and specifications of which a majority of the members of the Court have found him guilty, shall be reduced to writing, and signed by those who assent to it ; and a decision pronouncing him not guilty of all those charges and specifications of which a majority shall not have pronounced him guilty, shall also be drawn up, and signed by those who assent to it; and the decision thus signed shall be regarded as the judgment of the Court, and shall be pronounced in the presence of the parties, if they shall think proper to attend.

[9.] If the accused shall be found guilty of any charge or specification, the Court shall proceed to ask him whether he has anything to say before the sentence is passed, and may, in their discretion, give him time to prepare what he wishes to say, and appoint a time for passing the sentence; and before passing sentence, the Court may adjourn from time to time, and give the accused reasonable opportunity of showing cause to induce a belief that justice has not been done, or that he has discovered new testimony; and the Court, or a majority of its members, may, according to a sound discretion, grant him a new trial; but, in such new trial, no Bishop shall sit who has already been a trier. Before passing sentence, the accused shall always have the opportunity of being heard, if he have aught to say in excuse or palliation.

New Trial.

[10.] The accused having been heard, or not desiring to be heard, the sentence of the Court shall then be pronounced, and shall be either admonition, suspension as defined by the existing Canons of this Church, or degradation, as the offence or offences adjudged to be proved shall seem to deserve. It shall be the duty of the Court, whenever sentence has been pronounced, whether it be upon a trial, or for contumacy, to communicate such sentence to the ecclesiastical authority of every Diocese of this Church; and it shall be the duty of such authority to cause such sentence to be made known to every clergyman under his jurisdiction.

Record of Proceedings.

[11.] Every Court shall keep a full record of its proceedings, including the whole evidence given before it. Should any Court refuse to insert in its record a statement of any testimony which has been received, or of any decision which the Court has made, or of any fact which has occurred in Court, or any paper which either party has produced, it shall be the right of either party to file an exception in writing, containing a statement of such evidence, decision or fact, or referring to or describing such paper, which paper shall also be filed with the exception. All exceptions and papers so filed shall become parts of the record.

How kept and attested.

[12.] Such records shall be kept by the Clerk, and inserted in a book, to be attested by the signatures of the President and Clerk. Every such book, and all papers connected with any trial, shall be deposited with the Registrar of the General Convention. Such books and papers shall be open to the inspection of every member of this Church.

Lay Advisers may be appointed.

[13.] Every Court, constituted under the authority of this Canon, may be attended by one or more lay advisers, who shall be communicants of this Church, and of the profession of the law. Such advisers may be present at all the proceedings of the Court, but they shall have no vote in any case whatever; it shall be their duty to give in person to the Court an opinion on any question not theological, upon which the Court, or any member thereof, or either party, shall desire an opinion. If a dispute shall arise whether any question be or be not theological, it shall be decided by the Court by a majority of votes. The Court may always, by unanimous consent, appoint an adviser or advisers. If they are not unanimous, each member of the Court may name a candidate; if not more than three are named, they all shall be advisers; if more than three are named, the Court shall reduce them to three by lot.

§ VII. [1.] Any Bishop of this Church may be presented for holding and teaching doctrine inconsistent with that of this Church, by any Bishop in communion with this Church, and not under suspension or degradation. No Bishop shall be presented in any other mode for this offence; and it shall not be lawful for two or more persons to unite in any such presentment. The Bishop making such presentment shall appoint a Church Advocate.

[2.] Every presentment for alleged erroneous doctrine shall be signed by the person making it, and shall be addressed to the Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, and delivered to the senior Bishop entitled to a seat in the House of Bishops, and not being the accused or the accuser, whose duty it shall be to convene a Court for the trial of the accused. The Court shall be composed of all the Bishops entitled to seats in the House of Bishops, except the accuser and the accused. Three fourths of such Bishops shall constitute a quorum; but the consent of two thirds of all the Bishops entitled to seats in the House of Bishops shall be necessary to a conviction.

COURSE OF ECCLESIASTICAL STUDIES.

Established by the House of Bishops, in the Convention of 1804, in pursuance of a Resolution of the preceding General Convention.

IN attending to this subject a considerable difficulty occurs, arising out of the difference of the circumstances of Students, in regard not only to intellectual endowments and preparatory knowledge of Languages and Science, but to access to authors, and time to be devoted to a preparation for the Ministry. For, in accommodating to those whose means are slender, we are in danger of derogating from the importance of religious knowledge; while on the other hand, although we should demand all that is desirable, we shall be obliged to content ourselves, in some cases, with what is barely necessary.

In consideration of the above, it will be expedient to set down such a course of study as is accommodated to a moderate portion of time and means, and afterwards to suggest provisions, as well for a more limited, as for a more enlarged share of both.

Let the Student be required to begin with some books in proof of the Divine Authority of Christianity, such as Grotius on the Truth of the Christian Religion; Jenkins on the Reasonableness of Christianity; Paley's Evidences; Leslie's Methods with the Jews and Deists; Stillingfleet's Origines Sacræ; and Butler's Analogy. To the above should be added some books which give a knowledge of the objections made by Deists. For this, Leland's View may be sufficient; except that it should be followed by answers to Deistical writers since Leland, whose works and the answers to them may be supposed known to the Student. It would be best, if circumstances permit, that he should read what the Deists themselves have written.

After the books in proof of Revelation, let the Student, previously to the reading of any System of Divinity, study the Scriptures with the help of some approved Commentators, such as Patrick and Lowth on the Old Testament, and Hammond, or Whitby, or Doddridge, on the New; being aware, in regard to the last-mentioned author, of the points on which he differs from our Church, although it be with moderation and candor. During such, his study of the Scriptures, let him read some work or works which give an account of the design of the different books, and the grounds on which their respective authority is asserted; for instance, Father Simon's Canon of Scripture; Collier's Sacred Interpreter; Gray's Key to the Old Testament, and Percy's Key to the New. Let the Student read the Scriptures, over and over, referring to his Commentators as need may require, until he can give an account of the design and character of each book, and explain the more difficult passages of it. He is supposed to know enough of Profane History to give an account of that also, whenever it mixes with the Sacred. There are certain important subjects which may be profitably attended to, as matters of distinct study, during the course of the general study of Scripture. For instance: the Student having proceeded as far as the Deluge, may read some other author who gives a larger account than the Commentators of the particulars attached to that crisis; and also the principles on which are founded the different systems of Chronology, all of which will be found clearly done in the Universal History. In reading the Book of Leviticus, it will be useful to attend to some connected scheme of the Sacrifices; such as is exhibited by Bishop Kidder, in his Introduction to the Pentateuch, and by Mr. Joseph Mede, in some of his Discourses. A more full and interesting interpretation of the Prophecies than can be expected from the Commentators, will be desirable, and for this purpose let Bishop Newton's work be taken. Between the study of the Old Testament and that of the New, should be read Prideaux's and Shuckford's Connections. With the New Testament should be taken some book relating to the Harmony of the Gospels, as M'Knight's, or Bishop Newcome's. Let the Student, before entering on the Gospels, read Dr. Campbell's Introductory Dissertation. Toward the close of the Gospels the subject of the Resurrection should be particularly attended to, for which purpose let there be taken either Mr. West, on the subject, or Bishop Sherlock's Trial of the Witnesses.

After the Study of the Scriptures, let attention be given to Ecclesiastical History, so far as to the Council of Nice. This period is distinctly taken, from a desire that the portion of History preceding it, as well as the opinions then entertained, may be learned from original writers, which may be considered as one of the best expedients for the guarding of the Student against many errors of modern times. The writers of that interval are not numerous or bulky. Eusebius is soon read through; and so are the Apostolic Fathers. Even the other writers are not voluminous, except Origen, the greater part of whose works may be passed over. The Apostolic Fathers may be read in Cotelerius' edition; but there are translations of most of them, by Archbishop Wake and the Rev. William Reeves. Cave's Lives of the Apostles and Fathers may be profitably read at this period.

This stage of the Student's progress seems the most proper for the study of the two questions of our Lord's Divinity, and of Episcopacy. The aspect of early works on these subjects, best enables us to ascertain in what shape they appear to the respective writers. And it is difficult to suppose, on the ground of what we know of human nature, that, during the first three centuries, either the character of CHRIST should have been conceived of as materially different from what had been the representation of it by the first teachers of our religion; or, that there should have been a material change of Church Government, without opposition to the innovation. For the former question, let the works of Bishop Bull, and the Rev. Charles Leslie be taken; to which may well be added the late controversy between Bishop Horsley and Dr. Priestly; and for the latter, Mr. Hooker's Ecclesiastical Polity, Archbishop Potter on Church Government, and Daubeny's Guide to the Church. As the Lord Chancellor King published a book on the Discipline of the Primitive Church, in which he has rested Episcopacy on insufficient grounds, unwarily admitted by many on his authority, let the Student read his book and the refutation of it in Mr. Slater's Original Draft of the Primitive Church.

After this, let the Student go on with the History of the Fourth Century, from Mosheim. But it will be of advantage to him to turn to Fleury's History, for the epitomes there given of the writings of the eminent men who abounded in that century and part of the next. Let him then return to Mosheim, and go on with that writer to the Reformation. Here let him pause and study, as the main hinges of Popery, its pretences to supremacy and infallibility, on which there will be found satisfactory matter in Mr. Chillingworth's Religion of Protestants a Safe Way to Salvation, and Dr. Barrow's Treatise of the Pope's Supremacy. Here, also, let there be read Father Paul's History of the Council of Trent. Then let the Student resume Mosheim. But it will be best if, for a more minute knowledge of the History of the Church of England since the Reformation, he takes along with him Collier's History, a very able work, but in the reading of which some allowance must be made for peculiar prejudices. On coming, in the reign of Elizabeth, to the questions which arose between the Divines of the Established Church and the Presbyterians, then known by the name of Puritans, let recourse be again had to Mr. Hooker's work, and to the London Cases. Then let Mosheim be proceeded with to the end.

After these studies, and not before, let Divinity be read in a systematic method. Bishop Pearson's Exposition of the Creed may be considered as a small system, and, on account of the excellence of the work, is recommended; as also, Bishop Burnet's Exposition of the Thirty-nine Articles. Then let a larger system be taken; suppose Stackhouse's Body of Divinity, with the addition of the following modern works Elements of Christian Theology, by the present Bishop of Lincoln, and The Scholar Armed. That many works of this sort are not mentioned, is because we think their utility is principally confined to arrangement, and suppose that the knowledge they convey is to be obtained from the Scriptures and judicious commentators.

It seems necessary to this course of study to recommend the Sermons of some of the distinguished preachers who have so abounded in the Church of England for some ages past; and the only matter will be, from among many of great name, to select a convenient number. And for this purpose we refer to the list at the end.

It seems not unnecessary to require attention to the History of the Common Prayer, the grounds on which the different services are constructed, and the meaning of the Rubrics. Perhaps a careful study of Dr. Wheatley, On the Common Prayer, and the late work of Mr. Reeves, will be sufficient.

Some books should be read on the Duties of the Pastoral Office; such as St. Chrysostom On the Priesthood, Bishop Burnet On the Pastoral Care, and Bishop Wilson's Parochialia. It is, however, to be remembered, that one reason for studying carefully the book of Common Prayer, and its Rubrics, is, that by the help of these, in connection with what belongs in Scripture to the Ministerial character, sufficient information of its duties may be had.

A knowledge of the Constitution and the Canons should be held absolutely necessary. And it is to be hoped that they will, on this account, be soon published detached from the Journals.

To set down what Books shall be essential, no Student to be ordained without being fully prepared to answer on them, is more difficult. The lowest requisition is as follows:—Paley's Evidences; Mosheim, with a reference to Mr. Hooker, for the Episcopacy; Stackhouse's Body of Divinity; and Mr. Reeves, on the Common Prayer; the Constitution and Canons of the Church; allowing, in the Study of the Scriptures, a latitude of choice among approved commentators; it being understood, that if the Student cannot, on the grounds contained in some good commentary, give an account of the different books, and explain such passages as may be proposed to him, this is of itself a disqualification.

In the beginning it was intimated that the course to be recommended would be disproportioned to the means of some, and fall short of what would be within the compass of others. For the benefit of the latter we publish the following list of books, on the different branches of Ecclesiastical knowledge.

During the whole course of study, the Student will endeavor, by the grace of GOD, to cultivate his heart by attention to devotional and practical treatises, several of which will be mentioned in the general list that follows.
