SEATTLE, WASH., November 10, 1911.

To the Presiding Bishop of the Church, St. Louis, Mo.

MY DEAR BISHOP:—

I received due notice from the Secretary of the House of Bishops of my election and transfer to the Missionary District of South Dakota.

Since then, I have simply committed myself to the guidance of God the Holy Ghost. I am now convinced that the decision which I have arrived at is the right one. It is, that I cannot leave my present work and accept this election to South Dakota.

There has followed a deep feeling of relief, because the call to South Dakota thrust me into a difficult position, and one that I had to face with all serious consideration and prayer.

I know that kindly consideration for my health may have been, partly, the motive in electing me as Bishop of South Dakota. But,—that my health 'is not so affected as to interfere with my work'; that I am about to intercede with Congress for some remedial legislation on behalf of the natives in Alaska; and that it would be less difficult for me, in my opinion, to continue the work in Alaska, where I know and am known, where it is easier at my age to carry on work that I have had everything to do with from the beginning, than to take up new work in a new field, however attractive,—are a few of the reasons which have weighed with me in coming to the decision made.

Sincerely appreciating the sympathy, kindness and confidence of my brethren, with all loving esteem and kind wishes to yourself, I am,
Faithfully and affectionately yours,

P. T. ROWE, Bishop of Alaska.

He deems it his duty to take action upon this letter.

On October 27, 1911, the House of Bishops in Special Session in New York City, adopted a resolution transferring the Missionary Bishop of Alaska to the Missionary District of South Dakota.

The lex scripta of Canon 10, § III., seems to make this transfer an actum, by force of which the Missionary Bishop of Alaska became the Missionary Bishop of South Dakota.

But the following considerations suggest themselves:

(a) The lex non scripta or the jus in the case would seem to allow to the Bishop of Alaska a natural right to accept or decline the proffer from the House of Bishops of what in its view, doubtless, was considered a promotion or an increased suitability of position.

(b) The lex scripta in other cases makes specific declaration of such right. Article II., § 1, of the Constitution says "if he shall so elect." Canon 9, § I., (ii.), says "Upon notice of the acceptance by the Bishop-elect of his election, the Presiding Bishop shall take order, etc." Canon

10, § II., (iii.), says "When the Presiding Bishop shall have received notice of the acceptance by the Bishop-elect of his election, he shall take order, etc." It is to be inferred that the omission of the words "if he shall accept" in Canon 10, § III., is not to be construed as a deprivation of a natural right of a Bishop, elected to a transfer of position, to accept or decline such election.

(c) Recorded action has been taken in a case exactly similar, which serves to show the mind of the House of Bishops in this matter and which establishes a precedent. In the Special Meeting of the House of Bishops in New York City, in 1894, when Bishop Barker was transferred, these were the two resolutions adopted:

1. That the Right Rev. Dr. William Morris Barker be relieved from the exercise of Episcopal functions in the Missionary District of Western Colorado, and that he be directed to exercise Episcopal functions in the Missionary District of Olympia.

2. That if the Right Rev. Dr. Barker shall accept the appointment to exercise Episcopal functions in the Missionary District of Olympia, his title shall be Bishop of Olympia.

Therefore, the Presiding Bishop is constrained to decide and to pronounce and record and promulgate the decision that there is no vacancy existing in the Missionary District of Alaska, such as would call upon him under the provisions of Canon 10, § VI., to take the charge of said District, and furthermore, that the Right Rev. Peter Trimble Rowe, D.D., ought of right to be and still is the Bishop of the Missionary District of Alaska.

The Bishop of Atlanta offered the following preamble and resolution:

In view of the increasingly urgent demand upon the clergy of the Church for some modification of the mode of administering the Chalice in the service of the Holy Communion by reason of the alleged danger of communicating disease in the common use of a single cup, it seems desirable, if not necessary, that the Church should have an expression from this House, (1) That occasion for existing variations may be removed, and (2) that an authentic alternative practice may be legalized;

Therefore, Resolved. That the Chairman of this House appoint a Committee of seven Bishops to consider the conditions and needs in the premises, and to report for action of this House what, if any, remedy or authorized modification of present rubrical use will satisfy reasonable demands of our people, who are greatly perturbed over the danger from the cup as at present administered.—

Which was adopted. [See p. 49.]

The Bishop of Southern Virginia presented the report of the Commission on a French Version of the Ordinal, as follows:

The Commission appointed by the House of Bishops on a French Version of the Ordinal has the honor to make the following report:

The Commission was so fortunate as to obtain the assistance and collaboration of the Rev. A. V. Wittmeyer of l'Eglise du Saint-Esprit in the Diocese of New York. Mr. Wittmeyer had already translated the Prayer Book down to the Ordinal. It seemed desirable that the Version of the Ordinal should correspond to the style of the Prayer Book now in use.

The Commission begs leave to submit a copy of the Ordinal in French, embracing: (a) The Form and Manner of Making Deacons; (b) The Form and Manner of Ordering Priests; (c) The Form of Ordaining or Consecrating a Bishop; (d) The Litany and Suffrages; (e) The Order for the Administration of the Lord's Supper or Holy Communion; (f) The Form of Consecration of a Church or Chapel; (g) An Office of Institution of Ministers.

The Commission offers the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the copies of the French Version of the Ordinal be placed in the charge of the Custodian of the Prayer Book, until such time as provision be made for the printing of the Ordinal, for the use of Congregations speaking the French language.

Resolved, That the House of Bishops extend to the Rev. A. V. Wittmeyer its thanks for his generous assistance in securing a version of the Ordinal in French, with an appreciation of the fidelity and felicity with which he has rendered the words of the Prayer Book of this Church.

Respectfully submitted,

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That the said Joint Commission shall have power to add to its membership and to fill any vacancies that may occur.

On motion, the foregoing resolutions, together with the report of the Commission, were made the Order of the Day for Monday afternoon, October 13th, at four o'clock. [See p. 54.]

The Bishop of Indianapolis presented the following report:

At the General Convention of 1910, a new Missionary Canon was adopted, which made radical changes in the organization of the Board of Missions. During the triennium the Board, thus reorganized and working more efficiently and effectively, has nevertheless become convinced of the necessity of further changes both of organization and administration, in order better to meet the rapidly increasing demands which the Church's progress at home and abroad makes upon it.

Accordingly, a Committee of the Board was appointed a year ago on Organization and Administration. This Committee, after several months' study and conference, prepared a Canon amending the present Canon, and at the May meeting submitted it to the Board of Missions, by which it was endorsed and ordered to be presented to the General Convention.

The Canon was thereupon printed and given wide distribution, in order that the Church might be informed of what was proposed. The resulting criticism and discussion of the proposed Canon have caused the Committee to feel that further study and consideration should be given to the subject before the presentation of a new Canon.

This opinion having been expressed by some members of the Committee, the Board at its meeting on October 6th requested the Committee to withhold the proposed Canon and to present to the General Convention in lieu thereof a resolution for the appointment of a Joint Commission to investigate and consider the whole subject of missionary organization and administration and to report to the next General Convention.

The following resolution is therefore offered:

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, that a Joint Commission of five Bishops, five Presbyters, and five Laymen be appointed to investigate and consider the whole question of Missionary Organization and Administration and to report to the next General Convention.

On motion, the resolution contained in the report of the Committee was adopted; and the Chairman appointed as members of the Joint Commission on the part of this House the Bishop of Shanghai, the Bishop of Minnesota, the Bishop of Indiana, the Bishop of North Dakota, and the Bishop of Mississippi.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 10. See p. 79.]

The House proceeded to the Order of the Day, being the consideration of the resolution offered by the Bishop of New York as to holding the sessions of the House with open doors [see p. 13].

On motion of the Bishop of South Carolina, the resolution offered by the Bishop of New York was made the Order of the Day for Monday next, immediately after the noonday prayers for Missions. [See p. 49.]

The Chairman presented the following telegram:

SCRANTON, PENN., October 10th.

May God strengthen through your Convention the cause of the unity and true catholicity of the Christian Church. FRANCIS HODUR,

The Bishop of Kansas City begs respectfully to notify this House that at the twenty-third Annual Council of his Diocese, held in Kansas City, Missouri, on the 14th day of May 1912, the name of the Diocese was duly and legally changed to that of West Missouri, and that said change was duly and canonically ratified at the twenty-fourth Annual Council of the Diocese, held at Kansas City on the 14th day of May 1913;

Also that the Committee on Canons, to whom this matter was referred, having decided, in agreement with the Report of the Committee on Canons of the House of Deputies in 1904 (Journal, p. 257), that there is no constitutional or canonical provision requiring the consent of the General Convention to such change of name, considering that a Diocese has a right to change its name, the change being completed by formal notification thereof to each House of the General Convention, so that the lists of Bishops and of Dioceses may be corrected accordingly;

The Bishop of Kansas City, in virtue of the foregoing, does hereby officially bear this notification to the House, and respectfully requests that the Secretary be instructed to change the name of the Bishop and the Diocese of Kansas City to that of West Missouri on the lists and records of this House; so that the action of the Diocesan Council may be completed and become immediately effective.

The Bishop of Lexington presented a report from the Committee on Memorials and Petitions in regard to various matters referred to it on the second day of the session [see p. 22], the subjects of the several Memorials and the action recommended in each case being as follows:

1. Letter to the Secretary of the House from the Secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, asking for the adoption, in connection with the constituent bodies of the said Coun-ell, of a resolution, urging the city government of San Francisco and the Board of Directors of the Exposition to be held there in 1915 to prevent the exploiting of the Exposition by commercialized vice and to protect the visitors to San Francisco from immoral influences.

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That a special committee, consisting of the Bishops in the State of California, be appointed to consider the above request. [See p. 90.]

2. Petition from Mark John Levy in favor of the revival of primitive Hebrew Christianity and the revival of the abandoned Mission to the Jews, as opposed to the gentilizing of Jewish Christians, and pleading for the establishment in New York City of a church and home where Hebrew Christians can worship and can be administered to as Hebrews, instead of being merged into Gentile congregations.

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That, as the above matter has been fully dealt with by the House of Bishops, as is set forth in the Appendix to the Journal of 1910, pages 605-611, the Committee be discharged from consideration of this petition.

3. Petition from J. Edward Beale, Secretary of the Church Association of the Blind in the Third Missionary Department, seeking recognition by the General Convention of the Church Association of the Blind, the object of which is to promote the spiritual and intellectual interest of the members and to encourage such industries as are usually taken up by those deprived of sight. This Association especially seeks approval by the General Convention of its aim to establish a Monthly Magazine printed in raised type and to be published in the interest of the Church's work among the Blind. The prospectus of the proposed magazine contains the commendation of the idea by nearly all the Bishops in the Third Department.

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the above petition be referred to the Joint Commission on Social Service.

4. Protest from certain Presbyters of the Diocese and City of New York against a change in the Church's name and in favor of proportionate representation in the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

The Committee begs to report that, as the subjects above referred to are not now before this House, no action is recommended except that this Committee be discharged from further consideration of the matter.

5. A resolution of the Sixty-third Convention of the Diocese of California, suggesting to the Presiding Bishop an effort to secure, from the Plenipotentiaries of the Balkan States and the authorities of the Churches of England and Russia, a movement looking to the restoration to use as a Christian Church of the Church of St. Sophia in Constantinople.

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That, as the conditions above referred to have entirely changed since the action of the Convention of the Diocese of California, and as the said action seems now to be inexpedient, the Committee be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

6. Invitation from the Primate and Bishops of the Province of the Church of New Zealand, announcing the celebration of the Centenary of the introduction of Christianity into the islands of New Zealand by the landing of Marsden at Ohai on Christmas Day 1814, said event to be marked by holding in Auckland in February 1914 the first Church Congress, and inviting the Presiding Bishop of this Church to be present, or falling in this suggesting how the brotherhood of our common Anglican Christianity might be cemented by the presence of some other Bishop of this Church.

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Presiding Bishop and the Chairman of this House be requested to convey fraternal greetings and felicitations to the Primate and Bishops of the Province of the Church of New Zealand, in view of the celebration of the Centenary of the introduction of Christianity into the Islands of New Zealand, and, in case of their inability to attend, to appoint some Bishop of this Church as a representative of this House at the celebration.

The Committee recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That this communication be referred to the Presiding Bishop and the Chairman of this House.

7. Appeal from Joseph R. Wilson, Esq., of Philadelphia, to the General Convention, that it sanction and approve the idea of "A Chapel in every Home," which is, that there be set apart wherever possible in every dwelling now erected, and that there be included in every dwelling hereafter erected and wheresoever located, one room, small or large as circumstances may permit, specially dedicated to Almighty God as "The Chapel in the Home."

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That, so far as the above appeal refers to the matter of Family Prayer, the appeal be referred to the Committee on the Pastoral Letter.

8. Petition from the Sixth Missionary Department, in Council assembled, October 1912, that the Rev. Theodore Sedgwick, formerly a representative of the said Department on the Board of Missions, but now removed to New York City, be elected by the General Convention a member of the Board of Missions.

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the above petition be referred to the Committee on Nomination of Members of the Board of Missions, when appointed.

9. Petition from J. W. Hamilton of St. Paul, Minnesota, urging this Church to take action, favoring the annual celebration of the signing of the Treaty of Ghent throughout the United States and the British Empire, said annual celebrations to follow upon the Centennial Anniversary of that event about to be celebrated.

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That, as it has no recommendation to make concerning it, the Committee be discharged from further consideration of this petition.

10. Memorial from the Twenty-ninth Convocation of the Missionary District of North Dakota, that the House of Bishops devise some plan whereby the Domestic Missionary Field shall receive a just proportion of Clergy to carry on the work of the Church.

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the above Memorial be referred to the Committee on Domestic Missions. [See p. 92.]

11. Memorial from four Anti-vivisection Societies and two Vivisection Investigation Organizations, asking the General Convention to undertake an impartial investigation of the increasing practice of vivisection, which it declares to be cruel, useless, misleading, and demoralizing, with a view to the redemption of the creatures which are victims thereof from the unutterable agonies they are now made to suffer in the name and cause of science.

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That, as the matter above referred to is beyond the province of the House of Bishops, the Committee be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

12. Memorial of Mrs. David H. Wright of Riverton, New Jersey, that a certain petition for kindness to dumb animals be included in the Litany.

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the above Memorial be referred to the Committee on the Prayer Book. [See p. 74.]

13. Memorial from the Fourth Missionary Council of the Department of New England, that the powers of the Missionary Councils be so enlarged as to provide for the consideration of Social Service and for holding conferences thereon, and for consideration of subjects in relation to the Departments' own missionary work at their annual sessions.

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the above Memorial be referred to the Committee on Canons.

14. Memoranda agreed upon by attendants upon a meeting held at St. Mary's Rectory, New York, in September 1913, with reference to the canonical legislation proposed in the General Convention of 1910 in regard to Religious Communities.

The Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the above memoranda be referred to the Committee on Canons. [See p. 110.]

The fourteen resolutions recommended by the Committee were severally adopted. In the case of the resolution in paragraph 8, a motion of the Bishop of North Carolina, that the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject, was not adopted.

The Bishop of New York, by permission of the House, presented a report of the Committee on Despatch of Business, as follows:

The House of Deputies report passage of the first three amendments to the Constitution (page 563 last Journal), and we recommend that as soon as possible they be brought up for consideration in this House.

The House Committee desires to put on its passage a resolution to adjourn Saturday, October 25th.

We are not ready to recommend such action until we know better the condition of our business, but inform the House of this proposition.

We recommend that Reports of Committees, unless ordered by the House, be submitted by title only, and that the resolutions alone be considered.

On motion of the Bishop of Vermont, after the words 'Reports of Committees' there were inserted the words 'which have been already circulated in print'; and the recommendation of the Committee, as thus amended, was adopted.

The Bishop of Marquette presented the following report of the Committee of the House of Bishops appointed to correspond with the Church of Sweden on the subject of Letters Dimissory for their Communicants:

Your Committee cannot report any definite correspondence to this end. There were other matters pending which seemed to suggest delay until their effect could be determined.

The first was the report of the Lambeth Commission which visited Sweden under the Presidency of Bishop Herbert Ryle, then of Winchester. We file a copy of this report, though made first to the Archbishop of Canterbury, as bearing upon the reception of Swedish Communicants.

We would also report that the prolonged discussion on the Change of Name of this branch of the Church has made in Sweden an impression unfavorable to the special work the Committee has in hand, the feeling being there rather of perplexity than hostility.

We are obliged to report the death of two Bishops most intimately concerned in promoting good relations between our communion and the Swedish Church, Bishop John Wordsworth, late of Salisbury, and Bishop Henry W. Tottie of Calmar.

One member of our Committee, being now in charge of the American Churches in Europe, is hopeful of again coming into closer touch with the work in view.

Respectfully submitted,

G. MOTT WILLIAMS,
SAMUEL COOK EDSALL,
CAMERON MANN.

The Bishop of Marquette presented the following report of the Joint Commission on a Swedish Version of the Prayer-Book:

We have the happiness of being able after many dilatory reports to lay before the General Convention a Swedish Version of the Book of Common Prayer. We owe this version chiefly to the industry and learning of the Rev. Dr. Hammarsköld, and the liberality of the New York Bible and Common Prayer Book Society and other friends. The translation has all been made by Dr. Hammarsköld, but it has been in every detail submitted to a large number of competent critics, familiar with classical use in both languages concerned. There has never before been a Swedish version of our Prayer Book, though the Danish versions of the English Prayer Book have been useful in some degree for comparison.

We have printed a very small edition of the book, as in all probability there are some typographical errors, and we have felt that the work would be much more easily criticized and revised and proof corrections noted from a printed copy than in sheets. The type is in such condition that the work may be later perfected.

We make this report and present this book as a Report of progress, without recommendation of any kind, though we are confident that the work does really ably represent our Prayer Book in letter and spirit, and may safely be licensed for such Congregations and Clergy as desire to use it in whole or in part. But we do not desire to deprive the Swedish members of our Church, by any official authorization by this Convention, of any rights they may now possess in various Dioceses in the use of the liturgy of the National Church of Sweden. We feel that the principal use of our translation will be to interpret to Swedish scholars and ecclesiastics the actual position of our Church, which is much misunderstood abroad. The relations of our Church with bodies worshipping in other languages have been much strained in the past by amateur translations of our formularies and of those of other Christian bodies. Theological translation requires a very high degree of scholastic accuracy. It requires an absolutely consistent use of language. Our success in this particular remains to be seen; but as a help toward success we have taken every selection, quotation, or turn of a phrase which we recognized as scriptural by the careful use of concordances from one only version of the Bible in the Swedish language, and that the latest authoritative one.

The Psalter has been taken from this version also, but the verse divisions have been made to correspond with those in our American Prayer Book, as doubtless this book will sometimes be in the hands of Swedes who will be trying to follow our service in English with the Swedish book in their hands. This involved collecting from their original positions those extra verses of Psalm xiv. which the original of our Prayer Book version has, following St. Paul's utterance in Romans iii. 10-18. Here we have carefully taken the exact words from the latest Swedish authority.

We have had difficulty in the translation of the words 'priest' and 'minister' into Swedish, as the Swedish word 'prest' means both. We have met the difficulty by a note and putting an asterisk wherever the word means a priest as distinguished from the other ministerial orders. We could have found other words for minister, but they are not in common use. This distinction occupied us for months.

We are hopeful of very free suggestions about our work, as well as grateful for much helpful criticism already received.

Those of us not concerned in that part of the translation specially commend to notice the rendering by Rev. Mr. Sundlöf, another member of the Commission, of the two versions of the Vent Creator into Swedish verse. This rendering must have been extremely difficult, but we think it has been successful, the metre having been exactly preserved in both cases.

We therefore report progress, submit the book for examination and any use the individual Bishops desire to make of it, and ask to be continued.

G. MOTT WILLIAMS, Chairman.

The Bishop of West Virginia, for the Commission on Christian Unity, reported progress. [See Appendix XIX.]

The Bishop of Atlanta presented the report of the Committee on the Laymen's Missionary Movement, as follows:

Your Committee, formed and charged at a session of the Convention of 1910, begs leave to report.

A consensus of the members of this Committee has been secured by correspondence as to the merits, value to the Church, and success along its defined lines of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, which we summarize as follows:

We are glad to express our sense of gratitude for what it has accomplished as a direct agency and for the impact it has given to lay sentiment as a whole, which has shown itself in many lines of action not directly associated with the movement. The impetus given to missionary matters is likely to be of permanent advantage.

There have been some disappointments and some inevitable reactions, but the campaign of the movement was decidedly helpful and stimulating. The feeling excited at first has somewhat abated, but not through any fault of the movement. Despite imperfect results in some quarters, we are convinced that the Church at large has derived great positive and lasting benefit from the former campaign.

We are further convinced that the expressed interest and sympathy of this House have been of the greatest value to encourage all the best interests of the movement; on this point we have the repeated assurances of the leaders and several assemblies of men connected with the movement.

On the subject of the proposed new round of services and efforts in 1914, our feeling is largely in favor of such continued expression of the interest of the men of our nation in the furtherance of the Gospel; but we urge as of the greatest importance that greater reliance be placed upon a steady course of education and somewhat less on spasmodic efforts, which sometimes in vanishing prove reactionary in their tendency.

Your Committee is of the opinion that it is quite important that its work be not at this time closed, but rather that opportunity be sought by its members and by our Bishops and other Clergy generally to cooperate with the Laymen's Missionary Movement and to afford it such advice and guidance as may be asked of them.

Your Committee respectfully asks and recommends that the Special Committee of this House be continued, with power to increase its membership as may be found desirable and practicable.

C. KINLOCH NELSON, Bishop of Atlanta, Chairman.

On motion, the recommendation contained in the foregoing report was adopted.

Substitute for Canon 10 § II. [i.] the following:

If such vacancy occur during General Convention or six months prior thereto, the Bishops and Clerical and Lay Deputies present in General Convention shall have the power to nominate to the Houses of General Convention three Presbyters, from whose number the said Houses of General Convention shall choose one to be a Missionary Bishop in such vacant Missionary District.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 15. See p. 77.]

The Bishop of Vermont, from the Committee on Canons, presented the following report [see p. 33]:

REPORT No. 2.

There was referred to this Committee a proposal to authorize Lay-Readers and Deacons in reading Morning and Evening Prayer to use a certain Collect after the General Confession, in place of the Absolution.

The Committee considers that such a permission would be inappropriate in Canon 22 § III. of Lay-Readers; and that the ministrations of Lay-Readers, within the limits laid down in the Canon, should be governed and regulated by the Bishop of the Diocese; and further, that any such formal permission as is proposed, extending to Deacons as well as to Lay-Readers, would really amount to an amendment of the Prayer Book, which would not come within the province of this Committee to recommend, if it were thought necessary and desirable.

The Committee therefore asks to be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

On motion, the request of the Committee was granted.

The Bishop of Vermont, in continuation of the same report, presented the following [see p. 37]:

A proposed amendment to Canon 24 § I. was referred to the Committee, and the Committee recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That Canon 24 § I. be amended by adding after (g):

(h) Conduct unbecoming a Clergyman.

In case of a charge of conduct unbecoming a Clergyman, before proceeding to a presentment, the consent of three-fourths of all the members of the Standing Committee or Council of Advice shall be required.

On motion, the consideration of the proposed amendment was postponed until it has been considered by the Bishops in Council.

A proposal from the same Committee for an amendment of Canon 40 [see p. 27] was recommitted to the Committee. [See p. 59.]

The Bishop of Vermont, in continuation of the same Report No. 2, presented the following:

A series of amendments to the Canons concerning Ordination has been submitted to the Committee from the Joint Commission on the Status of Theological Education. The point of these amendments is to allow the substitution of the diploma of any legally incorporated Seminary of this Church for the present canonical examinations by examining Chaplains of a Diocese. The Committee feels unable to recommend the adoption of these amendments to the House, for these three leading reasons, apart from more detailed criticism:

1. There must be some sifting and regulating of Seminaries before the diploma or certificate of "any legally incorporated Seminary" professing to be "of this Church" can be safely accepted.

2. According to the proposed scheme the Church would surrender any prescribed course of instruction for her candidates or necessary requirements for men in becoming candidates, leaving all to the varying standards of Seminaries and of individual Bishops.

3. The examination of candidates by an independent authority after they have received instruction in a Seminary is distinctly valuable, as testing their knowledge and grasp of the subjects in which they have been instructed as distinct from their recollection of the lectures which they have heard.

The Committee asks to be discharged from further consideration of these amendments.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR C. A. HALL, Chairman.

Attest:

EDWARD M. PARKER, Secretary.

On motion, the request of the Committee to be discharged from further consideration of the proposed amendments of the Canons on Ordination was adopted. [See p. 95.]

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That Canon 55 Of a General Board of Religious Education be amended so that it shall read as follows:

Of a General Board of Religious Education.

§ I. There shall be a General Board of Religious Education, the purpose of which shall be the unification and development of the educational work of the Church under the Constitution and Canons of the General Convention.

§ II. The Board shall be composed of the Presiding Bishop, a General Secretary, when chosen, and twenty other members who upon the passage of this Canon shall be appointed by the Presiding Officers of both Houses acting together during the meeting of the General Convention of 1913, of whom twelve shall be appointed to serve until their successors are appointed at the next General Convention, and one from each of the eight Departments to serve until his successor is chosen by his Department.

Thereafter twelve shall be triennially appointed at the meeting of the General Convention by the Presiding Officers of both Houses acting together. In the appointments each of the three orders shall be represented. The eight other members shall be elected one by each of the Department Boards of Religious Education at its first regular meeting after the General Convention.

Each member elected by a Department Board shall serve for three years or until his successor is elected by his Department Board. In case of vacancies occurring in the number of members appointed by the Presiding Officers of the General Convention, the General Board may elect members to hold office until the next meeting of the General Convention.

§ III. The Presiding Bishop shall be ex officio the President of the Board. Nine members shall constitute a quorum. The Board shall choose from within or without the Board a General Secretary, who shall be ex officio a member of the Board and its executive officer. The Board shall elect a Secretary and a Treasurer. It shall have power to form Committees with membership drawn from within, and when deemed desirable from without, the Board, and shall create such agents as its work may demand.

§ IV. The Sunday School Convention of each Missionary Department, as at present organized, shall become the Department Board of Religious Education. This Department Board shall be auxiliary to the General Board and, unless otherwise constituted by its own action, shall be composed of the Bishops officially resident within the Department and five members from each Diocese and Missionary District within such Department. Each Diocesan Convention or Council and Missionary Convocation shall elect its own members or provide for their election by the official educational organization of the Diocese.

§ V. The General Board is authorized to receive gifts, and to appeal to each Diocese and Missionary Jurisdiction within the Church through its Convention or Council for the funds necessary for carrying on its work efficiently.

§ VI. Each Department Board shall make an annual report of its work to the General Board and the General Board shall make a triennial report to the General Convention.—

REPORT No. 2.

At a special meeting of the House lately holden in the City of New York, the Bishop of Pittsburgh offered and there was referred to this Committee a resolution concerning the precedence of Bishops; and in compliance with the above resolution your Committee respectfully begs leave to offer the following report:

Precedence of Bishops in this Church is founded: 1. Upon seniority or antecedence in time of consecration; 2. Upon the prescriptive rights of Bishops; 3. Upon courtesy.

1. The first rests upon the basis of antiquity and a wide prevailing use. Bingham in his Antiquities, Chapter XVI. § 4, writes: Every Bishop was to have his letters of ordination subscribed by his ordainers, and dated with the day and year of his consecration. All Bishops were to take place according to seniority, and to sit and vote and have their names subscribed in Council; which was a rule not only in Africa, but in all other Churches, and inserted by the Emperor Justinian (A.D. 527-565) in the Civil Law of the Empire. It is both impartial and impersonal.

2. Precedence is yielded, of right, to every Bishop within his own jurisdiction. There he is Protos—Chief Bishop.

3. Upon courtesy; one instance of which we have in our immediate presence—our Chairman, while so serving, is yielded precedence, even should he have been the last to enter the House.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The House proceeded to the Order of the Day, being the consideration of the Report of the Joint Commission on the Support of the Clergy with respect to Pensions.

Resolved, That the further consideration of the Report on Pensions be postponed, and the Joint Commission be requested at a later time to present to the House definite resolutions on the subject, for action.—

Which was adopted. [See p. 101.]

The Bishop of California presented a supplementary report of the Board of the Seamen's Church Institute of America, with the following resolutions [see p. 27 and Appendix XVI.):

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That a Joint Commission of seventeen is hereby constituted for the work among men on our many waters, continuing the work of this Commission as a Standing Commission as The Board of the Seamen's Church Institute of America, with power to effect its own organization on the general lines approved by the General Convention of 1907, and to fill vacancies in its membership that occur in the intervals between the regular sessions of the General Convention.

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That the following be appointed as the members of the Board to serve until the General Convention of 1916, and that a provisional organization of this Board, as submitted, be approved:

REPORT No. 3.

Your Committee, to which was referred the question of the Bishop of Lexington as to the omission of a provision for the definition of the duties of the Presiding Bishop in the amendment to Article I. Section 3, respectfully report that, having taken legal advice on the point raised, and being assured that such omission in no way limits the power of the General Convention to make such definition in its Canons, they recommend the adoption of the following resolution, viz.:

Resolved, That the House of Bishops concur with the House of Deputies in finally adopting the amendment to the Constitution contained in its Message No. 2.

On motion, action upon this resolution was postponed. [See p. 73.]

The Bishop of Tennessee, in continuation of the same report, presented the following:

Amend Article II. Section 4 by striking out the word 'without' in the fourth line, so that said line shall read 'and with seat and vote in the House of Bishops.'

2. Resolved, That the addition proposed in the fifth line, 'provided that the Bishops of any Diocese,' etc., is inexpedient, and the Committee is discharged from further consideration of the subject.

3. Resolved, That the addition of the new Section 7 to Article II. is inexpedient, and the Committee is discharged from further consideration of the subject.

4. Resolved, That the amendments proposed in Article IV. are inexpedient, and the Committee is discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

On motion, the consideration of the four resolutions was postponed. [Sec p. 96.]

The Bishop of Tennessee, in continuation of the same Report, moved the adoption of the resolution presented in a former Report [see p. 49], recommending the proposal of an amendment to the Constitution in these words:

The Bishop of Lexington, from the Committee on Memorials and Petitions, presented the following report [see p. 58]:

REPORT No. 2.

There has been referred to this Committee a Memorial from the Diocese of Newark, through its 39th Annual Convention, expressing its sense that the present system of representation of the various Dioceses in the General Convention is not equitable and is not conducive to securing an adequate expression of the true mind of the Church as a whole, and petitioning the General Convention to take such steps as will bring about a system of proportionate representation based upon the number of communicants in each Diocese.

Your Committee respectfully reports that, as action upon the matter of this Memorial has already originated in the other House, and as it pertains especially to the organization of that House, action by this House should be postponed until the latter is notified of the action of the former. Your Committee therefore moves the following:

Resolved, That action upon the Memorial of the Diocese of Newark be postponed.

EDWIN G. WEED, Chairman.

LEWIS W. BURTON, Secretary.

On motion, the resolution contained in the report of the Committee was adopted.

The Bishop of Nebraska, from the Committee on the Prayer Book, presented the following report [see p. 27 and Appendix XV.]:

REPORT No. 1.

The Committee on the Prayer Book, to which was referred the Report of the Joint Commission to consider the Revision of the Offices for the Visitation of the Sick and the Communion of the Sick, reports that it has examined said Report, and finds various suggestions for use alternative and supplementary to the use of the Book of Common Prayer. Your Committee therefore offers the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in the judgment of this House, any individual Bishop has authority under Article X. of the Constitution to take order for such special forms of worship "as may be permitted by the Book of Common Prayer, or by the consent of General Convention." But such matters as fall outside this privilege, as (for example) substitute Collects, Epistles, and Gospels, and a substitute for the Church's form of Communion of the Sick, can properly be dealt with only by revision of the Prayer Book.

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

On motion, the resolutions contained in this portion of the Report were adopted.

The Bishop of Nebraska, in continuation of the same Report, presented the following [see p. 45]:

On motion, the two resolutions contained in the Report of the Committee were adopted.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 29.]

The Bishop of Minnesota, from the Committee appointed yesterday under a resolution offered by the Bishop of Connecticut, presented the following report [see p. 66]:

The Committee, to whom was referred the resolution of the Bishop of Connecticut, proposing certain queries as to the resignation of Diocesan Bishops, with the request to "report to this House as soon as possible," beg leave respectfully to report:

That they have examined the Constitution and Canons bearing upon the questions referred to them, and have arrived at certain conclusions as to the matters in question. In the opinion of your Committee, it is not necessary to go beyond the plain provisions of our Constitution and Canons in order to answer the questions committed to them; though did time and opportunity allow, these questions might be illustrated by interesting examples and precedents contained in the records of this House. Feeling, however, bound by the request for a speedy report, your Committee content themselves with the following brief statement of the conclusions reached:

1. "Whether a Bishop of a Diocese desiring to resign his jurisdiction for sufficient reasons, shall resign first to his Diocese or to the House of Bishops."

In the opinion of your Committee, the Constitution requires, for the resignation of a Diocesan Bishop, the consent of the House of Bishops. The Canons of the General Convention require that the resignation of a Diocesan Bishop be presented to the House of Bishops only, and in prescribing the methods of procedure in such resignation they give explicit directions for every step to be taken, including the notification to the Diocese of the initial act of the Bishop in sending his resignation to the Presiding Bishop, and also a final notice when, by the action of the House of Bishops, the Presiding Officer of said House has pronounced such resignation complete.

While it seems plain to your Committee that the legislation under which the Bishop of a Diocese may resign does not require or contemplate any resignation presented to the Diocese, yet they can understand that in some cases a natural feeling of regard for his people would prompt a Bishop to make known to them the necessity under which he felt impelled to present his resignation to the House of Bishops.

2. Your Committee see nothing in the Constitution or Canons to prevent the House of Bishops from electing, as Missionary Bishop, a Diocesan Bishop who has resigned his jurisdiction.

3. A Bishop who has resigned his jurisdiction, unless it is "by reason of advanced age or bodily infirmity," as provided in Article II. Section 2 of the Constitution, has neither a seat nor a vote in the House of Bishops, as a seat and a vote are defined by said section of Article II. of the Constitution.

JOSEPH BLOUNT CHESHIRE,
SAMUEL COOK EDSALL,
ROBERT CODMAN.

The Bishop of Vermont, from the Committee on Canons, in continuance of its Report No. 4, presented the following resolutions [see pp. 69, 70]:

Resolved, That this House concur with the House of Deputies in the adoption of the resolution contained in its Message No. 21, adding a clause as to the Historiographer to Canon 47 § III.

Resolved, That this House concur with the House of Deputies in the adoption of the resolution contained in its Message No. 22, adding in Canon 24 § I. a new clause, '(h) Conduct unbecoming a Clergyman,' but with the further addition of a clause proposed in a like amendment referred to it in this House.

The Committee on Canons, having considered a proposed amendment to Canon 37 § II. referred to it, for the omission of (b), which requires the approval and consent of neighboring Bishops to the termination of a sentence of deposition, does not deem the amendment expedient, and asks to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

On motion, the request of the Committee was granted.

The Bishop of New York offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That Canon 37 § II. (a), Of Remission of Sentences, to wit: "That he shall act with the unanimous advice and consent of his Standing Committee," be referred to the Committee on Canons for interpretation.—

Which was adopted. [See p. 116.]

The Bishop of Vermont, from the Committee on Canons, presented the following in continuation of its Report No. 4 [see p. 40]:

To the Committee on Canons was referred a resolution adopted by the House of Deputies, recommending an amendment in Canon 54 § III. requiring an annual offering from every Congregation for the General Clergy Relief Fund on Whitsunday or some other Sunday or Holyday.

In view of the new methods for systematic offerings for general as well as parochial purposes, which are being adopted and pressed throughout the Church, the Committee is doubtful as to the expediency of this proposal, and refers it back to the House without recommendation.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR C. A. HALL, Chairman.

The following Message was received from the House of Deputies:

IN GENERAL CONVENTION,
NEW YORK, 7th day of the Session,
OCTOBER 15, 1913.

MESSAGE No. 28.

The House of Deputies informs the House of Bishops that it has adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That we desire to associate ourselves with the protests signed in Great Britain, Russia, France, and Germany by leading Christian theologians, men of letters, scientists, politicians, and others against the attempt made in the City of Kieff to revive the hideous charge of Ritual Murder—known as the "Blood Accusation"—against Judaism and the Jewish people.

Animated by the sincerest friendship for Russia, we can have no idea of meddling with the domestic concerns of that country. Much less do we wish to prejudice in the slightest degree the course of the criminal trial with which this accusation has become identified. In the terms of the published protest of our Russian colleagues and friends and in their intimation that they welcome support from other countries, we have the best assurances that our motives will not be misinterpreted.

The question is one of humanity, civilization and truth. The "Blood Accusation" is a relic of the days of witchcraft and black magic, a cruel and utterly baseless libel on Judaism, an insult to Western culture, and a dishonor to the Churches in whose name it has been falsely formulated by ignorant fanatics. Religious minorities other than the Jews, such as the early Christians, the Quakers, and Christian missionaries in China, have been victimized by it. It has been denounced by the best men of all ages and creeds. The Popes, the founders of the Reformation, the Khalif of Islam, statesmen of every country, together with all the great seats of learning in Europe, have publicly repudiated it.

It is the more necessary that these testimonies should be renewed, because among the ignorant and inflammable populace of Eastern Europe the "Blood Accusation" has often given rise to terrible outbreaks of mob violence against the Jews, and there is grave reason to fear that its present resuscitation may endanger many innocent lives in the crowded Jewries of the Russian Empire.

"We call upon the Archbishops, Bishops, and other leaders of the Holy Orthodox Eastern Church of Russia to make formal pronouncement that charges of so called ritual murders are without foundation or justification in the teachings and practice of the religion of Israel.

"And we remind them that in the early days of Christianity similar charges were made by ignorance and superstition against our own most holy Religion."

HENRY ANSTICE, Secretary.

The Bishops having jurisdiction in California, to whom was referred the communication from the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America touching certain proposed resolutions urging provision against commercialized vice as a menace to the Panama-Pacific Exposition of 1915, beg leave to report:

That while they believe there can be but one mind as to the spirit of the resolutions, they are of the opinion that some modification of the form of the resolutions would have better promise of effectiveness.

They would accordingly recommend that they be authorized over their own names to frame and forward a communication to the Exposition authorities and the Mayor of San Francisco, as contemplated in the request from the Federal Council aforesaid. It is understood that such communication will convey an assurance of the wish and purpose of our Bishops to co-operate, in every way in their power, with any precautionary measures which it is fair to presume will be taken by the Exposition authorities and the Mayor of San Francisco, in their determination to forefend as far as possible the exploiting of vice as feared at the time of the Exposition of 1915.

The Presiding Bishop presented a petition from a Presbyter; which, on motion, was referred to the Committee on Memorials and Petitions. [See p. 152.]

The Chairman presented a communication from the Church Association for the Advancement of the Interests of Labor; which, on motion, was referred to the Committee on Social Service.

The Bishop of Massachusetts offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The Rules of Order do not seem to be clear upon the question as to whether members of Joint Commissions may hold their membership indefinitely, or are subject to reappointment;

Resolved, The House of Deputies concurring, That the question of the length of the tenure of office of members of Commissions be referred to a Joint Committee composed of the Committees on Rules of Order of both Houses.—

Which was adopted.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 54. See p. 150.]

The Bishop of Vermont, from the Committee on Canons, reported the resolutions contained in Messages 41 and 43 from the House of Deputies, in regard to Provinces [see pp. 88, 90.]

On motion, the consideration of the resolutions was postponed until they should be printed. [See p. 125.]

The Bishop of Southern Florida presented a communication from the Rev. Hugh Latimer Burleson, Bishop-elect of the Missionary District of North Dakota, addressed to the Bishop of Southern Florida and Bishop Lloyd, declining his election.

At eleven o'clock the House took a recess, to meet in Joint Session with the House of Deputies in the Cathedral.

At one o'clock, the House not having resumed its session, a recess was taken.

The recess being ended, the House re-assembled at half-past two o'clock.

The Bishop of Michigan City, from the Committee on the Consecration of Bishops, presented the following report [see p. 107]:

REPORT No. 1.

The Committee on the Consecration of Bishops presents the following report:

Your Committee on the Consecration of Bishops, having examined the papers pertaining to the election of the Rev. Frank DuMoulin, D.D., LL.D., Bishop Coadjutor-elect of the Diocese of Ohio, begs leave to report that in such connection all the requirements of Canon 9 § I. [i.] have been complied with, and recommends that the consent of the House of Bishops be given to the consecration of the Rev. Frank DuMoulin, D.D., LL.D., Bishop Coadjutor-elect of the Diocese of Ohio, to the office of a Bishop in the Church of God.

JOHN SCARBOROUGH, Chairman.

JOHN HAZEN WHITE, Secretary.

On motion, the House adopted the recommendation of the Committee, and gave consent by a constitutional majority to the consecration of the Bishop Coadjutor-elect of Ohio.

The House proceeded to consider the report of the Committee on Canons, which was presented by the Bishop of Vermont, as follows:

REPORT No. 5.

The Committee on Canons, to which was referred a Memorial from certain representatives of Religious Communities [see p. 45], has given the matter consideration, and recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That the following Canon Of Religious Communities be adopted, to follow the Canon Of Deaconesses:

§ I. A religious community of men or women, desiring the official recognition of the Church, shall submit for his approval its Rule and Constitution to the Bishop of the Diocese wherein the Mother-house of the community is situated; and no change in the Rule or Constitution shall be made without his approval.

§ II. In such Constitution there shall be a distinct recognition of the doctrine, discipline, and worship of this Church as of supreme authority.

§ III. No religious community shall establish itself in another Diocese without permission of the Bishop of that Diocese

§ IV. The community may elect a Chaplain, but if he be a Priest who is not canonically resident in the Diocese, he must be licensed by the Bishop. Any Priest ministering in a chapel of a religious community shall be responsible to the Bishop of the Diocese for his ministrations, in the same manner as a parochial Clergyman.

§ V. In the administration of the Sacraments the Book of Common Prayer shall be used, without alteration or addition, save as may be permitted by lawful authority.

§ VI. It shall be provided in the Constitution of a religious community that real estate and endowments belonging to the community shall be held in trust for the community as a body in communion with this Church.

§ VII. Members of a religious community who are in Holy Orders shall be subject to all canonical regulations concerning the Clergy.

§ VIII. Provision shall be made in the Constitution for the appointment of a Visitor, with the approval of the Bishop of the Diocese in which the Mother-House is situated, if the Bishop is himself unwilling to serve in such capacity. It shall be the duty of the Visitor to see that the Constitution and Rule (as approved) are duly observed, and to receive and hear appeals either from the community or from individual members thereof as to transgressions of the Rule. No full member of a community shall be dismissed therefrom without appeal to the Visitor, nor shall any be released from his or her obligations thereto without the Visitor's sanction.

The Canon recommended by the Committee having been considered section by section—

On motion, the whole resolution was adopted. [Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 55 [see p. 148].

Bishop Gray, from the Committee on Religious Services, presented its Report No. 3, proposing an order for the Closing Service of the General Convention, to be held in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine on Saturday, October 25th, at 2:30 P.M.

On motion of the Bishop of New York, the Gloria in Excelsis was substituted for the Te Deum, to be sung after the reading of the Pastoral Letter.

On motion of the Bishop of Massachusetts, it was ordered that the Processional Hymn should be followed by the Apostles' Creed.

On motion, the recommendation of the Committee, as modified, was accepted.

The Bishop of New York offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That this House when it adjourns to-day adjourn at half past six o'clock until to-morrow morning.—

Which was adopted.

On motion of the Bishop of Southern Florida, the House proceeded to ballot for a Presbyter to be chosen Bishop of the Missionary District of North Dakota.

A lesson of Holy Scripture was read by the Bishop of Maine, and the Chairman bade the House to prayer, using the form prescribed for use before the balloting for Presbyters to be chosen for Missionary Bishoprics.

The Bishop of Eastern Oklahoma and the Suffragan Bishop of New York having been appointed tellers, the House proceeded to ballot for a Presbyter to be chosen Bishop of the Missionary District of North Dakota.

The Bishops deposited their ballots; and the Rev. John Poyntz Tyler, a Presbyter of the Diocese of Maryland, was found on the third ballot to have received a majority of the votes, and was thereupon declared by the Chairman to have been chosen, subject to confirmation by the House of Deputies, as Bishop of the Missionary District of North Dakota.

The Bishops proceeded to sign the testimonials of the Bishop-elect; and the Chairman appointed the Bishop Coadjutor of Southern Virginia and the Bishop of Maryland to notify him of his election. [See p. 128.]

The House resumed the consideration of the Report of the Committee on Canons; and the Bishop of Vermont, from that Committee, in continuance of its Report No. 5, presented the following [see p. 86]:

To the Committee on Canons was referred a certain amendment to Canon 48 § I. proposed by the Bishop of Atlanta, viz.: (1) To insert the words 'or Missionary District' in line six, after the word 'Diocese'; (2) To insert the words 'endowment funds and interest' in line three after the word 'contributions'; (3) and to omit in the last line but one the words 'or such part of them as the Bishop may deem proper.' The Committee having considered the matter does not deem the second and third amendments expedient, but recommends the following resolution:

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That Canon 48 § I. be amended by the insertion of the words 'or Missionary District' in line six after the word 'Diocese.'

On motion, the resolution recommended by the Committee was adopted.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 56. See p. 135.]

The Bishop of Vermont, from the same Committee, further presented the following [see p. 54]:

To the Committee on Canons was referred a proposal by the Bishop of Oklahoma to give to Missionary Councils permission to elect Missionary Bishops within their own Department. This was proposed as an amendment to Canon 10 § II. [1.]. The Committee on Canons considers that it would be within the power of the General Convention to commit such authority to the Provincial Synods under § V. [4] of the new Canon on Provinces; but that such election by a Provincial Synod ought to be confirmed by the Church at large, as now. A question might arise as to the right of the House of Bishops to transfer a Bishop so elected to another Missionary District; and clause [ii.] in § II. of Canon 10 would need to be re-written, as well as clause [i.].

The Committee is of opinion that it would be expedient that the Provincial Synods should be allowed time to organize themselves before further legislation of this kind is undertaken; and it accordingly asks to be discharged from further consideration of the subject at the present time.

On motion, the request of the Committee was granted.

The Bishop of Vermont, from the same Committee, further presented the following [see p. 86]:

To the Committee on Canons was referred the report of a special Committee consisting of the Bishop of California and the Bishop of Utah, appointed at the last General Convention to report at this meeting of the House of Bishops on the subject of a draft Canon concerning the Trial of Presbyters and Deacons for insertion in the body of Canons approved by the House of Bishops for Missionary Districts [see Journal 1910, pp. 165-170].

The Committee recommends the approval of the House of Bishops of the Canon contained in the report of the special Committee.

On motion, the recommendation of the Committee was adopted, and the House gave its approval to the proposed Canon of the Trial of Presbyters and Deacons in Missionary Districts.

The draft Canon as recommended and approved is as follows:

CANON XV.

TRIAL OF A CLERGYMAN NOT A BISHOP

1. Whenever any Minister of this District, not being a Bishop thereof, shall become "liable to presentment and trial," under the provisions of any Canon of the General Convention or of the District Convocation, the mode of proceeding in this District shall be as follows:

2. The trial shall be on a presentment in writing, addressed to the Bishop of the District, specifying the offense or offenses of which the accused is alleged to be guilty, with reasonable certainty of their time, place, and circumstances. Such presentment may be made by the majority of the members of the Vestry of any Church of which the accused is a Minister, or by any three members of a Mission of which he may have charge, or by any three Presbyters of this District entitled to seats in the Convocation, or as hereinafter mentioned.

3. Whenever, from public rumor or otherwise, the Bishop shall have reason to believe that any Clergyman is under the imputation of having been guilty of any offense or misconduct for which he is liable to be tried, and that the interest of the Church requires an investigation, it shall be his duty to appoint a Court of Inquiry of three persons, of whom two at least shall be Presbyters, not members of the Trial Court of the District, to examine the case, a majority of whom may make such examination; and if there is, in their judgment, sufficient ground for presentment, they shall present the Clergyman accordingly.

4. Whenever it shall be represented to the Council of Advice in writing, by any Minister of the District and two communicants entitled to vote in the Parish or Mission to which they belong, that any Presbyter or Deacon of this District is charged, by public rumor or otherwise, with any offense or misconduct for which Ministers may be "liable for presentment and trial" in this Church, the Council of Advice shall consider such representation, and shall, without unnecessary delay, make or cause to be made such ex parte or other investigation as the nature of the case permits; and if the Council of Advice or a majority thereof shall then deem that there is reasonable ground therefor, or that the interests of the Church require it, the Council shall either present the accused Minister for trial, or apply to the Bishop for a Court of Inquiry in the matter, said Court to be appointed and to proceed as provided in Clause 3 of this Canon.

5. Any Minister of this District against whom charges are made or evil reports are current, from public rumor or otherwise, in matters for which he might be presented for trial, may request of the Bishop, in writing, that an investigation be made concerning such charges or evil reports, and it shall then be the duty of the Bishop to appoint a Court of Inquiry in like manner and for like purpose;

6. Provided, that no presentment shall be entertained in any case on account of an offense committed more than five years before the date of such presentment.

7. A presentment being made in any of the modes above prescribed, the Bishop, if the facts charged shall not appear to him to be such as constitute an offence, having taken legal advice thereon, may dismiss it; or if it allege facts, some of which do and some of which do not constitute an offence, he may allow it in part, and dismiss the residue, or he may permit it to be amended. When it shall be allowed in whole or in part, the Bishop shall cause a copy of it to be served on the accused; and shall also summon a meeting of the Trial Court for the trial of the accused.

8. The Trial Court shall be constituted as follows: There shall be elected annually by the Convocation of the District from the Presbyters appointed by the Bishop as eligible thereto, five who shall constitute the Trial Court of the District. Vacancies which occur between the annual meetings of the Convocation, or in the event of ipso facto disqualification of any member of the Trial Court by being under a process of discipline, shall be filled by the Council of Advice, and members of the Trial Court shall continue in office until their successors are elected. The President and the Recorder of the Trial Court shall be elected by this Court from its members and it shall meet at such time and place as the Bishop shall direct, and shall have power to adjourn from time to time and from place to place, but always within the District.

9. A written notice of the time and place of the first meeting of the Court shall be served, at least thirty days before such meeting, on the accused, and also on the persons making the presentment.

10. If, at the time appointed for the first meeting of the said Court, the whole number of five members shall not attend, then those who do attend may adjourn from time to time; and if, after one adjournment or more, it shall appear to them improbable that the whole number will attend within a reasonable time, then those who do attend, not being less than three, shall constitute the Court, and proceed to the trial, and a majority of the members of the Court so constituted shall decide all questions.

11. If a Clergyman presented shall before trial confess the truth of the facts alleged in the presentment, it shall be the duty of the Bishop to proceed to pass sentence; and if he shall not confess them before the appointment of a Court before his trial, as before mentioned, he shall be considered as denying them.

12. If a Clergyman presented, after having had due notice, shall not appear before the Court appointed for his trial, the Court may nevertheless proceed as if he were present, unless for good cause the Court shall see fit to adjourn till another day.

13. When the Court proceeds to trial, it shall hear such evidence as shall be produced, which evidence shall be reduced to writing and signed by the witnesses respectively. If, on or during the trial, the accused shall confess the truth of the charges as stated in the presentment, the Court may dispense with hearing further evidence, and may proceed at once to state its judgment to the Bishop as to the sentence that ought to be pronounced.

14. Upon the application of either party to the Bishop, and it being shown to his satisfaction that any material witness cannot be brought before the Court, the Bishop may appoint a Commissary to take the testimony of any such witness. Such Commissary may be a Clergyman or a Layman, and the party so applying shall give to the other at least six days' notice of the time and place of taking testimony. And if the person on whom the notice shall be served shall reside more than one hundred miles from the place of examination, an additional day's notice shall be given for every additional fifty miles of the said distance, or the Court may designate some other convenient place. And both parties may attend and examine the witness, and the questions and answers shall be reduced to writing and signed by the witness, and shall be certified by the Commissary, and enclosed under his seal, and transmitted to the Court, and shall be received by it as evidence.

15. The Court having deliberately considered the evidence shall declare in a writing, signed by a majority of the members, its decision on the charges contained in the presentment, distinctly stating whether the accused is guilty or not guilty of such charges respectively, and also stating the sentence which, in their judgment, should be pronounced; and a copy of such document shall be without delay communicated to the accused, and the original document together with the evidence shall be delivered to the Bishop, who shall pronounce such canonical sentence as shall appear to him proper; provided the same shall not exceed in severity the sentence recommended by the Court. Before pronouncing any sentence, the Bishop shall summon the accused and any three or more of the Clergy to meet him at such time as may, in his judgment, be most convenient. In some Church to be designated by him, which shall for that purpose be open at the time to all persons who may choose to attend, and the sentence shall then and there be publicly pronounced by the Bishop.

16. All notices and papers contemplated in this Canon may be served by a summoner or summoners, to be appointed for the purpose by the Bishop, and whose certificate of such service shall be evidence thereof. In case of service by any other person the fact should be proved by the affidavit of such person. A written notice or paper delivered to a party, or left at his place of residence, shall be deemed a sufficient service of such notice or paper.

17. The defendant and the presenters may have the privilege of appearing by counsel.

18. When there is no Bishop of the District, or in his absence, if authorized to act as the Ecclesiastical Authority of this District, the Council of Advice shall act in the place of the Bishop, for all purposes declared in this Canon, save as provided in Article IX. of the Constitution, when the Council of Advice shall call in some Bishop of this Church to pronounce the Canonical sentence required in § XV. of this Canon.

The Bishop of Vermont, from the same Committee, presented a report on certain amendments to the Canons on Ordination proposed by the Bishop of Fond du Lac [see p. 95], with a view to enlarging the discretion of the Bishop as to dispensing candidates from branches of learning not strictly ecclesiastical, while providing that no other Bishop should be obliged to receive into his Diocese any person ordained under such dispensation.

The Bishop of Bethlehem offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That all matters appertaining to questions of ordination and examination of Candidates be referred to a Committee of five Bishops to consider the whole subject and report at the next General Convention.—

Which was adopted; and the Chairman appointed as such Committee the Bishop of Vermont, the Bishop of Fond du Lac, the Bishop of South Carolina, the Bishop of Colorado, and the Bishop of Western Michigan.

The Bishop of Vermont, from the same Committee, presented the following [see p. 76] :

To the Committee on Canons was referred a question concerning the interpretation of Canon 37 § II. (a).

In the remission of a sentence of deposition, the Bishop is required to act with the unanimous advice and consent of his Standing Committee. The question is asked, as the Committee understands it, Does the action originate with the Bishop or with the Standing Committee? In the judgment of the Committee on Canons, the Bishop is to originate the action, seeking first the concurrence of his own Standing Committee, and then of neighboring Bishops. Our judgment is based chiefly on two considerations: (1) That the Bishop is the authority primarily responsible for all such acts of discipline. [See Article IX. of Constitution.] (2) With this agrees the wording of the Canon. The consent of the Standing Committee is to be obtained. "Consent" requires a previous proposal or request. Accordingly the next clause speaks of the Bishop submitting "his proposed action" to the neighboring Bishops.

The Bishop of Vermont, from the same Committee, presented in conclusion the following [see pp. 94, 117] :

The Committee on Canons respectfully reports that it has appointed the Bishop of North Carolina and the Bishop of Vermont to be members of the special Committee of five Bishops to consider all existing regulation, etc., concerning (1) The resignation of Bishops; (2) The transfer of Bishops from one jurisdiction to another; (3) The election of Missionary Bishops; (4) The right of members of the House to vote on different subjects. Also, that in accordance with Canon 57 § II., it has appointed the Bishop of Vermont and the Bishop Coadjutor of New Hampshire as members on the part of this House of the Committee to certify the changes made in the Canons at this session of the General Convention.

Which was adopted; and the Chairman appointed as such Committee the Bishop of Washington, the Bishop of California, and the Bishop of Maryland.

MESSAGE No. 75.

The House of Deputies informs the House of Bishops that it has adopted the following preambles and resolution:

WHEREAS, The moral and spiritual welfare of the people demands that the highest possible standard of living should everywhere be maintained, and that all conduct of industry should emphasize the search for such higher and more human forms and organization as will genuinely elicit the personal initiative and self-respect of the workman, and give him a definite personal stake in the system of production to which his life is given; and

WHEREAS, Injustice and disproportionate inequality as well as misunderstanding, prejudice, and mutual distrust as between employer and employee are widespread in our social and industrial life to-day;

Therefore be it Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That we the members of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church do hereby affirm that the Church stands for the ideal of social justice, and that it demands the achievement of a social order in which the social cause of poverty and the gross human waste of the present order shall be eliminated, and in which every worker shall have a just return for that which he produces, a free opportunity for self-development, and a fair share in all the gains of progress. And since such a social order can only be achieved progressively by the effort of men and women who in the spirit of Christ put the common welfare above private gain, the Church calls upon every communicant, clerical and lay, seriously to take part in the study of the complex conditions under which we are called upon to live, and so to act that the present prejudice and injustice may be supplanted by mutual understanding, sympathy, and just dealings, and the ideal of thorough-going democracy may be finally realized in our land.

The Bishop of Newark, from the Committee on Despatch of Business, presented the following report:

The election of a Bishop for Cuba follows the reading of the Minutes. We recommend—

1. That during the counting of the ballots, Commissions and Committees be allowed to report; but if subjects are likely to cause long debate, they go on the calendar.
2. That one-half hour after the opening of the discussion on the use of the chalice, with five-minute speeches, a vote be taken on the resolutions before the House, if the subject have not been already disposed of.
3. That one hour after the opening of the discussion on the Racial Episcopate, unless the subject be already disposed of, the vote on the resolution before the House be taken or on a resolution to concur with the House of Deputies in appointing a Joint Commission on the subject and referring the subject to it.
4. That members refrain from speaking more than once on the same subject, and that the House consider seriously the propriety of fixing times for voting on matters causing much debate.
5. That immediately after the closing of the discussion of the subjects of the use of the Chalice, and the Racial Episcopate, the Pastoral Letter and matters contained in Messages from the House of Deputies have place.

On motion, the recommendations of the Committee were adopted.

On motion, the Bishops went into Council.

The Bishops proceeded to sign the testimonials of the Bishop-elect. [See p. 147.]

On motion, the Bishop of Michigan City was excused from further attendance at this session of the Convention.

The Bishop of Bethlehem presented the report of the Joint Commission on Christian Unity.

The Bishop of Atlanta, from the Committee on the Use of the Cup in the Holy Communion, presented the following report and Declaration [see pp. 26, 37]:

Having sought and secured expert medical advice, your Committee reports as follows:

The consideration of the matter referred is one which must be approached with great seriousness, since it touches the immediately pressing question of the prevention of the communication of disease by the public use of a single cup and has a direct bearing upon the mode of administration of the most sacred Rite of the Christian Religion.

The alarm over the possibility of infection communicable by the mouth from vessels in common use, not only of the tubercular bacillus but of other diseases, is widespread. The Church should not be put in the position of delaying action on such a matter until compelled by the civil authorities to use the precautions which they consider necessary.

Various societies and associations have for years been working to abate the danger from this source, and have gathered about them a volume of sympathetic feeling and co-operation which cannot be disregarded, as the spirit of the movement enters into many of our congregations in separate sections; and probably the larger number of members of this House have had occasion to deal with the question in some form.

It is also well known that many States and cities of the Union have adopted ordinances prohibitive of common drinking cups in public places; and an act of Congress regulates the sanitary conditions in interstate traffic. These effective statutes are broadening and expanding sentiment in opposition to a second use of any drinking vessel until it has been sterilized.

We are bound to stress the point that laws regulative of water-vessels which convey infection do not apply to the use of a vessel containing any alcoholic liquid. With astonishing oversight Boards of Health have taken no action, as far as we know, upon glasses at soda-fountains, beer-mugs, vessels used at picnics, not to mention spoons, forks, cups and saucers in public eating places, which are among the most successful vehicles for the carrying of microbes from one individual to another.

The rise and rapid prevalence among many Christian denominations of the individual cup encourages a public sentiment against the use of a single cup. It seems to your Committee that the time has arrived to relieve the tension upon some of the members of this House by reason of existing conditions. We are unanimously of the opinion that this very modern mode of delivering the wine, both extremely awkward and unseemly and distasteful to many devoutly religious people, does not meet the situation. It does not take into account the multiplied chances of uncleanness, owing to the uncertainty attending the complete disinfecting of a large number of vessels.

The Committee submits that it is much simpler, easier, and safer to sterilize a single cup after each contact with the lips of an individual than by any customary method of washing a number of vessels. The more intelligent and appreciative responsibility of the Clergy is without doubt more trustworthy than any attention given by a sexton or a Church Committee. It is to be feared that unless such action be taken, distress will be caused either by too much stiffness of those who are rightly conservative of the Church's traditions, or too great readiness on the part of others to yield to the pressure of a popular, perhaps of a temporary, demand.

It is proper to observe that the case with us is different from that among the bodies which use unfermented grape-juice; as it is well known that the presence of alcohol in the contents of our Communion Cup acts to a great extent as a prophylactic. Of the twenty or more sterilizing fluids in use, including chlorides, lysol, etc., experts are agreed that alcohol is the most effective. The 20 per cent. of alcohol in the wine of our ordinary use for the purpose, or 10 or 15 per cent. after dilution when the mixed Chalice is in vogue, is of itself sufficient to neutralize the effect of the light contact of the lips to the Chalice as delivered among us. It is interesting in this connection to keep in mind that the Clergy of the Anglican Communion who habitually drain the Communion cup after common use are singularly, if not completely, free from the consequences of an infected vessel.

Your Committee directs attention to the fact that a report on this subject was presented to the Lambeth Conference (No. VI.) in 1908, which after the most careful study (with advice of the highest authorities) in which one of our Committee participated, closed with the following words:

"It would be unwise to recognize and encourage by a change an alarm which should be met by the exercise of common sense."

The tradition of the whole Church has been remarkably uniform in consecrating and administering the Sacrament with a single cup; but there are two exceptions:

1. The multiplication of cups in administration to meet the needs of a specially large number of communicants on a given occasion;
2. A widely prevalent use in the West about the beginning of the twelfth century of the practice of Intinction, lasting about one hundred years. There was, however, no suggestion of any sanitary purpose, such as is involved in this discussion.

The arguments against this practice do not seem to be such as would carry any great weight among us. In isolated cases this practice crops out in public as well as in private administration of the Sacrament, but without that sort of authorization which this Church recognizes as necessary to such variation from established rules.

We are bound to give some consideration to the sentiment in favor of retaining the single cup. The symbol of unity for which the One Chalice stands is among the most interesting and revered of ceremonial uses. At the same time, and along with the other, should be considered the complete abandonment in the Church of the symbolism of the single loaf, which in the institution is quite as strongly emphasized as the one cup.

We may deplore that the symbolism so closely associated with the initial use in the first Christian Sacrament in the hands of our Blessed Redeemer should be laid aside; but it is well that the faithful should distinguish between the essentials and the accessories even here. For apart from the symbolism there is in every Eucharist, however administered, Sacramentum, Res Sacramenti, and Virtus Sacramenti. If then the Church in her wisdom should lay aside that which is a symbol only, she would not deprive anyone of any part of a complete sacrament either as to its outward or its inward part or that which is signified.

At the same time if there be any way of quieting the extraordinary anxiety felt by many and satisfying the desire for a cleanly and safe plan without sacrificing proper tradition or modifying the mode and language of our rubrical order, we feel that this House would do well to make it plain, and entrust the practice to the guidance and direction of the several Bishops. The time will almost certainly come when each one of us will have to take order to meet such an emergency as that of a large number of people avoiding the Sacrament on account of some supposed danger lurking in the cup.

We would strongly stress the different and more favorable condition in the generally careful use of a vessel devoted to a sacred purpose in a congregation of people who are instructed in reverent approach to and reception of the Holy Mysteries, as compared with the hasty, careless, and unclean conditions surrounding the ordinary drinking cup in schools, lodges, stations, public houses, and passenger trains, and assert without fear of successful contention, and with the assent of high medical authority, that the chances are remote that a sip from the rim of the Chalice will communicate any disease-germ.

Nevertheless the prevalent dread affects a very large number of people who do not and cannot be made to distinguish between modes and uses, and we have now an issue which the Church is compelled to meet reverently and intelligently.

Your Committee offers for adoption the following declaration:

(1) That after making, by a competent Committee, a thorough search into the causes leading to the exaggerated fear arising from the customary use of the one cup in the Holy Communion, and having had abundant and capable expert advice in consultation on the subject, we see no reason to authorize any general change in the usage obtaining in this Church.

(2) That proper care of the Communion Vessels, both at the time of and after the Celebration, will meet all reasonable needs; and

(3) That for emergencies arising in special cases the Bishops are in our judgment competent to provide in their several Dioceses without resorting to the use of individual cups, or without doing anything which may impair the Sacrament according to its original institution and the order of this Church.

BISHOP OF ATLANTA, Chairman,
 BISHOP OF PITTSBURGH,
 BISHOP OF WESTERN MICHIGAN,
 BISHOP OF ALBANY,
 BISHOP OF FLORIDA,
 BISHOP OF MISSISSIPPI,
 BISHOP OF COLORADO,
Committee.

On motion, the declaration was accepted as the judgment of the House.

At noon the Chairman bade the House to prayer for Missions.

Which was adopted; and the Chairman appointed as members of such deputation on the part of this House the Bishop of California and the Bishop of Olympia.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 73. See p. 149.]

The House met after the recess at half past two o'clock.

The Bishop of Tennessee, from the Committee on the Pastoral Letter [see p. 28], presented a draft of the Letter; which, on motion, was adopted.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the resolution contained in Message No. 80 from the House of Deputies with reference to the Federal Council of Churches [see pp. 126, 127].

The question being on concurrence with the House of Deputies, the Bishop of Connecticut offered an amendment, proposing the omission of the preambles and a substitute for the resolution; and the Bishop of Vermont offered a resolution of non-concurrence with the preambles and resolution, with reasons therefor.

On motion of the Bishop of Tennessee, the whole subject was referred to a Committee of three Bishops to report to the House at this Convention; and the Chairman appointed as such Committee the Bishop of Tennessee, the Bishop of Fond du Lac, and the Bishop of Connecticut. [See p. 145.]

Eight of said Bishops, eight of said Presbyters, and eight of said Laymen, shall be elected triennially by the General Convention of the Church. Eight Bishops, eight Presbyters, and eight Laymen shall be elected triennially by the several Provincial Synods at the last meeting of the respective Synods prior to the triennial meeting of the General Convention, the Synod in each Province electing to represent the Province upon the Board of Missions, one Bishop, one Presbyter, and one Layman. The persons elected by the Provincial Synods shall become members of the Board upon certification of their election to the Secretary of the House of Bishops and to the Secretary of the House of Deputies not later than the third day of the session of the General Convention. Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That § 15 of Article II. be amended to read as follows:

Each Province shall have the right to require that the Board of Missions in making an annual apportionment shall make such apportionment in gross for sub-division by the Provincial Synod thereof, as the said Synod may determine.

No alteration thereof or addition thereto shall be made unless the same shall be first proposed in one triennial meeting of the General Convention, and by a resolve thereof be sent within six months to the Secretary of the Convention of every Diocese, to be made known to the Diocesan Convention at its next meeting, and be adopted by the General Convention at its next succeeding triennial meeting by a two-thirds majority of the whole number of Bishops entitled to vote in the House of Bishops, and by a two-thirds majority of the Clerical and Lay Deputies of all the Dioceses entitled to representation in the House of Deputies voting by Orders. Provided, however, that the General Convention at any meeting shall have power to amend the Tables of Lessons by a majority of the whole number of Bishops entitled to vote in the House of Bishops, and by a majority of the Clerical and Lay Deputies of all the Dioceses entitled to representation in the House of Deputies voting by Orders.

MESSAGE NO. 105.

The House of Deputies informs the House of Bishops that it has adopted the following preamble and resolution:

For the purpose of increasing the interest of the men of the Church in the subject of Missions, and to the end that they may become more fully informed of the activities of the Church, social, civic, educational, and spiritual, and that from such knowledge a more perfect and uniform organization of the men may in time be evolved:

Be it Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring,

First. That this Convention recommends to the several Dioceses and Missionary Districts that the first Sunday in Advent be designated as an appropriate day for a memorial corporate communion for men, and that the offering on that day be set apart to accumulate in the Diocese or District until the succeeding General Convention, when it shall be presented as a Men's Memorial Offering for Missions.

Second. That this Convention also recommends that in every Parish and Congregation of the Church the men be called together at least once each year, and preferably in the beginning of the Church year, for mutual conference and discussion of the activities of the Church and the duties and opportunities for men therein.

IN GENERAL CONVENTION,
 NEW YORK, 15th day of the Session,
 OCTOBER 24, 1913.

MESSAGE NO. 106.

The House of Deputies informs the House of Bishops that it has adopted the following preambles and resolution:

WHEREAS, The lack of uniformity in the Marriage and Divorce Laws of the various States of the Union, and the fact that what is legal in one State must be recognized as legal by every other State, provided that the court granting the divorce has served the defendant with a personal service of the suit within that State, or provided he has voluntarily submitted to the jurisdiction of that court by appearing in the action by attorney, bring it to pass that the most lax law of the most careless State, with respect to divorce, practically becomes the law of every State;

WHEREAS, This condition of the laws of our country is detrimental to all family life and morals, has encouraged frauds upon our courts, sham proceedings and various evasions of the law which would otherwise be impossible, so that unscrupulous lawyers organize systematic and persistent attacks for financial gain upon the domestic life of the whole people, whereby adultery is legalized, innocent children are made orphans, and defenceless, innocent spouses are irreparably injured;

WHEREAS, The Uniform Code which was formulated by the National Congress on Uniform Divorce Laws, with delegates from forty States, in November 1906, has been adopted by only New Jersey, Delaware, and Wisconsin, and would be ineffective if only one State shall refuse to adopt the proposed "Act regulating annulment of marriage and divorce";

WHEREAS, A two-thirds vote of both Houses of Congress could present to the Legislatures of the various States an amendment to the Constitution of the United States which would be ratified if the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States would approve of it;

Therefore Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That this Convention express its sympathy with the efforts of the International Committee on Marriage and Divorce, which is making an attempt to procure an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, to enable Congress to enact a uniform law on Marriage and Divorce.

Attest:

HENRY ANSTICE, Secretary.

The resolution contained in the foregoing Message being under consideration, the Bishop of Vermont offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the House of Bishops do not concur with the House of Deputies in the adoption of the preambles and resolution contained in its Message No. 106, on the ground that the House of Bishops is not prepared to commit the Church to the support of a Federal Law on the subject rather than to the support of what seems the more hopeful movement for a uniform law on Divorce in the several States.—

Which was adopted.

MESSAGE No. 107.

The House of Deputies informs the House of Bishops that it has adopted the following preambles and resolutions:

WHEREAS, our age calls in no uncertain way for a revival of the prophetic Ministry, and a re-emphasis upon the certain and unchanging words of eternal truth that pertain to salvation; and

WHEREAS, a new accent needs to be placed upon the essential solidarity, as well as the broad catholicity of a Church that witnesses to and seeks to promote faith and order; therefore be it

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That this Church in General Convention assembled registers its desire and will to undertake a preaching mission of nation-wide proportions, that in its scope shall be inclusive of the Church at large, and whose sole purpose and aim shall be the salvation of men through Him whose Name is above every name;

Be it further Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That a Joint Committee consisting of four Bishops, four Presbyters, and four Laymen be appointed to arrange a programme, and to carry into effect, at the earliest possible day, the above plan; and this House has appointed as members of such Committee on its part, the Rev. Realizing, however, the desirability of Christian co-operation, where practicable, without the sacrifice of principle, this Convention expresses the opinion that the Commissions on Christian Unity and Social Service may appoint representatives to take part in the Federal Council.—

On motion, it was voted that the House adjourn until to-morrow morning.

The Bishop of New York offered the following resolution:

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That such portions of these documents as deal with this subject be referred to the Board of Religious Education, with instruction to co-operate with other religious bodies and organizations in carrying out the programme suggested therein; and

Resolved, That the House of Bishops do not concur with the House of Deputies in adopting the resolution contained in its Message No. 55.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 91. See p. 162.]

The Bishop of Michigan, from the same Committee, presented the following report as to Message No. 59 [see p. 105]:

The Committee recommends the adoption of the following:

WHEREAS, The subject of the Holy Scriptures is sufficiently suggested in the appointed Epistle and Collect for the Second Sunday in Advent, the Committee deem it unnecessary and inexpedient to designate such Sunday as Bible Sunday, or to request sermons on the Holy Scriptures on this day; and therefore recommend non-concurrence with the House of Deputies in adopting the resolution contained in its Message No. 59.

On motion, the recommendation of the Committee was adopted.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 92.]

The Bishop of Michigan, from the same Committee, presented the following resolution [see p. 122]:

The following Message was received from the House of Deputies:

IN GENERAL CONVENTION,
NEW YORK, 16th day of the Session,
October 25, 1913.

MESSAGE No. 115.

The House of Deputies informs the House of Bishops that it has adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That a Joint Committee of three Bishops, three Presbyters, and three Laymen be appointed to confer with officials of Eastern Orthodox Churches and Old Catholics as to the best method of co-operation, and report to the next General Convention; and this House has appointed as members of such Committee on its part the Rev. Dr. Rogers of Fond du Lac, the Rev. Mr. Emery of New Hampshire, the Rev. Dr. Lubeck of New York, Mr. Saunders of Massachusetts, Mr. Parker of Colorado, Mr. Armour of New Jersey.

Attest:

HENRY ANSTICE, Secretary.

On motion, the House concurred with the House of Deputies in the adoption of the resolution contained in the foregoing Message; and the Chairman appointed as members of said Committee on the part of this House the Bishop of Harrisburg, the Bishop Coadjutor of New Hampshire, and the Suffragan Bishop of New York.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 111.]

The Bishop of Texas presented the following report of the Committee on a Book of Offices for occasions not provided for in the Book of Common Prayer:

The Committee appointed to consider the subject of a Book of Offices for occasions not provided for in the Book of Common Prayer respectfully present their second Report.

In accordance with the resolution of the House of Bishops at the last General Convention the Book of Offices then presented and allowed in tentative use was supplied to the Bishops and also to many of the clergy.

At the end of eighteen months a letter was sent to each Bishop, asking his opinion of the Book and that he would send any criticisms or suggestions for its amendment and improvement. A similar request was made through the Church papers at a later date. One Bishop wrote fully, making a number of suggestions for additions and improvement, and some suggestions on similar lines were received from several clergy. The Secretary of the Committee has received verbally many warm expressions of commendation of the work. One Bishop took fifty copies for the use of his clergy, and several thousands of the separate Offices have been printed as leaflets and used on special occasions.

The Committee, believing that the Book has been found generally useful, have thought it best to make no changes in it except some necessary corrections of references to chapter and verse in the various suggested lessons, and to offer only one additional service for which several requests have been received—a service for the installation of a Bishop.

They now ask that the Proposed Book of Offices as presented to the House of Bishops, with this additional Office, receive the general approval of the House, its use in any Diocese being of course subject to the will and pleasure of the Diocesan.

It will be necessary that a Committee should be appointed to take charge of the publication of the Book, with power to make such verbal and minor changes as may be found necessary.

In conclusion of their work, the Committee offer the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That the House of Bishops gives its general approval to the "Book of Offices for Occasions not Provided for in the Book of Common Prayer" as presented to the House of Bishops by the Committee, the use of the book in any Diocese being subject to the approval of the Diocesan.

2. Resolved, That a Committee of three be appointed by the Chair to make arrangements for the publication of the book, with power also to make such verbal and minor changes as may be found necessary.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. H. KINSOLVING, Chairman.

EDWARD W. OSBORNE, Secretary.

The resolution recommended by the Committee being under consideration, the Bishop of South Carolina moved as a substitute that the Committee be continued, to report to the next General Convention.—

Which was adopted.

REPORT No. 3.

1. Report of the Committee on Memorials and Petitions, in re the complaint of a Presbyterian of this Church, that in the Journal of this House for 1910, in the report of the Committee on Memorials and Petitions, injustice was done him by speaking of him as "a Presbyterian under discipline." Your Committee has secured from the Bishop of the Diocese in which the supposed act of discipline occurred information that enables it to declare that the Committee in 1910 was laboring under a misapprehension, the proceedings against the said Presbyterian having consisted only of the withdrawal of the licence to officiate in the Diocese referred to.

Your Committee regrets that it sees no way by which the error can be corrected save by the explicit declaration made in this report. There was, however, nothing in the record objected to nor in the immediate context thereof, which would identify the person referred to under the general title of "a Presbyterian."

2. In re the petition of Lieut. Commander R. B. Rodney, U. S. N., suggesting certain liberty in use of the Hymnal and certain changes in the Prayer Book, your Committee judges that the session of the General Convention is too near its end for the consideration of the subjects, and asks to be discharged from further consideration of them.

3. The second communication concerning a Hebrew Christian Congregation must receive at the Committee's hands the same recommendation that was made concerning the previous petition from the same source, namely, that reference be made to the action of the last General Convention, as recorded in pages 607-611 of its Journal, as fully and adequately dealing with the subject.

The Committee asks to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

EDWIN G. WEED, Chairman.

LEWIS W. BURTON, Secretary.

On motion, the request of the Committee was granted.

The Bishop of Harrisburg presented the following report of the Committee to Confer with the Authorities of the Eastern Orthodox Churches:

(a) We are glad to report that in all parts of the country there is an increase of practical co-operation with the Clergy and Laity of the various National Orthodox Churches, and that there seems to be on the whole a steady decrease of suspicion and of the fear of proselytizing, and a growth in mutual understanding and cordial sympathy.

The lines on which helpful and sympathetic co-operation has proceeded are as follows:

(1) That we co-operate with the Orthodox Churches, rather than endeavor to incorporate their members in the Episcopal Church, that is, that we carefully avoid "proselytizing."

(2) That we therefore make every effort by lending our churches and parish buildings, and in other ways, to provide for ministrations to the Orthodox Laity by their own Clergy in their own tongues.

(3) That we supplement such ministrations when desired and requested by pastoral care and the administration of Sacraments by our own Clergy in cases of emergency and need.

(b) We desire to express our desire that the authorities of the Orthodox Churches should in some definite way put it in our power to know the names of those of their Clergy in this country who are Priests in good standing, that we may be informed as to the qualifications of those to whom we can properly give a cordial welcome and co-operation. We can obtain such lists of Clergy of the Russian and Syrian Churches, but it is difficult to get them from the Patriarchate of Constantinople, the National Church of Greece, and the Roumanian and Slavic Churches of the Balkan Peninsula and of the Empire of Austria. The wars in the Balkans have interfered with progress in this direction, though your Committee has been in communication with some of their Church authorities, with the Government of the Kingdom of Greece, and with the Officers of the Panhellenic League.

Your Committee suggests that it would be well to authorize them to secure and to keep corrected lists of the Clergy of the Orthodox National Churches in this country. In this way our Bishops and Clergy may be able to find out whether in a particular case a man is a Priest in good standing and co-operation is possible.

It seems to your Committee that some sort of declaration can helpfully be made with regard to the difficulty caused by the words of the Western version of the Nicene Creed, "Who proceedeth from the Father and the Son," which should state that the addition to the Nicene Symbol involves no doctrine regarded as unsound by the theologians of the undivided Church; that although it is an addition to the Creed irregularly made in the West, yet it seems unwise to take action with respect to its omission apart from other Churches of the West; that it was adopted in the Church of Spain, probably as a defence against Arian misstatements of the Faith, and that it involved no denial of the principle of Christian Theology known to early theologians as the Monarchia, namely, that God the Father is the sole Source of Life in the Godhead. Your Committee had prepared a very carefully stated resolution for affirmation on this subject, but considers that it is not wise to propose it for discussion or to incorporate it in its report at this time.

Your Committee recommends the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee be continued and be instructed to arrange for the preparation of lists of duly authorized Clergy of the Orthodox Eastern Churches, to which, in cases of necessity, reference may be made by the Clergy of this Church.

JAMES HENRY DARLINGTON,
EDWARD MELVILLE PARKER,
FREDERICK JOSEPH KINSMAN,
Committee.

On motion, the resolution recommended by the Committee was adopted.

The Bishop of Connecticut presented the following report of the Joint Committee to Nominate Trustees for the General Clergy Relief Fund [see pp. 69, 91]:

The Joint Committee to nominate Trustees for the General Clergy Relief Fund respectfully submit the following nominations: The Bishop of New York, the Bishop of Massachusetts, the Rev. Reese F. Alsop, D.D., the Rev. William T. Manning, D.D., Mr. Elihu Chauncey, Mr. Henry Lewis Morris, Mr. Roland S. Morris.

The resolution creating your Committee grants them the privilege of asking the General Convention to endorse its deep appreciation of the efficient and successful work of the Trustees in the aid of our aged and infirm Clergy during the past three years, the remarkable fact being that each of the last three Triennial Reports has indicated double the receipts of the preceding period; and appreciation particularly of the tireless and energetic administration of its Treasurer and Financial Agent, the Rev. Alfred J. P. McClure; not the least arduous of the duties of his office being the preparation in tabulated form of the Triennial Report. It is but a small mark of appreciation on the part of the members of the Convention due the Treasurer, that the report receive more than passing notice.

The Committee offer the following resolution:

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That the persons named above be elected Trustees for the ensuing three years.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

CHAUNCEY B. BREWSTER, Chairman.

On motion, the persons nominated as Trustees were elected, and the recommendation contained in the report of the Committee was adopted.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 94. See p. 138.]

The Bishop of Pittsburgh, from the Committee on the Prayer Book, presented the following report on three matters referred to it:

REPORT No. 2.

1. In regard to the proposal to print in the Prayer Book a cross-index of its contents [see p. 72], the Committee recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the matter of printing a cross-index to the Prayer Book be referred to the Custodian of the Book of Common Prayer.—

Which was adopted.

2. In regard to the resolution contained in Message No. 33 from the House of Deputies [see p. 82], proposing a Joint Commission to consider and report to the next General Convention such revision and enrichment of the Book of Common Prayer as will adapt it to present conditions, if in their judgment such revision be necessary, the Committee recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That this House concur with the House of Deputies in the adoption of the resolution contained in its Message No. 33.—

Which was adopted; and the Chairman appointed as members of such Committee on the part of this House the Bishop of Pittsburgh, the Bishop of Western New York, the Bishop of Louisiana, the Bishop of Atlanta, the Bishop of Nebraska, the Bishop of Long Island, and the Bishop of Los Angeles.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 95.]

3. In regard to the resolution contained in Message No. 67 from the House of Deputies [see p. 118], proposing a change in the third Collect for Good Friday, the Committee recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That this House do not concur with the House of Deputies in the adoption of the resolution contained in its Message No. 67, but recommend that it be referred to the Joint Commission on the Revision of the Prayer Book.—

Which was adopted.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 96. See p. 162.]

The Bishop of Fond du Lac presented the following report from the Committee to confer with Polish Old Catholic Bishops:

That it held one meeting with the Right Rev. Francis Hodur, D.D., Bishop of the National Catholic Church, at the Church Missions House.

New York City, all members of our Committee being present. The meeting was of a pleasant and helpful character.

We recommend the following:

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged.

Respectfully submitted,

REGINALD H. WELLER, Chairman.

On motion, the request of the Committee was granted.

The Bishop of Massachusetts presented the Report of the Commission on Archives. [See Appendix V.—2.]

The Bishop of Marquette offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the following named persons be the Commission of this House on a German version of the Prayer Book: The Bishop of Southern Ohio, the Bishop of Marquette, the Bishop of Lexington, the Rev. Johannes Rockstroh, the Rev. John P. Peters, Ph.D., the Rev. August Ulmann, the Rev. W. R. Stearly, Mr. Benjamin W. Wells.—

Which was adopted.

The Bishop of Oklahoma presented the Report of the Joint Committee on the Registration of Communicants; which was adopted in concurrence with the action of the House of Deputies already communicated to this House [see p. 124].

The Bishop of Tennessee, from the Committee on Amendments of the Constitution, presented the following report [see p. 142]:

REPORT No. 8.

Your Committee, to whom was referred Message No. 103 from the House of Deputies, respectfully recommends the following resolution, viz.:

Resolved, That the House of Bishops concur with the House of Deputies in adopting the amendment to Article X., providing for a two-thirds majority for the final adoption of a change in the Book of Common Prayer.

The resolution recommended by the Committee being under consideration, the Bishop of Chicago offered the following resolution as a substitute:

Resolved, That this House do not concur with the House of Deputies in the adoption of the resolution contained in its Message No. 103, for the reason that the Message did not reach the House of Bishops until the closing hours of the Convention, and that the House of Bishops had not sufficient time for its consideration.—

Which was adopted. [See p. 164.]

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 98.]

The Bishop of Vermont offered the following additional preambles and resolution on the same subject:

WHEREAS, The House of Bishops has given as much consideration to the amendment to the Constitution proposed in Message No. 103 from the House of Deputies as was possible in the brief time available at the close of its session; and

WHEREAS, in the short debate that ensued, so many questions were raised, for instance; (1) as to the expediency of adopting special legislation to meet a special condition of thought and feeling in the House of Deputies; (2) as to the need for further security against hasty legislation in addition to the three-fold safeguard already provided in the requirement of the action of two successive Conventions, of the concurrent action of the two Houses, and of the vote by orders in the House of Deputies, which by reason of divided Dioceses would largely increase the majority required; (3) as to the apparent need of safeguarding the Constitution equally with the Prayer Book; and (4) as to the wisdom of making our Prayer Book and Constitution so rigid as practically to forbid amendment and so force large freedom of interpretation; and

WHEREAS, these questions are of such real and serious importance as to demand long and careful debate;

Therefore, the House of Bishops feels unable to concur at this time with the House of Deputies in the action proposed in its Message No. 103.—

Which were adopted.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 108.]

The Bishop of Tennessee, in continuation of the Report of the Committee on Amendments to the Constitution, offered the following resolution [see p. 147]:

Resolved, That the House of Bishops concur with the House of Deputies in adopting the amendment to Article IX. of the Constitution inserting the words, "Provided, however, that the General Convention may by Canon provide for a change of the place of trial," as contained in its Message No. 109.—

Which was adopted.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 97.]

The Bishop of Michigan, from a special Committee, presented a report, recommending non-concurrence with the House of Deputies in adopting the resolution contained in its Message No. 100 [see p. 140], but substituting the following for the preambles and resolution contained therein:

WHEREAS, According to the census, there are in the United States about 2,000,000 children under sixteen years of age employed in gainful occupation, and many thousands of children working under the protection of certificates in which they are falsely represented as being of the legal age for employment; and

WHEREAS, Child slavery and illiteracy are promoted by and awful physical, mental, and moral wreckage often result from the employment of children of tender years and in the critical period of life in factories, mines, stores, and street trades; therefore

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That this General Convention of this Church condemns the employment of children in labor beyond that adapted to their age and strength, and at times or in places which would deprive them of opportunity for education suited to their capacity. But it recognizes that labor is honorable and that every child should be trained according to his natural aptitude, so as to qualify him to labor truly to get his own living. Therefore, we emphasize the importance of vocational training and commend the careful study of that subject to all social workers.—

Which was adopted.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 103. See p. 164.]

The House proceeded to the consideration of Message No. 54 from the House of Deputies as to the closing of the account of the $5,000,000 Clergy Relief Fund [see p. 103]; and, on motion, the House concurred with the House of Deputies in the adoption of the resolution contained in said Message.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 102.]

MESSAGE No. 117.

The House of Deputies informs the House of Bishops that it has not concurred with the House of Bishops in adopting the resolution contained in its Message No. 84 in regard to a uniform law on divorce,

IN GENERAL CONVENTION,

MESSAGE No. 119.

The report of the Board of Religious Education was received.

The Bishop of Vermont, from the Committee on Canons, presented its Report No. 5, with three recommendations:

1. The Committee on Canons recommends concurrence with the amendments proposed in the Canon on Religious Communities in Message No. 112 of the House of Deputies [see p. 148].

On motion, the recommendation contained in the report of the Committee was adopted.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 104.]

2. To the Committee was referred an amendment to Canon 40 § I., contained in Message No. 96 of the House of Deputies [see p. 138].

The Committee recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

That the House of Bishops does not concur in the amendment to Canon 40 § I. contained in Message No. 96 from the House of Deputies, such amendment being apparently a substitute for an amendment adopted by the House of Bishops and reported to the House of Deputies, but as to which no action has been reported. The House of Bishops prefers its own amendment, and considers that the amendment proposed by the House of Deputies does not meet the chief difficulty for which remedy is needed.

On motion, the recommendation contained in the report of the Committee was adopted.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies with proposed amendment [see p. 59] by Message No. 105. See p. 164.]

3. An amendment to Canon 37 § II., changing the requirement of the unanimous consent of the Standing Committee to the consent of three-fourths of the Standing Committees was referred to the Committee on Canons [see p. 149].

The Committee thinks that at this late stage of the proceedings of the Convention the matter could not receive due discussion, and asks to be discharged from further consideration of the subject at the present time.

On motion, the request of the Committee was granted.

4. An amendment of Canon 53 § XIII., concerning the election of alternate delegates to Missionary Councils, which was referred to the Committee early in the Session, has been rendered unnecessary by the adoption of the new Canon on Provinces.

Respectfully submitted,

Attest:

ARTHUR C. A. HALL, Chairman.

EDWARD M. PARKER, Secretary.

HENRY ANSTICE, Secretary.

On motion, the resolution contained in the report of the Committee of Conference was adopted; and the Chairman appointed as members of the proposed Commission on the part of this House the Bishop of California, the Bishop of Sacramento, and the Bishop of Los Angeles.

Which was adopted.

The Bishop of Oklahoma offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That Rules of Order 21, 22, and 23 be referred to the Committee on Rules of Order as a Special Committee, to report to the House at its next meeting such changes as may be necessary for greater efficiency in the transaction of the business of this House.—

Which was adopted.

The Bishop of Georgia offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the members of the House of Bishops send to their brethren who have been prevented by illness from attendance upon the meetings of the House their loving greeting and sympathy and the assurance of their prayers that it may be God's good pleasure to restore them to their health and usefulness.—

Which was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

The Bishop of Missouri offered the following resolution:

Which was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

The following Message was received from the House of Deputies:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That it is the policy of the whole Church to encourage the co-operation of the women in all the activities of the Church, and to furnish all possible avenues for the expression of their zeal and devotion.

Attest:

HENRY ANSTICE, Secretary.

On motion, the House concurred with the House of Deputies in the adoption of the resolutions contained in the foregoing Message.

IN GENERAL CONVENTION,
NEW YORK, 16th day of the Session,
OCTOBER 25, 1913.

MESSAGE No. 123.

The House of Deputies informs the House of Bishops that its Committee on Canons has appointed the Rev. Dr. White of Newark, the Rev. Mr. Whitney of Georgia, and Mr. Saunders of Massachusetts as its representatives to certify changes made in the Canons at this Convention.

Attest:

HENRY ANSTICE, Secretary.

At half past one o'clock the House, on motion, took a recess until two o'clock.

The House resumed its session after the recess.

The Presiding Bishop presented a communication from the Rev. William Theodotus Capers, declining his election as Bishop of the Missionary District of Spokane.

On motion of Bishop A. R. Graves, the House voted to proceed to ballot for a Presbyter to be chosen Bishop of the Missionary District of Spokane. [See below.]

The Bishop of Bethlehem, from the Committee of Conference as to the Federation of Churches [see p. 158], offered the following resolution:

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That the General Convention records its conviction that nothing less than organic unity can be the final expression of the oneness of all of Our Lord's disciples in Him. It is this ideal which should dominate every effort toward the reunion of Christendom. In the belief, however, that Federation exclusively for social service and to promote civic righteousness tends to generate an atmosphere of Christian fellowship, the General Convention authorizes the sending of delegates to the Federal Council of the Church of Christ, such delegates to be appointed by the Commission on Social Service.—

And also reported a recommendation that the Committee be discharged.

A vote being taken, the resolution was not adopted; and the House agreed to the recommendation that the Committee of Conference be discharged.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 109. See p. 165.]

At a quarter before three o'clock the House took a recess, and met with the House of Deputies in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, when the closing service of the Convention was held, and the Pastoral Letter was read by the Bishop of Tennessee.

After Divine Service, the House resumed its session in the Old Synod Hall.

On motion of the Bishop of Massachusetts, the House voted to postpone action in the matter of balloting for a Presbyter to be chosen Bishop of the Missionary District of Spokane.

The House proceeded to the consideration of Message No. 107 from the House of Deputies, as to a Nation-wide Preaching Mission [see pp. 144, 145].

On motion, it was voted that this House concur with the House of Deputies in adopting the resolution contained in its Message No. 107; and the Chairman appointed as members of the proposed Joint Committee on the part of this House the Bishop of The Philippine Islands, the Bishop of Oklahoma, the Bishop of Lexington, and the Bishop of Central New York.

[Communicated to the House of Deputies by Message No. 112.]

[For the report of the Committee see p. 267.]

The same gentleman presented the following preamble and resolution, which was placed on the Calendar:

WHEREAS, The lack of uniformity in the marriage and divorce laws of the various States of the Union, and the fact that what is legal in one State must be recognized as legal by every other State, provided that the Court granting the divorce has served the defendant with a personal service of the suit within that State, or provided he has voluntarily submitted to the jurisdiction of that Court by appearing in the action by attorney, bring it to pass that the most lax law of the most careless State, with respect to divorce practically becomes the law of every State,

WHEREAS, This condition of the laws of our country is detrimental to all family life and morals; has encouraged fraud upon our Courts, sham proceedings and various evasions of the law which would otherwise be impossible, so that unscrupulous lawyers organize systematic and persistent attacks for financial gain upon the domestic life of the whole country, whereby adultery is legalized, innocent children are made orphans, and defenseless, innocent spouses are irreparably injured,

WHEREAS, The Uniform Code which was formulated by the National Congress on Uniform Divorce Laws, with delegates from the forty States in November, 1906, has been adopted by only New Jersey, Delaware and Wisconsin, and would be ineffective if only one State shall refuse to adopt the proposed "Act Regulating Annulment of Marriage and Divorce,"

WHEREAS, A two-thirds vote of both Houses of Congress to present to the Legislatures of the various States an amendment to the Constitution of the United States which would be ratified if the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States should approve of it,

Therefore, Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That this Convention express its sympathy with the effort of the International Committee on Marriage and Divorce, which is making an attempt to procure an amendment to the Constitution of the United States to enable Congress to enact a uniform Law on Marriage and Divorce.

[For the action of the House see p. 305.]

The Rev. Mr. Goodwin of Western New York presented the following resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Missions:

AND WHEREAS, The Board of Missions of this Church has been invited to co-operate with other Christian Boards of Missions in matters pertaining to the ways and means of extending the Kingdom of God,

THEREFORE BE IT Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the Board of Missions of this Church be, and that the said Board is hereby authorized and instructed to co-operate with other Christian Boards of Missions in America and elsewhere, as occasion may offer, in such matters and to such extent as in the judgment of the Board of Missions of this Church may seem best, within the limits of the Constitution and Canons of this Church; and that the said Board of Missions be and hereby is authorized and empowered to spend such money as may be necessary, in its judgment, to make such co-operation effective.

The Rev. Mr. Thomas of Nevada presented the following resolutions, which were referred to the Committee on Social Service:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That this General Convention declares its conviction that the entrance of children under eighteen into industry, commonly called "child labor," is a sacrilege against the sacred nature of the child which our Lord treated with such gentle considerateness, and is detrimental to the Christian development of the children and of the Nation:

AND FURTHER, inasmuch as the pressure of economic necessity is an essential factor in the perpetuation of this evil, that this body looks forward hopefully to such a change in the social order as will eliminate this factor and will assure to the children the unlimited opportunity for the fullest development of all their God-given faculties, physical, mental, and spiritual.

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, that this General Convention endorses and reaffirms the resolution addressed to all Faithful Christians by the Lambeth Conference of 1908 numbered 44, and, in the words of the resolution, "recognizes the ideals of brotherhood which underlie the democratic movement of this century, and, remembering our Master's example in proclaiming the inestimable value of every human being in the sight of God, calls upon the Church to show sympathy with the movement, in so far as it strives to procure for all just treatment and a real opportunity of living a true human life, and by its sympathy to commend to the movement the spirit of our Lord Jesus Christ, in Whom all the hopes of human society are bound up":

And be it further Resolved, That this Convention instructs the Joint Commission on Social Service to prepare a pamphlet on the moral and religious implications of scientific Socialism for the information of members of this communion, and to put forth the same not more than a year from this date.

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, In view of the scientific pronouncement of the relation between fatigue and efficiency, and in consideration of the safeguarding of the workers and the public, that this General Convention puts itself on record as committed to the principle of One Day Rest in Seven in all industries, believing that this principle is in harmony with the spirit of the Decalogue and of the wider brotherliness of our Lord and Master, Jesus Christ.

[For the report of the Committee see p. 308.]

Mr. Prince of New Mexico presented the following resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Amendments to the Constitution:

WHEREAS, The month of October is that in which the active work of the year is arranged and commenced in most parishes, and the absence of the rector during that month causes a delay which affects the entire year, especially in large parishes from which Deputies to the General Convention are usually elected; and October is also the month of greatest activity in the Courts of the country, thus rendering it difficult for prominent Judges and lawyers to attend the General Convention, therefore

Resolved, That the Committee on Amendments to the Constitution be requested to consider the advisability of changing the date of the meetings of the General Convention to the month of September.

Mr. Mansfield, of the Committee on Expenses, presented Report No. 1, and the resolutions contained therein were adopted:

COMMITTEE ON EXPENSES

REPORT No. 1.

Your Committee beg leave to report that they have examined and audited the accounts of the Treasurer and found the same correct. They are herewith submitted and made a part of this report.

The total receipts from the various Dioceses for the triennial term ending October 1, 1913, amounted to $14,259, and were all paid in before October 1, 1910. The total expenses during the same term amounted to $12,573.86, leaving a balance in the hands of the Treasurer for said term of $1,685.14.

The Treasurer has invested since the last General Convention $7,000 as follows:

$5,000 in 5% bonds of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co., and $2,000 in 5% second mortgage bonds of the Wabash R. R. Co.,—these added to the investments made prior to 1910 make a total investment of $12,000 (par value).

The interest on deposits for the triennial term shows $381.27, and the interest on investments for the same time $1,550, making a total of interest of $1,931.27.

Your Committee heartily endorses the action of the Convention in creating this permanent fund and desires to express its appreciation of the services of the Treasurer and of the care and attention which he gives to the affairs in his hands. By careful management this fund can be gradually and steadily increased so that the several Dioceses may in course of time be relieved materially in their assessments for the expenses of the Convention.

It is to be specially noted and commented upon that every Diocese represented in this Convention has paid in full its triennial assessment.

Your Committee offer the following resolutions for adoption:

Resolved, That the Treasurer be instructed to pay to the Presiding Bishop for the expenses connected with his office the sum of $1,000 per annum; it being understood that not more than $400 of this amount shall be used towards defraying the expenses of his Commissary in charge of the Churches in Europe, and that the travelling expenses of the Presiding Bishop shall be paid by the Diocese or other body at whose instance they are incurred.

Resolved, That the Treasurer be authorized to pay drafts of the Registrar for the expenses of his office, to a sum not exceeding $100 for the triennial period, and a further sum not to exceed $150 for expenses attendant on the consecration of Bishops, and a further sum not exceeding $50 for a new Consecration Book.

Resolved, That the Treasurer be authorized to pay only such bills for printing, stationery, binding, postage, and other incidental expenses as shall have been approved and countersigned by the Chairman of the Committee on Expenses, or in his absence or inability to act, by some other member of that Committee.

Resolved, That all printing, the expense of which is to be borne by this Convention required by any Committee or Commission during the interval between the meetings of the General Convention, shall be done under direction of the Secretary of the House of Deputies.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the House of Deputies be instructed to have printed not exceeding 4,500 copies of the Journal including the Constitution and Canons, and also a separate edition of the Constitution and Canons; it being understood that the usual custom in their distribution will be observed.

Resolved, That the salary of the Secretary of the House of Bishops shall be $500 for the first year, and $100 for each succeeding year until the next General Convention.

Resolved, That the salary of the Secretary of the House of Deputies shall be $1,800 for the first year and $500 for each succeeding year until the next General Convention.

Resolved, That the sum of $200 be paid to each assistant Secretary of each House.

Resolved, That a sum not exceeding $50 be paid to the Custodian of the Book of Common Prayer for expenses incurred by him during the triennial period.

Resolved, That a sum not exceeding $50 per annum be paid to the Recorder of Ordinations for expenses and services in recording the Ordinations in the Church.

Resolved, That the Committee on Expenses be authorized to meet during the interval between this General Convention and the next.

BURTON MANSFIELD, Chairman.

REPORT No. 2.

The Committee beg to report that they have considered the resolution offered by the Rev. Dr. White of Newark, Chairman of the Committee on Canons, and offer the following resolution:

REPORT No. 3.

The Committee desire to call the attention of this House to § V. of Canon 47 which requires the election of the Treasurer by the Convention. Heretofore the election had been merely by the House of Deputies. The election of a Treasurer should be in the opinion of your Committee by the concurrent action of both Houses and they suggest that hereafter such a course be pursued and that nominations for Treasurer should be made at the same time as other nominations of the officers of this House are made.

Your Committee nominates for Treasurer Mr. William W. Skiddy and recommends his election, the House of Bishops concurring.

BURTON MANSFIELD, Chairman.

On motion, the Secretary cast a ballot for Mr. W. W. Skiddy as Treasurer, and the President declared him duly elected on the part of this House.

WHEREAS, the diversity between the law of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and that of the different States of this Union, respecting the manner in which marriage may be contracted and respecting the subject of divorce is a source of great injustice and a fruitful cause of litigation,

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That it is the sense of this Convention that a treaty between said Kingdom and the United States of America, whereby the law of the two countries, so far as it relates to marriages between citizens of the one country and citizens of the other, may be made more definite and uniform, would be an advance in Christian civilization and tend to increase respect for the sanctity of marriage.

The same gentleman from the same Committee presented Report No. 4, which was referred to the Joint Commission on Matters Relating to Holy Matrimony.

REPORT No. 4.

Your Committee to which was referred the Memorials on the Eugenics of Marriage offers the following resolution:

Resolved, That while it should be recognized that organized society has a responsibility toward its members and that the effort for physical and moral improvement of the individual and of the race is a civil and religious duty, yet the difficulties in the practical application of any programme of eugenics are many and great by reason of the limitations of present human knowledge and the individual's inherent rights.

Dr. William Crane Gray as Bishop of Southern Florida, the resignation of the Right Rev. Dr. Lemuel Henry Wells as Bishop of Spokane, and the resignation of the Right Rev. DANL. S. TUTTLE, Presiding Bishop.Attest: SAMUEL HART, Secretary of the House of Bishops.

The Rev. Mr. Melish of Long Island presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That we desire to associate ourselves with the protests signed in Russia, Great Britain, France, and Germany by leading Christian theologians, men of letters, scientists, politicians, and others against the attempt made in the City of Kieff to revive the hideous charge of Ritual Murder—known as the "Blood Accusation"—against Judaism and the Jewish people.

Animated by the sincerest friendship for Russia, we can have no idea of meddling with the domestic concerns of that country. Much less do we wish to prejudice in the slightest degree the course of the criminal trial with which this accusation has become identified. In the terms of the published protest of our Russian colleagues and friends and in their intimation that they welcome support from other countries, we have the best assurances that our motives will not be misinterpreted.

The question is one of humanity, civilization and truth. The "Blood Accusation" is a relic of the days of Witchcraft and Black Magic, a cruel and utterly baseless libel on Judaism, an insult to Western culture, and a dishonor to the churches in whose name it has been falsely formulated by ignorant fanatics. Religious minorities other than the Jews, such as the early Christians, the Quakers, and Christian missionaries in China, have been victimized by it. It has been denounced by the best men of all ages and creeds. The Popes, the founders of the Reformation, the Khalif of Islam, statesmen of every country, together with all the great seats of learning in Europe, have publicly repudiated it.

It is the more necessary that these testimonies should be renewed, because, among the ignorant and inflammable populace of Eastern Europe, the "Blood Accusation" has often given rise to terrible outbreaks of mob violence against the Jews, and there is grave reason to fear that its present resuscitation may endanger many innocent lives in the crowded Jewries of the Russian Empire.

We call upon the Archbishops, Bishops and other leaders of the Holy Orthodox Eastern Church of Russia to make formal pronouncement that charges of so-called Ritual Murders are without foundation or justification in the teachings and practice of the religion of Israel.

And we remind them that in the early days of Christianity similar charges were made by ignorance and superstition against our own Most Holy Religion.

The Rev. Mr. Halsey, of the Committee on Missions, presented Report No. 2, the resolution appended to which was adopted:

REPORT No. 2.

The Committee on Missions, to which was referred the request from the Diocese of California, presented by Archdeacon Emery, that there be provided an exhibit illustrating the history and growth of the Church at the Panama-Pacific Exposition to be held in San Francisco in 1915, begs leave to submit the following report:

The Board of Missions has already appropriated fifteen hundred dollars for a missionary exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. This act is probably indicative of the mind of this Convention and of the Church at large. But the terms of the proposed resolution that "there be provided an exhibit illustrating the history and growth of the Church" might be construed, if adopted, as imposing a financial responsibility upon the General Convention, which it would be unwise to assume. Your Committee therefore recommends the following substitute:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the deputation from the Diocese of California be authorized by this General Convention to act as a Committee, with power to add to its number, to obtain the co-operation of the Church towards securing an exhibit illustrating the history and growth of the Church at the Panama-Pacific Exposition to be held in San Francisco in 1915, provided the General Convention is not involved thereby in any expense.

J. B. HALSEY, Chairman.

[For the action of the House of Bishops see p. 285.]

The same gentleman from the same Committee presented Report No. 3, the resolutions appended to which were adopted:

REPORT No. 3.

The Committee on Missions, to which was referred the memorial from the Diocese of Tennessee, introduced by the Rev. Dr. H. J. Mikell, recommends favorable action on the same, and the adoption of the Resolutions appended (see Journal, General Convention, 1910, page 291) viz.:

"The Diocese of Tennessee respectfully memorializes the General Convention as follows:

"WHEREAS, the Diocese of Tennessee memorialized the General Convention of 1910 concerning the apportionment of men for Missions; and

"WHEREAS, the Committee on Missions of the House of Deputies reported the matter favorably to the house, as may be found in the Journal of the General Convention of 1910 (pages 289, 290, and 291); and

"WHEREAS, the resolutions of that Committee were passed by the House of Deputies as is shown in the Journal (page 311), but do not appear from the Journal to have been transmitted to the House of Bishops for their action, therefore

"The Diocese of Tennessee renews its petition to the General Convention asking that it consider the feasibility of requesting the Board of Missions to apportion to the several Missionary Departments the men and women needed for the missionary work of the Church in such proportion as to them may seem equitable, and that no distinction be made in such apportionment between foreign and home missionaries."

1. Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the Board of Missions be and hereby are instructed to apportion to the several Missionary Departments the men and women needed for all the Missionary work of the Church in such proportion as may seem to them equitable.

2. Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That it is hereby made the duty of the several Missionary Departments to use their best endeavors through such machinery as they may devise, to supply their quota of men and women for the Missionary work of the Church, as the same shall have been apportioned to them by the Board of Missions.

J. B. HALSEY, Chairman.

[For the action of the House of Bishops see p. 304.]

The same gentleman from the same Committee presented Report No. 4, the resolutions appended to which were adopted:

REPORT No. 4.

The Committee on Missions, to which was referred the resolution, presented by the Rev. Dr. Wrigley of Long Island, requesting that the Board of Missions be directed to raise at least $1,250,000, and to apportion the same to the Dioceses and Districts of the Church, begs leave to submit the following report:

While in thorough sympathy with an effort to increase the sums raised under the Apportionment Plan, your Committee does not favor the method recommended by this resolution, but believes that details of Apportionment can most safely and wisely be left in the expert hands of the Board of Missions. The amount proposed by this resolution as a minimum to be raised is practically the amount that has been raised in the year ending September 1, 1913, and will doubtless be exceeded each year by the natural growth of the contributions of the Church. The gifts for Missions twenty years ago were approximately $400,000. Ten years later they had doubled and in ten years again they had trebled. This wonderful and encouraging increase is due not only to the greater interest and sacrifice of former givers, but also to the fact that many more Parishes and Missions have joined the supporting army, although 1,268 are not reported as having given anything towards the Apportionment last year. Nevertheless we trust they may have made special contributions.

Your Committee believes that efficient methods are available if actually used. The essential thing is to make the Mission of the Church personal and vital instead of soulless and lifeless, concrete and definite instead of abstract and vague. The Board of Missions makes excellent practical suggestions in its Forward Movement Pamphlet. No Parish that has faithfully followed the plan suggested has failed of results. The best machinery is not self-operative but demands hand power, head power and heart power.

As a practical suggestion to increased efficiency in the Supreme Mission of the Church your Committee would call attention to the value of contributing to the Apportionment through Designated Offerings. Any Parish can secure from the Board of Missions one or more definite objects to work for, e.g., a Church or School, or Hospital in China or Japan, Utah or Florida; the Parish can have all the personal interest of working for something human and definite, while yet the work is not technically a Special but a Designated Offering credited to the Apportionment.

Your Committee urges that the Apportionment of Money be supplemented by Apportioned Work, and recommends as a substitute the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the General Convention, while congratulating the Church and its Board of Missions upon the splendid growth in Missionary Offerings in the last twenty years, still urges renewed efforts to secure contributions towards the Apportionment from every Parish and Mission of the Church.

2. Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That Parishes be urged to secure from the Board of Missions Apportioned Work for which their Apportionments in whole or in part may be designated, so making concrete and definite, vital and personal, the relation between the Work and the Workers.

J. B. HALSEY, Chairman.

[For the action of the House of Bishops see p. 304.]

The Rev. Dr. Grosvenor of the Committee on the Prayer Book presented Report No. 6, the resolution appended to which was adopted:

REPORT No. 6.

The Committee on the Prayer Book to whom was referred a resolution of the Rev. Mr. Douglas of Newark, that the use of the lectionary in public ministration be made optional, being of the opinion that such permission is inadvisable, report the following:

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

For the Committee,

WM. M. GROSVENOR, Chairman.

The same gentleman from the same Committee presented Report No. 7, the resolution appended to which was adopted by a rising vote:

REPORT No. 7.

The Committee on the Prayer Book to whom was referred a memorial from the Diocese of Pittsburgh upon Good Friday observance, being in hearty accord with the request of the memorialists for the setting apart of a period of silence upon Good Friday for prayerful commemoration of the death of our Saviour, recommend the following:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That this General Convention recommend to this Church and to all Christian people that five minutes on every Good Friday, at three o'clock in the afternoon, be devoted to prayerful silence in commemoration of the suffering and sacrifice of our Blessed Lord for our sakes.

For the Committee,

WM. M. GROSVENOR, Chairman.

[For the action of the House of Bishops see p. 304.]

The same gentleman from the same Committee presented Report No. 8, the resolution appended to which was adopted:

REPORT No. 8.

The Committee on the Prayer Book to whom was referred a memorial from the Missionary District of Southern Florida as to giving permission to the omission of the words "and the Son" in the temporal procession in the Nicene Creed are of the opinion that inasmuch as it is stated in the Preface of the Prayer Book that "This Church is far from intending to depart from the Church of England in any essential point of doctrine," it is deemed inadvisable that the General Convention permit the non use of the phrase "and the Son" or filioque in the Nicene Creed—they recommend the following:

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

For the Committee,

WM. M. GROSVENOR, Chairman.

The same gentleman from the same Committee presented Report No. 9, the resolution appended to which was adopted:

REPORT No. 9.

The Committee on the Prayer Book has had referred to it a number of memorials from Dioceses and Missionary Districts in reference to the change of the name of the Church.

All of these save one, that from California, refer generally to the change of the legal title of the Church.

The memorial from California refers specifically to the change of the title page of the Prayer Book.

Your Committee feels, as to the memorials referring to the change of the legal title, that it is without jurisdiction, and asks to be discharged from the further consideration of them.

As to the memorial of California, your Committee is of the opinion that the proposals for amending Article X. of the Constitution should be finally disposed of, before there should be any further action by this House upon any proposed change of the title page of the Prayer Book.

For this and other reasons they recommend the following:

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

For the Committee,
W. M. GROSVENOR, Chairman.

The Rev. Dr. Peirce of the Special Joint Committee on School Text Books presented the following report, and the resolution contained therein was adopted:

The Special Joint Committee on School Text Books to which were referred Memorials from the Diocese of Indianapolis, Ohio and Southern Ohio concerning erroneous teaching in the public schools upon the subject of this Church and its origin, reports that it has considered the same, and recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

WHEREAS, there is a widespread mistaken belief as to the origin and continuity of this Church, arising from grave misstatements of fact and from incorrect terminology in a majority of the text books of history used in our public and secondary schools, therefore be it

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, (1) That a Joint Commission consisting of five Bishops, five Presbyters, and five Laymen be appointed to examine school text books on English and American history.

(2) That this Joint Commission shall have power to urge upon authors and publishers in the name of this Church the correction of plain errors of fact and misleading statements concerning the history of this Church.

(3) That this Joint Commission make a full report to the next General Convention.

For the Committee,
WILLIAM F. PEIRCE, Secretary.

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That there be added to "The Order how the rest of the Holy Scripture is appointed to be read," the following words: On any day when the Holy Communion is immediately to follow Morning Prayer, the Minister may, at his discretion, shorten one or both of the Lessons appointed for the day.

[For the report of the Committee see p. 330.]

[For the report of the Committee see p. 315.]

Mr. Prince of New Mexico presented the following resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Canons:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, that Canon 47 § VI. be amended in line 3, by striking out the words, "several Diocesan Conventions," and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Conventions of the several Dioceses and the Convocations of the several Domestic Missionary Districts," and in lines 8, 9 and 13 by adding after the word "Diocese" the words "or Domestic Missionary District," so that the section will read as follows:

Canon 47 § VI. In order that the contingent expenses of the General Convention may be defrayed, it shall be the duty of the Conventions of the several Dioceses and the Convocations of the several Domestic Missionary Districts to forward to the Treasurer of the General Convention, on the first Monday in September, immediately preceding the meeting of the General Convention, three dollars for each Bishop, Presbyter, and Deacon canonically resident in such Diocese or Domestic Missionary District as recorded in the Journal of the General Convention last preceding. Dr. Rogers of Fond du Lac, proposing an amendment to Article VII. of the Constitution by striking out the proviso that no Diocese shall be included in a Province without its consent, begs leave to report that in its judgment it is wiser at the inception of the Provincial system to leave each Diocese free to determine whether or not it shall be included therein, and that for this reason the proposed amendment is inexpedient at the present time.

The Committee therefore presents the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

The Rev. Dr. McIlvaine, of the Joint Commission on the Support of the Clergy, presented its report and the same was made the Order of the Day for Monday at eleven o'clock. [See p. 290.]

The Joint Commission on the Support of the Clergy was constituted by the General Convention of 1910 to consider, in the words of the resolution of appointment, "the whole question of the support of the clergy, including salaries, sustentation, insurance, annuities and pensions."

The question of clergy support consists in reality of two problems—one problem being the sustentation of the clergy during their active ministry, the other being the problem of their support and the support of those dependent upon them when for any reason their active ministry has ceased.

These two problems, although necessarily somewhat interdependent, can be separated to advantage, and the Joint Commission has concentrated its attention upon the one dealing with the support of the clergy when they are not receiving stipends for services performed at the time, or, in official language, the non-effective support. The pension problem has been attacked, first, because, difficult as it is, it does not raise the fundamental considerations involved in a thorough investigation of systems of maintaining the active work of the Church. The Joint Commission has, however, been mindful that a pension system must always be adjustable to any change in the system of active support.

The Joint Commission began the pension investigation by collecting the indispensable data of age, service, family status and financial support of the individual clergyman. Seventy-five per cent. of those in Holy Orders furnished information. This enabled an approximate actuarial calculation to be made. The calculation was presented to the Church in a Preliminary Report. Since the publication of the Preliminary Report the Joint Commission has sent out another enquiry, and has received replies from ninety per cent. of the clergy. Such a percentage of replies, with the additional ones that can be obtained by slight additional effort, will enable an actuarial calculation to be made that will be exact. It had been hoped to present this calculation to the General Convention at this time in a Final Report, but the delay consequent upon gathering statistics from such a number of widely spread individuals as is represented by the Clergy List has prevented. The statistics in the Preliminary Report, although probably needing some revision for a final calculation of the rates of contribution, are sufficient as a basis of legislation.

The Preliminary Report lays down the basic principles that must underlie any sound pension legislation, and works those principles out into definite rules. Careful discrimination must be made between the basic principles, which are essential, and the details, which it was necessary to frame in order that the actuary might make his calculations, and which can be altered, with, of course, the corresponding actuarial alterations.

The basic principles are embodied in the following resolutions unanimously adopted by the Joint Commission, the last resolution enabling the preceding ones to be carried into effect:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the Church should work toward the adoption of one pension system, covering the entire territory of the Church and the entire scope of pension activity, and operating under definite and known rules.

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the pension system of the Church should be so constructed as to take cognizance of the problem of the accrued liabilities.

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the contributions and the continuing liabilities should be actuarially calculated so as to balance.

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the assessments to support the continuing liabilities should be adjusted upon the principle of an actuarial relation between the liabilities and the benefits.

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the principle of distribution should be so arranged that the maximum pension should not exceed $2,000 per annum and that the minimum limit should be $600 per annum.

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the Joint Commission on the Support of the Clergy be continued, with power to become a corporation and to take such other steps as may be necessary to put into operation these pension principles, it being understood, however, that until they can be successfully established the Church should continue to support the existing incorporated agencies.

Mr. Ringwalt, of the Joint Committee to Nominate Trustees of the General Clergy Relief Fund, presented a report from that Committee, and the resolution contained therein was adopted:

The Joint Committee to nominate Trustees for the General Clergy Relief Fund respectfully submit the following nominations: The Bishop of New York, the Bishop of Massachusetts, the Rev. Reese F. Alsop, D.D., the Rev. William T. Manning, D.D., Mr. Ellhu Chauncey, Mr. Henry Lewis Morris, Mr. Roland S. Morris.

The resolution creating your committee grants them the privilege of asking the General Convention to endorse its deep appreciation of the efficient and successful work of the Trustees in the aid of your aged and infirm clergy during the past three years, the remarkable fact being that each of the last three Triennial Reports has indicated double the receipts of the preceding period; and appreciation, particularly, of the tireless and energetic administration of its Treasurer and Financial Agent, the Rev. Alfred J. P. McClure; not the least arduous of the duties of this office being the preparation in tabulated form of the Triennial Report. It is but a small mark of appreciation on the part of the members of the Convention due the Treasurer, that the report receive more than passing notice.

The Committee offer the following resolution:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the persons named above be elected Trustees for the ensuing years.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Resolved, That this House of Deputies has heard with profound interest the report of the Joint Commission on the World Conference on Faith and Order. It is the conviction of this House that the inspired words, “one body and one spirit,” are expressive of the divine design concerning the Church, and that ultimately all who confess one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism, one God and Father of us all, shall be brought together in one family here on earth.

In the light of the report presented by the Commission this House reaffirms its belief that the time has now arrived when representatives of the whole flock of Christ, moved by the Holy Ghost, may be willing to come together for the consideration of questions of Faith and Order, and expresses its fervent hope that such a conference may prove to be the next step toward unity. And it is our prayer that through the efforts of all co-operating Communions an atmosphere of brotherly love may be generated in which all will be ready to follow the leadings of the Spirit toward that completed unity in which the visible Church in all the world shall become the perfect sign and sacrament of the spiritual oneness of the people of God.

Mr. Gardner of Rhode Island presented the following resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Social Service:

WHEREAS, the moral and spiritual welfare of the people demands that the highest possible standards of living should everywhere be maintained, and that all conduct of industry should emphasize the search for such higher and more humane forms and organization as will genuinely elicit the personal initiative and self-respect of the workman and give him a definite, personal stake in the system of production to which his life is given, and

WHEREAS, most disproportionate inequalities and glaring injustices, as well as misunderstanding, prejudice and mutual hatred as between the employer and employee are widespread in our social and industrial life to-day,

THEREFORE BE IT Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That we, the Members of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, do hereby affirm that the Church stands for the ideal of social justice, and that it demands the achievement of a social order in which there shall be a more equitable distribution of wealth; in which the social cause of poverty and the gross human waste of the present order shall be eliminated; and in which every worker shall have a just return for that which he produces, a free opportunity for self-development, and a fair share in all the gains of progress. And since such a social order can only be achieved progressively by the effort of men and women who in the spirit of Christ put the common welfare above private gain, the Church calls upon every communicant, Clerical and Lay, seriously to take to heart and to study the complex conditions under which we are called upon to live, and so to act that the present prejudice, hate and injustice may be supplanted by mutual understanding, sympathy, and just dealing, and the ideal of thorough-going democracy may finally be realized in our land.

[For the report of the Committee see p. 308.]

IN GENERAL CONVENTION,
NEW YORK, 10th day of the Session,
OCTOBER 18, 1913.

MESSAGE NO. 43.

The House of Bishops informs the House of Deputies that it has adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That the Joint Committee on the Increase and Efficiency of the Diaconate and other Evangelistic Ministries of the Church be discharged.

Attest:

SAMUEL HART, Secretary.

The House concurred in the foregoing Message.

The Rev. Dr. Wrigley, of the Five Million Dollar Pension Fund Commission, presented the following report, the resolution appended to which was adopted:

The Commission begs leave to report that during the six years of its existence, or to be correct the four-and-a-half years of its active work, it has received and paid to the General Clergy Relief Fund $250,000 in cash, that it has expended for travelling expenses, office rent and printing $22,000, that it now holds $3,000 par value of stock of the Hazel Atlas Glass Company of Wheeling, $7,000 in cash, and conditional and unconditional pledges amounting to $227,801, total, $510,086.51.

The Commission also begs leave to report some of the reasons why more has not been accomplished.

I. A lack of interest on the part of many of the clergy and a large part of the laity.

II. A feeling developed in some Dioceses that actuarial computations showing the amount required for an adequate pension system should first be made, before contributions were solicited, and opportunity was therefore not given in such Dioceses to present the cause.

III. Much misunderstanding of the work and object of the Commission, many people supposing it to be an incorporated body charged with the accumulation and the dispensing of a large fund, whereas, its only function under the terms of its appointment by the General Convention was to collect money and hand it over to the General Clergy Relief Fund; this Commission had no control whatever over the money collected or over its method of distribution as pension. The Commission wishes to recognize the great interest that a certain few have shown in this work, and to call attention in connection with this statement that now certain large pledges are being paid in at the rate of $10,000 per annum, and that one legacy of about $20,000 has just come to our knowledge. The Church has been aroused by this Commission to one of the crying necessities of our time, viz.: adequate support for all the clergy, and has spurred on the General Church to larger gifts for General Clergy Relief, as well as having aroused the conscience of the Church with regard to the matter of pensions. What has been accomplished must be maintained; foundations that have been laid must be built upon, and the ultimate success of the pension movement assured; otherwise much that has been gained will be lost, and the Church will fall back upon the discredited system of a charity or a dole to the aged. The Treasurer's Report is appended, properly audited. Dr. Wilkins's report is as follows:

The total financial results of our work for the trienniums, 1907-1913, or, to be accurate, from May 1, 1908, when I entered on my duties, to October 1, 1913, are as follows:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the $5,000,000 General Clergy Relief and Pension Fund Commission is hereby authorized and directed to pay over to the Joint Commission on the support of the clergy the small amount of cash remaining in its possession, and all future receipts from bequests, or the collection of pledges, and that it shall continue its existence until it has completed all business arising out of its past efforts, and to employ such agents as it may deem necessary for the work.

4. Adopted a Standard Course of Teacher Training to increase the efficiency of the 45,000 teachers of the Church.
5. Organized a Correspondence School for Teacher Training with a competent faculty and an ever-increasing roll of students.

6. Recommended the third Sunday in October as a "Day of Intercession for Religious Education." Provided material for observance of same.

7. Maintained a Central Office, to which every Department and many Dioceses have turned for help, and from which sixty thousand copies of the following pamphlets have been sent out on receipt of requests:

The same gentleman from the same Committee presented Report No. 4, recommending the adoption of the following preambles and resolution of Mr. Gardner of Rhode Island:

WHEREAS, the moral and spiritual welfare of the people demands that the highest possible standard of living should everywhere be maintained, and that all conduct of industry should emphasize the search for such higher and more human forms and organization as will genuinely elicit the personal initiative and self-respect of the workman, and give him a definite personal stake in the system of production to which his life is given; and

"WHEREAS, injustice and disproportionate inequality as well as misunderstanding, prejudice and mutual distrust as between employer and employee are widespread in our social and industrial life to-day;

"THEREFORE BE IT Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That we, the Members of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, do hereby affirm that the Church stands for the ideal of social justice, and that it demands the achievement of a social order in which the social cause of poverty and the gross human waste of the present order shall be eliminated; and in which every worker shall have a just return for that which he produces, a free opportunity for self-development, and a fair share in all the gains of progress. And since such a social order can only be achieved progressively by the effort of men and women who in the spirit of Christ put the common welfare above private gain, the Church calls upon every communicant, Clerical and Lay, seriously to take part in the study of the complex conditions under which we are called upon to live, and so to act that the present prejudice and injustice may be supplanted by mutual understanding, sympathy and just dealings, and the ideal of thorough-going democracy may be finally realized in our land."

And further amend said Canon as follows:

After the word "belongs" in the fifteenth line of Section 2 strike out the period and insert a comma, strike out also the following words "and such" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "And thereupon the Ecclesiastical Authority so notified shall cause such investigation to be made and such proceedings to be instituted against the accused as would be required if the alleged offence had been committed within that jurisdiction."

Mr. Mansfield, of the Committee on Expenses, presented Report No. 4, the resolution appended to which was adopted:

REPORT No. 4.

The Committee on Expenses, to which the last Convention referred the consideration of the matter of the preparation and publication of an index to all the Journals of the General Convention, with instruction to report to this Convention (see Journal 1910, page 355), beg leave to report that they have considered the matter and are of the opinion that the need thereof, if any, is insufficient to justify the expenditure by this Convention of so large a sum out of its treasury as would be required to defray the cost thereof and that they know of no other source at this time from which such sum can come; they therefore deem it inexpedient to prepare and publish such an index and recommend the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the matter.

BURTON MANSFIELD, Chairman.

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

BURTON MANSFIELD, Chairman.

The same gentleman from the same Committee presented Report No. 6, the resolution appended to which was adopted:

REPORT No. 6.

Mr. Howell of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, calling for the printing in the Journal of this Convention of the "masterly and inspiring address" of Mr. George Wharton Pepper, on the topic, "What Contribution Is this Church Making to the Christian Education of the Coming Generation?" which address was delivered at a Joint Session of the two Houses, held October 14, 1913, and also calling for the printing of one thousand copies thereof, in addition, for general distribution, beg leave to report that they have considered the matter and deem it inexpedient for this Convention to adopt such proposal. They therefore recommend the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the matter.

BURTON MANSFIELD, Chairman.

The Rev. Dr. Harriman, of the Joint Committee on Registration of Communicants, presented the following report, the resolutions appended to which were adopted:

The Joint Committee appointed in 1907, and continued in 1910, "to report a plan for the uniform registration of Communicants," respectfully reports that it has given the matter careful consideration, and is of the opinion that the different aspects of the question are admirably covered by the report made in 1907 by a similar Committee of the House of Deputies, to which they beg leave to refer. It will be found on pages 231 to 233 of the Journal for that year. We agree with all that is there said defining a "Communicant" as one who has received Baptism and Confirmation, or has been formally admitted to the Holy Communion as being "ready and desirous to be confirmed."

We reiterate that all such should be enrolled and kept upon the Parish Register until death, transfer or discipline removes the name.

Neglect of the privilege of receiving the Sacrament, long absence, or even departure without a letter is not sufficient reason for erasing a name, as the person may reappear or ask for transfer after many years. His rights as a potential Communicant should be scrupulously conserved. On the other hand, parochial reports should not be padded with misleading statistics. To enumerate all these non-effective members is to exaggerate the real strength of the Parish. Communicants known to have neglected for three years the reception of the Holy Communion, in spite of due and sufficient opportunity therefor, should not be reported for statistical purposes. But, as above suggested, nothing but death, transfer or discipline should justify the removal of a name from the Register.

We recommend that this ruling be made known to Diocesan authorities in order to secure the requisite uniformity. We therefore offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the Secretary of the House of Deputies have this Report printed as a circular within one year after the final adjournment of this Convention, and send it to the Secretary of each Diocese and Missionary District, with the request that it be communicated to the next annual Convention or Convocation thereof, as the decision of the General Convention with reference to the registration and enumeration of Communicants.

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That this Committee be now discharged.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCIS K. BROOKE,
ROBERT CODMAN,
FREDERICK W. HARRIMAN,
GEORGE WHARTON PEPPER,
Joint Committee.

FIFTEENTH DAY

NEW SYNOD HALL, October 24, 1913.

The minutes of the previous day's session were read and approved.

The following members not before present appeared and took their seats:

WILLIAM F. FABER, Chairman.

REPORT No. 15.

Your Committee respectfully offer in this their final report some suggestions which might, in their opinion, serve to simplify the work of a similar Committee in the future, and avoid perplexing questions as to the validity of credentials whose form is irregular.

The printed form provided is, strictly speaking, applicable only to the case of an Alternate Deputy-elect applying for the seat of a Deputy who has "given notice that he declines the appointment": that is, the case of filling the place of a Deputy never seated in the House at all. To inform the House of what exactly has been done, in seating any person as Deputy, it should be clearly stated, in the credentials presented to the Committee, whether the vacancy is one due to the declination of the Deputy-elect, or to the withdrawing of a Deputy who has for a part of the time occupied the seat.

If this be regarded as a minor matter, though in the interest of exact truth it is, we think, of importance, it is not a minor matter when credentials are handed the Committee by a person certified to be an "Alternate Deputy," whose name does not appear on the list of the regularly elected Alternates sent in by the Diocese to the Secretary of this House. It happens that the Deputation of a Diocese is not full, and that a vacancy cannot be filled from the regularly elected Alternates, of whom none is able to come to the Convention. In such a case, it is not within the powers of the Bishop, or the Deputation, to fill such vacancy, unless the canons of the Diocese specifically provide for this method of meeting the emergency. The Committee on Elections must be certified in the case of such a specially elected or appointed Alternate that the credentials are given under such special provision of Diocesan Canons. It is therefore important that every Deputation bring with them a copy of their Diocesan Canons, whose decision is of final authority in the matter. And inasmuch as it is within the limits of possibility that in any Diocesan Deputation there may be a vacancy when the Convention assembles, and that no one of the regularly elected Alternates is able to attend and take the seat: your Committee suggest that Deputies upon their return from the Convention take up in their several Dioceses the question whether they have adequate provision in their Diocesan Canons for meeting such an emergency; and if they have not, whether it may not be deemed advisable to procure such a Diocesan Canon as will afford them this relief.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WILLIAM F. FABER, Chairman.

[For the action of the House of Bishops see p. 340.]

The Rev. Dr. Manning, of the Committee on the General Theological Seminary, presented Report No. 3, the resolution appended to which was adopted:

REPORT No. 3.

Your Committee on the General Theological Seminary have had under consideration the Triennial Report of the Seminary which was submitted to them and they desire to present the following statement:

They find from the report of the Treasurer that the institution possesses real estate and buildings valued at more than two million dollars, with endowments exceeding two million dollars in addition.

With such a foundation it is manifest that great results are possible in the training of young men for the Ministry of the Church.

With its splendid property, with the advantages arising from its situation in this great city, with its generous endowments and scholarships, with its excellent library, and with the band of trained scholars who constitute its faculty, the General Theological Seminary may well be, and should become more and more, a spiritual and intellectual stimulus in the life of the whole Church, as well as a thoroughly well equipped school for the education and preparation of young men for Holy Orders.

Your Committee are of the opinion that the reorganization of the Board of Trustees carried into effect by the action of this Convention will result in increased efficiency in the administration and work of the institution.

The report submitted to the Committee states that the diploma of the Seminary was given in 1911 to twenty-five students, in 1912 to twenty-three, and in this present year to forty.

The Committee gladly takes note of the increase in the number of students graduated this year. They feel, however, that the number is smaller than it should be, and express their hope that young men of the highest type may be attracted to the Seminary in increasing numbers.

Your Committee desires respectfully but strongly to reiterate the suggestion made three years ago as to the importance of full and thorough training in the English Bible.

In the opinion of your Committee, no other branch of learning can compare in importance with this one, for those who are to give themselves to the Ministry of the Word and Sacraments.

Complaints are heard frequently from Examining Chaplains in different sections that, with rare exceptions, candidates for Holy Orders show a lamentable ignorance of the contents of the English Bible.

If this complaint is well founded, it calls attention to a most serious weakness in the life of the Church.

It is important for our young men to know what modern scholarship and scientific study have revealed as to the Sacred Books, but this will be of no avail, if they have not learned and received the spiritual message of these books.

Your Committee feel that they are stating a self-evident truth, but one which cannot be too strongly emphasized, when they declare that whatever other powers or qualifications a man may possess, he is not fitted for the work of the Ministry of this Church unless he is moulded by the knowledge and steeped in the very language of the Bible in the Mother tongue.

Your Committee note with satisfaction the hopeful tone of the report submitted to them and they believe that the Seminary has now before it an opportunity greater than ever before to perform its own special service and to influence the life of the Church at large.

In conclusion we offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the House of Deputies be allowed to omit from the Triennial Report of the Board of Trustees, when it is printed in the Appendix of the Journal, statistical details which have already appeared in the published proceedings of the Board, where they are accessible at all.

The Rev. Dr. Freeman, of the Committee on Social Service, to whom was referred the resolution of Mr. Wheeler of New York as a substitute for that on the Calendar No. 33, presented as a substitute for the whole the following preambles and resolution, and the same was adopted:

"WHEREAS, according to the census there are in the United States about 2,000,000 children under sixteen years of age employed in gainful occupation, and many thousands of children working under the protection of certificates in which they are falsely represented as being of the legal age for employment; and

"WHEREAS, child slavery and illiteracy are promoted by, and awful physical, mental and moral wreckage often result from, the employment of children under sixteen years of age in factories, mines, stores and street trades;

"THEREFORE BE IT Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That this General Convention condemns the employment of children under sixteen years of age in any of the occupations aforesaid, and demands for every child an opportunity for education and recreation. Recognizing that labor is honorable, we hold that every child should be educated according to his natural aptitude so as to labor truly to get his own living, and we therefore emphasize the importance of vocational training."

WHEREAS, the women of this Church and of other Christian bodies and of no religious affiliations throughout the land are exhibiting to a degree and in a manner unprecedented a heroic, self-sacrificing devotion of sex to the elevation of the race; and

WHEREAS, they represent both the bodies politic and the bodies ecclesiastic on the side of their most sensitive and most sacred functions of home and family, of education, and moral influence;

BE IT Resolved, That this General Convention put itself on record as desiring to foster, to encourage, and, as far as possible, to inaugurate reasonable and legitimate means and agencies whereby the social and religious welfare of the women of this land may be promoted;

That it commends works of a benevolent and philanthropic character and especially zealous adherence and devotion to the cause of Christ and of Christian missions at home and abroad;

That it refers with just pride and well-deserved congratulations to the United Offering of the Woman's Auxiliary and associated organizations of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States as an evidence of the interest which women are taking everywhere in the extension of the Kingdom of God, which is Righteousness, Peace and Joy in the Holy Ghost;

That it endorses to these ends every humane effort of both men and women to improve industrial conditions of both sexes in order to realize the fulfillment of the Lord's Prayer—"Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, As it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread." And that for His bride, which is the Church, Christ has given for her guidance in the bonds of Christian society the admonition to the Lady-Elect and of St. John's last Epistle, as the best motto for each and every member to observe as equal representatives in a social order, which is to follow "not that which is evil, but that which is good; for he that doeth good is of God, but he that doeth evil hath not seen God."

[For the report of the Committee see p. 344.]

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That the following change be made in the Constitution, and that the proposed alteration be made known to the several Dioceses, in order that the same may be adopted in the next General Convention in accordance with Article XI. of the Constitution:

Amend Article VI. of the Constitution by adding the following section, to be numbered Section 4:

SECTION 4. The House of Bishops may establish Missionary Districts upon racial lines, i.e., for a specified race or races, within the bounds of Dioceses and Missionary Districts, authorized in Section I., severally or in such groupings as it may determine; Provided, that, in the case of a Diocese, such racial jurisdiction within the diocesan borders shall first be ceded by the Bishop and the Convention of the Diocese.

In the interpretation of the Constitution and Canons, the people and Churches of such Racial Missionary Districts shall occupy the same relation to the General Convention and have the same rights of representation therein, as other Domestic Missionary Districts.

No such cession by a Diocese or division of a Missionary District shall carry with it the members of the ceded race who may be or become members of congregations not included in such cession or division.

The House of Bishops may from time to time change, increase, or diminish the territory into which such Racial Missionary District extends, in such manner as may be prescribed by Canon.

Such racial jurisdiction within the bounds of a Diocese may be retroceded by the House of Bishops, if the Bishop and Convention of such Diocese shall consent to receive it.

MESSAGE No. 91.

The House of Bishops informs the House of Deputies that it has not concurred with the House of Deputies in adopting the resolution contained in its Message No. 55, for the reason that the importance of supplementing the secular education given by the State with the inculcation of universally accepted moral and ethical principles has been amply and ably dealt with both in the opening sermon of the Convention and in the Pastoral Letter; and the House of Bishops recommends that such portions of these documents as deal with this subject, be referred to the Board of Religious Education, with instruction to co-operate with other religious bodies and organizations in carrying out the programme suggested therein.

The House of Bishops informs the House of Deputies that it has not concurred in the amendment to Canon 40 § I. contained in Message No. 96 from the House of Deputies, such amendment being apparently a substitute for an amendment adopted by the House of Deputies, which this House prefers, considering that the amendment proposed by the House of Deputies does not meet the chief difficulty for which remedy is needed. The amendment adopted by this House is as follows:

In case of a communicant removing from one place to another and failing to apply for a letter of transfer, the Rector or Minister of a Parish or Congregation shall send such letter to the Minister of a Parish or Mission when the communicant has become resident, and such letter shall be received by said Minister; provided that definite information is furnished as to the residence of the communicants.

MESSAGE No. 108.

The House of Bishops informs the House of Deputies that it has adopted the following in regard to the proposed amendment of Article X. of the Constitution:

WHEREAS, the House of Bishops has given as much consideration to the amendment to the Constitution proposed in Message No. 103 from the House of Deputies as was possible in the brief time available at the close of its session;

AND WHEREAS, in the short debate that ensued so many questions were raised;

For instance (1) as to the expediency of adopting special legislation to meet a special condition of thought and feeling in the House of Deputies;

And (2) as to the need of further security against hasty legislation in addition to the threefold safeguard already provided in the requirement of action by two successive Conventions, of the concurrent action of the two Houses, and of a vote by Orders in the House of Deputies, which (by reason of divided Dioceses) would largely increase the majority required;

(3) And as to the apparent need for safeguarding the Constitution equally with the Prayer Book;

(4) And as to the wisdom of making our Prayer Book and Constitution so rigid as practically to forbid amendment, and so to force large freedom of interpretation;

AND WHEREAS these questions are of such great and serious importance as to demand long and careful debate; therefore the House of Bishops feels unable at this time to concur with the House of Deputies in its Message.

Attest:

SAMUEL HART, Secretary.

The Rev. Dr. Manning, of the Committee of Conference, in reference to the foregoing Message, reported that it had discharged the duty committed to it, and presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That a Joint Committee be appointed consisting of five Bishops, to be appointed by the Chairman of the House of Bishops, and five Presbyters and five Laymen to be appointed by the President of this House to take into consideration the question of amending the Constitution so as to provide for a two-thirds vote instead of a majority vote on questions relating to the Prayer Book and otherwise; and to report to the next General Convention.

The President of this House has appointed as members of such Committee on its part the Rev. Dr. Manning of New York; the Rev. Mr. Parsons of California; the Rev. Dr. Niver of Maryland; the Rev. Dr. Goodwin of Virginia; the Rev. Dr. Stone of Chicago; Mr. Lewis of Pennsylvania; Mr. Bacot of South Carolina; Mr. Stetson of New York; Mr. Henry of Iowa; Mr. McMaster of Missouri.

[For the action of the House of Bishops see p. 353.]

The Rev. Mr. Parsons, of the Committee of Conference, presented the following report, the resolution appended to which was adopted:

The undersigned, appointed to confer with representatives of the House of Bishops respecting the matter involved in Message No. 80 of this House and Message No. 85 of the House of Bishops, respectfully report:

That after conference it has been found impossible to reach any agreement respecting a basis for further action by the two Houses. They accordingly present the following resolution:

"That the Committee be discharged from further consideration of the subject."

Respectfully submitted,

E. L. PARSONS,
GEORGE PEPPER.

Mr. Gardiner of Maine then moved that the House recede from its former action and concur with the House of Bishops in its Message No. 85, and the House concurred.

Attest: SAMUEL HART, Secretary.

Mr. Lewis, of the Committee on Despatch of Business, presented the following resolution:

Resolved, That after the reading of the minutes and attending the closing service to hear the Pastoral Letter this House stand adjourned, sine die, and the same was adopted.

The minutes of the day's session were read and approved.

The House, having met with the House of Bishops in the Cathedral for the closing service and listened to the Pastoral Letter read by the Bishop of Tennessee and received the Benediction pronounced by the Presiding Bishop, stood adjourned without day.

Subsequent to adjournment the following telegram was received by the Secretary, and the following Messages from the House of Bishops:

MESSAGE No. 114.

The House of Bishops informs the House of Deputies that it has had under consideration the matter of the use of the Cup in the Holy Communion and has adopted the following declaration:

1. That after making by a competent Committee a thorough search into the causes leading to the exaggerated fear arising from the customary use of the one cup in the Holy Communion, and having had abundant and capable expert advice in consultation on the subject, we see no reason to authorize any general change in the usage obtaining in this Church.

2. That proper care of the Communion Vessels, both at the time of and after the Celebration, will meet all reasonable needs; and

3. That for emergencies arising in special cases, the Bishops are in our judgment competent to provide, in their several Dioceses, without resorting to the use of individual cups, and without doing anything which may impair the Sacrament according to its original institution and the order of this Church.

PROCEEDINGS
JOINT SESSIONS

CATHEDRAL OF ST. JOHN THE DIVINE,
October 10, 1913.

The House of Bishops and the House of Deputies convened in joint session at 11 A.M., agreeably to the provisions of Article III. of Canon 53, the Presiding Bishop in the Chair.

After singing and prayer the Rev. Henry Anstice, D.D., was elected secretary of the joint sessions.

The Report of the Committee to arrange for joint sessions of the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies was presented by its Chairman, the Bishop of Long Island, and adopted as follows:

The Committee appointed to arrange with Missionary Bishops and others to address joint sessions of the two Houses of the General Convention, and to arrange for the holding of other missionary meetings, respectfully reports as follows:

With respect to the conduct of business the Committee recommends:

1. That the Presiding Bishop shall preside at the morning and afternoon sessions of October 10th, and that four Laymen shall preside at the subsequent sessions, as indicated in the following programme. This plan has the approval of the Presiding Bishop.

2. That the Secretary of the House of Deputies shall be Secretary of these joint sessions, assisted by the Secretaries of the Board of Missions.

3. That the seats assigned to Deputies shall be occupied only by Deputies, by the officers and members of the Board of Missions, by the invited speakers and other missionary visitors.

4. That the Rules of Order of the House of Deputies shall, so far as they relate to discussion and procedure, govern the session of the two Houses.

5. That in all the joint sessions hereinafter provided for, the appointed speakers be allowed the time indicated, but volunteer speakers shall be limited to five minutes.

Acting under the provisions of Canon 53—Article III. Section 3—this Committee has arranged with a number of Bishops and others to address joint sessions of the two Houses on two mornings and two afternoons, in addition to the afternoon of this day. It accordingly recommends that the afternoon of Friday, October 10th; the afternoon of Wednesday, October 15th; the morning of Thursday, October 16th; the afternoon of Monday, October 20th; and the morning of Wednesday, October 22d, be set apart for further joint sessions of the two Houses for the purpose of receiving from the Bishops and others information concerning present conditions, needs and opportunities in the several fields. For the session of the afternoon of this day and for the subsequent joint sessions of the two Houses, the Committee suggests the assignment of time and subjects indicated in the proposed programmes for the several days, and also recommends that these subjects be made the order of the day for these sessions.

The Committee further reports that the Triennial Missionary Sermon before the General Convention will be preached in St. Thomas's Church, Sunday evening, October 12th, at eight o'clock, by the Right Rev. Logan H. Roots, D.D., Bishop of Hankow.

The Committee has also arranged, with the generous assistance of the Laymen of the Diocesan Missionary Committee for a general missionary meeting on the evening of Friday, October 17th, in Carnegie Hall, at eight-fifteen.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The Rev. Mr. Aigner of Erie presented the following preamble and resolutions, which were adopted by a rising vote and singing the Doxology:

WHEREAS, The Woman's Auxilliary to the Board of Missions has just presented in its Triennial United Offering Service a great Thank-offering of over Three Hundred Thousand Dollars for the extension of the Church's missionary work at home and abroad, and more especially for the work of women for women; in addition to their other offerings during the triennium; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Bishops and the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies in General Convention assembled, at their first joint session as the Board of Missions, express their grateful appreciation of the devoted efforts of the women of the Auxilliary; that they rejoice with them in this large gift, the largest in the history of the Auxilliary, for the extension of Christ's Kingdom throughout the world; that we devoutly thank the Giver of every good and perfect gift that He has given them the will and power to achieve such great things for the honor of His Name and the welfare of men; and that we pray that the glorious majesty of the Lord our God may ever be upon them and that He may ever prosper their handywork.

The Triennial Report of the Board of Missions was presented and in part read by Mr. John W. Wood, Secretary.

The President of the Board of Missions, the Right Rev. A. S. Lloyd, D.D., delivered an address on the topic, "The Church's Mission at Home and Abroad: What Should be Done to Further it During the Next Three Years."

After prayer and missionary intercession, the Bishop of Long Island was recognized to move the substitution of 2:30 P.M. in place of 3 P.M. where it occurs in the Report already adopted as the order of business, and the proposed change was agreed to.

Mr. George Gordon King, Treasurer of the Board, spoke upon the topic, "What the Church Has Given for Her Mission During the Last Three Years."

Mr. Stetson of New York presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that grateful acknowledgment be made to the officers of the Board for their inspiring addresses this afternoon.

On motion, the joint session took a recess until 2:30 P.M.

The joint session having reassembled, the Bishop of Kentucky presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That this joint session has heard, with devout thankfulness to Almighty God, of the splendid progress of the Church's Mission as described in the reports of the officers of the Board of Missions, and that we, the Bishops, Clergy and Deputies, pledge ourselves, when we return to our several Dioceses and Parishes, to do all in our power to maintain and set forward the Kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Nelson, D.D., Bishop of Atlanta, on "Among the Mountain and Mill People of the South."

The Bishop of Montana presented the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the joint session (of the General Convention) that it is the first and bounden duty of every Bishop to do his utmost to secure the meeting of the Apportionment in his Diocese or District; and that it shall be the duty of every Rector and Missionary to raise the Apportionment in his Parish.

Resolved, That the editor of The Spirit of Missions and the editor of every one of our Church papers be requested to publish the above resolution at the head of his editorial column in every issue for the next three years.

The Chairman presented the following report of his official acts since the meeting of the General Convention:

REPORT

OF THE CHAIRMAN TO THE HOUSE OF BISHOPS IN SPECIAL SESSION AT NEW YORK, October 26, 1911

1. On February 9, 1911, in my canonical capacity as "Presiding Officer of the House," I pronounced complete the resignation of the Right Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd as Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia, and as of the date of October 21, 1910. I now ask that the formal canonical notice sent out by me, on February 9, 1911, to all members of this House and to the Secretaries of the House of Bishops and of the House of Deputies be now entered on the minutes of this special session and made a part of its Record.

2. On June 30, 1911, I accepted the resignation of the Bishop of Connecticut as a member of the Commission on the Revision of the Offices for the Visitation and the Communion of the Sick, and appointed in his place the Bishop of Southern Florida, who accepted the appointment; and this day I have accepted the resignation of the Bishop of Central New York as Chairman of the Commission on Church Work among the Jews.

3. In August last (1911), having been notified by the Presiding Bishop of the date, viz., September 6, 1911, of the meeting of the General Synod of the Canadian Church, and that the Bishop of Olympia could not at that time serve on our deputation to the Synod, I appointed in his place the Bishop of Western New York, and also notified the other member of our deputation, the Bishop Coadjutor of Albany, of the date of the Synod. But as both of these Bishops were out of the country at the time, my notification did not reach either of them, and so unfortunately this House was not represented at all at the Synod.

4. On October 20, 1911, in response to an inquiry from the Bishop of Atlanta as to whether, having been originally elected as the Bishop of Georgia in 1907 on the Court of First Instance for the Trial of a Bishop, he could still consider himself, as the Bishop of Atlanta, a member of the Court; my reply was that as he was elected under his former title for a six years' term, he might properly still consider himself a member of the Court under his more recent title.

Respectfully submitted,

BOYD VINCENT, Chairman of the House of Bishops.

The canonical notice of the acceptance of the resignation of the Right Rev. Dr. Arthur S. Lloyd as Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia is as follows:

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL HOUSE,
CINCINNATI, OHIO, February 9, 1911.

The Right Rev. Arthur Selden Lloyd, D.D., Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia, having under Canon 53 been duly elected, by the recent General Convention of 1910, President of the Board of Missions, and having on the fifteenth day of the session of the said General Convention, being the twenty-first day of October, 1910, announced his acceptance of the election, and having also accordingly requested the consent of the House of Bishops to resign his jurisdiction as Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia, and the consent of the House, under Article II. Section 4 (now Section 5) of the Constitution and on the same date, viz., October 21, 1910, having been given him so to resign; and the Council of the Diocese of Virginia having duly certified me that, at a special session of said Council duly convened on February 1, 1911, the resignation by the Right Rev. Dr. Lloyd of his jurisdiction as Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia was duly presented to and accepted by that Council, to take effect as on and from October 21, 1910;

Now, therefore, as Presiding Officer of the House of Bishops and acting under the provisions of Canon 13 § VII., I hereby pronounce the resignation by the Right Rev. Arthur Selden Lloyd, D.D., of his jurisdiction as Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia complete on said date of October twenty-first, nineteen hundred and ten.

From the record.

II.

RICHMOND, VIRGINIA, February 2, 1911.

We, the undersigned, do hereby certify to the Right Rev. Boyd Vincent, D.D., Presiding Officer of the House of Bishops,

That at a special meeting of the Council of the Diocese of Virginia, duly convened in St. James's Church, Richmond, Virginia, on Wednesday, February 1, 1911, the resignation of the Right Rev. Arthur Selden Lloyd, D.D., as Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Virginia was presented to the Council, being in part in the following words:—

"... My resignation is hereby presented to the Bishop and Council of the Diocese, said resignation to date from October 21, 1910, the date on which I accepted the position to which I have been elected by the General Convention."

A. S. LLOYD,

Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia.

And thereupon the following Resolutions were adopted by the Council:

WHEREAS, the resignation of the Right Rev. Arthur Selden Lloyd, D.D., as Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia, on account of his election by the General Convention as President of the Board of Missions, has been presented to this Council, to date from the 21st day of October, 1910, being the date of his acceptance of the election;

Be it Resolved, by the Council of the Diocese of Virginia, That the resignation of the Right Rev. Arthur Selden Lloyd, D.D., as Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia be and is hereby accepted, to date as from October 21, 1910.

Resolved, That the President and Secretary of this Council be requested to certify its action in accepting the resignation of the Right Rev. Dr. Lloyd as Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia to the Presiding Officer of the House of Bishops, with the request that he pronounce said resignation complete, as of date October 21, 1910, and that he give canonical notice thereof.

ROBERT A. GIBSON,

Bishop, and President of the Council.

E. L. GOODWIN,

Secretary of the Council.

To the Right Rev. Boyd Vincent, D.D.,
Bishop of Southern Ohio and Presiding Officer of the House of Bishops.

The Bishop of Tennessee, from the special Committee on the resolution offered by him, presented the following report:

Your Committee to which was referred the question of the right to vote of the Right Rev. Dr. Arthur Selden Lloyd, President of the Board of Missions, respectfully reports: That by the provision of Canon 53 § III., if a Bishop be chosen for the office of President of the Board of Missions and shall resign his jurisdiction, a special jurisdiction may be assigned to him by the Presiding Bishop or the House of Bishops. The inference of this Canon (cf. Constitution, Article I. Section 2), in the opinion of your Committee, is that Bishop Lloyd is not entitled to a vote in the House of Bishops until such special jurisdiction is assigned to him.

THOMAS F. GAILOR,
JAMES D. MORRISON,
FREDERICK BURGESS.

On motion, the report of the Committee was adopted by the House.

The report was accompanied by resolutions, which, at the request of Bishop Lloyd, were laid on the table.

The Bishop of Albany presented the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Chairman of the House be asked to send to the Bishop of Vermont the assurance of our sympathy and of our earnest prayers that he may regain his health, that his strength may be restored, and that he may be able to resume his place in the House.—

Which was adopted.

At noon the Chairman bade the House to prayer for Missions.

On motion, the House proceeded to receive nominations for the Missionary Bishopric of Kyoto; and the roll being called, certain nominations were made; which were referred to the Committee on the Nomination of Missionary Bishops.

On motion, the House proceeded to receive nominations for the Missionary Bishopric of Wuhu; and the roll being called, certain nominations were made; which were referred to the Committee on the Nomination of Missionary Bishops.

On motion, the papers relating to the proposed division of the Missionary District of South Dakota, referred to the Committee on Domestic Missions, were recalled from the Committee; and the House proceeded to consider the question of such proposed division.

The Bishop Coadjutor of Missouri offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a new Missionary District be erected within the limits of the present District of South Dakota, to be called the Missionary District of Niobrara, bounded as follows: Starting at the point where the Missouri River crosses from North Dakota into South Dakota; thence running due west to the 102d meridian; thence south to the Cheyenne River; thence following said river in a southwesterly direction to a point where said river is crossed by the 103d meridian; thence due south to the Nebraska line; thence due east to a point at which the Missouri River crosses from South Dakota to Nebraska; thence following the course of said Missouri River northwesterly to the point of starting; Including also what is now known as the County of Charles Mix and the County of Roberts in the State of South Dakota; also the so-called Crow Creek Indian Reservation in the State of South Dakota, and the so-called Santee Indian Reservation in Nebraska.

PHILADELPHIA, October 26, 1911.

The Right Rev. D. S. Tuttle, D.D., LL.D., D.C.L., Presiding Bishop,
Dear Bishop Tuttle:—

In accordance with the provisions of Article II, Section 5 of the Constitution and Canon 13 § VII., I hereby ask the consent of the House of Bishops to the resignation of my jurisdiction as Bishop of Pennsylvania to take effect on February 10, 1912.

I take this step reluctantly, but my physicians advise me that in their judgment it is imperative, owing to the condition of my health, and I sincerely trust that the House of Bishops will give their consent.

Very faithfully yours,

ALEXANDER MACKAY-SMITH,
Bishop of Pennsylvania.

The Bishop of Albany offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That this House accept the resignation of the Right Rev. Dr. Alexander Mackay-Smith as Bishop of Pennsylvania, said resignation to take effect on the 10th day of February next, with a strong sense of the service which he has rendered to the Diocese during his episcopate, of his faithful attention to his duties as a member of this House, and of the sympathy of his brother Bishops, and express their great regret that his bodily infirmity makes it necessary for him to present and for this House to accept the resignation.—

(Which was adopted.)

The Bishop of Indianapolis, from the Committee on Foreign Missions, presented the following report:

The Committee, having considered the question of the establishment of a Missionary District in Central America and the election of a Bishop therefor, referred to it by this House, recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That this question having been referred by the House of Bishops at the General Convention of 1910 to the next General Convention, it is not expedient at this time to create a Missionary District in Central America.

On motion, the resolution was adopted.

The Bishop of Indianapolis presented the following, in continuation of the report of the Committee on Foreign Missions:

In the matter of the relation of this House to the Church in Haiti, your Committee recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That inasmuch as the Commission of 1874 has ceased to exist by reason of the death of all its members, the Presiding Bishop be requested to take such measures for providing Episcopal supervision for the Church in Haiti as in his judgment may be necessary;

And further, That authority be given to the Committee appointed by the Board of Missions to visit Haiti to make such visitation for the purpose of investigating the condition of said Church and to report to the Presiding Bishop through the Board of Missions the result of its investigation.

For the Committee,

JOSEPH M. FRANCIS, Secretary.

On motion, the resolution was adopted.

On motion, the House resumed the consideration of the resolution offered at the morning's session by the Bishop Coadjutor of Missouri, proposing the erection of a Missionary District of Niobrara.

The Bishop of Missouri offered the following resolution as a substitute for the resolution offered by the Bishop Coadjutor of Missouri:

Resolved, That the House of Bishops, having given consideration to the special needs existing in the District of South Dakota, for the better supervision of the Indian work, hereby records its hope that at the next General Convention action may be taken looking toward, either the ultimate election of a Suffragan Bishop to the Bishop of South Dakota, or the election of a Missionary Bishop who shall be Assistant to the Missionary Bishop of South Dakota; and that a copy of this resolution shall be sent by our Secretary to the person who shall be, at this session, chosen as Missionary Bishop of South Dakota.—

Which was not adopted.

The question recurring on the resolution offered by the Bishop Coadjutor of Missouri, it was not adopted.

On motion, the House proceeded to receive nominations for the Missionary Bishopric of South Dakota; and the roll being called, certain nominations were made; which were referred to the Committee on the Nomination of Missionary Bishops.

The Committee on the Nomination of Missionary Bishops presented a report.

On motion, the Bishops went into Council.

The Council having risen, the House resumed its session.

At the request of the Presiding Bishop, it was voted that a Committee of three Bishops be appointed to take council with the Presiding Bishop in regard to the matters of the Church in Haiti, in accordance with the resolution adopted this day; and the Chairman appointed as such Committee the Bishop of Massachusetts, the Bishop of Washington, and Bishop Lloyd.

The Presiding Bishop announced the death, since the last meeting of the General Convention, of the following named Bishops:

The Right Rev. Dr. John Mills Kendrick, Bishop of New Mexico, died 16 December 1911;

The Right Rev. Dr. Alexander Mackay-Smith, Bishop of Pennsylvania, died 16 November 1911; and he thereupon bade the House to prayer, using the form prescribed in the Rules of Order.

The Presiding Bishop presented to the House certain papers relating to the condition of the Church in Haiti; which, on motion, were referred to a special committee consisting of the Standing Committee on Foreign Missions, together with the members of the Council of Advice for the Church in Haiti.

The Presiding Bishop presented a request from one of the Bishops for a rule in reference to precedence in processions, etc.; which, on motion, was referred to the Committee on Rules of Order. [See p. .]

The Presiding Bishop presented a communication from the Swedish Government, asking for a certified list of Swedish clergymen officiating in this Church; and, on motion, the Presiding Bishop was requested to reply to the same, and to furnish the Swedish Government with a certified list of Swedish clergymen now officiating in the American Church.

The Presiding Bishop presented the resignation of the Right Rev. Dr. Van Buren, Bishop of Porto Rico, as follows:

281 Fourth Avenue, New York City,

The Right Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, D.D., LL.D.,

My dear Presiding Bishop:

In accordance with the provisions of Canon 13 § VII. [i.], I hereby tender my resignation of the Missionary Jurisdiction of Porto Rico.

My reason for this step is that, in the opinion of my physicians and friends, my health has become so seriously impaired as to threaten my efficiency. While I cannot with certainty ascribe this to the climatic influence of the tropics, yet experience has shown me that only in other latitudes can I hope to find such restoration as may enable me still to serve the Church.

I will leave the date when this resignation, if accepted, is to take effect, to the judgment of the House of Bishops. I wish it might be possible to have it take effect as late as St. John the Baptist's Day, June 24th next, as that would complete an episcopate of ten years, and during the interval my counsels might be of advantage. But in that, and all other canonical details, I shall defer to the judgment of my brethren.

It has been hard for me to see clearly the path of duty, but I am sure you will believe that, in reaching this conclusion, I have sought the Heavenly guidance, and that I am actuated solely by consideration for the welfare of the Church.

With deepest appreciation of the sympathy and kindness you have so unflinchingly manifested toward me, and with affectionate esteem, I remain,

Most sincerely yours,

JAMES H. VAN BUREN,

Bishop of Porto Rico.

The Bishop of Porto Rico having withdrawn that part of his resignation which suggested a date for the same to take effect, the Bishop of Tennessee offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, the Bishop of Porto Rico has submitted his resignation of his jurisdiction on account of ill-health and has submitted a physician's certificate in evidence of the same;

Therefore, be it Resolved, That this House accepts with regret the resignation of the Right Rev. James H. Van Buren, D.D., as Bishop of Porto Rico.—

Which was adopted.

The Bishop of Tennessee offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Committee of two members of this House be appointed to draw up in fitting terms an expression of the warm appreciation of the House of Bishops of the faithful, earnest, and devoted service rendered to the Church by the Right Rev. the Bishop of Porto Rico during his charge of that jurisdiction.—

Which was adopted.

The Presiding Bishop presented the resignation of the Bishop of Arkansas, as follows:

Brownella Cottage, Galion, Ohio,
April 8, 1912.

To the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States.

Greeting:

Within three years after taking up the work of the Episcopate my health became badly and permanently broken, so that ever since then, until the consecration of a Coadjutor Bishop for the Diocese of Arkansas, I staggered under the weight of the burdens which my official duties laid upon me. In addition to the thorn in the flesh which I was continually enduring, and which often almost incapacitated me, I began to suffer about four years ago by occasional attacks of an acute illness which has several times brought me to death's door. Finally, in February, 1911, I became convinced that, as both my old and new illnesses were aggravated by the irregularities of life unavoidably connected with the making of episcopal visitations, especially in a Diocese like Arkansas, and as the Diocese had become able to adequately support a Bishop, it had become both my privilege and duty to lay down the burdens which had long been borne with great difficulty and had now become quite beyond my strength.

So, in May 1911, I urgently requested the Diocese in Council assembled to relieve me by the election of a Coadjutor Bishop; and in order to increase the probability of acceptance by him who should providentially be chosen, I promised that the Coadjutor would, from the day of his consecration, be practically the Bishop of Arkansas, so that he would be perfectly free to make and carry out his own plans of Church extension and upbuilding work without any necessary reference to me. I have retained only the title to the property running to the Bishop in trust for the Diocese and the Presidency of the Diocesan Council.

As you know, the Holy Spirit influenced the election and acceptance of Dr. Winchester. Our relationship as Diocesan and Coadjutor Bishops could not be more pleasant for me. Nevertheless, from the beginning I have had misgivings about my moral right to continue holding a title to an office which to all practical purposes I have, in the good providence of God, been obliged to abdicate. As Dr. Winchester is doing the work of the Bishop he should have, so it seems to me, and no doubt to many others, the honor and help of being in name what he is in fact, the Bishop of Arkansas.

Therefore, I hereby tender my resignation of such jurisdiction as I am now possessed of as the Bishop of the Diocese of Arkansas and beg its acceptance, it being understood that I retain my seat in the House of Bishops.

WM. M. BROWN,
Bishop of Arkansas.

The Bishop of Southern Florida offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the resignation of the Right Rev. Wm. Montgomery Brown, D.D., Bishop of Arkansas, on account of ill health, be and is hereby accepted by the House of Bishops, with sincere regret that his ill health should demand such action.—

Which was adopted.

The Bishop Coadjutor of Arkansas offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the special committee of two members of this House appointed to draw up an expression of the appreciation of the House of Bishops of the service rendered to the Church by the Right Rev. Bishop of Porto Rico, is hereby requested to prepare a similar tribute to the Right Rev. Dr. Brown.—

Which was adopted.

At the request of the Presiding Bishop, the Bishop of Southern Ohio, Chairman of the House, took the Chair.

The Chairman announced that he appointed the Bishop of Tennessee and the Bishop of Chicago as the special committee on preparing a testimonial as to the services of the Bishop of Porto Rico and the Bishop of Arkansas.

On motion of the Bishop of Massachusetts, the matter of providing an order of business for special sessions of this House was referred to the Committee on Rules of Order. [See p. .]

At noon, the Chairman bade the House to prayer for Missions.

The Presiding Bishop presented a communication from the Right Rev. Dr. Rowe, and offered the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, the House of Bishops in special session in New York City did, on October 27, 1911, adopt the following resolution, to wit;

Resolved, That the Right Rev. Dr. Peter Trimble Rowe be and he hereby is transferred from the charge of the Missionary District of Alaska to the charge of the Missionary District of South Dakota";

And WHEREAS, Bishop Rowe by letter to the Presiding Bishop of date November 10, 1911, did state, "I cannot leave my present work and accept this election to South Dakota";

Therefore, Resolved, That the House of Bishops does hereby recall and rescind the aforesaid resolution to transfer Bishop Rowe to the Missionary District of South Dakota.

Resolved, That the House acquiesces in the desire of the Bishop of Alaska, and requests the Presiding Bishop to communicate to him notice of such acquiescence and to express to him the deep appreciation and high admiration of its members for his bravery and faithful devotion to duty in desiring to remain in charge of his difficult and laborious field.

The Bishop of Minnesota offered the following as a substitute:

WHEREAS, the House of Bishops in special session of Friday, October 27, 1911, elected the Right Rev. Dr. Peter Trimble Rowe, then Missionary Bishop of Alaska, to be the Missionary Bishop of South Dakota, and passed a resolution transferring said Right Rev. Dr. Rowe from the bishopric of Alaska to that of South Dakota; and

WHEREAS, the House of Bishops in taking such action was moved largely by its deep appreciation of Bishop Rowe's heroic labors in Alaska and its desire to promote his health and preserve his life, and such action was taken because of information given to this House that the health of Bishop Rowe required such transfer; and

WHEREAS, Bishop Rowe subsequently expressed his desire to continue in his work in Alaska and his consequent unwillingness to accept such election and transfer to South Dakota; and

WHEREAS, in view of the correspondence between this House and himself in connection with his proposed transfer in October 1907, the said Bishop was justified in presuming that this new election and transfer was also subject to his consent; and

WHEREAS, the Presiding Bishop, on receipt of such declination, preserved the status quo, pending further action by this House, by recognizing Bishop Rowe as still being the Bishop of Alaska; therefore be it

Resolved, 1. That said action of the House of Bishops on October 27, 1911, in electing said Right Rev. Dr. Rowe as Missionary Bishop of South Dakota and in transferring him from the bishopric of Alaska to that of South Dakota, be and it is hereby rescinded.

2. That this House hereby re-elects the said Right Rev. Dr. Peter Trimble Rowe as Missionary Bishop of Alaska, such re-election to take effect, nunc pro tunc, as of the moment of such previous election and transfer to South Dakota, to the effect that the Episcopate of Bishop Rowe in Alaska may be deemed to have been continuous and not affected by such transfer now rescinded.

3. That, while taking the aforesaid action under the very exceptional circumstances of this particular case, this House hereby records its opinion that this action in the case of Bishop Rowe should not serve as a precedent, but that the power of this House under Canon 10 § III, "to transfer a Missionary Bishop from one Missionary District to another," is absolute, without regard to the consent of the Bishop concerned.

The question being on the proposed substitute, it was not adopted.

The question recurring in the preamble and resolutions offered by the Bishop of Missouri, they were adopted.

The Bishop of Minnesota offered the following resolution, being part of the last paragraph of his previous resolution :

Resolved, That this House hereby records its opinion that its action in the case of Bishop Rowe should not serve as a precedent, but that the power of this House under Canon 10 § III, "to transfer a Missionary Bishop from one Missionary District to another," is absolute, without regard to the consent of the Bishop concerned.

On motion of the Bishop of North Carolina, the consideration of this resolution was postponed until the next General Convention.

On motion of the Bishop of Indianapolis, the House proceeded to receive nominations for the Missionary Bishopric of South Dakota; and the roll being called, certain nominations were made.

On motion of the Bishop of Missouri, the House proceeded to receive nominations for the Missionary Bishopric of New Mexico; and the roll being called, certain nominations were made.

On motion, the nominations for the vacant Missionary Bishoprics were referred to the Committee on the Nomination of Missionary Bishops.

On motion, at one o'clock, a recess was taken until half past two o'clock.

The House met after the recess.

The Bishop of Chicago, on behalf of a Committee of the Commission on a World Conference on Faith and Order, offered the following resolution :

WHEREAS, the Commission on a World Conference on Faith and Order, through a committee consisting of the Bishop of New York and the Bishop of Chicago, has requested the House of Bishops to set forth a prayer or prayers for God's blessing on the work of the Commission and for the peace and unity of the Church; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Bishops accede to this request, and that the Chair appoint a Committee of three Bishops, with power to carry this resolution into effect.—

Which was adopted; and the Chairman appointed as such committee the Bishop of Chicago, the Bishop of New York, and the Bishop of Georgia.

The Bishop of Bethlehem, from the Committee on Church Work in Haiti, presented the following report :

The Committee to which was referred the petition from the Church in Haiti, requesting that the Concordat existing between the House of Bishops and said Church be annulled and that a Missionary District be established in the Republic of Haiti, reports the following resolutions :

Resolved, (1) That, in accordance with the request of the Orthodox

Apostolic Church in Haiti, the Concordat with said Church be annulled, and

(2) That the Republic of Haiti be and hereby is erected into a Foreign Missionary District of this Church.

The Committee recommends that, until the meeting of the General Convention, the Presiding Bishop be requested to place the District of Haiti under the oversight of the Bishop of Cuba.

On behalf of the Committee,

ETHELBERT TALBOT, Chairman.

J. M. FRANCIS, Secretary.

On motion, the Bishops went into Council.

The Council having risen, the House resumed its session.

The question being on the first part of the resolution appended to the report of the Committee on Haiti, the Bishop of Indianapolis offered as a substitute for the whole matter, the following resolution:

Resolved, That, until the meeting of the General Convention, the Presiding Bishop be requested to provide for Episcopal administration and supervision of the Orthodox Apostolic Church in Haiti, in accordance with the request of the Convocation of said Church.—

Which was adopted.

The Bishop of Indianapolis offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That when the Missionary District of Porto Rico shall have been declared vacant, this House suggests to the Presiding Bishop that the said District be placed under the care of the Bishop of Cuba until the meeting of the next General Convention.—

Which was adopted.

The Bishop of Long Island, from a Committee appointed at the last meeting of the House, presented the following report:

The Committee appointed at the special session of the House of Bishops in New York, October 27, 1911, to consider the feasibility and desirability of the nominations for Missionary Bishops being made known several days or weeks before the intended elections, would respectfully report:

First: They have no doubt as to the desirability of such a change. The uncertainty in regard to the nominations now precludes the Bishops from making any inquiries or taking those ordinary precautions which the trustees of any institution are bound to take. Valuable and reliable as is the information which is given in Council by the nominating Bishops, yet it is necessarily incomplete and should be supplemented by estimates of the candidates from their associates among the clergy and laity. The American Church has outgrown the present rules. It is no longer possible, as it was thirty years ago, for a Bishop to know by reputation every prominent Presbyterian in the Church, and unless we are willing to throw caution to the winds in the interests of secrecy, we must be permitted to make due inquiries. At the time of the General Convention such inquiries can easily be made in a few days, but in case of special meetings of the House of Bishops opportunity should be given for several weeks of correspondence.

Second: Your Committee believe that the object can be obtained by a few changes in the Rules of Order of the House of Bishops, and they offer, therefore, the following resolutions:

Resolved, That Rule of Order XXVII. be altered so as to read thus:

When any vacancy in the missionary episcopate is to be considered or filled at any special meeting of the House, notice to this effect shall be given in the call of such meeting, together with an invitation to the Bishops to send to the Secretary of the House any names of persons suggested for the vacancy. In such case, three weeks before the special meeting the Secretary shall notify each Bishop of the names so suggested. The ballot for the nomination to any such vacancy shall not, without unanimous consent, be taken at a special meeting until at least the first day, nor at a meeting of the General Convention until at least the second day, after such names and any others which may be offered shall have been presented in the House; and it is recommended that the administration of the Holy Communion precede the ballot.

Resolved, That Rule of Order XXVIII. be altered so as to read:

All information and action concerning nominations to vacant missionary bishoprics, including the names of persons so suggested or nominated, shall be considered as of a private character.

Your Committee believe that, if such changes as they have indicated be made, the House of Bishops will have guarded itself against injudicious or hasty action in one of the most important duties intrusted to it, viz.: the nomination of presbyters to fill vacant missionary bishoprics.

Respectfully submitted,

BOYD VINCENT,
JOSEPH BLOUNT CHESHIRE,
WILLIAM A. LEONARD,
WILLIAM LAWRENCE,
FREDERICK BURGESS.

The question being on the resolutions contained in the report of the Committee, they were adopted.

The Bishop of Chicago offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, the special meetings of the House of Bishops, with few exceptions, have been held in the northeastern section of the United States; and

WHEREAS, the Bishops are distributed in almost equal numbers in the various sections of the United States; and

WHEREAS, the custom of having all or nearly all of the meetings of the House of Bishops in the northeastern section of the country puts a disproportionate burden of travel and expense on the Bishops in the South and West; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that in calling future special meetings of the House of Bishops the Presiding Bishop be respectfully requested to call said meetings consecutively, as far as may be found practicable, in the eight Departments in such order as he may think best.

Pending the consideration of the subject, the Committee on the Nomination of Missionary Bishops presented a Report.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the resolution offered by the Bishop of Chicago at yesterday's session, in reference to the selection of places for special sessions of the House of Bishops; and it was adopted.

The Bishop of Pittsburgh made a statement as to a proposed method of equalizing the expenses of Bishops attending special sessions of the House of Bishops, and moved that a committee be appointed to formulate a method and report to the Bishops at their next meeting.—

Which was adopted; and the Chairman appointed as such Committee the Bishop of Pittsburgh, the Bishop of Massachusetts, and the Bishop of New York.

The Bishop of Tennessee presented the following report:

SERMON
AT THE OPENING SERVICE

THE CHALLENGE TO THE CHURCH

"This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith."—
1 JOHN V: 4.

When the General Convention of 1880, meeting in New York City, was about to dissolve, the Bishops, at the request of the House of Deputies, sent forth to the Church a message of which this paragraph was the dominant note: "We should endeavor to throw ourselves into the actual breathing world around us, and speak to the living present rather than to the dead past. We should seek to know the needs of our country, the tendencies, dangers, exigencies of our times, to what God calls us in His Providence, what traces of His guidance and direction we can discern in past history, and whither He points us now. What, then, is our position?"

That note which was struck in this city a short generation ago I want to strike now again as we enter upon our counsels.

First, may I ask you to contrast for a moment the change of conditions between that day and this.

The population of this country has leaped from fifty to one hundred millions: these millions composed of people of diverse tongues and races.

The wealth of the country has massed in gigantic proportions.

Tides of migration have swept over the world's surface: the darkest Africa of 1838 is shot through with light. Wars in the East and in Eastern Europe have changed the boundaries of nations. Japan and China, rising in their might, have tipped the balance of modern civilization towards the Pacific: and commerce through the Panama Canal will add its weight. The English language has spread throughout the world. This country is the great melting pot of civilizations and races.

Meanwhile the appliances of science, the telephone, the wireless, the motor, the creation of engines of vast power, are adding speed to the movement. In 1880 the first great wave of industrialism was at its crest; the building of factories, the sinking of mines, and the creation of wealth, cities and material resources were thought to be the making of nations. What the effect of this industrialism was to be upon the physical and moral condition of the men, women and children toiling in the wheels was hardly thought of.

Recall also the beneficent discoveries in surgery and medicine, anti-septic surgery, the X-ray, the unrevealed power of radium. Scourges which desolated homes and peoples now checked or wiped out:—yellow fever, typhoid, lockjaw, diphtheria, tuberculosis, rabies, the bubonic plague, the hookworm and cholera.

Philosophy has moved from its utilitarian and materialistic atmosphere into one more ethical and spiritual, from an over-intellectualism to a fuller recognition of the meaning and value of personality. Men lift their heads with a fresher consciousness of power to control their destinies: religion claims its own.

Theology has taken on a more ethical and spiritual tone. Discoveries in geology, biology and history which shook the faith of thousands have come to the defense of the faith; and Biblical criticism, dreaded by timid souls a few years ago, has given fresh light and value to the Scriptures.

So short has this period of re-creation been that men who were in the Convention then are present now. These movements, exceeding in speed and power anything in history, demanding a readjustment and reinterpretation of the eternal truths of the Gospel, are a challenge to God's Church. They are not to be feared or evaded, but to be met and welcomed with exhilaration and confidence. We know now better than ever that the victory that overcometh the world is our faith.

"What then is our position?"

We are of Christ's Holy Catholic Church. With no claim of exclusive possession we stand for the Faith, the Scriptures, the Sacraments and the Ministry as we have received the same. In a country where English traditions, laws and stock are deeply embedded, we are children of the Church in which the English people were nurtured and from which they came. We therefore inherit those traditions which are incorporated into the traditions of this country: among them the spirit of nationalism and untrammelled patriotism. We owe no allegiance to foreign potentate, only to God and our country. Wherever the flag goes, there goes the responsibility of this Church; no foot of land claimed by the United States that has not some officer of this Church responsible, so far as opportunity offers, for the welfare of its people. We stand for the independence of Church and State: therein is spiritual liberty and opportunity. The story of the bitterness and warfare between Church and State in countries of Europe these last years has again called forth our gratitude to the framers of our Constitution. No Church in this land can suffer through the official recognition of another Church, and no Church can bring temporary prosperity and its ultimate unhappiness or downfall by claiming any special privilege or financial help of the State.

Laymen, representative of the Dioceses throughout this land, sit in our councils and have part with the Bishops and Clergy in all debate and action of administration, Canon, Constitution or doctrine. This is democratic, statesmanlike and apostolic.

This Convention, therefore, is representative of the Church. The thought sobers each one of us. Debate and action, every word and vote has its weight. Every hour of the short session is of value.

There is a tendency among some people to belittle legislation and time spent in debate. We appreciate that there is danger of unwise legislation and of much debate on trivial or secondary subjects. New conditions, however, demand fresh legislation. Unless the stream of Church life be kept clear of the snags and barriers of archaic laws, it will be checked and bring disaster instead of refreshment. Faithful legislators will give of their best time and thought to all subjects, small and great.

In the amendment of Canons, in questions of Missionary administration of courts, of the Prayer Book and special services, of theological education, and the adequate support and pension of the Clergy, this Convention has before it subjects upon which we have only too short a time for wise debate and action. There will, we believe, rise a fuller conception of the organic life of the Church in this country. From a loose federation of dioceses we are moving toward a clearer vision of a National Church.

Let me again quote from the Pastoral Letter of 1880: "To obtain acceptance, wide influence and moral power, our Church must have the confidence of the American people." "Such a Church must keep pace with intellectual progress; must be able to deal with the great moral and social problems of the day; to grapple with the assaults of infidelity; to meet successfully the skeptic upon his own ground; to shed light upon perplexing questions, to direct bewildered minds." "She must be, mind and heart, an American Church—not a fossilized relic of mediæval ages—large-hearted and alive to the pulsations around her, while firm in faith and unmovable from her foundation."

Supported by this message from the last generation, we may now take up a few of the larger subjects which lay behind our action. Without vision, legislators and statesmen, ecclesiastic and civil, become politicians and their counsels perish.

My purpose this morning is to consider one large and vital subject, and then suggest three visions that are floating before us all and beckoning us onward.

The large and vital subject is one that meets quick response from the people of this country—education.

Under the conditions of this Nation with the separation of Church and State, where does this Church stand in the subject of education? We believe that education includes the whole child, youth and man: that it involves his physical, intellectual, moral and spiritual nature. We believe in education in its largest, richest significance. What the boy learns in school is of great importance, but it is only a part of his education: lessons, influences, forces pour into him from every quarter. We believe that the source and spring of character which is the highest result of education is faith in God as revealed in Christ. Religion is at the foundation of education first, last and always: it gives vitality, depth and harmony to the whole character.

For such an education we believe that the American people of the twentieth century will stand.

But the question is asked from every quarter—how, under our conditions of the separation of Church and State, with children of all faiths and no faiths in the public and many of the private schools, can there be religious education? Let us face that question frankly; for one sometimes fears that there are good people who are afraid to meet the issue.

We must keep this point clear. Real religious education can be only through the guidance, instruction and leadership of religious men and women. The neglect of this truth has been the undoing of much so-called religious instruction. While, therefore, the State through her teachers may implant certain principles of morality, and may even teach the history of religion or the literature of religion, she cannot teach religion itself. So far as the teachers and scholars in our schools are religious and come from religious homes there will be an atmosphere of religion in the schoolroom. With, however, the variety of races, faiths and no faiths represented in the children of our public schools, we may put the thought of definite teaching of the Christian faith in the schools out of our minds. It cannot be done and it ought not to be attempted.

May it not be possible for the different denominations to send religious teachers to the school-houses and at certain hours under a voluntary system give the children, separated according to sects, their religious education? The question may be raised as to whether the State has a right to give the use of its school-houses for denominational religious teaching. Is it well for children melted together in a common citizenship to be separated then and there into sectarian folds? Such an experiment, occasionally possible perhaps, cannot really meet the situation.

Shall we then turn our energies to the creation of parochial and other Church schools? We give high respect to those of the Roman Church, who, true to their convictions on this point, create church schools and pay for their administration in addition to their taxes for the public schools. And in our own and other Churches there are conditions where such schools are necessary and of great help. So long as the supporters of such schools do not import the outworn traditions of Europe and transgress the principles of this nation by asking for the support of their schools from public funds, they are doing a good though limited work for the country and their churches. Limited, however, that work must be in quality and quantity: in quality because children growing to manhood under one religious system and one roof must lack certain elements of thought and character essential to the largest citizenship; in quantity because these schools can supply only a fraction of the education of the millions of youth in this country.

The fact is that the great mass of children in this country are going to receive their general education in the public schools or in private schools where there can be but little or no definite religious instruction or leadership. We as a people believe in the schools: we are supporting them and our children as a whole are going to them. This fact having sunk deeply into our minds we again ask the question, how can there be religious education?

The children must get their definite religious education elsewhere than in the schools. Why not? Why should we cling to the fetish that religion must be taught under the same roof or in the same room with geography and arithmetic? Is not this common notion due largely to the fact that in other days children used to be so taught and that we are afraid we cannot get them taught at any other time or by other teachers? Just here is the weak point in our present frame of mind. We have not fully grasped the situation nor directed our thought and action along the path that must be taken.

If this country is to remain Christian, the people of the country must be shown how they can support our great and noble school system and at the same time bring up their children in the principles of Christian faith and character.

Turn your thoughts for a moment from children in the mass to one typical American child.

He is born of Christian parents; is baptized; is taught to pray, and is given the first principles of the Christ child life: in Sunday-school his teacher, alert, sympathetic, intelligent, so correlates his religious instruction with the studies of his day-school, with his social, athletic and thoughtful interests, that the spiritual culture enters into the very texture of his thought and character. At home, in the day-school, on the playground, at church, on the street, religion is as natural and real as any other interest of his life because of the influences and atmosphere about him.

The youth is followed up into his high school or commercial activities by those who have a virile, intelligent and vital grasp of the faith, sympathetic with the turmoils of his doubts and passions. Can you doubt that when that boy enters manhood he will have gained such integrity of faith and character as no artificial or hot-house system could have offered him?

"True," is the answer; but this demands of parents, teachers and church more than we can hope or ask for. There is not the devotion, time or ability to do this. If there were, the ideal is right.

Just here we strike the root of the difficulty—timidity, indifference, laziness, or lack of faith. This, then, is what I want to say with all the conviction at my command, that it is along this path that the Church must move. The Church of this day and country, recognizing the conditions of the day and country, must marshal to her service every instrumentality at hand—parents and the home, the press and literature, the playground, an hour of a week-day or Sunday, various forms of schools, correspondence, public worship, the pastoral work, the Parish, the Diocese, the Department—everything; and, in a large and statesmanlike way, plan for and press through not one system, but many systems, of religious education, yes, and spiritual culture, without apparent system, that will reach and upbuild all sorts and conditions of children in Christian faith and character.

Look where you will, there is no other course practical and consistent. It is along the natural habits of life; it is spiritual; it is free; it creates strength as it goes; it knits youth and maturity together in a consistent development; it creates such toughness of moral and spiritual fibre as may stand the strain of later years. And, what is often the test of truth, it makes the heaviest demand upon the whole Church, every member of it, for thought, enterprise and devotion.

May we follow this child up towards manhood? Taking this line of action with enthusiasm, patience and force, the Church will realize that as the youth leaves home for the wider circles of life, modern thought and literature will open up many questions as to the faith which must be met intelligently. Men and women should be near them able and ready "to shed light upon perplexing questions, to direct bewildered minds." The Christian people of this country, we of this Church, have not begun to awaken to the new conditions in the higher education of young men and women, or to thrust in spiritual forces where they are most needed and where they will do the most effective service in leadership.

Let me suggest two illustrations. A generation ago the endowed and denominational colleges and universities were the chief institutions of higher education in this country. They felt some responsibility for the religious life and thought of the students, although it was feebly expressed in many places. To-day the State Universities are growing apace; towards them as well as towards the other Universities the ambitions of the ablest young men and women of the country turn. The students of this decade are, roughly speaking, to be the leaders of this land two decades hence. Here they are massed in groups of thousands. Do you know that the college student body has in the last twenty-two years increased from 60,000 to 200,000?

These young men and women are, most of them, from Christian homes, susceptible to religious influences, keen in a desire to do the best for themselves in the world, sensitive to truth, with faces looking not backward, but forward: they are meeting new thoughts and habits of life. Leadership, intellectual, moral and spiritual, they need and welcome. If religious literature is to reach them, it must be fresh, vigorous and thorough, wrought out by men who have thought deeply in theology and life. Has the Christian Church ever had a more inspiring challenge to high endeavor than this army of youth?

Again, there is perhaps no branch of public service in which the country takes more pride than in the personnel of its naval force. Its officers and men have intelligence, integrity of character and high purpose. They are, however, living under artificial conditions and strict discipline, subject to peculiar temptations. It is due to these men and boys who are developing in character that the nation should offer them the best in moral and spiritual leadership and appoint such officers, be they chaplains or lay workers, as will draw the strongest religious leaders into the service. Does this nation know, do the Churches realize, that while in 1858, three years before the Civil War, there were 24 chaplains and 10,000 officers and men in the naval service, to-day there are over 50,000 officers and men and still the same number of 24 chaplains? Upon the Churches and the people, as well as upon the members of Congress, rests the responsibility for this neglect of the welfare of the men who are giving their lives in our naval service.

The educational ideal, therefore, that I want first to put before you is that of a Church so roused by the opportunities of spiritual leadership in our day and nation that she will equip herself in a statesman-like way with such intellectual, moral and spiritual forces as will meet childhood and youth, manhood and womanhood, and educate and lead them up into the highest realms of Christian character and service; inspiring them to dream dreams and see visions of nobler and greater things to come.

With this ideal of education before us other visions follow which beckon our thoughts out and beyond this nation and generation.

Given a people thus educated, there will rise before them, as there is rising dimly before us, three visions.

1. Are we not as a people conscious of an increasing longing for a closer brotherhood of men? The shrinkage of the world through rapid transit, commerce and literature, the sweeping waves of migration, the intermingling of peoples, have brought men together. Fresh interpretations of religions and a deeper knowledge of the Incarnation has led to a fuller realization of the organic unity of mankind.

No sooner have we felt the joy of this than we start appalled at the masses of the peoples of other races: is the world big enough for us all? Is there food enough? The instinct of self-preservation, race prejudice and antipathy, race timidity come to the surface, and the animal in us wrestles with the spiritual. Nevertheless the ideal of brotherhood is insistent: literature, economy, statesmanship, philosophy and religion hail it, though from afar; while men tremble lest the firing of a chance shot may start a skirmish, a battle, a race war. It is a singular, a hazardous, a critical situation.

Where stands the Church of Christ? There can be but one answer. Recognizing to the full the race instinct, the antipathies, the intricacies and difficulties of the situation, the Church, aye, every Christian man and woman, stands firmly by the principle of St. Paul that God "hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on the face of the earth."

Nations and statesmen in their more exalted moments recognize this. Hence Christian Missions have justified themselves and confounded their critics. While Christian peoples have entered other nations for conquest, commerce, exploitation or travel, Christian missionaries have been quietly teaching, healing, comforting, helping and uplifting the people. They have gone not to get but to give. To the trader the Chinaman is a trader; to the missionary the Chinaman is a brother. With the Christian faith always goes the sacredness of the individual, the integrity and the rights of man as man; hence civic freedom, self-government, democracy. With the blessings of Christian hope the missionary has taken also the blessings of civic freedom. And in return China, the Government of the Republic of China, asks for the prayers of the Christian people of America that God may guide her aright. Discount everything that the cynic may say, is not this beyond the wildest dream of faith or fanatic? Any man who has no use for missions is as much out of date as an old flint-lock gun. Life moves too rapidly in these days for us even to stop and look at him.

This country, absorbing peoples by the millions, has its enormous missionary problems and opportunities. Our first missionary work is to uphold Christian standards here. This can only be done by meeting also the people at their sources of supply in their native countries. If nations and races are to deal with each other, statesmen and people must have some common standards and ideals that they may understand each other. We are as nations in spite of ourselves becoming mutually dependent. Who can guess what wealth of thought, art, character and religious temper the Oriental may not fling back to enrich our Occidental faith in an Oriental Saviour?

When, therefore, the Church plans for world-wide missions, she plans for the honor and spiritual wealth of this country as well as for the welfare of distant people. Men everywhere are discovering that the Saviour's command, "Go ye into all the world," has philosophy as well as religion in it. The greatest glory of the Church throughout the ages has been in the fact that in spite of timidity and cynicism her heroes have thrust her outposts to the ends of the world in the perfect confidence that this Faith is the Victory that overcometh the world.

2. This spirit of unification pressing during the past generation into every interest of life and thought has brought to the front another ideal of Christian faith which in the noble struggle of the Reformation for sacredness of the individual, the right of private judgment, for civic and religious liberty has been pushed into the background.

So let me speak of the Unity of Christ's Church.

However men may define the term, whatever the form of their ideal, everyone dissatisfied with present conditions has before him, hazy, distant, but real, a hope for Unity. All deplore the wastefulness of division, the broken front before the common enemies of sin and paganism, the jealousies and bickerings of sectarianism; but the real sentiment for Unity runs deeper. Christ's children in village, city and nation should be praying, thinking and working in a spirit which being close to Christ should bring all to a closer unity. So keen is this sentiment that an immediate danger to unity comes not from the indifferentist so much as from the enthusiasts who through some mechanical device, contract or combination would harness all churches and Christians together; or would absorb them all into their own rigid fold. Church Unity must reckon not only with the Latin and Slav, as of old, but with the Teuton and Saxon, the Japanese, the Chinese, the Indian and Christians of many races.

Until the warmth and glow of spring have come, it is worse than useless for skeleton trees and hardened buds to try and break forth into leaf and make the forest a harmony of color. The thought of Christian Unity is so sublime and full of mystery that except for a touch of action here or there upon the fringe, our chief work is to create an atmosphere.

Prayer for perfect Unity such as God, not we, may plan is perhaps the most effective service now. Even Christ at the very birth of the Church is found praying for it, "that they may be one."

It is well also to appreciate such warmth of atmosphere as now exists. In the lives of the saints throughout the ages there is a common Christ; and in their presence the voice of division is hushed. Which of us asked whether Churchman, Methodist or Liberal wrote the hymns of this morning? Religious literature is not branded with sectarian initials. Beneath prayer and song, and work, too, there is a common Christianity within and behind the Churches, and frankness in recognizing our differences reveals this the more clearly. When we join Christians of every name and no name in serving the community, healing the sick, lifting the downtrodden, bringing purity, righteousness and peace, when we are doing together the very works that Christ did, we are in a real and living unity, and are creating a rarer atmosphere through which in God's good time (we know not when or how, surely not as any of us think or plan) will come the Unity for which Christ prayed.

Two definite duties are ours: To live and work together in our own Church in the bond of peace; and to keep our ideal of Unity so high and large and flexible that God's spirit may dwell in it.

3. A third vision stands before this generation, that of society redeemed and purified by the power of Christ through His Church. Jesus in the church of His own village of Nazareth opened the Book of the Prophet Isaiah and read, "The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor; He has sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord." "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears."

This day, in this twentieth century, if the Church responds to the ideals of her children, this Scripture will continue to be fulfilled by the power of Christ. No true Christian can doubt that it is the Church's work to follow the steps of Christ as He healed, uplifted and purified the people; aye, more, as He stood for social righteousness, for justice and for the rights of the downtrodden as against the indifference or hardness of the men of power.

That there is rising up in this Church a feeling, blind, ignorant, emotional if you will, but earnest, true and sympathetic, that the Church must reach out with a stronger hand, a warmer heart and a firmer voice in behalf of social righteousness, is ground for hope. Every man and woman must rejoice in it. The only question of difference is as to how the Church shall do the work.

First and without question the Church through her worship and preaching is bound to send her children back to their homes, their private and public duties, with a conviction that as members of Christ's Church they have some definite responsibilities for the community, and it is for them to discover what they are and to meet them. The Church cannot be less than a source of inspiration and of impulse for action. In the broken bread and poured out wine is the power of sacrifice.

Let it be known throughout the length and breadth of the Church that Church membership involves of necessity a sense of responsibility for the welfare of the whole people. Let it be known that the condemnations of Christ fell not with the greatest severity upon the public sinner or the outcast, but upon the respectable members of society and of the Church, who laid burdens and would not lift a finger to lighten them, upon the useless, the selfish, the indifferent. His condemnation was, "Inasmuch as ye did not."

Let it be known throughout the Church that there are thousands of men and women who, because of the Church's lethargy in centuries past as well as to-day, shun or hate the Church, but who adore the Christ, who are giving of their very life for their fellows and putting us to shame. This country with its spiritual liberty and no favors to any church gives us the chance to show those who come to us from other lands what a Christian Church may be.

Let the members of the Church appreciate more keenly that the masses of men, women and children who are hidden in the intricate mechanisms of this industrial age in the mines, the mills and workshops, out upon the prairies and the lonely valleys, are really men, women and children for whom Christ gave His life.

It is most pathetic the way in which men and women, estranged from the Church, and bitter against society, turn to the Church when in a just and merciful man or a loving woman they really understand what the Christian Church is for.

Ecclesiastical councils, indeed all legislative bodies, are tempted to concentrate their time on certain ideals or reforms while the causes that are pulling down the ideals and preventing the reforms are unnoticed. How many days have our Conventions consumed in legislation upon marriage and divorce while the Church has been solemnizing the marriages of men and women whose past habits will with almost certainty lead to divorce; and while influences about the youth of the country have been tempting them to undue excitement, unwise liberty, loss of self-control, and impurity, which is sure to reap its harvest of divorce and to degrade ideals of marriage many times faster than ecclesiastical or civil legislation can uplift them. I believe that the strongest appeal that the Church can make to the people, the most effective call to the ablest young men to her ministry, is by such devotion to the welfare of the people as will show them that the Church is alive to the spirit of her Master, Christ.

In the turmoil of industrialism, in the mingling of sin and righteousness, of lust and purity, of selfishness and self-sacrifice, of commercialism and sweet thoughtfulness, let the Church's voice be strong and full of hope. In the strong march of men throughout the world toward a finer civilization, a common justice, a better chance for everybody, and a purer brotherhood, in the advance toward God's kingdom, let not vested interests or a selfish timidity check our step, but wherever the path of truth and justice points the way, let the Church and every member thereof march in the van.

Thus from the midst of a people, educated, matured in Christian thought and character, these three visions rise and stand—a Brotherhood of Man, a United Church and a redeemed society.

Two words more and I am done.

First, in the vast material resources of to-day and the intensity of life the battle is being quickly fought out as to whether the material or the spiritual will dominate. Shall we run the course of other nations and fall under the impact of wealth; or shall we use our wealth for the uplifting of the people?

The answer is with the Christian Church. Have we, shall we have, the faith in God so saturated with His Spirit that it will touch and kindle men's courage and drive through great obstacles; that it will make great ventures and appeal to men's imagination?

Will the Christians of this coming generation be so possessed of spiritual forces as to compel by a spiritual compulsion the powers of wealth, commerce and statecraft to be the instruments of God's will, and so build up a civilization great, rich and noble?

Faith and faith only can guide and master our resources and win the victory for the spirit.

Second: The Spirit of Christ is here now, as in the councils of old, if in humility and faith we will receive Him. With Christ here and each of us consecrated, we may act with courage. Our faces are forward: our work is for to-morrow, for the years so quick upon us.

"And here we offer and present unto Thee, O Lord, ourselves, our souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy and living sacrifice."

O God, accept our consecration.

PASTORAL LETTER
AT THE CLOSING SERVICE

Brethren of the Clergy and Laity:

Your Bishops in General Convention assembled greet you in the Name of the Lord; Grace be unto you and peace from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

With a profound sense of our responsibility as chief pastors in the Church, we entreat you to stand fast in the faith which is the foundation of the world's hope; and we bid you rejoice in the possession of the eternal truth whereby we have assurance that human nature and human life are forever redeemed and saved in Jesus Christ.

It is our privilege to live and work in an age resplendent with great achievements and rich in promise and opportunity for the children of God; and the thoughtful mind must study it with awe and reverence and most solemn spiritual expectancy.

The eternal Christ is manifesting His Presence, through the power of the Spirit, in the increasingly conscious unity of the race and in the accepted dominion among many millions of people of those standards of life and conduct which Jesus taught, and which His disciples suffered and died to perpetuate.

The unchanging need of men is the Christ. The Church, the Bible and the Sacraments, history, science and philosophy, government, education and civilization are intended to be torches to reveal Him to mankind, ties to bind Him to the race and the race to Him; and paths wherein He may walk with accustomed feet among men.

He is here waiting for new conquests of the human will, new devotion to His purpose, that He may lay new treasures at our disposal. We have in Him a God who knows the meaning of human life in its depths and in its heights. He entered our life by the gateway of birth. The sympathy of God with human life is thereby forever assured; and He added victorious power to the wealth of His compassion.

His love was stronger than death. He broke its bars that He might gain new entrance among men after such imperishable manner that never again can He be thrust away from us unless the whole race became apostate. The human experience of the ages is enshrined in His life. He is the Ancient of Days with the knowledge of the ages; but He is also the Spring of Youth, in touch with our times, ready, eager, burning to impart Himself to us that we may serve even as He served.

He is here for the benefit of the doubter, the sin-stricken, the overburdened, the oppressed. He is here not only to console us, but to empower us as we meet our duty and face our task—the task of developing ourselves as the sons of God, and society as the family of God. It is because of His unexplored wealth and His perpetual availability that we face without dismay the unhealed sores, the unchecked evils and the unsolved problems that are ours. We believe that it is His purpose to work through us till the divided Church becomes one flock under one Shepherd; till the knowledge of the Lord covers the earth, as the waters cover the sea; till man learns his marvellous capacity by arriving at the fulness of his stature.

God is in the glad paths of life not less than in the sad; and refinement of manners, gentleness and reverence are obligations of our religion, to which, we are constrained to say, the fashions of the day show scant regard. Even good taste, and what used to be called common decency, seem to make little appeal to many purveyors of popular entertainments, and in the social life of young people forms of recreation are tolerated which tend to blunt the edge of conscience and tarnish the fine gold of maidenly modesty and reserve.

Doubtless, in a time like ours, so vital, so earnest, so exuberant in physical and mental energy, we must not be surprised to find frivolous and superficial excitements accompanying the strenuous and sterner activities of life, and men and women seeking relief from care in an excess of amusement and recreation.

But let us beware lest we forget that the body is, among other things, a measure and index, as well as an instrument for the support and development of moral life and character. Manners are the body's mode of expressing the refinements of life. They are not mere conventional movements of a mechanism. Good manners indicate the respect in which a man holds himself and others. Dress and recreative activities are things to be determined on their merits and not by the dictation of irresponsible leaders of society. All that tends to make the body more fitting as a shrine and instrument of refinement is worthy of support. This applies to amusements and sports kept in due relation to the serious purpose of life. The playground and the drawing-room, as being legitimate factors in man's education, are a sphere for the activities of Christ. If He is not present often in social gatherings and amusements of the day, it is because there has been a decay of manners, and men and women have been led astray into accepting the novel, because it is exciting, without heeding the fact that it tends to lower respect for self and for others.

Here, then, we must insist upon giving education its full definition. It is the means by which the whole man becomes personalized and is realized up to the height of his capacity: the body, the intelligence or lower consciousness, and the intuitive faculties or higher consciousness, must all play their part and be given due attention. There is a process, which consists of imparting information to the intelligence, or lower consciousness, and which is popularly called education; but it is only a part of education. The noblest faculty of the human being is the capacity of knowing and realizing the presence of God; and a system for the training of youth, which should make no provision at all for the development of this faculty, would be a travesty on education and a menace to civilization.

The General Convention, therefore, has enlarged the scope of the General Board of Religious Education, in order that all the educational work of the Church, in Sunday-schools, in primary and secondary schools, and institutions of higher learning, may be more effectively organized and more directly brought to the attention of the people of the Church. The children of to-day are the men and women of to-morrow; and we entreat the mothers and fathers in the Church, to whom God has committed the children as a sacred trust, to see to it that these little ones are instructed in those principles of the faith which are the safeguards of the home and society, the bulwarks of the State and the ideals of civilization.

The foundation of our hope for the future of this country, of the Church and of the Nation, is the Christian education of our children.

The trouble with much of our education to-day is that it is without coherence, and neither science nor philosophy is competent to cure this fundamental defect. What is needed is for our prominent institutions of learning, whose educational standards are abreast with the best, boldly to proclaim in theory and in practice that God, manifested in Christ, is the source and end of all knowledge; that history, philosophy and science begin and find their interpretation in God's character and His dealings with men; that the one way in which to give to life adequate purpose, and to education a raison d'être, is to make the unseen or eternal play its constant stream upon the seen or temporal; that Christian creed and life are not an adjunct tacked on to a system of intellectual training, but a foundation, without which all learning is baseless and ephemeral. "This is life eternal, to know Thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ Whom Thou hast sent." Thus at once religion becomes the unifying element in education, and gives to it a beauty and power for the self-development and for the self-expression of the whole man.

The great problems of life weigh upon our human spirits as heavily as they ever did before, and no advance in physical science or philosophy offers us any relief. There are sorrow and pain and anguish, which defy all human remedies; and there are joys, which external circumstance cannot kill. Death still reigns upon all, because all have sinned, and the hope of humanity is still centred in that amazing truth, "God so loved the world, that He gave His only-begotten Son."

The Church is the custodian, the guardian, the administrator of that truth, by virtue of His appointment, who said: "As the Father hath sent me, even so send I you"; "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth"; "Go ye therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you, and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world." The Church is the representative of Christ. In her innermost and essential life she is what Christ is; and as the Christ's life culminated in the Temptation and the Passion, so the conflict with ignorance and misery and hopelessness and wickedness must ever be on earth a characteristic attitude of the Church. The Church lives as she goes forward, as she asserts and lives her claims.

The Church, as an organized army, takes her stand upon the vantage ground of truth, revealed by God and verified by the experience of more than eighteen centuries—"God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself." From that viewpoint, her children survey and interpret all life's problems; whether they be in the region of scientific discovery and literary criticism, or in the progress of social or governmental efficiency, or whether they present themselves as the fundamental questions of the home and the family, of death and the future life.

We exhort you, brethren, to concentrate your energies upon the proclamation of this eternal truth. Proclaim it by word and by life to the men that toll on land and the men that go down to the sea in ships. The spirit of Christ is the spirit of service; and the law of Christ is the law of usefulness; and everyone who follows Him must be doing some service and making some sacrifice.

Here is the common ground of our faith and hope, which no differences of opinion, within the Church, as to details of administration or legislation, or public policy, can ever change. There is one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism, one God and Father of us all, and we all are brethren.

Be not disturbed or discouraged if the mingling of the peoples of all the earth on this American Continent brings with it strange and weird theories and speculations as to the meaning of religion and the standards of society and the ideals of government; if the history and motive and constitution of the Church be interpreted by some with curious indifference, if not wilful violence, to the facts of history; if truths, which experience, as well as authoritative proclamation, have made most precious and necessary to us, are treated with irreverence and critical disapproval.

The solidarity of humanity is realized to-day as never before, and all nations and races and tribes of men are coming into familiar and intimate intercourse, one with another. That heathenism of which we had once only a vague conception, in which we were aroused to a languid interest now and then by the appeals of missionaries returned from the front, is now at our very doors, and the Church's warfare is the inherited opportunity and privilege, in a new and real sense, of every baptized child.

Like the men and women of the apostolic age, we are in the very thick of the battle; and our advantage is that the Christian line has been flung so far that every captured fortress of unbelief is a visible and tangible evidence of the surrender of the whole world to Jesus Christ.

There are no foreign missions!

But in every land, in new and wonderful opportunities of service, the voice of Christ is calling; behind the slowly, but surely, dissolving mists of misunderstanding and prejudice that have clouded Christendom, the face of Christ is shining; and through the manifold activities, movements, changes, aspirations and yearnings of our social, industrial, intellectual life, the love of Christ is throbbing like a great heart, to the world—the unchanging, unfailing dynamic of truth and peace. Therefore, brethren, we beseech you, in the words of St. Paul, "Stand fast and hold the traditions which ye have been taught," and "Our Lord Jesus Christ Himself and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace, comfort your hearts and stablish you in every good word and work." Amen.

APPENDICES

APPENDIX I.—1

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE STATE OF THE CHURCH

The Committee on the State of the Church submits as usual a conspectus of statistics tabulated by the Second Assistant Secretary of this House. It shows that our American Church has at least a full million of Communicants, and 5,670 Clergymen, including the Bishops; its Parishes and Missions number 8,193; its Church Edifices, 7,063. The total Contributions reported for all persons during the past three years amounted to over fifty-eight million dollars.

There are more Church edifices, but fewer Consecrations of Churches. Does it indicate more Churches unpaid for and still in debt? We note a slow but steady increase in Rectories, assuring the parochial Clergy settled homes free from rent and forced removal.

The contributions to General Missions are gratifying; but we regret to hear of 1,200 Parishes, having an aggregate of 45,000 Communicants, which seem to have given nothing.

Other statistics are not encouraging. Some are probably inaccurate, as it has always been difficult to "number Israel." We would caution everyone against imagining that such figures are ever more than approximately true. They are generally below the mark. But Candidates for Holy Orders are enrolled by name and with careful attention to the individuals; so the number reported is doubtless correct. There are now 461, which is 30 more than in 1910. The decline, which went on for six years, has been arrested; for which we are thankful. But inasmuch as there is a falling-off of 42 Postulants, we fear that the supply of future Clergymen is still endangered. While we gain Communicants at the rate of over two per cent. per annum, we gain less than one per cent. in Clergy. The ratio is not sufficient. More Ministers are needed. Promising fields lie vacant. Men for missionary work are harder to get than money. The proportion of college students preparing for the sacred profession has greatly diminished. We have been remiss in leaving the matter to volunteers only, neglecting to seek recruits and to suggest the Ministry as a career to the boys in our homes and Parishes, apparently afraid lest we should meddle with divine vocation.

Remembering that religious leaders like Moses, Isalah, and the first Apostles and Deacons, were all invited by name to assume priestly or prophetic functions, and even against their will were thus drawn into this form of service to God, we would urge pastors and parents, sponsors and teachers, to present the subject in sermons and addresses and in private appeals to such youths as seem to be suitable. "Look ye out therefore, brethren, from among you men of good report," whom we may prepare for the Ministry; and do not leave it all to impulse. And we beg parents not to discourage modest aspirations of this sort, and not to divert into secular and commercial employments the boys whom God is calling as surely as He called Samuel.

Apparently there is a loss of 926 in the number Confirmed since 1910. And perhaps this is connected with the decline in Sunday School attendance, our pupils numbering 16,000 less than in 1910—less even than in 1904. There are also fewer children in parochial schools. All this is strange when we consider the increasing interest in Sunday Schools, the strenuous efforts put forth for their improvement, and the thousands of conferences held all over the land, to educate Christians in the best methods of prosecuting this work. We shall speak of this further on, for it is part of a larger subject.

CONSERVATION OF RESOURCES

In taking a broad survey of our whole National Communion, we face the painful fact that the Host of the Living God, as it marches painfully or thoughtlessly through the wilderness of a hostile world, crumbles at the edges all the time, and loses a terrible percentage of its membership. Too many fall by the way, or drop out of the ranks, not by the solemn call to a better world, not by attaining the end of the journey, not by finishing their course in faith, and so resting from their labors. They simply disappear and are swallowed up in that world which St. John says "lieth in wickedness," or "in the power of the wicked one." Every Pastor knows how whole families and many

* These items are not fully reported.

Communicants move away, take no letter, and sometimes leave no address or word of farewell. Our new Canonical requirement that the Pastor shall send a letter of advice to some Clergyman who may be able to look after them, even before a permanent residence is established, and a complete transference becomes desirable, seems to us a long step in the right direction. We hope it will be faithfully obeyed. But this is often rendered impossible by the neglect of the parties themselves. In changing their abode they seem to forget entirely their religious needs and Church connections. They seek favorable conditions as to work and wages, as to schools and sanitation, as to social and worldly advantages. Too often they appear indifferent to the distance from Church or the acquaintance of a Clergyman. They leave their Prayer Books in their deserted pews, and the Church loses sight of the owners forever.

We must check this marasmus, this wasting of the Body of Christ. We must follow up and hold these members. We must conserve our resources. Conservation is now the aim of many movements in our national life: Conservation of natural resources, of coal and mineral wealth, of water power, of birds and beasts useful to man. The importance of this is so well understood that we wish to draw a parallel between the policies of Church and State in this particular. The Church needs to turn her thoughts toward Conservation, the holding and securing of whatever strength we have, lest in our zeal for more aggressive work we lose in other ways as much as we gain.

In the great war between Russia and Japan, the smaller country realized its disadvantage in numbers and determined to make up for it so far as possible by safeguarding its soldiers and sailors to the utmost by improved methods of sanitation in camp and hospital. So scientific was the provision for the health and welfare of the men that never before has the percentage of death by wounds and disease been so small in any campaign. While brave little Japan could not draw so many new recruits as Russia, she had less need of them because she kept alive the few she had.

Our American Church is small numerically: Let it not grow smaller through any neglect of our own. We urge an intelligent, conscientious Conservation. We would apply the principle to several departments of our ecclesiastical activity.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

In the first place, we have mentioned a decline in Sunday Scholars and in the number confirmed. Let us conserve the young. As an eloquent Bishop told us last week, "Our little ones are our choicest asset and treasure." Like the Roman matron, we point to them as "our jewels." No argument is needed to convince you that a diminishing number of children in our Church spells suicide. Why are there fewer Sunday Scholars than in 1910 and 1904? Why are fewer children brought to church than was customary a generation ago? Why do we so seldom see that cheering, touching sight, of father and mother and children worshipping together in the family pew? There is no longer the excuse of long sermons, and services unattractive to the young. The real fact is that too many of our parents fail to realize the precious opportunities they are letting slip when they substitute the Sunday School for the morning service, or leave the children entirely free to neglect both.

And then the agencies we have for instructing the young too often fail to produce the desired effect of permanent fidelity to the Church.

It has been asserted that 75 per cent. of the boys in Christian Sunday Schools disappear as active members of the Churches. It is undeniable that even choristers sometimes forget their admirable training in churchly ways. When we realize that systematic religious education in public schools is well-nigh impracticable, and that parochial schools are rare among us, we cannot escape the conclusion that parental neglect and the non-attendance of children at service and Sunday School may cost us our very existence as a Church in this nation.

COLLEGE STUDENTS

Akin to this topic is the conservation of older youth when they leave home. If they attend colleges and universities where no decided religious influences exist, they are liable to stray from the fold and come out agnostics or materialists. To counteract this tendency, we commend the establishment of Church centres for students, like "Harris Hall" at Ann Arbor, and "The Hobart Guild" in the same city, which enrolls this year six hundred students known to be attending our local Church. We can hardly overestimate the value of such agencies for conserving the young men and women of our Communion at a critical time in their education.

A broader movement of the same sort is that of "The World Student Christian Federation." It promises to be a most efficient agency for leading students to the knowledge of Christ. It works with great success at centres of education in every land. In England the Secretary is a Priest of the Church, and receives cordial support and co-operation from the Clergy. In this country the Secretary is a man whom we all revere, and he is eager to give this Church of ours a large share in the management. We hope our General Board of Religious Education will investigate this useful auxiliary and report on it some day with commendation.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

The Army and Navy also present a field for increased activity. The opening sermon at this Convention called our attention to the small number of Chaplains provided by the Government for war-vessels and military posts. Doubtless we lose young men belonging to our Church who are thus deprived of pastoral care and regular opportunity for worship. The best of influences are needed to counteract the temptations incident to large bodies of young men away from home.

RECRUITS FOR THE MINISTRY

With reference to the insufficient supply of Clergymen, and the small number of candidates for Holy Orders, we urge the importance of conserving all our resources by providing aid for such as are willing to enter the ministry, but lack pecuniary means for the long and costly education. Let no desirable candidate be lost to the sacred calling, through mere inability to educate himself. Our Church has no official agency for doing this. We leave it to societies and institutions which provide scholarships. We think it might be well to combine these means of assistance in one department under the sanction and control of the General Convention; just as we have an American Church Building Fund, and a Board for General Clergy Relief.

We are giving new attention to the claims of disabled Clergymen as we ought. An adequate system of pensions for the aged and infirm worker will not only relieve his crying need, but it will be also some slight encouragement to the youth who is making up his mind to forego the pursuit of wealth and take up the most self-sacrificing profession, if he knows that he need not come to actual penury and neglect in his old age.

CHURCH PROPERTY

Last in our review of forces needing conservation is that of the Church's material possessions, her lands, buildings and endowments. Even here "the children of light" are not always sagacious and alert. These interests are so visible and tangible that neglect might seem unlikely to occur, but it has come to our knowledge that valuable property in various places has been lost or wasted through the inattention of those to whose care it was entrusted. When city lots belonging to the Church are sold at auction to pay taxes; when costly buildings burn and prove to have been uninsured; when Church edifices fall into hopeless disrepair; there is evidence of unfaithful or unintelligent stewardship. Clergy and Laity are both responsible; but remembering the popular (the often erroneous impression) that Clergymen are not good financiers, we think the Laity should take the chief burden of care in such matters, whether as Vestrymen, Treasurers or Trustees. In every Parish and Diocese there ought to be enough godly men of business to attend to these details, to insist upon conservative investment, accurate bookkeeping, frequent reports, genuine auditing of accounts, and enough vigilance to guard the Church from financial losses, which are apt to cripple her efficiency in spiritual things.

COMMENDATION

It is customary for this Committee to mention with approval various organizations for good work, and to commend them to the support of our people. This year we refrain from doing so simply because they are now so numerous that they cannot all be mentioned, and selection might seem invidious. We can only say that, from the Board of Missions down to the humblest Parochial Guild, there is abundant evidence of zeal, exertion and generosity. "With good will doing service as unto the Lord," our faithful workers and givers may rest assured that "God is not unrighteous, that He will forget your work and labor that proceedeth of love."

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, we would state that we feel the inadequacy of this attempt to sweep the horizon of our national Church, its interests and its prospects; this effort to serve as watchmen on the towers of Zion. There are interesting subjects on which no statistics are afforded us. Who can tell, for example, how much is now expended annually for aiding divinity students, or how many members are enrolled in the monastic orders and sisterhoods which are growing up in the United States? No reports are submitted to us as to Deaconesses; and none as to gratuitous distribution of Bibles, Prayer Books, and Church literature.

Moreover, the time for preparing this report has to be snatched from the crowded hours of our great triennial gathering; and it is well-nigh impossible to give it the careful study and calm reflection needful for valuable results. We therefore offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this Report be agreed to by the House of Deputies, and sent to the House of Bishops as required by Canon.

Resolved, That the Committee on the State of the Church be continued until the next General Convention, with permission to sit during the interval, in order to mature a more adequate view of this important subject.

Resolved, That the Memorial asking for uniform parochial reports be left in the hands of this Committee to consider further and report to the next Convention.

Resolved, That the Committee have the approval of this House in seeking from any source information which seems desirable for a more complete and comprehensive survey.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERICK W. HARRIMAN, Chairman.

APPENDIX II.—1

TRIENNIAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS

As the appointed executive of the Church for general missionary administration during the last three years, the Board of Missions submits this report to the General Convention. As required by canon the Board has published reports for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1911, and August 31, 1912. These reports, taken in connection with the statements in this volume, form a complete record for the three years.

The reports of the treasurer of the Board and of the Diocesan and Missionary Bishops contained in this volume necessarily deal with the fiscal year, September 1, 1912, to August 31, 1913. The Board of Missions would, however, take this opportunity to bring to the attention of the Convention, and through it to the Church, certain important facts and events of the past three years.

First of all, the Board records its gratitude to Almighty God for the privilege of serving in the extension of His Kingdom and for the many blessings and signs of progress which have marked the last triennium. The reports of the Bishops will tell of the progress in the field. For the faithful work of all those who are representing her in the hard places at home and abroad the Church is proud and thankful. Few in number though they are compared with the great need, they are rendering a service of vital importance to the Church, the nation and the world. It means the betterment of human life everywhere; the overcoming of unrighteousness, ignorance and needless pain; the leading of the whole family of God nearer to the home of the common Father.

At home the missionary spirit widens and deepens. Bishops and Clergy are leading their people confidently to undertake larger things. Many Laymen are devoting time and thought to the problems of the Church's Mission. In hundreds of Parishes the extent, character and needs of the Church's work are being studied through the most improved methods. The facts of the work are being told in thousands of services and meetings every year. There is a keener sense of Christian stewardship than ever before, and more adequate methods of missionary and parochial finance are being adopted. Missionary intercession is more frequently used in the services of the Church and in private devotions. The Church Prayer League has continued its valuable work in helping to make missionary intercession more definite and intelligent. Young men and women, with fine devotion, are offering their lives to the Church for her mission. Individuals and congregations are steadily making larger gifts of money for the support of the mission.

Since the last General Convention 130 new missionaries have been sent to the distant lands and outlying dependencies as follows: Africa, 2; Shanghai, 24; Hankow, 18; Wuhu, 4; Tokyo, 6; Kyoto, 3; Brazil, 0; Cuba, 5; Mexico, 8; Alaska, 34; Honolulu, 7; Porto Rico, 10; The Philippines, 9. In many instances the recruits simply replaced the losses caused by death or necessary retirement. In 1910 the total staff in distant fields was 425 and in 1913 it is 432.

Owing to the conditions under which the domestic work is at present administered, corresponding figures concerning the domestic staff cannot be given. The total number at work in the domestic field, which in 1910 was reported as 1,365, is now 1,377.

Almost without exception the Bishops at home and abroad are calling urgently for recruits. Clergymen, teachers, physicians, deaconesses and nurses are needed. The Board hopes that the plan whereby the authorities of the several Missionary Departments endeavor to find a definite number of volunteers each year will help to relieve a serious situation.

During the triennium the Board has not refused appointment to any qualified volunteer for financial reasons. It is increasingly evident that given the qualified men and women for the extension of the Kingdom the money for their support will be provided.

Unfortunately it does not always follow that gifts of money will be made sufficient to provide the equipment to make their life-service effective. Difficult work is made doubly difficult by lack of suitable buildings and other agencies. In the meantime the Board of Missions is forced to expend thousands of dollars each year in rent for inadequate buildings.

During the last three years the offerings and gifts from living donors placed at the disposal of the Board for the payment of appropriations have amounted to $3,484,032.92. The legacies during the same period which the Board was at liberty to use to meet its obligations amounted to $312,974.75. The total available for appropriation by the Board was therefore $3,797,006.67. The corresponding figures for the previous triennium were: Offerings and gifts from living donors, $2,954,829.49. Legacies available for appropriation, $408,425.92. Total, $3,363,255.41.

In addition to the offerings and legacies available to meet appropriations, the Board has received and forwarded during the triennium special gifts amounting to $616,895.02. The Board knows that special gifts in large amounts have been sent by donors direct to the Bishops and others in the various fields. Moreover, every Diocese and District has its own diocesan mission funds. When all these gifts for the extension of the Kingdom are taken into account, it is evident that during the last three years the total should be well in excess of $6,000,000.

The legacies of this triennium were $105,000 less than those of the previous one, while the total amount received by the Board from living donors is over $500,000 greater. This means a betterment in the Church's giving of considerably over $400,000, or a yearly increase of something over $135,000.

For the fiscal year, 1912-13, the Board of Missions made appropriations in connection with the Church's work in the United States for the entire or partial support of 23 Bishops, 1,377 missionaries, clerical and lay, working in 65 dioceses and districts and in the Canal Zone. The total appropriated for the work in the domestic field during the last three years is $1,923,829.

For the fiscal year, 1912-13, the Board of Missions made appropriations in connection with the Church's work abroad for the entire or partial support of 9 Bishops, 232 foreign Clergymen and foreign lay workers, 1,001 native workers, including Clergy, teachers, catechists, nurses and Bible-women. To the total of foreign workers might well be added 73 wives of married missionaries, who in every field render valued service without appointment and without compensation. The total appropriated for the work abroad during the last three years is $2,214,926.

The Missionary Canon adopted in 1910 marked a distinct advance in methods of organization and administration. This has been manifested in two ways especially: Through the wide geographical distribution of the Board's membership and the election of a portion thereof by the Department Councils of the Church, every part of the country has been brought into closer relationship with the administration of the Church's Mission. On the other hand, the Board itself has been relieved of a large amount of routine and detailed work, and has been able to deal more adequately with policies and subjects vital to the extension of the Kingdom.

The Board has broken the precedent of ninety years by holding two of its meetings outside of the city of New York—in Chicago in February, 1912, and in Indianapolis in December, 1912. Several other cities have asked the Board to visit them. It is hoped that one meeting each year may be held outside of New York.

Changes in the membership of the Board occurring during 1911 and 1912 have been noted in the annual reports for those years. With a keen realization of the Church's loss, the Board of Missions records the death, on May 17, 1913, of the Right Rev. William Crowell Doane, D.D., Bishop of Albany. For forty-five years as Priest and Bishop he was actively identified with the Church's missionary work. In 1886 and again in 1910 he shared in a radical reorganization of the Board. Upon the first occasion he was elected vice-president and chairman, which office he held for twenty-four years, when, following the second reorganization, he stepped down from the platform where he had presided to sit at the feet of the younger Bishop chosen by the Church as the Board's president and leader. His last journey was made to attend a meeting of the Board in New York. He never returned to his home.

To fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Bishop of West Virginia, the Council of Department III. elected the Right Rev. Phillip M. Rhinelander, D.D., Bishop of Pennsylvania.

To fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Bishop of Nebraska, the Board elected the Right Rev. Nathaniel S. Thomas, D.D., Bishop of Wyoming.

On December 3, 1912, the Rev. Joshua Kimber, Associate Secretary of the Board, was called to his rest. For forty-five years in varying capacities he had served the Church in connection with its Board of Missions.

On May 27, 1912, he was retired from active service at his own request, but to the very last week of his life he retained his desk at the Missions House and gave valued and helpful suggestion in the solution of administrative problems. The Board desires to record its gratitude for this long and useful life, spent in faithful and efficient service for the setting forward of the Kingdom of God. The changes which Mr. Kimber saw in his period of service were significant. The contributions of $190,000 grew to $1,800,000 and the missionary forces increased from 230 to 2,500. In all this the late Associate Secretary bore a worthy part.

No other changes have occurred in the staff at the Church Missions House during the last fiscal year.

Since the last General Convention, two of the Department Secretaries have resigned to accept elections to the episcopate, and three to accept other work. Two of these vacancies have been filled by the elections of the Department Councils.

The Department Councils of the year past were more largely attended than ever before. In each instance they gave to the community in which they were held a new missionary impulse. The councils are gradually developing more definite plans for their participation in the work of the world-field as well as in the home tasks.

The Board cordially welcomes the initiative of the Second Department in holding a summer conference of Church workers, under the auspices and supervision of officials of the Missionary Department, the General Board of Religious Education and the Commission on Social Service. It was a decided success, and should furnish a stimulating example of what may be done elsewhere in training workers for the Church's cause.

On the matters referred to it by the General Convention of 1910, the Board makes the following report:

It has made appropriations for the salaries of the new Missionary Bishops elected and consecrated.

It has made a retiring allowance for the Right Rev. Anson R. Graves, D.D., formerly Bishop of Kearney, and for the Right Rev. James H. Van Buren, D.D., formerly Bishop of Porto Rico.

The Board has elected the Right Rev. William F. Nichols, D.D., Bishop of California, as president of the Seamen's Church Institute, and has authorized him to take such steps in his discretion as will effect a complete and satisfactory organization of the Institute.

The Board has considered the documents referred to it concerning a possible transfer of ecclesiastical jurisdiction in whole or in part of Central America from the Church of England to the American Church. The Board realizes that responsibility for the spiritual welfare of the people of Central America rests with the Church in America rather than with the Church of England, and believes that within a few years the American Church will gladly accept ecclesiastical jurisdiction in Central America and endeavor to aid its peoples in the effort they are making to develop their national life and liberty. In view, however, of the present difficult financial situation, the Board feels that it cannot recommend that the American Church assume this responsibility immediately. It does recommend that the General Convention request the Board to continue its consideration of the subject, send a deputation to study the situation in Central America, and report to the General Convention in 1916.

The special committee of the Board on the apportionment has given careful consideration to the suggestion that current expenses rather than the gross income should in future be made the basis of the apportionment to Dioceses. It has not been practicable to make the change, chiefly because diocesan reports vary so greatly in form and in items.

In this connection, the Board ventures to express the opinion that great advantage might result to the Church if the General Convention could appoint a commission to devise a uniform accounting system and method of making reports for the use of every Diocese and Congregation.

The Board has not been unmindful of the importance of endeavoring to provide missionary organization and leadership for the boys of the Church. It has not yet seemed best to give official recognition to any agency. A conference is to be held in New York this month, the result of which will be reported to the Board for its guidance and possible action.

The Board has acted upon the recommendation concerning the formation of diocesan missionary committees, auxiliary to the Board. Some sixty diocesan committees are now co-operating with it more or less vigorously. Some of these committees, notably in the Dioceses of Chicago, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and New York, are doing most effective work in organizing the men of the congregations for missionary service and securing larger missionary offerings.

In undertaking this work under the name of the Forward Movement, the Board has endeavored to emphasize the importance of organization and the enlistment of personal service. About 1,200 congregations in all parts of the country have put these plans into operation more or less completely. Wherever the methods that experience has shown to be the best have been applied, the results have been little short of startling. Not only have missionary offerings largely increased, but money has come freely for Parish expenses and Parish improvements. Larger gifts have been made for diocesan missions because larger offerings have been made for the extension of the Church in the general field. Debts have been wiped out, churches, parish houses and rectories have been erected, and new plans, heretofore impossible, have been carried through triumphantly because of the more generous spirit developed in the course of a canvass of the congregation for offerings for the Church's work beyond the Parish. In many instances congregations have been permanently enlarged, confirmation classes have been increased in size, and negligent Churchmen have been brought back to Communion as a result of this work.

About fifty of the Dioceses have by resolution in the Diocesan Convention commended these Forward Movement plans as the diocesan policy. Others, notably Chicago and Pennsylvania, have adopted canons requiring all congregations to appoint missionary committees. Ohio, Montana and Harrisburg have each commissioned one of their Clergy to visit all congregations for the purpose of aiding the congregational authorities to adopt these plans.

The Board desires to do everything in its power to sustain and extend the Church's work among the white people of our own land. It is believed that this can be done most effectively if the work at home can be placed upon a basis similar to that of the work abroad, as suggested by a Memorial received from the Council of the Eighth Missionary Department. At its meeting in May, 1913, the Board accordingly passed a resolution providing for the adoption of a new policy wherever desired by the Domestic Missionary Bishops. Under this resolution the Board agrees to make appropriations for the support of Clergy for new work under certain conditions. It is proposed that new men, not drawn from the present domestic staff, who are taking up new work among white people, shall be appointed by the joint action of the Bishop and the Board after their qualifications have been determined, as is now done with volunteers for distant lands; and that they shall agree to remain three years in the work. Under these circumstances the Board agrees to supplement the sums given locally up to an amount sufficient to provide salaries of not less than $800 for a single man and not less than $1,200 and a residence for a married man. To this will be added an allowance for not more than three dependent children between six and sixteen, at the rate of $100 each. After the work has been aided for five years the amount of the Board's appropriation is to be reduced by at least 20 per cent. each year until it is finally extinguished.

This proposal is an effort to accomplish certain things in behalf of the domestic missionary; among these are (a) an increase of the staff and a dignifying of the service by careful inquiry as to qualifications; (b) a permanent tenure made possible by sufficient support; (c) a standard of salaries constituting a sort of minimum wage, thereby helping to remove the scandal of underpaid Clergy; (d) the development of local self-support by the gradual withdrawal of help after a definite period. It is hoped thus to discover whether, with a more uniform policy and more adequate support, our domestic missionary work may not be better done, so that this, or some other method, may in time be applied to all our home missions.

In February, 1913, the Board received a Memorial from the Council of the Fourth Missionary Department, requesting the Board to accept larger financial responsibility for the work among the mountaineers and mill people. After careful study of the subject the Board prepared a plan for administering these special forms of work along the lines now followed in the administration of the missions abroad. The Southern Bishops to whom this plan was submitted have kindly expressed their opinions concerning it, but no conclusion has yet been reached.

The violent storms of March, 1913, brought destruction and distress to the parishes and the homes of thousands of our fellow-Churchmen in the Middle West. The Board deeply appreciates the gifts made by the Church people of the country through it, through The Churchman Fund, The Living Church Fund, and direct to the Bishops and local Clergy. Up to this time about $20,000 for purposes of relief have passed through the treasury of the Board of Missions. While this amount speaks in no uncertain way of the recognition of our Church brotherhood, it is less than one-third of the amount needed to repair damage, make good the loss to Church property, and enable the congregations, whose giving ability has been so seriously impaired, to support their Clergy for the next few months. These losses mean a serious blow to the work of the Church, especially in the Dioceses of Nebraska and Southern Ohio. Yet, notwithstanding this, and in spite of all prophecies to the contrary, the stricken Dioceses have during the past fiscal year given a larger sum than ever before for the missionary work of the Church.

In July, 1912, the Rev. John W. Chapman completed twenty-five years of service in Alaska. He was one of the Church's pioneers in that vast field. With singular patience and unwearied devotion he has given his entire ministry to Anvik. His work for souls and bodies has been greatly blessed. Many of the people have been led out of apparently hopeless degradation into cleanliness, self-respect and Christian living. Bishop Rowe and the Board of Missions ask the Church to show its gratitude for Mr. Chapman's life and work by erecting a new building for the Anvik School, to be known as Chapman Hall. It will cost $7,500.

In October, 1911, there began in China the revolution which overturned the political traditions of thirty centuries. The violence and uncertainty of the succeeding months seriously interfered with the work of the Church. Congregations were scattered, schools were closed for longer or shorter periods, while in Central China hospitals and sometimes other buildings were placed at the disposal of the Chinese Red Cross authorities. Our medical staff in Central China especially took the lead in this work. Dr. John MacWillie of Wuchang was elected president of the Chinese Red Cross. It is generally acknowledged that the success of the Red Cross work was due to him more than to any other one man. General Li Yuen-hung, Vice-President of the Republic, in January, 1913, gave $2,000 to our medical work in Wuchang in recognition of Dr. MacWillie's services. Even more significant is the provision for complete religious toleration in the Constitution of the new republic, and the request of the government that all Christian people in China should observe April 27, 1913, as a day of prayer for the welfare of the nation.

We record with gratitude that none of the foreign staff was killed or injured. A few unimportant buildings were destroyed or badly damaged.

Serious losses in property and life have fallen upon our native Christians in common with the rest of their fellow-countrymen, but the Church has done what she could to help her members in their distress. As a result of the great awakening in China the Board is convinced that one of the greatest opportunities which has ever been given to the Christian Church is now before her in the Chinese Republic. At its meeting in February, 1912, the Board therefore issued an appeal to the Church for $200,000, to be known as the New China Fund, and to be used for the purchase of property and the erection of buildings in order that the Church's equipment might more adequately meet existing needs. Of this amount about $60,000 has so far been given.

The year 1912 will always be memorable in China's history, because in April of that year the first national Church for China was organized, and a new national branch was added to the fellowship of the world-wide Anglican Communion. April 26, 1912, was the exact date upon which American, English and Canadian Bishops and Clergy, together with Chinese Clergy and Laymen, after several years of preparation, took the final action resulting in the establishment of the Chung Hua Sheng Kung Hui, which may be translated the Holy Catholic Church in China. The organization followed the same general lines as the Nippon Sei Ko Kwai in Japan. This is the beginning of a future self-governing and self-perpetuating Church of China. For many years it must look to America and England for financial aid, though progress is being made toward a larger measure of self-support.

This year the Rev. F. L. Hawks Pott, D.D., completes twenty-seven years of service in the Church in China, and twenty-five years in connection with St. John's University at Shanghai. Under his inspiring leadership St. John's has developed from a poorly-equipped grammar school with a handful of boys, into a real university, with an excellent, though still inadequate equipment, and with a student body of nearly five hundred. Its constructive influence is felt throughout China. A former student and teacher is now Chinese Ambassador to Germany; a younger graduate is secretary to President Yuan Shih'kai; another is China's Ambassador to the United States. Altogether St. John's represents one of the most notable achievements in the educational world during the last quarter-century. On behalf of the Church the Board extends the heartiest congratulations to Dr. Pott, and hopes that he may long be spared to direct and lead St. John's. The members of the Alumni Association have completed a fund of $10,000 to be used in the erection of a building to commemorate Dr. Pott's twenty-five years of work.

The present era in Japan, inaugurated by the young Emperor who succeeded his truly great father, Mutsuhito, is known as the "era of great righteousness." The Church must aid the Japanese to realize this lofty ideal. Plans for the erection of new buildings for St. Paul's College, Tokyo, the largest Christian institution in the Empire, are proceeding slowly. About $75,000 are now available for this purpose, secured partly in direct gifts and partly through a considerate loan from the trustees of the Central Theological College. The Board regrets the delay, but has felt that before work is begun every effort should be made to secure plans that will ensure the erection of worthy and well-constructed buildings, planned with a view to future as well as present needs. The success of St. Paul's is vital to the progress of the Church in Japan, for through it must be secured the future leaders of the Church. Never before has the number of candidates for the ministry among the students of St. Paul's been so large as at present.

Three times within the last thirteen years St. Luke's Hospital, Tokyo, has been three times enlarged and improved. Its success under Dr. Teusler has been so remarkable, and its value is so widely recognized, that new demands are being made upon it. The Imperial Department of Communications has designated it as its official hospital. Patients come to it from all parts of the Empire and from many parts of the Orient. With the co-operation of the most distinguished Japanese and resident foreigners, Bishop McKim and Dr. Teusler are endeavoring to meet the demand. It is proposed that St. Luke's be developed into a great international hospital, still under the direction of the authorities of the American Church, and be provided with adequate land and buildings. The ultimate cost of this project would be not less than $500,000. For the immediate future one-half of this amount will suffice. The Japanese Government has promised an unconditional gift of $25,000 and has intimated that one of the most distinguished members of the royal family will become a patroness of the new institution. The Board believes that this offer gives the Church an unprecedented opportunity in Japan, and has approved of an appeal for the enlargement of St. Luke's.

The Board would urge upon the Church the importance of aid in providing proper buildings for the work of the Church in Japan. Both our Bishops have pressed the matter earnestly of late. Many congregations are doing admirable work and show good signs of vitality, but they cannot be expected entirely to provide what is needed in the way of church, parish house and rectory. Land in new places, and buildings where work has already been established, are necessities which in the initial stage of affairs must be provided in large measure by the evangelizing agency. The Board would be thankful to become the agent of men and women in the Church whom God has blessed with wealth, in providing for this critical need.

In Cuba there has been excellent progress. Bishop Knight has not only had charge of his own District, but also consented to be responsible for Porto Rico and Haiti, in addition to Panama, until episcopal supervision could be arranged for them. He has visited these fields, and has rendered the Board inestimable service by his advice and counsel, as well as by the practical direction which he has been able to give to the men at work.

Political upheavals in Mexico have seriously hindered, and in some places have practically put an end, for the time being, to the Church's work. Many Mexican Christians have been still further impoverished and some have lost their lives. Several members of the foreign staff have left the field. The Board is seriously concerned for the welfare of the Mexican Mission, and feels that the conditions are far from reassuring.

The Board has received a Memorial from the Convocation of the Missionary District of Cape Palmas and Parts Adjacent, concerning what is described as "the proposed transfer of this Missionary District to the Church of England." The Board has made no such proposition. During the past three years this suggestion has been made in several quarters; this fact was reported and commented upon in THE SPIRIT OF MISSIONS. The Board knows that it has no authority to make such a transfer. If the General Convention so desires, it will study the subject carefully and report in 1916. It would seem desirable to accede to the request of the Convocation that the name of the mission should be changed to the Missionary District of Liberia.

The Convocation of the Church in Haiti has presented a request that Haiti be received as a foreign Missionary District of the American Church. The Board has transmitted to the House of Bishops a detailed report from its deputation, sent to visit Haiti after the death of the late Bishop Holly. It is evident that Church work in Haiti needs vigorous leadership and close supervision. The deputation, of which Bishop Knight was chairman, recommended that a white Priest be sent to the island immediately to counsel with the Haitien Clergy. This has been done. The deputation also recommended that a white Bishop should have supervision of the Haitien Church. The Board heartily concurs in this opinion, if Haiti is to be received as a foreign Missionary District, or if the Church in this country is expected to continue its financial aid to the Church in Haiti.

THE SPIRIT OF MISSIONS has continued to prosper. It is frequently spoken of as the best missionary magazine of its kind in America and England. Its circulation is growing steadily. To increase the growing circulation further, the Board has secured the services of a business manager who can devote his time to enlarging its subscription and advertising income, and to caring for the multitude of details inseparable from a really important publication. The Board asks that the Clergy will continue to give their valued help in securing a wider circulation of the magazine in their congregations.

After many years of honorable service the Board decided to retire the Sunday School weekly paper known as The Young Christian Soldier. Its circulation had decreased, and its yearly expense account was considerably in advance of the receipts. An arrangement has since been made with The Young Churchman, of Milwaukee, to issue one number each month as a missionary magazine. The editorial work is done entirely at the Church Missions House. Thus, without added expense, the Board has secured a monthly missionary magazine for young people with a clientele of more than 50,000. The magazine has proved a success and is continually securing a wider circulation.

During each year of the triennium the Board has published, in addition to its periodicals, about 3,000,000 copies of missionary leaflets and other occasional pamphlets.

There is advance all along the line in methods of informing the Church concerning her missionary work. The Educational Department is most active, and the number of study classes throughout the country shows a wonderful increase. Last year 1,077 teachers conducted 1,507 classes, averaging about nine members each. The important material put forth by the Board, dealing more concretely with our own work, while endeavoring to present it in a proper perspective, has been a great step in advance, and has had much to do with the increased interest shown by the enlarged number of classes.

The improvement of the Board's work under the Missionary Canon adopted in 1910 has naturally suggested the possibility of further advance for the better. For nearly a year a representative Committee of the Board has been studying questions of administration and organization. The result of this deliberation was submitted to the Board at its meeting in May, 1913, in the form of a Canon as a possible substitute for the existing Missionary Canon. The Board gave instructions that this Canon should be laid before the General Convention for its action. The chief changes proposed provide: 1. For a larger assumption of responsibility on the part of the General Convention, especially in making appropriations for the year following its session, thereby setting a standard of expenditure for the other years of the triennium. 2. For a reasonable uniformity in administering the work at home and abroad. 3. For larger powers to Councils of the Missionary Departments.

In September, 1912, New Hampshire relinquished its appropriation with the beginning of the fiscal year, as did also Virginia; while the Diocese of West Texas, though not able as yet to go on without the Church's aid, asked that it be given a larger apportionment.

In August, 1908, the late Miss Mary Rhinelander King bequeathed to the Board a valuable country estate. During the past year the Board has been able to dispose of it on favorable terms, and in accordance with the resolution adopted five years ago has added the amount realized, $212,000, to the Reserve Deposits. This is the largest single addition ever made to the Board's working capital, and brings the total of these Reserve Deposits to $687,738.09.

At the present time the Board is appropriating about $60,000 a year for the rental of buildings in which the Church's work may be carried on in distant lands. It feels that for the most part this is an uneconomical and undesirable expenditure. At the end of the year the Board has nothing to show but rent receipts. A plan is now being considered for the establishment of a capital fund of not less than $500,000, to be used by the Board in purchasing land and erecting buildings.

Turning to the fiscal year just closed the Board reports that for the first time since 1909 the income at its disposal is sufficient to meet the appropriations. This is due to increased offerings, but even more to the self-restraint, resulting frequently in serious damage to the work, which the Board has exercised in authorizing expenditures.

The net appropriations for the year just closed amounted to $1,333,377.65. The income from all sources available to meet them amounted to $1,333,716.35. The existing deficit of $197,000 will therefore be slightly reduced. This overdraft is temporarily covered by a draft upon the Reserve Deposits created for this purpose. It is of the utmost importance that this amount, which represents the accumulated deficits of several years, should be restored to the Reserve Deposits, in order that they may be available to meet obligations during the months of the year when the income is but a fraction of the required monthly payments.

The following table shows sources and amounts of the year's income available to meet the appropriations:

Offerings from congregations	$645,645.41
Offerings from individuals	85,296.20
Offerings from Sunday-schools	175,734.71
Offerings from Woman's Auxiliary	92,477.33
Offerings from Junior Auxiliary	19,943.40
	$1,019,087.05
Minimum asked for from the foregoing sources.....	$1,313,670.00
Failure of income to meet the minimum asked for...	294,582.95
Available from Woman's Auxiliary United Offering to meet the expenditures of the last fiscal year.....	$85,454.09
Interest on invested funds.....	82,800.71
Miscellaneous items	6,161.49
Income from legacies at the discretion of the Board available to meet the expenditures of the year.....	140,213.01
	$1,333,716.35

Compare these items with the corresponding items for the preceding year and we find increases and decreases as follows:

	Increase	Decrease
Offerings from parishes		$1,250.19
Offerings from individuals	$6,310.34
Offerings from Sunday-schools	8,484.35
Offerings from Woman's Auxiliary and Junior Auxiliary...		5,402.02
Available from Woman's Auxiliary United Offering to meet the expenditures of the last fiscal year	2,237.26
Interest on invested funds		840.22
Miscellaneous items	1,405.65
	$18,437.60	$7,492.43
The net increase in income (aside from legacies) to meet the appro- priations was therefore		$10,945.17

The legacies at the discretion of the Board reached the unusual total of $140,213.01—fully 50 per cent. larger than the average annual income from this source. Were it not for this there would have been a serious deficit in the year's accounts. This is a fact that must be faced frankly. Gratified as the Board is by the avoidance of further deficit, it cannot be altogether satisfied with the means by which this happy result was achieved. The Church may well thank God for the good example of those who, by their dying gifts, have saved the work from damage. She must also force home the principle that the budget for the maintenance of the work should be provided by living donors. Then legacies may be set free for the purchase of land and the erection of buildings.

The special gifts, legacies for investment and miscellaneous receipts, when added to the amount available for the appropriations, make the total passing through the treasury during the last fiscal year $1,885,995.19.

With deep appreciation the Board calls attention to the continued and invaluable work of the Diocesan and Parish branches of the Woman's Auxiliary and its Junior Department, and would urge the formation of branches in Parishes where this agency for the Church's Mission work is not represented. The offerings received from them to aid the Board in meeting its appropriations during each year of the last triennium are as follows:

1912	117,822.75
1913	112,420.73

This total is much larger than for any other three-year period. The Board believes that the slight decrease in gifts for 1913 as compared with the other two years of the triennium will speedily be made good.

Especially is the Church indebted to the Woman's Auxiliary for the multitude of good works made possible by the United Offering of $243,361.45 made at the last General Convention. This gift has provided the Board, each year of the triennium, with a fund of approximately $82,000 for the training, sending and maintaining of woman workers. Without this fund the Church's work would have been sadly limited. Because of it the Board has been able to provide support for 151 woman missionaries, of whom 87 are serving in the domestic field and 64 in the work abroad.

The Board rejoices in the continued and increasing enthusiasm and generosity of the children of the Church. Each year, as indicated by the following table, they have made an advance in their Lenten Offering.

1911.....	$151,392.84
1912.....	167,250.36
1913.....	175,734.71

This accomplishment of the children of the Church during the six weeks of Lent is a matter of surprise and wonder to our brethren of other communions. The Rev. H. L. Duhring, D.D., has continued his earnest work as special agent of the Sunday School Auxiliary. To him and to all who have had a part in bringing about this noble result—Clergy, lay superintendents, teachers and pupils—the Board, on behalf of the Church, expresses its heartfelt thanks.

The total amount passing through the treasury of the Board the past year for all purposes was \$1,885,995.19. Figured upon this amount, the cost of administering the Church's work at home and abroad during the past year was three and one-tenth ($3\frac{1}{10}$) per cent. The cost of making the work known and securing offerings during the past year was five and six-tenths ($5\frac{6}{10}$) per cent. These latter expenses include the large amount expended for the support and travel of the eight Department Secretaries, all the expenses of the Woman's Auxiliary and the Sunday School Auxiliary, besides the amount required for the publication of reports, leaflets and other printed matter for free distribution, all the expenses of the Educational Department, and the cost of supplying weekly offering envelopes for the first year to many congregations. The Board has, from time to time, endeavored to check these expenses by the expenditure of similar boards in this country and England, and believes that the percentage of expense is below the average.

During the past three years the Board has endeavored to keep its annual appropriations at the lowest possible figure. In doing this it has been compelled, as the Missionary Bishops will bear witness, to reduce largely the amounts requested by the Bishops as essential to the adequate maintenance and satisfactory progress of the work under their care. Some increases from year to year, however, are absolutely unavoidable if the work of the Church is to move forward. The Church cannot, and does not, ask our missionary leaders not to move forward. If the Board were to adopt such a policy, it would be rightly repudiated by the Church. The budget adopted in May, 1913, for the fiscal year September 1, 1913, to August 31, 1914, calls for an expenditure of $1,372,975.69. This is an increase of only $46,144.07 over the appropriations of the preceding year. Additions to these appropriations will inevitably be made from month to month during the year as emergencies arise.

From many quarters have come requests that the fiscal year of the Board of Missions be changed, because of the difficulty in making vigorous and successful efforts to complete apportionments during the last months of a year closing in mid-summer, as at present. After careful consideration at several meetings, the Board has decided to make its fiscal year coincident with the Church year. This change, however, will not take effect until 1914. The present fiscal year will close August 31, 1914. The next fiscal year will consist of fifteen months, from September 1, 1914, to November 30, 1915. Thereafter the fiscal year will begin on December 1st and end on November 30th. The Board would point out that, in order to provide for this change, it will be necessary that the next apportionment shall cover fifteen months, September 1, 1914, to November 30, 1915. This means that it will be approximately 25 per cent. greater than the apportionment published for the fiscal year September 1, 1913, to August 31, 1914, but there will be 25 per cent. more time in which to gather offerings to meet it.

It is evident from the statements in this report that several important matters of missionary policy must be decided by the General Convention. Others will, no doubt, be presented directly to the Convention—as, for instance, the South Dakota Memorial concerning legislation making possible the election of Suffragan Bishops in Missionary Districts. The Board of Missions is at the service of the Convention and of the Church for the consideration of these important questions. It will hold itself in readiness to give suggestions whenever desired upon proposed canonical or other action affecting the missionary policy of the Church or the administration of its missionary work.

A further record of events and details of administration will be found in the accompanying reports on Domestic and Foreign Missions. In submitting this record of its stewardship the Board would express its deep sense of privilege in having been allowed to share in the splendid tasks which God has given to His Church, and would also voice its conviction that the Church is rising to a more worthy appreciation and discharge of these tasks. New opportunities can be faced and become new triumphs of the Cross. Appropriations must increase from year to year, but they can be met. Deficits can be wiped out. Our representatives at home and abroad must be sustained by prayer and sympathy. Their number must be increased by the offering of our best young men and women. Thus shall the Church enter more largely and worthily into her heritage of service for God and all mankind.

By order and on behalf of the Board of Missions.

APPENDIX III.

TRIENNIAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES. GENERAL CLERGY RELIEF FUND.

The Trustees present herewith the 14th Triennial Report of the General Clergy Relief Fund.

During the last twelve years, in each triennial record, they have been able to report the doubling of figures in many departments of the work.

The ratio this Triennium is not so great, but there is cause for much satisfaction and encouragement in that nearly $75,000 more was paid to beneficiaries than during the previous three years; moreover, the foundations laid, the constructive and educational work accomplished, and the experiences acquired are bringing results in more active interest and thoughtful consideration of the important subject of pension and relief.

It will be seen by the financial statement in another part of this report that beneficiaries have received pension and relief to the extent of $306,882.40 as against $233,505.75 last report, and that the total receipts including a balance are $678,243.44, as over against $502,723.35, last report.

The management and administration of this great work, amounting to $678,243.44 and the distributing of $306,882.40 to over 600 beneficiaries in all dioceses and the investing of almost an equal sum with all the details and intricacies of records, book-keeping, office work, rent, salaries, advertisements and the like, has been accomplished at the remarkable ratio of 5 8-10 per cent.

The amount required under the appropriations granted being more or less definite because of a list and expenses varying not greatly from year to year seemed to indicate that $120,000 per year was required. This led the Trustees to authorize the Treasurer to secure, if possible, 1,000 subscriptions of $120 each to meet the annual need. While the encouragement in the way of numbers has not been great, yet the amount obtained by these subscriptions would have prevented the delay in making payments on two occasions during the last two years. It is earnestly hoped that once the plan becomes well known there will be many generous people in the Church ready and willing to add their names.

About as many beneficiaries are now upon the General Clergy Relief Fund lists as would naturally be there, and the increase hereafter will be moderate and due to the increase in the ministry; while the obligation to increase grants will be more clearly realized and fulfilled.

We have received, during the three years, from the treasurer of the Five Million Dollar Fund Commission $165,000 and have invested, with a balance from the last report, the excellent sum of $225,000. The interest upon this investment, amounting in two years to $12,485.55, has been distributed to all the clergy over 64. (About $10,000 more will be distributed to about 700 men October 1st. Our Report closes September 1, 1913.) The Trustees believed that distributing this interest at once and equally was of more value than the amount distributed. The uncertainties and discriminations required in accumulating the interest and distributing larger sums to a selected and therefore a favored few seemed insuperable.

In view of the fact that the Church has had before it the Preliminary Report of the Joint Commission appointed by the last General Convention in Cincinnati to consider the whole subject of the support and pension of the Clergy, and by reason of the fact that a full report of this Commission will be presented to the Convention, the Trustees omit the usual and longer statement of principles and appeal, and merely add as a matter of record a summary of accomplishments for the last twelve years, which was in part prepared for the Joint Commission.

During the last twelve years sixty-seven dioceses and missionary jurisdictions have been merged or consolidated with the General Clergy Relief Fund. The last section of the General Canons pertaining to Clergy Relief requires the Trustees to "enter into relations with all kindred funds and societies in the Church and, so far as may be practicable, secure their co-operation, to the end that there may be a complete record of all Clergy Relief in the Church, and that such relief may be distributed wisely, equitably and efficiently."

In consequence of this Canon requirement the General Clergy Relief Society has been the one source of information in the Church, as to the aid being given in and by different Dioceses; the one central organization having records of amounts given to persons from several organizations, but full and accurate only to the extent of the information furnished and the co-operation entered into by other agencies and societies.

As early as 1895 the Trustees earnestly requested that "a correspondence be established between the general fund and all kindred funds and societies in the Church, to the end that there might be an understanding, and in so far as practicable co-operation between all agencies; that there may be a general bureau to at least record all that is done by the Church in this matter of clergy relief; that it may be done with intelligence and in the best and most efficient way."

Much of this has been accomplished by means of the records secured and filed, and through the constant and voluminous correspondence between bishops, diocesan authorities, beneficiaries and others and the General Clergy Relief Fund. A thorough system of co-operation has been established not only with the diocesan authorities in the sixty-seven merged dioceses but in working with the diocesan authorities in dioceses not merged.

In the matter of publicity, each Bishop is notified each quarter of amounts being paid to beneficiaries and is asked to reconfirm the diocesan list once a year; an annual report is sent to every deputy or delegate or representative, clerical and lay, to every diocesan convention or council before the meeting of the same, giving in detail the number of churches contributing and the amount granted by the General Clergy Relief Fund to the number of beneficiaries in the diocese; all diocesan journals are asked and with few exceptions now print a notice giving name, object, and address of the Church's national, official, incorporated Society, while the religious papers receive advertisements indicating the object of the society and its needs.

Another measure of value has been the shortening of the long and cumbersome title, namely: "The Trustees of the Fund for the Relief of Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen and of Aged and Infirm and Disabled Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States of America" to the simple Canon title, "The General Clergy Relief Fund." This was accomplished legally without changing or imperiling any of the valuable features of the original charter.

During this period the Trustees have also collected and distributed nearly a million dollars to beneficiaries; have increased appropriations nearly fourfold both in total amounts and to individuals; have shortened the periods of payments from annuals to semi-annuals and quarterlies. And in this connection it might be well to restate what the Trustees have said before: that they "feel confident that employing the money entrusted to them upon errands of mercy, except sums 'designated' for Permanent Funds, is more consonant with the mind of the Church than would be an attempt to accumulate capital while cases of emergency required all the income at their disposal." It is well to add that the Permanent Funds have been increased during this period by "designations" from about $90,000 to $500,000.

During the twelve years nearly a million and a half dollars have passed through the Treasurer's hands in payments to beneficiaries and for investments.

Paid-in legacies and bequests have increased many fold in the last twelve years and in addition, notice of legacies amounting to over $800,000 have been received. It would seem from this that the work had been placed before the Church during this period in such a way and with such a plan as to have won both her confidence and approval.

Another accomplishment has been the invention of the phrase "Automatic Pensions at 64"; the acceptance of the idea connected with the phrase; the putting in operation of a plan for pensions and the appointments of Commissions to raise money and to consider the whole matter.

In the matter of administration it might be well to put on record the fact that the securities are deposited with one of the largest and safest trust companies; that the Treasurer is bonded for a sufficient amount; that the accounts are audited four times a year; that the Executive and Finance Committees receive balance sheets and financial statements quarterly; that all drafts and deposits to pay beneficiaries are approved and signed not only by the Treasurer but by the Finance Committee; and that all investments are made by a Finance Committee within limits approved by law and in the safest securities.

Finally, the Trustees believe that they have abundantly served the Church not only in collecting and distributing funds, but through sermons and circulars and advertisements, in awakening a greater interest in the whole question of clerical support, pension and relief not only in our own Church but in other bodies and organizations. They believe that legislation for this Fund and the administration of it have borne wide and gracious fruit for the Clergy and their dependents; that a great and blessed work has been accomplished, and that this organization has a sacred and solemn claim upon the unqualified and generous support of the whole Church.

APPENDIX IV.—1

TRIENNIAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

To the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States:

The Board of Trustees of the General Theological Seminary have the honor to present this, their Triennial Report, in compliance with Article II. of the Constitution.

For the details of the proceedings of the Board since the last meeting of the General Convention, they beg leave to refer to the printed Proceedings of the Board which accompany this report.

STUDENTS.

The total number of students enrolled for the three years covered by this report is as follows: In 1910-1911, 127; in 1911-1912, 143; in 1912-1913, 134.

The diploma of the Seminary was granted to twenty-five students in 1911, to twenty-three in 1912, and to forty in 1913. The Degree of Bachelor of Divinity was conferred on eight candidates in 1911, on twenty in 1912, and on eighteen in 1913.

FACULTY.

At the special meeting of the Board held on February 9, 1911, the Rev. Dickinson Sergeant Miller, Ph.D., Sc.D., Professor in Columbia University, was elected Professor of Christian Apologetics. At the annual meeting on May 28, 1912, the Board elected the Rev. Francis Branch Blodgett, B.A., B.D., to be Professor of Old Testament and Apocalyptic Literature. At the special meeting, on January 22, 1913, the Rev. Francis J. Hall, D.D., Professor of Dogmatic Theology in the Western Theological Seminary, was elected Professor of Dogmatic Theology. At the annual meeting on May 27, 1913, the Rev. William H. P. Hatch, Ph.D., was elected Professor of the Language and Literature of the New Testament.

LIBRARY.

The number of volumes reported by the Librarian on April 30, 1913, is 55,525, an increase of 6,495 in the past three years. The Librarian, each year, renders thankful acknowledgment to the Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New York, to whose generosity many of these additions are due. He also calls attention to the inadequate endowment of the Library.

CHANGES IN THE CONSTITUTION.

At the annual meeting on May 27, 1913, the Board adopted, subject to the concurrence of the General Convention, the changes in the Constitution of the Seminary to be proposed to the General Convention at this session by its Joint Committee appointed to consider changes in the Charter and Laws of the General Theological Seminary.

BUILDINGS.

More than one-half of the money needed for the erection of the proposed Seabury Hall has been raised, and the Trustees are prepared to proceed with the building as soon as the requisite funds are in hand. This hall will contain (1) an assembly hall; (2) additional lecture rooms, and (3) suitable apartments for unmarried professors and instructors—all of which are greatly needed. About $57,000 have been raised, largely by the efforts of the Dean, and the Trustees sincerely hope that the additional amount of $43,000, required to carry out the plans adopted, will soon be given.

LAWRENCE T. COLE, Secretary of the Board of Trustees.

APPENDIX V.—1

REPORT OF THE REGISTRAR.

To the General Convention to be holden on the second Wednesday of October in the year of our Lord 1913:

The Registrar begs leave to present his report.

Since the last General Convention twenty-one Bishops have been consecrated. In each case Letters of Consecration have been prepared and signed in duplicate as required by Canon: one copy on parchment has been given to the newly consecrated Bishop, and one on parchment-paper has been filed in the Registrar's office; transcripts of the Letters as duly attested accompany this report. Records of all the Consecrations have been made in the Registry-book or on leaves for a new Registry-book, and are ready for the signatures of the Bishops who laid on hands.

I have appointed Deputy Registrars for the consecration of eighteen Bishops, on nomination in each case by the Bishop presiding or the Bishop elect, as follows:

The Rev. John Williams, to be Deputy Registrar at the consecration of the Bishop of Kearney; the Rev. Stephen Moylan Bird, at the consecration of the Bishop of North Texas; the Rev. Henry Sylvester Nash, D.D., at the consecration of the Bishop of Rhode Island; the Rev. George Hodges, D.D., D.C.L., at the consecration of the Bishop of Arizona; the Rev. John Abbott Emery, at the consecration of the Bishop of San Joaquin; the Rev. William Cox Pope, at the consecration of the Bishop of Eastern Oklahoma; the Rev. George Francis Nelson, D.D., at the consecration of the Suffragan Bishop of New York; the Rev. Martin Aigner and the Rev. William Elmer Van Dyke, at the consecration of the Bishop of Erie; the Rev. Arthur Howard Noll, LL.D., at the consecration of the Bishop Coadjutor of Arkansas; the Rev. Walter Taylor Sumner, D.D., at the consecration of the Suffragan Bishop of Chicago; the Rev. George Wallace, at the consecration of the Bishop of Kyoto; the Rev. Edmund Lee Woodward, at the consecration of the Bishop of Wuhu; the Rev. Robert Doherty, D.D., at the consecration of the Bishop of South Dakota; the Rev. Marmaduke Hare, M.D., at the consecration of the Suffragan Bishop of Iowa; the Rev. Andrew David Stowe, at the consecration of the Suffragan Bishop of Minnesota; the Rev. David Lewis Sanford, at the consecration of the Bishop Coadjutor of Vermont; the Rev. Orville Ernest Watson, at the consecration of the Bishop Coadjutor of Southern Ohio; the Rev. Daniel Dulany Addison, D.D., at the consecration of the Suffragan Bishop of Massachusetts.

I was present and acted as Registrar at the consecration of the Bishop of Western Massachusetts.

I also attended the consecration of the Bishop Coadjutor and the Suffragan Bishop of Pennsylvania and took charge of the Letters of Consecration, but had no opportunity of witnessing the laying-on of hands.

The Registry-book which has now been filled has been in service since about the year 1854; and it includes a formally attested record of the consecration of nearly all of two hundred and fifty-nine members of the House of Bishops of the American succession, the last being the Bishop of Wuhu.

At the General Convention of 1841, on the report of a committee appointed to consider "the subject of preserving the Records of the Consecration of Bishops for this Church," the House of Bishops voted that they would elect a Register of the House; and that the duties of the Register should be (1) to procure and preserve the Journals of the House in manuscript (if possible) or in printed form; (2) to procure a blank book and make in it a full record of the consecrations of all the Bishops of this Church and have them attested, when practicable, by autograph signatures; and (3) to procure a fire-proof box in which the papers and documents entrusted to his care should be kept. It was further voted that the Librarian of the General Theological Seminary, for the time being, should be the Register. At the next General Convention, in 1844, the Rev. John D. Ogilby, Librarian and Register, reported that he had applied to the Treasurer of the Convention for an iron safe and a blank-book, for the purposes of his office, that the Treasurer had replied that there were no funds for that purpose, and that he had therefore "refrained from any active measures for procuring accessible documents."

At the General Convention of 1853, the attention of the House of Bishops was called by Bishop Doane of New Jersey to the fact that the Journals of former Conventions had not contained copies of the Letters of Consecration of all the Bishops; and the Secretary, the Rev. L. P. W. Balch, was requested to obtain such as had been omitted, and to print all the documents in an appendix to the Journal. This was done; and the Letters of Consecration of our first sixty Bishops (Bishop Scott of Oregon, consecrated 8 January 1854, being the last) were printed as Appendix L, except that in five cases other testimony than that of the original Letters was of necessity used. The Letters of Consecration (or equivalent documents) of all Bishops of later date until the Convention of 1910 have been published in the Journals.

At the same General Convention of 1853, a new Canon was passed establishing the office of Registrar of the General Convention; and it was declared to be "the duty of the said Registrar to procure a proper and sufficient book of record, and to enter therein a record of the Consecrations of all the Bishops of this Church, designating accurately the time and place of the same, with the names of the consecrating Bishops and of the others present and assisting; to have the same authenticated in the fullest manner now practicable; and to take care for the similar record and authentication of all future Consecrations in this Church." The Rev. John Henry Hobart was nominated and elected Registrar, and he must have soon procured the handsome and substantial volume which has been already mentioned. It is made of good old linen bluish paper, bound like an old-fashioned ledger, and provided with leather case fitted with lock and handle, that it may be securely kept and easily carried. Into it, first rubricating the pages to be used, Mr. (afterwards Dr.) Hobart wrote a record of the facts as to the earlier Consecrations, attesting each as taken from the publication in the Journal of 1853, until he came to Bishop Meade of Virginia, for whom he obtained the signature of one of his consecrators, Bishop Brownell of Connecticut; Bishop Brownell attested in like manner the consecrations of several others, and in each case his signature was attested by the Rev. Arthur C. Coxe, afterwards Bishop of Western New York, who appears to have taken the book to Hartford for the purpose. Bishop Kemper's consecration is attested by Bishop B. B. Smith; Bishop Polk's by Bishops Smith and McIlvaine; and Bishop A. Lee's by Bishop McCoskry; while for some unknown reason, the page intended for the record of Bishop McCoskry's own consecration was left blank. (It is noticeable also that Bishop McCoskry was one of those whose letters of consecration could not be found in 1853; there is a full record of his deposition on the page preceding that of the consecration of his successor.) The pages intended for Bishop Payne and Bishop C. M. Williams are also blank, perhaps because the position of Foreign Missionary Bishops with reference to the General Convention was somewhat anomalous; but the consecrations of Bishop W. J. Boone and Bishop Southgate had been entered in the usual way. After the record of Bishop Alfred Lee in 1841 there are few consecrations which are not attested by the signatures of several Bishops; and beginning with the consecration of Bishop John Williams in 1851, it would appear that Dr. Hobart usually carried the Registry-book with him to each consecration and secured at the time the signatures of all, or nearly all, those who laid on hands. The records are in Dr. Hobart's handwriting, except two which were written by scribes in formal hand, until and including that of Bishop Starkey in 1880, the 123d in the American Succession.

The Rev. Dr. J. Livingston Reese was the second Registrar, and the records follow in his hand or in that of a secretary (the Rev. Paul Ziegler) for nineteen years, including sixty-five consecrations, the last being that of Bishop L. L. Kinsolving for the independent Church of Brazil. The present Registrar began with the record of the consecration of Bishop Moreland in 1899, the 188th in the American Succession, and he presents at this Convention records in his own handwriting to the 264th, seventy-seven Bishops having been consecrated in less than fourteen years. Of late the Acting Registrar and Registrar has been present at few consecrations, the duties attendant on official witnessing of the service and securing the needed signatures to the Letters of Consecration having been deputed to a Deputy Registrar appointed for each occasion, usually on the nomination of the Bishop-elect. The Registry-book, with certificates written in, is taken to each General Convention, and nearly every needed signature is there obtained.

It becomes necessary at this time to ask for an appropriation for the purchase of a worthy volume in which to continue the Registry, the paper for which has already been secured.

It may be noted here that the House of Bishops, as provided in its Rules of Order, has a roll-book, in which careful entry is made of the details of the consecration of each member of the House, of any change of title, and of the termination of membership.

Journals for the current years, and in several cases for earlier years, have been received from the Secretaries of the Dioceses and Districts, either directly or through the Secretary of the House of Deputies, who has continued his kind assistance in the matter; the Bishop of Vermont has taken special pains to fill out the set of Journals of his Diocese. Some old Journals of Alabama and Tennessee have been purchased. A list of Journals needed to complete the sets in the Archives is submitted with this report.

The Rev. C. Irving Mills has sent to the Archives the numbers of the Colorado Shepherd's Crook from September 1893 to May 1896; and the Colorado Churchman has been sent regularly as issued from August 1911.

The Bishop of Southern Ohio has sent a copy of the Order of Service and Sermon Memorial of the late Bishop Jaggard in St. Paul's Cathedral, Cincinnati, 4 May 1913.

The Bishop of Pittsburgh has presented a manuscript copy of "A short state of the Church of England planted in the province of New York and New Jersey in America," by Jacob Henderson, Missionary of Dover Hundred in Pennsylvania, dated 2 June 1712, with Remarks thereon dated 17 June 1712. The documents were copied in 1883 at the Public Records Office in London from the Board of Trade Records, New York, No. 16, Aa 101. He has also presented cuttings from the Protestant Churchman newspaper of 1844, giving a series of articles on "the Labours of the Early Missionaries of the English Church in America."

The Bishop Hobart Correspondence in the Archives was placed for a time in the charge of the Joint Commission on Archives; and a large part of it was edited and copiously annotated for publication, in accordance with the munificent provision to which reference was made in the report of that Commission three years ago. Six handsome volumes have been printed, copies of which have been sent to the Dioceses and to public Libraries, and the material for four more volumes is practically ready for the press. The whole of the manuscript has now been returned to the custody of the Registrar. The work accomplished is a memorial to the wisdom and interest and liberality of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, LL.D., whose name may now be mentioned in the record of that for which he made so full provision.

The expenses of this office for the past three years have been: For printing 50 sets of forms for Letters of Consecration, $100; for engrossing Letters of Consecration for twenty Bishops-elect with charges for ribbon and for transmission of documents, $127.50; for the purchase of Journals and other pamphlets, $13.25; for typewriting, postage, and telegraph, $3.50.

All which is respectfully submitted.

SAMUEL HART, Registrar.

APPENDIX V.—2

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON ARCHIVES

The Commission on Archives has suffered heavy loss in the death of its Chairman, the Bishop of Albany, and of J. Pierpont Morgan.

The Commission refers to the Report of the Registrar for a statement of additions made to the Archives of the General Convention during the past three years.

The Bishop Hobart correspondence in the Archives was placed for a time in the charge of the Joint Commission on Archives; and a large part of it was edited and copiously annotated for publication, in accordance with the munificent provision to which reference was made in the report of that Commission three years ago. Six handsome volumes have been printed, copies of which have been sent to the Dioceses and to public libraries, and the material for four more volumes is practically ready for the press. The whole of the manuscript has now been returned to the custody of the Registrar. The work accomplished is a memorial to the wisdom and interest and liberality of the late J. REPORT OF THE CUSTODIAN OF THE STANDARD BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER

To the General Convention to be holden on the second Wednesday of October, in the year of our Lord 1913.

The Custodian of the Standard Book of Common Prayer begs leave to present his report.

The last Convention having amended Canon 42 § II. in such manner as to require that in all editions of the Book of Common Prayer page-numbers should be set against the several headings in the Table of Contents, I gave notice of the amendment to the actual publishers of editions of the book under date of 2 November 1910.

Under date of 18 September 1911, I issued a certificate for a new edition of the Book of Common Prayer to the Bishop White Prayer Book Society.

A copy of the Book of Common Prayer, duly authenticated, has been sent as the Canon directs to the Ecclesiastical Authority of the new Diocese of Erie and of the new Missionary Districts of Eastern Oklahoma, North Texas, San Joaquin, and Wuhu.

Copies of three editions of the Prayer Book have been added to the Custodian's collection, as follows:

1799, 12mo. Charleston, S. C., W. P. Young, with 46 metrical Psalms and 47 Hymns, bearing certificate 1792.

1823, 16mo. Philadelphia, "printed for the booksellers."

1863, 8vo. New York Bible and Common Prayer Book Society, certificate dated 1823.

The Rev. Luther Pardee of Chicago has presented five volumes to the collection; and the Rev. Francis B. Barnett of Mitchell, S. Dak., has presented a copy of the Hymns of 1789, 1808, and 1826, published at Philadelphia in 1827, and a small Prayer Book with Hymns.

There have also been added to the collection a copy of the Prayer Book in French published in 1803 by Robert Wilson of New York, once the property of Bishop Kemp; Bishop Perry's copy of The Bishops' Agenda, presented to him by Miss Catharine Wolfe; the Order for Morning and Evening Prayer arranged as used on Sundays, with the Psalter, London 1847; Directory in the use of the Book of Common Prayer for St. Johnland 1871; Methodist Episcopal Ritual, New York 1864; Devotional Services of Dr. Hunter, arranged for American use by Dr. Thomas, Boston 1893; The Shorter Prayer Book, Hartford 1874; The Common Prayer Book simplified and arranged, Chicago 1910; Hymns, selected from the most approved authors, for the use of Trinity Church, Boston 1808; Hymns, 24mo, Philadelphia 1809; Hymnal, 48mo, New York 1875.

The expenses of this office for the past three years have been, for books purchased $17.30; for express on copies of Standard $6.40; total $23.70.

All which is respectfully submitted.

SAMUEL HART, Custodian.

1 OCTOBER 1913.

APPENDIX VII.

REPORT OF THE RECORDER OF ORDINATIONS

I respectfully submit herewith my triennial report, covering all ordinations by, or for, the Bishops of this Church, certified to me during the last three years.

The Recorder desires to again repeat that he welcomes any corrections of errors into which he may fall, and avails himself of this opportunity to thank those who have called his attention to errors of the past.

He would also ask the privilege to report that several of the Bishops have been most kind in furnishing him with official notification of their ordinations.

APPENDIX IX.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMISSION ON THE REVISION OF THE HYMNAL

The Joint Commission on the Revision of The Hymnal appointed by the resolution of the General Convention in the year 1910 (see Journal, pp. 362, 142 and 412) begs leave to submit the following report of its work for the last three years.

In the year 1910 the Conference of Church Clubs memorialized the General Convention with reference to a new Hymnal, recommending that the General Convention appoint a Joint Commission for that purpose.

Upon the presentation of the Memorial a resolution was passed by the House of Deputies, which provided that the Memorial be referred to a special committee of the House of Deputies, consisting of three Clerical and three Lay Deputies, to report as to the desirability of appointing a Joint Commission to prepare a revised Hymnal. This Committee, after conference with representatives of the Church Clubs, prepared a report (a copy of which is likewise attached to this report) recommending the adoption of a resolution which was finally passed both in the House of Deputies and in the House of Bishops.

This resolution reads as follows:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That a Joint Commission consisting of three Bishops, three Presbyters and three Laymen, together with two experts to be chosen by them, be appointed to take the matter contained in this report under advisement and to report its findings at the next General Convention, it being understood that the expense of this Commission for the next three years will be borne by voluntary contributions, and that the General Convention will not be chargeable in any way therewith.

In accordance with the provisions of the resolution a Joint Commission was appointed consisting of the following gentlemen:

The Right Rev. William C. Doane, D.D., LL.D., Albany, N. Y.; the Right Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead, S.T.D., Pittsburgh, Pa.; the Right Rev. G. Mot. Williams, D.D., Marquette, Mich.; the Rev. Beverly Warner, D.D., New Orleans, La.; the Rev. John Henry Hopkins, D.D., Chicago, Ill.; the Rev. James W. Ashton, D.D., Olean, N. Y.; Mr. Robert C. Pruyn, Albany, N. Y.; Mr. Miles Farrow, New York, N. Y.; Mr. Morris Earle, Philadelphia, Pa.

While the Commission was engaged in making preparations for its first meeting, the Rev. Dr. Warner, who had been most active in urging the necessity of the revision of The Hymnal, passed away. In his death the Commission lost a valued adviser and one peculiarly fitted to study and report upon the problems involved. His literary attainments, his knowledge of hymnology, and his devotion to the best traditions of our Church would have been invaluable in the work of the Commission. The Commission desires here to express its deep appreciation of the services which he rendered and its sorrow at his early death.

The Rev. Hubert W. Wells of Wilmington, Del., was elected to take the position left vacant by Dr. Warner's death.

The Commission immediately organized with the Right Rev. William C. Doane, D.D., as Chairman, the Right Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead, S.T.D., Assistant Chairman, and Mr. Morris Earle, Secretary and Treasurer.

During the greater portion of the Commission's labors it had the cordial co-operation of Bishop Doane and great aid from his experience in hymnology. As Chairman of the Joint Commission which edited the present Hymnal of 1893, he brought to the task of the new Joint Commission a breadth of view and a keen critical taste in both the literature and the music of hymns, invaluable to the Commission. His death in the midst of the Joint Commission's work is an irreparable loss to the whole Church.

The Commission also desires to express its appreciation of the generous support accorded to it by the Conference of Church Clubs, which provided the funds to meet many expenses. The personal expenses incident to the meetings of the Commission, and various other charges, have been gladly met by the individual members of the Joint Commission.

The resolution under which the Commission was appointed defined the scope of its inquiry, and the Commission has rigidly adhered to the limitations therein stated. The Joint Commission recognized that it had no authority to submit proposed changes in The Hymnal, but merely to confine its investigations to two definite propositions, namely:

A. Whether an enlarged and improved Hymnal was desirable at this time; and

B. Whether, if such a Hymnal is desirable, it could be published without interfering with existing royalties or with existing rights of publication.

In order properly to answer these two questions your Commission sought information from sources available. It proceeded as follows:

First: The Commission during the past three years held numerous meetings in New York and Philadelphia.

Second: Through the religious and secular press the Commission invited the people of the Church to suggest what hymns in the present Hymnal might well be omitted in preparing a new Hymnal.

Third: The Commission memorialized the House of Bishops, petitioning that Diocesan Committees be appointed to review the Hymnal and to indicate the results of such review to the Joint Commission, as to what hymns in the present Hymnal might well be retained for a new Hymnal.

Fourth: The Joint Commission tabulated the results of these extended investigations by persons experienced in the use of the hymns to discover (a) hymns that are not generally used in Church worship; (b) hymns that are not used in the particular Parishes reporting.

Fifth: The Commission reviewed the words of the present Hymnal, obtaining, in all possible instances, the original words, noting the various changes and recensions as they now appear in the present Hymnal.

Sixth: All such information was also carefully analyzed and tabulated.

Seventh: The Commission compared the present Hymnal with the latest editions of all the principal Hymnals in use in the Churches of England, Ireland and Canada and the latest editions of all the principal Hymnals in use in the United States, and tabulated the results.

Eighth: The Commission sought and obtained material in both hymns and music which should be carefully reviewed and examined in order to ascertain whether they might have a place in a new Hymnal.

As to the publication rights and royalties, the Commission has carefully investigated the rights of publishers under existing contracts and the title to the present Hymnal.

As a result of this method of procedure, the Joint Commission finds a widespread desire for the revision of the Hymnal; it also finds a remarkable concurrence of opinion from fifty-six Diocesan Committees.

The difficulty of heavy expense, which always arises in the publication of a new Hymnal, does not exist in this instance, because the necessary funds will be supplied for the preparation and electrotyping of tentative editions of a revised Hymnal, i. e., one of words only, and another of words and music.

The methods of preparation and publication have been thoroughly considered by the Commission, and it reports to the General Convention that a new and improved Hymnal can be published at a price which, while it supplies much needed funds, by giving the entire profit to the General Clergy Relief Fund, will, on the other hand, make possible a Hymnal of words and music for congregational use at a greatly reduced price.

Therefore the "Findings" of the Joint Commission are as follows:

1. That many hymns in The Hymnal have never been in general use.
2. That there is much material of sufficient value to find a place in a revised Hymnal.
3. That a revision of The Hymnal is advisable.
4. That the Church should copyright a revised Hymnal through the General Clergy Relief Fund; and that all profits from the sale of such Hymnal should accrue to the General Clergy Relief Fund.
5. That the General Clergy Relief Fund should be authorized to publish a revised Hymnal and that the first edition thereof should be published under the supervision of a Joint Commission.
6. That there are no hindrances, on account of copyrights or agreements, to the publication either of new words or new music.

And therefore this Joint Commission recommends that a Joint Commission be appointed to report to the General Convention of 1916 a revised Hymnal.

REPORTS OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE ON RACIAL EPISCOPATE

The Joint Committee to which was referred sundry Memorials relative to a Racial Missionary District for the Negroes, begs leave to report:

They have had before them the following Memorials, petitioning for the erection of such a District: from the Missionary Council of the Seventh Department, from the Colored Convocation of the Diocese of North Carolina, approved by the Convention of that Diocese, a Memorial from the Conference of Church Workers among Colored People and the Woman's Auxiliary of the same Conference, and also the following Memorials protesting against the proposition, namely: from the Dioceses of South Carolina, Georgia and Atlanta.

Your Committee have given these Memorials their most patient and serious consideration and have also had before them for conference representatives of the several bodies from whom Memorials have been received.

Similar Memorials and propositions contemplating like action have been repeatedly before the Convention for a number of years. At Richmond, Virginia, in 1907, a large and able Joint Committee, which had been considering this question for three years, presented a lengthy and exhaustive report, which can be found upon page 518 of the Journal of that Convention.

This report was so thorough and conclusive that your present Committee do not feel that it is necessary for them to repeat what was so well and so wisely stated at that time. They adopt in the main that report as their own. The conditions are practically identical now as then. It is only necessary therefore to state briefly some of the considerations which have moved us in making this report.

This proposal is a radical violation of the principle and custom of Diocesan unity, of the territorial Episcopate, of the jurisdiction in the territorial Diocese. And while the conditions existing, especially in our Southern Dioceses, are extraordinary and unique, we do not feel that they are so hopeless of solution as to justify so radical and revolutionary a violation of a principle which has been certified by the age-long experience and wisdom of the Church. Surely with patience and courage and faith, God will lead the Church to a safer, wiser and more effective solution of our difficulties.

It is impossible to avoid the apprehension that under the proposed legislation danger of even further and more irreparable separation between the races would ensue, that conflict of jurisdictions might arise which would weaken, if not destroy, the unity of the Church.

With the utmost sympathy and friendship for our Colored brethren and with the desire to advance the work of the Church among them we still cannot believe that as a race they are prepared for an independent ecclesiastical administration.

The methods adopted in several Dioceses, of Missionary Districts within the Diocese, in some cases with partial representation in the Diocesan Councils, and under the direction of the Diocesan Bishop, have greatly promoted the work among these people. They have had such a measure of success in spite of grave difficulties arising from causes entirely outside of the Church, as to justify the hope and belief that if adopted in other Dioceses and earnestly furthered they would give encouraging results.

Of course this method involves to a greater or less extent in different Dioceses only partial representation in Diocesan Councils for the Colored People. But in doing this these Dioceses believe that they are but following the precedent of the general Church in limiting the representation allowed Missionary Districts in the General Convention. Everybody must deplore the conditions which make this necessary, but the conditions cannot be ignored. And we believe that even this is better not only for the Church, but for the Colored People than their retention of full representation in Diocesan Councils, or than an independent Racial Missionary District.

This method by providing for Councils or Convocations composed of Clergy and Laity of Colored Congregations offers a like opportunity for development in self-government as the proposed Missionary District, but without its dangers. It preserves the contact and helpful co-operation of the white man with his Colored brother in the person of the Diocesan Bishop, makes it far easier for white Clergymen and Laymen and women to continue to minister in Church and school of the Colored People, and also preserves the recognition of the fact that the Colored People are a constituent part of the Diocese. The relation between the races thus preserved is constant and personal and administrative, and not, as it would be with an independent Missionary District, periodical and mechanical and merely legislative.

We believe that it is a great mistake to say that the chief or even a necessary blessing of membership in the Church to any people is to be found in the right of suffrage in Ecclesiastical Councils rather than in the participation in the Word and Sacraments of Grace and in the moral support and nurture of her training and worship.

The Joint Committee of 1907, the report of which has already been referred to, while declining to recommend the proposed Canon referred to them providing for Racial Missionary Jurisdictions, did recommend that change in the Constitution which was adopted and became duly effective, under which five Suffragan Bishops have since been added to the Episcopate of the Church. It is evident that this action was taken with the hope of supplying an auxiliary Episcopate which should meet in good measure the needs of the work among Colored People, and which would also afford a field for training in administrative and in other functions of the Episcopate.

Your Committee still hopes that fair trial may be made of this application of the Episcopate in this connection. It has the advantage of affording a field in which ample and honorable experiment may be made without committing the Church to a position which violates the fundamental principle of undivided jurisdiction, a position which, if once entered upon, will be found fraught with many inevitable difficulties, both economical and administrative, and from which there is neither a normal outcome nor an easy retreat.

We strongly deprecate the pessimistic views which are sometimes expressed as to the work of the Church among the Colored People. We indeed realize that relatively to the vastness of the need and of the gravity of the duty, little has been accomplished. But when we consider the insufficiency of the effort made as expressed in men and money, and the great obstacles to the growth of the Church in some parts of our country, not exclusively among Colored People, but also among white people, we are not so discouraged as to find ourselves driven to the necessity of recommending revolutionary changes in the constitutional order of the Church. Commensurate with the effort expended the work among the Negroes is by no means a dismal failure. And it is to be noted that the comparative success which has been attained in some Dioceses has been associated with the very methods which are so deprecated by most of the Memorialists that they are moved to propose to substitute in other Dioceses this Missionary Racial Episcopate.

We deeply regret that we are unable to recommend legislation in conformity with the prayer of the Memorialists. We are in full sympathy with the devoted earnestness of our brethren in this great need and responsibility for missionary effort. We sympathize with the difficulties under which they labor. Their difficulties are largely our difficulties too. We also sympathize with the appeal of so considerable a portion of our Colored fellow-Churchmen, which is however by no means the unanimous request of the whole body of Colored Priests and Laymen. The respect and friendship which we entertain for our brethren, both white and Colored, make us loath to refuse our recommendation for their proposal. But we cannot bring ourselves to believe that the legislation they propose would be wise or expedient either to meet the present emergency or to promote the future growth of the Church in the way which would promise the most permanent and beneficial results either to the Colored Churchmen or to the peace and strength of the whole Church.

We therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

MINORITY REPORT

The undersigned, a minority of the Committee to whom were referred the Memorial from the Seventh Missionary Department, and Memorials from the Diocese of North Carolina and others, in regard to the creation of Racial Missionary Jurisdictions for Negroes in the South, feeling that the question is of too great importance and involves issues too far-reaching to be settled within the narrow limits of a Committee, desire to bring before the General Convention the matters which have engaged the attention of the Joint Committee, and to have this great Council of our National Church give the answer, for or against, the petition of those who have appealed to it in what they consider a great crisis and opportunity in the work of the Church in the United States.

In the judgment of the undersigned the condition of our Church work among the Negroes of the South brings us face to face with an unprecedented problem. Just the same conditions have never before confronted the Church. The conditions being unprecedented, we must be ready to devise methods and remedies, it may be, of equally unprecedented character. We believe there is no difference of opinion among the members of the Joint Committee on this point. The Church, to meet the pressing necessities of its work, must be like the wise and provident householder who brings forth out of his treasures things new and old.

The fundamental fact of the situation, recognized by all, is the fact of the distinct separation between the white and the Colored races in the South. This has been produced by causes which it is unnecessary to consider for our present purpose. The fact is admitted by all. The white people and the Colored people in the South cannot be dealt with in the Church without a sharp and positive separation and distinction being preserved between the two, in worship and in all corporate ecclesiastical activities, as well as in social life. This separation is plain and unmistakable in every Southern Diocese. In some Dioceses the Colored Clergy and Laity are positively excluded from any membership or participation in the Diocesan Conventions or Councils. In others, the Negroes, being organized separately in their own Convocations, are allowed representation by a small delegation, or by partial and occasional participation in the Diocesan Councils. In some Dio-cases no distinction is made in the Constitution and Canons between white and black; but even in these the subtle and irresistible influence of public feeling, within and without the Church, makes it practically impossible for the Colored members of the Church to have that free and sympathetic participation in the responsibilities and activities of the Diocese which they need, alike for their own development, and for the successful prosecution of the work of the Church among that large and increasing element in the population of these States.

These facts, we believe, will not be called in question by any Southern man, though some will refuse to recognize what to us seem to be the logical and inevitable results of such a situation. In our judgment the Church can never successfully appeal to any large number of the Colored People of the South, while we thus exclude them from any adequate participation in our Church life; nor can we, under present conditions, give opportunity for proper development, in Christian and civic manhood and efficiency, to those of the Colored race who are, and have been, faithful and devoted members of the Church throughout our Southern Dioceses.

Such being the situation, as it is seen by the subscribers, we feel that something should be done by the General Convention to give to the Colored members of the Church in the South a status and an opportunity, which, in our judgment, they do not, and cannot, enjoy under our present methods and organization.

Fourteen Bishops, with their Dioceses and Missionary Districts, constituting the Seventh Missionary Department, have memorialized this General Convention in favor of a Racial Missionary District. The Diocese of North Carolina has done the same. A Memorial has also been received from a Conference of Colored Clergymen representing, as we believe, the general sentiment of our Colored Churchmen, renewing a similar request, which they have for years been pressing upon the Church.

It is urged, against granting the request of these memorialists, that such a jurisdiction, extending within the limits of organized Dioceses, is against Catholic precedent, and inconsistent with discipline and good order in ecclesiastical administration, as tending to a confusion of jurisdictional limitations. It must be admitted that such a jurisdiction is contrary to the common use of the Church in the past. But we respectfully submit that it is not more contrary to Catholic use than is the exclusion of a whole race, solely on account of their race, from participation in the ordinary life and activities of the Church; and that it is by no means so grave a violation of Catholic principles.

The undersigned, a minority of the Joint Committee to whom was referred the consideration of these matters, feeling that nothing less than the voice of the General Convention should decide and answer so grave a question, do therefore beg leave to offer for the consideration of the two Houses of this General Convention the following resolution:

Resolved, That the following proposed amendment to the Constitution be referred to the Committee on Amendments to the Constitution, with instructions to report upon the same, as soon as they shall have been able to examine and consider it:

Amend Article VI. of the Constitution by adding the following section, to be numbered Sec. 4.

Sec. 4. The House of Bishops may establish Missionary Districts upon racial lines, within the bounds of Dioceses, and Missionary Districts authorized in Sec. 1, severally, or in such groupings as it may determine; Provided, that, in the case of a Diocese such racial jurisdiction within the Diocesan borders shall first be ceded by the Bishop and the Convention of the Diocese.

In the interpretation of the Constitution and Canons the people and Churches of such Racial Missionary Districts shall occupy the same relation to the General Convention and have the same rights to representation therein as other Domestic Missionary Districts.

No such cession by a Diocese, or division of a Missionary District, shall carry with it the members of the ceded race who may be, or become, members of congregations not included in such cession on division.

The House of Bishops may, from time to time, change, increase or diminish, the territory into which such Racial Missionary District extends, in such manner as may be prescribed by Canon.

Such Racial Jurisdiction, within the bounds of a Diocese, may be retroceded by the House of Bishops, if the Bishop and Convention of such Diocese shall consent to receive it.

All which is respectfully submitted.

APPENDIX XI.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMISSION ON THE REVISION OF THE TABLES OF LESSONS

The Joint Commission on the Revision of the Tables of Lessons continued by the last General Convention has in the interim held several meetings. Its members have also carried on much correspondence with each other and with those offering suggestions and criticisms as to the Lessons authorized to be used as alternates to the Prayer Book Lessons until the Convention of 1913.

The following changes have occurred in the composition of the Commission: the Rev. Dr. James R. Winchester has become Bishop of Arkansas; Mr. George Wharton Pepper, on account of the pressure of many duties, has resigned, to the great regret of his associates, and Mr. W. A. M. Van Bokkelen has been chosen to take his place. For special help needed on account of the illness or absence of some members, the Rev. G. Woolsey Hodge, D.D., the Rev. Thaddeus W. Harris, Ph.D., and Mr. Arthur S. Browne have been added to the Commission.

Committees were appointed to reconsider, in the light of all information received and all criticisms of the last report, the Lessons for Sundays; The Lessons for Holy Days and Eves; the Lessons for Special Occasions; The Lessons for Lent and the Lessons for Week-Days. New Committees were formed to consider the special subjects committed to us by the last Convention, namely, The Proposed Table of Alternate Lessons for Sundays submitted by the Diocese of California, and the question of a Supplementary Table of Old Testament Lessons following the Hebrew Division of the Law, the Prophets and the Writings.

Reports from all these Committees were fully considered at a final meeting of the Commission held in Wilmington, Delaware, at the residence of the Bishop of Delaware, September 26, 1913.

The Commission now presents, in the form of suggested Tables, the result of their labors, with accompanying resolutions.

With regard to the Sunday Lessons, there is proposed a series giving an Alternate Lesson for nearly all Sundays, morning and evening. This, it is hoped, will supply the need for a wider range of Scripture readings on Sundays, which is the underlying principle of the Table proposed by the Diocese of California, and of the proposal to form a supplementary Table following the Hebrew Division of the Old Testament; to both of which propositions earnest consideration has been given.

A Table of Alternate Lessons for the Sundays after Trinity from the Prophets and Writings, has been prepared and is submitted as a part of this report.

The Lessons for Holy Days and their Eves have been carefully revised, as well as those for Special Occasions, to which latter some additions have been made.

The Commission would call special attention to the fact that the preparation of Lessons for Special Occasions was specifically entrusted to this Commission by the Convention of 1907 in response to a Memorial from the Diocese of Massachusetts.

The Committee on Lessons for Week-Days has carefully reconsidered the Tables presented in 1910, and has given earnest heed to the valuable criticisms and suggestions of the Bishop of Vermont and the pamphlet of the Rev. Dr. Samuel Hart, entitled "Suggestions as to the Revision of the Tables of Lessons." It has also given attention to all suggestions from various sources that have come to it in the past three years. Many criticisms in regard to omissions have led to the insertion of a number of new Lessons. Beginnings and endings of Lessons have been amended when it seemed necessary. The Lessons for Eves of Immovable Feasts and for the Feasts themselves have been printed in the Tables of Week-Day Lessons. In this connection the Commission would call attention to the construction of a new Table of the Lessons proposed for the Movable Holy Days, the Lenten season and the Rogation and Ember Days. This will bring all the proposed Lessons within the compass of five Tables, as at present.

On account of the addition of many Lessons, making a fuller and more instructive course of Bible reading for the Clergy and others desiring such, and on account of the insertion of forty-two Lessons for the Eves of Holy Days, the Commission has accepted the suggestion to make the Lessons from the Apocrypha alternates to the Wisdom Books (though overlapping these a little), which Books are thrown together toward the end of the year in the months of October and November. This gives scope for a much larger number of selections (101) from the Apocrypha than we have hitherto had, following the recommendations in the report of the Committee on the Revision of the Lectionary lately presented to the Convocation of Canterbury.

The chronological order has been followed to some extent in the Old Testament, namely, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Esther, Nehemiah, Haggai, Zachariah and Malachi are in their due places. The minor prophets are thrown together before the Wisdom literature. Isaiah, as heretofore, is reserved to the end of the year. In the New Testament, Dr. Hart's arrangement has been substantially followed, which puts the books, except the Gospels, in their accepted chronological order.

Your Commission believes that in the five Tables here presented, it has embodied the best results of all the suggestions and information it has received. We have not felt it within the scope of our instructions to depart from the general plan heretofore followed in the Prayer Book, which arranged the Daily Lessons according to the Calendar of the Civil Year.

This undoubtedly gives scope for the fullest exemplification of the ideal of reading practically the whole Bible in course during the year, an ideal which is dear and helpful to many, not only in public services, but in private reading and study.

We have, however, received from many sources strong expressions of a desire for a Lectionary based on the Ecclesiastical Year. In the words of the Bishop of Vermont: "This course would avoid the present skipping of Lessons in the daily Tables by the coming in of Sundays, and likewise the occasional marked inappropriateness of daily Lessons in the daily Calendar of the season; for example, the possible reading of the Passion from St. Mark and St. Luke in the latter part of Easter week." Another marked advantage would be the inclusion of all Lessons in one Table, excepting the Immovable Feasts. There is some disadvantage in the difficulty of arranging the Lessons for the five Sundays in the Epiphany and Trinity seasons, which are variable with the date of Easter each year.

Another plan has been presented by the Rev. Dr. C. B. Wilmer, and the Rev. Dr. T. W. Harris, based on the Ecclesiastical Year, giving Sunday Lessons for each of two years, thus affording larger scope for selections, and with the further thought of correlating the main thought of the Epistle and Gospel for the Sunday with the Lessons appointed for Morning Prayer. In the evening Lessons a different topic is presented. The Week-Day Lessons under this plan would be selected as far as possible with the view of carrying the teaching of the Sunday into the days following. This necessarily inadequate presentation of a plan which has greatly interested the Commission will serve to explain the resolution hereto appended, to the effect that if this Commission be continued, it would be glad of the opportunity of studying thoroughly the whole subject of a Lectionary based on the Ecclesiastical Year.

Should the Tables presented in this Report be authorized exclusively as alternates to the Prayer Book Lessons for the ensuing three years, it is obvious that the Church Almanacs already in press for the year 1914 cannot contain them. The Commission therefore has appended a resolution authorizing the permissive use of the Tables of 1910 until January 1, 1915.

The Commission, fully realizing the important character of the work committed to it, and having given its most earnest consideration to all the problems involved, with the constant prayer for the guidance of the Holy Spirit in their solution, begs leave to offer the following resolutions:

(1) Resolved, That the Tables of Lessons included in the report of the Joint Commission on the Revision of the Tables of Lessons be authorized for use in this Church as alternates to the Tables of Lessons in the Book of Common Prayer until the meeting of the next General Convention.

(2) Resolved, That the Tables of Lessons included in the report of the Joint Commission on the Revision of the Tables of Lessons submitted to the meeting of the General Convention held in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and ten, be authorized for use in this Church as alternates to the Tables of Lessons in the Book of Common Prayer, until January 1, 1915.

(3) Resolved, That the proposed Lessons referred to in the two foregoing resolutions, appointed for any day for Morning and for Evening Prayer may be used interchangeably at the discretion of the Minister until the next General Convention.

(4) Resolved, That there be added to the proposed Tables of Lessons the following note for permissive use until the next meeting of the General Convention:

When the Order for the Holy Communion cannot be used on a Holy Day, the Scriptures appointed for the Epistle and Gospel for the day may be used in place of the Lessons if desired.

(5) Resolved, That the Joint Commission on the Revision of the Tables of Lessons be continued with power to add to its membership, to receive suggestions arising from the tentative use of the Tables proposed in their report to this Convention, to consider the feasibility of daily Lessons following the Ecclesiastical Year, to prepare a Table of such daily Lessons if they deem expedient, and to report at the next meeting of the General Convention.

(6) Resolved, That the Joint Commission on the Revision of the Tables of Lessons be authorized to correct typographical errors in the Tables presented before the publication of the same for distribution.

ALFRED HARDING, Secretary.

APPENDIX XII.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE, APPOINTED IN 1910, ON THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON COURTS OF APPEAL

The Joint Committee appointed at the last General Convention to consider a Draft of a Canon prepared by a Committee of the House of Deputies, providing for the establishment of a Court of Final Appeal in matters touching Faith, Doctrine, or Worship, beg leave to report that they have considered the matter with care, and are now prepared to report a Canon for the consideration of this Convention. The Committee have suffered the loss of valuable counsellors in the death of the Rev. Dr. Eccleston of Maryland, and the long and prostrating illness of Judge Stiness of Rhode Island. The vacancy caused by the death of Dr. Eccleston has been filled by the election of the Rev. Dr. Bennitt of the Diocese of Newark. The Rev. E. L. Parsons of California dissents from the judgment of the Committee as to the expediency of providing a Final Court of Appeal, and further, as to the proposal that, if such a court is to be established, it should consist of Bishops only. Judge Stiness concurs with the majority of the Committee as to the expediency of establishing a Court, but has not been able to give attention to the proposed Canon. Otherwise the Committee are unanimous in offering the following resolution:

(1) Resolved, That the following new Canon be enacted, to be numbered 31, the present Canon 31 and all following Canons to be re-numbered accordingly.

THOS. F. GAILOR, Chairman,
JOS. B. CHESHIRE,
ARTHUR C. A. HALL,
LUCIUS WATERMAN, Secretary,
GEORGE S. BENNITT,
CHARLES ANDREWS,
MILES F. GILBERT,
*JOHN H. STINESS.

*Approving principle of Canon, without having been able to consider details.

CANON 31

Of a Final Court of Appeal

§ I. A Final Court of Appeal is hereby established which shall consist of the Bishops of the Church, when canonically assembled as a House of Bishops. There shall be a Judicial Commission of the Court, appointed at each General Convention, which shall consist of five Bishops, five Presbyters, and five Laymen, communicants of this Church. It shall be the function of the Judicial Commission to digest the matter of any appeal taken to this Court, and report their findings thereon for the final decision of the House of Bishops. The Commission shall be appointed by the House of Bishops, subject to approval by the House of Deputies. In case of rejection by the House of Deputies of one or more of the Commission appointed by the House of Bishops, vacancies so occasioned shall be filled by a new appointment by the House of Bishops, subject to like approval. The Commissioners shall hold their office until the next succeeding General Convention, and until their successors are appointed. The expiration of the term of office of any Commissioner, during the hearing of an appeal, shall not vacate his membership of the Commission, but he may continue to act as a member until the final termination of the case, and his successor shall not take part in such hearing.

§ II. The Court of Appeal is vested with jurisdiction to hear and determine appeals from the final determination of Courts of Review and from the determination of a Trial Court which stands affirmed under § XIX. of Canon 30, Provided, however, that an appeal to the Court of Appeal can be taken only on questions of Doctrine, Faith, or Worship. No other questions shall be considered or determined. No appeal lies from the decision of a Court of Review which grants a new trial.

§ III. Appeal may be taken by an accused Bishop from an adverse determination of a Court of Review, and by an accused Presbyter or Deacon in like case, or when an adverse determination of a Trial Court stands affirmed under § XIX. of Canon 30. An appeal may be taken by a Church Advocate from the determination of a Court of Review acquitting the accused upon any charge or specification, upon the written request of three Bishops of this Church exercising jurisdiction, no one of them having been a presenter or a judge in the case, or a person disqualified from sitting in the Court of Review. The three Bishops uniting in the request shall appoint a Church Advocate to take an appeal in the name of the Church, and to appear on the hearing thereof. They may appoint the person who has appeared as Church Advocate at the trial before the Court of Review to be the Church Advocate for the purpose of this appeal, or they may appoint a new Church Advocate. It shall be the duty of the Church Advocate whom they may appoint to take an appeal as herein provided immediately upon receiving such request. For the purposes of this Canon, the accused Bishop, or the accused Presbyter or Deacon, as the case may be, and the Church Advocate shall be deemed the opposing parties.

§ IV. The Court of Review, upon the final determination of an appeal, or in the case where the decision of the Trial Court stands affirmed under § XIX. of Canon 30, shall as soon thereafter as practicable cause notice thereof to be served on the parties. The party desiring and authorized to appeal shall, within ninety days after the service of such notice, serve notice of the appeal to the Court of Appeal upon the other party, and upon the President of the Court of Review, and upon the Secretary of the House of Bishops, briefly describing the determination from which the appeal is taken and assigning the grounds of appeal. Omission to serve the notice within the time prescribed shall be deemed a waiver of the right of appeal. But the Judicial Commission may, in its discretion, entertain an appeal not taken within such prescribed period, if in its opinion justice shall so require.

§ V. Within sixty days after the receipt of the notice of appeal the President of the Court of Review shall transmit to the Presiding Bishop of the Church the notice of appeal, together with the record upon which the proceedings in that Court were had, and a transcript of the determination from which the appeal is taken, certified by him and the Clerk or Secretary of the Court. It shall be the duty of the appellant within four calendar months after the appeal shall have been taken to cause a printed copy of such notice, record, and transcript, certified by the Presiding Bishop of the Church, to be served upon the opposite party, and to deliver one hundred and fifty printed copies to the Secretary of the House of Bishops.

§ VI. It shall be the duty of the Presiding Bishop, within sixty days after receiving the notice, record, and transcript, to appoint a time and place for the assembling of the Judicial Commission for the hearing of the appeal, and to cause notice thereof to be served upon each member and upon the parties to the appeal at least ninety days prior to the day appointed for the hearing. He shall cause twenty of the printed copies of the notice, record, and transcript delivered to the Secretary of the House of Bishops to be by him delivered to the Commission, and one copy to be sent to each member of the House of Bishops entitled to sit in the Final Court of Appeal.

§ VII. The Judicial Commission shall assemble at the time and place appointed by the Presiding Bishop, but may adjourn the hearing from time to time, and to such place as convenience or necessity may require. The Bishop senior by consecration among those originally appointed as members of the Commission shall be the President.

If at that time his appointment as Commissioner has terminated by death or otherwise, or if he be absent or disqualified from sitting, the other members shall elect from among their number the presiding officer. Ten members shall constitute a quorum, but a number less than a quorum may adjourn from time to time until a quorum shall be secured. The death, resignation, disqualification, or refusal to serve of any member shall constitute a vacancy. The person resigning or refusing to serve shall give notice thereof to the Presiding Bishop of the Church, who shall cause the fact to be laid before the Commission at its first meeting. Vacancies may be filled by the election by the Commission of a Bishop, a Presbyter, or a Layman, as the case may be, to serve until the next succeeding General Convention. In case of the absence or disqualification of a member who has not resigned or refused to serve, it may elect another person to sit in his place on the hearing and decision of the appeal. It may appoint four assessors, two of whom at least shall be learned in the law, whose duty it shall be to attend during the hearing of the appeal, and, when requested by the Commission, to advise upon any matter arising. The parties may appear and be heard in person or by counsel. The Commission shall cause a full record to be kept of its proceedings, and may appoint one or more clerks to serve during its pleasure.

§ VIII. [i.] Neither the accused, nor any person who was a presenter, or who is related to the accused by affinity or consanguinity, in a direct ascending or descending line, or as a brother, uncle, nephew, or first cousin, shall sit as a member of the Judicial Commission, or in the Court of Appeal, on the hearing of the case.

[ii.] No person who has sat as a Judge in the case at any earlier hearing shall sit as a member of the Judicial Commission; but a Bishop who has sat as a Judge in the Court of Review, or in the Judicial Commission, shall not be thereby disqualified from giving his judgment in the Final Court of Appeal.

[iii.] The appeal shall be heard on the record of the Court of Review.

§ IX. Neither the Court for the Trial of a Bishop nor the Court for the Review of such trial shall pronounce sentence upon the accused where a question of Doctrine, Faith, or Worship, is presented in the charge, excepting in a case where the time limited for taking an appeal shall have expired and no appeal shall have been taken, or where the accused shall have been pronounced in contumacy pursuant to Canon 27, § II. [iii.], and he has not appeared thereafter to take his trial upon the presentment, as provided in that section.

§ X. The Judicial Commission having examined the record, and having heard the arguments of the parties, and their counsel, and having deliberately considered the same, shall make findings as to each charge, relating to Doctrine, Faith, or Worship, as to which there shall be a concurrence of a majority of the members of the Commission sitting in the case. Each member of the Commission may express in writing the grounds of his opinion. The findings of the Commission shall be reduced to writing, and be signed by the members assenting thereto. In case a majority of the Commission shall not agree upon any question, that fact shall be stated in the report of the Commission, together with the vote of the members on the division.

It shall be the duty of the Commission to notify the parties of its action, and to transmit to the Secretary of the House of Bishops the record upon which the hearing was had, together with a report of its proceedings in the case.

§ XI. [i.] The Secretary of the House of Bishops shall lay the record and report before the House of Bishops at its next meeting.

[ii.] An appeal may be heard at any regular session of the House of Bishops. The adjournment of the Convention shall not prevent the House of Bishops from continuing in session as a Court of Appeal. The Presiding Bishop of the Church may, if in his judgment the interests of the Church would be promoted thereby, convene a special session of the House at a time and place to be appointed by him for the hearing of an appeal.

[iii.] The House of Bishops sitting as the Final Court of Appeal shall determine the questions presented by the record, upon considering the same together with the report of the Judicial Commission, or, if in its opinion justice shall require, may grant a new trial. It may appoint Assessors, having the qualification of Assessors appointed by the Judicial Commission, and necessary Clerks. The parties may appear in person, or by counsel. No notice of the hearing before the House of Bishops shall be required. After the report of the Judicial Commission shall have been rendered, and the parties have been notified of its action, as herein provided, the parties must take notice that the appeal is pending before the Court of Appeal, and that it may be considered at any subsequent meeting of the House of Bishops. The concurrence of two-thirds of all the Bishops entitled to vote in the House of Bishops, canonically assembled in said House, other than those excluded from sitting in the case under the terms of § VIII., shall be necessary to a decision by the Court of any question of Doctrine, Faith, or Worship, presented by the record. If such concurrence shall not be had on any such question, the fact shall be entered in the minutes of the Court, and no further action shall be taken in any Court of the Church in respect of such question.

§ XII. It shall be the duty of the Court of Appeal to reduce its decision to writing, stating therein the grounds thereof. If it should find the accused guilty upon the charges, or any of them, it shall give him an opportunity to be heard before sentence is pronounced, and to offer any matter in excuse or palliation. Thereafter the Court shall determine the sentence to be pronounced, either of deposition, suspension, or admonition, and the Presiding Bishop of the Church, or such other Bishop as the Court shall designate, shall at a time and place appointed by him, of which the accused shall have notice, pronounce the sentence. In determining the sentence, the Court may take into consideration the conviction of the accused upon any charge not relating to Doctrine, Faith, or Worship, which appears by the record, and which remains unreversed.

§ XIII. If the Court shall acquit the accused of all charges relating to Doctrine, Faith, or Worship, but it appears by the record that the accuser was convicted by the Trial Court of charges or specifications not relating to Doctrine, Faith, or Worship, and such conviction remains unreversed, then in the case of a Bishop the Court of Appeal shall determine and pronounce sentence by reason of such conviction; but in the case of a Presbyter, or Deacon, the Court of Appeal shall send to the Bishop and Standing Committee or Council of Advice of the Jurisdiction in which the trial was had, a certified copy of the action of the Court of Appeal in the case, and thereafter sentence shall be pronounced as provided in § XX. of Canon 30. The House of Bishops shall keep a full record of its proceedings and shall cause the same, together with the record sent to it, to be deposited among the archives of the House. In case of a sentence of deposition or suspension, the House of Bishops shall cause the fact to be communicated to the Bishop, or, in his absence, or if there be a vacancy in his office, to the Standing Committee, or Council of Advice, of every Diocese and Missionary District of the Church.

§ XIV. Notices required to be given by this Canon shall be in writing and may be served personally, or by registered mail addressed to the person to be served at his last known place of residence in the United States, or if the person to be served resides in a Missionary District outside of the United States, by notice addressed to the person to be served at his last place of residence abroad. The Presiding Bishop may, for reasons deemed by him sufficient, extend the time for doing any of the acts specified in this Canon.

In case of a vacancy in the office of Secretary of the House of Bishops, the Assistant Secretary shall be deemed Secretary for the purpose of this Canon.

§ XV. Church Advocates, Assessors, Counsel and Clerks shall be Communicants of this Church. The necessary expenses of the members of the Judicial Commission and of Church Advocates, Assessors and Clerks, certified by the Presiding Officer of the Judicial Commission or of the Court, shall be a charge on the Contingent Fund of the General Convention, and be paid by the Treasurer thereof.

§ XVI. The Court of Appeal may make rules, not inconsistent with the Constitution and Canons, regulating procedure in the Court and the mode of authenticating its records.

§ XVII. All Canons and parts of Canons inconsistent with this Canon are hereby repealed.

APPENDIX XIII.

REPORT OF JOINT COMMISSION ON "THE RELATION OF ARMY AND NAVY CHAPLAINS TO THE CHURCH"

The Commission appointed to consider the whole subject of the relation of Army and Navy Chaplains to the Church begs leave to report: That it has considered the general matter committed to it pursuant to the Memorial from fourteen Chaplains now serving in the Army and Navy of the United States, etc., etc. (pages 31 and 68, General Convention Journal, 1910, and also the special Amendment to the Canons proposed, to wit: pages 238, 303, 305, 380, General Convention Journal, 1910):

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That Canon 15 [now Canon 16] be amended by adding thereto a new section to be numbered VI., and to read as follows:

"A Minister of this Church not canonically resident in the Diocese of Washington, who hereafter may be appointed a Chaplain in the Military or Naval Service of the United States, shall present to the Ecclesiastical Authority of said Diocese Letters Dimissory as provided for in Section V. of this Canon, and subject to the conditions of said section."

Your Commission is deeply impressed with the importance of more adequate recognition both on the part of the Church and of the Nation of the vital relation of the work of faithful and efficient Chaplains to the welfare of our Army and Navy. This should show itself in an immediate increase of the number of such Chaplains in both arms of the service. No question of insufficiency in numbers, or status otherwise, of our Army or Navy your Commission believes is so fundamental to the public conscience of a Christian country or to the morale of its forces, as the lamentable lack in the present provision of Chaplains for our military posts and ships. If our Army and Navy are to exist and increase, that single fact, without entering into any discussion of the bearing upon this of the great noble Peace movements, compels attention to the indisputable need of something like commensurate provision for them both of religious fostering. Worship is certainly from any standpoint of a God-fearing Nation no less essential than war-ship. And while this only incidentally comes within the province of your Commission, it is a matter which from every side should be brought to the attention of Congress, rousing it fully to the appreciation of the fact that, while our numbers in the Army and Navy have in recent years on the peace standing been much enlarged, the limit of the number of Chaplains has for many years remained practically at a standstill. Whatever be our class in other armament we are certainly as a power far from realizing the injunction to "put on the whole armor of God."

The Memorial which led to the appointment of our Commission goes even more deeply into the present needs. It is but fair to note here the devotion to their work and the broad conception of its scope and opportunity on the part of many faithful Chaplains, even with the disadvantages under which they labor—Chaplains of our own and other communions. Efficiency even more than numbers is the aim of the Memorialists out of their experience. In itself this is worthy of every co-operation on the part of the Church. Whatever can be alleged in the history of Chaplaincies, of another sort, here and there among individuals, of colorlessness of office, of perfunctory routine, or even of weakness or infirmity of personal character, to the dire loss of influence, not to say respect, among keen-eyed men of the Army and Navy, this Memorial is an evidence of the higher ideals and the truer conception of duty and opportunity. It is therefore an aspiration the Church should welcome and encourage.

One way suggested for making that aim effective is clearly presented in the proposed amendment to Canon 16, "by adding thereto a new section to be numbered VI.," referred to this Commission and cited above.

Another is contemplated in the petition of the Memorialists themselves, viz. (page 68, General Convention Journal): "expressing their need of counsel from a Bishop of their own; their desire for a more vital connection with the missionary activities of the Church; their hope that it may be found practicable to form a Missionary District or Department, composed of the Military and Naval reservations in the United States, its Territories and Insular Possessions, together with the vessels of the U. S. Navy; their suggestion that said District or Department may be placed under a Bishop specially designated for the purpose, and may have authority to hold Convocations, and to elect its own Clerical and Lay Deputies to the General Convention."

Still another that has been suggested is that the whole matter be left to a Commission of Bishops to be appointed by the General Convention and to act for the Church for the selection and oversight of the quota of Chaplains allotted to our Church. The late President McKinley personally agreed to consult such a Commission before nominating any of our Clergy to Chaplaincies, and his successors, Presidents Roosevelt and Taft, pursued much the same policy. The suggestion is that such an arrangement be made more formal and more authoritative on the part of the Church and, if possible, with each succeeding President, and that it cover not only the choice of our Chaplains, but a distinct oversight of them.

This Commission has given careful consideration to these and other proposals and finds merit in them all, but not without difficulties in each, some of which it would here specify:

1. In any amendment to the Canon as proposed requiring, after the passing of such Canon, the relinquishment of existing Canonical Connection with other Dioceses or Districts than that of Washington, while it would not necessarily affect the status of the present Chaplains, would in some cases work hardship to Chaplains in that the transfer to the Diocese of Washington under the existing Canons of that Diocese would not carry with it the previous status of voting in Convention.

Your Commission is, however, not unmindful of the problem to any Diocese how to afford voting membership to any considerable number of Clergy who may be non-resident and have cures elsewhere, and possibly on its own initiative the Diocese of Washington could make some adjustment of its law which would go far to remove these objections.

2. The erection of a Missionary District as proposed in the Memorial, by the aggregation of Military and Naval Reservations into such a District, raises grave questions of existing Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction over such Reservations on the part of the respective Dioceses and Districts within whose maps such Reservations are included. Such questions seem too formidable for your Commission to ignore in any recommendation.

In the General Convention of 1835 there was proposed an amendment to a Canon (then Canon 51—touching Parochial Reports, etc.), which incidentally raised the question how far the words of another Canon, “within his cure,” “as applied to a Chaplain in the Army or Navy of the United States can be construed to include a Military Station or Man of War.” The course of the legislation in the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies seems to imply considerable consideration of the point, with the result that no recognition of a separate status of cures of Army and Navy Chaplains as such survived in the Canon as finally adopted, in which there was simply appended a general provision: “Every other Clergyman not regularly in any Parish or Church should also report, etc.” (See pp. 568 and 711, Vol. II., Perry’s Reprint of the Journals, and other pages by the Index in Vol. III., “Chaplains.”)

This, together with the fact that our ecclesiastical map-making shows nothing analogous to the “Reservations” of the civil administrations of territory, would seem to your Commission to require further examination of the whole question on Constitutional grounds before it would be competent to establish a new kind of Church Missionary District on the lines contemplated in the Memorial.

3. The Commission of Bishops would not be likely to fully solve the question of individual Episcopal oversight or enterprise, however much it might accomplish in other directions, but if one were made the Executive Head and the other two were advisory, and the Executive Head was the Bishop having the main jurisdiction over the Chaplains, the provision would seem to be an effective one.

In view of all this, your Commission feels that, while more may be accomplished later by progressive stages, as immediate steps it would recommend:

First. That a permanent Commission of three Bishops, of which the Bishop of Washington shall be Chairman, be appointed by the House of Bishops to represent the Church in endorsing all applications from the Clergy of the Church for appointment in the Army and Navy; to confer so far as is practicable with the appointing authority upon our appointments and to have the general oversight and promotion of all matters pertaining to the best interests and efficiency of those exercising their ministry in the Army and Navy of the Nation, it being understood that in all such endorsements the Bishop of Washington is empowered to act for the Commission with the other two Bishops acting in an advisory capacity. And Second. The adoption of the Amendment submitted to us, to wit:

Resolved, That Canon 16 be amended by adding thereto a new section to be numbered VI., and to read as follows:

“A Minister of this Church not Canonically resident in the Diocese of Washington, who may hereafter be appointed a Chaplain in the Military or Naval Service of the United States, shall present to the Ecclesiastical Authority of said Diocese Letters Dimissory as provided in Section V. of this Canon, and subject to the conditions of said section.”

For the Commission,

WILLIAM F. NICHOLS, Chairman.

APPENDIX XIV.

The Joint Committee of Advice for Church Workers among the Deaf submits the following report:

Your Committee has again devoted itself mainly to securing information in regard to the work carried on by the various Dioceses in behalf of the deaf and dumb. The results of its inquiries are summarized and tabulated below. It should be noted that the data here given refer to a single year only—the canonical year in each Diocese immediately preceding the present meeting of the General Convention.

Replies to the circular of inquiry sent out by the Committee were received from all but the following eight Dioceses and Missionary Districts: Iowa, Kansas City, Maine, New Mexico, Southern Virginia, Utah, Virginia, and West Virginia.

The following twenty-five Dioceses and Missionary Districts report that they have not yet undertaken any work in behalf of the deaf, or that none exists at the present time: Arizona, Asheville, California, Dallas, Duluth, Eastern Oregon, Florida, Fond du Lac, Georgia, Kearney, Marquette, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Dakota, North Texas, Oregon, Sacramento, San Joaquin, South Carolina, Southern Florida, Texas, Vermont, West Texas and Wyoming.

The following nine report local efforts to minister to the deaf, or occasional services by visiting clergymen: Alabama, Arkansas, Atlanta, Easton, Idaho, Los Angeles, Olympia, Spokane, and Western Colorado.

The remaining forty-five Dioceses and Districts report more or less definitely organized work, either having the formal authorization of the Diocesan Convention, or being carried on under the license of the Bishop, and having some regular and definite method of support.

Our inquiries reveal the same divergence in methods of oversight and control which was noted in our last report. In some Dioceses the work is placed under the Diocesan Board of Missions; in others it is under the oversight of the Board and of the Bishop jointly; while in one or two others it is reported as under the Bishop, the Board of Missions and a committee of the Convention. Though differing in detail, the method of oversight in all the foregoing is practically the same, the essential point being that in each of them the relation of the work to the Board of Missions is more or less definitely recognized. In several Dioceses and Districts the work is under the oversight of the Bishop alone, while in a few others the plan is followed of placing the control of the work in the hands of a Commission appointed by the Diocesan Convention. In Long Island, Newark and New York the work is carried on by an incorporated missionary society—"The Church Mission to Deaf Mutes"—of which the Bishop of New York is ex officio president.

The method of support likewise varies in different places. Sometimes the entire support of the work comes from the funds of the Diocesan Board of Missions; sometimes the grant from the Board is supplemented by an annual offering, directed by canon, or by voluntary offerings of parishes and individuals. In some cases the support comes from funds at the disposal of the Bishop, or from mission funds apportioned to the Diocese; and there are various other methods employed in special cases which it is not necessary to give in detail at this time.

It should be noted that the General Board of Missions appropriates annually for work among the deaf: To the Rev. B. R. Allabough, General Missionary in the Mid-Western Dioceses, $400; to the Rev. O. J.

Whildin, General Missionary in the Southern Dioceses, $400; to the Rev. G. F. Flick, Missionary in the Dioceses of Chicago, Fond du Lac, Milwaukee, Michigan City, Quincy and Springfield, $300; total, $1,100.

The following tables give in concise form the other items of information elicited by the Committee's inquiries:

* Figures are for year 1911-12.

The figures given in the foregoing tables are by no means as accurate and complete as could be desired; but they are fairly correct as far as a majority of the mission fields are concerned, and for that reason they are valuable and instructive. Some objection has been made to the fact that the Committee has asked for the statistics of a single year only. It is argued by some of the missionaries that their work fluctuates from year to year, and that to do them justice the Committee's record should be a continuous one, covering the whole three years between meetings of the General Convention. The contention is just; but in view of the difficulties experienced in obtaining figures for a single year the Committee is inclined to think that an attempt to obtain figures for a longer period would lead to confusion and perhaps failure.

The following general observations may be made:

There appears to be a growing tendency to place the work among the deaf in each Diocese under the oversight of the Diocesan Board of Missions, and to provide for its support out of the funds of the Board. Twelve Dioceses report that the work is supported exclusively by the Board, as against three Dioceses so reporting three years ago. In twenty-six Dioceses altogether grants of larger or smaller amounts are made by the Diocesan Board, thus giving to the work among the deaf a distinct recognition as a part of the mission work of the Diocese. This is in line with the recommendation made in our last report, that the work should be given a definite Diocesan status, and that its support should not be left entirely to the uncertain liberality of parishes and individuals.

There are thirteen clergymen exclusively engaged in work among the deaf. This is the same number reported three years ago, but in the meantime there have been two deaths and two ordinations. All of these Clergy are deaf, with a single exception. Two of them are assistants to other clergymen, and there is one lay-reader, a candidate for Orders, who is in charge of an independent field.

No stress can be laid upon the figures in the tables as giving definite evidence of progress, or the reverse, in the work among the deaf as a whole. There are, however, indications of steady and satisfactory progress in certain parts of the field. The number of deaf people reached by our work, even though only roughly estimated, shows an increase of nearly fifty per cent. While there is a slight falling off in the number of baptisms as compared with three years ago, a fact which probably has no special significance, there is a marked increase in the number of confirmations reported. The total number of communicants must be underestimated, or else there are large and steady losses; for the increase in the number of communicants over three years ago is less than the number added by confirmation during the last year.

We do not venture to base any conclusions upon the financial items of the second table. The Committee desired to ascertain the total amount expended annually for the support of the work among the deaf and to learn what portion of this money came from Diocesan sources, what from voluntary offerings and gifts, and what from the deaf people themselves. While we have not been entirely successful in this respect, the present table comes much nearer the truth than did that in our report of three years ago. The amount of money derived from Diocesan sources has undoubtedly increased. The total of receipts from all sources does not vary greatly from that reported three years ago.

The general impression which we have obtained is that, on the whole, our missions to the deaf are doing well, and that in the past three years an amount of sympathetic interest has been shown in their welfare which promises much for the future.

One of the most significant and important events of the past three years has been the formation by the Dioceses of Pittsburgh, Ohio, Southern Ohio, Michigan, Indianapolis and Lexington of an inter-diocesan committee to take charge of their joint work among the deaf. Each Diocese is represented on the committee and each is pledged to contribute its proportion to the support of the missionary. We are informed that similar joint action is proposed by the Dioceses on the Pacific coast. We believe that inter-diocesan committees of this kind afford perhaps the most effective and satisfactory method of overseeing and sustaining the work of a missionary who must cover several Dioceses, and we consider this action a step in advance in the solution of the problem of caring for mission work of this kind.

We respectfully submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Committee of Advice for Church Workers among the Deaf be continued, and that the various Dioceses be requested to place at its disposal such information in regard to their mission work among the deaf as will enable the Committee to submit to the next General Convention a comprehensive view of the condition and progress of missions to the deaf throughout the American Church.

Resolved, that the report of the Committee be printed in the Appendix to the Journal.

Signed, on behalf of the Committee, by CHARLES TYLER OLMSTED, Chairman.

APPENDIX XV.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMISSION ON "REVISION OF THE OFFICES FOR THE VISITATION OF THE SICK AND THE COMMUNION OF THE SICK"

The work of the Commission as defined in the Resolutions under which it was appointed was to consider the revision of the Prayer Book Office for the Visitation of the Sick, and if it seemed desirable to prepare another office for this purpose; to provide additional prayers for use at the time of Visitation having especial reference to the recovery of health; and also to consider the revision of the Office for the Communion of the Sick.

The Commission, after careful consideration of the whole subject, now respectfully reports:

They do not think it well at this time to recommend any alteration of the Book of Common Prayer, but without doing this to recommend for alternative or supplementary use as follows:

1. They have found in the Proposed Book of Offices for occasions not provided for in the Prayer Book, which was drawn up by a committee of the House of Bishops, and allowed by that House sitting at Cincinnati to be printed for tentative use for three years, "A Short Service of Comfort and Hope for Sick Communicants" which seems most admirably adapted for the purpose desired. There are also in the same book a number of Prayers for the Sick and Afflicted which seem to meet the need. They have printed this Service and these Special Prayers with this Report and recommend that they be adopted by the General Convention and recommended for use at the discretion of the Clergy.

2. With regard to the Office of the Communion of the Sick, the Commission recommends the adoption of three Collects with Epistles and Gospels for discretionary use instead of those given in the Prayer Book; and that a direction be given for the omission of the Gloria in Excelsis and the substitution for it of some of the additional prayers mentioned above. These are given below.

3. In view of the widespread desire for the use of the ancient custom of the Anointing of the Sick with oil, with prayers for recovery of health, and the fact that this is now being practised frequently in this Church, each Priest using such prayers as he thinks fit, the Commission has thought it wise to add to the Communion of the Sick two prayers for use in connection with this Office where the sick person humbly and heartily desires to be anointed, having full faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and His power to heal in answer to faithful prayers.

4. In the Pastoral Letter of the House of Bishops, issued in 1895, there is a reference to the Communion of the Sick with the Sacrament carried from the Altar of the Church in cases where it is undesirable to use the appointed service in a private room. The Bishops used the following words: "The practice of reserving the Sacrament is not sanctioned by the law of this Church, though the Ordinary may, in cases of extreme sickness, authorize the reserved Sacrament to be carried to the sick."

Knowing that this practice has received much sanction and that its use is growing in the Church, and that it has been found very useful and comforting to many sick whose sickness or circumstances were such that the service could not conveniently be held in their rooms and presence, the Commission thinks it advisable to suggest the form which a short Service should take when the Sacrament is thus carried to the sick.

The Commission has not thought it necessary to discuss at any length the last two recommendations. They are very simple and only designed to meet a recognized need in the Church, and to direct customs which already exist and whose use is steadily growing.

To sum up, the Commission respectfully offers the following Resolutions:

Resolved 1. That this Report of the Joint Commission on the Services of the Visitation and Communion of the Sick be accepted and that the Services and Prayers appended to it for alternative or supplementary use to those appointed in the Prayer Book be recommended for use.

In the event of the first Resolution being adopted the two following are suggested for adoption in either House:

Resolved (in the House of Deputies) 2. That this House requests the House of Bishops to take such order as may be necessary for the carrying into effect of the above resolution.

Resolved (in the House of Bishops) 3. That the Chairman of the House of Bishops do appoint a committee or take other action for the carrying out of the above resolution.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWARD W. OSBORNE, Bishop of Springfield.

WILLIAM E. TOLL, Suffragan Bishop of Chicago.

LESLIE F. POTTER, (Missouri 1910.)

JOHN E. SULGER, Indianapolis.

G. A. ASCHMAN, West Virginia.

WILLIAM J. STUART, Western Michigan.

A SHORT SERVICE OF COMFORT AND HOPE FOR SICK COMMUNICANTS

The Minister coming in shall say:

Peace be to this house.

After brief words of kindly greeting let him say:

Brother, let me read you some words of comfort from the mind of God.

Then he shall read one or more of the following:

2 Kings iv. 18-38 (for a child). 2 Kings v. 1-4, 9-15. Isa. xxxv. Isa. liv. 7-15. Isa. lxi. 1-8. St. Matt. vi. 25 to end. St. Luke v. 18-27. St. Luke xlii. 11-18. St. James i. 12-22; v. 7-12.

Before an operation, Eccus. xxxviii. 1-15.

Thanksgiving, 1 Sam. ii. 1-11; Isa. xxxviii. 9-21; Hosea xiv.

Here may follow a meditation on the portion read.

Then the Minister shall say:

Let us praise God in the words of a Psalm.

Then shall be read by the Minister alone, or alternately with others if they so desire, one or more of the following:

Psalms iii., xi., xx., xxiii., xlii., xci., cxli., cxxvi., cxxxviii., cxlvi.

Thanksgiving, ciii.

Then kneeling down he shall say:

O Lord, save Thy servant;

Answer. Which putteth his trust in Thee.

Send him help from Thy holy place,

Answer. And evermore defend him.

Be unto him, O Lord, a strong tower.

Answer. From the face of his enemy.

O Lord, hear our prayer.

Answer. And let our cry come unto Thee.

Lord, have mercy upon us.

Christ, have mercy upon us.

Lord, have mercy upon us.

Our Father, etc.

Acts of Faith, Hope and Love.

I believe in Thee, O God, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, my Creator, and my Redeemer, and my Sanctifier; I believe that Thou art All-Holy, Just and Merciful. I believe that Thou art willing to pardon and to save me, if I repent and forsake my sins.

O my God, strengthen and increase my faith, and grant me the grace of a true repentance, for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

I hope in Thee, O my God, because Thou art Almighty, Faithful, and Long-suffering. I humbly trust that Thou wilt pardon my sins for the sake of Thy dear Son Jesus Christ, who suffered and died for me upon the Cross: and that Thou wilt cleanse my sinful soul in His Precious Blood, and make me holy, and bring me safe to everlasting life.

O Lord, in Thee have I trusted, let me never be confounded. Amen.

I love Thee, O my God, above all things, because Thou hast been so good, so patient, so loving to me, notwithstanding all the sins by which I have so grievously offended Thee. I love Thee, O Blessed Jesus, my Saviour, because Thou didst suffer so much for love of me, an ungrateful sinner, and didst die on the Cross for my salvation.

O make me love Thee more and more, and show my love to Thee by faithfully keeping Thy Commandments all the days of my life. Amen.

Let us pray.

O God of heavenly powers, Who by the might of Thy command drivest away from men's bodies all sickness and all infirmity; be present in Thy goodness to this Thy servant, that his weakness may be banished and his strength recalled, and his health being thereupon restored, he may bless Thy holy Name, through our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

O God, by Whose command the moments of our life run their course; receive our prayers for this Thy servant, on whose behalf we implore Thy mercy; that our fears on account of his danger may be turned into joy at his recovery; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Almighty and everlasting God, Who succorest those that labor under perils and afflictions, we humbly beseech Thy majesty, that it may please Thee to send Thy holy Angel to uphold with Thy comfort Thy servant N., who in this house is suffering distress and affliction; that he may both receive Thy present aid, and attain eternal healing; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O Sovereign Lord, our God, Almighty, we beseech Thee to save us all, Thou only Physician of souls and bodies. Sanctify us all, Thou that healest every disease; and heal also this Thy servant. Raise him up from the bed of pain by Thy tender, loving kindness; visit him in mercy and compassion; drive away from him all sickness and infirmity; that being raised up by Thy mighty hand, he may serve Thee with all thankfulness; and that we, being made partakers of Thine unspeakable goodness, may praise and glorify Thee, Who doest works great and wonderful, and worthy to be praised. It is Thine to pity and to save; and to Thee would we ascribe glory, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, now and for ever, and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Unto God's gracious mercy and protection we commit thee. The Lord bless thee, and keep thee. The Lord make His face to shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee. The Lord lift up His countenance upon thee, and give thee peace, both now and evermore. Amen.

ADDITIONAL PRAYERS FOR THE SICK

For Comfort and Defence.

O Lord, we beseech Thee to refresh the soul of Thy servant [———], visited with sickness, that by the due acceptance of this chastisement, it may know the health of Thy grace and the joy of Thy salvation; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For Patience under Suffering.

Almighty God, whose most dear Son went not up to joy, but first He suffered pain, and entered not into glory before He was crucified; Mercifully grant that we, walking in the way of the Cross, may find it none other than the way of life and peace; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For Persons about to undergo an Operation

Grant, O Lord, we beseech Thee, that this Thy servant may be strengthened for the approaching operation, with entire reliance upon Thy grace and Thy love, so that the suffering of the body, being sanctified by union with the pain which Thy dear Son bore for us upon the cross, may be instrumental for the obtaining of Thy manifold gifts, for the perfection of his soul; through the same Thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For Those in Prolonged Illness.

O God, Who dost mercifully accept the offering of our weakness, give Thy servant grace to abide in communion with Thee, that the lengthened season of sickness which hinders his work in the world may train him for the contemplation of Thy glory in the life of the blessed; Through Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen.

For the Desponding.

Comfort, we beseech Thee, most gracious God, all that are cast down and faint of heart amidst the sorrows and difficulties of the world [especially ——], and grant that, by the energy of Thy Holy Spirit, they may be enabled to go upon their way rejoicing, and give Thee continual thanks for Thy sustaining providence, through Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen.

For Persons Recovering from Sickness.

O God, the Giver of life and health, we praise Thee for Thy mercy which Thou hast shown in restoring this Thy servant to some measure of health. Enable him to use for Thy glory all the powers which Thou hast given him, and incline him, by the remembrance of his great danger, to live as one separated from the world, so that he may set about all his actions with a more steadfast endeavor to be found in the end acceptable unto Thee; through Jesus Christ. Amen.

For the Blind.

O God, Who hast sent Thy Son to be the true light of the world, grant that they who cannot see the things of the world may be the more fully enlightened and comforted by His inward guidance. Cheer them in their blindness with Thy heavenly manifestations. Show Thyself to such as know Thee not, and grant that they may thankfully accept the loss of earthly sight, as the means ordained of Thee for bringing their hearts to the contemplation of their own misery and of Thy holiness. Quicken those who know Thee by faith to a deeper intuition of Thy purity, that, beholding Thee with increasing love, they may become the more conformed to Thine image, until they behold Thee as Thou art, and awake to the full revelation of Thy glory; through the same Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For the Deaf.

O Lord, speak, we beseech Thee, with the voice of Thy Holy Spirit in the hearts of those who cannot hear the instruction of Thy ministers (especially ——), and grant whatsoever truths of Thy revelation they have learnt may be brought to their remembrance by His quickening power, so that the eyes of their understanding being opened to contemplate those mysteries which by the hearing of the ear they are no longer able to receive, they may advance in Thy knowledge; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For the Insane and Imbeciles.

O Heavenly Father, may Thy supernatural power sustain and comfort Thy servants who have lost the natural faculties of reason and self-control. Suffer not the Evil One to vex them. Impute not to them any unseemly word or action into which they may fall. Look upon them graciously, as redeemed by the Blood of Thy dear Son; and grant that they may be delivered from the darkness of the world, and attain to the glory of Thine immediate Presence; through the same Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For the Sanctification of Suffering

O Lord Jesus, have mercy upon all sufferers. Grant them, continually meditating upon Thy holy life of suffering, to realize in meekness the strength of Thine incarnation; in pain, the triumph of Thy passion; in poverty, the riches of Thy Godhead; in reproach, the satisfaction of Thy sympathy; in loneliness, the comfort of Thy continual Presence; in difficulty, the efficacy of Thine intercession; in perplexity, the guidance of Thy wisdom; and bring them of Thy mercy, when this suffering life is past, to the glorious Kingdom which, by Thy suffering, Thou didst purchase for all who would take refuge in Thy mediation. Amen.

For the Aged

O Lord, make the evening of life bright unto Thy servant. Cast him not away in the time of age; forsake him not when his strength faileth. Abide with him when it is towards evening and the day is far spent. Make his latter days pure, peaceful, sinless, and if it please Thee, painless. Guard his lying down and his rising up, from henceforth even forever. Let him wake up and be present with Thee. We ask all in the Name of our only Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

An Evening Prayer

O Lord, support us all day long of this troublous life, until the shadows lengthen and the evening comes, and the busy world is hushed, and the fever of life is over, and our work is done. Then in Thy mercy grant us a safe lodging, and a holy rest, and peace at the last; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

FOR A DYING COMMUNICANT

Rev. xix. 1, 4-10; St. Luke xxiii. 38-44

Psalm iv., xxiii., xliii., cxxi.

O Sovereign Lord, our God, Almighty, Who willest that all men should be saved, and come to a knowledge of the truth; Who desirest not the death of the sinner, but rather that he should be converted and live; we pray and beseech Thee, loose the soul of this Thy servant from every bond, and free it from every curse. For Thou art He that loosest the fettered, and raisest up the crushed, O Thou Hope of the hopeless! Command, therefore, O Lord, that the soul of Thy servant be released in peace, and go to rest in Thine eternal tabernacles with all Thy Saints, through Thine Only Begotten Son; with Whom, and with Thy Holy and life-giving Spirit, Thou art blessed now and ever, and unto ages of ages.

Almighty and everlasting God, who hast been pleased to breathe into man a soul according to Thy likeness, do Thou, while at Thy bidding dust returns to dust, command Thine image to be associated with Thy Saints and elect in an everlasting home; and gently and tenderly receive it as it returns unto Thee, and send Thy holy Angels to meet it, and show it the way of righteousness, and open the gates of Thy glory.
Amen.

A Short Litany for the Dying

O God the Father of Heaven; have mercy upon the soul of Thy servant.

O God the Son, Redeemer of the world; have mercy upon the soul of Thy servant.

O God the Holy Ghost; have mercy upon the soul of Thy servant.

O Holy Trinity, One God; have mercy upon the soul of Thy servant.
Thou Who art Three and One; have mercy upon the soul of Thy servant.

O God the Holy of Holies; have mercy upon him.

Good Lord deliver him.

By Thy holy Incarnation;

By Thy holy Nativity;

By Thy holy Circumcision;

By Thy holy Epiphany;

By Thy holy Baptism;

By Thy holy Passion;

By Thy holy and most loving Death;

By Thy holy Descent into hell;

By Thy glorious Resurrection;

By Thy wonderful Ascension;

By the Coming of the Holy Ghost the Comforter;

We sinners do beseech Thee to hear us:

That it may please Thee to deliver the soul of Thy servant from the prince of darkness, and the place of punishment;—We beseech Thee to hear us, O Lord.

That it may please Thee to put all his sins out of remembrance for ever;

That it may please Thee mercifully to pardon whatever guilt he hath contracted by the fraud of the devil, or by his own sinfulness and weakness;

That he may be enabled by Thy bounty to receive that remission of his sins which he has ever longed for;

That it may please Thee to give to this our brother a place of refreshment, and light, and everlasting blessedness;

That it may please Thee to give him joy and gladness in Thy Kingdom, with Thy Saints and elect;

That he may with confidence wait for the Day of Judgment;

That it may please Thee to show him that sight so full of loveliness, Thy holy and glorious Face looking on him in love;

O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world; have mercy upon him.

O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world; have mercy upon him.

O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world; grant him Thy Peace.

The Commendatory Prayer from the Prayer Book may follow if the end seems near.

The God of peace, Who brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus Christ, the great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant; Make you perfect in every good work to do His will, working in you that which is well pleasing in His sight; through Jesus Christ, to Whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

COMMUNION OF THE SICK

At the Communion of the Sick the following Collects, Epistles and Gospels may be substituted at the discretion of the Minister for those in the Book of Common Prayer:

Collect for the Third Sunday after Epiphany.

For the Epistle. Isaiah lxi. 1-4.

The Gospel. St. Luke v. 18-26.

Collect for the Second Sunday in Lent.

The Epistle. 1 St. John iii. 1-4.

The Gospel. St. Luke iv. 38-42.

Collect for the Third Sunday after Trinity.

The Epistle. 1 St. Peter i. 3-10.

The Gospel. St. John xiv. 1-7.

All else shall be as in the Prayer Book, except that for the Gloria in Excelsis one or more of the Additional Prayers for the Sick may be said.

THE ANOINTING OF THE SICK

Should the Sick Person humbly and earnestly desire to be anointed, with full faith in the power of the Lord Jesus Christ. Before the Blessing the Priest shall anoint him upon the forehead or breast, saying:

As with this visible oil thy body outwardly is anointed, so our Heavenly Father grant of His infinite goodness that thy soul inwardly may be anointed with the Holy Ghost, Who is the Spirit of all strength, comfort, relief and gladness. May He vouchsafe you His great mercy, if it be His blessed will, to restore unto thee bodily health, and strength to serve Him, and send thee release for all thy pains, troubles and diseases, both in body and mind. And howsoever His goodness, by His Divine and unsearchable providence, shall dispose of thee, we, His unworthy minister and servants, humbly beseech the eternal Majesty to do with thee according to the multitude of His innumerable mercies, and to pardon thee all thy sins and offences, committed by all thy bodily senses, passions and carnal affections. May He also vouchsafe mercifully to grant unto thee ghostly strength by His Holy Spirit, to withstand and overcome all temptations and assaults of thine adversary, that in no wise he prevail against thee, but that thou mayest have perfect victory and triumph against the devil, sin and death; through Christ our Lord, Who by His death hath overcome the prince of death, and with the Father and the Holy Ghost liveth and reigneth God, world without end. Amen.

Unless the Oil has been previously consecrated the Minister shall bless it after the Gospel in the Communion Service.

Prayer for the Blessing of the Oil

Almighty and Merciful God, Who has granted such grace unto Thy Priests, that whatsoever they do rightly in Thy Name is held as done by Thee; we entreat of Thy great goodness that Thou wouldst bless and sanctify this element of oil, the Sign and Pledge of Thy healing mercy, to him anointed herewith; and make it a heavenly medicine and remedy to banish all pain, weakness, and disease of body and soul; and that Thy perfect anointing and blessing may abide within him forevermore, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

FOR THE COMMUNION OF THE SICK WHEN THE BLESSED SACRAMENT IS CARRIED TO THEM FROM THE CHURCH

When it seems undesirable, on account of the extreme weakness of a sick Person, or the circumstances under which he lives, to celebrate the Holy Communion in his room, the Minister may proceed as follows:

At the time of Communion in the Church the Priest shall reserve so much of the Sacrament of the Body and Blood as shall serve the sick Person and any who may communicate with him.

After the Service, so soon as he conveniently may, he shall go and minister the same, first to those who are present and then to the sick Person.

Before the Communion he shall say: The General Confession, the Absolution, the Comfortable Words, and the Prayer of Humble Access.

After Communion he shall say the Lord's Prayer, and the Prayer following, with the Blessing.

APPENDIX XVI.

REPORT OF THE JOINT BOARD UPON THE SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE OF AMERICA

The Joint Board appointed upon the "Seamen's Church Institute of America" begs leave to report that while the call for the National Organization in the Church of the work for the men upon our many waters is, with each year, and especially in this year of the opening of the Panama Canal, becoming more and more pronounced, the wide distribution of the membership of the Board—representatives of larger ports far distant from each other—has made it impossible to hold a meeting. The Bishop of California has endeavored to act as far as he could upon the resolutions communicated to him from the Board of Missions, as follows:

"WHEREAS, The General Convention has resolved, 'That in accordance with the resolutions of the General Convention the Board of Missions be asked to proceed to the due organization of the work as contemplated at as early a date as possible'; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Bishop of California be elected President of the Board of the Seamen's Church Institute of America as appointed at the last General Convention, and that he be authorized to take such steps in his discretion as will effect a complete organization of the Board on the general lines laid down in the Report of the Joint Commission to the General Convention of 1907. (See pp. 114-115 of the Journal of 1907.)

Resolved, That in taking this action, it is to be understood that, while commending it to the attention of the Church, this Board assumes no financial or other responsibility for the work of the Seamen's Church Institute of America. As contributions to the Institute will not help this Board to meet its obligations for the work entrusted to it by the Church, it should not be called or recognized as an Auxiliary to the Board."

He has been in correspondence with other members of the Board and has made such effort as he could under the circumstances on general lines and by approach to individuals to secure funds to initiate the general work, but the way for it has not yet opened up financially. Local movements report, however, encouraging progress and there seems to be general willingness to affiliate, providing due local autonomy can be preserved. At several points the common flag has been adopted.

But in order to comply with the provision calling for all reports of Commissions to be made known two months before the assembling of the General Convention, all that seems possible under the limitations is for the Board to submit this brief memorandum and to explain that it sees no opportunity, with its widely scattered membership, to hold a meeting before the assembling of the General Convention itself and then to prepare a full report. It therefore asks this indulgence and will endeavor to lay the more complete report before the Convention at some early day of the session.

For the Board,

WILLIAM F. NICHOLS, President.

SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT

Pursuant to the consent given it to prepare a report supplementary to that presented earlier in the session, the Joint Board of the Seamen's Church Institute of America begs to further report that the members of the Board have held their first meeting, it having been found impracticable, for reasons stated in the preliminary report already laid before the General Convention, to convene hitherto.

The resolutions of the Board of Missions, quoted in full in that preliminary report, showed the necessity laid upon this Joint Board to seek other status than that of an Auxiliary to the Board of Missions, as contemplated in the enactments of the General Conventions of 1907 and 1910. In seeking such a status of efficiency, this Board submits to the General Convention a resolution, appended to this report, constituting this Board a Standing Commission of the Convention itself.

Should the General Convention see fit to so emphasize this effort toward a better realization of a spiritual provision for those on the many waters, that in itself would clarify and fix what would seem to this Board a decided advance in our survey of the world as the missionary field.

Many conditions are recalling the Church to the primary facts of its existence and work. We have not been without indications of a somewhat animated interest, in asking the very first question of the Catechism, Churchwise and corporately. Our plea is that there may be a quickened and concentrated attention to the first question in the old geography. While some are querying of the Church, What is your name? our hope is that it may be opportune to reilluminate the consciousness of the Church with the statement of our childhood, that the earth is composed of land and water. Water, as well as land, and humanity threading the many waters, as well as humanity on the many lands, and it will more fully stress the scope of the Convention prayer that the Gospel of Jesus Christ may be truly preached, truly received and truly followed in all places, by no means excepting those places where men are afloat. For a thickening population of the inland and ocean waters raises every year a ringing note of challenge to the Church's mission to bestir herself more generally and corporately to meet the conditions. Noble local agencies have been alive to the opportunity and need for many years, and it is most fortunate that coincident with this triennial meeting in the Metropolis of our country is the opening of the great new building of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, 25 South Street.

The Board believes that this worthy Metropolitan symbol of the interest and generosity of the people of this city and of the singular experience and skill of the immediate administration in providing for every phase of this happy philanthropy is epochal for the work at large. It cannot fail to be an object lesson to every member of this Convention who visits it, of what a strong Church should strongly do, and where a missionary Church should minister as if she meant it.

The Civil Government has recognized its Titanic Memorial as a lighthouse. May the Church, too, see a great light as to her bearings for work among those upon the waters.

Statistics have been abundantly cited in previous reports. It is enough to say that there is evidence that at many points the opening of the Panama Canal alone, not to speak of other new developments on our waterways, will increase such statistics by leaps and bounds, and our appeal is to every member of this Convention, and, indeed, to the Church itself, who has contact with seafaring interests in local harbors or ports as tourists, as sharers in commercial enterprises, or as including the vast number of sailormen, to co-operate in putting the record of the General Convention in this matter where it ought to be.

The Board would submit to the General Convention the following resolutions, viz.:

1st. Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That a Joint Commission of seventeen is hereby constituted for the work among men on our many waters, continuing the work of this Commission as a Standing Commission, as "The Board of the Seamen's Church Institute of America," with power to effect its own organization on the general lines approved by the General Convention of 1907, and to fill vacancies in its membership that occur in the intervals between the regular sessions of the General Convention.

2d. Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the following be appointed as the members of the Board to serve until the General Convention of 1916, and that a provisional organization of this Board, as submitted, be approved.

THE BISHOP OF CALIFORNIA, Chairman.
 THE BISHOP OF TEXAS.
 THE BISHOP OF MASSACHUSETTS.
 THE BISHOP OF CHICAGO.
 THE BISHOP OF NEW YORK.
 THE REV. PHILO W. SPRAGUE.
 THE REV. EDWIN B. NIVER, D.D.
 THE VEN. JOHN A. EMERY.
 THE REV. HENRY H. SNEED.
 THE REV. ARCHIBALD R. MANSFIELD, Secretary.
 THE REV. CHARLES H. YOUNG.
 MR. WILLIAM W. FRAZIER.
 MR. EDMUND L. BAYLIES, Vice-Chairman.
 MR. HENRY L. HOBART.
 MR. ECKLEY B. COXE, JR.
 ADMIRAL A. T. MAHAN.
 FRANCIS J. McMASTER.

The officers, together with Admiral A. T. Mahan, to constitute the Executive Committee.

For the Board,
 WILLIAM F. NICHOLS, President.

APPENDIX XVII.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMISSION ON AMERICAN CHURCHES IN EUROPE

The Joint Commission on American Churches in Europe respectfully reports as follows:

This report, like that of 1910 (Journal, pp. 529-532, Appendix IX.), must begin with an expression of deep grief at the inroads of death since the preceding Convention. Two members of the Commission, its Chairman, the benevolent and beloved Bishop of Albany, and its most important lay member, John Pierpont Morgan, have passed away. For the vacancies thus created the Commission would recommend the appointment of the Bishop of Marquette and Mr. George Zabriskie of New York.

As and if thus continued, the Commission would consist of the following twelve members: The Bishop of Pittsburgh; the Bishop of Ohio; the Bishop of Massachusetts; the Bishop of Chicago; the Bishop of Marquette; the Rev. John F. Butterworth, D.D.; the Rev. William T. Manning, D.D.; the Rev. Alexander Mann, D.D.; Mr. Francis Lynde Stetson; Mr. Charles C. Haight; Mr. Henry Lewis Morris and Mr. George Zabriskie.

Again, as in 1910, we have to record with sorrow the death of a devoted and faithful Bishop-in-Charge of the American Churches in Europe. The Right Rev. Thomas A. Jaggar, D.D., having died abroad, his duty has been taken up and discharged completely by the Bishop of Marquette, whose interesting and illuminating narrative of his visitation to all these churches may be read in the issue of The Living Church for July 12, 1913.

The Convention of 1910 adopted a resolution (Journal, p. 532) intended to procure an accurate and complete statement as to the legal status and tenure of each and every church in Europe connected with the Convocation and represented in this Convention. Such information has been sought and in some degree obtained. For purposes of record the following summary is made:

At the outset, for clearer understanding of the general situation, reference may be made to three corporations created by special laws of the State of New York, which respectively hold the title to the property of one or another of four of these churches in Europe.

The first of these New York corporations is "The Board of Trustees of St. Paul's American Protestant Episcopal Church, Rome, Italy," created by the Act, Chapter 615 of the Laws of 1872 as amended in 1873 by the Act, Chapter 488. This corporation holds the title to the property of the Church in Rome. It is under the direction of seven trustees, the Rev. William M. Grosvenor, D.D., the Hon. Henry White, Mr. Francis Lynde Stetson (Secretary), Mr. Henry Lewis Morris, Mr. R. Fulton Cutting, Mr. George Zabriskie and the Hon. Thomas Nelson Page.

The second of these New York corporations is "The Board of Trustees of Foreign Parishes of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America," created by the Act, Chapter 257 of the Laws of 1883 and confirmed by the Act, Chapter 268 of the Laws of 1913. This corporation holds the title to the property of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Paris, and also to that of the Church of the Holy Spirit in Nice. It is under the direction of nine trustees, the Hon. Henry White, Mr. Francis Lynde Stetson, Mr. Edmund L. Baylies, Mr. Henry Lewis Morris (Secretary), Mr. R. Fulton Cutting, Mr. Edward F. Winslow, Mr. H. Herman Harjes, Mr. George Zabriskie and the Hon. Levi P. Morton.

The third of these New York corporations is "The Board of Trustees of St. James's American Protestant Episcopal Church, Florence, Italy," created by the Act, Chapter 211 of the Laws of 1909. This corporation holds the title to the fine new building of the St. James's Church in the Via Bernardo Rucellai, but has not yet been enabled to take the title to the smaller property in the Via Carmina mentioned in the report of 1910 (Journal, p. 532). This New York corporation is under the direction of eleven trustees, the Bishop of Pittsburgh, the Bishop of Ohio, the Bishop of Marquette, the Hon. Henry White, Mr. Charles C. Haight, Mr. Francis Lynde Stetson (Secretary), Mr. Henry Lewis Morris, Mr. R. Fulton Cutting, Mr. George Zabriskie, Mr. Frank J. Mather and the Hon. Thomas Nelson Page.

It will be observed that, with a view to convenience of meetings, as far as practicable common members have been placed on the Joint Commission and on each of the three Boards.

Under the New York legislation, the electors of the several churches are chosen by the respective vestries subject to confirmation, first, by the Board of Trustees, and finally, by the Bishop-in-charge of the churches in Europe. This requirement of the statute differs from that of Canon 51 [XII.], which should be amended accordingly as set forth in a resolution appended to this report.

We may pass now from the legal incorporations in New York to the separate consideration of the eight American churches in Europe, as follows:

1. St. Paul's Church, Rome.
2. Holy Trinity Church, Paris.
3. Church of the Holy Spirit, Nice.
4. St. James's Church, Florence.
5. St. John's Church, Dresden.
6. The Church of the Ascension, Munich.
7. Emmanuel Chapel, Geneva.
8. The Church in Lucerne.

These several parishes are associated in the "Convocation of the American Churches in Europe" recognized by the Constitution (Article I, Section 6) and by Canon 51 [VIII.]. This year the Convocation met in Geneva, the Bishop of Marquette being in attendance, and elected as delegates to the General Convention the Rev. C. M. Belden of Geneva and Mr. E. J. White of Paris, and as alternates the Rev. J. F. Butterworth, D.D., formerly of Dresden, and Mr. Frank J. Mather of Florence. We are indebted to the Rev. C. M. Belden, Secretary of the Convocation (through Dr. Butterworth), for much of the information concerning these churches contained in the following summary:

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, ROME

As already stated, the corporate title is "The Board of Trustees of St. Paul's American Protestant Episcopal Church, Rome, Italy" (Laws of New York, 1872, Chapter 615, and 1873, Chapter 488). The title to all the property, real and personal, is in the actual possession of the vestry under the Board of Trustees. But the legal title under the Italian law is involved in complications similar to those affecting St. James's Church, Florence, as reported in 1910. It appears that no royal decree legalizing the position of the corporation under the Italian law has ever been sought. An inquest is necessary, such as that recommended by the resolution of 1910. The church edifice at the corner of Via Napoli and Via Nazionali—a monument to its builder, the first Rector, the late Rev. Robert J. Nevin, D.D.—is a beautiful structure in the North Italian style, containing famous mosaics by Burne-Jones. The church (but not the rectory) has been treated as free from tax. It has sittings for about 450. The communicants number 267. The present Rector is the Rev. Walter Lowrie, who is devoting himself to clearing up the legal conditions.

HOLY TRINITY CHURCH, PARIS

The title to the property of this church is in the Trustees of Foreign Parishes (Laws of New York, 1883, Chapter 257; 1913, Chapter 268). The glorious edifice on the Avenue de l'Alma with its adjoining rectory was largely the work of the late Rector, the Rev. John B. Morgan, D.D., who has been succeeded by the present incumbent, the Rev. Samuel Newell Watson, M.D., D.D., recently Rector of St. Paul's, Akron, O. This church is altogether the most important of the eight under jurisdiction of this Commission. It has from 500 to 700 communicants, and a large permanent congregation. The highly satisfactory condition of the church is the result of the devoted and efficient service not only of the late Dr. Morgan, but also of his admirable assistant for nearly fifteen years, the Rev. H. W. G. Mesney, to whom also are due our thanks for his maintenance of the work (under direction of Bishop Jaggard) during the interval between the death of Dr. Morgan and the coming of Dr. Watson.

CHURCH OF THE HOLY SPIRIT, NICE

The title to the property of the Church also is vested in the Board of Trustees of Foreign Parishes. By the law of France it is recognized only as a civil society, not an ecclesiastical body. On the "Taxe Fonciere" Schedule it is named "Société Civile par Actions de l'Eglise Protestant Americaine." The annual tax is 2,060 francs. On the Schedule of Enregistrement it is termed "Congregation Religieuse." The church is finely built of gray stone with spire and an adjoining rectory in harmony. There are eighty communicants and sittings for 350. There is a handsome endowment. The Rector is the Rev. William S. Adamson, formerly Rector in Geneva. The Joint Commission grieves to announce the death of Mr. Adamson on October 8, 1913, since the preparation of this report.

ST. JAMES'S CHURCH, FLORENCE

The history of the beginnings, and of the property complications of this church were given at great length in the report of 1910 (Journal, Appendix IX., pp. 525-532). The subsequent proceedings are given in the printed report of the Senior Warden, Mr. Frank J. Mather, which is of such permanent value as properly to be annexed to this report. (See Appendix "A.") The Church at large is under great obligation to Mr. Mather for his generous gifts and labors, as well as to his devoted predecessor, Franklin Torrey (whose long and invaluable services cannot be overvalued), and his daughter, Mrs. Berwind. The benefactions of Mr. J. P. Morgan and the munificent foundation of Mr. Edward F. Searles, added to the gifts mentioned, have made possible the noble new Church of St. James in the Via Bernardo Rucellai, consecrated November 8, 1911, by Bishop Jaggar. A full description of the beautiful edifice with the names of donors was published in the Italian Journal of November 9, 1911. The church will seat about 700. There are 165 communicants. As will be seen by the report of Mr. Mather, owing to the intervention of Secretary Knox, and to Ambassador O'Brien, to whom our thanks are due, the title to this new property has been cleared by Royal Decree, of which a copy is in possession of the Trustees in New York. Though the old property in Via Carmina is not yet freed for transfer, it seems available for rental. The Rector is the Rev. Henry Rawle Wadleigh, formerly of the Church of the Incarnation, New York, and of the Church of the Ascension, Munich.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, DRESDEN

The title to the property of this church is vested under the laws of Saxony in "Die Stiftung American Church of St. John," the charter having been granted with the understanding that if the congregation express a desire for change, such desire shall be carried out by the duly constituted Representatives of the Parish, the Rector and the Senior Warden, who must be able to produce the American Consul's certificate that they hold such offices. The annual election is held on the Monday following Advent Sunday. The beautiful church and the fine rectory are of stone and in every way appropriate. There are 125 communicants. The Rector is the Rev. Henry E. Cotton, formerly of Emmanuel Church, Baltimore.

THE CHURCH OF THE ASCENSION, MUNICH

The title to the property of this church (wholly personal and worth about $4,500) is held by its Vestry. The excellent and popular work of the church is conducted upon the first floor of one of the public schools

In the very centre of the Salvator Platz, held under a most favorable lease from the municipality. The room makes an ideal chapel and parish house. The chapel part is very churchly and well fitted. The attendance is highly satisfactory. The other part is open six hours every day as a reading-room and tea-room. There is a weekly parish reception. There are thirty communicants. This fine work is going on under the direction of the Rev. Webster W. Jennings as Rector.

EMMANUEL CHURCH, GENEVA

The title to the property of this church is held by the Swiss Civil Corporation, "La Société de la Chapelle d'Emmanuel à Genève." The officers of this body are the President-Secretary, elected for a term of five years by the stockholders. The stock is divided into shares, a controlling interest being held by the Wardens and Vestrymen of the Ecclesiastical body. Upon the death of a Warden or Vestryman his shares, under the charter, pass to his successor in office. These shares—which have no financial value—cannot be otherwise transferred, nor can they be bought or sold. The civil corporation engages in no money transactions. Its function is simply to hold the property, so as to insure legal recognition of the Society. The State exercises no control over the election of the Vestry, which, on the other hand, does control the appointment of the officers of the Civil Society. There is an annual tax ("Contributions directes") of 112 francs on the corporation, but no tax upon the real estate. The church edifice, which is a good stone building, is not large, but is seated so as to be available to its full capacity. There are ninety communicants. The Rector, the Rev. Charles M. Belden, is Secretary of Convocation, and also is a clerical delegate to the General Convention.

THE CHURCH IN LUCERNE

The services here are conducted in the Old Catholic Church, during the summer only, beginning this year upon June 15th. This work is under charge of the Rev. George Henry Kaltenbach.

In all of the places mentioned, the Bishop-in-charge, the Rectors and the congregations have received from the American Consuls and Ambassadors kind attentions, for which we wish to make a grateful recognition.

The work and the worth of these churches and of their clergy has been fairly stated by the Bishop-in-charge in his report in The Living Church of July 12, 1913. He well says:

"The Church in this country ought to change its attitude toward the work. I do not think they appreciate it at all. Not a single clergyman now working there could live on the salary paid by the Church unless he had private means, or some other resources could be touched. The amount of pastoral work is very large. The clergy get into touch with a vast number of people, even those who tarry but a few days. They deal with many tragedies. They are as much missionaries as are the men in Japan. The temptations to the young in foreign travel, especially when they are alone, are terrible. . . . The student work in Paris is often rescue work, and no one can do rescue work so well as 'the man from home' and the Church from home. I do not think I ever met a body of clergy with so high an educational average. . . . And I never expected to find so much touch through language and custom with the surrounding life. The work is the more remarkable because in almost every case it began as one man's work with nothing but his own vision and patience and devotion to build on. There have actually been no failures yet."

Truly, the work thus described and its maintenance deserves the favorable consideration of the Church, and the Convocation of American Churches in Europe should make an annual report to the Bishop-in-charge for subsequent transmission to the Joint Commission.

The annexed resolutions are submitted for the consideration of the General Convention. [For the resolutions see p. 249.]

CORTLANDT WHITEHEAD, Chairman.
FRANCIS LYNDE STETSON, Secretary.

APPENDIX "A"

(1) The title to the P. E. St. James's Church, Florence, is vested in, and held by, "The Board of Trustees of St. James's American Protestant Episcopal Church, Florence, Italy," a corporation created by the Legislature of the State of New York—Chap. 211, Laws of 1909.

The Trustees of that Corporation are about twelve in number. The late Mr. Morgan was one; Mr. Francis Lynde Stetson is one. There were two or three Bishops on the Board. I have not here the details of the present constitution of the Board, but Mr. Stetson has, and I am sure will furnish the same.

(2) In relation to—"How affected by Italian law," I may say that, now, we are entirely independent of it, by grace of a Royal Decree—granted by the King of Italy—authorizing the purchasing, vesting, and control of the entire above St. James's property in the corporation, as above named.

When our (late) Mr. Torrey took title to the land, he was careful to see that he took a good title; but he little dreamed, and no one would, of any difficulty in disposing of it to any suitable ecclesiastical body, corporation, or otherwise. But he found, when he came to make his deed of the property to the above Corporation, that, under the law of Italy, such deed was invalid—that no such ecclesiastical body was recognized by that law. In consequence of which, the title to the property still remained in Mr. Torrey, and, in case of his decease, would be subject to an inheritance transfer tax of 16 ²/₃% on a ²/₃ valuation—such taxation to go on, indefinitely, with each subsequent decease.

After careful consideration it was clear that there was but one procedure that would meet the situation—viz., a decree by the King (of above tenure) a Royal Decree—very difficult of attainment. I know no other instance in the Kingdom of Italy where such Decree has been obtained, in similar behalf.

Undoubtedly it would have been impracticable of attainment in behalf of "St. James's," except for the zealous aid, and intervention, of Mr. Stetson, enlisting the hearty co-operation of Secretary Knox, who directed our Ambassador at Rome to do everything in his power to aid us. We were enabled, thus, to make the matter International. Mr. Pierpont Morgan told me, here, that he spoke personally to the King of Italy, requesting him to issue such Decree.

I inclose a copy of the "Decree." It discloses one or two clerical errors, which do not impair its validity. I forward a translation, approved by counsel, more literal than elegant. The matter has excited considerable interest in the English Churches here, who found themselves embarrassed, similarly, as we were.

To sum up the situation; our title is now absolutely vested in the above N. Y. Corporation; free from taxation, or any menace whatever.

The above Royal Decree is recorded in the proper Real Estate records of the City of Florence.

(3) I inclose a card showing a picture of the Church property, with the exception that the spire is not yet erected. The location is excellent; the grounds are large, with wide margin on every side of the building. The building is of stone; all windows on first floor are stained glass—two of them notable—the large one in the chancel given by Mr. Torrey and his family; the large front one by Mrs. Hollander. The fine marble pulpit and stairs, of the best marbles of Carrara, Languedoc, and Siena, are the gifts of Mrs. E. J. Berwind.

Many other valuable gifts have been made by friends. The organ has been doubled in capacity, electric lights are everywhere installed—also a large steam-heating plant.

The ground cost about $13,000, and was the generous gift of Mr. Edwin F. Searles, of Methuen, Mass., except for whose great generosity no attempt would have been made to build. Mr. Searles gave $10,000 more, for building, and, when Mr. Torrey asked him to loan $10,000 more, without interest, he promptly gave that, also, making the total of his gifts $35,000. It was contemplated that such sum would substantially complete the erection and furnishing, but the zeal and ambition of Mr. Torrey stimulated him to forecast the future, to enlarge the scale, generally, and to make the property a credit to the American people. It has cost about $80,000. In the United States, the building alone would have cost double the above sum.

Even with Mr. Searles' princely liberality, as a foundation of the first importance, the Church, at least on anything like its present scale, would never have been attempted or completed, except for the boundless energy, unflagging work and care, and characteristic sagacity of Mr. Franklin Torrey, who gave the last four years, perhaps more, of his life; devoted almost exclusively to the acquisition, erection and completion of the land, building, and property, generally. He did not leave Florence one night during all those years. His residence of sixty years in Italy, his experience of twenty years as Consul at Carrara, and his extensive career, for years, as a prominent exporter at Leghorn and in large marble works at Carrara, giving him close touch with the Italian temperament, admirably equipped him for such work, and he was unsparingly devoted to it. Mr. Torrey and Mr. and Mrs. Berwind gave us, it is estimated, some $10,000. Mr. Pierpont Morgan gave us $6,000.

Reference ought to be made to Mr. Melvin Bale, an English gentleman, of some forty years' residence in Italy, who, in addition to his very liberal gifts, seeing the strain imposed on Mr. Torrey, in his last years, consented to serve on the Vestry, and, as Treasurer, serving the interests of the Church with rare good judgment and efficiency. The generosity of the people at large has been unbounded; in some cases beyond what they should have given.

Absolutely all indebtedness of the Church has been paid, so that no debt hangs over the Church. Some two or three friends advanced the last $3,600, leaving it as a debt of honor to be repaid at the convenience of the Church. There is now no legal debt unpaid, and only the above $3,600 of any kind.

The attendance of the Church has included, broadly, every Christian denomination. It supplies a much-needed demand.

In the absence of our Rector, Rev. Henry Rawle Wadleigh, I may commend his untiring devotion and great efficiency. His family are an attractive feature.

I should be glad to see more interest taken by prominent resident American men in "St. James's," not only as a Christian Church, but as a social and spiritual home for tourists and exiles in secula seculorum.

Friends of Mr. Venables have erected admirable memorabilia of him on the church walls. The Vestry have placed fine shields of brass with suitable inscriptions for Mr. Torrey and Mr. Morgan, and are about placing one thereon for Mr. Searles; though they need none for anyone living. Their names are already graven on all our hearts. But we are desirous that future generations shall know to whom they are indebted for such an admirable, delightful place of Christian worship.

The title and legal condition of the "Carmine property," the former place of worship, remain as yet unchanged. While effort is being made to extend the Royal Decree to that also, there is such an enormous accumulation of taxes that the result is uncertain. However, the policy of the Government seems to be simply to hold the taxes suspended, in case of transfer, to be paid in preference if sold but not, meanwhile, to disturb the possession or enjoyment of the property. So that we are at liberty to rent the property and enjoy the rentals; the situation being that, while the title is affected by taxation, as above, the property is an asset, and a productive asset, which it is proposed to hold, in any event, as the nucleus of an endowment.

But I fear that I am exhausting your patience. In the absence of Mr. Wadleigh this communication is made by the subscriber, put in Mr. Torrey's place, as senior warden, though no one can fill it.

FRANK J. MATHEB.

NOTE.—The Royal Decree of December 15, 1912, covering the new Church in via Bernardo Rucellai, referred to in the foregoing letter, has been followed by a similar Royal Decree dated November 30, 1913, covering the property in the Piazza del Carmine, as to which two certificates Mr. Mather writes under date of January 1, 1914, "absolutely all is clear, new site and old."

APPENDIX XVIII.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE ON THE DUTY OF THE CHURCH TO FOREIGN-BORN PEOPLES, AND THEIR CHILDREN, RESIDING IN THE UNITED STATES

The Joint Committee, consisting of five Bishops, five Presbyters, and five Laymen, appointed at the General Convention of 1910, to examine the subject of "The Duty of the Church to Foreign-born Peoples, and Their Children, Residing in the United States," and to submit its findings to this Convention, begs leave to report:

That it has conducted a correspondence touching the question with Immigration authorities, Governors and Secretaries of State, as well as with specialists in the social aspect of the foreign problem.

In addition, to each of the Bishops of the Church were addressed the following inquiries:

1. What proportion of the population of your Diocese is foreign-born, or the children of foreign-born parents?

2. Are these people generally, whether in rural or urban communities, grouped in colonies following national and racial differentiations—or is absorption taking place through distribution?

3. So far as you can state from experience or observation, are they noticeably loyal to the Churches in which they were reared, and do the Priests or Pastors of those Churches adequately minister to them?

4. If not, what, if any, specific and definite work among them has been inaugurated by our Church? And with what success?

5. What suggestion have you to make to the Committee relative to the question, "What is the duty of the Church to our foreign-born population, and their children?"

6. How shall the Church best discharge that duty?

The replies hereto, as well as to other communications, enable the Committee to bring to the attention of the Church:

First. The reality and importance of the problem, together with the wonderful opportunity open to the Church, which conditions offer.

The foreigner bulks large to-day, regarded from any and every standpoint. New arrivals are aggregating a million or more every year. As a consequence, he touches and accentuates all the questions of the times. Thus he is a factor to be reckoned with politically, socially, economically and religiously.

In some quarters the query has frequently been made as to the distribution and assimilation of the foreign immigrant.

Your Committee, however, does not propose to discuss that phase of the subject. It notes the admirable regulations governing immigration—which, moreover, are being constantly improved. It recalls the "Housing" bills passed, or under contemplation, by various States: "Child Labor" laws, and those affecting the Employment of Women, together with the enactment of "Employers' Liability" bills, and kindred acts grounded on sane, moral, humane and social principles. It is also of opinion that nothing is more far-reaching, efficacious and hopeful than the Compulsory Educational acts, reaching out a helping hand to the children of the foreigner, and bringing them into close and beneficial contact with American institutions and American civilization.

Such legislation augurs much for the future. It gives promise that the rising generation of foreign-born parentage is being, and will be, brought up under influences which make for good and useful citizenship.

The Committee merely mentions this in passing. Its province is confined to an examination of what the Church's duty to the foreigner and his children is. With this in mind, the Committee would suggest that the Church address herself to existing conditions. Proceeding along these lines, it has been found:

Second. That the foreign problem is at present, apparently, confined to the North.

If a line were drawn across the continent in continuation of the Ohio River, it would be observed that while States and Dioceses north thereof are more or less acutely aware of the presence and influence of the immigrant, yet those to the southward are scarcely aware of him.

Perhaps figures will make this clear. Indiana shows a "foreign-born" population (including children born here) of 25 per cent.; Ohio has over 30 per cent.; Idaho about the same; Montana, 50 per cent.; Massachusetts, 60 per cent., and so on.

By way of contrast, it is to be noted that Kentucky and Virginia show about 2 per cent.; Tennessee about as few; and North Carolina less than 1 per cent. These are typical.

Nevertheless, the latter figures indicate a southward setting of the tide of immigration. They serve to make emphatic the fact that the foreign problem is national, rather than sectional. Both Church and country should take cognizance thereof. Sooner or later, varying in degree, Southern cities will have to face the problem in all its aspects, as New York, Chicago, Milwaukee, Duluth and San Francisco are now doing.

This brings up the question sharply, What is to be done for our foreign-born inhabitants and their children?

It is asked in the hope, and with the earnest desire clearly understood, that Church and State shall do their utmost for these peoples, from whom are largely to come the future sons and daughters of the Kingdom, and of the land.

Third. The next inquiry necessarily arising is as to the methods of procedure.

(a) So complex is the situation, however—(conditions varying as environment, employment, or national and ecclesiastical groups and colonies differ)—that the Committee is compelled to rely on the recommendations received from correspondents in intimate touch with their own local problems, persuaded that they will serve at least as a working basis on which to begin a general movement, with respect to the alien population throughout the country.

Primarily, such recommendations emphasize the Church's responsibility in the premises. Plainly, she is under obligation to minister to the foreigner here, as well as to the native-born. The only apology for her existence is that her mission is to all men everywhere, without regard to their language, color, or place of nativity.

It is with some little satisfaction that attention is drawn to work being undertaken by the Church's clergy, here and there, among Oriental and European people now resident in the United States.

Such enterprise, however, is open to the criticism and the weakness, that it is more or less individual in character. Corporately, or through the Board of Missions, the Church has done practically nothing in this behalf. Yet so large has the problem become, and so pressing is the need, that it would seem to be culpable to leave work as important and imperative as this to the unsupported efforts of any one man—be he Bishop or Priest, and never so zealous.

Individual Dioceses or Parishes cannot cope with it adequately—nor should they be expected to do so.

The Committee submits that this is a matter of sufficient moment and dignity to enlist the interest, co-operation and support of the whole Church—for here at hand the opportunity is open to engage in mission work, at once Foreign and Domestic, through the presence of the thousands and tens of thousands of these aliens, appealing (however unconsciously) for help and guidance and pastoral care.

Surely, such a work deserves recognition, and should, in contemplating any Forward Movement, become part of the Church's Missionary programme.

Moreover, work at home here among foreigners may prove to be an agency, under God's Blessing, whereby Missionaries for the Foreign Field may be secured, to labor among their own people in the land whence they have come.

(b) But this apart, the Committee adopts a suggestion made, which, as a prerequisite to success in any adventure for God among resident strangers, urges for the future a greater sympathy for, and with, the alien than is generally granted. The prejudice with which the foreigner is usually regarded must be broken down. It must give place to appreciation of what he is, and his possibilities. This must be the substitute for the superciliousness with which he is too often viewed. Studied effort should be made to know and better him. His antecedents, environment, habits and mode of thought; his social, moral, religious and economic conditions, should be intelligently considered.

(c) Theological schools should be urged to include this subject in their curriculum, so that candidates for the ministry may be in a degree, if not specially, trained to work among the foreign population, and to understand that the Church is for the stranger here, as well as for the native-born.

So far in general.

(d) Specifically, the immediate need is for candidates for this ministry.

To obtain them, two sources of supply are open—one at home; the other abroad.

As to the former, probably men could be procured from the several races of foreigners to enlist in work among their own people here. With reference to the latter, it may be possible to secure from abroad young men who can speak the language of a large number of immigrants, and who would be moved to come hither to serve their fellow-countrymen.

(e) But preliminary to this, measures must first be taken to support them. At present, there is no provision for the maintenance of a foreign-speaking ministry.

(f) Apart from this, however, an alternative is suggested as a means of meeting a contingency.

There are, doubtless, Priests of the Church, linguists of ability, who might become interested in the work and induced to devote themselves to it. Unquestionably, there are some thus gifted in the Church's ministry. This material should be ascertained and utilized. The Bishops probably could furnish the names and addresses of such clergymen.

(g) Further, the Committee finds that among the foreign population there are large numbers of Catholics of many names—other than Roman—who come from France, Germany, Russia, Poland, Bohemia, Greece, Turkey, Syria, and other countries, and who are historically, theologically and liturgically closely akin to this Church. Where groups of these brethren in Christ are residing, unprovided with churches or Priests of their own, they should receive the pastoral care and oversight of the clergy of the Church.

(h) To more efficiently minister among them, it is urged that the Church be wise enough and broad enough to make provision for that elasticity in the use of Liturgy and Ritual which the need demands. In certain instances, as among Swedish Lutherans, Old Catholics and members of Eastern Orthodox Churches, etc., to whom this Church's formularies are unfamiliar, permission might be granted, within limitations, to so modify the Prayer Book services as to meet the requirements.

(i) Where there are foreign congregations with Priests of their own, but no church buildings, it would be a fraternal act if the clergy would tender the use of the parish church in which these homeless strangers, as it were, might worship. This has already been done, with good results, in some instances. In one city, the Rector, with the sanction of the Bishop, offers the use of his church to several distinct congregations more or less allied to us. Here, at different hours, beginning early, the Priests of these people, with whom arrangements have been made, use the altar. Thus they are made to feel at home in their adopted land, and to realize the essential Oneness of this Branch of the Church Catholic with their own. Such hospitality might profitably be shown more generally.

(j) Incidentally, in this connection, the Committee suggests that the Historical Churches of Europe and Asia might well be informed of our earnest longing for unity; of our hope that, by God's help, it may come speedily; and of our anxious readiness to minister whenever we can to their scattered members without proselytizing them, and without any efforts on our part to win them from their old allegiance.

(k) Especially with reference to the members of the Orthodox Eastern Churches, it would be a long step in the direction of the discharge of the Church's duty if the Board of Missions could co-operate with the authorities of those Churches in the support of Priests of those Communions in places where they have no established congregations.

(l) Italian immigrants wherever met are generally presumed to be members of the Latin Communion. It has, however, reached the Committee that large numbers of them have repudiated allegiance to the Church of Rome, and are scattered throughout this land as sheep having no Shepherd. They should be looked after. For this purpose, a sympathetic approach, a more liberal and generous policy, would not be fruitless, either toward them, or toward other Italians who may still be loyal to the Roman Church. Indeed, this should be the Church's attitude to all immigrant people here. Of course, toward foreigners coming from non-Christian lands, a programme of Evangelization would have to be inaugurated.

(m) But whether with respect to them or to others, what has been suggested in this report would be incomplete were not the Sunday-school, as an agency, emphasized for its usefulness and potentialities.

Especially where peoples are in groups, or colonies, a beginning might be made by opening a Sunday-school under competent leadership and skilled teachers. It would afford laymen an opportunity to co-operate in this work. Diocesan authorities should urge this upon the consideration of both clergy and laity. The gaining of the children would practically solve the problem of the foreigner.

(n) From some sections the claim is made that the work would be facilitated if a Missionary official, such as an Archdeacon or Racial Suffragan Bishop, were placed in charge thereof. Possibly some such action might be an aid.

(o) As to the case of individual foreigners, it is suggested that at Ports of Entry, Chaplains be stationed, linguistically accomplished, to meet the stranger, and by using the "Follow-up" system, notify the Church's clergy of the arrival of immigrants at the destinations whither they are bound.

No reference, purposely, has been made in this report to work among the Negroes and Indians—which is already in charge of experts competent to deal with it.

This Committee has had to report as to the Church's Duty to the Foreigner, per se, who has come hither with his family to make a home, giving in the best that is in him in the upbuilding of the Nation, and receiving at the hands of Americans and Churchmen all that it is possible to give him, to make him a better and happier man, and an earnest and loyal Christian citizen.

Millions of such people are in the land to-day largely unshepherded, save for the slight attempts which, God be thanked, have been made to reach them, here and there, and which, nevertheless, have been so signally blest as to give promise of a rich harvest if more intelligently and adequately undertaken.

Let it be emphasized that this Church can never indicate more clearly her mission to the world, in obedience to the command and example of her Risen and Ascended Lord, than by essaying the salvation and redemption of the multitude standing at her very doors, gathered out of "all nations and kindreds and people and tongues," to whom it is her duty to minister, if she be truly Catholic and Apostolic. Note, it was in Jerusalem that Parthians, Medes, Elamites, the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and Judea, in Cappadocia, Pontus, Asia, Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya about Cyrene, strangers of Rome, Jews and proselytes, Cretes and Arabians, did hear in their own tongues the wonderful works of God!

It is not too much to add that never since Pentecost has there come to any land, or Church, a more blessed opportunity, or a more weighty responsibility, of duplicating that experience than is presented to the American Church in Christian America to-day.

The Committee subjoins a single resolution, leaving to the Convention to act with reference to the various suggestions offered.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMISSION ON CHRISTIAN UNITY

The Joint Commission on Christian Unity begs leave to report with a grateful recognition of the ever deepening and expanding spirit of fellowship evidenced throughout Christendom, and not least in this land of hospitable hope. It notes the dawning of a clearer conception of the purpose and goal of our aspirations, and a consequent shift of emphasis on methods to be employed. Beyond a doubt, the prospect for the coming of the Kingdom has brightened these three years past.

We cordially endorse the work done by the Commission on Faith and Order; and rejoice that they have been so generously equipped for the prosecution and exposition of the special enterprise referred to them; their extensive and inspiring report justifies a measure of brevity on our part herein. So, also, would we commend our two unofficial agencies, the Church Unity Society and the Christian Unity Foundation, which are steadily co-operating along helpful lines, and deserve an increasing measure of sympathy and support from us all.

The truly remarkable Edinburgh Missionary Conference of 1910 represented a decided step forward for the cause of unity; and the Continuation Committee of that Conference is a significant outcome thereof, on which we invoke the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

Other movements of far-reaching influence have been developed in the last triennium which merit our sympathetic interpretation, and fill us with quickened zeal.

We are reminded that in addition to the noble purpose of preparing for a future Conference with both Catholic and Protestant representatives on lines of thought and organization, we are also called upon to co-ordinate ourselves sympathetically and efficiently with present endeavors amongst our immediate brethren, toward reunion along the lines of Christian fellowship and work; likewise it is our duty to maintain the original function of this Commission in keeping the official door of this Church open to the approach of such bodies as may be influenced to seek it.

Recalling the message sent out by the last Pan-Anglican Council, we have addressed ourselves to this end and report that the Chairman of the Commission, by the authority vested in him, appointed representatives of the Commission to attend the meeting of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America held in the City of Chicago December 4-9, 1912, and the following are reported by the Council as having been seated thereat:

The Right Rev. C. P. Anderson, D.D., the Right Rev. Ethelbert Talbot, D.D., the Rev. F. Monroe Crouch, the Rev. J. Howard Melish, the Rev. Louis C. Washburn, D.D., the Rev. Samuel Tyler, the Rev. Holmes Whitmore, William F. Cochran, Robert W. Gardiner, John M. Glenn, F. H. Deknstel.

In the words of Bishop Anderson in welcoming the Council to his See City "no one could attend without being deeply impressed with the extraordinary ability, the exquisite loyalty to Christ and the passion for social righteousness which characterize the delegates. You are sure to give us a wider outlook, a deeper insight, and a fresher grip on our Christian responsibilities and duties."

We are happy to record the increasing earnestness which our Christian brethren are placing upon Unity, and we are confident that this will result in further steps toward the desired end.

As another recognized leader there put it: "It is now manifest to all, as it may not have been in the beginning, that this Federal Council is seeking through the voluntary action of the constituent bodies to manifest the Unity to which we have already attained. The fact that federation may not in our judgment fully meet the ideal of Unity which we believe the New Testament teaches, does not furnish any reason for withholding from it 'our sympathy and co-operation.' God expects us to use what Unity we have, and it is through the use of that, that He is to lead us into a closer and more perfect union. Your Committee believes that there are unmistakable signs that God is in this movement, and that He is guiding it towards some splendid consummation. It is not ours to see the end; it is ours simply to know that the Lord is leading, and if we follow on, He will lead us into that blessed Unity for which He prayed. This was the feeling and the spirit from beginning to end of the three hundred and more delegates of the twenty-eight communions, who came with Faith and went away with larger Faith."

The pronouncements of the Council have been published in a volume entitled "Christian Unity at Work," copies of which, together with other similar literature, can be secured at the National Office, 1611 Clarendon Building, Fourth Avenue and Eighteenth Street, New York City.

Your Commission then reports progress, with the recommendation that we reaffirm our reverent and eager concern for the primary and vital need in this day for Christian Unity; that we ungrudgingly and cordially bid God-speed to all who are contributing to the answer of our Blessed Lord's great intercession; "That they all may be one"; that we rejoice at every token amongst ourselves of the corrective grace that can qualify us humbly to share in the Blessed Spirit's processes toward unity; that we reissue the summons to a yet more general and resourceful co-operation with our several authorized agencies, and particularly that we cultivate a more constant and responsive habit of prayer for the illumination and power to know and do the will of the Great Head of the Church in this direction.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. W. PETERKIN, Chairman.

GEO. S. BENNITT, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMISSION APPOINTED TO CONSIDER THE RELIEF OF CLERGYMEN SUFFERING FROM TUBERCULOSIS

Your Commission respectfully report that they have been unable to secure full and accurate data on account of the failure of several, from whom information was sought, to pay any attention to repeated inquiries. Further, that, even though reports had been received from every Diocese, they would scarcely have been complete;

1. Because, apparently, no statistics are kept and the cases given are from memory.

2. Where the officials of a Diocese are of recent appointment, memory would extend over only a very limited period.

3. There is always great reluctance on the part of Tubercular patients to acknowledge the fact.

The reports received show the following facts: Dioceses reporting 79; number of cases in past 10 years, 80; past 5 years, 48; at present, 29. Number of deaths in the past 10 years, 38; 5 years, 14; past year, 4. The cases are distributed as follows: In the N. E., 11; S. E., 6; S. W., 5; N. W., 7. From these figures it will readily be seen that the cases are fairly well distributed among the four sections.

The average salary of those suffering from Tuberculosis is $1,083, one-third of the whole number received only $800 each, while only two were receiving more than $1,500.

The Commission find in the above statement gratifying evidence that the prevalence of Tuberculosis among the Clergy is not so great as had been feared. For this reason, they are not prepared to recommend special action by this Convention, believing that adequate provision for present needs can and will be made by Dioceses, Missionary Districts, parishes and individuals. Any attempt to deal with cases which are so widely distributed, through an Agency created by this Convention, would demand a large expenditure of time and money, which does not seem to be justified by existing conditions.

Your Commission would therefore very earnestly commend to the members of the Church the sympathetic consideration of all cases of suffering arising from this cause, and they offer the following resolution:

Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That the Joint Commission on the relief of Clergymen suffering from Tuberculosis be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

For the Commission,

RICHARD H. NELSON, Chairman.

CHARLES W. HINTON, Secretary.

APPENDIX XXI.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON THE STATUS OF THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

The Joint Commission on the Present Status of Theological Education in this Church begs leave to report:

This Commission was appointed at the General Convention of 1910, under the following resolutions:

(1) Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That a Commission be appointed for the purpose of making full inquiry into the present Status of Theological Education in this Church; and for the further purpose of recommending to the General Convention of 1913 such changes in the Canons relating to Theological Education as such Commission may find desirable.

(2) Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That such Commission be made to consist of (a) the Bishops of all Dioceses in which are located incorporated Theological Seminaries of this Church educating candidates for Holy Orders; (b) the Deans or Wardens of said Seminaries; and (c) six laymen, three of whom shall be appointed by the chairman of the House of Bishops, and three by the chairman of the House of Deputies.

(3) Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That the chairman of this Commission be appointed by the chairman of the House of Bishops.

This Commission met for organization in New York City on Friday, December 8, 1911, the Bishop of Tennessee presiding, fourteen members being present. The following committees were appointed: (1) On a questionnaire, for the purpose of securing information; (2) On revision of Canons relating to Examinations of Postulants, Candidates and Deacons; (3) On a Standard for the Guidance of Diocesan Examining Chaplains; (4) On Sympathetic Relations between Seminaries and General Convention.

A large correspondence and several conferences ensued, producing expression of opinion upon many phases of specific problems from about two hundred clergymen and laymen.

A second meeting of the Commission was held in New York City on Tuesday, July 8, 1913, at which meeting the following report to the General Convention of 1913 was formulated and ordered sent to absent members of the Commission for their approval. It was further ordered that if a majority of the Commission should so approve, the report be published in accordance with the Rule of Order on Joint Commissions.

Your Commission finds that there are thirteen regularly incorporated institutions of this Church educating in the United States candidates for Holy Orders, viz. (in order of founding): The General Theological Seminary, The Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Virginia, Bexley Hall, Nashotah House, Berkeley Divinity School, Seabury Divinity School, The Divinity School of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Philadelphia, The DeLancey Divinity School, The Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, The Theological Department of the University of the South, Western Theological Seminary, Chicago, The Bishop Payne Divinity School, The Church Divinity School of the Pacific. In addition to these there are seven other more or less definitely organized schools with the same purpose, including those in the foreign field.

We find that no provision is made in the Canons for any active relation between any of these Seminaries and General Convention, nor in the Rules of Order of the Houses of General Convention, except in the case of the General Theological Seminary.

We find named in the Rules of Order of both Houses of General Convention a Standing Committee known as the Committee on Christian Education; and we find in Canon 55 a General Board of Religious Education. The status of our theological education is not a specific interest of the former, while it lies specifically outside of the jurisdiction of the latter.

We find in Canons 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 a series of requirements concerning the Examinations of Postulants, Candidates for Holy Orders and of Deacons. While in these Canons Theological Seminaries are only incidentally mentioned, in effect the Canons not only prescribe the curriculum of the Seminaries, but practically make the 91 bodies of Examining Chaplains, severally, the competent and empowered critics of each and all of these institutions.

We do not find any specific standard by which either the Seminaries or the Examining Chaplains may be guided as to the scope of the instruction which the Seminaries are expected to give in the courses canonically indicated.

Your Commission finds a real need of such canonical revision as shall secure:

(a) More flexible and yet safeguarded educational requirements for the admission of Postulants to Candidatship for Holy Orders. (Noting particularly the changed significance of the degrees mentioned in Canon 2, § V. [ii].)

(b) A more flexible system of theological education, providing for such specialization as will better fit men of diverse aptitude for various fields, such as Rural Missions, City Missions and Literary Learning.

(c) A release of the Bishops, Seminaries and Examining Chaplains from their present mutual canonical restraints in the matter of education and ordination; and the establishment of such standards as shall be mutually understood and capable of co-operative recognition.

(d) A more definite relationship between the General Convention and the various Theological Seminaries of the Church.

In order to meet the needs referred to in above paragraphs (a), (b) and (c), your Committee recommends the following amendments to the Canons, namely:

Add as Canon 2, § V. [iv.]:

The Bishop may, in his discretion, accept the diploma or other duly authenticated certificate of the Faculty of any legally incorporated

Theological School or Seminary of this Church in place of the canonically prescribed certificate of Examining Chaplains, as sufficient evidence that the literary and theological attainments of a Postulant qualify him for admission as a Candidate; and may accept the examinations in such School or Seminary as the equivalent of all or of any part of the canonical examinations.

Substitute for Canon 4, § I. [ii.]:

The Bishop may, in his discretion, accept the diploma or other duly authenticated certificate of the Faculty of any legally incorporated Theological School or Seminary of this Church in place of the canonically prescribed certificate of Examining Chaplains, as sufficient evidence that the theological attainments of the Candidate qualify him to be ordered Deacon; and may accept the examinations in such School or Seminary as the equivalent of all or of any part of the canonical examinations, except the examinations required in Article VIII. of the Constitution and in Canon 4, § III.

Substitute for Canon 6, § I. [iii.]:

The Bishop may, in his discretion, accept the diploma or other duly authenticated certificate of the Faculty of any legally incorporated Theological School or Seminary of this Church in place of the canonically prescribed certificate of Examining Chaplains, as sufficient evidence that the theological attainments of a Deacon qualify him to be ordered Priest; and may accept the examinations of such School or Seminary as the equivalent of all or of any part of the canonical examinations, except the examinations required in Article VIII. of the Constitution and in Canon 6, § IV.

Having reviewed the reports of various similar Commissions since A.D. 1804 (see Appendix XV., pp. 747-762 of Journal, 1889), your present Commission is convinced that: (1) The General Convention is too large a body to pass upon specific details in a necessarily changing theological curriculum; (2) that a temporary Commission, especially one whose membership is widely scattered, is necessarily inefficient; (3) that the problems involved in theological education are not only general, but local, and not only specific, but related to all other educational problems.

Your Commission on the Status of Theological Education is persuaded that, instead of several Commissions and Boards empowered to conserve various educational interests, the Church would be better served by one Board of Education organized similarly to our present Board of Religious Education, with jurisdiction as broad as its name. Therefore, as for the fourth and most important need above mentioned (d) namely, a more definite canonical relationship between the Theological Schools and Seminaries and the General Convention, it appears to your Commission that the most satisfactory solution of all the questions that have arisen with regard to the instruction given in our Theological Seminaries, and their relation to one another and to the whole Church, would be reached by the adoption of the following Canon, which we hereby recommend, viz.:

That for Canon 55 the following be substituted:

CANON 55

OF A GENERAL BOARD OF EDUCATION

§ I. There shall be a General Board of Education, the purpose of which shall be the unification and development of the Church's work of education under the Constitution and Canons of the General Convention.

§ II. The Board shall be composed of the Presiding Bishop and sixteen other members, who upon the passage of this Canon shall be appointed by the Presiding Officers of the respective Houses, acting together, at the meeting of the General Convention. Thereafter eight shall be triennially appointed at the meeting of the General Convention by the Presiding Officers of the respective Houses, acting together. In making the appointments each of the three Orders shall be represented. The eight other members shall be elected, one by each of the Missionary Councils of the eight Departments at its last regular meeting before the General Convention.

§ III. The Presiding Bishop shall be, ex-officio, the President of the Board. Nine members shall form a quorum. The Board may choose from within or without the Board a General Secretary, who shall be, ex-officio, a member of the Board and its executive officer. The Board shall elect from among its members a Secretary and a Treasurer. It shall have power to form Committees with membership drawn from within and, when desirable, from without the Board, and shall create such agents as its work may demand.

§ IV. Each Missionary Department shall have power to effect and provide for the organization of a Board of Education within the Department whenever it deems such a Board advisable. This Department Board, when constituted, shall be auxiliary to the General Board. It shall promote and foster religious education within the Department in all ways consistent with the Constitution and Canons of the General Convention and of the Dioceses or Missionary Districts within the Department and shall co-operate with and make effective the work of the General Board within the Department.

§ V. The General Board, when duly incorporated, is authorized to receive gifts and to appeal to each Diocese and Missionary Jurisdiction within the Church, through its Convention or Council, for the funds necessary for efficiently carrying on its work.

§ VI. Each Department Board shall make an annual report of its work to the General Board and the General Board shall make a triennial report to the General Convention.

§ VII. This Canon shall take effect immediately.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS F. GALLOR, Bishop of Tennessee, Chairman.
WM. C. DEWITT, Secretary.

APPENDIX XXII.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON MEMORIALS OF DECEASED MEMBERS

Under Rule 33, by which this Committee is governed, it is confined to the simple record of names and dates. No more signal demonstration of the wisdom of this provision could be found than will appear from the mere reading of the list of illustrious names which this report contains.

There will be found names which will express to multitudes of people, and especially to members of this House, more than many written volumes could. Which will remind us that no eulogy speaks so eloquently, or is heard so widely, as that which the mere name of a faithful servant of God proclaims.

Among these are some which have a national, and even more than national, significance, which recall eminent services in the fields of business, letters, law, statesmanship and theology; but whose chief and common glory is that the most earnest desire and endeavor of their possessors was to serve God and humanity in the one communion and fellowship of Christ Jesus, our Lord.

 APPENDIX XXIII.

The Committee appointed to certify the changes made in the Canons at the meeting of the General Convention held in the City of New York in October, 1913, do certify as follows:

Article I. of the Constitution was amended by the substitution of the following as Section 4:

SECTION 4. The Church in each Diocese which has been admitted to union with the General Convention shall be entitled to representation in the House of Deputies by not more than four Presbyters, canonically resident in the Diocese, and not more than four Laymen, communicants of this Church, having domicile in the Diocese; but the General Convention by Canon may reduce the representation to not fewer than two Deputies in each order. Each Diocese shall prescribe the manner in which its Deputies shall be chosen.

The Church in each Missionary District within the boundaries of the United States of America, which shall have been established in accordance with the Constitution and Canons for the government of this Church, shall also be entitled to representation in the House of Deputies by not more than one Presbyter, canonically resident in the Missionary District, and not more than one Layman, communicant of this Church, having domicile in the Missionary District. Each Missionary District shall prescribe the manner in which its Deputies shall be chosen. Deputies from such Missionary Districts, except as otherwise provided in the Constitution, shall be subject to all of the qualifications and with all of the rights of Deputies from Dioceses.

To constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, the Clerical order shall be represented by at least one Deputy in each of a majority of the Dioceses entitled to representation, and the Lay Order shall likewise be represented by at least one Deputy in each of a majority of the Dioceses entitled to representation.

On any question the vote of a majority of the Deputies present shall suffice, unless otherwise ordered by this Constitution, or, in cases not specifically provided for by the Constitution, by Canons requiring more than a majority, or unless the Clerical or the Lay representation from any Diocese require that the vote be taken by orders. In all cases of a vote by orders, the two orders shall vote separately, each Diocese having one vote in the Clerical order and one in the Lay order, and each Missionary District within the boundaries of the United States of America having a one-fourth vote in the Clerical order and a one-fourth vote in the Lay order; and the concurrence of the votes of the two orders, by not less than a majority of whole votes in each order, of all of the Dioceses and Missionary Districts within the boundaries of the United States of America represented in that order at the time of the vote, shall be necessary to constitute a vote of the House.

The same Article was further amended by the substitution of the following as Section 6:

SECTION 6. One Clerical and one Lay Deputy chosen by each Missionary District of the Church established by the House of Bishops beyond the territory of the United States of America, and one Clerical and one Lay Deputy chosen by the Convocation of the American Churches in Europe, shall have seats in the House of Deputies, subject to all the qualifications and with all the rights of Deputies, except the right to vote when the vote shall be taken by orders.

Canon 9, § I., clause iv., was changed so as to read:

[iv.] In case a majority of all the Standing Committees of the several Dioceses shall not consent to the consecration of a Bishop-elect within the period of six months from the date of the notification of the election by the Standing Committee of the Diocese electing, or in case a majority of all the Bishops entitled to act in the premises shall not consent within the period of three months from the date of the notification to them by the Presiding Bishop of the election, the Presiding Bishop shall declare the election null and void, and the Convention of the Diocese may then proceed to a new election.

A new Canon was adopted, to be numbered 22—"Of Religious Communities"—all subsequent Canons to be renumbered.

§ I. A religious community of men or of women desiring the official recognition of the Church shall submit for his approval its Rule and Constitution to the Bishop of the Diocese wherein the Mother-house of the community is situated; and no change in the Rule or Constitution shall be made without his approval.

§ II. In such Constitution there shall be a distinct recognition of the doctrine, discipline and worship of this Church as of supreme authority.

§ III. No religious community shall establish itself in another Diocese without permission of the Bishop of that Diocese.

§ IV. The community may elect a Chaplain, but if he be a Priest who is not canonically resident in the Diocese, he must be licensed by the Bishop. Any Priest ministering in a chapel of a religious community shall be responsible to the Bishop of the Diocese for his ministrations, in the same manner as a parochial clergyman.

§ V. In the administration of the Sacraments the Book of Common Prayer shall be used without alteration, save as it may be lawfully permitted by lawful authority.

§ VI. It shall be provided in the Constitution of a religious community that real estate and endowments belonging to the community shall be held in trust for the community as a body in communion with this Church.

§ VII. Members of a religious community who are in Holy Orders shall be subject to all canonical regulations concerning the clergy.

§ VIII. Provision shall be made in the Constitution for the appointment of a Visitor, with the approval of the Bishop of the Diocese in which the Mother-house is situated, if the Bishop is himself unwilling to serve in such capacity. It shall be the duty of the Visitor to see that the Constitution and Rule, as approved, are duly observed, and to receive and hear appeals either from the community or from individual members thereof as to transgressions of the Rule. No full member of a community shall be dismissed therefrom without appeal to the Visitor, nor shall any be released from his or her obligations thereto without the Visitor's sanction.

In Canon 24, § I., a new paragraph lettered (h) was added, as follows:

(h) Conduct unbecoming a Clergyman, with the further addition of this clause after (h) "provided that, In case of a charge of conduct unbecoming a Clergyman, before proceeding to a presentment, the consent of three-fourths of all the members of the Standing Committee or Council of Advice shall be required."

In Canon 27, § VII., clause II., at end of second sentence insert the words "and to the Recorder."

NOTE—In same clause, in 4th line insert a comma after word "admonition."

Canon 30 is amended by omitting §§ I. and II. and all subsequent sections are to be renumbered accordingly.

Also—In this Canon the word "Department" is to be altered to "Province" throughout.

NOTE—This will involve renumbering of sections which are mentioned in § X.

§ IV. of Canon 30 is amended so as to read:

Each Provincial Synod shall triennially at its first meeting after the regular meeting of the General Convention elect the judges of the Court of Review in the Province. The Synod shall prescribe the manner in which such judges shall be elected. The persons so elected, except in case of death, resignation, refusal or inability to serve, and as hereinafter provided, shall continue to be members of the Court for the term of three years and until their successors shall be elected.

The Bishop elected by the Synod shall be the presiding officer of the Court.

In Canon 30 amend §§ XIV. and XV. by substituting for the words "Presiding Bishop of the Church"—the words "President of the Provincial Synod."

In Canon 30, § VI., before the words "Section 1," in 5th line from end—insert the words "Canon 50."

Canon 31, § III., last line, substitute the word "in" for "to."

In Canon 30, § XX., amend last sentence so as to read:

"When the sentence is of suspension or deposition, it shall be the duty of the Bishop or Standing Committee of the jurisdiction in which the trial was had, to notify in writing each Bishop of the Church, the Minister of each Church in the jurisdiction, the Recorder, and the Secretary of the House of Bishops, who shall deposit and preserve such notice among the archives of the House."

In Canon 31, §§ I. and II., amend by changing the reference from Canon 24 to Canon 25.

Also—amend § II. by inserting at end of second sentence the words "and to the Recorder."

Also—amend § III. by inserting at end thereof the words "and to the Recorder."

Amend Canon 32, § I., last sentence, so as to read as follows:

"The Bishop shall give due notice of every deposition from the Ministry to the Ecclesiastical Authority of every Diocese and Missionary District of this Church and to the Recorder, in the form in which the same is recorded."

In Canon 36, § II., amend by inserting after the words "Missionary District" in 10th line thereof the words "and to the Recorder."

In Canon 37, § V., amend by inserting after the words "Missionary District of the Church," the words "and to the Recorder."

It shall be the duty of the Secretary of every Diocese, Missionary District and of the Convocation of American Churches in Europe, to forward to the Recorder on or before the first day of September in each and every year a report giving (1) the names of the Clergy canonically resident therein on the fifteenth day of June in that year with their several charges, etc.; (2) the names of the Clergy licensed by the Bishop to officiate, but not yet transferred; (3) the names of all persons connected with the Diocese, District or Convocation who have been ordered Deacons or Priests during the preceding year, with the date and place of ordination and the name of the Bishop

The Recorder shall not give out for publication the grounds of suspension and deposition.

Amend existing clause ii. in line 2 by substituting "clause i." for "the preceding clause."

In Canon 47, § III., amend by inserting a new clause [iv.] (and renumbering) to read as follows:

[iv.] The Registrar shall also be Historiographer, unless in any case the House of Bishops shall make a separate nomination; and in this event the House of Deputies shall confirm the nomination.

Such charges shall be in writing, signed by all the accusers, sworn to by two or more of them, and shall be presented to the Presiding Bishop. The grounds of accusation must be set forth with reasonable certainty of time, place, and circumstance.

A Bishop may demand investigation.

§ III. Whenever a Bishop shall have reason to believe that there are in circulation rumors, reports, or allegations affecting his moral or religious character, he may, acting in conformity with the written advice and consent of any two Bishops of this Church, demand in writing of the Presiding Bishop that investigation of said rumors, reports and allegations be made.

The Presiding Bishop shall appoint Board of Inquiry.

§ IV. The Presiding Bishop, upon the receipt of such written charges or such written demand, shall summon not less than three nor more than seven Bishops, and, unless a majority of them shall determine that such charges, if proved, would constitute no canonical offense, they shall select a Board of Inquiry of five Presbyters and five Laymen, none of whom shall belong to the Diocese of the accused, of whom eight shall form a quorum, and shall also appoint a lay communicant of this Church of the profession of the law as Church Advocate and legal adviser of the Board.

The Board of Inquiry shall investigate such charges, or the said rumors or reports, as the case may be. In conducting the investigation, the Board shall hear the accusations and such proof as the accusers may produce, and shall determine whether, upon matters of law and of fact, as presented to them, there is sufficient ground to put the accused Bishop on his trial. In such investigations, as well as in all cases of trial Disqualification of member of Board.

In case of the death, resignation, disqualification or inability of any member of the Board to act, the Presiding Bishop, upon being advised of such disqualification or disability, shall appoint another Presbyter or another Layman, as the case may be, to act as member of the Board. Upon acceptance of the appointment, such person shall become a member of the Board. All of the proceedings in the case in which any person shall have been so appointed a member of the Board, shall continue and shall be completed in the same manner and with the same effect as though such person had been appointed originally a member of such Board of Inquiry.

CANON 27.

If no ground for trial.

If a majority of the whole Board shall determine that there is not sufficient ground to present the accused Bishop for trial, it shall forward the charges and a certificate of the finding thereon to the Presiding Bishop. He shall send the same to the Secretary of the House of Bishops, by him to be deposited in the archives of the House; and a true copy of these papers shall be given to the accused Bishop. No further proceeding shall be had by way of presentment on such charges, except that any communicant of this Church in good standing may make and present to the Presiding Bishop his affidavit alleging the discovery of new evidence as to the facts charged and setting forth what such evidence is; and upon the receipt thereof the Presiding Bishop shall decide whether the affidavit does or does not state grounds which in his opinion are sufficient for reopening the case. If the Presiding Bishop shall be of opinion that the affidavit states grounds sufficient to justify reopening the case, he shall reconvene the Board, which shall determine, first, whether as matter of fact the evidence set forth in such affidavit is really new evidence and not merely cumulative; and if the Board shall find that the evidence so tendered is new, it shall proceed to receive and to consider any such evidence.

§ VI. In case a majority of the whole Board shall fail to find either that there is, or that there is not, sufficient ground to present the accused Bishop for trial, it shall certify the fact of its inability to agree upon any such finding, to the Presiding Bishop, who, at the request of the accused Bishop, may select a new Board in the manner provided in Section IV., who shall consider the case de novo.

FIRST DAY OF THE SESSION

1. The House shall meet for business at such time and place as shall have been duly notified by the Presiding Bishop or the Chairman of the House to the members of this House, and shall be called to order by the Presiding Bishop or the Chairman, or, in their absence, by the Senior Bishop present.

2. Any Bishop appearing in the House of Bishops for the first time after his consecration shall then be presented to the President by one or more Bishops, and, if such be present, by one or more Bishops who took part in his consecration.

3. The roll of members shall be called by the Secretary or the Assistant Secretary of the session of the House last preceding, or, in their absence, by a Secretary appointed pro tempore.

4. If any member or members of the House shall have died since its last meeting, the Presiding Bishop shall then announce, without word or comment, the fact and the date of such death, after which he shall say the Lord's Prayer, together with the following Prayer and Collects:

We bless thy holy Name for all thy servants, who, having finished their course in faith, do now rest from their labours. And we yield unto thee most high praise and hearty thanks for the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all thy saints who have been the choice vessels of thy grace, and the lights of the world in their several generations; most humbly beseeching thee to give us grace so to follow the example of their stedfastness in thy faith, and obedience to thy holy commandments, that at the day of the general Resurrection, we, with all those who are of the mystical body of thy Son, may be set on his right hand, and hear that his most joyful voice: Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. Grant this, O Father, for Jesus Christ's sake, our only Mediator and Advocate. Amen.

The Collect for All Saints' Day.

The Collect in the Visitation Office: "O God, whose days," etc.

7. The House shall then proceed to elect, in all cases by ballot, a Chairman of the House, who shall be Assessor to the Presiding Bishop, and, in his absence or at his request, shall be the presiding officer of the House, and to whom the Presiding Bishop may assign any duties connected with his office from which, from time to time, he may desire to be relieved. He shall continue in office until the triennial General Convention following that in which he was elected. A Bishop who has served as Chairman for three years may be elected for a second time; but such Bishop shall not be eligible for subsequent re-election, except after an interval of at least three years.

Officers of the House of Bishops, when addressing the House in debate, shall in all cases do so from the floor of the House.

Messages from the House of Deputies shall be handed by the Secretary of this House to the President, to be laid before the House as early as may be convenient. All such messages communicating any legislative action on the part of the House of Deputies shall, without debate, be referred to the proper Committee, unless without debate the House shall decide to consider such message without such reference. When the consideration of such message shall have been begun, it shall continue to be the Order of the Day until final action thereon.

XX. Two of the Bishops shall be appointed by the Chair to act with the Secretary in preparing daily reports of the action of this House, and furnishing them, at their discretion, to public journalists.

In such case, three weeks before the special meeting the Secretary shall notify each Bishop of the names so suggested. The ballot for the nomination to any such vacancy shall not, without unanimous consent, be taken at a special meeting until at least the first day, nor at a meeting of the General Convention until at least the second day, after such names and any others which may be offered shall have been presented in the House; and it is recommended that the administration of the Holy Communion precede the ballot.

XXVIII. All information and action concerning nominations to vacant Missionary Bishoprics, including the names of persons so suggested or nominated, shall be considered as of a private character.

duties as may be prescribed by the Constitution and Canons of the General Convention, or for its own needs by the House of Bishops; and shall hold office for life, unless he resign or be relieved from that office by a vote of a majority of the Bishops entitled to a vote in the House of Bishops.

II. WHEREAS, By provisions of Canon 9, § I. [ii.], [iii.], and Canon 10, § II. [iii.], the Presiding Bishop of the House is empowered to take order for the ordination and consecration of Diocesan and Missionary Bishops, either in his own person or by commission issued to three Bishops;

It is hereby ordered that, in all cases of Episcopal consecrations, the place for the same, if not in the Diocese or Jurisdiction of the Presiding Bishop or of the Bishop appointed by him to preside at the solemnity, shall be designated only with the consent of the Bishop in whose Diocese or Jurisdiction it is; that the Bishop elect shall have the right to designate the preacher and the two Bishops by whom he is to be presented; and that, in the absence of the Presiding Bishop, the Senior Bishop of this Church present at any consecration of a Bishop is the Bishop presiding for that solemnity, unless some other Bishop shall have been assigned to such service on any special occasion by the Presiding Bishop or by the Bishops present at the consecration.

III. Seniority among the Bishops is according to the time of the consecration of each Bishop.

IV. The opening service of the General Convention and the selection of the Preacher shall be in charge of the Presiding Bishop, the Chairman of the House of Bishops, and the Bishop of the Diocese wherein the Convention is to be held.

The said book of record shall be the official Register of this House, and the roll of the House made up therefrom by the Secretary shall be by him certified to its Presiding Officer, who shall at each regular or special session of the House communicate the same to the House, as its official roll, as soon as he shall have taken the chair. Such roll shall be subject to change only by vote of the House.

In either case, a motion to reconsider shall be seconded by a majority of any Deputation of either side, without regard to its previous vote.

All motions to reconsider shall be made and seconded on the day the vote is taken, or on the next succeeding day on which the House shall be in session.

(a) A motion to rise and to report to the House, with or without request for leave to sit again, may be made at any time, and shall take precedence of all other motions, and shall be decided without debate. No such motion once made shall be renewed until after further proceedings shall have been had in the Committee of the Whole.

42. Except when otherwise ordered by the House, no books, pamphlets, or other printed matter shall be distributed in the House, or be placed in the seats of the members, without the express permission of the Presiding Officer; but this prohibition shall not apply to the report of a Committee, or to any paper or other document presented to and accepted by the House or printed by its authority.
