OUR WORK THROUGHOUT THE WORLD

Solid black and shaded areas represent the centers of our missionary activities at home and under our flag in Alaska, Canal Zone, Hawaiian Islands, Philippine Islands, Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands, as well as in Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, Dominican Republic and Brazil in the western hemisphere, Liberia in Africa, and China and Japan in the Orient. Jerusalem is noted as the center of educational activities in co-operation with the Anglican Bishop there.

REPORT OF THE
NATIONAL COUNCIL OF THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH
FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1932

THE National Council has closed a year of unprecedented difficulty, but continued achievement, due to the loyal and generous support of the Church. Four meetings of the Council were held with an average attendance of twenty-three from a total membership of twenty-six.

The financial condition of the country was reflected in the gifts of our people toward the budget named by General Convention for the missionary and other work of the Church. On quotas totaling $3,374,000 the dioceses reported that they expected to pay $2,153,403. They actually paid $1,930,185, being $223,218 less than their expectations. A deficit of $216,553 would have been carried forward had it not been covered through the use again of undesignated legacies. It was necessary, also, for the Council to reduce appropriations for 1933 by $576,654 in order to bridge the gap between the amount which the dioceses told us to expect and the budget quotas assigned. Drastic reductions were made in every department of the work. All salaries were reduced by ten per cent. The Church at Work which had reached a circulation of about six hundred thousand, and entered nearly every home in the Church, was discontinued. The staff at the Church Missions House was reduced, the Clergy Supply Bureau was closed, and every possible economy put into effect.

The Council made a Deficiency Fund appeal which met with encouraging success. The dioceses responded with most gratifying unanimity, the Diocese of Massachusetts leading the Church with a gift of $56,864. A total of $312,824 was received.

The remarkable record reported last year by the Committee on Trust Funds and the Treasurer, on the management of the Trust Funds of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, was maintained in 1932 (see details in Report of the Committee on Trust Funds,) and elicited a resolution of appreciation from the National Council.

The Publicity Department, in its effort to meet conditions in dioceses where Church papers, both parochial and diocesan, had been discontinued, offered to parishes a partly-printed parish paper at very small cost. This expedient was well received, resulting in a constantly increasing demand for the publication.

In order to have the advice of the House of Bishops on the financial emergency a joint conference between the House of Bishops in special session, and the National Council was called to meet in April at Garden City, Long Island. At that time the National Council laid its entire program before the Bishops and a committee of three Bishops was appointed by the House to confer with the officers of the Council. This committee made a careful study of the work and budget of each Department and presented recommendations to the National Council, practically all of which were put into operation.

An event of importance to Christian Missions was the report in December, 1932 of the Laymen's Foreign Missions Inquiry. Mr. Harper Sibley, a member of the Council, and his wife, were members of the voluntary "Appraisal Commission" which for the purpose visited China, Japan, India and Burma. Mrs. Sibley, after her return, made an unofficial statement to the National Council.

A special committee was appointed to study the Report when printed and to make recommendations to the Council.

The committee reported at the December meeting of the Council stating that the significance of the Inquiry consists largely in the fact of its non-professional and unofficial estimate and point of view. The committee thought that serious attention should be given to the recommendations made by the Commission, but that, pending any action, they should be submitted to our own missionaries in the Field and to our administrative officers for their opinion and advice. The National Council received the Report of the Inquiry with grateful appreciation, but called attention to the fact that in certain respects it was irrelevant to the work of our Church. It heartily endorsed the principle of constant evaluation of missionary work. For the purpose of making further and intensive study of the recommendations a continuing committee was appointed to report from time to time and to confer when desirable with representatives of other Mission Boards. The Executive Secretary of the Department of Foreign Missions was requested to communicate with our Missionary Bishops in the Orient and Honolulu asking for their comments on the Report.

Because of conditions existing in the foreign field, I decided that a visit by the Presiding Bishop to some of the distant missions, especially the Philippine Islands, China and Japan, should be made, and I announced my purpose to make these visitations, without expense to the Church, in the late winter and spring of 1933. This plan was supported by the National Council in a resolution unanimously adopted.

The National Council and the entire Church suffered a severe loss in the death on October 4, 1932, of Burton Mansfield, D.C.L. Dr. Mansfield was for thirty-four years a member of the Board of Missions and the National Council. Previous to his death he had presented his resignation from the Council which was accepted with deep regret. The Hon. Philip S. Parker was elected as his successor.

Mr. Louis F. Monteagle of California, also resigned his membership after years of faithful and valuable service, finding it no longer possible to attend the meetings.

Mr. John Stewart Bryan of Virginia, who had been elected by the General Convention at Denver, was unable to accept his election. Mr. William G. Peterkin, a former member of the Council, whose term had expired, was elected in his place.

The following changes were made in the official staff and in the membership of Departments:

The Rev. John W. Suter, Jr., D.D., Executive Secretary of the Department of Religious Education, resigned to become rector of the Church of the Epiphany, New York, after an effective administration.

The Rev. W. Brooke Stabler of the same Department, resigned the position of College Secretary to become University Chaplain and Boardman lecturer on Christian Ethics at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Rev. Eric Tasman was appointed a General Secretary of the Field Department. The Rev. R. I. Johnson was elected an additional member of the Department of Domestic Missions.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF DOMESTIC MISSIONS

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1932

THE year 1932 was momentous for the cause of missions. General economic conditions were reflected in reduced offerings necessitating readjustments in salaries and a curtailment of opportunities to spread the Gospel at home and abroad.

At the beginning of the year it became apparent that $600,000 would have to be cut from the budget authorized by General Convention at Denver. The Department of Domestic Missions bore its share of this reduction. All salaries were reduced ten per cent and it became necessary to maintain the work in the field at considerably less cost. Despite this necessary action by the National Council some new work was undertaken, and bishops and missionaries faced the situation with a settled determination that there should be no lessening of effort, or faltering, in the Domestic Field.

WASHINGTON BICENTENNIAL

During the year the bicentennial of the birth of George Washington was marked throughout the Church. A committee of the National Council composed of members and officers was charged with the responsibility of urging the observance in diocesan and Church services. A form of service and a litany for our Nation were prepared and widely distributed. From all parts of the Church letters were received pledging hearty co-operation and telling of Washington Anniversary Services either held, or planned.

SURVEYS AND VISITS TO THE FIELD

The Executive Secretary visited various parts of the field, once at the request of the National Council, and many times to survey areas and specific pieces of work, to meet with the missionaries, and to establish closer relations, other than through appropriations, between the office in the Church Missions House and the field.

In February, a visit was made to the Diocese of Springfield. In March, a general survey of a part of our Negro work was undertaken. Schools and missions were visited in the Dioceses of Virginia, Southern Virginia, Atlanta, Georgia, Upper South Carolina, North Carolina and East Carolina. In most of the dioceses there were conferences with our colored clergy out of which came many helpful suggestions.

A survey of the Mountain Schools of Western North Carolina was made in early April. The Appalachian School, Penland; Valle Crucis School, Valle Crucis; the Patterson School, Legerwood; and Christ School, Arden, were visited. In each case there were conferences with faculty members and opportunity to address the student body. These schools are meeting a real need in the mountain area. Christ School, Arden, stands highest scholastically, and compares favorably with most Church schools for boys.

In May, the missionary work in the Rio Grande Valley, Diocese of West Texas, was visited and surveyed. At the same time St. Philip's Junior College, San Antonio, was visited and its cause commended to the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce. St. Philip's receives no appropriation from the National Council save the salary of its principal, who is a United Thank Offering missionary. It is an asset to the city of San Antonio, and deserves the support of the community as a cultural and social influence of the first rank.

UNITED THANK OFFERING BUILDINGS

The two buildings in the Domestic Field, grants for which were made from the United Thank Offering Building Fund, have been completed and are now in use.

At Lubbock, Texas, Diocese of North Texas, a new student center and chapel were dedicated in June. The gift from the U. T. O. Building Fund makes possible this valuable work among the students of the University of Texas in a worthy building of which the Church may be justly proud. The Executive Secretary feels highly honored to have the chapel named for him. The appropriation was $10,000.

From the same source $2,500 was appropriated to enlarge St. Anne's Mission to the Mexicans at El Paso, Texas, Missionary District of New Mexico. The new wing, greatly needed, was opened for use in March. St. Anne's Mission still needs a suitable chapel.

UNDESIGNATED LEGACIES

Other buildings have been erected in various parts of the field. In October, a new parish house and social center for St. Peter's Japanese congregation was opened in Seattle, Washington, Diocese of Olympia. The building is so arranged that it can be used for services until a church is built. Part of the cost was provided from the Undesignated Legacies of 1927, and part by the Japanese congregation.

At Boulder, Nevada, the city springing out of the desert on account of the building of Boulder Dam, the Government gave us a sizable plot of ground, well located at the corner of two principal streets, for the erection of a church. Government contractors also aided in clearing the ground and digging for foundations. The church is now built, a clergyman is in residence, and what is hoped will turn to be a permanent work is underway among the army of workers who are already in Boulder City. An appropriation of $5,000 was made for the building of this church from Undesignated Legacies.

The work among the students of the University of Oklahoma, at Norman, Oklahoma, has long been handicapped by the lack of suitable buildings. The original frame church had been enlarged by adding to it another small building, but, even with this effort to secure additional space, there was not room for both the town congregation and the students who wanted to attend. The whole property, well located on a principal corner directly across from the University, consisted of a social center known as King Hall in a bad state of repair and ill-fitted for any dignified approach to the student body, and the composite frame church. As a first step in a comprehensive plan of rebuilding and development a beautiful and adequate church has been erected through a gift of $25,000 from Undesignated Legacies. The congregation gave the pipe organ in the new church, which is now completed and in use. The next step must be the replacement of King Hall. When this is done we shall have one of the most beautiful and adequate spiritual and social headquarters in a University City in the Southwest.

The building of St. Philip's-in-the-Desert, Hawthorne, Nevada, has been enlarged by the erection of a chapel addition, an Advance Work gift of the Diocase of Southern Ohio. The original building will be used as a parish house, and the addition will be set aside exclusively for worship.

MOUNTAIN WORK

The annual meeting of our missionaries in the Southern Mountain area was held at Knoxville, Tennessee, March 28th, 1932, preceding the meeting of the Conference of Southern Mountain Workers of all communions. As usual, St. John's Church, Knoxville, was gracious host to those attending. The daily corporate communions, the great missionary service on the eve of the conference, as well as the opportunity for an exchange of views and experiences, make this conference of real value to our mountain work.

At the 1932 conference a decided forward step was taken in the organization of an Executive Committee of mountain missionaries to serve as a clearing house for matters pertaining to the work. The Executive Committee also assumed responsibility for a survey of our missions, schools and other institutions.

INDIAN FIELD

An outstanding event during the year was the visit of the Presiding Bishop to the 1932 Niobrara Convocation held at Ascension Chapel on the Cheyenne Reservation. Over 1,400 of our Dakota members were present to greet the head of the Church and to welcome him as a member of this important gathering. Bishop Perry preached and made several addresses. During the Convocation he was given an Indian name meaning, the Hawk with the Far-reaching Voice.

With the very gracious co-operation of the government agent, who placed at our disposal a large building suitable for services, meetings, and a residence for our workers, a new mission has been auspiciously opened at Fort McDermitt, Nevada, located in an isolated section of the district near the Oregon border and eighty miles from the nearest railway. St. Ann's Mission to the Indians promises to take its place among our important centers. The resident missionary is Miss Alice M. Wright, who undertakes her new duties out of a large experience in work successfully carried on at Nixon, Pyramid Lake Reservation.

At the meeting of the House of Bishops at Denver that portion of the Standing Rock Reservation in North Dakota was added to the Missionary District of South Dakota. Since that time it has been discovered that the work may be successfully administered by the District of North Dakota and it has been so arranged, pending a reconsideration by the House of Bishops of the change in district boundaries.

There were several changes in the personnel of our missionaries to the Indians during the year. Miss Anne E. Cady, after seventeen years of devoted service among the Navajos, at the Mission of the Good Shepherd, Fort Defiance, Arizona, has been granted a year's furlough. Part of her year of refreshment will be devoted to study. At the beginning of Miss Cady's period of absence the Ven. Sidney W. Creasey, Archdeacon in the District of Eastern Oregon, was appointed superintendent of the Mission of the Good Shepherd. Archdeacon Creasey is no novice in the Indian field, having served as an Indian missionary in Nixon, Nevada, Salmon City, Shoshone, and Fort Hall, Idaho.

In September, the Rev. A. Abbott Hastings, who, with the helpful assistance of Mrs. Hastings, has done outstanding work at St. Michael's Mission to the Arapahoes at Ethete, Wyoming, resigned to become principal of the Church schools at Laramie, Wyoming, and Executive Secretary of the district. The Rev. Barrett P. Tyler, formerly rector of All Saints' Parish, Brookline, Massachusetts, has been appointed the new superintendent of St. Michael's Mission. He is in residence and already has made a place for himself in our Indian missionary family.

NEGRO WORK

The importance of our Negro work was recognized at the April meeting of the National Council when the Rev. Robert I. Johnson, rector of St. Cyprian's Church, New Bern, North Carolina, Diocese of East Carolina, was elected a member of the Department of Domestic Missions. The Rev. Mr. Johnson is one of our outstanding Negro leaders whose balanced judgment and statesmanlike approach to inter-racial relations have commended him as a speaker and adviser, and he will make a valuable member of the Department.

BLIND

The Committee on Literature for the Blind has carried on its effective work under the able leadership of Mrs. W. J. Loaring-Clark. The Church Herald now has a circulation of over 600, and the Committee sent out during the year many Christmas and Easter cards, Church school lessons, Bible readings and parts of the Book of Common Prayer and selections of hymns. The help of women who have volunteered to learn and do Braille typing has enabled the Committee to supply many clergymen with special portions of the revised Book of Common Prayer for which they had need, special articles, sermons, and other material.

Because of his election as a member of the Department at the February 1933 meeting of the National Council, the retiring Executive Secretary will be permitted to continue an intimate interest in Domestic Missions. The years 1931 and 1932 have been for him years of happiness in association with the missionary family. He has made friendships for which he is grateful, and has been privileged to have an experience in the Domestic Field which will continue to be available through the Department of Domestic Missions.

Executive Secretary

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF ARIZONA

The Missionary District of Arizona includes the State of Arizona. It has an area of 113,596 square miles and a population of 435,573 people. The district within its present bounds was constituted in the year 1892. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Walter Mitchell, D.D., consecrated January 5, 1926.

The appropriation to Arizona in 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of the Bishop and clergy, $26,531; (2) for insurance, repairs and miscellaneous items, $6,175; (3) for support of institutions, $10,445; (4) for United Thank Offering work among Indians, $4,320; (5) Indian work, $10,200; Total, $57,671.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

I AM thankful to be able to report that, on the whole, with the exception of the number of Confirmations, the results of the year's work are very satisfactory. During 1931 there were 192 confirmed. In 1932 there were 212, and two or three important places had none. While the number is larger, it in itself is not as large as it should have been. We shall try to do better in 1933.

There were fewer removals, only one in fact. By being careful beforehand, we get better men and they remain longer. All along the line, except one parish, there has been satisfactory growth.

Financially we have had a hard time. The policy of driving for larger and larger self-support in the missions succeeded as long as times were good. It was in the copper towns especially that the plan was most successful, but with the mines and smelters, with few exceptions, completely closed, and the others on the barest minimum, the financial situation in some of the places has been very serious. We have met it by making loans from our revolving fund so that none of the fields have been closed. If the Whitsunday Offering be included, we overpaid our quota.

At our Navajo mission of the Good Shepherd, Fort Defiance, we built the new dormitory for boys, included in the basement a new laundry and made certain other needed improvements. These with the new equipment cost about $22,000, all of which came either from the Advance Work Program or special gifts for particular equipment. We have now a beautiful and effective plant there.

From the Advance Work Program, plus local gifts, we were able to build a very satisfactory rectory at Salome, and a company of ladies gave us the beautiful church, as a memorial to certain of their friends. In this field a minister of some denomination, an ex-soldier, observing the sort of work the Rev. and Mrs. Simpson are doing, has given us a new, but small, adobe house with two acres of land with a well on it, in Quartsite, right on the new highway, provided we will serve that community. The money, from the Advance Work Program and local gifts, is in hand to build the chapel at St. Luke's-in-the-Desert, Tucson. The money for the small stone church in Holbrook has been received from the Advance Work Program and the American Church Building Fund Commission. The chapel will be built early in 1933, and the church as soon as weather permits.

At our summer center near Prescott, we enlarged the kitchen, built a new bath house for men, and made other improvements. At a cost of about $30 we built a beautiful stone sanctuary, the altar, cross, etc., being all of stone. Five big meetings were held there during last summer and the prospects are that there will be a larger number next year. Practically all of the money spent was from local sources.

The general tone throughout the district is very fine. We should do good work during 1933.

WALTER MITCHELL,
Bishop of Arizona

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF EASTERN OREGON

The Missionary District of Eastern Oregon comprises that section of the State of Oregon east of Cascade Mountains, including the counties of Baker, Crook, Deschutes, Gilliam, Grant, Harney, Hood River, Klamath, Lake Malheur, Morrow, Sherman, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, Wasco and Wheeler. It has an area of 65,683 square miles and a population of 183,079. The district was established by the General Convention in the year 1907. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. William P. Remington, D.D., consecrated January 10, 1918, translated from South Dakota in September, 1922.

The appropriation to Eastern Oregon for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, $18,490; (2) for insurance and repairs and miscellaneous items, $3,760; (3) for United Thank Offering work, $2,160; Total, $24,410.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

THIS has been a most difficult year for us all in Eastern Oregon, and yet it has served to strengthen our loyalties and deepen our purposes more than any of the ten years in which I have been Bishop. People have had little or no cash, because with commodity prices below the cost of production, banks closed or closing, and no money created or being brought in, there was none to be had.

For the first time we faced the seeming impossibility of fulfilling our promise to the National Council with regard to the Program of the Church. By the end of 1931 we were about $1,000 short of the apportionment. We welcomed, therefore, the appeal for a Whitsunday Offering, and by sending out letters to every family we raised over $900 for General Missions. None of our offerings were large, and, therefore, our people once again demonstrated their real interest in the world-wide Mission of the Church. The cuts in our budget seemed only natural in the face of world-wide conditions which called for economy on the part of everyone. Bishop and clergy alike would have felt ashamed not to have had salaries reduced, when others about them were bearing severer losses and taking greater cuts. We felt the necessity of placing upon each mission the responsibility of paying its share of stipend to the missionary direct, and this has been done without loss to the clergy involved. However, these regular stated payments have lessened the power of some missions to give to the Church Program. We are ashamed of our record again in 1932, but hope to appeal to our people again and make up for some of these losses by Whitsunday, 1933, when we hope a brighter outlook and reopened banks will make us all desire to give a thank offering.

To turn from finances to opportunities for service, and growth in spiritual understanding, our balance goes up. As wealth has decreased, our loyalties have deepened, we have noted greater and more thoughtful interest on the part of everyone, and our message has increased in power and influence. In fact, wherever there has been a missionary fully awake to the lessons of the times, to a spiritual interpretation of social and economic adjustments, there we have witnessed increase in Church attendances, quickened attention to vital questions, and a real eagerness to know what the Church had to say about conditions facing humanity, and what remedies it had to suggest.

Both our U. T. O. workers, Miss Catherine A. Peterson and Miss Martha D. Jones, have been active in work among young people, and during the summer conducted three daily vacation Church schools which were greatly successful in Langell Valley, Burns, and Weyerhaeuser Lumber Camp near Klamath Falls.

Archdeacon Thomas' "Church School of the Air," a broadcast every Sunday morning at 9 o'clock from Klamath Falls, was even more helpful than before and was beginning to show real results at the end of the year, when Mr. Thomas resigned to accept a call to St. Clement's, Berkeley, California.

Isolated communities, unchurched families and unreached children were making calls upon us to organize services and Church schools. The opportunities in Klamath County alone were more than could be undertaken by the Archdeacon and Miss Jones.

In the fall of 1932, our other archdeacon, the Ven. Sidney W. Creasey left to accept the superintendency of Ft. Defiance Indian Mission in Arizona. We also lost the Rev. John Richardson from St. Paul's, The Dalles, and the Rev. Joseph S. Ewing from St. Paul's, Klamath Falls. Both these men went to other missionary districts, the first to Bismark, North Dakota, and the second to college work in Brookings, South Dakota. In spite of these losses in staff we have managed to carry on without serious damage to our work, by the process of each one doing a little more, even though our effectiveness was impaired. The Rev. Archie Buchanan came to us as deacon in the fall and was sent to St. Andrew's, Burns, while the Rev. Merrill Tennyson was transferred to Pendleton as general missionary. "Digging In" has not been to the liking of our missionary spirit in Eastern Oregon, but perhaps it will train and discipline us for a new and greater advance. Surely the harvest is ripe. Confirmations were greater than any other year except 1926, and our prospects in everything but finances are better than ever.

WM. P. REMINGTON,
Bishop

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF IDAHO

The Missionary District of Idaho includes the State of Idaho. It has an area of 84,313 square miles and a population of 445,032. The district within its present bounds was established by the General Convention in the year 1907. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Middleton S. Barnwell, D.D., consecrated December 30, 1925.

The appropriation to Idaho for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, $22,300; (2) for insurance, repairs and miscellaneous items, $8,710; (3) for support of institutions, $7,200; (4) for United Thank Offering work, $1,890; (5) Indian work, $2,400; Total, $42,500.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

THE year of 1932 has been one of encouragement from almost every angle. While it is true that our income for local support and missions both have been reduced, we have adjusted ourselves to these changed circumstances, and so far as I can see the work in Idaho is not suffering. Regular services have been held at all of the mission stations. Confirmation classes have been up to the average, and there is a determination on the part of the priests and people to carry on the work with confidence.

No new work has been opened during the past year nor has any work been closed. We have transferred one clergyman to the Diocese of Oregon, and have ordained one deacon. The only important clerical change has been the placing of a young aggressive clergyman at the State University where the work among the students is developing rapidly.

The institutions are flourishing on greatly reduced budgets. In the past six years our institutional expense to the National Council has been reduced from approximately $19,000 to less than $9,000. The Indian work at Fort Hall is reaching a large constituency as we not only maintain our own small school, but are doing a large work in religious education among 250 children at the Government school. St. Luke's Hospital continues to be self-supporting in the face of the very serious local financial situation. A new development in institutional work has been the opening of a Junior College in connection with St. Margaret's School. This Junior College is co-educational and in September we enrolled ninety-six freshmen. Our work has been inspected by the faculty of the State University, and we are at present 90 per cent accredited, and will be entirely so at the opening of the next school year. We have reduced cost of operating to a point where we can offer board and tuition to students for $350 a year, and we are charging $120 a year for day students. Within the next few years, I believe, we shall have our dormitory filled with boarders and a day school of 150. Under these conditions I am confident we shall attain self-support before very long. It is my intention to reduce our asking for this school progressively until self-support is reached.

Our great need in connection with St. Margaret's is some money for enlargement, and especially do we need a central heating plant. The cost of maintaining three separate furnaces with coal at $10 a ton is such that a new heating plant would pay for itself in a few years if the money were available for its installation.

Apart from the retirement of the debt on St. Luke's Hospital property, the most pressing need in the district is a new church and rectory at Moscow, which is the seat of the State University. Our buildings there are forty years old, and they were poorly constructed in the beginning. The church groans when the wind blows, and cracks are continually opening in the walls and roof. The Rev. Mr. West has burned almost $100 worth of coal, with winter half gone, and when I was up to see him last week the thermometer registered 45 degrees in his living room. He has suffered very much from the cold. I do not feel that we can keep a good man in Moscow unless I find a new rectory.

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF NEVADA

The Missionary District of Nevada comprises the entire State. It has an area of 110,690 square miles and a population of about 90,509. The district was established within its present bounds by the General Convention in the year 1907. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Thomas Jenkins, D.D., consecrated January 25, 1929.

The appropriation to Nevada for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, $16,352; (2) for insurance, repairs and miscellaneous items, $3,260; (3) for United Thank Offering work, among Indians, $6,480. Total, $26,092.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

CAN the like be said of any other State in the Union? The full increment of both its population and its wealth flows off to lower altitudes and more hospitable climates. Not in the State's history, so far as I have been able to discover, after much inquiry, has any inhabitant of Nevada ever made to any of its institutions, secular or sacred, a bequest—excepting only to the State University. Nor has a single one of the many fortunes made here, remained to be spent. One has to live here to appreciate why such conditions have obtained for the full seventy years of the State's life.

The country is arid desert, having little or no vegetation aside from sagebrush and, excepting the few small irrigated valleys, has no farming. The altitude is generally high and the whole State mountainous. Sheep and cattle raising and mining constitute our industries.

The low state of the silver and copper markets has affected Nevada throughout. In addition to that the beginning of November saw fifty per cent of all the banks of the State closed. Business generally has been paralyzed and the people have been hard pressed—in many instances for the bare necessities of life. But notwithstanding these adversities we were able, by sheer hard work, to pay our apportionment in full to the National Council.

At the beginning of the year our force consisted of one bishop, ten priests, two deaconesses and four laywomen. By the end of the year we had added one priest, one deacon, two deaconesses and one laywoman,—this woman generously working at her own expense,—21 in all. This number contrasts rather sharply with the staff of eight four years ago. The cost, however, to the National Church is but very little larger than that of the smaller staff. Whether we shall be able to maintain our present holdings will be determined by the state of our industry or the generosity of our friends, or both. If all the former Nevada people, now in California, were to send us even a dollar a year each, we should be able to possess the whole State for Christ and the Church.

It was an unusual thing for us to have two ordinations in one year. The Rev. Robert B. Echols, of Lincoln County, was advanced to the priesthood at our Annual Convocation in July; and Mr. Ernest W. Kellett, graduate of St. John's College, was made deacon on October 2, and placed in charge of White Pine County, with residence at Ely. And during the year I accepted, out of a large number of applicants, two young men as postulants, both students at Kenyon College.

I have dedicated five buildings during the year: St. Matthias' Chapel, Caliente, in February, St. Anne's combination building, Ft. McDermitt, in April. The new vicarage at Las Vegas, in August, St. Christopher's Chapel, Boulder City, in September, St. Philip's Chapel, Hawthorne, in October, and St. Barnabas' Chapel at Wells is finished and in use and ready for dedication on my next visit.

I should like to record my appreciation of the fine decorative work which is going on at the University Chapel, the work being done by Chaplain Graves himself, which brings me to say a word of our student work.

This is our second year's effort. I believe we are establishing ourselves in the life of the University community and rendering a very worthwhile service. Situated as we are at the entrance to the University Campus our very presence, the open chapel, the ringing of the bell, the hospitable home of the chaplain and the opportunities for worship, are bound to have an influence and play a worthwhile part in the life of the student body. Unfortunately for us the faculty is for the most part unattached or attached elsewhere. This, of all work, is where one cannot tabulate results.

We have every reason to be encouraged over the work in our Indian field, not in statistics, but in what we have set going. The coming of the Rev. W.

A. Stimson and his wife to take up the work on the large Pyramid Lake Reservation has greatly strengthened our native enterprise. The opening of St. Anne's at Ft. McDermitt among an heretofore untouched small tribe of the Pah-Utes, is a new project, and was made possible by transferring Miss Alice Wright (a veteran in Indian service) and by the generous co-operation of the Government agency. It was a needy field. Deaconess Lilian Todd is carrying on effectively on the Moapa Reservation in the south. Her people are separated into two groups sixty miles apart, but with the aid of a Ford she is able to get to them all. And I am glad to add that the small communities of Indians at Hawthorne and Lovelock are being touched by our white missions at those places. Only so will many of our small groups ever have the Gospel preached to them.

Now that the divorce business has fallen off in the North, the real bustling towns of the state are Las Vegas and Boulder City. Baffling social problems have accompanied the influx of population but we have done what we could, with such as we have had, to meet the need.

In order to provide parish house rooms in Las Vegas we built a new vicarage, with the assistance of the Diocese of Quincy, thus releasing the old house, which adjoins the church, for social uses. At Boulder City we were able to put up a substantial two-story building which is used both for worship and parish service. This was done with the aid of an undesignated legacy; and, with the impetus given us by the National Council, a priest was put in residence on September 1st. The population at present is processional, which makes any coherent program difficult. Eventually the community will settle down and then we may begin to see some of the results of our patient toil. I look for extensive development in this southern part of the State as soon as the dam makes possible the big power plants.

The Summer School, held at Lake Tahoe, enjoyed another successful year. Associated with us in the enterprise the Diocese of Sacramento makes possible a substantial school. The value of these two weeks together is very great. For some it is the only time in the year they see people of another congregation. Had we the means to subsidize the school, its privileges might be extended to a greater number, to some whom long distance now keeps away. But for the past two years the school has paid its own way entirely on an attendance of not more than one hundred.

We intend to hold on. Some men are not getting their salaries, none are buying books, some have had to discontinue their weekly Church papers, few are getting new clothes, but none have lost faith. During the year, I baptized 20, confirmed 107, celebrated the Holy Eucharist 121 times, conducted 60 other services, delivered 203 sermons and addresses, made 392 pastoral calls, attended 36 meetings, held 120 conferences, dedicated 5 buildings, ordained 2 men, traveled 45,000 miles and slept at home 71 nights.

We are grateful for the general good health of our staff in spite of the trying altitude and drab conditions which prevail. In faith and with our eyes set on unchurched places we face the future, believing that He who has sustained us in the past will be our stay in the days ahead.

THOMAS JENKINS,
Bishop of Nevada

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF NEW MEXICO

The Missionary District of New Mexico comprises the State of New Mexico and the counties of El Paso, Reeves, Jeff Davis, Brewster, Presidio, Terrell, Hudspeth and Pecos in the State of Texas. It has 153,394 square miles (New Mexico, 122,460; Texas west of the Pecos, 30,934) and a population of 598,216. The Missionary Jurisdiction of New Mexico and Arizona was created in 1874. The Territories of New Mexico and Arizona were separated and formed into independent missionary districts for convenience of administration in 1892. Texas west of the Pecos was added to the Missionary District of New Mexico in 1895. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Frederick Bingham Howden, D.D., consecrated January 14, 1914.

The appropriation to New Mexico for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, $16,900; (2) for miscellaneous items, $2,612; (3) for support of institutions, $2,900; (4) for United Thank Offering work, $5,400; (5) San Juan Indian Mission, $4,800. Total, $32,612.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

A REVIEW of conditions of the Church during 1932 reveals, I think, that the encouragements noted in my last year's report have been fairly well sustained. The number of Confirmations, 264, were but one less than in 1931 when we reached the highest mark in our history. There has been a net gain in communicants, as well as in the enrollment of members in our Church schools. While the present economic situation may necessitate a revaluation of Church property under a revised scale, the available figures mark a substantial increase over those in preceding years,

In spite of much anxiety in the face of additional bank failures and kindred financial difficulties, we maintained an unblemished record of meeting in full our obligation to the Church's Program, with a large majority of our parishes and missions sending in 100 per cent of their quotas.

While the clergy roll at this time is less by three than last year, the decrease pertains more particularly to the non-parochial or inactive part of the list, and the number in active work within the district has not been diminished. The prospect, moreover, of two ordinations within the next few months should assure us of a still larger supply for our pastoral and missionary needs. In respect to building extensions, with one or two exceptions, the economic situation has necessitated a suspension of operations, and several local programs have been held in abeyance.

Few changes of clergy have occurred during the year. After his graduation from St. John's Theological College, and his ordination, the Rev. William D. Pollock began work, as minister-in-charge of St. Andrew's Mission, Las Cruces, and has since that time also co-operated with the Rev. Hunter Lewis, in charge of several other adjacent missions. On account of curtailments of missionary appropriations and the withdrawal of the Department of Religious Education's subsidy for student work at the University of New Mexico, I was reluctantly obliged, at the close of the year, to discontinue the services of the Rev. Donald Smith, who had combined this student work and ministrations among the health seekers of Albuquerque, with the care of four outside missions. The year's experiment in this work has shown the need of such an appointment and I trust that under more favorable economic conditions, the venture can be resumed. Since the end of the year Mr. Smith has accepted work in the Missionary District of Wyoming.

The Rev. Paul Newell resigned his charge of the Marfa group of missions at the end of November to accept the rectorship of a parish in his former Diocese of Arkansas, and has since been succeeded by the Rev. Milton Swift, who returns to us after a three years' absence in Colorado and Arizona.

An adjustment of missionary cures has enabled me to make pastoral provision for the congregations affected by these changes, except in the case of the University student work.

Our efforts to reach every part of the field assigned to us by the Church, resulted in the opening of two new missions during the year. I have been able to conduct services on two occasions, at the mission in Datil, a small mountain village some thirty-seven miles west of Magdalena, our nearest mission church. The response at these times, as well as during the regular visits of the missionary-in-charge, from people who for the most part must travel many miles to attend a Church service, indicates a need for continual extension in this sort of rural work. The other mission is that at Corona, a small village on the Southern Pacific Railroad some fifty miles north of our nearest mission, St. Paul's, Carrizozo.

The unorganized mission at the coal mining town of Dawson has been considerably furthered during the past year by the acquisition of a building set apart for holding Church services, and equipped as a mission chapel. Hitherto we have held our services in the Community Church, when not otherwise engaged, or in a private house, but with this generous provision by the General Manager of the Phelps Dodge Company, we now have a building more suitably arranged for the Prayer Book Offices.

Two events during 1932 should be noted in connection with the development of the Church in New Mexico. On Sunday, November 20, the Parish of the Holy Faith, Santa Fe, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its present Church building, and the following Sunday the Cathedral Parish in Albuquerque had a similar celebration marking the fiftieth anniversary of St. John's Church. The pioneer missionary efforts in New Mexico, which made the erection of these two churches possible are gratefully remembered by the congregations, which have long since become self-supporting parishes and taken their part in the Church's Program for the extension of Christ's Kingdom.

The work of St. Anne's Mexican Mission, El Paso, for 1932, shows steady growth in its varied activities, and the mission becomes more and more a center for medical, educational, and social ministrations. The clinics begin as early as six-thirty o'clock in the morning and with the playgrounds occupied till late at night, the "work day" for our missionaries is apt to be both long and exacting. A gratifying feature in the reports this past year is the increase in the number of Mexican workers, of whom there are ten on our present staff, and the character of their work includes kindergarten, teaching music, assistance in the clinics, as well as social duties and physical training. Analogous in significance is the fact that our Mexican friends contributed over $1,000 during the past year to the support of St. Anne's work, which in the face of their modest circumstances, and in many instances, abject poverty, indicates a notable measure of self-sacrificing appreciation. At the present time, the National Council appropriation represents about five-sevenths of the total amount for the support of our Mexican mission. With the recent additions in the building and equipment, the entire property has now an appraised value of $25,546. A distressing occurrence came at the end of the year when the condition of Miss Eleanor Slater's health made it necessary for her to resign the appointment as a U. T. O. Worker at St. Anne's, and go to California for convalescence. Pending the appointment of a permanent successor, Mrs. Sifuentes is proving an efficient substitute. Our efforts to provide a satisfactory resident priest for religious ministrations in connection with the work at St. Anne's proved unavailing during the past year, but I am happy to report that the Rev. Joseph Manion, a young clergyman of the Diocese of Connecticut, has recently accepted my appointment to serve in this capacity, and I expect him to begin his work in June.

At our San Juan Indian Mission we had the one instance of an additional building erected within the district during 1932. For this achievement we are indebted to the Indian Committee of the Woman's Auxiliary of New York, who generously accepted the project as part of the Church's Advance Work Program, adopted by the last General Convention. The response by these women was so cordial and prompt that the entire amount asked for both the building and equipment, was made available within the first year of the Triennium, so that we were able to complete the construction and hold the dedication service on November 30th. The new building is of stone boulder construction, similar to the main hospital, which it joins, and affords two additional wards, one for Indian babies and children, and the other for patients who are critically ill. On the lower floor there are rooms which provide living quarters for two hospital workers and a place where the children, who are well enough, can play with their toys. The original hospital building was overcrowded so frequently that this new addition has met a serious need.

It is gratifying to note the splendid staff of men and women workers, which our general missionary to the Navajos, the Rev. Robert Y. Davis, has gathered about him. Their tireless efforts in behalf of the spiritual and bodily welfare of the Navajos, together with a wholesome comradeship among the workers themselves, manifest the joy and inspiration of missionary enterprise.

Our Missionary District is blessed in having at this time, both at St. Anne's and San Juan, an efficiency of administration, which on the basis of economy in relation to the amount of service, deserves my grateful acknowledgment.

FREDERICK B. HOWDEN,
Bishop of New Mexico and Southwest Texas

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF NORTH DAKOTA

The Missionary District of North Dakota includes the whole State of North Dakota. It has an area of 70,837 square miles and a population of about 680,845 people. The district within its present bounds was established by the General Convention in the year 1883. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Frederick B. Bartlett, consecrated December 16, 1931.

The appropriation to North Dakota for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, $18,490; (2) for insurance, repairs and miscellaneous items, $4,100; (3) for United Thank Offering work, $1,620; (4) for Indian work, $2,175; (5) institutions, $400. Total, $26,785.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

A COMPLETE reorganization of the work in North Dakota has been undertaken because of the cut of $9,000 in the budget of the district since 1931. Fourteen missionaries are now doing the work which was formerly done by nineteen.

The work in three institutions has been suspended temporarily. The Mission Home at Cannon Ball among the Dakota Indians was closed in September 1932. The Church Hall for Women Students at Valley City was closed December 1932. The student worker at the University of North Dakota was permitted to leave in October 1932. By the elimination of these projects we lost three United Thank Offering workers and the work of the district has suffered.

Against this background, and in a period of economic difficulty, the work of the district shows real progress. We have had more Confirmations than in any previous year. There have been added to our Church school enrollment, 455 children not counting 167 Indian children at Wahpeton, for whom regular religious instruction is being provided. In the small villages and on the ranches, 750 new people have been discovered, of whom 534 are communicants of the Church, 335 are in our Correspondence School and 43 are preparing for Confirmation.

One new church has been built. Five decadent missions opened for regular services. Two new missions organized. Five preaching stations added. All churches and rectories have been put in first class condition. The total cost of the above was approximately $15,000, of which $11,000 was raised in North Dakota.

We paid our quota to the General Church for 1932 and expect to pay in full in 1933. A $13,400 legacy has been added to the Endowment Fund, and $5,000 received for a rectory at Langdon.

By spreading our missionaries over a vast field we are able to provide for the spiritual needs of our people. At least one service a month is held in every mission and regular pastoral calls are made on every family. Under the present circumstances this spreading is necessary, but it will not be possible to show much progress hereafter if this plan is in operation beyond 1933.

The work in the Indian field has improved remarkably since it was placed in charge of a white archdeacon. He lives in a center within easy driving distance of our four reservations. Services are held each Sunday in all seven chapels, with helpers or catechists acting as lay readers. Four Church schools have been organized, many adults and children are being prepared for Baptism and Confirmation. This entire work is conducted on a budget of $3,700.

We enter the year 1933 with reasonable hope for another year of progress.

Statistics

Clergy in white field 14. In Indian field 2 clergymen and 6 helpers. Lay readers 23. Women workers 2. Parishes and missions 39. Preaching stations 15. Baptized persons 5,202. Communicants 3,405. Church school teachers and pupils 1,102.

FREDERICK B. BARTLETT,
Bishop of North Dakota

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF NORTH TEXAS

The Missionary District of North Texas comprises all that portion of Texas generally known as the Panhandle, including and lying north and west of the following counties: Wilbarger, Baylor, Throckmorton, Shackelford, Callahan, Coleman, Tom Green, Irion, Reagan, Upton, Crane, Ward. It has an area of 76,981 square miles and a population of 826,843. The district within its present bounds was constituted in the year 1913. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Eugene Cecil Seaman, D.D., consecrated January 18, 1925.

The appropriation to North Texas for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, $14,150; (2) for insurance, repairs and miscellaneous items, $2,700; (3) for United Thank Offering work among white people, $540. Total, $17,390.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

THE year was rich in opportunities for pastoral ministrations, the Bishop as well as the priests and our deacon having been sought often for counsel and consolation.

It has been a hard year in which to advance organization or to gain a hearing for constructive Christian ideals. Yet something has been done along this line.

There were 123 Confirmations, being an increase of 7 6-10 per cent for the year, as compared with an average increase by Confirmations of 8 2-10 per cent for the seven years of the recent official survey for 1925-1931.

The business stringency caught each of our four largest congregations struggling with debts contracted during the period of inflation. Terms of deferred payments which had seemed very easy proved last year to be very difficult to meet; and in the face of pressing obligations to creditors close at hand and very importunate it was hard to care for those prior obligations to the district and to the National Council, whose claims, though equally urgent, were not pressed with the same threatening insistence. But even so, our missions for the most part have met all their debts.

With some help from South Florida our mission at Pampa has completed a parish house with detachable sanctuary, and a large number of adult Confirmations have resulted from the Rev. Newton C. Smith's active work.

North Dakota's Advance Work project in North Texas assisted the Dalhart mission to obtain a rectory at depression prices. Here the American Church Building Fund Commission helped too. This is where our chapel has for years been 175 miles from its rectory; but when a young clergyman comes in the summer Dalhart will move from the circumference to the center of its field.

Our equipment for college student work has been greatly augmented by the completion by the United Thank Offering of the attractive building in Lubbock, seat of the Texas Technological College. It was ready for our District Summer Conference last June, and since the beginning of the fall term of the college has been in almost daily use. Convocation, at the instigation of the district Woman's Auxiliary, voted that it be called Seaman Hall, and designated its beautiful oratory as Creighton Chapel. There is an early administration of Holy Communion here each Sunday of the month, except the first, and a student program each Sunday evening, beside manifold weekday activities. The Rev. Lyle S. Barnett on December 1, succeeded the Rev. Bradner J. Moore as minister-in-charge. The district is most grateful for the building, and has written into its annual budget an item for its maintenance, although it is to some extent self-supporting.

Rural contacts have been made and interest aroused some twenty miles from Abilene by the erection of an impressive shaft in memory of Bishop Garrett and marking the site of our first Prayer Book service in this region in 1878. It was unveiled in the week of the centennial of the Bishop's birth and is largely the fruit of the Rev. W. P. Gerhart's efforts.

Having had to compile my own list of our Church's real estate holdings, which have been accumulating for fifty years in a new country where records are often sketchy, I have had no little trouble securing accurate descriptions, especially where years ago there was a tendency, on the part of local committeemen, trustees and individuals, to hold title independently of diocesan or district authorities. There are still many deeds that cannot be located, but in nearly every case I have finally succeeded in locating by volume and page-number the State's record of conveyance to the Church.

We secured for The Protestant Episcopal Board of Trustees for the Missionary District of North Texas, thought to have been incorporated years ago and described in District Canons as a corporation, its charter in 1932.

Our objectives for 1933 are:

1. The refinancing of all building and paving debts so as not to let the annual or monthly installments impede our payments to the Church's Program budget quota.

2. The location of a general missionary in a district-owned house in the see city.

3. The development of rural work with Dalhart, Pampa and McCamey as centers, thus giving us pivotal points in each of the four corners of the district, Coleman being already a strategic organization in the southeast extremity.

4. The broadening and strengthening of our college student work in Amarillo, Canyon, Lubbock, Abilene and San Angelo, in each of which places we now have adequate physical equipment.

5. The co-ordination of Sunday school work, through courses to be given by Miss Mabel Lee Cooper during our Summer Conference, and looking forward to its supervision eventually by Miss Helen Lyles, one of our girls now in training for district religious education.

E. CECIL SEAMAN,

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF OKLAHOMA

The Missionary District of Oklahoma includes the whole State of Oklahoma. It has an area of 70,000 square miles and a population of about 2,396,040 people. The Districts of Eastern Oklahoma and Oklahoma which were constituted in the year 1910 were united by the General Convention of 1919. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Thomas Casady, D.D., consecrated October 2, 1927.

The appropriation to Oklahoma for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, $40,095; (2) for insurance, repairs and miscellaneous items, $13,050; (3) for support of institutions, $1,800; (4) Indian work, $900. Total, $55,845.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

THE year 1932 was one of adjustment and consolidation rather than of expansion because of the decrease in revenue from the National Council, coupled with the decrease in local giving.

Three clergymen were dismissed, two Negro missionaries and one white archdeacon. The two Negro missions were joined to other work, one under a Negro priest and the other under a white priest. This was a distinct disadvantage to both, but necessary under the circumstances. The places visited by the archdeacon were either abandoned temporarily or put under the care of the nearest clergyman. Hence the entire field, with the exception of two places with little promise, has been reassigned so that it may be covered regularly. Owing to the activity of faithful lay readers this adjustment worked out better than was hoped or believed possible. The response of the people and clergy to the emergency has been gratifying. No loss in interest or results will be noticed in the record for 1932, but it is only fair to say that such emergency measures will show their effects in time and cannot be long continued without producing unfavorable effects. Extension work, which is of the utmost importance in such a field as Oklahoma, had to be reduced almost to nothing. The Bishop has plans for special evangelical work carried on by him personally, which it is hoped will, to a degree, counteract the harmful effects of curtailment in other directions.

During part or all of 1932 three important places were "vacant", namely: Enid, a parish, Shawnee, a parish, and Ponca City, a mission. Arrangements were made to supply Enid and Ponca City and later in the year a clergyman was placed at Shawnee on a very small stipend. The work has not grown in any of these places and cannot under existing conditions.

The beautiful new student chapel at the University in Norman was opened and consecrated in the fall of 1932. Ever since, the congregations have taxed it to capacity and in every other respect the work there has grown, showing that the building was more than justified.

St. Luke's, Chickasha, has made steady growth. This mission is especially important as the State Woman's College is located at Chickasha. Over half the faculty is affiliated with our mission. The student enrollment is 1,000. This mission will be a parish in a few years.

Under the new vicar the work at Fort Sill and Lawton has made spectacular growth in numbers and financial support. Our newest mission, St. James', Capitol Hill, Oklahoma City, has developed from nothing to a strong mission with ninety baptized members and fifty communicants. This mission is in the poor part of the city.

A new mission has been organized in Duncan and as soon as the proposed lot and building are secured, which will probably be in 1933, rapid growth may be expected there.

Satisfactory progress can be reported in the great majority of our organized missions. A few have gone the other way, owing usually to economic conditions which have involved extensive removals and decrease in financial support. This condition applies to places principally dependent upon oil, cotton and wheat. Towns with a diversified economic development have not suffered proportionately.

The morale and industry of the clergy have been truly remarkable, and the faithfulness of the people better than anyone could reasonably anticipate. On the whole our gains have far surpassed our losses, and without any question increased interest and larger Church attendance is noticeable almost everywhere.

Two parishes that were seriously involved financially are able to report far better financial conditions as a result of the most drastic economies and better handling of their fiscal affairs. Only one parish instead of three now faces a dangerous financial condition.

The Indian work at Watonga and Concho still continues as during my episcopate. The cost has been reduced from $3,000 a year to $300. The Church can never hope to do successful and valuable work among the Indians in Oklahoma until large sums of money are available for social service and educational work. We continue to receive more Indians into our white congregations than we gain from direct Indian work.

There is a great opportunity presented by our Negro population. That, also, can be effectually done only with the expenditure of more money. We are holding what we have and making small gains, but our attack on the problem is necessarily feeble for lack of equipment and personnel.

Plans are crystallizing for the creation of an endowment. Small amounts are added each year and larger amounts will be available a few years hence.

We are doing all that we can do with the men and money available and, above all, there is no complaining in our streets.

Every possible effort is being made to present this district to the Church as a diocese in the near future. If we fail it will be only because we were unequal to the task, not because we have not tried our best.

THOMAS CASADY,
Missionary Bishop of Oklahoma

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF SALINA

The Missionary District of Salina was set off from the Diocese of Kansas by the General Convention in 1901. It includes 50,700 square miles. The present population is 581,166. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Robert H. Mize, D.D., consecrated January 19, 1921.

The appropriation to Salina for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, $17,850; (2) for insurance, repairs and miscellaneous items, $7,350; (3) for United Thank Offering work among white people, $1,080. Total, $26,280.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

I MUST, first of all, express the dismay felt by the Bishop, clergy and certain of the laity that this district could not fulfill its promise to the forward program. It was a matter of conscientious interest throughout the year but local and general conditions made full payment impossible.

Reduced budget allowances have made necessary several readjustments in our work. Two clergy withdrew at the end of the year and their places will not be filled. The reduced force will take added duties, though the spreading of energy and time over larger areas will decrease effectiveness and at the same time add to the expense of travel. One priest, in charge of several missions, drives for a Sunday evening service a distance greater than from Connecticut to Vermont. Others cover fields requiring still longer distances of travel during each week. However, we are accustomed to spreading our resources thin, and also have the advantage of experience in adapting ourselves to a readjustment program.

With the help of the present group of clergy, important centers will be kept open and ministrations of the Church carried to adjacent points. It may not be an effective way of presenting the Church or adding to its numbers, but it will keep open the larger missions and care for our own people in smaller communities. In thirty-three of the fifty-nine counties included in the District of Salina, each one of which has an area equal to or greater than the land area of Rhode Island, our Church owns no property and holds no services. Ample opportunity and much obligation remain for missionary enterprises which would require increasing rather than diminishing assistance.

I have ordained 4 priests during the year, 3 of whom were placed at various points, thus giving a larger force than ever before at work in the district. This has made possible a year of activity resulting in an increased number of Baptisms and Confirmations and a general development along all other lines. The Confirmations totaled 171. This number may not seem large but it is a high percentage for the Church in Kansas.

The new church at Garden City has been completed and consecrated. This Church building was made possible by a gift from the Woman's Auxiliary. The record of development since it was opened demonstrates the advantage of a church rather than a store building for services and parochial activities. A growing Church school, increased attendance at services, enlarged contributions and greater vigor in organized work prove the necessity of a Church building for building up Church life.

The work centering at Norton and Hays, in charge of the younger clergy, has made decided growth. As a result, one field has become self-supporting and the other has assumed increased responsibility for salary and maintenance. At Hays will be established in 1933, an Associate Mission, fostered and supported by the Missionary Society of the General Theological Seminary. The present priest-in-charge of this mission will thus be released for duty elsewhere in the district.

Other missions might be mentioned as gaining in strength, but I must commend St. Faith's House, in charge of the deaconess who is a United Thank Offering worker, which continues its power to demonstrate in Salina and in the district as a whole the peculiar gift of the Church to do well its religious and social service work. St. Faith's is a house of good works including schools, services, visiting, clubs for parents and for young people, the dispensing of charity, and also a branch of the public library. The deaconess works alone but yet adds to her duties missionary visits and responsibility for the isolated Church people of the district. It is a notable example of what can be done by the Church.

Though the year has been full of anxious care, it has been a year of activity and of demonstration of the growing solidarity of the Church in Western Kansas.

R. H. MIZE,
Bishop of Salina

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF SAN JOAQUIN

The Missionary District of San Joaquin includes the counties of Alpine, Calaveras, Fresno, Inyo, Kern, Kings, Madera, Mariposa, Merced, Mono, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Tulare and Tuolumne in the State of California. It has an area of 35,000 square miles and a population of 538,419 people. The district within its present bounds was constituted in the year 1910. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Louis Childs Sanford, D.D., consecrated January 25, 1911.

The appropriation to San Joaquin for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, $16,120; (2) for miscellaneous items, $3,300; (3) for United Thank Offering work among white people, $1,080. Total, $20,500.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

THE fine spirit of our clergy and laity in this difficult year cannot be too highly praised. None of our activities have been diminished though local support, as well as national aid, have been curtailed.

The Rev. Jonathan Nicholas, retired priest, died on December 13, aged eighty-three years. Mr. Nicholas came to this country from Wales in his boyhood. He was ordained in 1890 by Bishop Nichols of California and served nearly all of his ministry in the territory now included in San Joaquin. Stationed first at Sonora and later at Oakhurst, he was in charge of Trinity Mission, Madera at the time of his retirement in 1917. He has since lived quietly in Madera.

The Rev. John Elmer Darling, Vicar of St. Andrew's, Taft, and Christ Church, Coalinga, died suddenly on September 7. He came to this district in October, 1930, and had rendered in the two short years of his incumbency effective service. Both of his missions unanimously requested that his successor might not be appointed but that the direction of their activities might remain in the hands of the surviving members of his family consisting of his widow, a daughter and two sons. The plan has worked well and the arrangement will continue during 1933 without charge upon the treasury of the national Church.

Our staff has been increased by the coming of Mr. Duncan Grant Porteous, a student for orders, who took charge of St. Paul's, Visalia, on February 1, as lay pastor.

At present there are 21 priests canonically resident and one officiating under license. Of these, 4 are rectors of self-supporting parishes, 8 are in charge of 15 organized missions, 1 is archdeacon, 2 are teachers, 1 is officiating in a neighboring diocese, 4 have retired on account of age, and 2 are unemployed. There are also 15 lay readers on the staff. Services are maintained every Sunday at 19 points, and monthly or oftener at 8 other places.

After ten years of devoted service, the archdeacon, the Ven. William Herbert Hawken, will retire on February 28, 1933, on account of age. His work has been mainly in the small settlements too remote to be cared for by neighboring clergy, but vacant parishes and missions have also been put in his care and in some years have made large demands upon his time. He has, also, been charged with many administrative details. Much of his work has been temporary, such as the organization of Church schools and services in construction camps. He has labored with zeal and discretion and none of our clergy have been more widely known in the district or more affectionately esteemed. His successor will not be appointed because of the shortage in missionary funds, and as far as possible his work will be assigned to the parochial clergy and staff of lay readers.

Mrs. J. E. Adams, a member of the staff of St. Margaret's House, Berkeley, was appointed part-time director of religious education August 1. She devotes ten days each month to visiting the Church schools of the district, and keeps in touch with them at other times by correspondence. Her specialty is the small Church school, and the stimulating influence of her wise and understanding approaches to the isolated groups she has reached is already marked. Her appointment is the most constructive move in our educational work yet made. I had expected to meet her stipend by a grant from the United Thank Offering. It is perhaps as well that the grant was not forthcoming, since we have arranged to support her locally.

The entire district, being agricultural, has been weakened by market conditions, but perhaps not more so than other parts of the Church. The Every Member Canvass has resulted in diminished returns. The parochial side of the pledge card has suffered proportionately more than the missionary side. Three organized missions have been put out of business, probably permanently. The closing of the lumber mill at Tuolumne has taken away most of the town's population and reduced our constituency to three families. Los Angeles, by taking the water from the Owens River has dried up Inyo County beyond recovery. Bishop and Lone Pine, the largest settlements, have shrunk to half their former size. We are still maintaining services in the county but our missions there can no longer hope to achieve self support.

LOUIS C. SANFORD,

The Missionary District of South Dakota includes the whole State of South Dakota and also the tract of land in northwestern Nebraska, once known as the Santee Reservation. It has an area of 80,000 square miles and a population of over 692,849 people. The district within its present bounds was established by the General Convention in the year 1883. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. William Blair Roberts, D.D., formerly Suffragan Bishop, consecrated December 6, 1922, and elected Missionary Bishop, September 29, 1931, following the election of the former Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Hugh Latimer Burleson, D.D., as Assistant to the Presiding Bishop.

The appropriation to South Dakota for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishops and clergy, for white work, $23,050; (2) for Indian work, $63,865; (3) for insurance, repairs and miscellaneous items, $8,100; (4) for support of institutions, $750; (5) for United Thank Offering work among white people, $7,020. Total, $102,785.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

DURING the past year, in spite of tremendous cuts from the National Council, the work of the Church in South Dakota has not gone backward. On the contrary, I believe in many ways it has gone forward.

Three new chapels were consecrated by the Bishop during this time, all three in the Indian field, Christ Church, Ft. Thompson; St. Michael's at the Government Indian School at Pierre, and Holy Spirit near Ideal on the Rosebud Reservation. Of course, the money for these had been previously raised but the work was not completed until the past year. All are a big asset to our work.

In spite of the scarcity of money we have not abandoned any work. All missionary clergy including the Bishop have had their salaries cut, some of us twice. As clergy have moved from the district their fields were combined with those of other clergy, thus keeping all missions open but with a smaller number of clergy. And may I express here my gratitude to these men for their cheerful willingness to take on larger work at reduced salaries?

The curtailment of men has taken place only in the white field. The Indian field has been kept intact, as it must be. It has been my policy, where it is necessary to get along with less men, to take men from the white work rather than the Indian field. That work must be maintained at all costs. Not only have we not reduced our staff in the Indian field, but we are adding to it. The Rev. Innis L. Jenkins came to us immediately after his graduation from the Theological Department of the University of the South last June, and is now assisting the Rev. Paul H. Barbour on the Rosebud Reservation. Another young man who is to be graduated from one of our seminaries next June is to come into the Indian field. It is necessary that we secure these men for we must raise up a group of white leaders in this field to take the places of those who have labored for so many years and who must in time give up the work.

Our Indian schools are going forward with their work as usual, although under a reduced budget, and I believe they are giving splendid service. Hare School, our industrial school for boys at Mission, is gradually gaining well merited recognition from government and other officials. It is the only school of its kind in the Indian country and its value for developing young Indian manhood and turning that manhood into useful walks of life cannot be over estimated. I believe we have in this school a potentially great institution, and we are, of course, anxious to strengthen it in every way in our power.

We have managed to keep All Saints' School, Sioux Falls, our school for white girls, open this year. Whether we shall be able to do so next year is a question. As I write a special committee of the board of directors of the school is at work on the problem and every effort will be made to keep open this institution which has been so much a part of the life of the Church in South Dakota.

St. James' Church, Belle Fourche, has answered the wail of the pessimists to mark time by building a splendid guild hall which is one of the most substantial buildings of its kind that we have in South Dakota. They have been raising money for this project for several years and the American Church Building Fund made it possible for them to complete the work in December.

In September, I requested the Bishop of North Dakota to take oversight of that part of the Standing Rock Reservation lying in North Dakota consisting of three chapels and a mission home. This was transferred to the jurisdiction of South Dakota at the last General Convention. It is my purpose at the next meeting of the House of Bishops to request its permanent return to the District of North Dakota.

Last year was a red-letter year in the history of the Niobrara Deanery for the reason that the Presiding Bishop of the Church was our guest throughout the entire Niobrara Convocation. His presence there, his deep sympathy with the work, his happy faculty of meeting these people on their own level and proving himself to be, in fact, as well as in words, an "elder brother" to them, made an impression on our Indian people which will be lasting. Nothing, I think, has happened to so strengthen the work as did his presence at this Convocation.

Last year the Rt. Rev. Fred Ingley, Bishop Coadjutor of Colorado, spent eight days in the District of South Dakota assisting me with Confirmations. This year the Rt. Rev. Frank A. McElwain, Bishop of Minnesota, is to spend an equal length of time for the same purpose. I desire to record my personal gratitude and the gratitude of the district to these men for their kindness.

I have appointed no archdeacon to succeed the late Dr. Ashley in the Indian field. The Rev. David W. Clark, dean of the Niobrara Deanery, is doing a little of the work which he did, as much as he can with his responsibility as superintending presbyter of the Lower Brule and Crow Creek Reservations. The Rev. Valentine Junker, who did splendid work for several years as archdeacon in the white field, has accepted a call as rector of Trinity Church, Watertown. I am not appointing a successor.

Last spring at the meeting of the House of Bishops I withdrew my request for a Suffragan and propose to carry on as long as possible without one. In these ways the expenses of administration in this district have been reduced to a minimum.

In spite of reduced budgets we are going forward into the future hopefully and in confidence that in some way things will work out for the best. We are not depressed in any sense of the word. On the contrary we are trying to turn these difficult times into a real blessing for the Church, and by God's help we will do so.

W. BLAIR ROBERTS,

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF SPOKANE

The Missionary District of Spokane includes the eastern portion of the State of Washington from the summit of the Cascade Mountains. It has an area of 43,000 square miles and a population of 510,377 people. The district within its present bounds was constituted in the year 1892. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Edward M. Cross, S.T.D., consecrated February 20, 1924.

The appropriation to Spokane for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, $23,108; (2) for miscellaneous items, $4,800; (3) for United Thank Offering work among white people, $2,160. Total, $30,068.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

I HAVE concluded the ninth year of my Episcopate. As has been true everywhere, the past year was one of many difficulties in the District of Spokane. However, courage and a right good heart have been at hand with which to combat the common enemy.

For six of my nine years as Bishop of Spokane, I have been the Acting Dean of the Cathedral. In September, the Very Rev. Charles E. McAllister, D.D., took charge of the cathedral congregation, which released me for other duties among which was a two-month period spent in the East under the direction of the Field Department of the National Council.

In the district, Baptisms in 1932 were 283 as against 238 in 1931; Confirmations were 290 as against 281 in 1931; Church school enrollment was 1,693 as against 1,654 in 1931; and membership in organizations was 2,243 as against 2,320.

Briefly, it should be noted that the work of the district has been slightly more than holding its own despite a progressive decrease in rural population, and further, despite the fact that the field has been covered during the past five or six years with three or four less men than was formerly the case.

The rectors of our six parishes have taken wholesale cuts in salaries. Our missionaries, in addition to accepting a 10% cut from the share of their salaries paid by the National Council, have in every case accepted anywhere from 20 to 50% cuts in the share of their salaries expected from their respective missions.

Extra effort has been made during the past year to develop the life of the Church within the five deaneries comprising the District of Spokane. The deanery organization consists of an executive council from each mission within the deanery and has as an annual objective pilgrimages, the interchange of visitations, contact with the isolated, a central presentation of the Lenten Offering, where possible, and two central meetings or conferences of the deanery—one in the spring and one in the fall. These objectives have already been reached in the Spokane Deanery and partly so in the Wenatchee and Yakima Deaneries.

Despite the "hard times," but mainly because of the generous assistance of friends of the Church outside the district, we built and dedicated two new churches last year. One, the log church at Twisp at a cost of $1,300, generous help toward which we received from the Diocese of Massachusetts. The other, a brick and stucco church at Pasco at a cost of $6,000, generous help for which was received from the Diocese of Milwaukee, the American Church Building Fund Commission, and the Double Temple Society. Our gratitude for this assistance is deep and abiding.

St. Paul's Girls' School at Walla Walla has continued its work despite the reduced enrollment and drastic reductions in income.

On the Church's Program, the total amount contributed by the district was $4,894.81. With few exceptions the utmost effort was put forth to pay the amounts promised by the parishes and missions to the district, but in some localities circumstances were such that it was utterly impossible to realize anything more for the Church's Program seeing that ministers' salaries and running expenses were far behind—even, as in some cases, entirely unpaid. Of the $4,894.81 received from the Church's Program we sent all but $513 to the national Church.

Beyond the physical things to the completion of which our hearts and hands have been guided, how shall we speak and think of the fashion in which the spiritual body of the Church has been built up? Of the faithfulness and insistent courage of our clergy? Of the countless acts of faith and of mercy of hundreds of our lay people? After all is said and done, our life has shown a wonderful steadiness; hope and good cheer and determination not to be frustrated.

There is no defeatism in the spirit of the clergy and laity of the District of Spokane.

EDWARD M. CROSS,
Bishop of Spokane

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF UTAH

The Missionary District of Utah embraces the State of Utah. It has an area of 84,970 square miles and a population of 507,847 people. The district within its present bounds was established by the General Convention in the year 1907. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Arthur W. Moulton, D.D., consecrated April 29, 1920.

The appropriation to Utah for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, for white work, $21,500; for Indian work, $4,000; (2) for insurance, repairs and miscellaneous items, $4,521; (3) for the support of institutions, $7,500; (4) for United Thank Offering work among white people, $1,080. Total, $38,601.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

THE work of the Church in Utah during the past year has had its challenging difficulties. All of our missionaries have worked hopefully and with new spirit in the face of reduced stipends and equipment. We have kept open all our posts and have not closed any of the work. Indeed we have made renewed efforts to keep up the work at Garfield, Utah, where the copper mines are, in order that we might do our part in a desperate situation.

St. Mark's Hospital has been able to pay off a substantial portion of a small indebtedness and Emery Memorial House has succeeded in operating without adding to its indebtedness of last year.

Rowland Hall, school for girls, like all schools, has been hard put to it to keep going, but renewed interest on the part of the community will probably help us to weather the terrific storm. The community believes so strongly in the value of this school that it is determined that it shall not be closed.

Our community house at Helper has been able to pay its current bills and some small amount on the indebtedness, but unless the railroad business improves in 1933 we shall be in a serious situation.

We gave more money to missions in 1932 than we gave in 1931 and there is a fine spirit abroad to meet our appropriation in 1933.

While the number of Confirmations fell to 90, in this number there was some excellent material.

The Church in Utah met with a serious loss in the death on July 9, 1932, of Professor George M. Marshall. Professor Marshall was the oldest teacher in point of service at the university of Utah and for over forty years had been closely identified with the religious and educational interests of the State. He was devoted to the Church; was Secretary of the Council of Advice for many years and an immense help to all the bishops of the district.

We are most grateful to the General Church for the help given us during the year and wish we could relinquish a large part of our appropriation, but our numbers are so small and the work so important that we shall need the generous assistance, for a long time to come, of those who believe in the direct and inspiring influence of an alert minority in an overwhelming majority. That is our position here.

ARTHUR W. MOULTON,
Bishop of Utah

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF WESTERN NEBRASKA

The Missionary District of Western Nebraska includes the western two-thirds of Nebraska. It has an area of 55,000 square miles and a population of 475,000 people. The district within its present bounds was established by the General Convention in the year 1889. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. George Allen Beecher, D.D., consecrated November 30, 1910.

The appropriation to Western Nebraska for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, $22,555; (2) for insurance, repairs and miscellaneous items, $4,550; (3) for United Thank Offering work among white people, $1,080. Total, $28,185.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

IN Western Nebraska there are four self-supporting parishes and two near-parishes or missions sufficiently organized to approach the standard of a parish. They are St. Mark's Pro-Cathedral, Hastings; St. Stephen's, Grand Island; St. Luke's, Kearney; Church of Our Saviour, North Platte; Christ Church, Sidney; and St. Matthew's Church, Alliance. In these parishes there is an approximate list of 1,000 communicants. This would be an average of about 170 communicants in each parish. I speak of this simply to show that as compared with a standard parish in a city of 100,000 or more population, it would not be possible that six priests would be employed in such a parish. Each parish mentioned above, however, is a center of missionary activities reaching out to parochial boundaries far beyond those of city limitations, and services are being held in adjacent missions, making the number of souls far greater than the statistical estimate of listed communicants. The number of communicants in Western Nebraska is reported to be 2,359 for 1932. This would mean that more than one-third of the communicants reported reside in the six parishes, leaving the balance of less than 2,000 communicants scattered over an area of 55,000 square miles.

When we take into consideration the fact that approximately 10,000 people have been presented for Confirmation in this missionary field, and that less than 3,000 communicants are reported as resident in the district, we realize in some measure what a transient population means to the work of the Church in a missionary district. While there is no method of obtaining in a field like this a reasonable estimate of the number of communicants presented who have ceased to be active and interested in their present locations, it is reasonably certain that a vast majority are affiliated with the Church elsewhere. This means that a missionary field operates in large measure as a clearing house for Churchmen in action elsewhere. It also shows clearly why a missionary field cannot become self-supporting if we are to consider it in this way as a worthy creative agency in bearing fruit for the Church as a whole.

Church Property

Our Church property in Western Nebraska has been kept in good repair and several improvements have been made in the various parishes and missions.

The Church of Our Saviour, North Platte, has been completely renovated and looks like a new building. There was a fire in the rectory, but the building was soon repaired. Mr. Pryor takes personal interest in having the property properly cared for,

We have made all arrangements for the erection of a new chapel in Whitman, one of our interior missions. We hope to have this building erected in the early spring.

In St. Luke's Church, Kearney, the Rev. Mr. Marsden tells me that the basement has been completely rebuilt into parish rooms which are used as the center of all the social activities. Mr. Marsden is certainly to be congratulated, and also the congregation at Kearney, for the completion of the Church building itself and its fine furnishings. Mr. Marsden is in his twelfth year now as rector of St. Luke's Church.

The Rev. Mr. Ferrier, who recently moved from Broken Bow to Holdrege, has made some very necessary repairs in the rectory at Holdrege.

Grace Church, Red Cloud, has been completely repaired after the fire last winter. We are all very proud of our good women in Red Cloud who took such vital interest in having the church restored, and we are thankful that the beautiful memorial windows were not destroyed.

It is needless to say that the district as a whole is justly proud of its new Pro-Cathedral at Hastings. This is becoming more and more a center of Church activities, throughout the district. We are planning to make it as much a center of missionary enterprise as possible. Our convocations are usually held here, and next fall we are planning to have the annual meeting of the Synod of the Province of the Northwest.

Our Church property at Lexington has been sold to the Lutherans. Our Church families practically abandoned Lexington years ago and there seemed to be no prospect for a new anchorage. The work, therefore, has been abandoned after quite an interesting history of nearly fifty years.

Our people at Bridgeport are planning to build a new chapel in a more suitable location.

Many improvements have been made at Scottsbluff under the rectorship of the Rev. Oliver Riley. At Gering practically a new church has been built. The original chapel was extended with transepts, choir and sanctuary. Our people at Gering are very happy over this achievement. There is no indebtedness on the chapel. Mr. Riley, as rural dean, has charge of the work at Gering, but we are earnestly hoping that we shall be able to send a priest to reside in Gering and take charge of the mission there.

At Cody our little group has fixed up the basement of the church with a floor and it is now being used as a parish room.

During the past year I have baptized 6 adults and 36 infants, total 42. I have appointed 27 lay readers. Two postulants have been received as candidates for Holy Orders. I have received one applicant as a postulant. I have conducted 9 burial services; 3 marriages; confirmed 170; ordained one young man to the diaconate, and 3 to the priesthood. I have held over 200 services and traveled 38,000 miles. There are 18 clergy in this field, and 59 parishes and missions. Number of communicants reported, 2,359.

Deaconess LeHew, formerly of Mullen, is now at Mitchell assisting Mr. Kano in the work among the Japanese of Western Nebraska.

The Rev. J. C. Ferrier has moved from Broken Bow to Holdrege.

The Rev. R. J. Thomas has moved from Valentine to Broken Bow.

The Rev. H. E. Asboe, formerly of Alliance, has been transferred to the Diocese of Nebraska, as rector of Christ Church, Beatrice.

The Rev. H. B. Vinnedge, Ph.D., was ordained to the priesthood on Trinity Sunday in All Saints' Cathedral, Milwaukee. Dr. Vinnedge is teaching temporarily at Nashotah House.

The Rev. Oscar C. Taylor was ordained to the priesthood in St. Matthew's Church, Alliance, on the Sunday after Easter, April 3, 1932, and is now in charge of the work at Alliance. He was transferred from the Diocese of Maryland.

Rev. James Valliant, who was transferred as deacon from the Diocese of Maryland, was ordained to the priesthood in St. Stephen's Church, Grand Island, on Sunday, December 11, and has accepted the call to be rector of St. Stephen's Church, Grand Island.

The Rev. J. Gale Ford, who was ordained to the priesthood in All Saints' Church, Milwaukee, on Trinity Sunday and transferred to the Missionary District of Western Nebraska, is now living at Mullen and is in charge of the missionary work at Mullen and adjacent territory, including Eclipse and Whitman.

During 1932 four priests have been received and only one transferred out of the district.

GEO. A. BEECHER,
Bishop of Western Nebraska

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF WYOMING

The Missionary District of Wyoming includes the State of Wyoming. It has an area of 97,914 square miles and a population of 225,565 people. The district within its present bounds was established by the General Convention in the year 1907. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Elmer N. Schmuck, D.D., consecrated December 13, 1929.

The appropriation to Wyoming for 1932 is as follows: (1) For salaries and traveling expenses of Bishop and clergy, $27,583; (2) for insurance, repairs and miscellaneous items, $11,310; (3) for Indian work, $24,329; (4) for United Thank Offering work among white people, $3,996; institutions, $1,400. Total, $68,618.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

DURING the year, the people of the State of Wyoming began to feel severely the effects of the depression. Ranching, oil, and mining are the major industries of the state. The tremendous drop in the price of wool, sheep, beef, and curtailment of coal mining and production of oil caused tremendous financial loss and income. The result was reflected in financial condition of our parishes and missions, making it difficult for many to carry on as well as in the previous year. While there has been a decrease in financial giving there has been a sustained spiritual interest in the life of parishes and missions. No place had to be closed and the clergy have met the situation with a fine spirit of self-sacrifice. I sensed a larger spiritual interest on the part of the Church people everywhere and a willingness to do their very best. The establishment of regular services is bringing renewed interest and strengthening of Church life throughout the district; the convocation in June found every clergyman but one present and a larger lay representation than any since I became Bishop. I am glad to report, though the financial situation was more difficult, the district remitted for the quota to the National Council $3,586.03 in 1932, as against $3,081.11 in 1931; an increase of $504.92 over the previous year. So much for general conditions.

Some changes occurred in the clergy list during the year. The latter part of September, the Rev. Philip K. Edwards, rector of St. Mark's Church, Casper, and missionary-in-charge of Edgerton, suffered a stroke and after a prolonged illness had to take a leave of absence in California to recover. Mr.

Edwards has been at Casper about twelve years and during his rectorship built the beautiful parish church. For the time being the Rev. Jos. D. Salter of the Diocese of Minnesota has been placed in charge as locum tenens. On December 4, the Rev. F. C. Wissenbach resigned after eight years' rectorship of St. Peter's Church, Sheridan, Wyoming, to accept the appointment of the Presiding Bishop to the charge of Ascension Church in Munich, Germany. During his rectorship a new rectory was purchased to complete the block on which the church stands.

After completing twenty years of service as Dean of the Cathedral, at Laramie, the Very Rev. D. W. Thornberry resigned on December 31, to accept a call to St. Paul's Church, Virginia, Minnesota, in the Diocese of Duluth. During periods of his deanship he had taken charge of missionary work about Laramie, namely at Medicine Bow, Fox Park, Rock River, Elk Mountain and other places at various times. These changes in important places in the district affected district organization. At the end of the year St. Peter's still remained vacant. The Rev. A. Abbott Hastings was elected Dean of the Cathedral December 29th and assumes charge January 1.

In addition to the above changes in parishes the following also took place. On the first of October the Rev. E. C. Van Hise resigned as priest-in-charge of Trinity Church, Thermopolis; St. Andrew's, Basin; and Worland. On September 1, the Rev. A. Abbott Hastings, Warden of St. Michael's Mission to the Arapahoe Indians resigned to become rector of the Cathedral Schools at Laramie, priest-in-charge of Student Work of the Church at the State University and also to assist me as executive secretary for the district. On the same date the Rev. Barrett P. Tyler, D.D., one time rector of All Saints' Church, Brookline, Mass., became Warden of St. Michael's Mission, Ethete. In the rearrangement of the work the Rev. Frederick M. Morris, assistant at St. Michael's was placed as priest-in-charge of the churches in Fremont County; Riverton, Lander, Dubois, and Atlantic City. On December 31, the Rev. James MacLaughlin after a five-year rectorship of St. Paul's Church, Evanston, and priest-in-charge of Granger, resigned and retired from active service to make his home in southern California.

During the early spring a beautiful log church was completed at Riverton and on May 16, I formally opened and dedicated it as St. James' Church. This was accomplished under the leadership and co-operation of the Rev. Frederick M. Morris and the people of the mission. For a number of years the people had been working and saving for this purpose and their savings, together with a generous appropriation from the Diocese of Pennsylvania in their Advance Work Program, made possible the completion of this adequate and attractive church almost entirely free of debt. I expect to consecrate it some time in 1933. Improvements have been made on the Holiday House, now used as a rectory, and the church at Encampment.

The work at Bishop Randall Hospital, Lander; and St. John's, Jackson; continues satisfactorily under the joint management of local boards. They served a large number of patients and closed the year without indebtedness.

The Indian missions, St. Michael's to the Arapahoes at Ethete and the Shoshone Mission School had a larger enrollment of students and did a most effective work. They also closed the year without indebtedness. Dr. Tyler, the new warden at St. Michael's, has taken hold of the work there with vigor.

The Cathedral Home for Children at Laramie has one of the largest number of residents during its existence. The ladies' board of managers together with Mrs. Nan L. Whitehead, the efficient superintendent, has met all the calls to care for needy children which have been made. Through the generous voluntary gifts of Church people and interested friends throughout the state, the fiscal year was closed without indebtedness. It is a tremendous satisfaction to have all of the institutions so well administered and kept free of debt during these trying times.

Financial conditions throughout the State caused a drop in the enrollment of pupils at the Cathedral Schools during the year. It was a question whether they could be continued. An extraordinary effort was made by the new rector the Rev. Mr. Hastings, and the enrollment in both was brought to a point where they could be opened. By drastic economies and reorganization of the staffs and gifts from interested friends they have been continued. The Rev. Mr. Hastings has revived the student interest in the church at the university, and the response at services by the students has reached a high-water mark. The State University has probably the highest percentage of Episcopal students of any state university in the country, which makes the work of the utmost importance.

Another matter of interest and satisfaction has been the formation of additional parochial branches of the Woman's Auxiliary to the National Council. Mrs. Elmer N. Schmuck, the president of the district branch, has visited a number of places and has helped to bring this about.

To meet the situation of reduced appropriations and income from the mission field more places have been combined under one clergyman. In this way no place has been without spiritual oversight by a clergyman.

During the year I confirmed a total of 272.

ELMER N. SCHMUCK,
Bishop of Wyoming

REPORTS FROM THE DIOCESES

The Council aids 40 dioceses in the prosecution of their diocesan work.

The reports from the Bishops follow.

ARKANSAS—The Rt. Rev. James Ridout Winchester, D.D., Bishop; Resigned September 24, 1931. The Rt. Rev. Edwin Warren Saphore, D.D., Suffragan Bishop; The Rt. Rev. Edward Thomas Demby, Suffragan Bishop for Negro Work. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $2,136; for Negro work, $6,318; for United Thank Offering work, (white), $1,320, (Negro) $540.

White Work

THE Helen Dunlap Memorial School for Mountain Girls, under the direction of Dr. and Mrs. Simpson-Atmore, completed another successful year and I confirmed thirteen girls at the school. Dr. Simpson-Atmore has retired and I regret to say the school is temporarily closed.

The Rev. S. H. Rainey has continued as Student Pastor at Fayetteville, and the Rev. R. F. Fairchild of West Plains, Missouri, has done faithful work at the small mission at Mammoth Springs.

The Rev. Gustave Orth, our mountain missionary at Havana, has accomplished remarkable results in his field. When he went there we had no Church building and services were held in his home. Now we have a beautiful Church edifice. On account of the consolidation of public school districts the children of the community were obliged to walk from four to six miles to the nearest school. This resulted in their remaining at home. To meet the situation, Mr. Orth secured the services of a graduate of the Helen Dunlap School living in the neighborhood as a teacher and opened a school with an average attendance of about twenty pupils. He has taken twelve or more mountain people to a Roman Catholic hospital in Fort Smith for urgent operations and treatment where they received surgical and medical attention gratuitously.

Mr. Orth has overcome the prejudice of the mountain people against the Church and the services are largely attended. He represents the Red Cross and other agencies for the relief of needy people. A larger proportion of Baptisms and Confirmations have taken place in this mountain mission than in any other mission or parish in the diocese.

Suffragan Bishop

Colored Work

NOTWITHSTANDING the financial condition and the unemployment situation, advancement of the Colored Work in Arkansas is in evidence and the general outlook encouraging. The missionaries continue to work hard, cheerfully and uncomplainingly against great odds and handicaps.

The work at Forrest City which consists of a chapel and Christ Church Parochial and Industrial School is holding its own with thirty odd communicants and more than one hundred children in the school, three teachers and the U. T. O. worker. The work at Hot Springs is more hopeful than ever; the great need is a habitable Church building. We are in need of clergymen at Pine Bluff where the State College for colored young men and women is located; at Foreman and Texarkana where the people want the Church; and at the Pankey Addition where we have two beautiful lots.

We appreciate the appropriation from the National Council for the Colored Work in the diocese, without which we could do but little. Arkansas is an open door for the Church to colored people.

E. THOMAS DEMBY,
Bishop-in-Charge of Colored Work

ATLANTA—The Rt. Rev. Henry Judah Mikell, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for Negro work, $4,950; for United Thank Offering work (white), $630.

FIVE missions and three parochial schools comprise the work among Negroes in the Diocese of Atlanta, for which the above appropriation is used. The appropriation is applied to the salaries of the clergy, the diocese supporting the parish schools and paying the salaries of the teachers. Taking cheerfully the reduction in their salaries, made necessary by the reduced appropriation from the National Council, the clergy have gone on faithfully with their work.

The chief change in the work during the year was the combining of St. Paul's and St. Matthias' missions in the city of Atlanta. The congregations combined under the name of St. Paul's and the school continues under the name of St. Matthias. About six years ago, when the congregation of St. Paul's was in a very flourishing condition and the Church building was most inadequate and unattractive, money was borrowed to build a new church, the congregation promising to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund to meet the principal. Then an unforeseen thing happened. The chief business corporation among the Negroes of Atlanta failed and as many of our people were employed in it, most of them left the city to find positions in the North and most of those who remained had lost their savings. The congregation that was left was entirely unable to pay the debt, and the Bishop carried it, paying the interest as long as it was possible. When the business depression came this was no longer either possible or expedient, so the property had to be given up. The building in which the congregation of St. Matthias had worshiped was then enlarged and improved and the congregations were merged. The work itself has not suffered and when the depression is over, from which the Negroes have greatly suffered, many of them being out of employment, I think the parish will soon be self-supporting.

The work at the other mission stations has gone on as usual, and most of them have also become centers of relief work especially among the children.

H. J. MIKELL,
Bishop of Atlanta

CALIFORNIA—The Rt. Rev. Edward Lambe Parsons, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for work among Chinese and Japanese, $2,250; for United Thank Offering work (white), $1,620.

Christ Church, Japanese

AT the end of September, 1932, Father Sakurai and Father Kimura who had done very capable work at the mission, resigned to take up their work in Japan. The Rev. Joseph Tsukamoto, who had been recently ordained, was born in this country and well equipped to understand the viewpoint and needs of the American-born Japanese who are fast becoming the dominant factor in the mission. In spite of the change in vicars and the inexperience of the new man, there has been no drop in attendance but a gradual increase.

With the younger generation becoming more numerous and with the changing temper of the time, it has become necessary to change the policy in the conduct of the mission. In the past the mission has been considered an isolated figure in the community, an intrusion as it were of strange customs and manners. Now the aim is to win the good will and respect of the community. There has been active co-operation with the other Japanese Christian churches. Evangelistic campaigns, conferences and numerous other social events take place in the community and they are sponsored by the federation or associations of Japanese Christian churches. Our young people's groups are giving plays and socials to which they are inviting young people's groups of other churches and this courtesy is being reciprocated.

In the Sunday school the gradual increase in the enrollment of children has necessitated the complete reorganization of classes and there are now six where there had been four. In addition to the Girls' Friendly Society and the Japanese Language School there has lately been organized a kindergarten and a boys' organization is contemplated. There were four Baptisms and three Confirmations during the year.

The most encouraging aspect in the work is the rapid development of a group of young people who are now beginning to assume leadership in the mission's organizations and activities.

True Sunshine (Chinese) Missions

Six hundred dollars were cut from the two missions last year, making it necessary to discharge two night school teachers, but in spite of the hard year the work in both missions has continued. The average attendance at the day school in San Francisco was 151 and in Oakland 75. There were four teachers in the two schools.

The night school for young men in San Francisco averaged an attendance of 50 and through the night school we came in contact with 163 Chinese young men in 1932. We have three Chinese interpreters including the priest-in-charge, who are present every school night, and 21 ladies and 4 gentlemen come from different churches as volunteer teachers. Many of them have helped for some years.

The attendance in the Church schools keeps up well, and 15 in San Francisco and 17 in Oakland received gold pins for perfect attendance during 1932. Church services are also well attended and in the two missions 21 were baptized and 13 confirmed last year. A choir of 25 children has been well trained and leads in the singing.

The San Francisco Mission spent over a thousand dollars for the mission work last year. The apportionment for general and diocesan Church work was paid, and $50 were contributed each month for Church Extension. The mission sent $185 to the sufferers in the northern part of China.

The priest-in-charge of the missions has been in the habit of taking sick people to doctors and acting as interpreter for those who could not speak English, meeting the new-comers at the boat when steamers arrived from China and helping them with anything that was needed. This help is much appreciated and many of them have come afterwards to the missions. One of them was baptized, confirmed and made lay reader and takes an active part.

The missions are very much encouraged by donations from the Woman's Auxiliary, the helpful oversight of the Bishop's Committee and the friendly interest of the Children's Aid Committee of the House of Churchwomen.

EDWARD L. PARSONS,
Bishop of California

COLORADO—The Rt. Rev. Irving Peake Johnson, D.D., Bishop; The Rt. Rev. Fred Ingley, S.T.D., Bishop Coadjutor. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $7,464; for United Thank Offering work (white), $1,080.

THE work in Colorado, supported by missionary funds from the National Council, is almost exclusively rural work. This has been true for years. Hence a survey just made of Church strength in this diocese is illuminating. In our urban centers the percentage of communicant strength to population is 1.66, while in the rural communities it is 3.85. This shows rather conclusively the wisdom of continuing our missionary activities in the smaller places. The urban parishes are constantly being recruited from the increment that moves into the cities from the country. Yet in spite of these losses our country places continue to show a communicant strength far in excess of that found in the cities.

In order to minister to the scattered people as effectively as possible, our United Thank Offering worker has given most of her time to the building up of the list of isolated Church families, by means of constant personal communications as well as through the regular mailing of sermonettes, prayer cards, and other Church literature.

This list is growing rapidly, our aim and ideal being that no Church family, however isolated, shall be without some of the ministrations of the Church. One of our missionary clergy turned in nearly one hundred such names this year. Our missionaries are constantly looking up families who live in remote places. Year by year, with the improvement in our highways, the rancher and miner are being drawn into the nearest Church center for occasional Communion, Baptisms, etc.

Practically all the missionary money received from the National Council is used on the western slope of Colorado which for years was a separate jurisdiction maintained by the General Church at a much higher cost than under the present arrangement.

The provincial missionary to the Deaf makes periodic visits through the Province of the Northwest, and reaches with the Church's message hundreds of deaf persons in cities, towns and state schools.

FRED INGLEY,
Bishop Coadjutor

DULUTH—The Rt. Rev. Granville Gaylord Bennett, D.D., Bishop; Rt. Rev. Benjamin T. Kemerer, D.D., Bishop Coadjutor. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $2,725; for Indian work, $8,100; for Swedish work, $2,485; for United Thank Offering work, $1,080.

REGULAR services have been revived in only one mission this year, that at Williams, up near the Canadian border. We now have a chain of missions on that frontier reaching from International Falls to the North Dakota state line; the Rev. E. E. Johnson ministers to International Falls, Williams, and Warroad; and the Rev. R. O. Wilkes on the Canadian side serves St. Vincent.

The missions reopened last year, and not previously reported, are St. Vincent, Tower, Mentor, Mora, Two Harbors, with occasional services at Morris, Black Hoof, and Wheaton.

All the parishes and missions in the diocese are provided with regular clerical supply, and all the clergy in the diocese are at work. No missions have been closed, and none even temporarily interrupted.

Three new Church schools have been opened, at Williams, Eveleth, and Detroit Lakes, and none has been discontinued.

Considerable headway has been made contacting isolated Church people through correspondence. We have no one exclusively engaged in this work, but it is going steadily forward under the direction of the Rev. L. W. Hallett, of Fergus Falls, aided by the Church Periodical Club. More than one hundred families are now enrolled.

Considerable progress has been made in the organization of the young people. A Diocesan Young People's Fellowship has been organized with six affiliated branches, and a wide expansion of this work is anticipated for next year. The diocesan organization sponsored the building of a large stone fire place in the dining hall of the Cass Lake Summer School.

Two branches of the Layman's League have been organized, and plans are on foot for the co-ordination of all men's organizations with this movement.

While the income of the diocese has suffered we have been able to effect such economies in administration that long standing obligations have been paid to the amount of a thousand dollars, and no new ones incurred. The diocese is in good shape financially, our total indebtedness being less than $5,000, and our pay-as-you-go plan insures us against any increase in debt.

The diocese was very happy in helping with the special Emergency Fund asked for by the National Council, and with the aid of the amount thus raised was able to overpay its pledge to the Council by more than $500.

Our only diocesan institution is the Summer Conference at Cass Lake. For this we have a beautiful property of more than a hundred acres on the banks of the Lake. Four dormitories, a chapel seating 250, a dining hall of equal capacity, all built of native logs, together with numerous other buildings formerly used by the government Indian school, make it a great place for summer conferences. One of our projects is to make further improvements in the buildings so that the place can be used for diocesan gatherings at colder seasons than is now possible.

B. T. KEMERER,
Bishop Coadjutor

EAST CAROLINA—The Rt. Rev. Thomas Campbell Darst, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for Negro work, $5,130; for United Thank Offering work, $1,620.

THE Convocation of Colored Church Workers is one of the most progressive and efficient organizations in the Diocese of East Carolina and in spite of the difficulties and problems of the past year, the work of the convocation went forward hopefully along all good lines.

The convocation includes in its organization an excellent branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the National Council, and well established and carefully guided departments of missions, religious education, social service, field and publicity. Representations of the various departments of the colored convocation serve on similar departments of the executive council of the diocese, and the missions and parishes of the colored convocation have equal representation with the white missions and parishes in our Annual Diocesan Convention.

During the past year our seven Negro priests have maintained regular services in fourteen missions and two self-supporting parishes, and with the assistance of faithful women workers conducted two parochial schools and one community house and day nursery.

The colored congregations, in proportion to their means, contributed generously toward their own support and to the Church's Program during the past year, and continued to hold a high record in the number presented for Confirmation.

Owing to further cuts in the comparatively small appropriation granted us by the National Council, we will have great difficulty in maintaining our present work in 1933, but will continue to go forward with faith and courage, strengthened by the thought that it is His work and that He, in some way, will give us power to hold the line.

The work of our United Thank Offering missionaries, Miss Anna Robertson of Wilmington, Miss Cornelia Harris, field worker, and Miss Lona Belle Weatherly of the Lake Phelps' Mission, has never been more fruitful and effective than during the past year.

THOMAS C. DARST,
Bishop of East Carolina

EASTON—The Rt. Rev. George W. Davenport, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $2,880.

THE work of the Rev. William McClelland centers in East New Market and covers all of Dorchester County (outside of Cambridge) and a part of Caroline County. Services are maintained in six places. The schedule permits three services a month in four places, and two a month at two points. The work is rural and requires a great deal of driving. On three Sundays one hundred miles must be covered.

In this district there are listed 115 families, 329 baptized persons, 201 communicants, and 129 in the Church schools. There were eighteen confirmations during the year. If concentrated in one place we would have a constituency equal to one of the larger parishes of the diocese. The influence of the pastoral and community work of Mr. McClelland extends far beyond the number who actually belong to the Church in this district.

The other piece of work, supported by the National Council, centers in Upper Fairmount in Somerset County where the Rev. M. S. Higgins lives and assists the Rev. Mr. Clary in another large field of rural work. As Mr.

Higgins is a deacon he has exchanged with Mr. Clary in order to provide for communion services. But his pastoral and community work has been done at Kingston and Upper Fairmount. In this work Mr. Higgins has been greatly helped by his wife. They have gone in and out through these communities ministering to the sick, the needy and the isolated. They have made a careful psychological study of the needs of the community and adapted their methods to meet these needs. This has followed two lines—religious education and social service. In this way they have done some very constructive work for the community and have largely increased the membership of the Church school and attendance at the Church services. Mrs. Higgins has collaborated with the Department of Religious Education in developing a curriculum for rural Church schools. She has developed a splendid group of trained teachers. The work done here is one of the best pieces of rural work I know.

GEORGE W. DAVENPORT,
Bishop of Easton

ERIE—The Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for Italian work, $1,125.

THE Rev. Sisto J. Noce has carried on the work of St. Paul's Mission at Farrell with great faithfulness and efficiency, meeting special needs in these difficult times.

He has baptized 17 children and presented 67 for Confirmation. He has conducted services regularly Sundays, on weekdays in Lent, and on other special occasions, on a full schedule.

He has been very active, as usual, in parish visitation and in community service. The list of parish organizations gives an idea of the scope and vitality of the work. The membership in these organizations is as follows:

Girls' Friendly Society, 62; Candidates Class, 75; Girl Scouts, 35; Boy Scouts, 22; Young People's Fellowship, 52; Americanization Class, 32; Altar Guild, 15; Boys' Athletic Club, 48; Girls' Athletic Club, 36; Italian Educational Society, 42; Italian Sons and Daughters of America, 68; Italian School, 80; Reading Room, usual attendance, 75.

These organizations meet in the parish house built two years ago and paid for by the people of this diocese. The church and parish house together make a center of worship and social service greatly needed in their industrial neighborhood.

The Rev. Mr. Noce's ministry is devoted and efficient and reaches many people outside of our own congregation. It certainly is an outstanding piece of work for our Church among foreign-born people in this country. Our diocese has now taken over the entire support of this work, relieving the National Council of its share of the expense, and is preparing to make great sacrifices in 1933 to continue it.

JOHN C. WARD,
Bishop of Erie

FLORIDA—The Rt. Rev. Frank Alexander Juhan, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for Negro work, $3,722.

THE appropriation from the General Church to the Diocese of Florida makes possible the continuation of the Church's ministrations in eight Negro congregations in this diocese. The amount appropriated in 1932 by the General Church was $3,780. This amount was supplemented by the diocese from diocesan funds and contributions from the respective congregations, by approximately $3,000. With this amount the Bishop has been able to keep at work two Negro priests, one Negro deacon, one Negro teacher and a white clergyman, giving part time to one Negro mission.

The work that is being done by the Church for this minority group has resulted in a very gradual, but decidedly loyal, and devout development among some 500 Negro communicants.

In addition to the Negro missions of this diocese there is one Negro parish with a membership of approximately 300 communicants. It is the feeling of the Bishop and the Commission on Negro Work in this diocese that there will be no great progress or extension of this work until the Church can afford to have more Negro workers.

FRANK A. JUHAN,
Bishop of Florida

FOND DU LAC—The Rt. Rev. Reginald Heber Weller, D.D., Bishop; The Rt. Rev. Harwood Sturtevant, D.D., Bishop Coadjutor. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $4,500; for Indian work, $2,700; for United Thank Offering work, $1,080.

Indian Work

HOLY Apostles' Church, Oneida, has had one of the most successful years in a spiritual sense in many years. The devotion of the Oneidas to the Church has been manifested by an unusually large attendance at the services, and many acts of loyal service by the members. On Easter Day nine hundred attended the two services, and on Christmas there were approximately a thousand at all services. There is an excellent congregation every Sunday of the year, the largest to be found anywhere in the diocese. This is the largest single Indian mission in the Anglican Communion. The priest is the Rev. L. H. Grant.

Two sisters of the Holy Nativity are resident at the mission partially supported by the U. T. O. They do an extensive relief work, supplying clothing, food, medicine, and advice where needed, the supplies coming from the various white congregations in the diocese and the Supply Department of the Woman's Auxiliary. We are especially indebted to the Supply Department for Christmas supplies, when every family receives a package of useful things.

Our day school, under Miss Alice Cornelius, has seats for 40, and an enrollment of 62. The school carries the children through the eighth grade, and is an essential, unduplicated feature of Oneida life, for there are no public schools near at hand.

Various repairs to roofs, furnaces, pump, etc., have been paid for as needed by the Diocesan Mission Fund.

One interesting feature of the work for 1932, was a joint meeting at Oneida of the diocesan department of missions and the Indian vestry from which much good has come. At a recent rally of diocesan laymen the Indians won the bishop's prize for having one hundred per cent of their vestry present. On the whole this work supplies a very real need, and is greatly appreciated, as shown by the devotion and co-operation of the Indians.

White Work

St. Paul's, Big Suamico, is still our outstanding piece of rural work, and is in splendid spiritual and physical condition. The congregation now numbers 140 communicants (only 24 in 1900), and continues to grow yearly. The little frame church is filled each Sunday for a hearty, joyful service. No congregation in the diocese has such singing by the whole body of worshipers. The Rev. L. D. Hopkins is the rector.

St. Agnes-by-the-Lake, Algoma, the Rev. H. W. Blackman, rector, holds its own in the face of removals of parishioners to other congregations. The vicar also has services at Christ Church, Sturgeon Bay, and at the old Belgian Mission at Gardner. Last year the men at Gardner painted the Church building with their own hands, the paint being supplied by the diocese. These three pieces of work are most essential for the future of the Church here.

St. Peter's, Sheboygan Falls, the Rev. H. S. Stanton, rector, is in better shape spiritually than it has been in many years. In spite of decreased income, the service groups are most active, and annual payments are still being made on the mortgage on the beautiful stone Church edifice. The mission is especially successful in reaching the men of the community.

St. Boniface, Chilton, is in a small farm community of less than 2,000 people. The largest Confirmation class in some years was presented this year, and the work is in a healthy condition. The Rev. H. M. Keyes does a large social service work, especially among boys and young men. He also conducts a monthly service at St. Anne's, De Pere.

Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Green Bay, is made up of poor working people most of whom are out of work. The Church supplies not only a religious outlet, but a social one as well. The people flock to anything given under the name of the Church. The Rev. Edward Hutchinson does a splendid social service work in the city of Green Bay, and also conducts occasional services at Duvall and Fish Creek.

All white work will be supported entirely by the diocese in 1933.

HARWOOD STURTEVANT,

GEORGIA—The Rt. Rev. Frederick Focke Reese, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for Negro work, $4,095; for United Thank Offering work, $1,080.

THE statistical report for 1932 is incomplete and therefore to some extent estimated, because of failure to secure two parochial reports. It shows, however, a decrease in Baptisms, an increase in Confirmations (88), and in communicants (967), and in the number of teachers and pupils in the Church schools, and a decrease in parochial schools. This last is due to the closing of one school for the want of money to pay a teacher.

The contributions of the people show a very decided reduction for parochial, diocesan, and general purposes. The continued depression and the consequent poverty of many of the people accounts for this. The colored congregations paid $564.16 for the Church's Program.

One clerical vacancy, affecting two missions, has not been and cannot be filled, owing to the reduction in the appropriation from the National Council. The diocese has also been compelled to reduce its appropriations for the salaries of the clergy working among the Negroes. At present the diocese pays $2,105 towards these salaries, the National Council $2,190, and the congregations promise to pay $2,688. The National Council also pays $1,086 for school teachers and lay readers.

There are six colored priests at work, and four white priests are also giving services to the colored people, two of them without additional compensation.

Under the hard conditions now prevailing, the work is making as much progress as can be expected, and probably as much as is shown among the white people in the missions in the diocese.

FREDERICK F. REESE,
Bishop of Georgia

INDIANAPOLIS—The Rt. Rev. Joseph Marshall Francis, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $2,430; for Negro work, $810.

THE appropriation from the National Council to the Diocese of Indianapolis has been distributed as follows: $1,080 for student work at the University of Indiana; $1,080 for work on the south side of Indianapolis, at Elwood, and the Reformatory; $630 for the mission at Irvington; $450 for Jeffersonville; $270 for Crawfordsville; and $810 for Negro work in Indianapolis. At Bloomington there have been 5 Baptisms, 16 Confirmations, and an increase of 16 in communicants; at Jeffersonville, 4 Baptisms, 4 Confirmations, and no increase in communicants; at Irvington, 5 Baptisms, 4 Confirmations, and a loss of 27 communicants; at Crawfordsville, 1 Baptism, 2 Confirmations, and a loss of 2 Communicants; the 2 missions on the south side of Indianapolis have had 18 Baptisms, 18 Confirmations, and an increase of 2 communicants. At Elwood, there was 1 Baptism, no Confirmations, and a loss of 2 communicants. At the Reformatory, 21 Baptisms and 20 Confirmations. St. Philip's Mission, the Negro congregation, has lost 5 communicants.

Here, as elsewhere, the prevailing economic conditions have seriously affected all congregations. In Jeffersonville, preëminently, the closing of the railroad shops, the ship yard, and other commercial undertakings, has wrought havoc, only temporarily, we hope; lack of ability to contribute to the Church has kept many away from the services; but the tide has begun to turn.

JOSEPH M. FRANCIS,
Bishop of Indianapolis

IOWA—The Rt. Rev. Harry Sherman Longley, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $2,547; for Negro work, $1,710.

THE diocese has passed through a year fraught with perplexing problems. City after city, and town after town, have faced the closing of every bank in the community during the past year.

The work at Iowa State College, located at Ames, has been maintained at its usual standard only because the National Council has given most generous aid, and the same can be said of the work at the State University of Iowa.

Work at Cedar Falls, where we have the State Teachers' College, has been maintained, but the local contributions are maintained with difficulty.

Grace Church, Decorah, has a very faithful band of workers who meet promptly their obligations, and the parish in relation to other missions in the diocese, shows a much better spirit, and manifests greater zeal and much more effort in self-support. The priest in this mission serves regularly Grace Church, Cresco, where we have a small number of Church people.

St. Michael's, Mt. Pleasant, has stood preëminently among the missions of the diocese in self-help, but is now facing a serious problem, due to the death of a prominent communicant, and for the year 1933, cannot see its way clear to give a pledge for salary beyond the first six months of the year. This mission has been paying two-thirds of the stipend and promptly meeting all its obligations.

The Rev. A. M. McLaughlin has been serving three missions, St. Stephen's, Newton; Grace Church, Boone, and St. Andrew's, Des Moines.

Newton is one of the few small towns in Iowa which has a large industrial life. Like all industrial centers, its financial problems are heavy. During the boom time, the town made a most unusual increase in population. At the present time, the financial situation of the Church is very precarious.

Grace Church, Boone, is barely holding its own, but the people with the number of services reduced, and the priest living 75 miles away, are showing a commendable spirit.

St. Andrew's, Des Moines, will for a time be handled by the Bishop's vicar.

The Negro work of the diocese must be largely maintained by outside effort if we minister to these people. In Keokuk, where the priest resides, we have a church, parish house, and rectory. Every other week he travels 160 miles to Des Moines, where we are trying to care for our Negro congregation among the considerable Negro population of that city. We hope to have a Church building in Des Moines in the near future.

HARRY S. LONGLEY,
Bishop of Iowa

KANSAS—The Rt. Rev. James Wise, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $3,362; for Negro work, $945; for United Thank Offering work, $1,080.

WE set as our objective and goal for the year 1932, that no church in the diocese should be closed. I am happy to report that this was accomplished through the co-operation and sacrificial gifts of the clergy and lay people of the diocese. An emergency fund of almost $10,000 was raised in 1932, to help meet deficits in clergy salaries, pension fund, convention fund and the Church's Program. Had it not been for this fund we would have been compelled to take drastic measures, seriously crippling the work.

Even with this additional help we were unable to end the year without deficits in all of our funds and the outlook for 1933, from a financial point of view, is even more critical as the canvas is disclosing the hard pressed condition of the farmers and the rural districts.

The encouraging side of the picture is shown in the fact that our Confirmations have exceeded in number every record made in the whole history of the diocese with one exception. In 1927, we had 577 Confirmations and in 1932, 537. In this connection it is interesting to note that, for a period of five years, 1927-1931, a careful and accurate study of statistics, discloses the fact that the Dioceses of Colorado and Kansas tie for first place amongst the 73 dioceses in the United States with an average of 7.1 per cent in Confirmations, while the general average for the whole Church is 5.4 per cent.

No section of the Church in the area east of the Missouri River exceeds our record of 7 per cent.

Some details from the field in Kansas aided by these grants will be of interest.

At Abilene and Wamego, Rev. J. E. Brodhead retired at the end of 1932 from active service and after many years of loyal and devoted service in the diocese is on the pension roll of the Church. It may become necessary to divide this work and distribute it to men in other fields to eke out living salaries for them.

Grace Church, Washington, now served by Mr. Howard Giere, a candidate for holy orders, and also the center from which Mrs. Giere, our U. T. O. rural worker, operates, was entirely demolished last summer by a tornado. A $2,000 Tornado Insurance policy gave a nucleus for a building fund and this little band of devoted people is giving most generously under the pressure of existing conditions to rebuild the church.

The work at Emporia, the seat of the Kansas State Teacher's College, is in a very critical condition. The people are straining every nerve to meet their budget, as well as the principal and interest, on a very heavy indebtedness for their new Church building.

At Manhattan, under Rev. W. A. Jonnard, and at Lawrence, under a new leader, the Rev. Carter Harrison, the work is progressing most encouragingly.

JAMES WISE,
Bishop of Kansas

LEXINGTON—The Rt. Rev. Henry Pryor Almon Abbott, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $8,010; for Negro work, $1,166.

ST. JOHN'S Church, Bellevue-Dayton, Ky. This has always been a desperately difficult field. The past year was one of marked and remarkable progress under the direction of the Rev. Neil E. Annable, S.T.M. The services of worship have been maintained at a high level, and the attendance has improved. The Church school has grown, and the parochial constituency is well organized. It is hoped that this church may become self-supporting within the next five years. The congregation is doing its part in partial payment of the clergyman's salary; has paid its diocesan maintenance assessment in full, and has done its best on the apportionment.

Church of the Nativity, Maysville, Ky. The Rev. Reginald Williams has reorganized the parish and is meeting with more co-operation than has been evidenced in the congregation for many years. The attendance at the services has trebled and the offerings of the congregation have more than doubled. Their assessment has been paid in full and a conscientious effort has been made to meet their apportionment. Two and three services are held every Sunday and numerous week day services. A large class is under preparation for Confirmation.

Emmanuel Church, Winchester, Ky.; Christ Church, Richmond, Ky.; Church of the Ascension, Mount Sterling, Ky. All are under the care of the Rev. Wallace F. Thompson, B.D., together with College Work at Berea, Ky. Results are more tangible and promising than ever before in the history of these churches: active Church schools; active parochial organizations; good returns in number of confirmees; added and regular schedules of services; assessments paid in full and apportionments almost one hundred per cent; and assistance given, especially from Mount Sterling, on the rector's salary.

St. Peter's Church, Paris, Ky.; Church of the Advent, Cynthiana, Ky.; Holy Trinity Church, Georgetown, Ky. In charge of Rev. George R. Madson, B.D. There has been a worth while development of the work in Paris and Georgetown, with Cynthiana almost falling within the characterization of "static work." It is a hard field and progress is necessarily slow; but the three congregations are devoted to the priest-in-charge and are responding to his consecrated efforts. Payments on apportionments and assessments have increased, with Paris and Georgetown contributing to the clergyman's salary.

St. Andrew's Church, Lexington, Ky. The only colored work in the diocese. It has been more or less static for several years, but I have urged the priest-in-charge, the Rev. William H. Brown, Jr., to be more aggressive in his efforts and he is responding to the request. A class is now in preparation for Confirmation. The congregation is small, some fifty-eight communicants, but the organization is effective for future returns. Proportionately, the people are generous and doing their part in diocesan and national Church givings and in assisting in the payment of their minister's stipend. I hope for better things in 1933.

St. Philip's Church, Harrodsburg, Ky.; Trinity Church, Danville, Ky. In charge of the Ven. Franklin Davis, D.D., Danville, and in excellent shape. Assessments and quotas have been paid in full for several years, and they contribute four-fifths of the rector's salary. Church schools are larger than ever before and are maintained during the summer months. They cater acceptably to students of Center College. The returns are more than commensurate with the small sum paid by the national Church towards the rector's salary.

Lee and Estill Counties, centering at Beattyville, Ky. Mountain missionary work under the care of Rev. Frederick J. Drew. A new church was built at Patsey, Estill Co., and consecrated last October. There were thirty-four Confirmations during the year and more than fifty-five Baptisms. The work is promising in every way. Mr. Drew has been assisted by volunteer workers and a summer conference centered at the G. F. S. farm. There are no limits to the possibilities of future growth.

St. John's Church, Corbin, Ky.; Christ Church, Harlan, Ky. Rev. Gerald H. Catlin, priest-in-charge. This work was reorganized under Mr. Catlin's direction last December. Corbin is more or less static; but great progress is shown in Harlan and in Kitts, a neighboring mining camp, with a Church school of one hundred and eighty. The congregation of Christ Church has refinanced and assumed its indebtedness and paid off back, pressing bills. The outlook is splendid with the right man to engineer the growth in the days to come. Harlan paid in full its diocesan assessment and made a brave effort to meet its apportionment.

St. Mary's Church, Middlesboro, Ky.; together with Pineville, Ky. Both constituencies deplorably affected by the depression. Canon Claudius F. Smith is working hard at his difficult task and is accomplishing as much as anybody could under present conditions. He has instituted services in neighboring hamlets, and, with the consent of Bishop Gailor, has gone across the Tennessee border. Financially the people are literally bankrupt, and much relief work is being accomplished. The sewing school in Middlesboro, under Miss Bessie Ralston, is continuing its good work among the children of the community. It is hoped that we may be able to tide over these difficult times and reap ultimately the reward of courage and faithfulness.

Big Sandy District: Pikeville, Ky.; Shelbyana, Ky.; Jenkins, Ky.; Hazard, Ky. The most hopeful and promising work in the diocese. Eighty were baptized in the course of the year; forty-two confirmed, with more than forty awaiting the Bishop's next visitation. A church is being built at Shelbyana with all the money in sight. There are six Church schools in active operation. The Rev. Cyril Leitch is in charge with four native men workers and one native woman worker under him.

History, mountain work history, will be written in the district during the next five years. God, the Holy Ghost, is actively at work, and the Episcopal Church is appealing to the Highlanders as never before.

H. P. ALMON ABBOTT,
Bishop of Lexington

LOUISIANA—The Rt. Rev. James Craik Morris, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for Negro work, $1,080; for United Thank Offering work (white), $918.

ST. ANDREW'S Mission at Bayou du Large is under the authority of the Rev. Gardiner L. Tucker, D.D., rector of St. Matthew's Church, Houma, and is the only mission in that section. There is one small building, used as a school on week days and for services on Sundays and at other times as required. The school is the only one of any character within a radius of several miles, and provides instruction for a large number of children of the trappers who make up the teeming population of that remote section on the southern bayous of Louisiana. These people have been isolated and neglected for generations, and the work of the Church is the one influence, as far as I know, making for civilization and Christian living. There are two teachers, one of whom, Miss Ruth Connely, is paid by an appropriation from the United Thank Offering of the Woman's Auxiliary. I have just visited this station for Confirmation and was delighted by the evidence of devotion shown by old and young.

The appropriation for Negro work is used to help in the maintenance of St. Luke's Church, New Orleans, which is our only Negro congregation in the diocese. The colored population of New Orleans alone is about 120,000, and while our membership is small, I am using every effort, with the assistance of the Rev. John B. Boyce and the Rev. S. L. Vail, to develop and enlarge the mission. The main difficulty lies in the fact that the various colored groups are so widely separated. I can report that congregations during the past year have increased and there seems to be more interest than formerly.

The statistics for St. Luke's for 1932 are as follows: Confirmations, 18; Baptisms, 7; Number of Confirmed persons, 146; Pupils in the Church school, 17; Contributions for the Church's Program, $79.40; Contributions for all purposes, $984.79.

The Gaudet Normal and Industrial School in New Orleans was reorganized last year, and Mr. W. R. Coles has just completed his first term as principal. We believe that the school is on a much firmer foundation than formerly. More emphasis is placed on religious culture, and the scholastic standards have been raised. Certain improvements are contemplated in the fabric of the buildings, including a sorely needed chapel, for which some funds are in hand.

JAMES CRAIK MORRIS,
Bishop of Louisiana

MAINE—The Rt. Rev. Benjamin Brewster, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for United Thank Offering (white), $900.

THERE seem to be four steps in education. The first step—the Pre-School. I gave an address on “Religion in the Home” at the quarterly meeting of the Woman’s Auxiliary, and this was published in pamphlet form as “You Hold Tomorrow in Your Hands.” This pamphlet was sent out all over the country in the hope that it might give sane guidance to parents in laying Christian foundations for their children.

The second step—is the Church School. I have visited fifteen Church schools and some of these several times. Two new rural schools were started. I have done teacher training in about eight schools. I send out the material for the Advent Offering, the Epiphany Offering, the Lenten Offering and the Birthday Thank Offering.

From Church schools the step up is to work with the young people. I helped to organize two groups—one a Young People’s Fellowship, the other a group of girls. I have acted as advisor to the Young People’s Fellowship in the diocese and as such attended its meetings. I have spoken to Fellowships, and during Lent 1932, carried on a series of discussions with one Fellowship, ending with a Meditation for the young people. With Miss Katharine Grammer, the Associate Secretary for College Work, I spent ten days visiting the colleges of Maine—including the University of Maine, Colby College, Nasson Institute, Bowdoin College and Bates College. This visit was in anticipation of some future work among the college students. I have spoken to a number of branches of the Girls’ Friendly Society.

As adults there is a step up. I have spoken to a good many groups of women in the Auxiliary and in Guilds on “Rural Work,” and on various other subjects including religious education, as such. I send out home prayers to 174 people in the rural areas of Maine. I have spent some time visiting these isolated people. On November 28, the Woman’s Auxiliary had a Quiet Day in the diocese. I spoke in preparation for this in a good many parishes, and sent out the meditations, the Bishop’s Letter, and one of my own to all the rural area groups.

Outside the diocese I have helped with the first National Girls’ Friendly Society Candidate Conference in Saunterstown, Rhode Island, and had charge of the women’s group at the Rural Conference, Madison, Wis.

MARGARET W. TEAGUE, Educational Secretary

MARQUETTE—The Rt. Rev. Hayward Seller Ablewhite, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $7,290.

FIRST, I wish to thank the National Council not only for the financial assistance that the diocese has received during the past year, but also for the fine spirit of co-operation and helpfulness which they have given us during these difficult times.

Our record of accomplishment during 1932, we feel, has been a good one. Two hundred and fifty-three were confirmed, and in every parish and mission station congregations have increased.

Each year for the past three, in spite of conditions, we have either begun new work or opened old work which has been allowed to lapse. This past year we opened up an old preaching station at Nahma, and we now have a very flourishing mission in this little lumber village.

During 1932, the first woman worker began her work with us. Coming to us last summer after graduating from St. Faith’s, Miss Ormerod took up her work at Munising. In eight months she had built up a splendid Church school of fifty children, a Fellowship of twenty-five, and presented seventeen people, half of whom were adults, to the Bishop for Confirmation.

No changes in our staff have been made this year with the exception of the above mentioned addition, and our men have shown a splendid spirit, in these difficult days. The few strong parishes have been terribly hit due to the shutting down of the iron and copper mines. Trinity Church, Houghton, and Christ Church, Calumet, in the copper country have continued to be towers of strength. Our one-time parish in Iron Mountain has had to return to the status of a mission due to the closing down of so many mines and also the almost complete shut down of the Ford plant there.

We are not discouraged, however. Our people are eager and anxious to see their diocese become completely self-supporting, and there are many signs that this can be brought about with a fair return of prosperity. Slowly we are becoming an agricultural and dairying country. From the development point of view we are in about the same condition that Ohio was in the middle of the last century. There is, however, this difference in regard to the Church. Our Church is known, loved and honored. Splendid foundations have been laid. We have been here from the beginning and have shared and suffered with the people. In many places we are the strongest Protestant body, but remember we have less than four thousand communicants.

I most earnestly urge the continued support of the General Church. Without it during these days, I do not know what we would do. I am sure that your support will, in the not distant years, be bread cast upon the waters.

HAYWARD S. ABLEWHITE,
Bishop of Marquette

MINNESOTA—The Rt. Rev. Frank Arthur McElwain, D.D., Bishop. The Rt. Rev. Stephen E. Keeler, D.D., Bishop Coadjutor. Appropriation for 1932: for United Thank Offering work (Indian), $585.

DURING the year 1932, a woman worker was sustained at the Bishop Whipple Mission, Birch Coulee, as a result of the appropriation from the United Thank Offering to this diocese. In addition to conducting a class of girls in religious studies, she supervised the work of a girls' club, and directed the work of the Guild and the Auxiliary; also, supervising generally the much needed relief work in the homes of the Indian people of that mission.

Although the appropriation will cease with the end of 1932, we expect to continue the woman worker with such funds as we are able to get.

F. A. McELWAIN,
Bishop of Minnesota

MISSISSIPPI—The Rt. Rev. Theodore DuBose Bratton, D.D., Bishop; The Rt. Rev. William Mercer Green, D.D., Bishop Coadjutor. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $1,778; for Negro work, $3,870.

THERE is little to report of an unusual character with reference to the missionary work in the Diocese of Mississippi for which appropriations are made by the National Council. The missionary work, as a whole, has moved with reasonable wholesomeness.

In spite of the difficult conditions, in two of our towns there were building achievements worthy of mention. Our little congregation of St. Thomas', Belzoni, erected a most satisfactory and attractive brick church, providing in this county seat a worthy place of worship for our people, and promise of better growth there is already felt by reason of it. The Incarnation, West Point, moved its frame church to the foundations of a brick church started some years ago and with the brick on hand, veneered and added a vestry room to the church as moved, with considerable improvement in appearance and location.

There have been no changes in personnel, the clergy standing by their tasks with fine devotion, in spite of decreased salaries.

While the College Work has now been transferred from the oversight of the department of missions to that of the department of Christian education, it can be more conveniently administered in this diocese as a part of the general missionary program. It is genuinely missionary work. The number of students directly served by the Church is relatively small, but the influence of our college pastors on the student body as a whole is great, and through their efforts, the Church receives a fine interpretation. The results of such work cannot be measured. The influence of their personalities and their teaching upon the moral and spiritual thought and life of the young manhood of the State is far-reaching. In the college towns of the State, our clergy, without exception, are rendering fine service through their contacts with the students. The towns in which are seated the University of Mississippi and the Mississippi State College, where the salaries of our student pastors are taken care of by appropriations of the National Council, are small and the membership of our Church small, made up to a great extent of members of the faculties of the institutions. This compels us in one case, regretfully, to give part of the time of the student pastor to mission work in towns around as a means of supplementing his salary.

The Bolton, Brookhaven and Como Fields, represent the type of mission work in which progress must necessarily be slow and the work of the Church measurable chiefly by the contribution that can be made to the moral and spiritual wholesomeness of the community life.

The Negro work has moved ahead with splendid success. The Redeemer, Greenville, served by a resident pastor for a little more than two years, has shown astonishing growth by Confirmations, among those confirmed being some of the most representative Negroes of the community. The work in Jackson, with its parochial school and its community work, through a well equipped parish house, sinks its roots deeper into the life of its people. The work in Vicksburg shows good growth and we plan to reopen a parochial school there this year. The Okolona Industrial School, in spite of financial difficulties, has had a splendid year, the attendance being good and the work never better.

The new year offers solemn problems and grave responsibilities, but with the faithful co-operation of a sacrificial clergy and the loyal people, we hope to keep the standards flying.

WILLIAM MERCER GREEN,
Bishop Coadjutor

MISSOURI—The Rt. Rev. Frederick Foote Johnson, D.D., Bishop. The Rt. Rev. William Scarlet, LL.D., Bishop Coadjutor. Appropriation for 1932: for United Thank Offering work (white), $900.

I CAN make no better report of the work which is being done by Mrs. Jean Barron Hurlbut, our United Thank Offering worker, than to send you extracts from letters which I have received from time to time from Mrs. Hurlbut, who began her work in a veritable wilderness in the Diocese of Missouri in July, 1929:

"I am going out tomorrow again across the mountain to see a forlorn old woman who is laid up with rheumatism. The trip will consume the entire day. Going on horseback is slow, but certainly sure, I could not begin to go over these roads in a car. So it is not so bad that I have no car. As I go further into the mountains, I find more opportunity for service. You cannot imagine how bare, how poor and hard, these lives are. The schools are nothing—worse than nothing, for they teach more evil than good.

"I have been unable to get about with the horse since Christmas, and have traveled many a weary mile on foot, across hills and creeks and up trails to lonely cabins. Here I have found in one of the cabins an old clodhopper preacher, dying with an incurable malady, and blind. He and I have great times. He knows my voice, and always welcomes me because he knows I love to listen to his homespun theology that somehow rings true. To come from a world of slang and vulgarisms to this feeble old saint who lives and breathes in the Bible and can repeat without faltering, long, majestic passages, is to me a benediction.

"My ministry is entirely among the hill people, as I find among them the direst poverty and need. Illiteracy is common; disease, loneliness and distress everywhere. I have not attempted any kind of an organization. The isolation of each family, the abominable roads which are nothing but mountain trails at best, the reserve of the people themselves, are obstacles which I cannot entirely overcome. Having no faster means of travel than a horse, does restrict my field of work to a certain extent, but I am sure there are many who need help whom I could never reach in any other way.

"I am teaching neighbor children two hours each morning, who cannot go to school. The schools close here in March, letting the youngsters out to a long, idle summer. What a different story their lives would tell if they could be given a chance at real education and training. They are so teachable and eager! I wish I knew more about nursing. There is so much suffering due to poverty and ignorance. I come in pretty strong on baby ailments, but I feel my lack when it comes to the diseases that the older folk have.

"I pray daily that here I may be a woman sent from God."

I know of no work anywhere that is more splendid than this which is being done by Mrs. Hurlbut among a people who are pitifully poor, and ignorant, but who, as her letter quoted above will show, are most appreciative of all that she does for them.

FREDERICK F. JOHNSON,
Bishop of Missouri

MONTANA—The Rt. Rev. William Frederic Faber, D.D., Bishop; The Rt. Rev. Herbert Henry Heywood Fox, D.D., Bishop Coadjutor. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $8,100; for United Thank Offering work (white), $1,080.

THE Diocese of Montana has little to report different from last year. We have been compelled to close three fields and reduce salaries in order to balance our budget. Up to midsummer all our fields were supplied, except the Madison Valley which was vacant for a few months. Three of our missionaries have gone on the Pension Fund. Three fields have been made vacant by their retirement and have not been filled. It is heart-breaking to a bishop to see promising work closed because of the lack of funds.

The Madison Valley Field, closed because the Rev. W. F. Lewis had accepted a call to Bozeman, Montana, was filled last July by the appointment of the Rev. W. T. Reeves, a graduate of the General Theological Seminary. He has done especially fine work in Jeffers and Pony.

Because of the removal of most of our supporting Church families from Baker, services have been discontinued there for the present. We are sorry to do this for the Church owns two fine lots in Baker and has a building fund of over $1,000. The expense of carrying on the work was such that the diocese could not in these times continue to pay the bills.

The parish clergy are in a number of instances helping us to supply the vacant places with services. But these are unsatisfactory compared with having a man in charge of the fields.

Fields that are supplied with clergy are doing splendidly. They are filling a real need in the life of the people of their communities. Reports that have come to us indicate that many people are finding in the Church and her services comfort and help in these difficult times. They are seeking after God and finding Him.

Our U. T. O. worker, Miss Monica Howell, still continues her splendid work in the Correspondence Church School. With over 250 children on her roll she keeps in constant communication with them. More than half of this number are on her honor roll. Besides this work she keeps in touch with our rural families, sending them each year the Daily Bible Readings, and each Lent the pamphlet of Lenten Meditations published by the Federal Council of Churches. Each Church season she also sends a sermonette, written by one of our clergy, to each family. I know of no work in the Diocese of Montana that is more valuable and more important than the work she is doing. Montana has a tremendous number of isolated families, and if the Church can reach them with the message of God's love she is doing a work thoroughly worth while. With her salary cut nearly 30 per cent and reduced below a living wage by reason of the cuts that have been made from headquarters, and the lack of funds in the diocese, we do not know whether she will be able to continue to live on her salary or not. The Bishops have tried to augment her salary, but how long that can be done is problematical.

HERBERT H. H. FOX,
Bishop Coadjutor of Montana

NEBRASKA—The Rt. Rev. Ernest V. Shayler, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $1,080; for Indian work, $1,260; for Negro work, $351; for United Thank Offering work (white), $1,620.

THE appropriations received from the National Council have enabled us to continue work during 1932 which it would have been impossible to continue in some places without this assistance.

In the Indian fields, Genoa, Winnebago and the Ponca Reservation, Niobrara, regular services have been maintained, and while from the very nature of this work and conditions surrounding it, great gains have not been shown, there is the satisfaction of having ministered to the spiritual needs of these wards.

Our Negro congregation went through one of its hardest years, from an economic standpoint. The lesser occupations that are usually the only ones open to the colored person, with their smaller remunerations, have made conditions among these people even harder than for the average white congregation, and but for this grant of $351 the devoted priest-in-charge of St. Philip's (who lately has gone to his reward) would have been in dire want at times because his people were unable to pay his salary. Eighteen were added to the membership during the year 1932 by Confirmation. The other gains were just about offset by losses. There is much shifting about in search of a livelihood.

The only grant for white work we receive is for St. Matthew's Mission, Lincoln. This work, inaugurated by the diocese with the wise and appreciated assistance of the National Council, has developed according to expectations and undoubtedly would have been able to relinquish all aid in the coming year but for the facts that its constructive priest was called to the Diocese of Long Island, and, of course, the economic situation. It is now my hope that the assistance given to this new work will be relinquished next year.

With the assistance of U. T. O. grants our educational secretary, Miss Sprague, has continued her splendid work and our social service work, Friendship House, under Miss Wirts, has filled a great need in the section of Omaha where it is located. The average attendance of children and their parents (mostly children) last year was approximately one thousand a month. Character-building organizations, such as the Boy Scouts, the G. F. S., a Baby Clinic, etc., are the chief activities of this project. Maintenance of this work with the exception of Miss Wirts' U. T. O. salary comes from within the diocese.

We are glad to carry on as best we can with reduced appropriations and proceed with thankful and grateful hearts through the coming year.

ERNEST V. SHAYLER,
Bishop of Nebraska

NORTH CAROLINA—The Rt. Rev. Joseph Blount Cheshire, D.D., Bishop; The Rt. Rev. Edwin A. Penick, D.D., Bishop Coadjutor; Appropriation for 1932: for Negro work, $8,874; for United Thank Offering work (Negro), $1,620.

THE Negro work in the Diocese of North Carolina falls under three heads: hospitals, parochial schools and diocesan missions. St. Agnes' Hospital, Raleigh, and the Good Samaritan Hospital, Charlotte, both with Training Schools for Nurses, are grade A institutions, with excellent equipment and personnel, and are rendering a highly commendable service to their respective communities, especially in the unprecedented number of charity cases.

Parochial schools are maintained at Louisburg and Henderson with a combined enrollment of 450 pupils. George C. Pollard, lay reader and experienced schoolman, is superintendent. For thirty-two years he has been recognized locally as a prominent leader among Negroes. He says: "The Church and school in Henderson have saved the neighborhood. . . . We have picked up scores and scores of boys and girls. Three years ago they knew nothing of the Church. Now they render the service well. Many know the entire catechism and the Books of the Bible. . . . Through the mission day schools, we have been able to set a high Christian moral standard. Our boys and girls never give any trouble in the courts." The missions at Louisburg and Henderson report 40 Baptisms last year, the majority of the candidates coming from the parochial schools. Honesty, industriousness, courtesy and racial adjustments are taught as emphatically as the ordinary school subjects. Both schools take pride in the fact that their pupils are recognizable on the streets by their good behavior.

As for evangelical work, one parish, St. Ambrose, Raleigh, has maintained its independent status. The dependent work of the diocese comprises 1 parish, 8 organized and 10 unorganized missions. These are served by 6 priests, 1 catechist and 4 white priests. The latter, however, do not receive any financial support from the National Council. The missionary work is spotted in its effectiveness, depending upon the quality of the local leadership. Considering the difficulty of the times, of which the Negro is among the first victims, the encouraging features predominate. St. Michael's and All Angels', Charlotte, reports all obligations, including its quota to the Church's Program, paid in full. This is a well organized, vigorous mission with a strong ambition to become self-supporting. The Rev. Wm. B. Crittenden, D.D., priest-in-charge, also serves Holy Cross Mission, Statesville. Of this latter place he says: "This is an excellent example of self-help. They have no help from any source, and are cheerful and eager to serve the Church." The migratory character of the Negro population is evidenced by the decline of St. Stephen's, Winston-Salem, where the majority of Church families have removed from the city. The Church of the Redeemer, Greensboro, is in a flourishing condition under the leadership of the Rev. John J. Greene. The churches in Oxford, Tarboro and Warrenton under the Rev. F. H. U. Edwards have shown a moderate growth.

Throughout the reports from the Negro churches runs the refrain, "Our people are very poor." In spite of this condition, they have given, on the whole, as creditably to the Church's Program as the white congregations of the diocese.

EDWIN A. PENICK,

Bishop Coadjutor of North Carolina

NORTHERN INDIANA—The Rt. Rev. Campbell Gray, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $5,580.

THE Rev. E. E. Smith still continues to do his excellent work at Trinity Church (Hungarian), South Bend. The work there is growing, and though the congregation has not been able this year to undertake any more of its own support, yet they are steadily reducing the mortgage on their property, which is an encouraging sign.

The Rev. George A. P. Jewell is having a splendid response at Kokomo. This was once a self-supporting congregation, before the disasters of the last two or three years. Kokomo has been hit harder and for a longer time than any of our places, but the congregation has assumed some additional self-support, and with Father Jewell's excellent work will no doubt be entirely self-supporting again in spite of their difficulties, within the next two or three years. His work at Huntingdon has had some problems, but I am now hopeful of the final results.

The Rev. F. M. Kelso resigned last fall on account of his health, and therefore the Rev. James E. Foster, rector of Christ Church, Gary, has carried on the work at St. Augustine's, Gary, and at the mission in Hobart, with a very nominal stipend which scarcely covers more than gasoline for his car. The Rev. H. K. Hemkey has resigned from Indiana Harbor and Crown Point, and has taken over Valparaiso, for which he will receive no stipend from national funds. His former work has been undertaken by the Rev. A. E. Pflaum, who has done such good work at East Chicago, and while it will be a pretty big job for him, I hope he can swing this combination, though it means virtually doing the work of two men.

The Rev. H. L. Ewan is carrying on a very satisfactory work at Gas City and Hartford City, in addition to his parish at Marion.

The Rev. A. L. Schrock is one of the most diligent workers I have ever known and is doing everything that could be done at Kendallville and Garrett in addition to his parish at Goshen.

The Rev. W. J. Lockton rector of the church in Elkhart, continues to care for Bristol.

With reference to the general proposition of missionary work in the diocese, I think this present combination of several places under one man is the only thing we can do under existing circumstances. This, of course, does not care for half of the counties in the diocese where we have no Church services. If we could have one or two missionary priests, we could, of course, forge ahead with a progressive missionary program, but that I realize is not possible, at least at present.

CAMPBELL GRAY,
Bishop of Northern Indiana

OLYMPIA—The Rt. Rev. S. Arthur Huston, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $675; for Japanese and Chinese work, $3,474; for United Thank Offering work (white), $1,080.

SINCE our last report of the work in the Diocese of Olympia, we have built and dedicated the new parish hall for St. Peter's Japanese Mission in Seattle from the grant made by the National Council from undesignated legacies.

The impetus given the work by this opportunity for expansion was felt at once. Our two Japanese Sunday schools in Seattle now meet in one, and under the efficient supervision of Deaconess Margaret Peppers, the work among the children and young people goes steadily forward.

There are days when no less than seven different organizations have met for some purpose, to use and to enjoy the premises and facilities of the new parish hall. It is one of the most admirable combinations of the devotional, the educational and the recreational features of parish life that I have ever seen in any one building.

When on their way to the Orient, we had the honor of giving a personally conducted tour of these premises to the Presiding Bishop, and Bishop McKim, who for the past thirty-seven years has been President of the Nippon Sei Ko Kwai.

The joy which the Rev. Mr. Shoji, our Japanese priest, and his lay people had on this occasion of entertaining at tea two such distinguished guests, and of expressing their appreciation of what the Church has done for them would have convinced the most skeptical of the supreme value of missionary effort.

With the generous assistance from the Woman's Auxiliary of West Texas, my former diocese, and our own efforts, we shall soon be able to record, I hope, the accomplishment of a similar project for our Japanese people in the White River Valley.

S. ARTHUR HUSTON,
Bishop of Olympia

OREGON—The Rt. Rev. Walter Taylor Sumner, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $4,320; for Negro work, $450; for United Thank Offering work (white), $1,620.

THERE has been gratifying advance in the missions at Ashland and Grants Pass since the coming of the new vicar May 1. Grants Pass is one of the few communities in Oregon that has shown steady growth in the last few years, and as the town prospers, unquestionably the Church will grow also. The vicar has taken up his residence in the rectory at Grants Pass instead of the rectory at Ashland which has been the custom in past years. This undoubtedly helps the situation at Grants Pass.

The missions at Roseburg, Riddle, and Gardiner, especially at Roseburg, show a healthy growth, with another large class for Confirmation at Roseburg during the year.

The mission at McMinnville is in a most satisfactory condition, with a united congregation and some growth.

The missions at Newport, Toledo, and Tillamook, which are grouped together, make a difficult field on account of the distances. Tillamook being entirely a lumber town has been hard hit in the depression. However, the mission has met its responsibilities and exhibited a fine spirit through it all.

The Coos Bay missions are still unfilled and are being ministered to by the rector of our church at Marshfield, who was formerly in charge of this group of missions. As times improve and there is a larger income from the lumber industry in this section, we shall be able to place a vicar in residence.

St. Philip's Mission for colored people continues to grow in numbers and to add to its equipment and to improve its fabric. It is one of the most flourishing missions in the diocese.

Calvary, Seaside; Emmanuel, Vesper; and Christ Church, St. Helens, continue in about the same condition as for the past year, with regular ministrations.

All Saints' Mission, Portland, is carrying on with some elements of progress. It has proven most active in connection with the unemployment situation in Portland which should not be overlooked.

The missions of Hillsboro and Milwaukee, especially the latter, are in excellent condition, and satisfactorily ministered to.

Very generally throughout the diocese, the depression has brought increased congregations, even though the offerings have fallen off.

In all mission points much progress could be made were we not obliged, because of lack of finances, to spread the clergy over the field so thinly that the difficulties of building up the congregations through frequent services and pastoral ministrations are apparent. With more clergy in the field, I am sure that we shall find that we have more than held our own during this period of depression and have maintained good foundations for future growth.

WALTER T. SUMNER,
Bishop of Oregon

QUINCY—The Rt. Rev. Edward Fawcett, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $1,458; for Swedish work, $1,080; for United Thank Offering work (white), $1,620.

AN unendowed diocese in the middle west, having a missionary territory and dependent upon the prosperity of the agriculturist; expected to carry all its own diocesan overhead, and at the same time to supply funds to carry on an active missionary campaign; supplying from its best and most able the communicants to man parishes in large cities without its bounds; is a challenge to the devout. Such is the Diocese of Quincy.

For this field the National Council appropriates the sums above noted.

In addition to the strategic Swedish parish of St. John's, in Galesburg, there are eight other stations where the allocations helpfully supplement the local endeavors. These are Tiskilwa, Princeton, Rushville, Lewistown, Canton, Farmington, Warsaw and Carthage. In every place where the National Council has an investment the work is being sturdily maintained.

EDWARD FAWCETT,
Bishop of Quincy

SACRAMENTO—The Rt. Rev. William Hall Moreland, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $5,112; for Indian work, $2,565; for Japanese work, $1,080; for United Thank Offering work (white), $2,160.

OF the 17 parishes in the diocese 13 have resident rectors, three of whom are partly supported by serving mission stations. Nine parishes may be said to be reasonably self-supporting. Some of these pay small stipends or give uncertain support to the diocese and the General Church. Two contiguous parishes manage to support a rector between them. Certain of the 17 have declined to the condition of weak missions. It is proposed to transfer 4 of these nominal parishes to mission status, not disturbing the two which support a rector jointly.

Of the 21 places listed as organized missions 4 have resident clergy. The rest are ministered to by rectors of parishes or other non-resident clergy. A number have very infrequent services.

Of the 19 unorganized missions, the Indian Mission at Orleans is the only one that has a resident priest. Three are Sunday school stations in the city of Sacramento.

Each of the 17 parishes has a church building and 14 have rectories, 2 or 3 of them rented out for the sake of revenue. Of the organized missions, 20 have church buildings; 8 have rectories, those not occupied by clergy being rented. There are church buildings in 8 of the unorganized missions.

With the gradual recovery in business conditions, for which we all hope, we expect that the Church will take on new vigor. Fruit and general farm products have been low in price or even unsaleable for five years. Lumbering and transportation had fallen on hard times, long before the "depression" set in. But we have a courageous people and fairly adequate Church plants in many places, and with the continued support of the General Church until such time as we can help ourselves more adequately, we feel sure that the diocese will be able to give a good account of its stewardship.

BARR G. LEE,
Archdeacon of Sacramento

SOUTH CAROLINA—The Rt. Rev. Albert S. Thomas, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for Negro work, $3,862; for United Thank Offering work (Negro), $2,700; (white), $900.

White Work

OUR only worker among white people, supported by the National Council, is Miss Julia Gantt, the U. T. O. worker in Georgetown County. She has continued her usual religious, social, and educational activities under the Rev. H. D. Bull during the past year. At a recent visit to St. Peter's Chapel, I was met by a large congregation and confirmed 10 persons presented by Mr. Bull. Miss Gantt's work includes Prince Frederick's Parish and other parts of Georgetown County.

Colored Work

There are five Negro priests at work in this diocese, 4 of whom derive their support largely from the appropriation of the National Council. The Evangelical work proper is in our 15 churches, the Educational work is conducted in the Church schools connected with these churches and in 5 parochial schools including one kindergarten, the social and medical work under our 4 U. T. O. workers at Calvary, Charleston; St. Andrew's, Charleston County; Redeemer, Pineville; and Holy Cross and Faith Memorial, Waverly Mills. At this latter point there has been completed during the past year a new parish and school house at a cost of about $6,000. The work here has taken on new life and the school is much increased in enrollment. I find that during the past few years the rate of increase in membership among the Negroes is very much greater than among the white people. The Summer Training School, under the direction of Archdeacon Baskervill, at State College, Orangeburg, was again successfully held last summer. This school has become a valuable institution in the diocese. With more means the colored work in this diocese could be enlarged. We need two additional priests at this time. Plans are being formed to open a mission at Florence. A donation of a small amount has been received for a Maternity Home at Pineville. We hope that this may be erected this spring. Our U. T. O. workers are of great assistance. We are grateful for them.

A. S. THOMAS,
Bishop of South Carolina

SOUTH FLORIDA—The Rt. Rev. Cameron Mann, D.D., Bishop (Died Feb. 8, 1932); The Rt. Rev. John Durham Wing, D.D., Bishop Coadjutor. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $1,102; for Negro work, $6,705; for United Thank Offering work (Negro), $1,080.

OUR appropriation from the Department of Missions is used almost exclusively for Negro work, and has made it possible, in spite of the desperately hard times the Negroes in South Florida experienced during the last year, for the work to go on unabated. The growth and progress of our sixteen Negro congregations in 1932 was gratifying, with Confirmations numbering 193. During the year 2 new Negro congregations were organized, St. Philip's Pompano, and St. John's, Lake Worth.

Our Negroes are mostly from the British West Indies and have been reared as loyal members of the Church of England. The greater number of them are, or were, engaged either as artisans or common laborers in the building trade. Since the collapse of the Florida boom operations have practically ceased, and as a consequence the members of our Negro congregations have been largely without income. Out of their penury they have contributed generously toward the support of their congregations.

Our parochial schools for Negro children in West Palm Beach and Key West, are still maintained, and are doing excellent work in spite of inadequate equipment. It is quite probable that if the Church did not maintain these schools, the children attending them would be deprived of any educational advantages whatever. Their parents are so poor that they can pay very little for tuition, five or ten cents a week, and even if they cannot pay that little their children are not turned away.

The Negro women who are teaching in these schools are doing a fine work for a mere pittance. The children who attend them are largely from the homes of our own Church people. We are giving them the best secular education we can, with proper emphasis, of course, upon religious training.

South Florida has the largest number of Negro communicants of any diocese in the southern states, and presents a remarkable opportunity to show what the Church can do for these people.

JOHN D. WING,
Bishop of South Florida

SOUTHERN VIRGINIA—The Rt. Rev. Arthur Conover Thomson, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for Negro work, $1,530; for United Thank Offering work (white), $1,620.

[No report has been received for the year 1932]

SOUTHWESTERN VIRGINIA—The Rt. Rev. Robert Carter Jett, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for United Thank Offering work (white), $5,670; (Indian), $810.

DEACONESS MARIA P. WILLIAMS has maintained her usual standard of distinguished service at Dante. To this statement might be added her extraordinary influence and helpfulness throughout the section in which she is resident. I give a few items of statistics indicating the practical results at Dante and the mission at Bear Wallow, nearby: Baptisms 8; Confirmations 10; Woman's Auxiliary 18; Girls' Friendly 132; week-day religious instruction—total membership, including 7 teachers, 223. Number of communicants at present, 83.

Miss Emma M. Farish, assisted by Miss Dollie Gardiner, is doing excellent work at Richlands. The progress this year has been more satisfactory; 3 have been baptized and 13 confirmed. I am to go for another Confirmation service in the near future. Woman's Auxiliary 5; Girls' Friendly 10; Girls' Friendly Society Candidates 20; Order of Sir Galahad 17; Lads of Order of Sir Galahad 23. The Church school has a total membership of 77. This enumeration will give some idea of the activities and results.

Miss Caryetta L. Davis, Post Office Callaway, has, through many years, been our head worker at St. Peter's-in-the-Mountains. Her devotion to the mountain people in Franklin County has expressed itself through practically every Christian agency, especially through our parochial school, the Phoebe Needles Memorial.

Miss Davis is assisted by Miss Mary Louise Wood, recently appointed U. T. O. worker in succession to Miss Mary

F. Montgomery, who gave a great many years of her life to the mountain people. Miss Montgomery's retirement was required on account of permanent disability. Miss Wood was nominated by Bishop Creighton. She has already justified our confidence. Her large success seems assured. One person has been baptized and 2 confirmed. Woman's Auxiliary 10; Woman's Club 20; Phoebe Needles Day School: pupils 85, teachers 2. Large congregations attend when our attractive stone church is open.

Deaconess Margaret D. Binns, United Thank Offering worker at St. Stephen's, Nora, continues to carry on in the same fine spirit which has always characterized her labors there. The serious prejudices entertained toward the Episcopal Church are disappearing, on account of the increasing esteem for the deaconess. The outlook is decidedly brighter. Nineteen have been baptized and 11 confirmed. There are 10 members of the Woman's Auxiliary. The Church school has a total membership of 79. This brief statement will reflect all the facts that need be given here.

Miss Brightsie W. Savage is our head worker at St. Paul's, Amherst County, commonly known as "The Indian Mission." This mission represents the sole effort to bring the ministry of our Lord to this group of people representing a population of about 500. Miss Savage is, against heavy odds, doing her work splendidly.

Miss Mabel R. Mansfield, of Brooklyn, New York, once a member of Bishop Creighton's congregation, and for a number of years employed by the diocese as head worker at Grace House-on-the-Mountain, is now in charge of the industrial work at our missions in the diocese. She has excelled in this undertaking, and it would be difficult to properly estimate the value of her ministry in these uncertain economic times. Apart from her general missionary spirit and enterprise, and her magnificent character and example, there is no telling how much she has enabled a very poor people to earn through her training and the work she has assigned them. They are furnished the materials and are paid for the work, the income from which is used for the purchase of further materials and the successive distribution of work. She is away, in the interest of her work, and an itemized statement of her accomplishments is not available.

Miss Ora Harrison, who has such intimate and prolonged knowledge of the mountain people and who has carried on the work at St. John's-in-the-Mountains for some twenty years, has continued to maintain her fine record. I know of no one who has a stronger hold upon the mountain people; she herself having come from the mountains. St. John's-in-the-Mountains, like St. Peter's-in-the-Mountains — about twelve or thirteen miles distant, must contend with almost impossible impediments resulting from the bootlegging business in Franklin County. I know of no effort that gives greater promise of usefulness to this group of people in whose midst Miss Harrison labors, with the aid of three assistants. Apart from her distinctly religious work, she presides over a parochial school, in one room of which the public school officials have placed a teacher, who is responsible to the county officials. This mission ministers to 15 families regularly identified with our Church, besides a large number of individuals scattered through the community. Miss Harrison reports 3 Baptisms and the Confirmation of 1 person. The Church school has a total membership of 284. The Rev. Allen Person, rector of Trinity Church, Rocky Mount, Franklin County, is the minister-in-charge of St. John's and also St. Peter's.

ROBERT C. JETT,
Bishop of Southwestern Virginia

SPRINGFIELD—The Rt. Rev. John Chanler White, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $8,245; for Negro work, $1,186; for United Thank Offering work (white), $1,980.

THE Diocese of Springfield through its Bishop again makes grateful acknowledgment to the National Council for its financial assistance during the year 1932.

In spite of the great depression, unemployment, bank failures, and general disruption of business all over the State, there are a few fields in the diocese where some real progress has been made. I would particularly mention the splendid work of Mrs. A. D. Brackett, the U. T. O. worker at Virden and Thayer, two mining towns where the mines have been closed for years. She has maintained, with the help of the priest in Carlinville, regular services and flourishing Sunday schools, a large branch of the Girls' Friendly Society and every dollar asked of them for the support of the diocese and its missionary work and of the General Church has been paid. In fact they have given more under the missionary heading than they were asked for. Our mission in Thayer is about the only religious influence surviving in the town. The Church has had a splendid record of helpfulness in that community ever since its inception years ago.

We have mission stations at Zeigler and West Frankfort, two other mining communities situated a hundred and fifty miles or more south of Thayer and Virden. As I dictate this report I have before me a picture of the recent Confirmation class in Zeigler consisting of 19. The Sunday school in this town is one of the largest in the diocese. The men communicants assisted in the erection of the building and are still working on improving the grounds and the Church building. At West Frankfort they have the largest number of men actively working in any mission in the diocese and the congregation has increased so greatly that we have had to furnish them with thirty new chairs. Owing to the closing down of the mines and irregularity of work for the past four years in both of these places, many of the families are living on incomes of between $2.50 and $3.00 per week. The people love the Church and are working for it.

The work at East St. Louis receives support from the National Council in a grant for the clerical assistant and a woman worker among the foreign born. Here, also, the National Council made a gift towards the new building for a Social Center which has been opened over a year and is proving to be a great success. There are but few buildings of its kind anywhere in the country. At this writing I am told that the rector has secured the names of 100 prospects for Confirmation, most of whom have been found through the work of the Social Center. This industrial center embracing the territory from East St. Louis almost to Alton has been badly hit by the depression. Foundries, factories, railroads abound here but they have been mostly idle for the past two years and thousands of people are out of work.

Of the 3 colored missions in the diocese, at Cairo, Springfield and East St.

Louis, the youngest of which is in East St. Louis, I am glad to report a very successful year. People are being brought to the Church, services are well attended, children are being brought to Baptism and Confirmation.

At Carbondale, where the State Normal School is located, the priest-in-charge is reaching the students in considerable number and the Church work here, in spite of handicaps of heavy special assessments and paving debts, is now doing very well.

At Wood River we are contemplating the erection of a Church building for which the people have raised most of the money in spite of the hard times. This is in the heart of the oil refineries and has probably suffered less than any of our communities.

In the Centralia Field embracing the mission in this community and that at Carlyle, Salem, Mt. Vernon and Nashville, a good report can be made. Never before have we had as many young people connected with Centralia as we have had during the past year but this place is almost swamped with debt. The town has suffered a great deal during the depression. Salem has done better this year than ever before in its history. Under the leadership of a newly confirmed man, a Bible class of over 50 has been organized and the mission otherwise is doing well.

Glen Carbon, a purely coal mining community, where the depression has worked its worst havoc, has one of the most thriving Church schools in the diocese, all due to the devoted, consecrated service of "Uncle Billy" Summers, a coal miner. The influence of the church here has no doubt kept the place from despair.

JOHN C. WHITE,
Bishop of Springfield

TENNESSEE—The Rt. Rev. Thomas Gailor, D.D., Bishop; The Rt. Rev. James M. Maxon, D.D., Bishop Coadjutor. Appropriation for 1932: for Negro work, $4,590; for United Thank Offering work (white), $1,620.

THE Diocese of Tennessee is grateful to the Woman's Auxiliary for the support through the National Council of two white women workers, whose stipends have been paid out of the United Thank Offering fund. Mrs. Rosa M. Oswell has continued her most helpful work as a visiting nurse in the country section around Monterey. She has also assisted in the work of the small emergency hospital at St. Raphael's House, Monterey. Mrs. Mabel Lee Macdonald, from Sewanee has continued to minister to the needs of the mission at Sherwood, as well as those of Cowan and in the immediate Sewanee area.

All other help given this diocese by the National Council has been for Negro work. This assistance has centered in Chattanooga, where we have a small but flourishing Negro mission; at Nashville, where the efforts have been chiefly expended in connection with students in Fisk Colored University, and in Meharry Negro Medical College. Hundreds of Negro students, from all parts of the world, gather yearly in these two institutions, among whom are many of our own Communion.

In Memphis, we have our largest and strongest Negro congregation, with a competent priest-in-charge. And Hoffman-St. Mary's Negro School is located on a large farm, forty miles east of Memphis, in the heart of a large rural Negro population. This school enrolls yearly about 200 Negro children, a small number of whom live at the school. The influence of the school has been constantly extending through the years. It provides a common school education, trains a limited number for teaching positions in rural Negro public schools, and gives industrial training suited to rural life. The buildings and equipment are utterly inadequate. Nor can the school receive the increasing numbers of needy children who apply. It is truly a marvel to me that such a fine product can be turned out with the meager equipment. The leadership, under the Rev. Dr. Geo. A. Stams, explains that. Dr. Stams also ministers to a small Negro mission in Jackson, and a rural Negro congregation near Mason.

JAMES M. MAXON,
Bishop Coadjutor of Tennessee

UPPER SOUTH CAROLINA—The Rt. Rev. Kirkman G. Finlay, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for Negro work, $2,766; for United Thank Offering work (white), $3,240.

WE have four colored clergy, the Rev. S. C. Usher is chaplain at Voorhees Normal and Industrial School, which is located in the Diocese of South Carolina, but he is canonically resident in this diocese.

The Rev. J. B. Elliott, Archdeacon, has charge of four churches and general supervision of the colored work under the Bishop. His field is St. Thomas', Eastover, Church and day school.

The school work is carried on by one white and one colored teacher. The people are laborers or tenant farmers; a few own land. They are very loyal to the Church. It has been probably the most uplifting agency in that community. The people are desperately poor. Yet out of their poverty they make earnest efforts to contribute to all calls made upon them. Confirmations have been quite satisfactory. St. Anna's, Columbia, has a day school with one teacher. Only two or three communicants. The school, however, has made a worth while contribution to the life of the community. It has an endowment of $6,000, which unfortunately, has been non-productive for over two years.

St. Anne's, New Brookland. Church and day school. Communicants for the most part very loyal. Services well attended. Confirmations good. Contributions liberal considering financial condition of the people. Work of day school satisfactory.

St. Simon's, Peak. Community much depleted by removals. Only a few communicants. Services irregular.

The Rev. James B. Brown, Epiphany, Spartanburg. Church only. Small congregation made up chiefly of intelligent and well-to-do people. Attendance fair. Some Confirmations. Financial support only moderately satisfactory. People could do better.

St. Philip's, Greenville. Small congregation. No school. Little, if any, growth. Some of the people are quite earnest. Church could do better than it has done financially.

Mr. Brown has opened a small work at Greer. Attendance very irregular.

The Rev. Isaac I. McDonald has charge of St. Luke's, Columbia, our one parish, and St. Luke's mission, Newberry. Church and school at Newberry. School well attended. Equipment most deplorable. Attendance at services pretty good. Few Confirmations. Finances poor.

St. Augustine's, Aiken, is served by the Rev. William Johnson, rector of the white congregation at Aiken. Only a handful of communicants. They are loyal and stand well in the community. They could do better in financial support.

General Remarks: Our colored work has suffered heavily by removals to other parts of the country. Also, the general financial condition has rested heavily on them. Many have been out of work. Those living on farms are practically without cash income.

I am convinced that small as are our figures of growth and financial income, the work is worth while. Those whom we reach are unquestionably helped and uplifted. Our work stands as an example of higher ideals of conduct for the members, more reverent worship and better preparation for the ministry.

The physical condition of our properties is very bad. I have had practically no funds for keeping them up.

KIRKMAN G. FINLAY,
Bishop of Upper South Carolina

VIRGINIA—The Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, D.D., Bishop; The Rt. Rev. Frederick D. Goodwin, D.D., Bishop Coadjutor. Appropriation for 1932: for United Thank Offering work (white), $2,160.

DURING the year 1932 our two United Thank Offering workers, Miss Edna J. Browning and Miss Carrie G. Makely, did very faithful and effective work at Mission Home and Cecil Memorial Mission respectively. Their work consisted, for the most part, in teaching, and visiting in the homes of the mountain people.

Beginning January 1, 1933, the Diocese will assume the responsibility for these salaries, and we shall no longer receive any aid from the General Church.

H. ST. GEORGE TUCKER,
Bishop of Virginia

WEST MISSOURI—The Rt. Rev. Robert Nelson Spencer, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for United Thank Offering work (white), $1,080.

DEACONESS BETZ has rendered most valuable service in our Field Department and the Department of Missions and Church Extension.

In the Field Department she has visited all our parishes and missions, stimulating interest in Study Classes and Lay Conferences. She was especially helpful in assisting in the Every Member Canvasses. She has also visited the Woman's Auxiliaries and Guilds and made addresses to them on the program and work of the General Church. She has been active in our Regional Conferences.

Deaconess Betz has labored constantly among our Negro people, of whom we have many in our diocese, and for whom we receive no support from the General Church. At St. Augustine's Mission, Kansas City, she has organized a large group of colored women to do city mission work among the Negroes. She has made weekly visits to the colored General Hospital, and twice a month she has visited the hospital at Leeds for the sufferers from tuberculosis.

In social service work, she has visited cases referred to her by St. Luke's Hospital, our diocesan hospital. Our city parishes have used her extensively to investigate cases.

Deaconess Betz has given valuable assistance in our Episcopal Church House for Girls, an institution for unmarried mothers and for unfortunate young women. She has also made weekly visits to Crittenton Home for wayward girls, conducting there a weekly Bible class.

In this diocese of 37,000 square miles, Miss Betz has cared for the isolated, visiting them, and sending them Church literature, and writing them many letters.

On Sundays, when not otherwise engaged, she has conducted classes in our Church schools.

Deaconess Betz has been very faithful in her duties in this diocese. She has much tact and ability, and she has a positive genius in her work with the unfortunate, and with the colored people. We are very grateful for her services.

ROBERT NELSON SPENCER,
Bishop of West Missouri

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA—The Rt. Rev. Junius Moore Horner, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $16,620; for Negro work, $1,385; for United Thank Offering work (white), $3,852.

THE year 1932 lived up to its promises of being a difficult year financially for the diocese. Owing to our depleted income, we were forced in the last half of the year to discontinue the social service workers at Hickory, Glen Alpine and Morganton, and to reduce the amounts given to our assisted parishes and missions. In spite of these reductions, however, the morale was not affected and we were able to carry on.

The four diocesan schools, located at Valle Crucis, Penland, Legerwood and Arden, with an aggregate of about 300 pupils, have continued their helpful and effective work to the Church and to their communities. It cannot be too often repeated that the primary purpose of these schools is missionary and that they accomplish a work impossible of achievement by the public institutions.

In addition to the financial difficulties, the last half of 1932 was saddened by the failing health of our Bishop, who, in spite of great physical handicaps, continued to spend himself unsparingly for the work that was always so dear to him.

The coming year gives every indication of being a most difficult and critical one. Many questions of grave importance will have to be decided and the financial outlook is far from showing signs of improvement. However, there is apparent in many quarters a fine spirit of co-operation and a determination to carry on in spite of all handicaps. Many of the teachers and employees in our schools have expressed themselves willing and eager to continue at such greatly reduced compensation that practically all they will receive will be board and lodging. Many of our clergy are suffering actual want in order that their parishes may pay their share towards the diocese and the national Church. With such a spirit abroad, the diocese faces the future with full knowledge of the difficulties ahead, but in confidence that the Church, within her boundaries, will go on perhaps stronger and better for the trial.

SHELDON LEAVITT,
Chairman Department of Finance

WEST TEXAS—The Rt. Rev. William Theodotus Capers, D.D., Bishop. Appropriation for 1932: for white work, $5,971; for United Thank Offering work (Negro), $540; (white), $720.

THE Diocese of West Texas, in common with all other dioceses and missionary districts of the whole Church, has passed through possibly the most distressing financial condition of its history. Not a single city or village in the diocese where our Church is represented has escaped disastrous bank failures. Added to the bank failures, in 80% of the communities where the Church is represented, there have been either crop failures or exceedingly low values for farm products of all kinds. These conditions in the diocese have wrought great hardships upon our clergy. With but one or two exceptions every clergyman in the diocese has suffered a cut in his salary of from 25% to 50%, and yet in the face of such serious financial losses, our clergy have been unselfishly and devotedly at work. It is interesting to note that the number of Confirmations is larger for the year 1932 than for any other year within the last decade. This suggests that people have not been unmindful of the Church as a Refuge in the hour of need and of battle.

The missionaries of the diocese towards whose support the National Council contributes are, as follows:

The Ven. B. S. McKenzie, Arch-deacon of the diocese, has done heroic work, not only as a missionary filling vacant parishes and missions and also taking regular appointments, but as the chairman of the department of finance of the diocese. He has been in the diocese for twenty years and is unremitting in his labors, and, by virtue of the great love that the people have for him, he has a splendid leadership in the work of the diocese.

The Rev. George Belsey is rector of St. Helena's Parish, which includes the missions at Comfort and at Waring. As the rector of this parish, he exercises the office of Missionary of Kendall County. The records show that Mr. Belsey's work is prospering. He has a splendid Sunday school at Boerne, well organized and quite enthusiastic. He maintains services at Comfort, where the Church is doing a very good piece of missionary work. He visits Waring once a month. In my last report I called attention to the fact that the laity of the church in Boerne, out of their devotion, built a beautiful stone church which ordinarily would have cost $15,000 or more. Because some of the laymen contributed their work and others superintended the work and still others furnished the stone, they got their church built for something like $8,000 to $9,000. You can see from this statement that the church is vitally active in Mr. Belsey's cure.

The Rev. J. T. McCaa covers a vast territory that is just about, in area, as large as the State of Connecticut. Most of his missionary field is made up of cattle, goat and sheep ranches. He might be described as "Missionary to the Cow Boys." His missionary posts are San Saba, Brady, Menard and Ft. McKavett. At Ft. McKavett our church rests in the midst of the ruins of an old fort, and, within the heart of a very large ranching area, it is the dominant religious influence. The little Sunday school won the Bishop's loving cup for the largest per capita Lenten Offering last year. The interesting feature of this triumph was the fact that most of the members of the Sunday school were from families having very small incomes. I feel that Mr. McCaa is a missionary that the Church can well assist in supporting through the contribution of the National Council.

The Rev. M. A. McKeogh is the rector of St. Andrew's Church, Seguin. A contribution of $144 is made to Mr. McKeogh from the National Council appropriation in view of the fact that the work that he is doing in Seguin is of a very active and encouraging nature. The parish is not financially able to give Mr. McKeogh the salary that is necessary for his support, as he has two children who are dependent upon him. His Confirmation classes, in proportion to the number of families in his parish, are larger than the usual Confirmation classes of a parish of that size.

WM. THEODOTUS CAPERS,
Bishop of West Texas

WORK AMONG DEAF-MUTES

An appropriation of $270 is made to assist in supporting a general Missionary among Deaf-Mutes in the Fifth Province. The Rev. George F. Flick, who has his headquarters in Chicago, ministers to the deaf in the Dioceses of Milwaukee and Springfield.

COMMISSION ON ECCLESIASTICAL RELATIONS

Functions directly under the supervision of the Presiding Bishop, the Rev. Wm. C. Emhardt, S.T.D., Counselor, and the Rev. Robert F. Lau, D.D., Vice-Counselor.

THE work of the Commission, being largely of a confidential nature, cannot be reported in detail. It would be unwise and improper to report or in any way indicate names of groups who are seeking closer affiliation with our Church, or to indicate prematurely the nature of the approach. For example, four Bishops met recently to consider the request of a racial group for incorporation into the Episcopal Church under special conditions. Upon consideration, the officers of the Commission reported that the movement would be unwise, because of certain faults inherent in the group, and documentary evidence that the appeal was based upon expediency and not conviction.

The Journal of the officers will reveal that the activities of the Commission have increased largely during the past year.

It should be remembered that while the Commission functions through its two officers, it is composed of the following active and interested members:

The Rt. Rev. Joseph M. Francis, D.D.; the Rt. Rev. Campbell Gray, D.D.; the Rt. Rev. John N. McCormick, D.D.; the Rt. Rev. Edward L. Parsons, D.D.; the Rt. Rev. Warren L. Rogers, D.D.; the Rt. Rev. Ernest M. Stires, D.D.; the Rev. Frank S. Gavin, Th.D.; the Rev. Arthur B. Kinsolving, D.D.; the Rev. Howard C. Robbins, D.D.; the Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins; the Hon. William R. Castle, Jr.; Mr. Samuel F. Houston; Mr. Charles C. Marshall; Mr. John S. Newbold; Mr. Origen S. Seymour; Dr. Darius A. Davis and Mr. Lawrence H. Whiting.

In every case membership in the Commission has been accepted because of the conviction that the Commission renders a unique service of prime importance to the Church.

Sub-committees, including experienced persons outside the Commission, are considering vital questions constantly, either by meetings or through correspondence.

The following groups of primary activities should be included in this report:

1. Bishops of our Church and those in communion with our Church are in increasing numbers turning to the officers for advice on Church relationships, very frequently by telegram. In the majority of cases adverse advice has to be given.

2. Problems concerning the foreign-born in this country are referred to the officers of this Commission.

3. Interdenominational movements, tending to strengthen the position of European and Near Eastern Churches accepting the Episcopate, progressed notably during the past year. The same should be said of co-operating movements in which the question of ecclesiastical polity is not involved. Among those organizations accepting these policies should be mentioned the World Sunday School Association; the Universal Commission on Life and Work; the Committee on Correlation of the Activities of American Churches in the Near East; the Young Men's Christian Association; the Committee on Christian Approach to the Jews of the International Missionary Council, etc.

4. Many conferences have been held with ecclesiastical groups of both Catholic and Protestant backgrounds, seeking advice and guidance in respect to their future allegiance or form of reorganization.

5. Established communions are turning constantly to the officers of the Commission for advice and sometimes arbitration in solving difficult internal problems. In many cases, while not seeking financial aid, they do request counsel in solving their financial problems.

6. The officers are engaged constantly in the preparation, always by request, of informative articles on inter-church relationships.

7. Lists of vagrant and mendicant clergymen are kept up to date. Timely publicity is given whenever the activities of these men in a particular district become known.

8. Although the maintenance budget of the Commission has been reduced to $5,320 and the operating budget reduced to $2,950, it has been possible, although often with embarrassment, to maintain every contact heretofore established in the field of inter-church co-operation.

Among the secondary activities the following should be mentioned:

First, promotion of the Good Friday Offering.

Second, advice and conference when requested, concerning the American Churches in Europe.

Third, continuance of the policy of promoting better understanding of the Eastern and the Old Catholic Churches.

A pamphlet describing the more practical phases of the Commission's work may be had by addressing the Rev. W. C. Emhardt, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

THE AMERICAN CHURCH INSTITUTE FOR NEGROES

The American Church Institute for Negroes has its office at 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City. The Rt. Rev. James DeWolf Perry, D.D., is President, and the Rt. Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd, D.D., is Vice-President; George Foster Peabody, LL.D., Honorary Vice-President; William C. Rives, M.D., Honorary Vice-President; Mr. Louis J. Hunter, Treasurer; Rev. Robert W. Patton, D.D., Director; Rev. Cyril E. Bentley, Associate Director; Rev. G. Warfield Hobbs, Director of Publicity; Mrs. Isabel M. Carter, Secretary; Wallace A. Battle, Litt.D., Field Secretary; Miss Alma Flegal, Office Assistant. The schools affiliated with the Institute are: St. Augustine's College, Raleigh, N. C.; Bishop Payne Divinity School now at Petersburg, Va., which it is planned to move to Raleigh, N. C.; St. Paul Normal and Industrial School, Lawrenceville, Va.; Fort Valley Normal and Industrial School, Fort Valley, Ga.; Voorhees Normal and Industrial School, Denmark, S. C.; St. Mark's School, Birmingham, Ala.; Hoffman-St. Mary's School, Mason, Tenn.; Gaudet Normal and Industrial School, New Orleans, La.; Okolona Industrial School, Okolona, Miss.

IN the fall of 1931 General Convention instructed the National Council to abandon efforts to secure funds for new buildings and equipment, defined in the Program of the Church as "Advance Work," and, until the restoration of satisfactory economic conditions, to make appeals only for the funds necessary to meet the budget and for emergencies. In obedience to these instructions, no efforts to secure funds for new buildings have been inaugurated by the Institute since the fall of 1931. Even had General Convention omitted the injunction, the attempt would have been futile. The incomes of our people have been so generally curtailed that nearly all have been obliged to reduce materially their former contributions to the maintenance budget. The income of the National Council and of the Institute for their maintenance budgets has been reduced by approximately one-third. Improvements in equipment must await better times.

Severe economies have been instituted in every item of expenditures in the office of the Institute and in the administration of the schools. We are proud to report that in our efforts to reduce expenses, we have received the most loyal and self-sacrificing co-operation from our Negro principals and teachers. They have not only co-operated in the fullest and finest spirit, but they have displayed wisdom and business judgment in so readjusting their expenditures that injury to the schools has been reduced to a minimum. Anyone who is familiar with the expenses involved in education and who recalls that even in their most prosperous days the average cost per boarding student in our Institute Schools, including tuition, board, and all other essentials, was only about two hundred dollars per year, will realize how much credit is due the managements of our schools in successfully carrying on with incomes reduced by thirty per cent, or more in some cases. It is difficult to give adequate expression to our admiration of our Negro principals and teachers for their loyal co-operation and self-sacrificing spirit in volunteering to make every sacrifice to maintain the schools free of debt. These qualities seem to be characteristic of the race.

In spite of the financial difficulties, above referred to, all of our nine schools succeeded in closing their books for the year ending in June, 1932, without a deficit for that school year. A debt of $18,000 incurred, as to the greater part, many years ago by the Fort Valley School, before it was affiliated with the Institute, was reduced by $11,000 to about $7,000. Mr. H. A. Hunt, the Principal, and his associates, deserve high credit for such an achievement under such difficult conditions.

Many of our friends have expressed the opinion that our Annual Report should contain at least a brief explanation of an achievement probably unparalleled by any other large school system in the country. Certainly, it was not accomplished by any kind of magic, but by the direct and realistic process of seeing things as they are and acting accordingly.

In the fall of 1931 the full force of the depression, in its effect on income, began to assert itself to an alarming degree. School budgets had, naturally, been prepared for the ensuing year on the basis of receipts for the school year 1930 to 1931, with additional reduction as a margin of safety. The fiscal school year begins usually June 1st or July 1st. By October, 1931, deficits, including debts carried over from the previous years of depression, had climbed to around $50,000, with the certainty that, unless something could be done, these obligations would amount to around $100,000 by the end of the school year. In such times, this would spell disaster, and the inevitable closing of our schools, with teachers and students turned out to join the ranks of the unemployed.

We resolved that, with God's blessing and guidance, our schools should not close, that none of our teachers should be discharged solely for lack of funds, and that the budgets of the nine institutions should be balanced before the opening of another school year. We believe that God did send His blessing on our efforts, for we did better than we dared hope. Not only were all budgets balanced, but $30,000 of the $37,000 in debts for maintenance carried over from the previous years of depression were paid. The explanation is as follows:

1. The ability and wisdom of the Treasurer of the Institute, Mr. Louis J. Hunter of Boston, in his management of the invested funds, so that, in spite of the depression, the income from the half million dollars of endowments has proved nearly as large as in the prosperous years. His clear-headed judgment in advising the Director and the Associate Director, in other matters, has proved invaluable.

2. The General Education Board (Rockefeller Foundation), after careful investigation, agreed to appropriate $24,500 on the condition that, through economies in the schools and through appeals to our friends, the remainder of the $100,000 required to balance the budgets should be secured by July 1, 1932.

3. The sound business judgment and the loyal co-operation, above referred to, on the part of the managements of our schools.

4. The self-sacrificing contributions from our friends, many of whom responded favorably to three letters of appeal, to enable us to secure the amount required to collect the conditional gift of $24,500 from the General Education Board.

5. Drastic curtailment of expenditures by the schools, including reductions in teachers' salaries. The salaries of all of the officers of the Institute were reduced by a percentage twice as large as that asked of our teachers.

What of the school year 1933?

Further reductions in income are being experienced. Total budgets for the current school year have been reduced $101,000 as compared with last year. In spite of so drastic a reduction in expenditures, income is not sufficient to meet the greatly reduced budgets. We would be confronted with deficits by July 1, 1933, in excess of $30,000, were it not for a further curtailment of expenses being instituted during the latter half of the current school year. Through these economies, including further reductions in salaries, if necessary, and through such assistance as our friends may be able to send us, we hope that all of the budgets will be balanced by July 1, 1933.

Having sent an appeal in January to our friends we are loath to send another. Nevertheless, since we are but their agents and trustees, to whom, among other duties, is committed the responsibility of keeping our schools out of debt, we shall, after making all possible additional economies, short of wrecking our schools, inform our friends by letter, before the end of this school year, of the comparatively small amount needed to close this school year, also, free of debt.

Although since the fall of 1931 no funds have been solicited for buildings and equipment, one new building has been erected during this period at St. Paul's School, Lawrenceville, Virginia, and three new buildings at Voorhees Normal and Industrial School, Denmark, S. C. The money for these buildings was pledged prior to September, 1931. The Rev. John G. Scott and his sister, Mrs. Emma Scott Taylor, of Richmond, Virginia, contributed $17,000 for a new Administration Building at St. Paul's as a memorial to their father and mother.

Church people in the Diocese of Massachusetts pledged $50,000 towards the cost of the new Class Room Building at Voorhees School, known as "Massachusetts Hall," the total cost of the building, with equipment, being nearly $80,000. The General Education Board contributed one-third of the cost. St. James' Parish, Wilmington, N. C., under the leadership of the Rev. William H. Milton, D.D., pledged $10,000 towards the cost of the new Girls' Trades Building, the General Education Board having contributed the remainder. The total cost of this building was $15,000. Churchmen in the Dioceses of Western Massachusetts and Michigan, with other friends, contributed $27,000 towards the new Girls' Dormitory at Voorhees. The Girls' Dormitory, with equipment, cost approximately $40,000, the General Education Board having contributed approximately $13,000 of this amount. All three of these new buildings at Voorhees have been completed and dedicated within the past six months. Although a small percentage of some of the pledges has not as yet been paid, the Institute advanced to the school the unpaid portion of these pledges, in the conviction that those who made them will pay these balances in the near future. The Diocese of Bethlehem pledged the cost of a teacher's cottage and hopes to secure enough for another teacher's cottage for Voorhees School.

The total cost of the three new buildings at Voorhees, with other important improvements, including teachers' houses, is $156,000, of which the General Education Board contributed $52,000. Both Voorhees and St. Paul's were fortunate in being able to construct these buildings at a time when materials and labor are so cheap. Under normal conditions, the improvements at Voorhees would have cost nearly $200,000, and the Administration Building at St. Paul's would have cost nearly $25,000. These two schools and their architect, Mr. S. J. Makielski, Assistant Professor of Architecture at the University of Virginia, are to be congratulated on the workmanship and architectural beauty of these four buildings. Mr. J. E. Blanton, Principal of Voorhees School, and his staff, have proved themselves worthy rivals of St. Paul's and of Fort Valley, in their demonstrated ability to construct high grade buildings with student labor.

The Rev. Cyril E. Bentley has served the Institute as Associate Director since September 1, 1931. During this period he has not only fully measured up to the high estimate in which he was held when he was elected, but he has endeared himself to the Board of Trustees of the Institute, to the Director, to the authorities of our schools, and to all of the friends of the Institute who have been privileged to know him. In the trying period through which we have passed since he was elected, his services have been invaluable.

able. Much of our success in the hard task of reducing expenses and in securing additional income is due to his good business sense, his tact, tenacity and devotion.

The friends of Dr. Wallace A. Battle will be glad to know that he has fully recovered from his nine months' illness. He returned to his duties in September, 1932. Dr. Battle was the recipient during 1932 of two distinctions. His Alma Mater, Berea College, awarded him the degree of Doctor of Literature, and the Julius Rosenwald Fund awarded him a fellowship for the study of Negro life in South America.

Many of the friends of the Bishop Payne Divinity School have naturally been disappointed because, on account of the depression and the order of General Convention to discontinue efforts to secure funds for new buildings, the plan to move the Divinity School from Petersburg, Virginia, to Raleigh, North Carolina, has been deferred. The cost of the removal, with that of the new buildings at Raleigh, was estimated at $75,000. With the devoted co-operation of the women of the Diocese of Washington, and gifts from other friends, we had secured $43,000 of the required sum when the order of General Convention was issued. Seven acres of land across the street from the grounds of St. Augustine's College have been bought at a cost of $4,000. Approximately $36,000 of the remainder has been invested in high grade short term bonds, pending the time when sufficient funds to carry out the plans shall have been secured.

Though, in the opinion of many, the present site of the school is unsatisfactory, it continues successfully its fine work in preparing our Negro young men for the ministry of the Church. Whatever may be said of its material equipment or of its outward appearance or environment, no one who has a personal acquaintance with the faculty and students, and with the graduates in their ministry throughout the Church, can doubt that the Bishop Payne Divinity School will continue its indispensable service.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN MISSIONS FOR THE YEAR 1932

TOGETHER WITH THE REPORTS OF THE EXTRA-CONTINENTAL,
LATIN AMERICAN AND FOREIGN MISSIONARY BISHOPS

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN MISSIONS

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1932

WORLD conditions during 1932 have greatly hampered mission work. Armed conflict and the communist menace in the Far East, international apprehensions that produced suspicions, the deepening of nationalistic dislikes and the economic distress handicapped Christian effort and enormously increased the difficulty of securing funds for its maintenance. There are many evidences of the need for a deeper and firmer faith in the Christian revelation and for more whole-hearted loyalty to the Christian cause. In spite of all adverse conditions, however, the work of the Church overseas has not only held its own, but has made progress in some directions.

Meetings of the Department were held on February 2, April 26, October 11 and December 13.

The Church Missions House staff has done faithful and consistent work and in common with our missionaries throughout the world has accepted reductions in income amounting in most cases to twenty per cent.

In addition to the usual office work, the officers of the Department filled many engagements, to report upon the Church's work in the mission field, to congregations, branches of the Woman's Auxiliary, Sunday schools, Church clubs, summer conferences and other gatherings.

None of the mission fields was visited during the year.

MISSIONARY STAFF

The following missionaries died during the year:

Mr. S. E. Smalley (retired), of China died January 9, 1932.

Miss J. Arria Bishop, formerly a teacher at St. Margaret's School, Tokyo, Japan, died September 23, 1932.

Rev. Amos Goddard, formerly of Anking, died November 13, 1932.

Mr. Smalley was one of the veterans of the China Mission, going to the field in 1889, as a lay teacher in what was then St. John's School. He served on its faculty until the growth of the mission and the increasing demands of its business aspects required his full time and his experience of business life, both in England and in China. For many years he was Bishop Graves' right-hand man in everything having to do with accounting, real estate, building, insurance, finance and legal matters. Illness, induced by long residence in a sub-tropical country, compelled Mr. Smalley's retirement in 1917. China and its welfare were ever uppermost in his heart and mind. Nothing pleased him quite so much as to have opportunity for talking over China's problems and the work of the mission with friends who were able to call upon him, first in Victoria, B. C., and later in his English home.

When Arria Bishop went to Japan in September, 1926, she carried into St. Margaret's School, Tokyo, as one of its teachers, a blithesome spirit, a well-trained mind, and a fine spiritual purpose. By colleagues and pupils alike she was admired and beloved. Japan's difficult winter climate sowed seeds of disease which compelled her return to the United States in the spring of 1930. For two years with patience and courage she tried to win her way back to health, but it was not to be. Although her service on this earth was short, her name will be long remembered as one who made a real contribution to the Christian welfare of Japan's girls. In a true sense, she was a martyr to the cause, a part of the price that is to be paid for winning Japan to Christian discipleship.

Going to China immediately after his graduation from the Philadelphia Divinity School in 1902, the Rev. Amos Goddard served all his ministry in China, first as a member of the staff of the Diocese of Hankow, and after its division, in the Diocese of Anking. The troubles of 1926 and 1927 compelled his retirement from his station at Kiukiang in Central China. He had served there for many years in charge of St. John's School for boys, and St. Paul's Church. With profound sorrow he saw much of the work to which he had devoted his life broken up for the time at least. After his return to the United States he became rector of St. Luke's Church, Newtown, in the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

MISSIONARIES APPOINTED IN 1932

In 1932, thirty-five missionaries were appointed to the following fields:

Alaska	1	Hankow	2	Brazil	1
Cuba	1	Tohoku	2	Puerto Rico	2
Liberia	2	Philippines	5	Honolulu	7
Shanghai	6	Anking	2		—
Dominican Republic..	1	Panama	3	Total	35

In all cases these recruits filled vacancies. No new work was attempted. The number of recruits in 1932 was twenty-three less than in 1931.

The number of missionaries in the Extra-Continental, Foreign and Latin America fields, supported in whole or in part by appropriations from the Department of Missions during the year 1932 was:

	Men	Women	Total
American Missionaries abroad	191	232	423
Native Staff abroad	1,260	708	1,968
Total	1,451	940	2,391

The wives of ordained and lay missionaries of the staff are not included in the foregoing figures. Many of them, however, gave volunteer service of great value.

In accordance with the plan found useful in previous years, the Department joined with the Foreign Mission Boards of the Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, Congregational and Reformed Churches in holding a Conference for Outgoing Missionaries during the second week of June. As usual, the Conference was held at the Kennedy School of Missions in Hartford, Conn. The plan has proved most helpful in introducing missionaries to some of the principles to be used in acquiring a difficult language, and for interpreting religious and social conditions to be encountered by the missionaries in the fields to which they go. Our own group spent the day preceding the conference, at the Church Missions House, for the consideration of questions especially concerning them as representatives of this Church.

EXPENDITURES IN THE FIELD AND CENTRAL EXPENSES

The amounts spent in the last fiscal year in the various fields is shown in the following table:

1. For Extra-Continental Diocesan Work	$270,059.47
2. For work in Asia and Africa.....	772,685.39
3. For work in Latin America	288,534.91
	$1,331,279.77

The Central expenses of the Department in 1932 were $24,675.64.

Of this amount $11,350.80 is properly chargeable to administration, $6,415.66 to promotion, $6,909.18 to operating expenses.

Further decline in the price of silver in 1932, in both China and Japan, greatly reduced the expenditure for the maintenance of the work in those major fields. Details with regard to expenditure will be found on page 88.

UNDESIGNATED LEGACIES

In 1932 the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society received legacies, not designated for specific purposes, amounting to $263,273.54.

As was the case in 1931, the Council was obliged, owing to large decreases in the amounts received from the dioceses, on account of their respective quotas, to use the Undesignated Legacies to help meet the appropriations and so prevent a deficit for the year. The amount so used was $216,553.32. The balance of the Undesignated Legacies was held in reserve, to be added to Undesignated Legacies received during the year 1933, the total to be applied, so far as may be necessary, to meeting the appropriations for the year 1933.

ADVANCE WORK PROGRAM

In accordance with the instructions of the General Convention in 1931, no concerted effort was made to assign projects in the Advance Work Program for the present triennium to dioceses. In all cases where assignments have been asked for by local authorities they have been made. The total received on account of Advance Work during 1932 was $75,744.62. While the Department is grateful for what has been done under difficult conditions, it shares the disappointment of many bishops and missionaries that funds were not available for the erection of buildings upon which they had been depending for the better equipment and furtherance of the work in various fields.

Of the total received in 1932:

$57,251.45 was for projects in the Advance Work Program of 1929-31.

$18,523.17 was for projects in the Advance Work Program of 1932-34.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

The Department is grateful for the continued and efficient co-operation of the Woman's Auxiliary branches, both parochial and diocesan. They have made special gifts without which much good work could never have been accomplished. The Supply Department has continued to render its invaluable aid to hospitals and institutions and the missionary clergy, especially in the continental domestic fields. Through appropriations from the United Thank Offering the Department has been able to maintain eighty-four women in the over-seas work. From the same source have come retiring allowances for forty women, who, because of age or ill health, have been obliged to give up their work. During 1932 the United Thank Offering provided tuition fees for five prospective workers for service abroad while in training in this country.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LENTEN OFFERING

It was inevitable that the unfortunate economic conditions should be reflected in the Lenten and Easter Offerings of the Church schools. The total received was $349,546. This is a decrease of $77,216, as compared with 1931, and of $158,343, as compared with 1930.

It is increasingly evident that steps should be taken to provide that the entire amount of the Church School Lenten Offerings should go to the general missionary work of the Church. Under present plans a large proportion of the offering, in some cases, more than fifty per cent, is used for the support of diocesan work.

CHURCH BUILDING FUND COMMISSION

Although in common with other agencies the Church Building Fund Commission has felt the pressure of economic conditions, it has continued to render in 1932, as in previous years, steady and effective service in supplementing amounts secured from other sources towards the cost of important Church projects, by gifts from its income account. With the help of the Commission, several enterprises have been carried to successful conclusion, that otherwise would have been seriously delayed or abandoned entirely.

OTHER HELPERS

From the Girls' Friendly Society, Young People's Fellowships, especially in the Province of Sewanee, Daughters of the King, Church Periodical Club and other agencies has come valuable help in meeting the budget, providing for Advance Work projects and helping in special purposes.

LITERATURE FOR THE BLIND

In spite of the largely reduced appropriations, the Committee on Literature for the Blind has maintained its work, especially in the publication of the Church Herald for the Blind. The smaller income has limited its output of books and pamphlets. Such work as has been done in this connection has been made possible through greatly appreciated special gifts of money, as well as of time generously given by hand-transcribers of the Braille system. The Helen Keller Chapter of St. Paul's Church, Chattanooga, Tennessee, made and gave Christmas and Easter greeting cards, which were sent to all blind friends on the committee's mailing list. A gift from the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Massachusetts made possible the publication of a book Discipleship—as memorial to the late Miss Abby Rand Loring, one of the founders of the Massachusetts branch. It is a compilation from the leaflets of the class in personal religion of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, Boston.

LAYMEN'S FOREIGN MISSIONS INQUIRY

One of the important events in the missionary history of 1932, was the publication of the report of the Laymen's Foreign Missions Inquiry. The reasons for the inquiry need not be discussed here. Suffice it to say that few if any other forms of Christian work have been subjected to such frequent scrutiny as has the missionary work, carried on in the non-Christian world, by the various Christian communions.

Although the report of the Appraisal Commission contained numerous criticisms and recommendations, the Commission stated at the outset of its report that to ask whether foreign mission work should continue "is somewhat like asking whether goodwill should continue or cease to express itself. . . . That these missions should go on, with whatever changes, we regard therefore as beyond serious question."

With some of the conclusions and recommendations of the report there will be general agreement. Most of them have to do with plans and policies which this Church has for many years consistently followed in the maintenance and development of its mission work. Among them are:

1. The contribution of missions to international goodwill.
2. The importance of developing the capacity of self-government and self-support and self-propagation.
3. Emphasis on the necessity for a missionary personnel characterized by lofty purpose and by high quality.
4. The importance of the work of women of Christian lands for the women of non-Christian lands.
5. The wisdom of placing responsibility for management and extension of missionary enterprises, as rapidly as possible upon the people of the country.
6. The importance of all right and practicable efforts for the improvement of social conditions, especially those having to do with family and home life.

These and other proposals have been the deliberate policy of this Church. In fact, all of the major missionary agencies have for many years had as their aim practically all of the constructive suggestions of the report and have been working towards them as rapidly as circumstances have permitted.

There are, however, features of the report with which there must be frank disagreement. This is felt by many people in this country, not officially connected with any missionary agency. It is more strongly felt by those who have responsibility for administration and by missionaries, whose long service qualifies them to speak as experts.

Some of the features in which it is felt the report to be deficient are:

1. The statement of the motive for and conduct of Christian Missions.
2. Its unfortunate theological basis, which seems to regard the Christian religion as simply one of the world religious philosophies and which regards our Lord as merely one of the world's religious teachers.
3. Its inadequate conception of the Christian Church and its disparagement of the aim of most missionary efforts to create a self-governing, self-propagating and self-supporting Christian Church in the lands where work is carried on.
4. Its unfair estimate of missionary personnel in India, China and Japan, the three fields visited by "Fact Finders" and Appraisal Commission.
5. Its insistence that conscious and direct evangelism should not be included in the purpose and the work of Christian schools and hospitals.
6. The proposal that the home administration of missionary work should be handed over to a body, representative of various mission boards, with officers who would be "salaried specialists", and "field directors", as supervisors who would "take the initiative in new and experimental projects." Under this plan the denominational mission boards would become educational and collection agencies for the promotion of foreign missions among congregations in America, while the funds for the work would go into the hands of the proposed union administrative body.

DIFFICULT CONDITIONS

In spite of difficulties arising from economic conditions, the resulting widespread fear and consequent continued decrease in missionary support, the long line of the Church's mission work has been held without any permanent break. In some fields real progress has been made in the face of adverse circumstances. This is especially notable in China, Japan and Brazil. In all of these fields there has been marked readiness to receive the Church's teaching.

There has been no expansion in 1932. No new enterprises have been established. Almost everywhere, however, there has been consolidation and strengthening of existing work. In most of the fields the greatest handicap has been the lack of sufficient number of workers. This is due in part to the failure of young men and women to volunteer for service, either because of a lack of personal conviction or because of the assumption that, under present conditions, offers of service would not be accepted, even if made. A condition but little less ominous was produced by the heavy cut in the appropriations for existing work.

The cuts in appropriations made necessary by the unprecedented decline in income from living donors brought dismay and hardship to numbers of the missionary staff, American and Native, in all parts of the world. While there have been many instances of sacrificial giving on the part of our people, yet the fact remains that in 1932 the per capita gift of our 1,300,000 communicant members, for domestic and foreign missions, for religious education and all other activities of the National Council was less than four cents a week.

IN CONCLUSION

Under present economic conditions the so-called "Pay-As-You-Go" plan, first adopted by the General Convention of 1925, has brought many disappointments and much hardship to the mission staff, both native and foreign. In some instances, it has meant the shutting down of needed work. In 1932, it meant the reduction of salaries, none too large at best. So far, it is true, it has had the good result of preventing deficits. This was in accordance with the expressed desire of the New Orleans and subsequent conventions. But to accomplish this, not only have salaries been reduced and work closed, but the use of the Undesignated Legacies has been required. A survey of the present situation indicates clearly that the plan has had damaging results which, it seems certain, the conventions neither planned nor contemplated.

The apostle of Christ in the twentieth century may truly echo the words of St. Paul: "A great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries." The modern missionary, like the great Apostle, is not fearful of adversaries and is determined to carry on. Indifference will not chill his ardor. Difficulties will not turn him back. Reduced support will not undermine his courage. Obstacles will become invitations to greater zeal and deeper faith. The attitude of our mission staff abroad is a constant inspiration to the members and officers of the Department. We thank God for their courage and we pray that throughout the Church our people may emulate their example.

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF ALASKA

The Missionary District of Alaska includes the whole of the Territory of Alaska, an area of 591,000 square miles, purchased from Russia in 1867. Its population consisting of Eskimos, Indians of many tribes and tongues, and of white people, is 59,278. The first mission was established in 1887 and it was created a missionary district by the General Convention in the year 1895. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Peter Trimble Rowe, D.D., consecrated November 30, 1895. The Suffragan Bishop is the Rt. Rev. John Boyd Bentley, consecrated September 29, 1931.

The appropriation for 1932 is as follows: Work for white people, $17,850; for Indians and Eskimo, $64,390; for miscellaneous items, $7,000; total, $89,240. The appropriation aids in maintaining work in 32 stations.

MISSIONARY STAFF.—Bishops 2; Priests (foreign 11, native 1), 12; Deacons (foreign 2, native 2), 4; Women Workers: Deaconesses 2; Nurses 9; Teachers, etc. 10; Lay Readers 11.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

THIS report is the thirty-eighth, which, in God's gracious providence, I am able to make. I am duly conscious of the fact. It is a great privilege and honor. Thirty-eight years of God's protection, help and guidance! "What shall I render for all His benefits?" I will take His gifts, His grace, with thankfulness. I owe a world of gratitude to the National Council and its efficient officers, to the Woman's Auxiliary, and innumerable friends, for help and cheer, without which my labors would have been in vain. I thank God for all who have been co-workers with me. Through all these years God has blessed me with such help. I might have done more, on behalf of my fellowmen and God's work, in humility I realize that. But I pray, that, imperfect though my work has been, God may bless it as seed for a harvest acceptable unto Him.

The first part of this year was spent in various sections of the United States. I went especially to consult the heads of the Government Departments in Washington on matters concerning the natives of Alaska. This was very satisfactory. The officials were courteous, considerate and gave me all that I wanted. Then I talked "Missions" in many places. I attended the Provincial Synod held in Sacramento; the meeting of the House of Bishops in Garden City, and addressed the annual meeting of the Chicago Church Club. It was work, but very cheering. I am grateful to the kindness extended me by all and every one.

Sitka

Early in May I left for Sitka. There I addressed the graduates of the high school. At the same time the German battleship, Karlsruhe, was in the harbor. I met the captain and officers, they came to Church, accompanied by their band. At this service we had a celebration of the Holy Communion and Confirmation. The Germans expressed their feeling of interest and pleasure. It was a "high day" in Sitka. In the afternoon, I had a Baptismal service, ten were baptized. Mrs. Molineux is doing a wonderful work here.

After a week at Sitka, I took the steamer for Wrangell. I wanted to go to Juneau, but one has to adjust his time and his destination by the schedule of the steamers.

Wrangell

Wrangell is one of our earliest points of contact in Alaska. It was the center of Indian life—the largest. It has a high place in the history of the Indians. It is also a beautiful place, a bay with islands rained down on its lovely waters. The Indian character of the place has almost disappeared, the Indians there are few. Nature has not changed, but human life has. I was surprised to be met by several who traveled on the same trails with me on the Yukon, and it was interesting. Wrangell does not grow, yet it has grown somewhat in the past. St. Philip's Mission here is interesting. It began as an offshoot of the Presbyterian Mission. The pastor invited us to take him and his flock under our shepherding care. We did so, and now we have here a church, a club room, and a hospital. Our plant is all that you could desire. Like other places, it is difficult to maintain it. The Government has built at great expense a school for 250 native children. This will mean work for the missionary in Wrangell to minister to them. The rector was away on sick leave at the time of my visit. He has been wonderful in his work, especially for the young, and is dearly loved by all.

Juneau and Douglas Island

From Wrangell I sailed to Juneau. Here is the Capital of Alaska, if that means anything. Juneau is fortunate in these desperate times. It is the center of the federal officials, who draw government salaries. A successful gold mine, employing 550 men, is also here. Such a pay roll means a great deal to Juneau. Just across the channel is Douglas Island, where the great Treadwell mine operated with wonderful dividends for years. The mine collapsed; so Douglas is a place with but few residents. Juneau, however, is a capital city. It is growing, yet it has only about 5,000 people. Here and in Douglas our Church equipment is adequate and good. The rectory in Juneau is old, and should be replaced. The dean, Rev. Chas. E. Rice, ministers most acceptably to Juneau and Douglas Island, and makes occasional visits to Skagway, Haines and Chilkoot Barracks. My visits here are always delightful. Owing to circumstances, I passed through Juneau six times this year, though making but two visits.

Ketchikan

From Juneau I sailed for Ketchikan. The economic conditions here were bad. The commercial business of Ketchikan is chiefly the fish industry, and fish brought no price this year. Business is poor and money is scarce. In this town of 5,000 people we have two congregations, a white and an Indian. We began work here in 1897, when it was a small community of Indians. We were the first and only church in the place. In the course of time white people began to center here. The one church served for both races. Then conditions compelled me to give the Indians a church for themselves. It has worked out satisfactorily. So now, we have two churches and both are creditable to us. Each has a fine parish house in the basement of the church. St. John's, the church for the white people, has for its rector the Rev. Mark T. Carpenter, and he is most successful. His work among, and for, young people is a special feature. The Rev. Paul Mather, priest of St. Elizabeth's Church, a Tsimpshian Indian, is equally successful. From far and near the Indians are being drawn into membership in his church. Between the two, our church holds the primary position in Ketchikan, the respect and admiration of the people. Inspiring services were held in each and Confirmations held on another visit which was made in November. All is well here and encouraging.

Cordova and Valdez

From Ketchikan I sailed for Valdez, passing again through Wrangell and Juneau. Valdez is the headquarters of the Second Judicial District. Its population has decreased in recent years. Lately it has revived somewhat on account of the truck and auto business with Fairbanks, 450 miles away. It is a mineral district, has prospects and hopes. It is served by the missionary at Cordova. We have a church, club room and rectory. A devoted Churchwoman continues an auxiliary. I had encouraging services. Then I left for Cordova where the Rev. M. L. Wanner is the missionary. Cordova is the headquarters of the Copper River Railroad, but the railroad is suspended owing to the low price of copper. The Kennicott mine, which fed the railroad, is closed for the present. The fish industry, upon which Cordova depends in part, is also suspended. So Cordova is economically in a bad way. The Church is affected by all this. What can the Church do in these places when business is bad, and the population on the decrease? Services were held with a large attendance. From here I went on to Anchorage.

To the Arctic by Airplane

Arriving in Anchorage July 9, and learning that an airplane was to leave for Nome the next day, I decided to take it. As the "crow flies" it is a trip of 800 miles. We flew across Cook's Inlet, through a Pass of the Alaska Range, and not far from Mount Denali, or McKinley, over a vast territory, practically uninhabited, serried with rivers and lakes, and landed at Unakleet, then at Nome. The flying time was seven hours. In past years by dogs and hard traveling the trip took two months. On the way we dodged a violent storm crossing the mountains and for forty minutes flew over a sea of smoke, nothing visible but the smoke beneath us. As the same plane was to leave in two days for Point Hope, the Arctic, I decided to go on. Otherwise I would have had to wait three weeks in Nome. The plane was owned and used by the company now engaged in getting Arctic pictures for the "Eskimo" film. Flying north over the Sawtooth Mountains, we landed at Deering, Kotzebue, and at Point Hope, a flight of 500 miles. My early arrival was a surprise to Archdeacon Goodman, the missionary-in-charge.

Point Hope-Tigara

Point Hope looked "Arctic." The ocean was ice covered, though some "leads" could be seen. The sun was powerful and evident at midnight as at midday. The Archdeacon was well, but the people were suffering from a mild "flu." Their condition was as usual. When food supplies fail through a short catch of whales, walrus and seals, the mission helps them out. Through the generous mission supplies furnished by the Woman's Auxiliary, the mission is able to outfit the children, thus enabling them to attend school. Fuel is a scarce thing. They depend, largely, on the driftwood cast up on the beach. It is pathetic to see how they salvage every piece, little or big. The fur catch of foxes varies each season. As a background and help there are the reindeer. The mission buildings are fine, adequate, and kept in perfect condition, and this is due to the care given by the Archdeacon. All who see them, sing their praise.

For three weeks I was here. The services were most interesting. All the people attend, they love to do so. They enter into the services heartily and unitedly. In their poverty they excel congregations who have more means and more advantages. All would be amazed, if they knew of their devotion, their sacrifices. On this visit I confirmed twelve.

Trip to the North of Point Hope

On August 1, the U. S. Cutter, "Northland," arrived at Point Hope. With the Archdeacon, I went on board. We sailed north, and though the cutter sought "leads" through the ice floe, again and again we had to turn back. The Arctic ice had to be respected. However, after days of bucking ice we made Icy Cape, then Point Lay, then Cape Wainwright, and finally Point Barrow, the top of the continent. At each place the Eskimo people were visited. The Archdeacon baptized seventeen, and married two couples. We have members in each place. At Point Barrow, the Hudson Bay steamer, "Baychimo," which had been abandoned last October, drifted within sight. The Eskimos boarded her and salvaged the skins on her. She probably is still drifting, a sort of phantom ship. We had hoped to round Point Barrow and sail east to Demarcation Point, but the ice field prevented. On the way back another visit was made to each of the villages along the Arctic Coast. At Point Hope the Archdeacon was landed, to my regret, and we sailed on southward.

Kivalina

One hundred miles south of Point Hope we anchored off the Eskimo village, Kivalina. The Bureau of Indian Affairs has a school there. One of our trained Point Hope Eskimo boys, Tony Joule, has been the teacher at this school. He has held services and prepared people for Confirmation. To my disappointment he was not there when I arrived, as the Bureau had transferred him to Buckland River. There is also a large reindeer herd at Kivalina.

My visit here is an illustration of my visits at other places. The doctor on the ship and his assistants, the dentist and his assistants, and myself, went ashore. All the people were expecting us. The school building was used for clinic and for services. While the doctor examined the people, made blood tests, and had tonsil operations, the dentist performed operations, while at the same time I held services. I confirmed sixteen men and women who had been prepared by Tony Joule. This gives some idea, too, of the service done for the natives by the Government through the Cutter. No words can tell my appreciation of such splendid service. The Eskimos of this place petitioned the Church to give them a clergyman. The National Council was in sympathy, but unable to do anything. What an opportunity for some layman to do this, build a church, support a priest.

Sailing south from Kivalina, the ship anchored sixteen miles off from Kotzebue, a village of 400 Eskimos. There are four trading stores here. The Friends have had a mission at this place for over thirty years. Some three years ago the Roman Church opened a mission. It began disastrously. The plane carrying the head priest of the Jesuit Society in Alaska and the young missionary, crashed and they were killed, so was the aviator. The mission, however, is continued. Four large rivers, flowing from different points of the compass, enter the sea at this point. The Bureau of Indian Affairs has a school and a hospital here also. In the years gone by, Kotzebue was a sort of clearing house. Eskimos came from all points and even from Siberia to trade with one another. From this point, 250 miles up the Kobuck, we began a mission at Shungnak. As we could not finance a worker, we were obliged to close it. We have communicants there now. What could we not have done among the Eskimos if we had only had the means and the workers!

Continuing the cruise we visited Deering, Shishmaref, Diomed Island, Cape Prince of Wales, Teller, King Island, and anchored off Nome August 28. Here I left the Cutter after being on board of her twenty-eight days, most grateful to her skillful commander, Capt. Parker, his officers and crew, for so many courtesies and kind assistance.

Nome

Nome is a very small camp these days. But as promising quartz prospects are being discovered, there is the expectation that some day it will be come again what it was in 1900-1910. Very few of the old-timers are left. I had a happy visit, held services, addressed an active Church ladies' guild, and again flew by plane to Anchorage, calling on the way at several places on the Kuskokwin River, a very interesting trip, and landed safely in Anchorage September 4.

Anchorage

This town seemed busy in spite of the depression. It has made no growth for several years, but it will grow I am sure. It is the center of a section where gold mining is progressing, where coal deposits are large and where agriculture has been proved feasible and successful. In Church equipment we are well prepared for any development or increase in population. The church is attractive, with a fine basement fitted and suited for a parish house. The rectory is equally good. The ladies' guild under Mrs. A. H. McDonald is alive, and deeply interested. The missionary has been away on furlough since January 1. In addition to the services held, I had encouraging meetings with the guild and the Trustees of the Church. The missionary-in-charge returned, after my visit, but left again in November. In spring I hope to have another one in charge.

Seward

My next visit was to Seward where services were held and the people visited. Here we have a fine church, rectory, but very few people. The town depends upon the people who pass through it for business. It does not grow, has not much business, which is a pity, for it is a beautiful site for a town. Even so, there are promises of mining activity near it which may bring to it business and more people.

From Seward I sailed to Juneau, calling at Valdez and Cordova. As it was not possible to go by steamer for twelve days to Chilkoot Barracks, I used a plane. Dean Rice and I flew, but as landing was impossible we returned to Juneau and tried it again the next day, with success. The commanding officer of Chilkoot Barracks, Col. Miller, who with his wife are communicants, entertained us. More than that, he arranged for us to hold services, including a celebration of the Holy Communion at the Post. Service was held in the evening at Haines, which adjoins the Barracks. Late the same evening we availed ourselves of a steamer and went to Skagway, where calls were made on many and services held in St. Saviour's Church. We returned to Juneau, where on Sunday services were held in Juneau and on Douglas Island. Then I left for Seattle, but on November 5, returned to Wrangell where, after a visit of two weeks, I left for Ketchikan and had an encouraging visit of a few days, confirming candidates in St. John's and St. Elizabeth's Churches.

School Work

Christ Church School, Anvik, our first and oldest institution, founded and carried on faithfully by the Rev. Dr. J. W. Chapman, for forty years, continues its beneficent work. It cares for thirty-eight native children, most of them orphans. What a blessed work! Surely it is worth while to give these "little ones," with all their potential possibilities, an opportunity to prepare for life and live it as our blessed Lord wills them.

St. Mark's, Nenana, is another school similar to the one at Anvik. The late and beloved Rev. Chas. E. Betticher is entitled to the credit of creating this school. Miss Annie C. Farthing, of sainted memory, began it and gave her life for it. This fine school has about forty children. The school and staff are all that could be desired. The results of its work are unseen, as the "leaven in the meal," but all the same, effective.

St. Stephen's, Fort Yukon, is different from the above. It is a home for the discharged children from the hospital, many of them being orphans or semi-orphans. It is the work of Mrs. Grafton Burke, who is responsible for its maintenance. She homes the children and they go to the school of the Bureau of Indian Affairs. It is conducted and carried on by love and because of the compelling need.

Then in our missions of Tanana Crossing, Tanana, Tigara, Kivalina, St. John's-in-the-Wilderness, Eagle, the educational work among native children goes on, though with the exception of St. John's, the teachers are paid by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Hospitals

Among our hospitals is the Hudson Stuck Memorial at Fort Yukon. This is chiefly for the natives, though traders, trappers, miners, without respect of class or creed, are treated in it. It is absolutely philanthropic. The Church supports it. The natives can pay no fees, but donations of game are accepted. Any gifts from the white patients are voluntary. Like the natives, they are poor and could not possibly pay the charges as made in hospitals generally. It is a work that commands the admiration of all who see and know it, a glorious witness to all of the Christ spirit and love.

At the Hudson Stuck Memorial Hospital we have 1 Physician and 4 Nurses. During the year there were 134 In-Patients and 94 Dispensary Patients. Number of patients: Medical 76, Surgical 58, X-rays 71, Clinic visits 2,354 and Cabin visits 379.

The Wrangell General Hospital is what its name indicates. It is for Indian and white people. Fees are charged in this hospital, but whether patients can pay or not, none are refused. The indigents are in the majority, so it is difficult to carry on, however blessed its work is. The town of Wrangell is supposed to maintain it. The Church is not responsible, but I feel that I am to some extent.

The Augustus Hoare Memorial at Tigara is completed but not in active operation. We cannot get the staff, nor have we the means.

Dispensary work is carried on at all of the other native missions.

Building Work

Construction of the Dormitory at Anvik has been going on, despite shortness of funds, and was expected to be ready for occupancy in November. It has been sorely needed. Begun three years ago, the work was retarded by few laborers, shortness of the season for work, and lack of funds. It is a relief and joy that such a good and necessary work is to be accomplished.

At Anchorage, $7,000 were spent in raising All Saints' Church, and building a basement underneath it, in this way a parish house was created without the expense of building and maintaining two separate buildings. Also, a new foundation was laid for the rectory and rebuilt, and combined with the church, thus the whole functioning as one plant.

Fort Yukon mission is being re-furnished with a new heating plant, which will help reduce fuel expenses. An addition is built to the mission building as a help to Mrs. Burke's care for the children.

In all this building, I am grateful to the Church Building Commission for its generous aid.

Official Acts

Travelled during the year approximately 21,000 miles, Services held 570, Celebrations 54, Confirmations 71, Confirmations by Bishop Bentley 50, Total Confirmations 121; Baptisms 25, Baptisms by Bishop Bentley 54, Total Baptisms 79, Marriages 2, Budget Quota for 1932 $1,500.00, Expectations Pay—1932 $1,500.00, Paid on "Expectations" $1,667.29.

P. T. ROWE,

REPORT OF THE SUFFRAGAN BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

UNDER the direction of the Bishop of the Missionary District the Suffragan Bishop is charged with the care and oversight of the missions of the Interior of Alaska.

The Suffragan Bishop has made his residence at St. Mark's Mission, Nenana, Alaska.

The following stations have been visited this year: St. Paul's, Eagle; St. Mark's, Nenana; Our Saviour, Tanana; St. Barnabas', Minto; Christ Church, Anvik; All Saints', Anchorage; St. Matthew's, Fairbanks; St. Stephen's, Ft. Yukon; St. John's-in-the-Wilderness, Allakaket.

During the summer of 1932 the Suffragan Bishop traveled more than five thousand miles on the Yukon, Tanana and Koyukuk Rivers, visiting our mission stations and conducting services at towns, villages and camps along the way. Four thousand miles of this journey was made on the mission boat Pelican IV. The remainder of the trip was made by river steamer. On this long cruise the Pelican IV was used to carry freight from the railroad at Nenana nine hundred miles to our station at Allakaket. Seven workers were transported to or from their posts on this launch. At the same time a nurse, a member of the mission staff, traveled on the boat and ministered to the physical needs of the people along the rivers.

Many changes in the staff personnel of the Interior missions have taken place in 1932.

Five workers were retired from the field.

Three workers left the field on furlough.

Three workers were transferred from station to station in the field.

Seven workers returned to the field from furlough.

Three new workers arrived in the field.

Three young laymen arrived in the field as volunteer workers for one year without salary.

The Suffragan Bishop reports the following official acts: Baptisms 54, Confirmations 50, Marriages 5, Burials 14, Ordinations 1, (see below).

On the Feast of St. Michael and All Angels, Miss Anne Kathleen Thompson was ordained a deaconess in the Church of God. The service took place at St. Mark's, Nenana.

Financial Statement:

Salary received 1932.....	$3,060.00
Freight allowance.....	100.00
Travel expense.....	500.00
Launch expense.....	700.00
Companion	480.00

In addition to those items listed above the Suffragan Bishop received from the National Council a special appropriation of $500 to help meet extra launch expenses for the summer of 1932; and, from the American Church Building Fund Commission he received a grant of $1,000 for the building of the Bishop's Lodge at Nenana.

The Suffragan Bishop maintains a special account in which he deposits all contributions for the work in Alaska received from all sources, exclusive of the regular appropriations of the National Council, and from which account he draws funds to meet special needs in the field. He makes the following report concerning this account:

Amount on hand January 1, 1932.....	$ 7.08
Received during the year	2,508.07
Expended during the year	$2,509.22
Amount on hand December 31st.....	5.93
Totals	$2,515.15 $2,515.15

In submitting this, his first annual report, the Suffragan Bishop desires to express his deepest gratitude and appreciation to:

The Bishop of this Missionary District, who in all things and at all times has encouraged and supported him;

The splendid corps of workers, members of the staff of the Alaska Mission, who in the face of difficulties and discouragements have upheld the noblest traditions of Christian missionary endeavor;

The National Council and all those officials at the Church Missions House who have shown a broad sympathy and understanding and have given every possible aid to the work in this field;

Our friends throughout the Church at home, who in a time of great stress and deprivation have, at the cost of much real sacrifice, supported the work in Alaska; and to

The people of Alaska, both white and native, those within, and those without the Church, who at all times and in all places have been hospitable, kind and generous.

For these things we can thank God.

Because the Church is Christ's Body and because Christ cannot fail, we can go forward with the assurance that victory is inevitable.

JOHN B. BENTLEY,

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF HONOLULU

The Missionary District of Honolulu includes the Hawaiian Islands, consisting of Niihau, Oahu, Maui, Lanai, Hawaii and the smaller islands. It also includes Midway; and, in addition, the American Islands of the Samoan group Tutuila, Olusinga, Manua, Ofu, and Rose. It has an area of 6,449 square miles. Population (Hawaii only) 368,366. The district within its present bounds was established by the General Convention in the year 1901. On April 1, 1902 the Bishop of California, acting for the Presiding Bishop, took over from the Church of England its entire work and property valued at $101,000. The Samoan Islands were added in 1904. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. S. Harrington Littell, S.T.D., consecrated February 27, 1930.

The appropriation for 1932 is $49,053.59. The appropriation aids in maintaining work in 34 stations.

MISSIONARY STAFF (1931).—Bishop 1; Priests (foreign 19, Hawaiian and Oriental 4), 23; Deacons (Hawaiian and Oriental) 1; Deaconesses 1; Candidates for Holy Orders 6; Teachers (foreign men 8, women 28; Hawaiian and Oriental: men 4, women 11), 51; Other Evangelistic Workers (foreign 7, Hawaiian and Oriental 3), 10.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

WE have come through the past year by the Grace of God with obvious evidences of His goodness and blessing upon us, as we have tried to carry on His work under His guidance. Vacancies in the staff of workers have been filled and additional missionaries added. We have lost one clergyman by removal and have added four, two by ordination and two by transfer. We have three theological students in mainland seminaries, and one candidate and three postulants who have not yet begun their immediate study for the ministry. We have added a deaconess and two more Church Army evangelists. Church Army officers number five now, and have expanded their work so as to take in the Island of Kauai in addition to Hawaii where they have laid strong foundations in the past two years.

We will review the work briefly under the divisions: Medical, Educational, Evangelistic, Financial.

Medical

We have continued to co-operate with Palama Settlement, the central health agency of the district, in four of our missions, where the Settlement has carried on clinics and conferences for mothers and children. Our only medical work in addition to this is the Robert W. Shingle, Jr. Memorial Hospital at Hoolehua, Molokai, which has been in operation for ten months. There were many difficulties to overcome in getting started, but the work done has proved of incalculable value to the people of the island. The communities served by the hospital are small but none the less in need of hospital service all the year round, especially at the time of harvest, when emergencies frequently occur, particularly in the form of accidents in the pineapple fields. A hundred patients have been received into the hospital, and six hundred treated as out-patients during the ten months. The multitude of gifts from all over the Islands, to help furnish and equip the hospital and the nurses' home, bear witness to the widespread interest and appreciation of its work. The services of two local government doctors have been given without charge. The treasurer, who is also business manager, serves without remuneration. The County Supervisors contributed $300 a month beginning with July 1. The Molokai Ranch and a Honolulu trust fund have contributed throughout the year $150 and $100 a month respectively. Adding hospital fees received, we have been able to meet monthly running expenses without deficit. We still need funds to complete payments on the nurses' home, and for necessary instruments for which the Bishop was responsible, and also an additional ward for emergency cases.

The hospital has been the means of opening two missions on the Island of Molokai, where the Church had no work before Senator and Mrs. Shingle presented the memorial building to the Church. One of these missions is at Mauna Loa, eighteen miles away at Libby's Plantation camp, where promising Japanese work is being carried on. Since January 1932, on the Island of Molokai, in the hospital Chapel of the Holy Cross, and at St. Paul's Mission, Mauna Loa, there have been altogether thirty-three Baptisms and six Confirmations. In addition four persons in Honolulu have been baptized at St. Andrew's Hawaiian Congregation through a patient who was treated in the hospital.

We have no interest in maintaining and developing schools under the Church unless they definitely contribute what non-Church schools do not and cannot contribute, namely a clear-cut Christian foundation to all branches of learning; a training in the life of the spirit as fundamental to the healthful life of the mind and body as well; and emphatic emphasis without apology on the sane and long-sanctioned standards of truth and worship, and daily living found in the Anglican Communion. If any special problems were presented by the schools at St. Mary's, St. Elizabeth's, St. Andrew's Priory, the Cathedral Japanese and our kindergartens, I would dwell upon these institutions; but as they are continuing in their effective work smoothly, I will pass at once to the particular consideration of Iolani, our leading boarding and day school for boys. This is one of the most necessary and effective of our present Church centers, and also the one outstanding problem of our Missionary District. In the complete reorganization of the school, Rev. Albert H. Stone has put Iolani on a new basis. A Board of Directors has been formed which has accepted and put into operation the following statement of the purpose of the school: "Iolani School is a Church school for boys founded and operated by the Episcopal Church for the purpose of ministering in the fullest measure to the spiritual, intellectual and physical life of its pupils, and of developing in them to the highest possible degree the religious and moral aspects of life, to the end that they may serve the highest aims of the Church and of society." The present enrollment, which is slightly larger than the number of last year, shows that a school on such a basis of definite Church teaching and religion is highly appreciated in the Islands, because the pupils of the different races are now representative of all the classes of people which the Church includes, and by the fact that the boarding department has filled up almost to capacity in the first semester under the new regime.

Six men, recent graduates of mainland colleges, have joined the staff, and a new spirit of interest and effectiveness has been aroused. Two teachers and twelve pupils have been confirmed during the year, and two other teachers have been accepted as postulants for Holy Orders, one having entered the Seminary at Alexandria in September. Mr. Stone is keeping the school well within its budget, and for the first time in years there is no deficit in running expenses.

Three years ago there was a debt on the property for purchase of land and erection of temporary buildings amounting to $100,000. The entire indebtedness of the school at present amounts to $75,000, and on this sum we are paying 6% interest, as we have done since the property was bought by Bishop La Monthe five years ago. The outstanding need for the Church in these Islands at this time is to remove this debt, and thus to set free not only the school but also the diocese from the one financial drain which weighs so heavily upon the Bishop and the Church Corporation.

Evangelistic

The most effective method of sharing and spreading Christian faith is by living it. "We defend religion too much. Vital religion, like good music, needs no defense but rendition. A wrangling controversy in support of religion is precisely as if the members of an orchestra should beat folk over the head with their violins to prove that music is beautiful. But such procedure is no way to prove that music is beautiful. Play it!" A hasty résumé of our evangelistic work for 1932, shows two missions organized, and two new unorganized missions opened; the completion and dedication of St. Andrew's Memorial Buildings with the superb Parke Memorial Chapel; the Tenney Auditorium, Von Holt Kindergarten, with class rooms, offices and other necessary features of a well equipped parish house; large growth in the work on plantations and rural districts under the Church Army, among the people of half a dozen racial ancestries; the spread of religious education through weekday Bible classes which have deeply interested the city, resulting in a course of religious instruction at Puna-hou School which 125 pupils are taking, and in an increasing demand for classes among young people out of school hours; the readiness of the clergy and vestries in both of the cathedral congregations, namely St. Andrew's Parish and St. Andrew's Hawaiian, to consider the subject of uniting; the effective ministrations of our missionary at large and of one of the Sisters of the Transfiguration in hospitals, public institutions and Homes; a good start in planning the Every Member Canvass upon a diocesan scale, and the actual operation of the Canvass successfully in a number of missions for the first time; the completion of a hundred years' work for merchant seamen of many nationalities in the Seamen's Church Institute which broke its records in 1932 both for attendance which totaled 25,500, and in the income from the rental of beds; the increasing fellowship among Church workers and other members in general throughout the Islands.

Baptisms	360
Total Number of Baptized Persons	6,392
Confirmations	241
Total Number of Communicants	3,443
Ordinations	3
Deposition	1
Sunday School Children.....	2,817
Sunday School Teachers.....	204
Total Offerings from all Sources within the District..	$72,372.25

Financial

No bishop has received greater help from able laymen than I have received through the Board of Directors, the diocesan auditors and others during the past year. Apart from the serious debt on Iolani School, the Church finances are in satisfactory condition, Our Apportionment for the National Council was $5,500 and we expected to pay $6,000. Our final payment brought the total actually sent to New York, to $5,552. Two congregations, namely St. Clement's, Honolulu, and Holy Apostles', Hilo, have met their Apportionments in full for the first time. Our endowment funds during the year increased by $4,425. The Fund for the Endowment of the Episcopate in this district now equals $9,595.95. An outstanding need of the district is for substantial endowments for Iolani and St. Andrew's Priory. We should build up endowment funds for five Church cemeteries throughout the Islands, and for the Hawaiian Church Chronicle.

During the year two well located pieces of land have been given to the Church for new missions, in connection with All Saints' Church, Kapaa, on the Island of Kauai; and at Hilo the Hawaiian Homes Commission has given the Church two corner lots at Keaukaha for the new mission among Hawaiians started there during the year.

In all our administrative work our efforts must be directed obviously towards problems of Ways and Means, but even more consciously to Ends and Values.

I cannot end this report without mentioning the losses from the Church militant by the death of some of our oldest and most faithful Christians. The list is a long one and I will mention only some of those among the Hawaiians whose faces we miss in our congregations: Kualii Hore; Princess Kalaniana'ole (Mrs. Frank Woods), last member by birth of the old royal family; Annie Ellen Copp; Rudolph M. Duncan; Josephine Boyd Keave and Mrs. Edgar Henriques, all of St. Andrew's Hawaiian Congregation; also William K. Kaluakini of Lahaina; Mrs. George Weight, Sr. of Wailuku, and Dr. A. Kaumu Hanchett of Molokai. It is in such persons and in the lives of others whom we recall "who having finished their course in faith do now rest from their labors," that the real, effective, and enduring work for the Church is shown. Our real fruits during the year of which we report are in the strength, in the faith, in the increased zeal, in the widening vision, and in the spiritual power which have come to our people in the Hawaiian Islands.

THE PANAMA CANAL ZONE

The Panama Mission includes primarily that part of the Republic of Panama, political sovereignty over which was secured through purchase by the United States Government, and commonly known as the Canal Zone. It is about fifty miles long and about ten miles wide. It also includes the cities of Panama and Colon, besides that part of the Republic of Panama lying South of the southern boundary of the Zone, and that part of the Republic of Colombia included within the jurisdiction of the Bishop of British Honduras prior to March, 1906. The Bishop-in-charge is the Rt. Rev. Harry Roberts Carson, D.D., consecrated January 10, 1923.

The appropriation for 1932 is $19,138. The appropriation aids in maintaining work in 17 stations.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

I HAVE the honor to submit herewith, in addition to the statistical matter appended, my report as Bishop-in-charge of the Panama Canal Zone Missionary District, for the year ending, December 31, 1932.

I have made two visitations to the field, one in May and one in November, also for a third time for the burial of a member of my family.

The vacancy at the Cathedral of St. Luke, Ancon, has been filled by the election of the Rev. Samuel Austin Wragg who was instituted by me on Trinity Sunday last. The important work which centers about the cathedral has taken on a new lease of life and the future is full of promise notwithstanding the financial anxieties of the Dean and Chapter.

The Rev. Thomas L. Brown retired from the field after a year's service and he has been replaced by the Rev. Robert W. Jackson, formerly of the Diocese of Tennessee. Mr. Jackson begins his work very happily and I hope he may be long associated with the field. To his principal charge of an American congregation, he adds oversight of St. George's Church, Gatun, besides being ready to take any work that may be assigned to him as a missionary of the department.

The matter of a Church building exclusively for a white congregation at New Cristobal has been reconsidered and with the approval of the Department of Missions, already given, steps will be taken for the erection of a parish house which will afford the facilities needed by this particular group.

The church at Las Cascades, the Rev. John T. Mulcare, missionary, has been demolished and erected afresh on the other side of the Canal, at Gamboa. At Gamboa there is also the Panama Canal Zone Penitentiary, and to his other ministrations, the Rev. Mr. Mulcare adds that of this penitentiary.

The church at Mount Hope, the Rev. Edward J. Cooper, has had a substantially built basement added to the original equipment of the mission and ample facilities are now afforded for Church school and social purposes. The necessary funds for this addition were given by the New York Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary. This same Branch has provided for the re-flooring in the rectory at La Boca, the Rev. John T. Mulcare, missionary.

At St. Paul's, Panama, the congregation is fast outgrowing the capacity of the church. The parish numbers upwards of 1,200 communicants, probably the largest congregation of our Church in Central America and among the largest congregations for Negroes in the Church. The Rev. Arthur F.

Nightingale is rendering most excellent service to this congregation, as also to the leper congregation at Palo Seco and to the insane at Corozal.

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

The Missionary District of the Philippine Islands includes the archipelago bearing that name, together with Guam and Wake Islands. It has an area of 115,026 miles and a population of 12,604,100. The district within its present bounds was established by the General Convention in the year 1901. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Gouverneur F. Mosher, D.D., consecrated Feb. 25, 1920.

The appropriation to the Philippines for 1932 is $148,692.50. The appropriation aids in maintaining work in 44 stations.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

IT is my privilege to present my thirteenth annual report, to cover the year ending December 31, 1932.

My last report began with the record of the death of Rev. E. A. Sibley. Even as I was writing the report there occurred the death of John C. Early, recently governor of the Mountain Province; a Churchman and faithful communicant, the friend and helper of all our mission and, more than any one who was left, the one who had the interests of the Igorots intelligently in mind. The loss to the mission was as great as though he had been an appointed member of our staff. His example in attending services was invaluable—as such a thing always is, on the part of a government official. His advice was based on knowledge and sympathy. His help was available to any and all who were working for Igorots—and, of course, was by no means limited to his own Church. His friendship for the Igorots was appreciated by them and drew forth an affectionate devotion in return. The patience, unfailing cheerfulness and courageous endurance that he showed during the three years that it took a cancer to kill him were an example of Christian fortitude such as is rarely shown. To lose Fr. Sibley and Governor Early within six weeks of one another was to endure a loss in our Igorot work that was seemingly irreparable. Death, however, could not undo their works of a lifetime: they have left foundations on which we who continue on can build, if we will, things well worth the having. We thank God for what they did and for the example they left; and we pray Him that we who are left may be able to carry on what they began.

The mission has been most fortunate in having Mrs. Early accept the position of Matron of the House of the Holy Child in Manila.

Every year I find myself more and more proud of the way our missionary staff faces its duties and carries on its work. It is not easy. While there is encouragement, always, in meeting with such cordial response as our efforts here have, yet there is ground for very great discouragement in being unable to do the next thing required or to take advantage of each new opportunity that offers, and in seeing the fruits rotting (as it were) and falling to the ground. Our staff welcomes the encouragement and makes the most of it—but they have steadfastly refused to let the discouragements break down their spirits or blight their hopes. My contacts with them on visitation are opportunities for me to learn their attitude. There are only one or two who complain, while all the others study the real situation, think out a plan, and do all they can to carry on a progressive and an aggressive work.

Even this past year, when suddenly cut short of funds, the work carried on has been an aggressive one. At the same time, our apportionment has been met in full, and our own contributions within the diocese have increased. The only decrease has been in fees received. Both schools and hospitals have lost income through the prevailing depression. Dr. Ralston Hayden's article in the October, 1932 Spirit of Missions is to be valued because of the fact that he is a trained observer, who came to the Islands purposely to study conditions here, and at the same time is one who would not write a thing that he did not believe to be true. I feel that if others in the home Church were to know the situation that we face and the way in which our missionaries are carrying on, their work would meet with the same approval there.

Institutions are always a problem in missionary work. We would gladly do without them if it were possible. The universal opinion of missionaries all over the world has always been, that the Christian Church cannot teach the quality of mercy as Christians conceive it, without doing all it can for the physical care of the people to whom it has gone, without orphanages to care for the waifs and strays, whom non-Christians are quite content to throw away.

Nor can it get anywhere with the establishment of a native self-governing, self-supporting Church, unless it educates its own children, some to take the lead in that Church and the others to form the solid, intelligent, understanding rank and file.

It worries us to have first one and then another set of individuals (mostly unofficial), coming continually to investigate our work. The essentially partial knowledge upon which they base opinions, we have had to work a lifetime to get, does not seem to justify the Church at home in taking their judgment over ours. How little they all really understand! And yet, they are asked to decide questions as to real worth of work where men and women such as we have on our staff here, who study and plan and work, are not even asked for an opinion.

A year ago I spoke of School Registration. It still is a live question, and, Convocation at the end of January, is to devote four sessions of conference, each one of two hours' duration, to threshing out the entire subject. It is hoped we may see what is best for the mission. The question is not exactly the same as in China. It is a question as to cost of effort and possibility of following all requirements as to curricula, teachers with B.S.E. degrees, equipment for show rather than for use, etc.; that is whether we really can get the money to keep up the expense of a registered school, when an unregistered one can unquestionably do better actual work.

The Bishop is not alone in being worried about St. Luke's Hospital and the proposal made to close it. There is some comfort in knowing that when physical illness incapacitates us we have our own people who are capable of taking care of us. It undoubtedly makes us more willing to leave home and to take up life on this other side of the world where physical dangers are so much greater. We wish this question could be settled once for all and that all uncertainty might be removed. If the hospital is closed we shall, undoubtedly, lose some of our staff! Only those who have heard Christ's call so clearly as to have burned all their bridges behind them will be willing to stay in the mission.

At the beginning of October, when Brent School opened for another year, nineteen pupils who had been registered failed to appear. That meant an unexpected reduction in income of almost P25,000. Of these, seventeen live in Hongkong, Shanghai and the Straits Settlements. These places are now on a silver basis with a currency that is cheaper than at any time since the West and the East came together. They simply cannot afford to send children to a country with a currency on the gold basis. It makes a problem with which I shall have to deal before next June. The Church has never helped to sustain this school and so cannot be called upon for assistance now. Our only resource, in case of financial failure, is to dispose of our property and pay all outstanding indebtedness. Whether or no this may be necessary cannot be determined now. At least it is a possibility.

Herewith I give a few leading figures from the annual summary of our quarterly reports. They will show, I believe, a steady growth and development. That, of course, is the thing for which we wish far more ardently than for anything more startling and picturesque.

At the beginning of the year we made the cut in our appropriations that was called for by the situation at home. I was proud of the way the staff accepted the situation. And all did their best with the appropriation that remained. Now we have slashed the 1933 appropriation with equal goodwill—but this time, of course, we cannot carry on so effectively for there is not enough money to pay the bills. That, however, will be for report next year. Now I am concerned merely to say that we know the necessity and we do not complain. We ask that those at home will join their prayers to ours that some way may be found for God's work to continue, and that this time of trial may in some way prove to be a time of blessing to our work.

GOUVERNEUR FRANK MOSHER,
Bishop of the Philippine Islands

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF PUERTO RICO

The Missionary District of Puerto Rico includes Puerto Rico and adjacent islands, and the Virgin Islands of the United States. It has an area of 3,600 square miles and a population of Puerto Rico 1,543,913 and the Virgin Islands 22,012. The district within its present bounds was established by the General Convention in the year 1901. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Charles Blayney Colmore, D.D., consecrated December 17, 1913; the Suffragan Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Manuel Ferrando, consecrated March 15, 1923.

The appropriation for 1932 is: for work in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands $78,501. The appropriation aids in maintaining work in 25 stations.

MISSIONARY STAFF.—Bishops, 2; Priests (foreign 7, native 9), 16; Deaconess (foreign) 1; Lay Readers, 3; Teachers (foreign men 1, women 6; native men 1; women 7), 15; Evangelistic Workers (foreign 2, native 5), 7; Secretaries (foreign 1, native 1) 2.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

PUERTO RICO has again kept up its record of increased Baptisms, Confirmations and communicants. All quotas have been paid, a permanent Episcopal fund is being established very gradually and we have paid all our diocesan expenses from contributions from our own people. This has been done at considerable sacrifice and with great effort in this very difficult year.

The reduction in appropriations made necessary by world conditions this year has affected the work of our seminary to a very large degree. It was found impossible to continue the work for half the year so the Rev. V. L. Dowdell was loaned to the work in the Dominican Republic where he is serving at Santo Domingo City. Later we determined to carry on the work of the seminary in a provisional manner which would be within our financial ability, this is now carried on under the supervision of the Rev. F. A. Saylor and the Rev. Julio Garrett. The students meet each month for one week of intensive instruction after which they return to their homes and do their reading in prescribed courses. In this way the expenses of the seminary are only twenty-five per cent of what it would be if carried on continuously. Our five students are making progress though of course not so rapidly as formerly. In all likelihood we will continue this method for the present as it seems the most satisfactory way under the circumstances.

Another institution to be affected by the reduction in appropriations is that of the mission farm at Quebrada Limon. The resignation of the agriculturist, Mr. J. C. M. Valentine, was accepted as of August 15th and today all appropriations for farm expenses have been eliminated with the exception of three hundred dollars per year for the wages of a native manager. The income from the farm is paying the expenses, and the equipment is being improved. I quote from the report of the Rev. Antonio Villafane, priest-in-charge at Quebrada Limon:

"The report attached hereto shows the business side of the Quebrada Limon Mission Farm; however, there is still another side to our work, and that is to be an instrument and co-operating agency in the work of the Church. Along that line we have given an average of fifty quarts of milk every month to children and sick people. The farm has helped the school for the children's lunch with coal, bananas and other vegetables. The Church has made use for her work of implements, equipment and the animals of the farm. Besides, the farm has provided work for many of our Church people."

To this I would add that many people make use of the Church's land, planting it on shares, thus gaining from us help toward their livelihood. In connection with the farm at Quebrada Limon I wish to call attention to the fact that the transfer of title of all the lands which Bishop Ferrando and the Board of Trustees of the Church of Jesus have presented to the National Council has been entirely concluded. There was a great deal of research necessary and it has taken much time and patience to work out the titles but everything is now registered with the Puerto Rican Government in the name of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society.

The hurricane of September 26 caused the total destruction of both church and rectory in Vieques; Church of San José, Rio Piedras; Church of the Epiphany, La Yeguada; dispensary at St. Hilda's, and considerable damage to the following: St. Luke's Church, Puerta de Tierra; Bishop's House, Condado; St. Hilda's Church; Church and rectory, El Coto de Manati; besides minor damage to various other buildings. After consultation with the priests in charge it was decided not to rebuild the Church at La Yeguada nor the dispensary at St. Hilda's. Some emergency and temporary repairs have been made but nothing has been done about rebuilding as yet, and temporary quarters for the Church and rectory at Vieques have been rented. It is hoped that money will be received early in the year for most of our rebuilding projects and the work will be completed during the year. A determined effort will be made wherever it is possible to rebuild or to make extensive repairs to put the buildings in condition to resist future hurricanes and we hope that our efforts will prove satisfactory. A careful study has been made, and is being continued, of hurricane resistance in buildings and we are gradually working out plans which are practical and which will probably not cost too much money.

Two buildings have been added to our list of properties during the year. St. Anne's Chapel at Tabonuco Arriba, Sabana Grande, a wooden building, was given by Mr. Felix Lopez Acosta, one of our Puerto Rican communicants, on land contributed by Mr. Augustin Pietri of Yauco. The rectory of the Transfiguration, Las Rubias, was built by Father Saylor during the summer, funds for the purpose having been contributed from various sources, notably a gift from the American Church Building Fund Commission, another from St. Andrew's Craft Shop and several personal ones. As much of the labor and materials was contributed the actual cost, $1,000, was much lower than the value of the building.

Money has been provided by South Dakota and the Diocese of Texas for a country chapel at Magueyes near Ponce. Work has been begun and will be finished early in the year 1933.

I am glad to report the republication of a local monthly periodical in Spanish in which Sunday school lessons are being published for our Puerto Rican people. These lessons are being compiled by Miss Amelia Rentas, one of our own graduates from St. Catherine's Training School who has obtained her bachelor's degree from Columbia University and is now assistant at St. Catherine's. These Sunday school lessons are a great aid to our religious instruction and will add greatly to our equipment. The printing of the periodical is being paid for locally by the various missions making use of it and is done at the mission printing press in Mayaguez.

Miss Mildred Hayes has returned to the Mission of St. Andrew's at Mayaguez and has taken up the Church's industrial work again. Effort is being made to increase the usefulness of this department and the output of the work so that we will be able to be of much greater benefit to our people in Puerto Rico.

There have been no new appointments of missionaries from the States during the year. The Rev. Luis Meyer has been received from the Roman communion and is acting as assistant at St. Andrew's in Mayaguez. There have been a number of local changes in the staff by moving workers from one station to another as it has seemed necessary and convenient.

St. Luke's Hospital has justified the new building during the year, having paid all expenses with the help of the appropriation made from the National Council and has been able to show a small balance at the end of the year. Excellent reports have been made of the financial condition of the hospital each month through the generous interest of Mr. Justice Becke, a communicant of St. John's Parish in San Juan. The training schools at the hospital and St. Catherine's in San Juan continue their good work of training the Puerto Rican women for their life work.

The work in the Virgin Islands, notwithstanding the poverty of the people, keeps up in a most interesting way.

The two women workers appointed last year to All Saints', St. Thomas, are showing excellent results in religious education and social service, while a playground equipment, a gift from a generous benefactor in the United States, has proven a boon to the children of our Church and vicinity in Christiansted, St. Croix.

OUR MISSION IN AFRICA

THE MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF LIBERIA

The Missionary District of Liberia includes that part of West Africa known as the Republic of Liberia, having an area of 40,000 square miles, and a population of approximately 1,000,000 people. This population should be divided as follows: Americo-Liberians, 10,000; Native Liberians, 1,000,000 (consisting of 23 tribes). The district within its present bounds, was established by the General Convention in 1850. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Robert E. Campbell, D.D., consecrated November 30, 1925. The Suffragan Bishop is the Rt. Rev. T. Momolu Gardiner, D.D., consecrated June 23, 1921.

The appropriation for 1932 is $82,026. This appropriation aids in maintaining work in 75 stations and missions.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

DUE to a number of causes, this year, 1932, has been a most trying one for Liberia. The economic depression has not only reduced our local revenues to a negligible sum, but, by the action of the National Council in its February meeting, all salaries and allowances were cut by 10% from the approved schedule. Added to this embarrassment, there has been the political uncertainty, the existing government being recognized by neither Great Britain nor the United States. Liberian affairs have been considered seriously by a special committee of the League of Nations in Geneva, but, due largely to the financial disability of the little Republic, no definite conclusion has been reached. Relations with the United States were further strained when, just before Christmas, the Liberian legislature, by joint action of both houses, resolved to halt all payments on a loan from an American company until the revenues for two successive years exceed the sum of $650,000.

Concerning the general state of the Church, it is a pleasure to report progress. At Cape Mount, the new dormitory at Bethany (the girls' school) has been completed. At St. John's several of the older buildings of the boys' school have been put in first-class repair, and power machinery introduced in the industrial shop, to say nothing of the successful setting up of our first short-wave radio, and electric lights for the church and some of the buildings. The native congregations at Gbaigbon and New Georgia have built themselves suitable places of worship, and at their own labor and expense. Minor improvements, too numerous to mention, have been made in many localities.

For financial reasons, in July we were obliged to terminate the services of Dr. Ronnefeldt at St. Timothy's Hospital, Cape Mount. Since his return to Germany we have had no doctor on the coast, a very dangerous situation, indeed.

Due to some trouble between one group of missionaries (not our own) and certain officials of the Government, the Secretary of the Interior has seen fit to issue a set of regulations, applying pointedly to all Church activities in the hinterland. The object is avowedly to protect the Government and the native tribes alike from unsympathetic or disloyal foreign workers; though the question might well arise whether such an aim can be attained by such repressive measures. These regulations have a direct bearing on all our present and future activities among the native tribes.

In West Africa we receive visits from very few persons, which makes all the more notable that of Hon. Henry L. West, President of the American Colonization Society. During his six-weeks' stay, Mr. West was not only welcomed cordially by the Liberian Government, but received by the various mission groups in their respective stations. His visit to Cape Mount was made possible by the mission launch, which already has become so indispensable as to cause us to wonder how we managed to exist so long without it.

Please note that the Holy Cross Mission and several smaller works, not supported by the National Council, do not appear in the appended statistics. The Holy Cross Mission and Cape Mount represent the Church's two most active centers in Liberia.

Medical Work

St. Timothy's Hospital, Cape Mount—Foreign physician 1, Native woman nurse 1, Native trained assistants 2, number of beds 20, value of property $10,000. Due to loss of doctor in July records are not complete but figures for 1931 are about the same for 1932: In-patients 208, out-patients 1,811.

St. Mark's Dispensary, Cape Palmas—Foreign woman nurse 1, dispensary patients 60.

Bromley Dispensary, St. Paul River—Foreign woman nurse 1, dispensary patients 60.

St. Joseph's Hospital, Bolohun—Not supported by the National Council.

The following is the list of my official acts for the year:

Celebrated Holy Communion.....	305
Sermons and addresses.....	69
Confirmed	*152
Lay Readers Licensed.....	30
Admitted as Postulants for Holy Orders	3
Admitted as Candidates for Holy Orders	2
Priests received by transfer.....	3
Priests lost by letters dimissory....	1
Foreign priest licensed.....	1
Churches dedicated.....	2
Altars consecrated.....	2
Pulpit blessed.....	1
Funerals	2
Quiet day held.....	1

In addition to the above, I appointed the canonical Council of Advice; presided over the Montserrado Convocation in July; licensed two priests to hold portfolios in the Liberian Cabinet while retaining their cures; and blessed the new mission launch, "Samuel D. Ferguson." Until summoned by cable to America in the middle of December, I resided in my jurisdiction the entire year. Nothing has been contributed locally towards my salary.

ROBERT E. CAMPBELL,
Bishop of Liberia

* The Bishop Suffragan has made no report, due, probably, to the serious illness of his wife.

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF SOUTHERN BRAZIL

Though we hope eventually to answer the call of the northern part of Brazil and to occupy the vast reaches of the Amazon, at present our work is carried on only in the States of Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo, Santa Caterina and Rio Grande do Sul—all of which are in the southeastern corner. In these States live the majority of the people, and almost all the resources thus far developed are found within their borders. The district was established by the General Convention of 1907. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. William M. M. Thomas, formerly Suffragan Bishop, consecrated December 28, 1925, and elected Missionary Bishop on October 19, 1928.

The appropriation for 1932 is $74,645. The appropriation assists in maintaining work in 107 stations.

MISSIONARY STAFF.—Bishop, 1; Priests (foreign 6, native 21), 27; Deacons (foreign 2, native 9), 11; Candidates for Holy Orders (foreign), 1; Catechists, 10; Teachers, 43; Lay Readers other than Candidates, 3.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

I HEREWITH present my seventh annual report. We have passed through another year of political disturbances and financial uncertainties. But all of the Church's work has gone steadily forward. Both vital and material statistics show a healthy progress and a united endeavor to build for the future.

Engagements

During the year I took part in 150 services, attending 28 others, and celebrating the Holy Communion 32 times. I preached 81 times, making 74 other talks, attended 91 meetings of various kinds, and held conferences with 71 individuals or groups. I confirmed 303 persons and ordained 5 deacons.

Movement of the Clergy and other Workers

The Rev. F. T. Osborn left Rio Grande for the U. S. A. on furlough and on his return in January will become rector of St. Paul's Church, Rio de Janeiro.

The Rev. Julio de A. Coelho was transferred from Dom Pedrito to Bagé where he will have charge of the mission of Christ Crucified.

The Rev. Mario R. Olmos was transferred from Santos to Dom Pedrito where he will be minister-in-charge of the Church of the Nativity.

The Rev. Henrique Todt, Jr., was transferred from Bagé to Livramento as assistant to the Rev. C. H. C. Sergel.

The Rev. Albert N. Roberts has taken over the field treasuryship substituting the Rev. F. T. Osborn, on furlough.

The Rev. Gaudencio V. dos Santos has remained at Rio Grande and been made rector of the Church of the Saviour.

Of the five deacons ordained during the year two are Japanese. The Rev. Paulo Kyoshi Issu remains at Registro as minister-in-charge of All Saints' Church and its parochial school. The Rev. Lourenço Takeo Shimanuki has taken charge of St. Matthew's Church at Nippolandia, near Biriguy. The Rev. Gastao Pereira de Oliveira is assistant to the Rev. F. T. Osborn at St. Paul's Church, Rio de Janeiro. The Rev. Nathaniel Duval da Silva is assistant at the Church of the Crucified, at Bagé.

Our work among the Japanese has been strengthened by the arrival from Japan of Mr. and Mrs. Barnabé Kenzo Ono. They are stationed at Uezuka Colony and have begun a fine work there. We are indebted to Bishop Lea of Japan for preparing Mr. Ono for ordination.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward arrived in July to work at the Southern Cross School. Mr. Ward, an architect, will also prepare plans for churches and other buildings whose construction is contemplated.

Property

Notwithstanding the hard times much was done towards consolidating our work. Good building lots have been secured by gift at six places, and by purchase at two others.

At Perdiz, near Jaguarao, a rough frame building was bought, removed and rebuilt for use as a chapel. There is a growing and enthusiastic country congregation here.

At Mauá, near Sao Paulo, Mr. Orton has built a small brick chapel. Both land and building are the gift of the people in the neighborhood.

At Pelotas where the diocesan school for girls is to be established, a half square has been bought near the center of the town and negotiations are under way for the acquiring for other property across the street. Mrs. Sergel, while on furlough in England with her husband during 1933, will study school organization and problems, and start the girls' school in March, 1934.

A few miles from Pelotas, at the foot of the surrounding hills, there has been secured a small farm of about forty acres to be developed as a home for an orphanage. The institution has been incorporated and the old buildings on the property are being improved so that children may be received, cared for and instructed.

At Cedro, Epiphany Chapel, of simple frame construction, was consecrated on December 11th.

The Church of the Nazarene, at Livramento, and the Chapel of the Saviour, near Livramento, are ready for consecration in January.

The school building at Sao Francisco de Paula, an Advance Work gift of North Texas, is finished. It is well built of pine, with stone foundations, and all doors and windows of louro and cabriúva, the best of hard woods.

The year just past was the second under the provisional government. There has been much uncertainty as to the final outcome of the revolution in 1930. In the meantime a new constitution is being drawn up, a popular election is promised for May, 1933, and business goes on in a half-hearted way under the lowering clouds of world conditions.

During the three months of July, August and September, the whole country was shaken by the armed revolt against the provisional government staged by the State of Sao Paulo. The non-adherence of other states and the eventual unconditional surrender of the Paulista forces revealed the strength of the government.

Notwithstanding, our work has gone forward without let or hindrance. Not only were the eight lots, above referred to, acquired by gift or purchase, but work progressed on a number of buildings as follows: the building used as school and chapel at Biriguy was enlarged; Epiphany Chapel, Cedro, was completed and consecrated; Advent Chapel, Santo Antonio da Patrulha, was nearly completed; at Perdiz a frame house was remodeled into St. Paul's Chapel; the new school at Sao Francisco de Paula, was completed; the Church of the Nazarene, at Livramento, was entirely finished and is ready for consecration; the Chapel of Christ the Saviour, at Mauá, was begun and finished during the Sao Paulo revolution.

Native contributions in milreis were about the same as during the two previous years.

Our parochial schools, at no added expense, nearly doubled the number of pupils. These schools are maintained as an adjunct to parish work and for the express purpose of giving to the children of our Church families an opportunity to get an elementary education under Church influences.

"Re-Thinking Missions" and the Church in Brazil

A careful perusal of "Re-Thinking Missions" quite naturally compels one to think of the defects of his particular field and to "take stock." While the conclusions arrived at by the Appraisal Commission were based on investigations in the Far East, they will doubtless in the minds of most readers be made to apply to all mission fields. Generalizations are always dangerous for they inevitably are made to apply where they should not. Every mission field, like every diocese has, and always will have, its weak points. When one finds that work, whether evangelical or institutional, at a given place is weak and unprogressive, it may or may not be due to carelessness on the part of the missionary or native worker.

More especially in the mission field there are many outside influences that militate against successful progress. While a clergyman who is unfaithful to his task for whatever cause or motive deserves condemnation, we should not hastily put in his class a faithful missionary who having done his best has failed to build up a promising work. The world with its manifold and sinister influences may have been against him.

We were particularly impressed by the recommendations of the discontinuance of specific undertakings, of the merging of others and of devolution.

Speaking from an experience of nearly thirty years in the mission field, I think that those who are best qualified to decide as to the advisability or necessity of any one of the above contingencies are those who from the home-base direct the work and who on the field are prosecuting it. They should know best the ins and outs of the situation and also when or whether an advisable step is or is not possible.

No self-appointed, unofficial, inter-denominational committee should formulate recommendations on such questions, because, in the nature of things, it cannot do so wisely. How should such a committee after a few years' research know more about missions than Boards that have been directing them for some generations and missionaries who are giving their lives in prosecuting them?

After all is said and done no one denies that there have been mistakes in the missionary work of the world, or that many missionaries and native workers are incompetent and misfits.

The greater discouragement should be felt in the field and not at the home-base; in the field because better men are not sent out from home and an adequate underwriting rarely accorded.

Coming to my own field, along with a thousand disappointments and constant worries due to weakness from inside and opposition and indifference from without, we are encouraged beyond measure when we see so great material progress, and a steady growth, as far as one can judge, in every branch of Church work whether statistical, financial or spiritual. If statistics mean anything at all, and one must judge progress by them, our annual report shows that, with all our weakness and defects, our clergy in Brazil have not been idle. They have been preaching Christ Crucified, in season and out of season, they have been organizing congregations and establishing churches to which they have given a liturgy in the tongue that each congregation can understand, Portuguese, English, German or Japanese, and they have tried to give them a knowledge of Church Doctrine, Law and History. Such knowledge has not hurt them; more would be better for them.

As time goes on the slow but steady increase in the number of clergy has been accompanied by a corresponding increase in every phase of Church work and statistics.

Grand Totals	20,024	6,577

As these statistics cover a period of forty years the total number of communicants for 1932, 3,811, compares well with the number of confirmed, 6,577. It must be remembered that there is here practically no increase by transfer from other dioceses, while there is a constant loss by removals due to many causes.

We must perforce read the signs of the times. The fidelity and zeal of the thousands who have come to know Jesus and to love and follow Him will be measured by the manner in which our Church people in the home-land stand fast in the faith. Far too much is said, far too much is written that gives one the impression that in the United States faith in Christ as Saviour, faith in the Church, and faith in the clergy, is being shaken. This spirit will be reflected in the mission fields to the far corners of the earth. Those who sit in darkness and in doubt are looking unto the hills whence they hope for a gospel of salvation. To the Church at home with her wealth of traditions and her abiding faith they send the psalmist's message: "Oh send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me."

NOTES.—Contributions have been reduced to dollars at a nominal exchange of 10 milreis to the dollar. Thus converted into dollars contributions show an apparent decrease as compared with 1931. This is due to the fluctuating rate of exchange. The total given in milreis is actually slightly larger than in 1931. Because of local conditions the total given in 1932 really meant much greater sacrifice on the part of our Church people.

In the column "Parish Houses" the numbers refer either to rectories or parish houses. Those marked (†) indicate rectory and parish house combined. Those marked (*) indicate parish houses, not rectories, rented.

OUR MISSION IN CHINA

I. MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF ANKING

The Missionary District of Anking includes that part of China lying within the Provinces of Anhui, and Kiangsi. It has an area of 88,000 square miles and a population of about 36,000,000. The district was established in 1910. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Daniel Trumbull Huntington, D.D., consecrated March 25, 1912.

The appropriation for 1932 is $82,246. The appropriation assists in maintaining work in 31 stations.

MISSIONARY STAFF.—Bishop, 1; Priests (foreign 1, Chinese 31), 32; Deacons (Chinese), 3; Candidates for Holy Orders (Chinese), 2; Catechists, 21; Physicians (foreign 1, Chinese 5), 6; Trained Assistants (Chinese), 4; Teachers (foreign 2, Chinese 97), 99; Foreign Women Workers: Nurses, 3; Evangelistic Workers, 2; Secretaries, 2; Chinese Women Workers: Biblewomen, 13; Teachers, 34; Nurses, 6.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

I HAVE the honor to submit the Annual Report for the Missionary District of Anking for the year 1932.

Staff Movements

I returned from America, arriving in Shanghai on March 14; my family having stopped over in Honolulu on account of the fighting in Shanghai, arrived on April 1.

On my return to Wuhu, the Rev. Lloyd R. Craighill, who had been acting as Bishop's Commissary in my absence, returned with his family to Nanchang, Kiangsi.

Dr. Rufus Southworth, who had been in charge of the True Light Dispensary for a year though not a member of the mission, left in May to return to America.

The Rev. Daniel P. K. Liu returned from America, arriving on September 15, and was appointed in charge of Grace Church, Anking.

Miss Lucy May Burgin, R.N., a new appointee for St. James' Hospital, Anking, arrived on September 25, and after a short stay in Anking, proceeded to Peiping for language study.

Sister Helen Veronica left September 30, on furlough, though she does not expect to return.

Rev. Bernard Y. Tsen, Dean of the Cathedral of the Holy Saviour, Anking, resigned from that position, to take work at Chengchow in the Diocese of Honan, the end of August.

The Rev. Robin T. S. Chen was transferred from Wuhu to the Cathedral, Anking, to take the place of the Rev. Bernard Y. Tsen.

The Rev. S. T. Kao, who had been on sick leave for six months, was appointed to Chienshan and took up his work there in August.

The Rev. S. S. Chu was transferred from Grace Church, Anking, to St. John's Church, Taihu, September 1.

The Rev. Y. R. Hsiang was transferred from St. John's Church, Taihu, to Sousing on September 1.

The Rev. Joshua Chu was transferred from the Cathedral of the Holy Saviour, Anking, to Kungchen, September 1.

The Rev. M. T. Wang was transferred from Kungchen to the Cathedral of the Holy Saviour, Anking, on September 1. As a matter of fact, he came a few days earlier, as Kungchen had been looted by bandits, and was in their hands at the time of his leaving.

The Rev. Edmund Hsu has been transferred to Nanking, and is teaching in the Central Theological School, his transfer dating from September 1.

The Rev. Irving Wang took charge of the Chinese Services at the Church of the Ascension, Kuling, during July and August.

I ordained Messrs. Wu Yu Chuan, Chin Yueh Chiao, and Huang Ih Pin, deacons on October 9. Mr. Wu has been appointed to assist the Rev. Philip Lee at St. James', Wuhu; Mr. Chin to assist the Rev. Daniel Liu at Grace Church, Anking; and Mr. Huang to assist the Rev. Y. M. Li at the Church of the Beatitudes, Fanchang.

I reconsecrated St. Andrew's Church, Tatung, on October 23, which was destroyed by the flood and had been rebuilt.

I consecrated "Chen Teh" Church at Kingtehchen on October 31.

The Diocesan Synod was held on October 15 to 18 in Wuhu, at which time there was a special celebration of the twentieth year of my episcopate.

The Summer Conference for teachers and other workers was held in Wuhu, July 3 to 14.

A Conference for voluntary lay-workers was held at Chinyang on December 4 to 11.

General Conditions

In 1931, the floods throughout the central part of this district did very great damage, but in 1932, I am glad to say there were on the whole good crops. The farmers, however, who were already badly set back by the floods of the year before, received very poor prices for their crops, so that money borrowed for rehabilitation was only paid in part.

The general depression throughout the western world does not affect agricultural China very markedly, although it does to some extent. But that part of China which is engaged in commerce is very greatly affected by it. A good many young men who were drawing good salaries in various commercial houses, have lost their positions, and as many of them were regular contributors to the work of the Church, these lost positions have affected our finances to a considerable extent.

Worse than that, the southern part of Kiangsi, and at times the northern part also, have been affected by Communism; in fact, a large part of southern Kiangsi has been held by the Communists for several years. A regular Soviet government has been set up. During the latter half of the year the Government has made a severe attack on the Communists and regained possession of nearly all of the Province of Kiangsi. In the western part of Anhwei, there has been much disturbance from Communists. The Hupeh Provincial Government has taken active measures against them, and in consequence many of them retreated across the border into Anhwei. But during the year they have not looted any of the towns where we have work although there has been much anxiety as to whether they would do so or not. The only town where we have work that has been looted during the year is Kungchen, which was looted by bandits who do not pretend any connection with Communism.

The last and greatest evil which the country suffered during the year, was the attack of the Japanese. First in Manchuria in 1931, and then in Shanghai in January 1932. While there has been no actual fighting in the diocese, the mental disturbance has been a great factor in the general feeling of the whole people. Under these circumstances it would not be surprising if the work of the mission had shown little progress. But as will be seen from the report, this is far from being the case. On the whole, I think that the progress has been rather remarkable considering the state of the country.

Evangelistic Work

The evangelistic work of the diocese has gone on steadily and seemed to show a healthy growth. There were 231 Confirmations, which is, I think, the largest number for one year in the history of the diocese. The number of Baptisms, both adult and infant, show a slight increase also, and the number of communicants increased 232, making a total of 1,562 communicants.

I was not able to visit much more than half of the stations in the diocese during the year, and the number of Confirmations would have been considerably increased if I could have visited the others. I am glad to say that among the evil results of militarism there is at least one good thing, namely, there are a good many motor roads being put through the country for military purposes. Up to the present I have not used any of them but there are three or four that connect up with places that I hope to visit this year and if I am able to use them, this will cut down my traveling time very considerably.

In the matter of contributions some progress has been made, the total contributions this year being $8,795.02 Mex., which is $719.13 Mex. more than the year before. This amounts to about fifteen per cent of the total expenses of the evangelistic work of the diocese. We have been urged on to self-support by the various cuts which the Department of Missions has been obliged to make in the appropriation, and I sincerely hope that we shall do considerably better this year than we did in 1932. I would note, also, that the amount of money spent by the Department of Missions for evangelistic work has decreased $547.45 (Mex. at 2 for 1 exchange).

One direction in which I think we must look for self-support is in the securing of voluntary workers. For the present these would be laymen, lay readers, Sunday school teachers, etc., but I see no reason why those who showed themselves worthy should not ultimately be ordained, this especially with regard to towns where we have no resident paid workers. There are about thirty such places where the paid workers from the larger centers could, and do, go to hold occasional services. If we could get lay readers in these places as is being done in one or two places, we could hold regular services and it would help greatly in the work of the Church. Then it should be possible to extend this system, so that one paid clergyman would supervise and instruct over quite a large district, with a number of lay readers, or volunteer clergy, taking services at various points. The Conference held at Chinyang, mentioned above, had this chiefly in mind and I am glad to say that a number of those who were present have since been appointed as lay readers. I trust that their number will be steadily increased, for without such assistance I see no prospect of self-support except in the abandonment of a large part of our work, an alternative which I am entirely unwilling to accept.

One of the most interesting developments is a work among students in Nanchang. The Rev. Quentin Huang is in charge of this work and by means of students' clubs has got in touch with a great many boys and a few girls. This year, for the first time, he presented a class, 9 boys and 1 girl, for Confirmation. I think this is a most promising work, though like student work the world over, it is never likely to become self-supporting.

Educational Work

The educational work also shows a very considerable increase. I am sorry to observe that there is a decrease in the number of women teachers. The number of girl students has increased in the higher grades but shows some falling off in the lower primary. We have, I regret to say, less than half as many girls as boys in our schools. I think that every effort should be made to increase the number of girls, most of our schools are co-educational, but with a large majority of boys. This is even more marked in the higher grades than in the lower.

I note a gradual change in the character of our schools in the small places. Formerly the usual thing was a school of from fifteen to thirty children with one teacher. Now nearly all our schools have several teachers, and even in the smaller places, many of them have over one hundred scholars; and the largest, Kwang Ih School, Wuhu, has over six hundred. I think these schools are doing better work than before and they seem to have a good reputation locally wherever they are established, so that in most places there are more applicants than can be received.

No difficulty has been experienced in the matter of giving religious education except that it must not be part of the curriculum. In many places all the children take such studies, and in all places some of them do. Neither have we experienced any difficulty through the appointment of heads of discipline by the National Government. The Government school authorities simply inquire who is the head of discipline, sometimes ask a little about his qualifications and leave us to do the appointing, though it would be possible for them to make themselves quite disagreeable in this matter if they wanted to.

Another thing which is reported this year for the first time is mass education. Of course, the vast majority of China are illiterate and attempts are being made to overcome this illiteracy by adult schools, usually night schools in the country. More progress has been made in this matter in north China than in central China, but we have opened a number of such schools in connection with our various stations and one or two in country places at a distance from those stations. This is done with very little cost to the mission, as the teachers are all volunteer teachers, and the only expense is for light and a few sundries. Where the schools are away from the mission center the local people provide the rooms and desks and seats, and in some cases the light. I hope that this work can be largely increased in the near future.

Financially our schools are highly successful, though this is true mainly of the boys' lower middle schools, the total amount for the schools received from fees and gifts is $53,996.69 Mex. and the amount given by the Department is $35,155.98 Mex.

Medical Work

The work at St. James' Hospital, Anking, and the True Light Dispensary, Wuhu, has continued and increased. The number of patients, both in-patients and out-patients, is greater than before and also the receipts from fees. We are very glad to have a new nurse and a new doctor coming to us, and have no doubt that their presence will strengthen the work greatly.

A special feature of the work this year has been the attempt to relieve the sufferings of people in the country; the hospital has prepared medicine baskets containing half a dozen simple remedies with careful directions as to their use. These have been sent to the clergy in charge of outstations and have been greatly appreciated by the clergy and by the people.

Wuhu, True Light Dispensary—Foreign nurse, woman 1; Native nurses, women 5; Native assistants, women 2; Number of beds 16; In-patients treated 361; Dispensary patients treated 31,267; Medical fees Mex. $3,301.97; Value of mission property, Mex. $12,000.

Rural Work

The Rural Work of the diocese has grown very considerably during the year. The Farm at Hai Kou Chou, out from Anking, produced very excellent crops from improved seed which was bought from the Department of Agriculture of the University of Nanking. The things in which the greatest improvement was shown were cotton, corn, and wheat. The farmers in that section have been greatly interested, a school has been conducted, paid for partly by the residents in the neighborhood and partly by the mission, but entirely under the direction of the mission. A night school has also been conducted for adults. The farm products are sold always as seed, so that there is a good chance of improving the grade of agricultural products throughout the region.

After the flood a year ago a considerable amount of money was entrusted to the mission, partly from America and partly from the National Christian Council for rehabilitation loans. This money was loaned out to groups of farmers and has been mostly repaid, though some of it is still owing. We are endeavoring to organize with this repaid money co-operative loan societies which will enable the farmers to improve their condition very considerably. One graduate of the Agricultural School of the University of Nanking is spending a large part of his time in superintending these loans and getting them into proper order, for when the money was originally loaned out, there was, as there is certain to be at a time of flood, so much pressure that the organization was somewhat defective. We hope that we shall be able to establish helpful relations with the farmers of the whole region through these loans.

On the whole, I think, the diocese has gone forward in a very marked manner during the year. This is due almost entirely to the work of the Chinese clergy, catechists and Bible-women and teachers, who have shown a fine spirit and gone forward steadily in the face of great difficulties.

I returned to China after furlough in America on March 14. During the year I delivered 75 sermons and addresses, and took services as follows:

II. MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF HANKOW

The Missionary District of Hankow includes that part of China lying within the Province of Hupeh, and that part of the Province of Hunan lying north of lat. 28 N. By special arrangement with the Bishop of Kuangsi-Hunan, the Bishop of Hankow has accepted jurisdiction over the work of the Chung Hua Sheng Kung Hui in Siangtan, which is south of lat. 28 N. and, by arrangement with the Bishop of Anking, in Pinghsiang Hsien in Kiangsi. It has an area of about 100,000 square miles, and a population officially estimated at about 45,000,000. The district within its present bounds was established by the General Convention of 1910. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Logan H. Roots, D.D., consecrated November 14, 1904. The Suffragan Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Alfred A. Gilman, D.D., consecrated March 4, 1925.

The appropriation for 1932 is $186,381. The appropriation aids in maintaining work in 51 stations and outstations.

MISSIONARY STAFF.—Bishops, 2; Assistant Treasurer, 1; Priests (foreign 10, Chinese 47), 57; Deacons (Chinese) 6; Physicians (foreign 1, Chinese 9), 10; Deaconesses (foreign 3, Chinese 1), 4; Sisters (foreign 2, Chinese 1), 3; Trained Nurses (foreign 3, Chinese 21), 24; Foreign Lay Teachers (women 9, men 6), 15; Wives of Missionaries, 13; Catechists, 35; Bible Women, 19; Teachers (Chinese women and men), 124; Other Foreign Workers, 5.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

THE Episcopate Fund amounts to $4,236.65 Mex. and is on fixed deposit in the Raven Trust Company, Shanghai, at 7½%, compounded quarterly.

Missionary Diary

The following members of the staff went on furlough during the year:

- June 6—Mr. and Mrs. J. Earle Fowler and two children. Regular furlough.
- June 15—Mr. Richard H. Crowe, after one year at Boone School.
- July 8—Rev. Mother Ursula Mary, O.S.A. Regular furlough.

Aug. 1—Deaconess Julia A. Clark, Regular furlough.

Nov. 2—Mrs. E. P. Miller. Visit to U. S. A.

Arrivals

March 6—Sister Anita Mary, O.S.A., from furlough

June 6—Rev. and Mrs. Olsson, for Shasi.

July 8—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen and children, for Boone School.

Nov. 2—Frederic C. Gilman, returned home.

Appointments

Dec. 31—Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Olsson, for Shasi.

Dec. 31—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen, for Boone School.

Sept. 16—Miss Frances B. Roots. For one year at St. Hilda's School.

Oct. 12—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Turner, "On the Field" one year at C. C. C.

Ordinations

May 22—Rev. John McC. Roots, to the priesthood, by the Bishop of Leicester, acting for, and by request of, the Bishop of Hankow.

Sept. 29—Rev. Carl H. F. Liu, to the priesthood, Church of the Nativity. Rev. Thomas Y. S. Hu, to the priesthood, Church of the Nativity, Wuchang.

Resignation

Miss Margaret Roberts, as of Dec. 1, 1931.

Deaths

Jan. 9—Mr. S. E. Smalley, Ipswich, Suffolk. Former mission treasurer.

Apr. 21—Rev. Alexander T. P. Wang, Church General Hospital.

June 21—Alexander H. Bergamini, St. Luke's Hospital, Tokyo. Five and one-half years old.

Nov. 13—Rev. Amos Goddard, Newtown, Pa. Former member of this diocese.

Notes

On April 1, the Rev. C. L. Pickens was assigned to half-time work at the Religious Tract Society, for three months.

Boone Middle School celebrated its sixtieth anniversary on April 3.

On June 3, Miss Mary Dawson was transferred to the Missionary District of the Philippine Islands, with the good wishes, and at the same time the regrets, of the whole diocese.

On June 6, Mr. and Mrs. J. Earle Fowler and children, left on regular furlough, but were transferred to the Missionary District of North Tokyo. While sorry to see them go, they carry all good wishes from the diocese.

On July 4, Mr. F. C. Brown and Dr. C. T. Kwei went to Sian, Kalgan and other places on an International Magnetic Survey.

Miss O. B. Tomlin returned to St. Hilda's School in the fall, after having volunteered for a year at St. Lois' School in Hankow during Miss Dawson's furlough.

On December 18, the Rev. T. P. Maslin was instituted as Chaplain of the Church of St. John the Evangelist in Hankow. (For English speaking people.)

Hope in the Midst of Tragedy. In reading the thirty-three reports from foreign members of our staff, and also the reports of our Chinese staff, in preparation for writing my own report, I have been struck over and over again by the note of profound hope which pervades all of them, in spite of the tragic situation which most of them have to record. I am convinced that this is not illusion, nor is it temperamental, least of all is it due to personally comfortable conditions, though the favorable exchange has lifted some heavy burdens this year, and in some cases has provided more than is normally needed for a family or individual. It is rather due to the influence of Jesus Christ, communion with God and the fellowship of Christians. Discouraging facts are squarely faced, but they are met with the faith which overcomes the world.

Distinguished Visitors. The past year has brought us many distinguished and interesting visitors, the Dean of Canterbury (Dr. Hewlett Johnson), and Sir John Hope Simpson, who came on missions of help connected with the great flood of 1931; Dr. George Sherwood Eddy and Dr. Stanley Jones who led evangelistic campaigns; the League of Nations Commission headed by Lord Lytton investigating the Manchuria question; and the Laymen's Appraisal Commission making its observations of our Church life and missionary work. Each of these has made valuable contributions to the life of both the Church and the general community.

Church Life and Work

Staff. I am happy to report a minimum of interruptions to work on account of ill health during the year. The work for women has been noticeably improved by the supervision of Deaconess Stewart, and in spite of failure to develop a training institution in cooperation with the Wesleyan and London Missions, we have good hope for the discovery and appropriate training, in due course, of a better qualified staff of women for parish work, comparable to the steadily improving staff of women in educational and medical work. It is a satisfaction to have four first grade catechists in training at the Central Theological School in Nanking, even while the higher theological training of candidates for the ministry is interrupted by the closing of the Theological School at St. John's University and the lack of provision as yet for such training at Central China College. It is also a satisfaction to welcome the Rev. J. Em. Olsson and Mrs. Olsson to their work in Shasi where we have had no foreign workers since the Sisters of St. Anne had to leave in 1927.

Interruptions and Difficulties. In February, as indicated by my replies to cablegrams of inquiry from New York, the sovietizing of Hupeh Province seemed to have proceeded to an alarming degree. Huangpi, which is only some twenty miles from Hankow, was seriously threatened by the red armies, and our Church premises there were occupied by government troops eight times, eight days to a month each time. Until mid-summer the work reported last year as closed by activities of red armies or of bandits remained closed.

Re-occupation and Improved Conditions. In August the government troops began serious operations against the Red Armies in Hupeh, and in a few weeks cleared most of the province. Before the end of the year all our closed stations were re-occupied, with the exception of Wang Chia Ho and Chiaowei; and in the latter our difficulties are due to the unusually demoralized character of the country side rather than to external disturbances. Widely extended visits by the archdeacon and other workers indicate that while the process of sovietizing the province has no doubt gone deep, and disruptive elements have been driven away temporarily rather than permanently destroyed or removed, the masses of the people in these reoccupied areas are now deeply prejudiced against communist principles so far as they have experienced them in either theory or practice. Furthermore, the tide of revolutionary thought and anti-religion has distinctly slowed down, and there is widespread expectancy of help from religious forces, especially from Christianity. The improvement in Hupeh is more than matched in Hunan, where, as the Rev. Walworth Tyng reports, the province has enjoyed a year of real peace and order. I believe Dr. Stanley Jones is right in saying that a period of unparalleled opportunity for Christian evangelism in China is now before the Church. "Well-qualified Evangelism," to use the term so well chosen in Rethinking Missions, is now the supreme gift required at the hands of the Christian forces in China.

Land Purchases and Building. Dangers and insecurity have not halted the effort to equip the Church with land and buildings required for the work. Very valuable property has been secured in the very center of Changteh. Pinghsiang, Kiangsi, has at last been opened for our work by the purchase of a suitable property within the city walls. The Church at Shasi at last has been presented (by foreign friends) with a small but highly desirable site near the Customs House, where foreign business interests are centered. The Church General Hospital, through what we may well call financial generalship on the part of Dr. James, has at last secured the "Barbers Guild Site," which was in danger of purchase by undesirable neighbors, but which now rounds out our land to the great advantage of the hospital. A notable piece of rebuilding is nearing completion at Changsha, where a gift by our generous friend, the Rev. George L. Paine, has made possible the reconstruction of Trinity School, which the Communists burned in the summer of 1930.

"The Three Self Principles." Some clever group of Christians has devised a title for a Christian program corresponding to the political program set forth in Dr. Sun Yat-sen's "Three People's Principles," San Min Chu I, and now this has become widely current in the Church—"The Three Self Principles," which means Self-Government, Self-Support, and Self-Propagation. I welcome this as a real step forward in the understanding, definition and application of characteristically Christian knowledge, love and power in the Chinese Church.

I am happy to report that progress is being made in the application of these principles in several parishes, especially in Ichang, under the Rev. Nelson E. P. Liu, and in Changsha, St. Michael's, Wuchang, and All Saints', St. John the Baptist, and the Cathedral, Hankow. I quote with satisfaction the following from the report of Mr. F. C. Brown, Mr. Walker's assistant and our diocesan treasurer:

"The greatest advance during the year I consider to be the actual functioning of the Diocesan Board of Finance. That body has now co-operated with me in stressing the necessity of a greater measure of self-help, which we hope to attain by a system of annual budgets and properly audited parish accounts. The Board has already sent a circular letter to all the clergy as a preliminary step in their education and co-operation in this matter, and is having each parish send in a budget for 1933. From these budgets the Board hopes to get an idea of the financial strength of each parish, and this will serve as the basis for the preparation of a Diocesan Budget for 1934.

Another forward step has been the preparation of a standard account book for the use of the Mission Primary Schools. Bishop Gilman is co-operating in making it necessary for each school to submit its accounts to me for audit at the end of each term.

Monthly audits have been inaugurated for the Church General Hospital, the Architect's Office, Boone School, and St. Lois' and the Choir School."

Literature and Literacy. Even missionaries need to be encouraged to read. Very few of us read enough of the books and magazines which would greatly increase our usefulness if we read more systematically. I welcome the evidence of stimulating reading in the report of Father Souder who writes of the "Liberal Catholicism which will Christianize socialism and socialize Christianity." I value also the work reported by Deaconess Stewart and Mr. Olsson in the discovery of good books in Chinese for the instruction and general reading of our colleagues in Church work and the general Christian and non-Christian public with whom we are in touch. It is a good thing for us to take our part in the work of the Religious Tract Society as we are through the work of Mr. F. C. Brown and Deaconess Stewart on its Board of Directors and as we did through the four months' work of the Rev. C. L. Pickens in the R.T.S. Office before Dr. Darroch came to take up for a year the General Secretaryship which the Rev. George Clayton had to lay down a year ago. We all of us rejoice in the literary work which the Rev. Yin Tsz-hen and the Rev. James Tsang are doing and the stimulus to the Literary Movement which is being given in Central China by the Rev. Paul T. T. Seng. I am particularly grateful for the important work Mrs. George Woodward has made possible by her gift for the provision of Christian literature for the newly literate. Mr. and Mrs. Pickens are rendering a wide service by editing, "Friends of Moslems." I hope other members of our circle will carry through the kind of work the Rev. Walworth Tyng reports as having finished this year with the help of the Rev. Paul C. K. Wang, namely four important articles for the Chinese edition of the Dictionary of Christ and the Gospels.

Faith and Works. Flood relief work has continued to command some of the best strength of the diocese. We have co-operated as we were able in helping the Government with its plan to meet Communist violence and hatred with constructive measures of emergency and rural relief, the promotion of co-operatives among farmers, and particularly through the work of the Rev. S. C. Huang and his staff of helpers who have been responsible for carrying forward the work for literally thousands of refugees at the Futai Yamen in Wuchang. Mr. Huang is the Diocesan Executive Council's Secretary for Evangelism;—in this particular work I think both he and the diocese have been showing their faith by their works.

Education

Our educational work is reported elsewhere in detail. I would here note only a few points in regard to each of its main departments, calling attention first to the evidence in the reports of workers sent herewith to the difficulty of maintaining standards, as pointed out especially in Mr. E. P. Miller's report, and to the consciousness of a tendency to be combatted in China as elsewhere,—the tendency for educational institutions and work to become insulated from the life and requirements of the general community. This means that we are at least in some measure ready for the constructive changes mentioned as desirable in the Laymen's Report.

Primary Schools. Bishop Gilman's report states that:

"The most striking fact in connection with the educational work is that at the conclusion of this term, 3,088 children in our primary schools are to be examined by our central office and that 2,739 of these have been studying Scripture whereas 349 have elected to study Civics."

The reports also show that in general, while our freedom is somewhat restricted, the terms of our registration and the general condition of our primary school work leave the effectiveness of these primary schools in religious education at least as great as they ever have been. In no case are we hindered in conducting Sunday services, Sunday school, and daily chapel services, and though attendance is voluntary, not compulsory, sometimes the entire student body attends, and in all schools the attendance of students has been good.

A further interesting item is that funds for the schools have come "From Mission Appropriation, about $14,000 each semester, and From Students' Fees, about $17,000 each semester."

Middle Schools. We have been exceedingly fortunate in finding Chinese leadership for our Middle Schools. Without Chinese principals we could not have continued at all. Nevertheless the need for keeping up the foreign personnel of the staffs in all these schools is obvious and needs constant emphasis. I quote Deaconess Clark's report as voicing wise and weighty opinion on these points. She says, "We owe it to those willing and courageous enough to be pioneers at St. Hilda's in Chinese leadership, to do all in our power to make their work possible. I have every faith in the future of the school as it develops from year to year, if only the staff is kept up to even its present standards." The report of Miss Dorothy Tso, who has been principal of St. Hilda's since June 1932, calls attention to the fact, which would have been quite beyond attainment in even the near past, that there are now six Chinese women college graduates on the staff. Her report deserves particular notice because of the evidence as to not only the sound educational standards for which she strives, but also as to the high moral and spiritual purpose which pervades her work. In this connection I would note also the fact reported by Miss Cox, under whose leadership much of the religious activity of the school in the neighboring villages had been conducted by St. Hilda's girls:—"The first of the villagers near St. Hilda's has decided to be a Christian."

Central China (Huachung) College. Another year of experience in the actual work of Central China College, where our higher educational work is affiliated with that of Yale in China, the Wesleyan Mission, the London Mission and the Reformed Church of America confirms our judgment that we are on the right track in this important enterprise. The report of Dr. Francis C. M. Wei, President of the College, shows steady progress in the development of both the faculty and the student body, and indicates the urgent need that our own mission fill up its contribution to the faculty, for we provide less than one third of the staff, whereas we were supposed to supply at least half. The following from the Rev. C. F. Whiston's report is encouraging:

"The second year as chaplain has seen the beginning of a steadily increasing activity and response on the part of the students. Twenty-two out of the total number of thirty-four Sheng Kung Hui students are taking active and regular interest in the religious life; servers' guild, altar guild, discussion groups and daily liturgical chapel services (largely taken by the students themselves). Students who last year would have nothing to do with religion are this year taking parts of leadership. Many of the students are doing regular religious reading. A new spirit is certainly manifest at the college."

Medical Work

Church General Hospital. Reports of the Church General Hospital staff are full of most interesting information, and Dr. James' report deals with some of the criticisms of the Layman's Report so satisfactorily, as far as our work is concerned, that I quote the following sentences. She says:

"While I ardently believe in scientific efficiency, and would urge the churches at home to do their utmost to make such possible in all mission hospitals maintained, I have myself been ill often enough to know that there is a kind of care, which albeit not quite 'A Grade' scientifically, cures a patient more effectively than the best administrations of cold science.

"I am glad the Commission appointed by the Laymen's Foreign Missions Inquiry, has stressed the often too much neglected side of scientific efficiency in mission hospitals, but I think we must bear equally in mind the deeper purpose of our medical work, which all too easily can be crowded to the wall. The point should be kept especially in view when sending out new missionaries from home. While it is true that Christian ideals demand we give our best, including scientific efficiency, it is quite as easy to become so 'careful and troubled about many things' on the professional side, that we fail to make our hospitals centers of spiritual life, radiating out the light that will really enlighten the hearts of patients and workers. Of course, gentleness, kindness, and a true sympathy towards our patients and associates, count for more than words alone, which are hollow mockery if denied by our way of life, but both means of communicating the truth are needed. I cannot agree with the Commission that there should not be any public services in the wards and dispensaries ('Re-Thinking Missions' p. 201). Of course, no one with the true spirit of Christ will cram religious doctrine down the throats of helpless patients, and there may be times and places when public teaching is not advisable. However, I have been holding 'Prayers' (including Bible reading, teaching, prayers and singing) publicly in our wards ever since I came to Wuchang in 1914, and have never so far, even in the Communist winter of 1926-27, had reason to think any patient resented it. On the other hand, I am often surprised at the attention with which the patients listen. But I limit such services to fifteen minutes, and consider it important to avoid prolonged reading, preaching or prayers.

"This question I have taken up rather fully both because the world developments in recent years have made the spiritual side of medical work especially difficult, and also because of the opinion expressed by these commissioners. I quote from p. 212 of 'Re-Thinking Missions.' 'The missionary in charge of a hospital in the past tried to serve in two capacities as evangelist and as doctor. One result has been that, in his efforts to reach as many persons as possible he has tended to admit to the wards, but especially to the out-patient department, far more patients than he could adequately care for.' The strong implication is that he has done it for the purpose of evangelism. That we have all tried to handle more patients than it was possible to do satisfactorily goes almost without saying, but I had always supposed it was because we did not know how to turn needy sufferers away. Picture yourself out here in a busy clinic, as an overworked doctor, and think how you would go about turning into the street all those sufferers whom you felt too tired to treat with full scientific efficiency, but to whom you might give a great deal of relief, even cure. Then recall Dr. Wm. Jeffery's story of the last patient in just such a clinic, the man who was 'one of the least of these,' Christ's brethren. Isn't the answer rather so to staff and equip our mission hospitals that the doctors and other workers may be able to give the best, both spiritually and professionally? Of course, one must hope for a certain amount of sanctified common sense in regulating the work, and I do think that there should be at least one person to attend primarily to the spiritual side of things, so that the professional workers would not need to give an undue amount of time to direct evangelism."

These quotations, I believe, represent the opinion of all our missionaries on the issues mentioned.

days, treatment given, 56,971; average daily number of patients 155; average stay per patient, 16 days. Out-patients, new clinic patients, 13,332; old clinic patients 22,350; out-calls for physicians 159; for midwives 92; for nurses 325. Obstetrical cases, in-patients 145; out-patients 21. Operations performed: in surgical and gynecological departments 351; in eye, ear, nose and throat department 102. Local receipts from patients $63,412.02. Appropriation $16,815.98 (silver). Tuition fees $1,050. Gifts from local Chinese friends would doubtless be considerable if times were normal. As it was in 1932, the staff was not organized to solicit subscriptions and local friends were also harassed by exceedingly difficult conditions.

Wuhan Medical Social Service. Miss Tetley's report is published with that of the Church General Hospital, and shows Dr. C. P. Pen co-operating with Miss Tetley and six Chinese nurses for the whole year, with four other doctors from the Church General Hospital, Wuchang, and the Union Hospital, Hankow, also co-operating since September. They served 14 schools and 2,078 students, making 1,985 physical examinations, treating 609 cases of trachoma, giving 1,664 vaccinations for small pox and cholera inoculations (including parishioners and school staff) 2,820. This service, Dr. James reports, has proven its worth and won both appreciation and co-operation from teachers, students and parents. Every student now accepts small pox vaccination as routine. In 1930, only about 60% would come. Another gain is that now a regular medical fee is contributed from each school towards expenses.

Miscellaneous Observations

Mr. Pickens' special interest in work for Mohammedans took him on a trip to Sian in Shensi. After his visit he writes: "Islam and Nestorianism came to Sian together. All that remains of the latter is a monument; of the former 50,000, one third of the city's population."

Mr. Brown says of his and Dr. C. T. Kwei's observations at Sian in July and on the Huachung Campus, Wuchang, "This work is a very valuable contribution to the science of terrestrial magnetism and the study of the changes taking place in the interior of the earth. The observing station in Wuchang is the only place between Shanghai and Dehra Dun, India, a distance of 2,600 miles, where regular readings are being made. This work brings the college in touch with scientific circles both abroad and in China itself."

The Rev. T. P. Maslin gives the major part of his time to work among foreigners in Hankow in connection with his chaplaincy at the Church of St. John the Evangelist. This is an exceedingly difficult and almost heart-breaking work; but it is a vital part of the Church's task, and as such commands the support of the whole mission.

Personal Report

During the year 1932, I confirmed 126 women and girls and 88 men and boys, a total of 214 persons, at 19 Confirmation Services; I ordained 2 priests; instituted 1 minister. I celebrated Holy Communion 25 times, taking the Bishop's part in the service on 34 other occasions, and conducted other Prayer Book services 11 times. I conducted Quiet Days or other times of retreat on 9 occasions, with a total of 20 meditations, and preached or made addresses 92 times.

I have served on the Standing Committee of the Chung Hua Sheng Kung Hui and have been chairman of its Committee on Unity and a member of its Committee on Religious Education. As Honorary Secretary of the National Christian Council I have attended its Executive Committee Meetings.

I was chairman of the Hupeh Christian Council Preparation Committee, of the Hankow Poor Relief Committee and of the Board of Directors of the Union Hospital, and have continued a member of the Board of Managers of the Kuling American School and of several committees having in hand the rehabilitation of the distressed districts of Hupeh Province. I also presided at the Kuling Convention of 1932.

Besides usual journeys to Shanghai for meetings connected with the National Christian Council, I made two unusual journeys outside the diocese: One to Shensi and Kansu, May 12 to June 1, in company with the Dean of Canterbury, famine relief projects of the China International Famine Relief Commission in road making and in irrigation; and the other to Tokyo, November 5-15, in order to attend, as a fraternal delegate from the N. C. C. of China the Annual Meeting of the N. C. C. of Japan. Both these journeys I think were well worth while.

LOGAN H. ROOTS,
Bishop of Hankow

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF CUBA

The Missionary District of Cuba includes the Island of Cuba and the Isle of Pines. It has an area of 44,164 square miles and a population of 4,000,000. The district within its present bounds was established by the General Convention in 1904. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Hiram R. Hulse, D.D., consecrated on January 12, 1915.

The appropriation for 1932 is $69,983. The appropriation aids in maintaining work in 65 stations.

MISSIONARY STAFF.—Bishop, 1; Priests (foreign 5, native 12), 17; Deacons (native), 2; Lay Readers (foreign 3, native 20), 23; Catechists, 2; Teachers, men (foreign 2, native 1), 3; Teachers, women (foreign 9, native 21), 30.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

THE Church in Cuba has suffered from two major catastrophes during 1932.

The first was the earthquake in Santiago de Cuba in February. This destroyed the homes of many of our members. It shattered the walls of St. Luke's in Sueno so that the buildings virtually had to be rebuilt. It also shattered the walls of St. Mary's to such an extent that the south wall had to be taken down and rebuilt and other portions of the building patched up.

The shock was so severe that people were afraid to go out to church and many of them afraid to spend the night in their own houses. For several months many people slept out doors. This interrupted our services, and it was several months before conditions became normal. School work was carried on under disadvantages and both St. Luke's and St. Mary's had to close for a time while repairs were being made.

Mr. Mancebo was his own contractor and the total cost of the repairs in money was a little over $500. This low cost was due to the fact that many people who could not give money, gave their labor.

The second catastrophe was the cyclone which swept over the Province of Camaguey in November.

This destroyed the homes of over a thousand of our members. It blew over the churches in Cespedes, Woodin and La Gloria and the rectory in La Gloria. It damaged our buildings in Moron, Camaguey and Ceballos. We rent buildings for worship in Sibanicú, Florida, and Ciego de Avila. These buildings were injured and our furniture was ruined.

The people were already in great distress on account of lack of work and in the larger towns many of them were half starved. They could do little in the way of rebuilding and the catastrophe left many stunned and discouraged.

Services were not interrupted for a single Sunday. In Cespedes the missionary tore out a partition between two rooms in his rectory and made a room large enough to hold sixty people and services were held here the following Sunday.

In Woodin, the missionary rescued some of the furniture from the destroyed church and arranged a room for services in the house in which he and his family took refuge after the destruction of the rectory. Services have been held regularly here ever since.

In La Gloria the missionary secured the use of a room in one of the few houses left and had services there, and he and his family lived in two rooms of this house. They lost all their furniture and all the clothing they owned except what they had on at the time.

The churches in Moron and Ceballos were quickly restored at little cost and services went on as usual. The rented buildings in Ciego de Avila and Florida were put in shape for us and we hammered together the furniture as best we could and services were not interrupted for a single Sunday. It was impossible to restore the building at Sibanicú and the owner gave us the temporary use of another. Here most of our congregation has to stand due to lack of pews.

Both these catastrophes were followed by a temporary improvement in the economic condition of our people due to the work provided in rebuilding with funds which came in from outside. But within a couple of months things were worse than ever.

In spite of these material disadvantages, or perhaps, because of them, our work has been unusually successful on the spiritual side. At least so far as the evidence of figures show.

In Oriente, Archdeacon Lopez kept on with his ministrations to scattered Americans and Jamaicans in different sugar mills and was invited to three new stations. He reported at the end of the year ten stations where he had been ministering during the year.

The work in Guantánamo and Santiago has gone on as usual in spite of earthquakes and shifting population.

For the last few years, so far as possible, we have concentrated new work in the Province of Camaguey. Several steps in advance have been taken here during the year. New missions have been opened in Jiqui and Florencia. The missions in Ciego de Avila and Nuevitas have been reopened.

We now have regular services in thirteen different centers in the province and occasional services in other places.

The opening of the new church in Camaguey was the great event of the year in this province. Built through the gifts of the Woman's Auxiliary in the Diocese of New York, it occupies a prominent place on one of the main streets of the city. It is a beautiful structure calculated to attract the attention of the passerby. It was consecrated on the 8th of April with a representative congregation, gathered from all parts of the province. It will be a great help, not only in the city of Camaguey itself, but as that is the center, throughout the province.

The school building at the rear of the church, erected at the same time, has already proved its usefulness. Under the skillful direction of Mr. Paul Tate, the school has been constantly growing. Both the school and the old church building are in use as meeting places for the various societies connected with the church and neighborhood. They were centers for the distribution of relief during the months after the cyclone.

The work in the Province of Santa Clara continues as before. It is confined to the two cities of Cienfuegos and Sagua la Grande. We have been invited to open work in other places but the economy program has forced us to decline.

The work in the Province of Matanzas has shown great growth during the year. Mr. Piloto has established two successful missions in Itabo and San Vicente. These are country towns where no religious services have been held for a long time.

Mr. Tuzzio, from Bolondron as a center, has been reaching out to neighboring communities which had been neglected and has gathered remarkable congregations in several places. His record of Baptisms is unusual. As is always the case when we enter a neglected town the Roman Church gets busy and follows us up. This has been noted in both Itabo and Bolondron. In the more remote places which are difficult to reach we are not apt to be molested.

In the Province of Havana things have gone on as usual. The cathedral continues to lose members as Americans and English people return home because there is nothing here for them to do. We are constantly finding new members, however. Though their means are limited and financially they are a liability rather than an asset they are people to be looked after and when times improve they will be ready to help us.

Changes Among the Clergy

The Rev. Vicente A. Tuzzio was restored to the ministry by Bishop Manning and transferred to Cuba the first of January. He was placed in charge of the work in Bolondron with which he was already familiar as a lay reader.

Dr. M. Rodriguez Ponce was ordained to the diaconate on January 3, and was given charge of the missions in Los Arabos and Colon in March.

In March it became necessary to make a general shift of the clergy. The Rev. Pablo Munoz was sent to Cienfuegos and Sagua la Grande. The Rev. S. E. Carreras was sent from Santa Cruz del Norte to take Mr. Munoz' place in Camaguey. The Rev. G. G. Zermeno was sent from Los Arabos to Santa Cruz del Norte and the Rev. Dr. Ponce was sent to Los Arabos.

During the summer, Archdeacon Townsend moved from Ciego de Avila to Nuevitas; where he established his home in the new mission.

The Rev. Jorge H. Piloto was ordained as a presbyter on June 19, and was continued in charge of the work in Cardenas and adjoining towns.

The statistical tables show a gratifying increase in the number of Baptisms, Confirmations and communicants. The increase in communicants is partly to be accounted for by the cyclone and earthquake. Many Church members among the Jamaicans sought us out when they got in trouble. Some of them we will be able to hold, but I am afraid that we will not be able to report so many communicants next year as this. Many of the best among our Jamaican members have gone back home.

The large Confirmation classes, however, were among the Cuban congregations and we will undoubtedly be able to hold the great majority of them in the Church, though as they move around they may be lost to us temporarily.

This increase in numbers has gone along with a very considerable decrease in contributions. This year the contributions came to less than $8,000, of which considerably more than half came from the congregation at the cathedral.

The springs of our financial resources have been gradually drying up, due to the moving away of so many Americans, and the fact that the Cubans, among whom we have been most successful, have no money.

So far as I can see this condition is likely to continue. An economic readjustment is going on here which involves a distinct lowering of living standards. People are being forced from the cities by starvation; they are going back to the deep country; here they can live in palm-thatched shacks; the younger children can go naked and the older children be clothed in flour sacks, the older people frequently in rags. They squat on land which does not belong to them and raise enough food out of the ground to live on.

In these remote places there are no schools, so the children are growing up in ignorance. School teachers have not been paid for months and are losing heart. People in the towns have no money and cannot pay their taxes and the government is taking their furniture out of their houses.

At a visitation I made to a town of 5,000 there was a Confirmation class of ten and a congregation of about eighty and the offering was two cents. I have no doubt that someone went without coffee the next morning because of that offering.

In the face of this universal poverty and distress opportunities to enter new fields multiply to an embarrassing extent. I have just had to turn down two very promising invitations because there was no money in sight to carry on the work.

In the book "Re-Thinking Missions" much emphasis is given to the need of throwing the responsibility for self-support upon the native churches. If that is the end and aim of our work here we will not realize it in our time.

I have consistently held that up before our members as one of the objects for which we must strive. But I also hold that our main object here is to advance the Kingdom of God, of which the Church is the inspiring center.

If we can teach the young, comfort the downhearted, give new strength to the discouraged, encourage the poverty stricken to stand on their own feet, and inspire the community with a sense of responsibility, then we will be doing the work of the Church.

We are making progress and the work will continue in spite of difficulties and as the Church is one, whether in New York or Havana, what we are able to accomplish here will have its repercussions in the work everywhere in spite of the fact that we are so far from self-support.

A table of comparative statistics is appended.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

The Dominican Republic is not a missionary district as such, but at the General Convention in New York in 1913 the House of Bishops passed a resolution to the effect that the Bishop of Puerto Rico take jurisdiction over "such Christian people in Santo Domingo as may have asked or may hereafter ask for his pastoral oversight." At a special meeting of the House of Bishops in New York, June 1, 1927, ecclesiastical jurisdiction was transferred from the Bishop of Puerto Rico to the Bishop of Haiti, effective January 1, 1928. The Bishop-in-charge is the Rt. Rev. Harry Roberts Carson, D.D., consecrated January 10, 1923.

The appropriation for 1932 is $15,666. The appropriation aids in maintaining work in 12 stations.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP-IN-CHARGE FOR THE YEAR 1932

I HAVE the honor to submit herewith my annual report for the year ending, December 31, 1932, of the unorganized field in the Dominican Republic.

The Rev. William Wyllie whose name has been associated with the work from its inauguration, in the early part of 1918, retired at Easter, upon the completion of the new Church of the Epiphany, Santo Domingo City. He has rendered faithful and earnest service in the name of the Church and justly deserves the esteem and affection in which he is held.

It will be recalled that in the early part of September, 1930, a disastrous cyclone visited Santo Domingo City, causing great loss of life and property. Among the losses were the residence of the Rev. Mr. Wyllie and the Church of the Epiphany, which had just been completed and in which was to have been held the first service ten days later. The destruction of the two properties necessitated a change in plans, the site for the church being abandoned altogether and a desirable property purchased as a rectory.

Today we have a most attractive and valuable property, the new church on the main avenue of the city, the site of the former rectory, and the priest's home immediately adjoining.

The Rev. Dr. Victor Lyle Dowdell who has been dean of the Theological Seminary at San Juan, Puerto Rico, has been loaned to me by the Bishop of Puerto Rico and has been officiating, to the great satisfaction of everyone, in Santo Domingo City, since early in November. In February, he will be definitely associated with this field.

In September of this year, another cyclone visited this field but, happily, with less disastrous results than that of 1930. The Church of St. Gabriel's, on the Central Consuelo, near San Pedro de Macoris, a building of wooden construction, was destroyed. Steps were taken at once for its rebuilding, with a surplus of funds received soon after the earlier cyclone. The new building is at this writing almost completed. It promises to be substantially built and much more attractive than the former building.

In this extensive field, centering around San Pedro de Macoris, the Rev. Mr. Beer has now the help of a layman who, at the same time, is continuing his studies looking forward to the ministry of the church, Mr. Thomas O. Basden.

Another young man has offered himself for the ministry, a native Dominican, so that now, for the first time, we have both a postulant and a candidate, and both proficient in the Spanish language.

I recommend that steps be taken at the next General Convention for the formal organization of this field as a Missionary District of the Church.

During the past year, I have visited the Dominican Republic five times, once by automobile and at other times by airplane.

Bishop-in-Charge

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF HAITI

The Missionary District of Haiti is coterminous with the Republic of Haiti, approximately 10,000 square miles and 2,300,200 population. Under concordat, dated November 3, 1874, between the American Episcopal Church and the Episcopal Church of Haiti, organization as a National Church was effected. Subsequently, surrendering its autonomy as the Eglise Orthodox Apostolique Haitienne, it was created a Missionary District of the American Church at the General Convention in 1913. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Harry Roberts Carson, D.D., consecrated January 10, 1923.

The appropriation for 1932 is $29,184 and aids in maintaining work in 52 missions.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

IN presenting herewith my annual report as Bishop of Haiti, for the year ending December 31, 1932, I realize that it is the completion of ten years' service in this field. So I desire, first, to express my gratefulness for the privilege of service in this land and among a people whom I have come to respect, believe in and love, and then, of my appreciation of this period of happy relationship with your own office and the different Departments of the National Council with which I have been brought in contact.

It is a moment for renewed pledge of devotion and confidence in the Church's message. I do not share in the conception of the Church's Mission that has been presented in the cleverly advertised and widely circulated, "Re-Thinking Missions." I am not ready to accept the purported facts so confidently asserted in this book and, necessarily, I am not discouraged by the conclusions. I realize the harm that has been done to the whole cause of Missions but we shall be of good courage and fear not.

During the past year there have been no changes among the clergy calling for comment, with the exception of reporting the ordination of Mr. Abner Buteau to the diaconate, January 21, last. Immediately after his ordination, he joined the Rev. Felix Dorleans Juste at Cayes and has already made good report of his ministry by opening up a new mission at Massey and reviving two remote missions; one at Macombe and the other at Ravine à l'Anse.

I want to give sincere witness to the faithfulness of the clergy of this district to their arduous work. With their brethren elsewhere they have cheerfully kept at their respective tasks in the midst of very keen suffering looking hopefully towards a brighter day.

In mid-summer last, the old building, erected in the early days of the present century, and which served as the poor and ineffective symbol of the faith of this Church and, later, as a girls' school, was taken down and the eye-sore removed from observation. Underneath its floor, Bishop Holly had been buried in 1911 and the grave was uncovered by the demolition of the building. The remains, however, were undisturbed. The grave has been suitably enclosed by an iron railing and has constant care from those who knew and respected him. While it is in the yard of the Children's Home it adds to, rather than detracts from the surroundings which are becoming more and more beautiful.

The Children's Home is now very largely under the care of native women workers but they have always the oversight and wise advice of the Sisters of St. Margaret. The children are splendid specimens of what our missions are undoubtedly producing everywhere.

On St. Michael's Day, the Grace Merritt Stewart Memorial School for Girls was solemnly blessed by the Bishop in the presence of a very large assembly and at the opening of the scholastic year the following week, its helpful use was begun. We were happy to have had with us Major James R. Stewart, a Vestryman of old Trinity Church, New York City, the generous donor of the funds, and certain members of his family. We were happy to receive assurance of his entire satisfaction with the building and our plans for its use—the lower floor as a day school and the upper floor as a training school for women workers, either for those intending to try their vocation for what is known as the Religious Life or for others who desire to be trained for other forms of Church service.

It has given us a place, too, where from time to time we may hold Retreats and Quiet Days for women without interruption of the regular cathedral services.

A delightful feature of the work of the day school is the daily attendance of the children upon the cathedral services. Being so closely situated to the cathedral, the children go first into their assembly hall, then into the cathedral, where a shortened form of Matins is read by one of our theological students. The school is definitely a Church school.

Appreciative mention should be made of the work that is being done among the foreign colony, particularly American, English and German, by Dean Kroll. To his other activities, he adds the Presidency of the American School Board. He is in charge of a Church school numbering well over 100, at the barracks of the U. S. Marines. In this work, all his helpers are members of the Church. At the moment of writing this report, there is no Navy Chaplain at this Post, and Dean Kroll has taken over the responsibility of Sunday night services at the barracks.

So the Dean, the Sisters, the native clergy, the teachers of the Grace Merritt Stewart School, lead busy and profitable lives. I am thankful to have them as associates.

Because it witnesses to the esteem in which the Church is held in this land, may I mention here that the President of the Republic of Haiti has been good enough to confer on the Bishop of Haiti the decoration of Commandeur of the national Order of Honneur et Merite, in recognition of the appreciation by the Government of the eminent services rendered to the country. Among other reasons for appreciating this decoration is that it has given so much satisfaction and pleasure to our people of the Church in Haiti.

OUR MISSION IN JAPAN

I. MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF KYOTO

The Missionary District of Kyoto includes the Prefectures of Kyoto, Osaka (that very small part centering around Kishiwada), Wakayama, Nara, Shiga, Mie, Fukui, Ishikawa and Toyama, having a population of about 8,000,000. The district was established by General Convention in 1898. Its area was slightly decreased in 1923 through the establishment of the independent Diocese of Osaka. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Shirley H. Nichols, consecrated April 13, 1926.

The appropriation for 1932 is $159,395. The appropriation aids in maintaining work in 24 stations and substations.

MISSIONARY STAFF.—Bishop, 1; Priests (foreign 6, native 28), 34; Deacons (native), 7; Catechists, 10; Physicians (foreign 1, native 5), 6; Native Assistants, 10; Teachers (native men 27, women 35; foreign women 5), 67; Women Workers: Foreign evangelistic 9, medical 2, educational (also included under teachers) 5, total 16; Native Bible-women, 12; Nurses, 22.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

IN the course of 1932 the following members of the staff returned to the United States on furlough:

March 31—Miss Hallie R. Williams.
March 31—Miss Helen Skiles.
April 7—The Rev. H. Reynolds Shaw.
July 11—Miss Margaret Hester.
Aug. 12—The Rev. H. Roderick Jackson.
Oct. 31—Miss Frances E. Jean.

The following members returned from furlough:

Nov. 20—Miss Helen J. Disbrow.
Sept. 22—Miss Edith L. Foote.

Miss Etta S. McGrath left in November, retiring from the mission. We report this fact with sincere regret, and wish to express the deep appreciation, not only of the Bishop, but of all members of the mission staff for the excellent service which she rendered as Bishop's secretary.

Japanese Staff

I report with deep regret the death of the Rev. Eisaburo Tsutsui, priest, on April 9; also the death of the Rev. Tomejiro Katayama, deacon, on May 24. Both of these men had served long and faithfully. The fruits of their work are abundant and lasting. May they rest in peace!

The Rev. Torakichi Kwan, one of our oldest and most efficient clergy, was obliged, from about August 1, to rest completely from his work because of illness. We rejoice in his gradual improvement.

Just at the end of the year, in response to a most urgent request from the Central Theological College, and from all the bishops, I felt obliged to release the Rev. Matsutaro Okajima from his work at Fukui to take up important work in the Theological College.

The following transfers were made within the year:

The Rev. Hidemasa Yoshimoto, from St. Mary's Church, Kyoto, to Kaya, to take the Rev. Eisaburo Tsutsui's place.
The Rev. A. Shigezo Hoyo, from Sakurai to St. Mary's Church, Kyoto.
Mr. Shuzo Okamoto, from Church of the Resurrection, Kyoto, to Sakurai.

The following men were ordained:

- Mr. Kazuo Nishikawa, ordained deacon, February 11.
The Rev. Kiyoo Hamada, ordained priest, on St. Thomas' Day, December 21.

The following Biblewomen were added to the staff:

- Miss Yoshiko Higashi.
Mrs. Hide Noda.

Evangelistic

Hokuriku Deanery. In spite of Mr. Shaw's absence, the Toyama congregation has shown increased activity, largely due to the faith and energy of several newly added young men. The Sunday school is splendid.

The Kanazawa church has shown steady and gradual improvement, both in things spiritual and things material.

The readjustments made at Fukui very early in the year are producing the good results hoped for. The kindergarten in its new location is developing rapidly and well. The beautiful new church was consecrated April 29, and the congregation goes forward with new hope and courage.

The Tsuruga church is a remarkable fellowship of energetic young people and afflicted aged people. Its ministry in the community is admirable.

The Sunday school work at Hikone continues to grow in numbers, to grow in size, and to develop in method, laying foundations for a very strong future work in the Church. The congregation grows steadily.

The Smith Memorial Chapel, reported as under construction last year, was consecrated at Hikone in a very happy service on May 11.

Jakutan Deanery. Since the arrival of Miss Paine in Obama, the Sunday school, and particularly the kindergarten work, has shown gratifying progress.

The Rev. M. Murata of Shinmaizura, besides continuing an admirable work in his own stations, has splendidly directed the work in the field formerly cared for by the Rev. Eisaburo Tsutsui.

The Miyazu church has continued the good development reported a year ago.

Mie Deanery. At Yamada a new site was purchased in April. This new property is really adequate for a proper development of our work in this historic city. When the funds are available we look forward to erecting here a dignified and appropriate church, perhaps in Japanese style. Since the purchase of this property the congregation has shown a new hope and courage, and an increase in attendance is noticeable.

There is no new feature to be reported in the Church's work at Tsu, but I wish to note that the splendid group of Christians there continue a very harmonious fellowship within the Church, and active efforts for spreading the knowledge of Christ in the neighborhood.

Nara Deanery. The Nara church has continued its former excellent degree of self-support, and laid its plans and advanced its preparations for full self-support early in the year 1933.

A Chapter of St. Andrew's Brotherhood (the only one in the diocese) was formed in Nara during June.

The Tatsuta church, though standing in a very small community, shows a very commendable steady growth in members and in its contributions for the support of the church and pastor. The congregation regularly fills the small church now in use.

At Sakurai a temporary setback was noticeable at the time of Mr. Hoyo's transfer to Kyoto, but thanks to Mr. Okamoto's excellent work, the congregation, the Sunday school, the kindergarten and all other activities are continuing finely.

Wakayama Deanery. Most of the churches of this deanery are in very small and isolated communities, and have felt very keenly the difficulties inherent in the present hard times. They carry on their work courageously, nevertheless, and have certainly maintained status quo.

The church at Kishiwada particularly deserves commendation for carrying on all its obligations in spite of the loss of the ministry of Mr. Kwan during the latter part of the year.

Thanks are also due to Mr. Yagi and Mr. Lloyd, of Wakayama, for their services in Mr. Kwan's stead.

Kyoto Deanery. All the churches of this group have worked faithfully and well. Their reaction to the conditions created by the reduction in mission aid has been particularly gratifying.

The Church of the Holy Trinity started a kindergarten on a self-supporting basis. St. Mary's Kindergarten attained full self-support. St. John's Kindergarten, though faced with a large Buddhist kindergarten nearby, has shown a steady increase in its numbers, and is doing good service in one of the worst sections of the city.

The Nishijin Kindergarten is full to its capacity. The Public Health Clinic has won a very gratifying measure of assistance from the city authorities, and has received gifts from individual residents of the neighborhood.

Diocesan

Mention should be made of two pieces of work which are carried on by groups spread through the whole diocese.

The first is the Japanese Woman's Auxiliary. It has been at work for many years, is well organized, and during the past year has maintained and advanced previous records. It sends large gifts direct to the Nippon Sei Ko Kwai's missionary enterprises in Formosa, contributes to the diocesan quota, as well as aiding frequently, as necessity arises, within each local church. Mrs. P. A. Smith, as diocesan President, and Mrs. Chiyo Sone, as Vice-President, directed the work admirably during 1932.

The second is a young and small organization, but one full of fine possibilities for the diocese. It is called Seinen Kyoreikwai, is made up of young men and aims at establishing communication and co-operation among the geographically isolated young men's groups. Because of the great distances to be bridged and travel costs, the task is difficult, but an annual camp held for five years past has brought together a group of about thirty young men. The personal acquaintances and the common purposes there formed are already proving actual sources of present strength. For the future their significance is still greater. The Rev. Roderick H. Jackson has initiated, and wisely guided, this movement.

Statistics

The statistics for the year show a slight falling off in the total income and expenditures of the churches. This reflects the financial stringency which is being felt throughout the diocese, and indicates, also, that the people of the churches are holding their local expenses as low as possible. During the same period the contributions to the Pastoral Fund have increased five per cent.

Building Operations

As indicated before, during the two previous years, when building costs were lowest, we stretched our resources to the limit to secure the buildings most urgently needed. The only building left to be reported is the new building at Otsu. The precarious old building was torn down in 1931 and a new building was completed very early in 1932. This new building is a two-story frame building. The church is "in the upper room"; the kindergarten, so well started years ago by Miss Ambler, carries on in convenient quarters on the ground floor. The new building is so much more compact than the old that we now have adequate playground space.

This building was planned and begun largely on faith; we dared not face another winter under the old roof. While the building operations were proceeding, the Woman's Auxiliary, from its United Thank Offering at Denver, made a very generous gift of $14,000 for this building, fully covering all costs of the new building and enabling us, also, to purchase a new rectory.

Education

In St. Agnes' School for Girls, the High School Department holds up splendidly, both in attendance and quality. The Junior (Senkoku) Department has suffered seriously from causes born of hard times. All three of its courses, English, Domestic Science, and Kindergarten Training, prepare for teaching work. Continued hard times have brought it to pass that many teachers who heretofore gave up their teaching work upon marriage, now continue with their own work after marriage, consequently openings for new teachers are far fewer than before. The Kindergarten Training Department has been very fortunate in placing its graduates, and, therefore, has more applications each year than can be accepted.

The graduates of the other departments, however, have suffered great difficulty in finding work, and applications for entrance have, for that reason, decreased largely. Nevertheless, thanks to Dr. Hayakawa's very careful management, the finances of the school have gone on without deficit.

As regards the religious work of the school, weekly Bible classes and fortnightly addresses in the assembly room provide all the students with Christian instruction. In the Junior Department systematic instruction is included in the curriculum. There is continuous systematic instruction for enquirers through special classes. The Girls' Friendly Society and the choir guide the work and nurture the Christian life of Christian students. The Sunday services and daily chapel, attendance at which is voluntary, gather a very considerable number of girls for worship and for further instruction.

The Christian teachers and students continue the Sunday school for neighborhood children, which has an average attendance of 124.

To the beautiful Memorial Altar, reported last year, has been added an equally beautiful dorsal curtain, wainscoting, sanctuary sedilia and credence table, completing the equipment given by the Alumnae of the Pennsylvania Mission Study Class in memory of Mrs. Adeline Avery Pilsbry. We owe cordial thanks to Mr. J. v.W. Bergamini, architect, for the design and for the supervision of this whole memorial.

Kindergartens

The total enrollment in the diocesan kindergartens was greater by 72 in 1932, than it was in 1931. In 1932, one new kindergarten, the self-supporting kindergarten at Holy Trinity Church, Kyoto, was established, and this accounts for 26 of the increase in numbers. Hard times, reduced mission resources for maintenance, and steady increase in the number of large kindergartens attached to primary schools: these three factors have militated against our expansion. The advance recorded is proportionately gratifying, and testifies to the excellent quality of our kindergarten work.

Self-support for kindergartens, in the large cities is comparatively easy because high fees can be charged. In Kyoto, we have the additional advantage of having the daily aid of students of the Kindergarten Training Department of St. Agnes' School. In the small towns, however, fees must be set lower. The necessary number of teachers must be regularly paid, the number of children is usually less than in the cities, making self-support a more difficult problem.

The establishment of other kindergartens is often due to our rule of keeping numbers within reasonable limits, thus making it impossible for us to accommodate all the children in the town who wish to enter. Even where a public kindergarten of 200 children is in successful operation, the special advantages of our smaller institutions and the religious element in the work as we conduct it, usually attract the number of children we desire.

Our mission supervisors, Miss Disbrow and Miss Hester, cannot possibly give personal attention to all the kindergartens, but their work is very far-reaching, and to it is due in large part the present gratifying conditions. Miss Paine and Miss Powell, also, each in intimate association with one kindergarten, are both doing excellent work along this line.

Social Service and Medical

The Kyoto Day Nursery, in charge of Mrs. Sonobe, continues its excellent ministrations to an average of 50 children daily. Early in the year a new department was added to care for small infants. The new quarters necessary for this new department were made possible very largely by substantial gifts from government and private Japanese sources.

The Health Clinic of the Church of the Resurrection, at Nishijin, has already been referred to in connection with the Church.

St. Barnabas' Hospital is, of course, our outstanding piece of medical work. Last year I expressed my confidence that the staff of St. Barnabas' was then all set to do better work each year. That prophecy was splendidly fulfilled in 1932. There was no increase whatever in the staff. The statistics for the work show improvement as follows:

In-patient bed days	9,245	12,657
Dispensary visits.	10,087	15,814
Major operations.	14	21
Minor operations.	24	35
Maternity cases...	116	243
Earned income...Y39,640.00		Y48,262.00
(21% increase)

Other statistics for the medical work during the year are as follows:

St. Barnabas' Hospital, Osaka: Foreign physicians, men, 1; native physicians, men, 5; native physicians, women, 2; foreign women nurses 1; native women nurses 21; number of beds 70; in-patients 809; dispensary patients 2,941; medical fees 48,262 Yen; Value of property 395,909 Yen.

Church of the Resurrection Health Clinic, Nishijin: Native physicians, men, 3 (part time); native women nurse 1; dispensary patients 342; medical fees 119 Yen.

Hard work seems to have outweighed hard times.

A new pre-natal clinic, begun May 1, records 1,317 visits by patients to the hospital, as well as 826 visits to patients' homes.

Under existing economic conditions this is a record to be proud of. We here are proud of the staff which has done it. I would that there was space to list every name, for every doctor, nurse and office worker deserves large credit. I repeat my last year's hope that in spite of financial difficulties the Church in America will support the splendid staff and continue the hospital's work of healing.

SHIRLEY H. NICHOLS,
Bishop of Kyoto

II. MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF NORTH TOKYO

The Missionary District of North Tokyo extends from the City of Tokyo to the southern boundary of the prefectures of Fukushima and Iwaki a distance of 200 miles, and 200 miles in breadth, having a population of about 7,000,000. This district was established by the General Convention of 1898 as the Missionary District of Tokyo. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. John McKim, D.D., consecrated June 14, 1893. The Suffragan Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Charles S. Reifsnider, D.D., consecrated February 12, 1924.

The appropriation for 1932 is $204,148. The appropriation aids in maintaining work in 39 stations.

MISSIONARY STAFF.—Bishops, 2; Priests (foreign 5, native 19), 24; Deacons (native), 8; Candidates for Holy Orders (native), 8; Catechists, 8; Physicians (foreign 5, native 44), 49; Teachers (foreign, men 10, women 9; native, men 12, women 37), 68; Nurses (foreign 10, native 109), 119; Bible Women, 10; Secretary 1.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

MY report to the Presiding Bishop for the year 1932 has nothing startling or of great moment in the history of this District.

The only addition to the foreign staff has been the coming of Miss Caroline Bryant from the Diocese of Olympia, to be teacher of English and Physical Culture at St. Margaret's School, as successor to Miss Cornelia Everard, retired.

Our Japanese staff has been strengthened by the return to Japan of the Rev. Kikuzo Ando, after two years of post-graduate theological study of one year each at the General Theological Seminary, New York, and at Kelham Theological College, England. He was ordained priest on Trinity Sunday and was appointed as priest-assistant to the Rev. James Chappell, of Mito. There are four out-stations for which Mr. Chappell has been responsible and the coming of Mr. Ando gave him much assistance and relief in his many duties.

We rejoice with the people of Sukegawa, a large town in the Mito District, in the consecration of a well built, attractive church and parish hall and the rebuilding of the rectory. Our good people at Sukegawa are nearly all connected with a large copper smelting factory, and are zealous in their Church work. We hope that with the new equipment they will be helped in further ventures for the extension of the Kingdom of God in that district.

We are also rejoicing in the consecration of another church and parish house, not so large as that at Sukegawa, at Matsuyama, which is the smallest village in the district with a resident catechist. Its population is less than five thousand, but the good farming people and shop keepers, who form the congregation, are very zealous in making their light shine through their good works. There is also a flourishing kindergarten at Matsuyama which is visited at regular intervals by Miss Louisa Boyd, who resides at Kawagoe, about an hour distant by railway.

Because of our reduced appropriation we have been obliged to abandon one station, Isezaki, and retire the catechist, who has been given temporary employment in the Diocese of Tokyo.

So far as statistics are indications of growth, we thank God for the increase in a number of items over those for 1931. The number of Baptisms and Confirmations is larger and the financial figures show that despite the reduction of appropriations from abroad our Japanese have responded nobly in this emergency and their offerings show a very distinct increase.

Many schools, both government and private, report a large diminution in the number of students. We, on the contrary, are obliged to decline admission to many and have had a large waiting list.

Medical Work

III. MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF TOHOKU

October, 1920, the Missionary District of Tokyo was divided by setting apart the following northern prefectures: Fukushima, Miage, Iwata, Aomori, Akita and Yamagata as a separate District known as the District of Tohoku. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Norman S. Binsted, D.D., consecrated December 3, 1928.

The appropriation for 1932 is $68,130. The appropriation aids in maintaining work in 21 stations.

MISSIONARY STAFF.—Bishop, 1; Priests (foreign 2, native 13), 15; Deacon, 1; Deaconess (foreign) 1; Candidates for Holy Orders, (native) 1; Catechists, 8; Teachers (foreign women 5, native women 20), 25; Other Evangelistic Workers (foreign) women, 2; Bible Women, 7.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

THE past year in the Tohoku has been one of great economic stress. The population which for the most part depends upon farming for a living, has suffered terribly for the past two years from famines due to insufficient rain fall. This is especially true of the three northern prefectures of the Missionary District of the Tohoku. Impoverished by famine, they were in no condition to meet the added strain of a financial depression. The government has come to their assistance and the Christians in the more favored parts of Japan have contributed generously to the relief of their fellow countrymen in the famine stricken areas of the north.

The poverty of the rural areas in the Tohoku has reacted on the life of the larger towns and cities so that our people have been hard pressed to raise the customary support for the Church work. The total contributions during the past year diminished somewhat but no congregation has defaulted in its payments towards the pastor's salary.

Steady progress has been made in spite of financial handicaps. The Church is really moving forward, although it has been impossible, owing to the cuts in our budget, to take advantage of the many opportunities to open new work.

I visited all the mission stations at least twice during the past year and in addition made a number of trips to country villages for special group meetings and to call on our isolated Christians. Confirmation was administered at each church, and conferences held, with workers, vestries and congregations. I had prepared a history of each station and charts showing the growth, or lack of growth, of each congregation and with this material as a basis held conferences with the native workers and vestries. Together we analyzed the condition of each piece of work in the district and made plans for its future development.

In the early summer a conference of the Tohoku priests was held at Tsuruoka, when each man reported on the condition of his work and his methods of evangelization and organization. The purpose of this conference was to enable each man to make a spiritual and financial evaluation of his work and to give him an opportunity to compare his methods with his fellow priests. The results of this conference were most beneficial.

Other smaller group conferences were held from time to time and when a worker seemed to be in need of guidance or encouragement, he was invited to visit me and together we discussed the problems connected with his work. In the Tohoku, our men are so isolated that they have little opportunity for mutual encouragement or exchange of ideas so that these conferences are a very valuable part of our work. If there is one thing lacking in the native clergy, it is initiative and this lack must largely be supplied by the Bishop or the foreign workers. There are some notable exceptions to this general statement, however, and as our work becomes more firmly established we have good reason to hope that outstanding men, gifted with leadership and initiative, will be more numerous in the ministry than is now the case.

Foreign Clergy

At present we have two English priests and one American deacon on our staff. The Rev. Ernest R. Harrison and his family came to us from the District of South Tokyo more than a year ago on a temporary appointment. Mr. Harrison who has had sixteen years' experience in missionary work in Japan, is fluent in Japanese and is doing an excellent work in Akita. I am most grateful to the National Council for giving him a permanent appointment on the Tohoku staff. The Rev. W. H. Lewis, deacon, who graduated from the Virginia Seminary in June, arrived in Sendai with Mrs. Lewis in September. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis are devoting their time to the study of the Japanese language.

The Rev. W. F. Madeley has acted as chaplain and instructor at the Sendai Training School in addition to Sunday work at outstations. He retained his position as treasurer of the district until the end of December.

Native Clergy

There have been no additions to the native clergy. One catechist, who completed his course at the Central Theological Seminary in Tokyo, was appointed to work under the Rev. Timothy Nakamura in Hirosaki; and a graduate from the Training School in Sendai, was appointed as Biblewoman in Noshiro, where the growth of the work among women and children demanded an additional worker.

Three changes were made in the placement of native clergy. The Rev. I. Aoki was transferred to Yonezawa, Rev. H. Mori to Yamagata and the Rev. T. Kataoka to Fukushima.

Contrary to the opinion of some critics of foreign missions, the native and foreign priests in the Nippon Sei Ko Kwai have identical privileges and responsibilities. In this district only one native priest is working under a foreigner and he will be given full responsibility as soon as his experience and ability justify it. The relation of a priest to his bishop is the same irrespective of his nationality. We are never troubled by racial problems in the Tohoku. Our entire staff, both foreign and Japanese, work as a unit for the building up of the Master's Kingdom.

Last fall, the annual retreat of the clergy was held at a spa near Sendai. This year the clergy of the Tohoku were joined in their retreat by the clergy of North Tokyo. These retreats are financed and planned by the native workers. As an indication of the harmonious feeling existing between the native and foreign workers it is worth noting that every foreigner present was given a part on the program. We are proud of the feeling of Christian brotherhood which exists among us.

Lay Activities

The laity of the Tohoku have been most active during the past year. The annual convention of the Young Men's Society, attended by some forty delegates, was held in Fukushima. The president, a teacher in the Yonezawa Higher Commercial School, proved to be an able chairman. Moral, religious and political questions came up for discussion and plans were made to have every chapter assist the local pastor in his work especially among young men. As one watched these young men at work in their convention he was impressed by the fact that here was excellent material developing for the future diocesan synods.

Each local church also has an organization for high school girls. This society is developing rapidly and, beginning next year, will probably hold an annual diocesan meeting.

The Woman's Auxiliary, as usual, has been most active. This organization not only increased its appropriation to missions and paid it, but also gave financial assistance to special mission work in the Tohoku.

In addition to the splendid work done by our lay organizations, individual laymen are offering their time and talents to the Bishop for lay evangelism. Dr. Junosuke Inouye, former President of the Tohoku Imperial University, spent a month in a tour of the district, making fifty addresses on Christianity in our churches and public schools. This evangelistic tour by a prominent layman aroused great interest among teachers and students and resulted in many inquirers asking to be prepared for Baptism. Another layman and his wife in a town where we have no church, have rented a building at their own expense and opened a kindergarten and Sunday school. They also have regular services in their own home, which Mr. Fujimura, as lay reader conducts. The rector of Morioka and the Bishop alternate in visiting this town for instruction and Holy Communion. As the number of Christians increases we hope to take advantage of the opportunity to establish a church there.

A young medical student of the Imperial University, in addition to taking charge of one of our Sunday schools in Sendai, tours the district at his own expense during his vacations to encourage the work of the young Christians. Many such examples could be given of the activity of our laymen. This is one of the most encouraging features of our work and is evidence that the Christian movement in Japan is steadily gaining momentum.

Seminary Students

Another reason for rejoicing is the splendid group of men who are preparing to enter the ministry. We have two men in our Central Theological College in Tokyo, one at the Virginia Seminary and one at the Philadelphia Divinity School. Six others are students at St. Paul's University. Three will enter the seminary in 1933 and in 1934. The six university students spent the month of August, 1932, with me in Sendai where we opened a summer school for high school students in order that they might gain practical experience in working with young men. They were also given a course in Sunday school work by Miss Dorothy Hittle, our religious educational secretary.

Sunday Schools

Our Sunday school work has been co-ordinated and strengthened by the work of Miss Hittle. She has given Sunday school instruction to the students of the Sendai Training School, conducted a model Sunday school in Sendai and made regular visits to all our Sunday schools in the district for conference with the pastors and Sunday school teachers. Sometimes she is on the road as long as two weeks at a time, traveling third class in order to save expense, and stopping at Japanese inns. Miss Hittle is untiring in her efforts and her work is admired and appreciated by the Japanese clergy. She works in co-operation with the Japanese Sunday School Committee, elected by the diocesan synod.

Kindergartens

Miss Bernice Jansen, Kindergarten Supervisor for the Tohoku, makes regular visits to all our kindergartens conferring with the teachers and linking up this department of our work with the more direct evangelistic work of the churches. Miss Jansen has the full co-operation of her Japanese co-workers who readily accept her leadership.

In spite of the financial depression the attendance at our kindergartens has been good during the past year. The kindergarten at Aomori is so popular that we always have a waiting list. This is due to the unusually excellent work of Miss Gladys Spencer and her Japanese assistants. Our kindergartens receive only the salary of the head teacher from the mission, the other expenses being paid from student fees.

Sendai Training School

The Sendai Training School had a successful year under the direction of Deaconess Ranson. The number of students in the first year class is unusually small this year, due to the raising of our entrance requirements and the depression. We are seriously contemplating closing the school for one year in order that the demand for graduates may catch up with the supply. No new kindergartens are being opened at present because of a shortage of funds. Our teachers are sticking to their posts longer for love of their work and in order to help their families financially. This means that fewer positions are open to our graduates. If we interrupt the work of the school for one year the demand for graduates will again become imperative and the school will be justified in carrying on.

Financial

There has been a decrease in the total offerings of the churches because of economic conditions. However, the contributions towards the pastors' salaries steadily increases.

The Diocesan Endowment Fund now amounts to Y2,953.04.

The property given to the diocese by Dr. Imaizumi with an appraisal value of Y350,000 has, with the consent of the Minister of Education and the Minister of the Interior, been deeded to the Diocesan Foundation organized to receive it. Half the income from this fund will come to the diocese after the death of Dr. Imaizumi, and the full income after the death of his wife, and when his children become of age.

However, Dr. Imaizumi is even now contributing generously from the income for the support of the Church's work.

New Buildings and Land

The small frame structure which was used for many years as a church in Akita, was removed and re-erected at Tsuruoka. It will be adequate for our needs there for some time.

The new diocesan center and parish house at Sendai, erected with funds contributed from the United Thank Offering and from Undesignated Legacies, supplemented by local contributions, has been completed and will be opened early next year. The building is of reinforced concrete construction, well planned and beautiful in appearance. It fills a great need both in the parish and diocese.

The Tohoku was fortunate in receiving a gift of $10,000 from the trustees of the Susan Mason Loring Fund for the erection of a church in Noshiro. The new building of reinforced concrete construction is of gothic design. It is a distinct addition to our church buildings in the Tohoku. There was no more urgent need for a church building in the district than in Noshiro and we are most grateful to those who made it possible.

With contributions received from the Diocese of North Carolina, pledged under the Advance Work Program, we have purchased an unusually fine site for a church and rectory at Taira.

Personnel

The Rev. Meriweather H. Lewis and Mrs. Lewis, who joined the staff of the Tohoku last September, are studying the language.

Miss Maude Palmer, who arrived in Sendai at the same time, immediately took up her duties as secretary to the Bishop, in addition to studying the language and assisting the treasurer. From the first of January Miss Palmer will take over the treasurer's work.

Miss Helen Boyle left on furlough and is now taking a post-graduate course at Northwestern University and Western Theological Seminary in preparation for her work at the Sendai Training School.

There have been no other changes in the personnel of the staff during the year.

Objectives

The entire Church in the Tohoku has caught the vision of a strong independent native diocese and the clergy and laity are co-operating loyally with the Bishop in working towards this end. All have accepted the cuts in our budget as a challenge to the native

Church to assume more of the financial responsibility for spreading the Gospel in this part of Japan. Each congregation under the leadership of its native pastor is endeavoring to increase its membership looking forward to the establishment of a self-supporting parish. In this way a solid foundation is being laid for the future native diocese under the leadership of a Japanese bishop. I hope to see this accomplished before many years.

MISSIONARY DIOCESES OF OSAKA AND TOKYO

The Dioceses of Tokyo and Osaka were established in 1923. Each includes the city whose name it bears and the immediately surrounding suburban sections. Both are dioceses of the Nippon Sei Ko Kwai and are not missionary districts. They have no ecclesiastical allegiance to the Church in the United States. Each, however, is receiving a small annual grant for the present. Bishop Matsui and Bishop Naide have kindly sent statements about progress in the first ten years of diocesan life for the information of American Church people. The Department of Foreign Missions greatly appreciates their courtesy, and gladly includes the statements in the section of this report dealing with Japan.

REPORT OF THE BISHOP OF OSAKA

I HAVE to begin my report with an event that has filled us with much sorrow. The Rev. G. W. Rawlings, having completed thirty-two years of faithful service for Japan, was about to return to his own country when he developed pneumonia and eventually died. He was buried here in Osaka and thus in a very real sense he spent his life for our country. The achievements of Mr. Rawlings in Japanese education were widely recognized and only last year he was the one foreigner to be honored with an audience on the occasion of the visit of the Emperor to Osaka. Again, when his illness came to the Emperor's ears he was honored with the bestowal of a silver goblet. His funeral was attended by close upon a thousand people and addresses of condolence were offered by many, including the representatives of the education minister, the prefectural governor and the mayor of the city. His widow has since set out on her lonely journey to England leaving her other half here in Osaka. I feel sure that the graduates, who now number 2,000, will often go on pilgrimage to the grave and there receive the inspiration of their late teacher.

Happily under the efforts of Mr. Rawling's successor, Mr. Koizumi, Momoyama Middle School is making steady progress. The permit for the formation of a "Zaidan Hojin," which has been desired for years past, was granted by the education minister March 31. Poole Girls' High School, having obtained Mr. Toyofuji as principal and, further, having had its staff reinforced with three earnest Christian teachers, is making good progress. Both schools had many applications for entry this spring; so many, in fact, that only half can be admitted, which was an evident sign of their flourishing condition. Seishi Jogakuin, the institution at Ashiya for the training of women workers, had the joy of welcoming Miss Lane back from furlough.

As regards the churches Kawaguchi (under Mr. Sobagaki), Holy Trinity (Mr. Fukada), St. John's (Mr. Yanagihara), St. Timothy (Mr. Matsomoto), Church of the Saviour (Mr. Yokota), Ashiya (Mr. Imaizumi), St. Paul's (Mr. Abe), Jonan (Mr. Fujimoto) and Fukkatsu (Mr. Hisanaga) are all self-supporting. Amagasaki (under Mr. Soyama), St. Peter's Nishinomiya (Mr. Endo), St. Andrew's (Mr. Kubo), Church of the Redeemer (Mr. Uno) and Tondabayashi (Mr. Yabumoto) are partly supported but the congregations are all doing their level best. At Kawaguchi, Kashiuchi San and Obata San and, at St. John's, Nakamura San are supported by their respective churches; while Minami San at St. Paul's, Tanaka San at Amagasaki and Okano San at Nishinomiya are receiving support otherwise. Of these Tanaka San is at present absent on a short visit to Canada. Mr. and Mrs. Man and the Misses Tristram, Cox, Howard and Staveley are all working faithfully; and the Misses Lane, Williams and Baker, not only engage in their educational work but help in evangelistic work as well.

Last year no fewer than 180 persons were baptized and 122 confirmed, a sign of healthy progress. The special event of the year was the Week of Christian Witness observed in Osaka from November 20 to 27 as a special evangelistic effort in which the churches of Osaka engaged after careful preparation from the beginning of the year by prayer meetings and by other means. The Bishop of the diocese was chairman of the committee of arrangements while clergy and laymen of our Church were well to the fore in helping the cause. No fewer than sixty-five churches in Osaka co-operated in this effort, the cost of which was Y8,000.

The Koreans in Osaka are estimated to number 100,000 and for work amongst them we bought land last year and have since erected a church. We have a keen Korean worker and thirty Christians. An association has been formed in the diocese for the assistance of this work.

As regards social service the Hakuaisa (The Widely Loving Society) was given during the year $10,000 in memory of Mrs. Letcher of Virginia and with this the Bishop Williams' Memorial House has been rebuilt. St. John's Orphanage was also rebuilt and entirely changed in appearance. On the occasion of the Emperor's visit referred to above Mr. Kobashi of the Hakuaisa was honored with a command to dine with the Emperor and St. John's Orphanage had the distinction of a visit by a chamberlain. Mr. Kichibe Yanagihara was also commanded to dine and Miss Tristram and Miss Hayashi were present at a luncheon given by the Emperor.

At present we are preparing for a special service in June, 1933, when we propose to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the formation of the Diocese of Osaka.

JOHN Y. NAIDE,
Bishop of Osaka

REPORT OF THE BISHOP OF TOKYO

THE Diocese of Tokyo is approaching its tenth anniversary. Our heavenly Father has greatly blessed us during the past ten years. The foundations of the diocese have been strengthened and we believe much progress has been made. For all this we would thank God and also express our gratitude to the Mission of the American Episcopal Church from whom we have received both spiritual and material assistance.

Ten years ago, the number of churches amounted to 20. Today they have increased to 25. The number of Christians have risen from 3,500 to 5,000, and the yearly contributions have grown from 16,000 yen to 26,000 yen. The wealth of the diocese amounts to 316,000 Yen.

In the earthquake of 1923 ten churches closely connected with your Mission were destroyed. Five of them have been rebuilt on better sites with better buildings, so that they are now well fitted to meet all the requirements of churches and mission work. Both churches and the diocese have been able to carry on unhindered pastoral and missionary work, thanks to your special contributions and regular help, and for this we feel deeply indebted to your Mission.

As we look back over the past decade we are conscious that the years have been ones of great importance and also of great difficulty. Despite this we are filled with thankfulness, and in the name of the diocese I wish now to tender my thanks to your Mission for all the help which you of the American Episcopal Church have so kindly extended to us.

P. Y. MATSUI,

MISSIONARY DISTRICT OF MEXICO

The Missionary District of Mexico includes the Republic of Mexico. It has an area of 767,274 square miles and a population of 16,404,030. The district within its present bounds was established by the General Convention of 1904. The Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Frank W. Creighton, S.T.D., consecrated January 12, 1926. The Suffragan Bishop is the Rt. Rev. Efrain Salinas y Velasco, D.D., consecrated September 29, 1931.

The appropriation for 1932 is $52,735. The appropriation aids in maintaining work in 32 stations.

REPORT OF THE SUFFRAGAN BISHOP FOR THE YEAR 1932

FOLLOWING the eighteenth Convocation of the District I returned to my old Archdeaconry of Jalisco pending a visit from Bishop Creighton in whose company I went through the several missions in that region being introduced by Bishop Creighton as his Suffragan Bishop in charge of the native work. On Bishop Creighton's return to the United States, I took charge of St. Andrew's School, in order to start the 1931-1932 term and to place the management of the school in the hands of my successor, in such a way that would not bring further difficulties or confusion either in the school or in the work in that field. I remained at the head of the school (on account of the illness of the Rev. Lorenzo J. Saucedo, the newly appointed principal), until April 28, attending to the direction of the school, teaching several subjects I had had in charge long before, taking part in the religious services on Sundays at Guadalajara and giving attention to all matters in relation to my episcopal duties.

Early in January, local difficulties in the Federal District and in the State of Morelos made a trip to Mexico City and Cuernavaca necessary to study conditions there. I returned to Guadalajara on the 28th after everything had been arranged in the best possible way.

In April, I started my visits to the missions in the State of Jalisco. On the 28th, I moved with my family to Mexico City where I have my residence. The month of May found me in the mountains of the State of Mexico inspecting our work in that region. June was spent at the missions in the State of Hidalgo. July was a busy month discussing at the Department of Religious Affairs of Gobernación our conditions under the new regulations on public worship in an effort to define to what extent we were allowed to go on with our work. As a result of these conferences, besides other arrangements, I was recognized as Suffragan Bishop of the Missionary District of Mexico with permission to officiate at San José de Gracia, Mexico City. In August, I visited the missions in the Valley of Mexico. During September, I took charge of the church in San José de Gracia on account of the illness of the Rev. Fausto Orihuela. In October, I finished my visits to the native field after an inspection of the missions in the States of Morelos and Michoacan. November and December were given to matters relating to the nineteenth Convocation of the District.

I confirmed 116 people, received into the communion of our Church 23, baptized 5 children and 1 adult; solemnized one marriage, and delivered 54 sermons and 12 addresses to sundry gatherings.

The year 1932 brought with it a mass of legislation dealing with religious matters. On January 1, a law passed by the National Congress limiting the number of ministers of each religious body to 25 was enforced in the Federal District. This and other similar laws enforced in other States did not affect us in regard to the number of priests allowed to officiate, because in no place do we reach the minimum number permitted. It did however bring us some difficulties and troubles. The churches had to be closed and, therefore, religious services stopped until priests registered again and new applications were made to civil authorities to have back the use of church buildings. In some cases answers to such applications came in a few days, but in other cases, months elapsed before answers came. Notwithstanding all these curtailments, our clergy were able to go forward with the work of the Church, submitting to the laws in every case and adapting their activities to new conditions. There is, however, one point on which these laws affect us seriously, viz., the prohibition against holding public religious services or ceremonies in private houses or chapels. We have 7 missions and 4 preaching stations where religious services were held in private houses. In all these missions and stations religious services had to be discontinued; but our workers have been active in pastoral care, giving a wider organization to religious education; retaining all church organizations, making festival entertainments with religious purposes and trying to enlist the entire congregation in a united effort to build their own chapels that we may comply with law requirements.

It has been encouraging how our people have answered the challenge of these new conditions. Some have already acquired the ground to build their chapels; others are helping with manual work; in some places they are storing materials for construction. In everyone there is a strong determination to carry on and to stand by the Church's side. In spite of their poverty they are doing their best. The Rev. Jose Robredo writes me: "Mr. Lazaro Fonseca in whose house at St. Sebastianito we celebrated our religious services has given 6,000 bricks for the Church building." Archdeacon Samuel Salinas in a visit he made to the missions in the State of Mexico could see the interest our Church people are showing to have their own chapels. He writes of Santa María Mission: "People have started doing something. They are making adobes (sun-dried bricks), carving stones and have bought some lumber for the roof." He tells me of Joquicingo: "It was decided to build immediately a room large enough which will afterwards be the sacristy, in order to use it for public religious services while the church is being finished." I call the attention of the Church to these conditions that our people are so bravely facing, in the hope that these Mexican missions may receive some help to finish the chapels and that the work of the Church may go forward; otherwise it will take much time for these poor people to build their churches so that they may have the benefit of divine service for the nurture of their souls, and at the same time comply with the laws.

The congregation of San Bartolo acquired a bell and built a belfry over the cupola of their church. During my recent visit I blessed this bell and consecrated the church. It is with a sense of satisfaction that I noticed how this mission is growing and what a beneficent influence and Christian power it is becoming for the neighboring villages.

A large parish hall is in process of construction in the village of San Pedro Martir. The Rev. J. F. Gomez in charge of St. John the Evangelist mission, helped by several persons whose interest he has aroused and with the full co-operation of his people, has been very active in such work which has received the commendations of the civil authorities which will undoubtedly play an important role in the growth of our work in this village and in the surrounding country.

On November 6, I consecrated the Church of the Divine Shepherd at San Miguel el Alto. This church fills a long felt need, and I am sure it will be a center from which we may extend our work to nearby places.

The Rev. J. A. Carrion devoted himself during the year to uniting the faithful brothers of the congregation generally known as Xolox, and to building a beautiful church in the civil jurisdiction of Los Reyes, at a point midway between the two towns. Thus the services of the Church will be made available to the faithful of both places.

Hooker School under the direction of Miss Martha Boynton, its principal, carried on successfully in spite of all difficulties brought about by new legislation on educational matters enforced during the year, reaching the end of the school term with a large number of students, and winning commendations from Government school inspectors. Certainly some modifications are to be made in our plans on educational lines that may warrant the continuance of our Hooker School work in such a way that it may render all the benefits it has heretofore offered to the Mexican girls. All other educational institutions under the Church's care in the district carried on normally during the year.

Our Rest House in Cuernavaca has been of great benefit to our foreign staff who have in it a place for much needed rest and refuge from the altitude of Mexico City.

The sick have always found a refuge in the work so splendidly done in the House of Hope, our medical dispensary at Nopala. Mrs. Samuel Salinas with unusual self-denial has dedicated almost all of her time to the needy and the sick. Hundreds of people have looked to the House of Hope for comfort and healing during the year, and the merciful Saviour, in whose name and honor the work is done, has always blessed with success this Christian enterprise. Mrs. Salinas received the Award of Merit conferred upon her by the Order of the Sangreal. I was privileged in a solemn ceremony in the Church of Santa Fe to bestow upon Mrs. Salinas this well earned award.

It is a satisfaction to say that in the midst of many curtailments imposed by legislative and economic conditions our work has been going forward and that a certain amount of progress is noticeable everywhere.

EFRAIN SALINAS Y VELASCO,
Suffragan Bishop of Mexico

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION FOR
THE YEAR 1932

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1932

THE following is a condensed report of the major part of the work done by the Department of Religious Education in the year 1932.

CHURCH SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION

Church School Counseling. In addition to answering inquiries of a general character, during the year 1932 we have helped 223 leaders with curriculum, administration, and other Church-school problems.

Birthday Thank Offering. We prepared two leaflets, "Open These Doors," for Kindergarten and Primary children; and "How to Use the Birthday Thank Offering in Our Church Schools."

Little Helpers Offering and Parent Education. A new leaflet on the Special Font Fund was printed. The Secretary co-operated in the preparation of the pamphlet, "Helping Parents Solve Their Problems."

Christmas Box. A questionnaire was sent to a picked group of leaders in the missionary and educational field in an effort to estimate the educational value of the Christmas Box project.

Field Contacts. The Secretary held classes at conferences, or made addresses in the following dioceses: Chicago, Bethlehem, Albany, Washington, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Virginia, Maryland, and Long Island.

Curriculum Committee. At its February meeting, the Department of Religious Education adopted a resolution forming the Curriculum Committee. The responsibilities of this committee were outlined as follows: to read manuscripts submitted for Church-school courses; to judge these manuscripts on their merits; to offer such manuscripts as meet with the approval of the committee to one publisher or another, according to the judgment of the committee; to report its action to the Department of Religious Education for final approval; to state from time to time the curriculum policy of the Department of Religious Education; to study the curriculum situation throughout the Church; and to give such help as may be possible to dioceses, missionary districts, and parishes. During the year 1932 this committee, consisting of nine members, held eight meetings, and took over the plans for eleven courses from the Christian Nurture Board of Editors. One course, "Men Who Stood Alone," by Mary Jenness, was printed in 1932. Eighteen new courses are being planned. During the year two courses were tried out experimentally under supervision in twelve centers representing different Church-school situations.

The supervisor held a total of sixty conferences with teachers using these courses, made twelve visits to Sunday classes, and had conferences with authors of additional courses.

CHILD STUDY

The major accomplishments of the year were:

1. Preparation of leadership material, released in mimeographed form for trial use:
 - a. Predicaments: Seven units for teacher-training groups, as follows: Behavior Problems, Pupil Participation, Planning the Curriculum, Equipment, Money, Worship, Measuring Progress.
 - b. Outlines for Parent-Discussion Groups.

- c. Stories of Classroom Experiences. This material is based on findings from "A Study of Method" conducted by the commission.
2. A study of the part the Church may play in the education of children under five. This study of the religious education of nursery-age children is being carried on with the help of parish centers, and co-operating educational institutions, in various sections of the country.

MISSIONARY EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN

The missionary units for the Lenten Offering the past four years have been as follows: 1929—Good Will, 1930—Our World at Work, 1931—Our World at Play, 1932—Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread. The title of the unit prepared for 1933 is "Thy Kingdom Come."

This work has been done under the direction of Miss Hewitt since the resignation of Miss Cheston in October, 1931.

TEACHER TRAINING

Contacts with the field. The Secretary for Teacher Training has made the following contacts: fourteen Teacher-Training Institutes, forty-nine teachers' meetings or classes, sixty-three addresses, and eight summer conferences. Twenty dioceses were included.

National Accredited Leaders' Association. The dioceses continue to welcome the opportunity to issue their own credits. The entire Province of the Northwest has asked that the work be turned over to them, bringing the total to eighteen dioceses now carrying the routine in accordance with N. A. L. A. standards, rules, and regulations.

COLLEGE WORK

On September 1, 1932, the Rev. W. Brooke Stabler resigned as Secretary for College Work after four years of service for the Department, two as Associate Secretary for College Work in the First Province and two as General Secretary. The Rev. Thomas H. Wright was chosen to carry on the direction of College Work as Acting Secretary, beginning January 1, 1933.

The Episcopal Student Foundation. One of the outstanding accomplishments of the year was the establishment, by the National Council, upon the recommendation of the College Commission, of the Episcopal Student Foundation. If College Work is to be satisfactorily handled, an endowment is essential. This foundation will provide a channel through which interested Church people may contribute to religion in higher education. The funds will be administered by the National Council upon the recommendation of a special advisory board, four members of which shall be members of the National Council. The following are the founders:

The Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, D.D.	Mr. Samuel Thorne
The Rt. Rev. John T. Dallas, D.D.	Mr. Charles Taft
The Rt. Rev. Stephen E. Keeler, D.D.	Mr. Harper Sibley
The Hon. William R. Castle, Jr.	Mrs. Charles L. Slattery
President T. S. Gates	Mrs. John Markoe
President K. C. M. Sills	Miss Edith S. Tufts
President Harry Woodburn Chase	The Rev. A. L. Kinsolving, D.D.
The Rev. Samuel S. Drury, D.D.	The Rev. C. Leslie Glenn
Professor J. H. Beale	The Rev. W. Brooke Stabler
Mr. Sidney Miller, Sr.

Student Lenten Offering. In the fifth Student Lenten Offering seventy-five colleges made a total contribution of $2,062.18. The system was changed in 1932 and, instead of making a general pool, a selection was made by each group from a list of projects in the domestic and foreign mission fields. The offering went to three hospitals, six educational units, and thirteen mission stations.

Secondary Schools. At the request of the Department of Religious Education and the Department of Domestic Missions, the Rev. William G. Thayer, D.D., visited a number of Church Secondary Schools. The report of this survey will form the basis of the future policy of the National Council toward such schools. The Secondary School Committee of the Department of Religious Education co-operated in issuing a pamphlet, Religious Life and Education in Church Secondary Schools, prepared by the Secondary School Committee of the Province of New England.

MISSIONARY EDUCATION

Conferences and Conventions. During the year the Secretary for Missionary Education attended conferences and synods in the Dioceses of Connecticut, Ohio, Missouri, and New York. He also attended the convention of the Diocese of Virginia, taught in a twelve-week Institute of Religious Education in the Diocese of Long Island, and conducted a discussion group on China in the Intensive Training Institute for Mission Study leaders in the Diocese of Maryland. He taught two classes in the Gambier Conference for Church Workers.

Writing and Editing. The following publications were written or edited by the Secretary:

The Call from China (Leader's Manual for "Living Issues in China")
 China Today
 China Handbook (revised)
 Revolution and Evolution in China
 New Wine in Old Bottles, for the Girls' Friendly Record
 Indians Today (revised) Philippines Today
 Mission Study Courses for 1932-33
 Monthly column for The Spirit of Missions

Committees. The Secretary is a member of the following committees: In the Missionary Education Movement he is a member of the Board of Managers; chairman of Sub-Committee I, Adult Missionary Education; member of Joint Commission on Home Missionary Literature, and member of the Leadership Training Committee. Committee on Christian Colleges in China, International Missionary Union, Hua Chung College, member of the Board of Founders; Kuling School, member of the Board of Trustees. As Secretary for the Committee on Missionary Education and Publication he inspects new publications and reprints, bringing them to the attention of the members of the committee before having them printed.

Other Activities. The Secretary for Missionary Education carried on in 1932 the following activities: supervised the Book Store, the Library, and the Lantern Slide Bureau; answered letters and held interviews in connection with Mission Study; assisted in the preparation of the China film; lectured twice a week on missions at the General Theological Seminary during the spring semester; gave 33 missionary addresses; traveled 7,250 miles.

NATIONAL COUNCIL LIBRARY

During the year 1932 the Library circulated a total of 4,182 books and packets. This year 455 new books were added to the Library by purchase or gift.

THE BOOK STORE

The record of sales in the Bookstore shows a total of 26,515 orders for the year. Orders were filled for 44,786 copies of The Churchman's Calendar of Daily Bible Readings.

HOME STUDY FOR THE ISOLATED

Since January 1, 1932, the Home Study for the Isolated has been carried on under the guidance of Mrs. William E. Leidt. General correspondence is maintained with leaders and other interested persons, answering inquiries and assisting in meeting local problems. Each month 1,954 copies of the series of Parents' Letters have been circulated, and 2,200 copies of the Pupils' Letters. Four hundred copies of the Advent Letter were supplied.

A Reading Course was prepared based on the pamphlet, "A Little Child Finds God," and recommending books by which to follow up the study.

ADULT EDUCATION

During the summer the Secretary for Adult Education gave his time principally to local, diocesan, and national conferences. From April until the end of the year he visited 14 dioceses for single addresses or extended conferences, and spent eight days meeting with the Oriental Students' Conference in Chicago. The Secretary has written a course, "The Meaning of Worship," and has surveyed a number of study courses for adults to be placed in the National Council Library; he has written a number of articles for Church magazines; and developed a fairly large correspondence with dioceses and parishes in many parts of the country. He has supervised the work among the isolated as carried on by Mrs. Leidt. "The Churchman's Calendar of Daily Bible Readings" was prepared under his editorship.

At the December meeting of the National Council the Presiding Bishop announced the resignation of the Executive Secretary, the Rev. John W. Suter, Jr., D.D., and the National Council passed the following resolution:

RESOLVED: That, inasmuch as the Department of Religious Education held no meeting in December, the National Council requests the Rev. Dr. Suter to prepare and present to the National Council at its meeting in February a statement covering the work of the Department during his incumbency, and to present such recommendations for the future work of the Department as he desires.

PUBLICATIONS

In anticipation of the retrenchments which would be necessary in 1933, the Executive Secretary and Mrs. Richard Kimball, Assistant Editor, suggested to the Department that Findings in Religious Education be discontinued after the December issue. This action was accepted with regret, as was the resignation of Mrs. Kimball.

During the year 1932 the following material was published by the Department of Religious Education:

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF CHRISTIAN SOCIAL SERVICE FOR
THE YEAR 1932

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF CHRISTIAN SOCIAL SERVICE

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1932

DESPITE drastic cuts in practically every item of its budget for 1932, the Department of Christian Social Service can take courage as it reviews the record of its year's work. The year has been a period in which the quantity of its work has been constricted, but its quality deepened. New methods have been developed to aid the dioceses and parishes of the Church to fulfill their social task. The complicated economic and international situations which characterized the year markedly increased the responsibilities of the Department. It has endeavored to rise to the call of this heightened challenge.

Meetings of the Department were held on February 2, April 26 and October 11.

The Department wishes to record its grateful appreciation of the assistance given to it by the Commission on the Church and Social Service of the Federal Council of Churches in placing with the Department, at no cost to it, from January 21 to April 1, a young woman well equipped as a typist and stenographer. This worker was paid by the Emergency Unemployment Fund raised by the Federal Council of Churches. Because of the presence of this additional worker the Department was able to push forward certain projects normally impossible because of a limited staff.

Early in the year the Department arranged for a conference of executives of various City Mission Societies with the Joint Commission on City Mission Work of the General Convention, to be held just prior to the Episcopal Social Work Conference at Philadelphia in May. The findings covered a long range of problems peculiar to city missions and chaplaincy work and were later made available to all City Mission executives in the Church. At the suggestion of this conference there was published in the 1933 issue of The Living Church Annual a complete section devoted to the social institutions and agencies of the Church. The value of this is not only apparent to Church workers but also to workers in the secular field of social work.

During the summer the Executive Secretary delivered courses of lectures at the Minnesota Summer School for Church Workers, the Kanuga Lake Adult Conference, the Sewanee Clergy School, the Sewanee Adult Conference and the Sewanee Young People's Conference.

Bishop Rhinelander, Warden of the College of Preachers, Washington, invited the Executive Secretary to organize a conference, at the College, on preaching and social service. This was held in the early fall under the leadership of Bishop Gilbert and the Executive Secretary. Upon nomination by the Executive Secretary most of the 23 who attended were diocesan social service executives. Full opportunity was provided for the detailed analysis and discussion of approaches to the social and economic problems confronting the country. The members of this conference returned to their respective fields filled with a new conception of and enthusiasm for their tasks.

DIVISION FOR RURAL WORK

The outstanding event of the year in the Division for Rural Work was the fact that the Rev. Goodrich R. Fenner assumed office as its Secretary on February 1. Mr. Fenner brought to the work a splendid background of experience in rural work and knowledge of rural sociology. He has been obliged to spend much of the year in the recovery of ground lost because of the vacancy in this position since October 1, 1930.

Prior to Rogation Sunday, May 1, the Division promoted its observance as a day especially dedicated to rural life. Appropriate literature was provided for rural parishes and missions. Many bishops requested copies of this for distribution among their urban clergy as well.

The Division is gratified that the course on rural work was repeated at the General Theological Seminary. As a result of an effort to introduce such a course into the curricula of other seminaries of the Church, another eastern seminary will next year arrange for a short course to be given by the Secretary for Rural Work. One of the seminaries in the middle-west also plans to offer a similar course.

The Division co-operated closely with the Rural Workers' Fellowship, of which for 1932, Dr. Roy J. Colbert, Associate Professor of Sociology in the University of Wisconsin, was re-elected President. The Division of necessity reduced its contribution to needful rural projects, among them The Rural Messenger, to which only a small appropriation could be extended.

The Secretary has made the following studies for individuals and groups in the Church: (1) The Foreign-Born Whites in Rural Areas. (2) Population Trends and Their Effects on the Rural Church. (3) Social Service in Rural Areas. (4) The Effects of the Economic Crisis on Rural Young People. (5) The Rural Woman and the Church. (6) The City Drift of Country Church Communicants.

The current population trend was studied with the twofold view of determining the possible effect of the back-to-the-land movement on the rural town and on the church in town and open country. The study of the economic crisis and its effect on rural young people was a consideration of the plight of thousands of young people who have lost jobs in the cities and have had to return to the farms and rural towns. In view of this the Secretary is urging upon the rural clergy the necessity of preparation in educational and vocational guidance to fit themselves as advisors to these young people.

The study of a group of rural parishes was made to note their condition, relatively static, over the period 1921-31. There were revealed several rather startling facts. While these parishes had themselves shown little growth, they had contributed about 100 per cent of their original number in terms of transferred communicants, 91 per cent going to urban parishes.

Because of the patent lack of organized social service in the small towns of our country, the Secretary is desirous of making his office available as a clearing house for problems of relief in rural communities and has gathered in his office helpful suggestive material along this line.

The tenth annual Rural Church Conference, in connection with the Rural Leadership School of the University of Wisconsin, was held at Madison, Wisconsin, June 27 to July 8. The attendance included 25 men and 12 women, representing 26 dioceses.

The Secretary gave courses at the Regional Conference at Vicksburg, the Clergy Conference of the Diocese of Dallas, the West Texas Summer Conference, St. Margaret's Summer Conference, Tappahannock, Virginia, and the Rural Church School at Vanderbilt University.

DIVISION ON INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

The Consultant on Industrial Relations, Spencer Miller, Jr., has, through the year, been in continual demand for diocesan conventions, clergy conferences, Woman's Auxiliary groups, college chapels, men's clubs, parish dinners, and meetings of diocesan social service departments. He has been asked to supply many bibliographies on unemployment, to prepare articles on the economic crisis, and to give advice and counsel on what the Church should be doing in the period of the Nation's economic distress.

Mr. Miller has frequently been called upon to study various industrial aspects of plans for guaranteed employment. For instance, he visited personally the plant of Procter and Gamble at Ivorydale, Ohio, which concern has made a notable experiment within this field, and has discussed his findings with many industrial executives about the country, both individually and in conferences.

Following an investigation of the mining situation in Tennessee, the Consultant studied current industrial conditions in plants in and around Birmingham, Alabama. His advice and suggestions for more easily bringing about necessary economic adjustments in certain sections of the South have been highly commended. Several mills thus studied, where the heads are Churchmen, are now trying to put into effect Mr. Miller's suggestions with reference to employer-employee relations.

Mr. Miller gave a three-day course at the Philadelphia Divinity School and a ten-day course at the Gambier Summer Conference.

As an effective approach to present economic problems, the Consultant organized institutes for the clergy of Buffalo and vicinity and of the Diocese of Missouri on the topic, "The Present Industrial Crisis and the Christian Way Out." The feeling was expressed that increasingly such institutes are needed to equip the clergy of the Church with a capacity for forthright thinking on this question.

One of the outstanding conferences of the year, which Mr. Miller helped to plan and in which he participated, was that convened upon the invitation of Bishop Rhinelander at the College of Preachers in December for a fresh consideration of what the social message of the Church should be. The findings of the conference were given wide publicity in the press and printed copies were mailed to all the clergy by the College of Preachers. The Department will keep these in print. It is definitely hoped that as a result of this conference there will be held in dioceses, districts, and parishes, regional conferences to encourage fresh thinking on the application of the Christian ethic to the industrial crisis. One such regional conference has already been arranged for the Second Province under Bishop Gilbert.

OTHER PROJECTS

1. Again the Cincinnati Summer School was conducted as a joint project of the Department and the Department of Social Service of the Diocese of Southern Ohio. Dr. William S. Keller, Chairman of the latter, again served as director. The School found it necessary, because of reduced appropriation from the Department, to curtail its attendance. This limiting in number gave the privilege to only the most promising of the applicants. The total membership of the group was eighteen men, representing eleven seminaries. There was also a guest student from one of the Church's foreign mission fields, the Rev. Jesse K. Appel, a deacon of the Missionary District of Southern Brazil. Increasingly the value of this School is manifested in the splendid work its former students are now doing as leaders in the field of social service within the Church.

2. Social Service Sunday was observed throughout the Church, with varying degrees of interest, on January 24. The suggestions for services in the interest of social service contained in the leaflet provided by the Department for that Sunday were also followed at other times in the year.

3. The Episcopal Social Work Conference held its twelfth annual meeting as an associate group of the National Conference of Social Work in Philadelphia, May 13 to 17. Although held in a year in which most conferences registered a decrease of attendance, the conference established a new registration record, with an attendance of over 300, representing 40 dioceses. Delegates also enjoyed a day devoted to visits to the Church's social institutions in and around Philadelphia as guests of the Department of Christian Social Service and Institutions of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

4. When the revised Marriage Canon went into effect January 1, 1932, a new impulse was given to the Department's long continued emphasis upon family relations. To assist the clergy in fulfilling the requirement of public instruction on marriage the Department published outlines of three sermons on marriage, and for the guidance of clergy, parents and young people a bibliography, "Preparation for Marriage." The Department has continued to advise diocesan social service departments in regard to setting up Family Relations Institutes through which, under the guidance of experts, the clergy may be more fully equipped to give adequate counsel toward really permanent Christian marriage.

5. Even though the Department, through its lack of a Secretary for Church Institutions, cannot maintain the active contact, previously possible, with the Church's social institutions, the Executive Secretary is making a determined effort on each field trip to visit and appraise all these institutions located in that particular section of the Church. During 1933, he inspected in this manner 16 of the Church's social institutions. In regard to the child-caring institutions of the Church the Executive Secretary has been given helpful co-operation by the Child Welfare League of America.

6. The master list of Churchmen professionally engaged in social work, initiated in 1931, grew to approximately 900 by the end of 1932. The list includes social service executives, case workers, teachers of sociology and psychiatrists. Every effort is made to insure up-to-date accuracy. This list has more than proved its value, for the Department has been able to utilize more than once the services of workers appearing on the list for advice in specialized fields of social work.

7. Contact with the chairmen of Diocesan Social Service Departments is sedulously cultivated through correspondence and the supplying of information of social and economic significance. It is hoped that this service enables the diocesan departments to function more effectively, not only as local organizations but as sharers of a common task with the National Church.

8. Getting social service down into the parish continues to be one of the Department's chief concerns. In this endeavor it hopes to make its slogan a reality: "A social service committee or its equivalent in every parish of the Church."

9. The Department was called upon again this year to co-operate with the Emergency Unemployment Relief Committee of New York City in securing from the staff of the Church Missions House individual pledges to this fund. The amount contributed was almost $500.

LITERATURE

The following items of departmental literature were produced during the year:

For the Remembrance of Social Service
Preparation for Marriage—A Bibliography
Outlines of Marriage Instructions
The Parish Finds Its Community (Second edition)
Prayers for Rural Life and Work (Fourth edition)
Program for the Twelfth Episcopal Social Work Conference Program for the Tenth National Episcopal Rural Church Conference Case Work in Parochial Social Work (Reprint)

THE DEPARTMENT BUDGET

The final appropriation allotted to the Department by the Council for 1932 was $29,679. Of this $25,373.75 was expended. There were no overdrafts in any items of the budget.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1932

IN view of economic conditions the financial results of the year are gratifying even though receipts from the dioceses applicable to their "expectations" were lower than for any year since 1919 and $223,217.56 less than the dioceses had told the Council to expect. The percentage of payment on expectations was .90 as compared with .914 in 1931.

The Church responded with sacrificial effort to the appeal of the Council for a $400,000 "Deficiency Fund" and paid on this account $312,824.11.

Including their gifts on the Deficiency Fund the following dioceses and districts paid 100% or more on their budget quotas for the year:

Dioceses	Missionary Districts
Massachusetts	Puerto Rico	Arizona
Rhode Island	Haiti	Honolulu
Southern Ohio	North Dakota	Nevada
Southwestern Virginia	Western Nebraska	Philippines
East Carolina	Alaska	Liberia

The detailed report of payments is given on pages 217 to 220. For the third consecutive year the Province of New England led the Church.

In accordance with the instructions of General Convention the Council balanced its budget for 1932 at the first meeting of that year. From the budget of $4,225,000 adopted by General Convention, reductions were made totaling $576,654. If the dioceses had paid what they told the Council to expect, the receipts of the year would have been sufficient to meet all expenditures. Because such payments were not made in full the Council was confronted with a prospective deficit of $216,553.32. This was met by the appropriation of that amount from part of the legacies received in 1932 and prior thereto and available for such use. Thus the Council closed the trying year 1932 without incurring a dollar of deficit.

The summary of income and expenditures for the last three years is as follows:

Income applicable to the Budget.....	$3,890,779.81	$3,442,178.02	$3,050,330.50
Expenditures	3,775,862.53	3,695,033.04	3,266,883.82
Surplus	$ 114,917.28
Deficit		$ 252,855.02	$ 216,553.32
Transferred to 1931 Income.....	114,917.28
Transferred from 1931 Legacy Account		252,855.02
Transferred from 1932 Legacy Account			216,553.32
Balance	$ 000,000.00	$ 000,000.00	$ 000,000.00

The receipts applicable to budget quotas, including receipts on the "1932 Deficiency Fund" were $236,671.18 less than for 1931 a decline of 9½%. Expenditures on budget declined $428,149.22 or 11%.

EXPENDITURES AT THE CHURCH MISSIONS HOUSE

Expenditures at the Church Missions House decreased $121,138.21 or 19%. The following statement shows such expenditures in detail:

	1931	1932	Increase or Decrease
General Administration —Salary and expense account of Presiding Bishop ($8,864.79 expended out of appropriation of $18,500) Salaries of two Vice-Presidents, Treasurer and Secretary, their Office staffs, travel, etc., not including $16,085.44 for retired workers of the Church Missions House.....	$ 46,256.69	$ 48,640.82	$ 2,384.13+
Department of Domestic Missions —Salary of Executive Secretary (paid to him as Bishop of Mexico) salaries of his office staff, travel and etc.....	10,445.08	11,958.84	1,513.76+
Department of Foreign Missions —Salary of Executive Secretary and Assistant Secretary, salaries of their office staff, travel, etc.....	27,261.73	24,675.64	2,586.09—
Department of Religious Education —All expenses of the Department except expenditures for College Work which is mostly salaries of Student Workers.....	79,633.51	64,439.14	15,194.37—
Department of Christian Social Service —All expenses except expenditures to outside organizations, $1,250 and training courses not given at Church Missions House $3,077.53	18,799.49	21,046.22	2,246.73+
Department of Finance —All salaries except Treasurer (included under General Administration) upkeep of Church Missions House, Shipping Department, etc.....	75,908.95	63,405.79	12,503.16—
Miscellaneous Accounts —Office Equipment, telephone, postage, travel of National Council members, group insurance, interest, printing and mite boxes, General Convention expenses, etc.....	118,638.77	85,801.32	32,837.45—
Department of Publicity —All expenses.....	100,063.47	74,731.62	25,331.85—
Field Department —All expenses including General Secretaries not resident in New York.....	91,719.18	64,064.65	27,654.53—
Woman's Auxiliary —All expenses except salaries and travel of Field Missionaries $13,907.70.....	37,471.64	32,718.98	4,752.66—
Commission on Ecclesiastical Relations —All expenses not including $3,504.50 spent in the field.....	22,949.60	18,413.37	4,536.23—
	$639,327.02	$518,188.81	$127,282.83—
Net Decrease			$121,138.21

The total of $518,188.82 for 1932 is 15.8% of the total 1932 expenditure of $3,266,883.82. This percentage is 0.5% lower than the 1931 figure of 17.3%. These expenditures cover much work which could not be included under any reasonable definition of "overhead expense" and as no satisfactory definition of the term "overhead expense" as applied to work such as the National Council transacts is available, no attempt has been made to state "overhead expense" in terms of a definite percentage. The number of workers at the Church Missions House is now 138 as compared with 147 a year ago.

TRUST FUNDS

In spite of economic disturbances the condition of our Trust Funds continues to be satisfactory. Investments are made by the Committee on Trust Funds within the strict limitations of a by-law adopted many years ago by the Council. The Committee for 1932 and 1933 consists of the President and the Treasurer of the Council, ex-officio, and Messrs. Walter Kidde, John S. Newbold and William Cooper Procter.

As of December 31, 1932, the total book value of the Trust Funds was $10,799,613.15 invested as follows:

Railroad Bonds2453%
Public Utility Bonds3234%
Real Estate Mortgages, Guaranteed.....	.3290%
Real Estate Mortgages, Unguaranteed.....	.0201%
Real Estate0714%
Stocks and Miscellaneous Securities.....	.0097%
Cash0011%

The book value of all securities other than real estate mortgages was $6,246,831.68. An independent appraisal shows a market value for these securities as of December 31, 1932, of $5,668,127.50, a depreciation of $578,704.18 or .092%. There is a credit in our Investment Profit and Loss Account of $249,252.28 realized through sales of corporate securities at prices in excess of book values. Applying this profit solely against the depreciation in corporate securities leaves net depreciation in this group of $329,451.90 or .053%. No appraisal has been made of the real estate mortgages or real estate.

The large amount of real estate in the Trust Funds needs explanation. A large property in Philadelphia was received by us ten years ago by will, was sold and cash payments of $155,000 received, the balance of the purchase price being covered by a mortgage. Improvements to the value of about $100,000 were made by the purchaser. The Missionary Society in 1932 was forced to take the property because of default by the mortgagee and now owns the property as willed to it with the improvements recently made, and has received cash to the extent of $155,000. This property has a book value of $568,108.18, and income therefrom in 1933 is estimated at 3¾%. Another property from the same estate is held at a book value of $178,300 and at this time returns no net income. A third piece of real estate valued at $25,000 was received from another estate, the 1932 income being about 3%.

Except for certain special funds the investments of our Trust Funds are carried in a single account. The interest realized on this account in 1932 was 5.01%.

Full details of the Trust Fund investments are given in the Annual Report of the National Council and in the Report of the Committee on Trust Funds.

LEGACIES

During the year legacies were received as follows:

Cash, including proceeds of securities.....	$195,475.94
Securities at inventory values.....	85,151.74
Total legacies received in 1932.....	$280,627.68

MISCELLANEOUS

Interest on loans secured from banks absorbed $9,301.03 which might have been saved for missionary work if each individual had met his pledge promptly, if each parish treasurer had regularly remitted all missionary funds and if each diocese had strictly observed the partnership principle for the division of missionary funds between the diocese and the National Council.

Another large decline was recorded in the Lenten Offering of the Church Schools. The record for the past eight years is as follows:

1926	491,696	1930	507,889
1927 (Centennial Year) ..	553,252	1931	426,762
1928	527,128	1932	349,546

The statement of receipts and disbursements on pages 221 and 223 is a record of all moneys received and paid out during the fiscal year, including receipts and expenditures for "Specials" and other work outside of the Program of the National Council. The statement of income and expenditures on pages 208-216 shows all income and expenditures applicable to the Budget and Advance Work Program for the years 1930, 1931 and 1932.

AUDITOR'S CERTIFICATE

New York, April 25, 1933

To the National Council:

We have made an examination of the Treasurer's records of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America and report that, in our opinion, the annexed summarized cash statement for the twelve months ending December 31, 1932, has been correctly prepared therefrom.

We have ascertained that all receipts shown by the statement attached were duly deposited and we have inspected paid checks for all disbursements excepting those for which checks have not yet been returned by the banks. We have not verified the actual receipts other than the cash income received in the period from securities held by the Standing Committee on Trust Funds for the Society, nor have we undertaken to ascertain that the provisions affecting restricted gifts or legacies have been observed.

The balances in banks December 31, 1932, as shown by the books, were reconciled with certificates obtained directly from the depositories and found to be in order. Included in the balance at December 31, 1932, as reported on the accompanying statement, are miscellaneous bonds, mortgages and other securities of an aggregate cost or appraised value when received of $565,042.93 and a State of Kansas note No. 985 for $1,366.96, all of which the Bank of New York and Trust Company certify they hold in their custody for safe keeping.

To The National Council:

We have made an examination of the books and accounts at New York of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America for the year ending December 31, 1932.

The amounts shown as cash in banks and office represent the cash balances at December 31, 1932, plus the receipts and less the disbursements in the period from January 1, 1933 to January 27, 1933 which were treated as applicable to the year 1932.

The securities are carried at cost or appraised value when received; they have not been examined by us but we have found them supported by certificates obtained from the banks and bankers holding them for the Society. We have not ascertained the form of registration of the securities nor have we computed their present values on a market basis.

We report that, in our opinion, the above balance sheet is in accordance with the books of the Society and, subject to the foregoing remarks, presents fairly the accounts as at December 31, 1932. April 26, 1933.

PRICE, WATERHOUSE & CO.

NOTE: In the above balance sheet the deficit is stated to be $258,143.21 and the outstanding appropriations to Dioceses and Districts for 1932 are $58,773.64. The actual amount expended on these appropriations was $17,183.75 or a saving of $41,589.89 which decreased the actual deficit as of December 31, 1932 to $216,553.32. This deficit was met by appropriation from the 1932 Legacy Account.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT
OF PUBLICITY FOR THE YEAR 1932

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLICITY

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1932

THROUGH a year of depression the Department carried on its various activities with an appreciation of increased urgency and augmented need for more, rather than less, publicity for the Church and her Mission.

A short-sighted policy would reduce publicity effort when appropriations must be reduced, but the Department followed what it believes to be a wiser course, and, with utmost economy of operation and curtailment of certain activities the loss of which seems tragic, increased its efforts to utilize every still-available means of carrying the news of the Church to Church people and to the world outside.

Wherever possible, less costly substitutes were developed to replace to some extent, methods that had to be abandoned, and it is believed that these emergency measures have been successful, and that on the whole the Church has received, through this trying period, adequate and effective representation in the press, and helpful publicity through all the other means that it was possible to employ.

Following is a brief summary of major activities of the Department during the year:

THE CHURCH AT WORK

Publication of this quarterly paper constituted one of the largest single items of the budget of the Department, and, facing the need for drastic cuts, and with the fullest appreciation of the fact that without The Church At Work, the Church would have no means of carrying a message promptly to all of its people, the Department decided that circumstances necessitated the suspension of the paper. Upon motion of the Executive Secretary, approved by the Department, publication was discontinued in the spring of 1932, the last two issues being utilized to promote the Whitsunday offering for the deficiency fund.

PARTLY PRINTED PARISH PAPER

Seeking some substitute for The Church At Work, at the urgent request of many parishes throughout the Church, the Department offered in the autumn of 1932, a new service which, while it can never cover the entire membership of the Church as did The Church At Work, can make it possible for some information about the world work of the Church to reach many of the people in the pews.

This service consists of a partly printed parish bulletin, supplied in the form of a leaflet 8¾ x 12 inches, which folds to a convenient four-page paper. The inside pages are printed with General Church and missionary information and illustrations; the outside pages are left blank, to be printed or mimeographed locally with parish news. The papers are issued for weekly or monthly use and are sold to parishes and missions in any desired quantity, at fifty cents a hundred, postpaid.

The service enables parishes to place before their people, their own parish news, and in addition a considerable quantity of information about the Church's Mission.

Varying with the season, the service is used by about four hundred parishes and missions, editions averaging about 150,000 copies per month.

The paper is and must be entirely self-supporting, and while the price at which it is sold is nominal, it covers production and distribution costs, and at the same time enables parishes to distribute a useful and attractive paper at a much smaller cost than that of a locally-printed paper of similar quality.

A FRIENDLY VISITOR

A development of the partly printed Parish Paper service, was the publication of a new paper for isolated Church people, more than twelve thousand of whom had received The Church At Work. The Department of Religious Education believed that some contact with these people must be retained at all costs, and at the suggestion of the Department of Publicity, adapted the Parish Paper idea to this specialized use.

Regular issues of the partly printed paper are mimeographed with news and information apt to be helpful to isolated Church people, and these printed and mimeographed papers are sent to co-operating dioceses for distribution to their isolated people. The little paper has been titled A Friendly Visitor, and it is visiting six thousand isolated Church people four times a year. It is supplied to the dioceses without cost. It is used, too, in some of the rural Church schools, and by Woman's Auxiliary branches which are interesting themselves especially in rural and isolated work.

THE SPIRIT OF MISSIONS

In 1932 The Spirit of Missions, co-operating in the observance of the George Washington Bicentennial, planned and published a notable series of articles on "George Washington the Churchman." Among the distinguished contributors to this series were the Rt. Rev. James DeWolf Perry, Mr. John Stewart Bryan, the Rt. Rev. Hugh Latimer Burlison, the Rev. Louis C. Washburn, and the Rev. Joseph P. McComas.

Late in the year The Spirit of Missions began two notable series of articles on the current topics for mission study, "China," and "The American Indian." The China series which began in the November issue, includes among its contributors, the Rt. Rev. Frank L. Norris, Bishop of North China; Louise Strong Hammond; the Rt. Rev. Logan H. Roots, and Archie T. L. Tsen. The "American Indian" series by Winifred E. Hurlbert, author of American Indians, began in the December number. During the year there were many articles of outstanding significance, among which were "From Buddhism to Christian Witness," by Yakabu Yamaguchi; "An Appraisal of Our Philippine Mission" by Prof. Ralston Hayden; and "Rehabilitating the Flooded Areas of Hunan," by the Rev. Walworth Tyng.

The series of pictorial maps of missionary jurisdictions was continued in 1932 by the publication of two maps, Alaska and China.

On the financial side, The Spirit of Missions has been better off than many, perhaps most, religious periodicals, though the condition existing is not satisfactory to the Department which naturally wishes to see the Church's missionary magazine make record gains each year.

There have been circulation losses of about ten per cent, and in addition there have been losses in advertising patronage amounting to an average of about a half page of advertising space per month.

In spite of these losses, there was a credit balance of $1,750 at the end of a year when most religious periodicals were reporting substantial deficits. This favorable balance sheet may be credited to two factors: unceasing care in effecting economies, with unceasing vigilance in control of expenditures; and the continuing loyalty of the representatives who care for the magazine's interests in parishes and missions all through the Church. These representatives are largely members of the parish branches of the Woman's Auxiliary, and their appointment is secured through the co-operation of Auxiliary officers in dioceses and missionary districts. During the year the number of parish representatives was increased by two hundred, and there are now representatives in 1,700 parishes and missions.

THE NATIONAL NEWS BUREAU

During 1932 the National News Bureau distributed 589 pieces of news matter and 338 photographs to the religious and secular press of the world. This was in addition to news communicated verbally in response to the steadily increasing calls upon the Department for information and guidance in news of a religious character.

The service of the Bureau was extended during the year to all countries within the sphere of Anglican Church activities. Stories of all the important activities of the American Church are now sent to Church publications in Canada, Great Britain, Africa, Australia, New Zealand and Tasmania with gratifying results.

Particular stress was laid upon the annual canvass in the work of the Bureau this year, in co-operation with the Field Department; and several score of meetings in the various dioceses at which missionaries on furlough delivered addresses, made it possible to direct widespread attention to the missionary enterprise.

In brief compass, through the printed word in the daily press every section of the United States, and a considerable part of the world outside, has been kept informed of the work of the Church through informative publicity regarding every phase of the task with which the Church is occupied. We express our sincere thanks to Church and Press alike for their generous co-operation.

THE CHURCH PRESS

Throughout the year, news of the Church was supplied regularly to the Church weeklies and the diocesan papers. There was an increase in the use of the "News Notes" which are prepared twice a month for use of general, diocesan and parish papers, and which are distributed freely to clergy and editors who ask for them.

Realizing the urgent need for all possible financial co-operation with the Church weeklies, the regular schedule of advertising was slightly increased, this action being prompted by the two-fold motive that the Church especially needed publicity, and the weeklies especially needed practical as well as sympathetic co-operation.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH OF THE AIR

The series of nation-wide radio broadcasts by Church leaders, so auspiciously begun in 1931, continued through the year 1932. Speaking from various stations of the Columbia Broadcasting System over extensive hook-ups, the Presiding Bishop, and Bishops Page, Rogers, Scarlett, Sherrill, Stewart and Woodcock delivered messages of outstanding significance and importance. These broadcasts are to be continued through next year.

MISCELLANEOUS ACTIVITIES

The Department utilized fully the space allotted to it in the departmental section of The Spirit of Missions, endeavoring to supply helpful and practical advice to diocesan and parish workers in the field of publicity through this means.

Increasing use was made of the Department's service of cuts and photographs. At a time when most parishes and dioceses could not possibly afford to purchase such material, this loan service met an emergency need, and the Department received many expressions of appreciation.

Production of maps and charts by the division of Cartography was continued, such material being provided for the use of most of the Departments of the Council, and for dioceses and parishes. Much of the material produced was sold at nominal prices, so that the overhead cost of the division was somewhat reduced.

A Course entitled "Motives and Methods in Church Publicity" was given at the Wellesley Summer Conference. This was a ten-period N. A. L. A. credit course, and both attendance and interest were marked, the enrollment including clergy, deaconesses, parish workers, diocesan executives and theological students from both home and foreign fields.

REPORT OF THE FIELD DEPARTMENT
FOR THE YEAR 1932

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE FIELD DEPARTMENT

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1932

THE report of the Field Department for the year 1931 contained a complete statement of its organization and normal activities. Although each year witnesses some new step in the evolution of field work it should not be necessary to again include such a comprehensive summary in the Annual Report for a number of years. Those who are interested in such a summary are referred to the Annual Report for 1931.

STAFF AND MEETINGS

The year 1932 has seen changes in the staff either in the form of resignations or appointments, but as it was the opening year of the triennium, the Department itself was newly constituted and the list of members will be found in the roster of the National Council organization which appears elsewhere in this report.

Three meetings were held—February 2nd, April 26th and October 11th. As a measure of economy the meeting scheduled for December 13th was omitted.

The hour and character of the meeting was also changed. Under the new arrangement instituted by the officers of the National Council, the Field Department no longer meets in the forum type of session heretofore held on the Tuesday evening preceding the meeting of the National Council. Meetings are now scheduled for 2:30 on the afternoon preceding the meeting of the National Council, simultaneously with the Departments of Domestic Missions and Religious Education. This precludes the type of general meeting heretofore held but the restricted Department attendance does appear to be conducive to more focused deliberations.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF DIOCESAN LEADERS

The Annual Conference of Diocesan Field Department Leaders was held at Brent House, Chicago, January 12th to 14th. In spite of the financial situation which had invoked stringent economy in diocesan expenditures, fifty-one representatives were in attendance. The conference was given a unique tone through the presence in the capacity of Chaplain and in the addresses of the Bishop of West Missouri, the Rt. Rev. Robert Nelson Spencer, D.D.

JOINT CONFERENCE AT GARDEN CITY

Of vital significance to the work of the Field Department was the joint meeting of the House of Bishops and the National Council which was held at Garden City, Long Island, on the 27th and 28th of April. Definite gains ensued as a result of this meeting at which the policies of administering and promoting the Church's Program were considered. That this was achieved was demonstrated repeatedly in the succeeding months. Whatever differences of opinion may have survived that meeting with regard to the administrative policies of the National Council, a much greater understanding and unity has been apparent in promotional effort.

The outstanding indication of this has been what has ensued in the matter of the appreciation and use of the diocesan field departments. There has been a general and vigorous shaking up of existing departments and their re-establishment in a number of dioceses where such an agency had been permitted to lapse, or else had never existed.

THE WHITSUNDAY (1932 DEFICIENCY FUND) APPEAL

The National Council at its meeting on February 3rd received the report that the expectancies for the year were more than $1,200,000 less than the budget authorized by General Convention and in addition to invoking drastic economies authorized a 1932 Deficiency Fund Appeal for $400,000 to be raised by Whitsunday. The Field Department was authorized to promote this appeal, and the National Council made a special appropriation of $50,000 to be available, if needed, to promote the Appeal and to reinforce the budget appropriation of the Department in connection with any extraordinary expenses that might be incurred in conducting the Every Member Canvass in November.

The plans for the promotion of the Whitsunday Appeal were made by the officers of the promotional division of the National Council the day after the Council meeting adjourned. It was a situation in which one wishes that the Department as such might have functioned. It was determined to avoid at all costs the burden of a highly organized campaign. It was not required that the effort express itself in a standardized program in all the dioceses and missionary districts. No attempt was made to distribute the $400,000 set as the goal in the form of diocesan and parish quotas. The hope was expressed that the movement would culminate in all cases on Whitsunday, May 15th, and that that be made the occasion for simultaneous corporate communions, for intercessions in behalf of the Church's Program, and the presentation, as an offering, of the funds previously secured.

It was decided to make the presentation of the Appeal as largely as possible an oral one, avoiding the expenditure of great sums in the production and distribution of special literature.

A series of ten meetings were held throughout the provinces attended by the bishops, diocesan field department leaders and leaders in the diocesan branches of the Woman's Auxiliary. The members of the National Council residing in each province were largely instrumental in the success of these meetings. The situation was presented and diocesan plans were discussed.

It was further decided that although contributions to the Deficiency Fund should be credited as payments on the diocesan quotas they were not to be credited as payments on the expectancies already reported. To avoid confusion in this respect it was further decided to withhold the quota credit of contributions to the Deficiency Fund Appeal until the books were closed at the end of the year.

The report of the treasurer reveals that the total contributions to the Deficiency Fund Appeal were $312,824.11. This achievement compares most favorably with the success attained by similar emergency appeals instituted by the other churches.

It is likewise gratifying to record that the total expense incurred by the Department in discharging this assignment was only $5,096.48.

Before turning from this incident in the work of the Department it is worth noting that an intangible but important result of the Deficiency Fund effort is one not disclosed by its financial statement. The manner in which the effort was planned and executed threw the burden of responsibility upon the dioceses. The result was a display of diocesan initiative and originality that is comparable only with that which was displayed in connection with the initial effort inaugurating the Nation-Wide Campaign in 1919 and with the effort instituted at the General Convention in New Orleans eliminating the deficit in 1925.

THE CANVASS OF NOVEMBER 27TH TO DECEMBER 11TH, 1932

The preparation for, and the Canvass of 1932, was conducted in the midst of the fears and uncertainties of the most acute economic depression that has arisen in the present generation. By the autumn of 1932 the country had seen the melting away of many great fortunes, both those recently acquired and those inherited through generations, and the development of a state of unemployment both among the industrial and professional classes exceeding anything of which the country had ever dreamed.

In the presence of this situation, the Field Department undertook to establish two distinctive accents in connection with the promotional effort of the year; one was the necessity for democratizing the support of the Church by the enlistment of a greater number of smaller contributors through a more thorough application of the Every Member Canvass; and the other was the opportunity to emphasize as never before the possibility of making the Canvass a campaign of house to house visiting of a friendly and pastoral character.

AN EVERY MEMBER VISITATION

The response to both of these accents was widespread and in the case of the second justified the Department in making the suggestion that in every instance the parish canvass committee be held together and commissioned to make an Every Member Visitation in the parish some time before Easter in the spring of 1933.

In connection with the proposal two leaflets were printed and distributed to the bishops and parish clergy:

Leaflet No. 2168, "Visiting—Suggestions for an Every Member Visitation or Visitation Mission."

Leaflet No. 2170, "Pure religion is to visit. One Parish Finds that a Visiting Church is a Happy Church"

As we enter the year 1933 the leaders of the Church are apparently confident that whatever degree of discouragement or disappointment we may be called upon to face in the financial affairs of the Church, the great depression has ushered the Church into the presence of great religious opportunities. Diocesan-wide visitations and missions are under way in every part of the Church.

1932 CANVASS LITERATURE

The preparation and publication of a complete set of basic handbooks in 1931 has made it unnecessary to conduct anything like as extensive a printing program this year. We report the following items in addition to the visitation literature already mentioned above:

No. 2164. "Should Your Parish Have a Canvass in a Year of Depression?"

No. 2167. "The Promise of Power,"—similar in character to Rediscovery of 1931 and more widely used.

No. 2166. "Earmarked for the Kingdom." This was an adaptation of the Budget Dollar of the General Church to the figures of the present triennium. About 400,000 copies were called for.

No. 2165. "After the Wind, the Earthquake and the Fire." This was an illustrated, colored folder and the demand ran to 600,000.

No. 2169. A Survey of Church Support Blank. This was published in connection with the accent that developed during the campaign on the democratization of giving in the Church. Ten thousand copies were printed and orders were received from thirty-five dioceses.

TWO PERMANENT COMMITTEES

Two permanent committees of the Department were provided for at its April meeting. The interest assigned to each is of basic importance to the future promotional policy of the National Council.

Committee on Direct Individual Giving: The Rt. Rev. George Craig Stewart, D.D., the Rt. Rev. Philip Cook, D.D., the Rt. Rev. Warren L. Rogers, D.D., the Rev. Don F. Fenn, D.D., the Rev. William A. Lawrence, D.D., Mr. C. Z. Patten, Mr. Walter Kidde and Mr. Lewis B. Franklin, D.C.L.

Committee on Stewardship Education and Literature: The Rt. Rev. Edwin A. Penick, D.D., the Rt. Rev. Robert E. L. Strider, D.D., the Rev. Wm. H. Milton, D.D., the Rev. John W. Suter, Jr., D.D., Mrs. Edward M. Cross and Miss Nannie Hite Winston.

THE DEPARTMENT BUDGET

The sum proposed as the appropriation for the Field Department in the budget fixed by General Convention for the year was $109,950.

By action of the National Council at its February meeting this was reduced to $79,195, and at its April meeting the Department on its own initiative further reduced this sum by $2,000. Further adjustments finally brought the figure for the year down to $75,195.

The Treasurer's report at the end of the year disclosed that there had been a saving in the expenditure of the appropriation made to the Department amounting to $11,130.35.

ADVANCE WORK AND SPEAKERS BUREAU

The report of the Rev. Charles H. Collett as secretary, directing these two divisions of the Department's activities is appended.

B. H. REINHEIMER,

SPEAKERS BUREAU

THE appended report on the single engagements and itinerary engagements for the Speakers Bureau for 1932 shows that the number of engagements is somewhat less than in the years 1930 and 1931. This is undoubtedly due to three factors. First, because in the year of 1930 and the first part of 1931 funds were available from the Advance Work Program with which to bring on speakers to cover those dioceses that had undertaken items in the Advance Work Program; secondly, 1931 being the Convention Year there were a great many missionaries available; and finally, due to the depression certain units have lessened their demands upon our services. In spite of all this the number of engagements is greater than in 1929 and practically the same as 1928.

Although the number of single engagements is about the normal number over a five-year period, it is extremely interesting and hopeful to know that the Bureau has been able to supply 615 itinerary days as against 376 and 377 in the years 1929 and 1928 respectively. This is a very real advance in the right direction.

We have been engaged for some time past in making a study of the engagements made by the Bureau during the past five years. In view of the great difficulties facing the February session of the National Council, I feel certain that nothing of a positive nature can be done now with regard to the facts to be presented, but I am offering them in order that there may be time to think them over prayerfully and thoughtfully in planning for future developments in the use of the Bureau.

ADVANCE WORK PROGRAMS

IN spite of the gloomy atmosphere of the financial reports of most institutions in these days, the Advance Work Programs, both for 1929-1931 and 1932-1934, have a report with certain elements of cheer in it.

Advance Work Program 1929-1931: A year ago we were able to report in this program, the completion of 46 items and that the sum of $751,327.52 had been received. For the year 1932 we discover that 4 more items have been completed, making a total of 50. The total sums received have increased from $751,327.52 to $837,900.44.

Advance Work Program 1932-1934: A year ago I reported that, following the recommendation of General Convention, the new Advance Work Program had not been formally instituted. As in last year's report, we again make the same statement as to the number of items requested and allocated. There are 14 such, and the sum of money contributed has increased from $3,780.77 to $18,271.85. Of the 14 items that have been accepted, 2 have been completed. The Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of New York has completed an item of $2,500 for an addition to the San Juan Hospital, Farmington, New Mexico. The Girls' Friendly Society accepted and has completed a $2,000 item, a parish hall, for St. Augustine's Mission, Kohalo, Hawaii.

It is evident from this that there are those, though they may be few in number, who wish to see the work of the Church step forward, even in the midst of difficult times, and who bear testimony to that fact by this concrete evidence.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1932

(Being the sixty-first annual report of the Woman's Auxiliary, of which forty-eight have been rendered to the Board of Missions and thirteen to the National Council.)

GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT

HAS the past year been one of progress? Give reasons for your answer." This information was asked of each diocesan branch. While there are a few answers in the negative, by far the greater number are in the affirmative, and the following statement is fairly representative: "Yes, in spite of depression. Much more interest shown, many new officers, young women coming in, a much more intelligent type of women beginning to get interested and taking office." It has not been an easy year, but it has been a good one for the majority of branches.

There has been an increase in the number of branches. There are at present 4,707, while such other organizations as the following report through the Woman's Auxiliary: Guilds, Church Service Leagues, Daughters of the King, Girls' Friendly Society, Church Periodical Clubs, Altar Guilds, Church Mission of Help and Church Schools.

An indication of the growth in co-operation is the fact that parish Guilds are amalgamating with the Auxiliary and that Altar Guilds seem to be following their example. Rochester states that "co-operation of the Woman's Auxiliary with all organizations is a practical reality." This co-operation is evidenced by joint meetings and joint programs, and boards including in their membership representatives of all women's organizations. It is not confined to women's work but is found, also, in the general work of the Church, as for instance in dioceses where women are being appointed as members of religious education, social service and field departments. In Harrisburg the Auxiliary "co-operates with the Bishop and the diocesan field department in trying to educate women and men and young people of the diocese to the needs of the Church and how to meet them," and Rhode Island helps by paying the salary of an assistant in the social service department. There is, also, much co-operation with civic and interdenominational boards and agencies so that the Auxiliary is represented in the Federal Council of Churches, Missionary Federation, Council of Peace, Y. W. C. A., Children's Educational Foundation, Red Cross and many other relief organizations.

The past year seems to show growth on spiritual lines. It is impossible to obtain exact figures, but there have been many corporate communions, quiet days, retreats and days of intercession. The day of intercession held in Maine in the autumn was carefully planned and successfully carried out and set an example worth following. Missionary work both in the diocese and outside it make long lists of service not only in this country but wherever the Church's mission exists. An interesting fact regarding the social service work is its slow but steady growth in each phase of activity including not only the actual work, but also thoughtful study of background and method.

EDUCATIONAL WORK

The diocesan reports record approximately 2,532 parishes and missions carrying on some phase of educational work; 1,926 studying the current missions theme, "Building a Christian Nation." Nine hundred and thirty parish branches report having representatives of The Spirit of Missions, an increase over previous years. Fourteen diocesan branches state the objective for 1933 to be education. Such expressions as the following are used: "To promote the establishment of a continuous educational program"; "to emphasize religious education in the wide sense"; "leadership-education"; "increasing spiritual and educational life"; "carrying out religious and educational programs."

The annual letters and diocesan programs accompanying the report blank give evidence of significant achievements in the educational work of the Auxiliary. Some dioceses have continued their interest in the problems of the Church in the world, stimulated by the Triennial Meeting in Denver. "A Guide" to the study of "The Kingdoms of Our Lord" was published during the year.

GIFTS

Thirty-nine recruits are reported from 21 dioceses, 5 hoping to go into domestic missionary work; 13 into foreign; 8 social service and 13 religious education. It is a regrettable but perhaps natural fact that a number of dioceses report not having paid their quotas in the past year. The reasons given are closed banks, unemployment, cut wages, industrial and agricultural troubles. But while the depression is blamed for much, other reasons are also given, such as parochialism, indifference, too few every-member canvasses and uninterested vestries. In many dioceses the Auxiliary helped with gifts for the quota and for the deficiency fund and took part in every-member canvasses, tried to "educate" Church people and "stood back of the quota in diocese and parish." It was natural that not a great deal was done for Advance Work, but fifty branches reported that they had given toward it. Montana's gift for the Virgin Islands emphasizes the fellowship of the Church's family.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT

Appreciation of the splendid co-operation received from the Auxiliaries in the various dioceses and districts through a most difficult year is the first thing which should be mentioned in reporting the work of the Supply Department. There are evidences of much self-sacrificing effort and as a result the total amount of work accomplished is very creditable. Of course, due to conditions, the appeals have not been as adequately filled as formerly and the end of the year finds a considerable number of them only partially cared for. One thing that has helped a great deal is the co-operation from the Girls' Friendly Society as requests for work received from most of the dioceses in which they have branches bear witness.

The files for 1932, show approximately the same number of missionaries and missions supplied with clothing and here, too, are evidences of self-sacrifice on the part of our missionaries as in a number of cases boxes have been relinquished in favor of someone to whom they might be even more necessary. In spite of these declinations the number of appeals has increased and boxes of clothing and household supplies have been sent to 340 missionaries and their families (including children under sixteen years of age); clothing and supplies to 267 missions and schools; hospital supplies and dressings to 30 hospitals, and to each of 58 catechists a suit of clothes and some underwear. Besides these a $5 Christmas gift box was sent to each of our women missionaries, approximately 450 in number. The total money value of these gifts as reported comes to $205,368.92.

The Church schools have continued their interest in sending a joyful gift to each child at the missions recommended by the bishops, totaling 55,853 in the past year. Where it was inadvisable on account of shipping expense or excessive duty to send the gifts themselves, their equivalent was sent in money to the missionaries that they might be purchased locally. These gifts are assigned through the Supply Department and the literature concerning the missions is collected and distributed by it in conjunction with the Department of Religious Education. While the children enjoy the gifts they receive, it is equally sure that the donors obtain much benefit from the study necessarily connected with the sending of the gifts.

Having weathered the very real difficulties of this past year it is possible to look forward to the coming one with hope, trusting that with the continued co-operation of the women and improved conditions the Department will be able to care for the missions and missionaries entrusted to its charge.

PROBLEMS AND OBJECTIVES

As in other annual reports the two questions: "What is your greatest problem?" and "What is your objective for next year?" show an interesting relationship since the problems often become objectives, so that the following appear in the list of problems and in the list of objectives: securing an adequate and more progressive leadership, reaching a better understanding of the General Church Program, arousing a desire to work in all five fields of service, interesting the uninterested, attracting and organizing younger women, reaching mothers of young children in the pre-school age, maintaining the devotional and educational side of the program, balancing the local budget, teaching that charity begins at home is not one of the Ten Commandments, organizing more systematic social service work, co-ordinating and enlisting all the woman-power in the diocese.

ROCHESTER AND LONG ISLAND

During the year a new diocesan branch came into existence, that of the Diocese of Rochester, with a plan and a program representative of the work of the women of the Church in that diocese and their first annual report is a story of wise and successful beginnings. In contrast with Rochester's first meeting, Long Island held its sixtieth anniversary, having been the first diocese to create a fully organized diocesan branch of the Woman's Auxiliary.

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Under the able chairmanship of Miss Marguerite Ogden, the National Executive Board held three regular meetings, but as a measure of economy omitted that of December. At the October meeting the following officers were elected: Chairman, Mrs. W. Blair Roberts; Vice-Chairman, Miss Rebekah Hibbard; Secretary, Miss Mary E. Johnston. At this time the board welcomed back Mrs. Harper Sibley, one of the commissioners of the Laymen's Missionary Inquiry which had visited and surveyed missions in the East. Both then and since the board's interest in Re-Thinking Missions has been keen and sustained.

THE PROVINCE OF THE SOUTHWEST

The headquarters' secretaries and the field staff conducted a so-called experiment in the Province of the Southwest. This was a plan by which the field workers served in the dioceses in that province and besides their regular work prepared for and followed up four educational conferences conducted by the headquarters' staff. These conferences were held in March for the women leaders of the dioceses in that province, those from Texas, Dallas and West Texas meeting at Waco, those from Oklahoma and Arkansas at Oklahoma City, those from New Mexico and North Texas at Albuquerque and from Missouri, West Missouri, Kansas and Salina at Kansas City. The same plan was used on a diocesan basis in Western Massachusetts at a conference in Springfield on November 16-18. At Waco and Kansas City the secretary for the Y. P. S. L. of the province, Miss Dorothy M. Fischer, conducted a conference for the leaders of that organization at the same time as those held for the Woman's Auxiliary, and at the conference in Springfield, associates of the Girls' Friendly Society met under the leadership of the National Executive Secretary, Miss Florence L. Newbold. The three conferences gained much from these co-operative efforts.

HEADQUARTERS AND FIELD STAFF

Besides this special work the five field workers continued their regular services, but in October Miss Helen Whitehouse resigned to prepare for diocesan educational work, living at Windham House during this preparation. In December Miss Ruth Osgood went to Mexico, lent to Hooker School for a year while Miss Boynton, the director, takes her furlough.

The headquarters' staff also continued their regular work both in the office and in the field. Four of them served as members of the committee created by the Presiding Bishop to study women's work in the Church, in an investigation and consideration of such timely and important subjects as the service of professional and volunteer workers and their status in the Church.

GRACE LINDLEY,

ACT OF INCORPORATION

Act of Incorporation of 1846, as amended by L. 1867, Ch. 374, passed April 12, 1867, and as amended by L. 1880, Ch. 226, passed May 8, 1880.

CHAP. 331

*An Act to incorporate The Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.
Passed May 13, 1846, by a two-thirds vote.*

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

§ 1. All such persons as now are or may hereafter become members of The Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, originally instituted in the year eighteen hundred and twenty and fully organized by the General Convention of the said Church in the year eighteen hundred and thirty-five, shall be and are hereby constituted a body corporate for the purpose of conducting general missionary operations in all lands by the name aforesaid. Nothing herein shall affect the power of the said convention to make such rules and regulations or so to alter or amend the constitution of the said society, as the said convention shall deem necessary or proper to promote the purpose for which the said society is incorporated as aforesaid. (As amended by L. 1880, Ch. 226.)

§ 2. For the object designated in the first section of the Act generally, or for any purpose connected with such object, the said corporation shall have power, from time to time, to purchase, take by gift, grant, devise, or bequest and hold real and personal estate, and to sell, lease and otherwise dispose of the same, provided the aggregate clear annual income of such real estate at any one time held, shall not exceed the sum of thirty thousand dollars. The corporation hereby created is declared subject to the provisions of chapter three hundred and sixty of the laws of one thousand eight hundred and sixty, entitled "An act relating to wills." (As amended by L. 1867, Ch. 374.)

§ 3. The said society shall, in its usual annual printed report, state the amount of its real and personal estate, and the income arising therefrom: a copy of which report shall be deposited in the State Library.

§ 4. This incorporation shall possess the general powers, and be subject to the provisions contained in title third of chapter eighteen of the first part of the Revised Statutes so far as the same are applicable and have not been repealed.

§ 5. This Act shall take effect immediately, and the Legislature may at any time alter, modify or repeal the same.

Of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society

and

CANON 59
Of the Presiding Bishop and National Council

As adopted by the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, Assembled in New Orleans, Louisiana, October,
1925, and Amended in 1928 and 1931

CANON 58

Of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society

The Constitution of the said Society, which was incorporated by an act of the Legislature of the State of New York, as from time to time amended, is hereby amended and established so as to read as follows:

Constitution of The Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America as established in 1820, and since amended at various times.

CANON 58

Name.

ARTICLE I. This organization shall be called the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, and shall be considered as comprehending all persons who are members of the Church.

Board of Directors.

ARTICLE II. The National Council, as constituted by Canon, shall be its Board of Directors, and shall adopt by-laws for its government not inconsistent with the Constitution and Canons.

Officers.

ARTICLE III. The officers of the Society shall be a President, two Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, a Treasurer and such Assistant Secretaries and Assistant Treasurers as may be appointed in accordance with the Canons or by-laws. The President shall be the Presiding Bishop of the Church, elected in accordance with the Constitution, and in the event of a vacancy in the office of Presiding Bishop, caused by death, resignation or inability to serve, the Presiding Officer of the National Council shall be ex-officio President of the Society. The two Vice-Presidents shall be the persons who are the Vice-Presidents of the National Council and they shall have such powers and shall perform such duties as may be assigned to them by the by-laws. The Treasurer of the Society shall be elected by the General Convention, and shall hold office for three years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified. In the event of a vacancy in the office of Treasurer through death, resignation or disability, the Directors of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society shall appoint a Treasurer to fill such vacancy until the General Convention shall elect a Treasurer. The Secretary shall be the person who is the Secretary of the National Council. The other officers of the Society shall be such as are provided for by the by-laws thereof. The tenure of office, compendation, powers and duties of the officers of the Society shall be such as are prescribed by the Canons and by the By-laws of the Society not inconsistent therewith.

CANON 59

ARTICLE IV. This Constitution of the Society may be altered or amended at any time by the General Convention of the Church.

Amendment.

CANON 59

Of the Presiding Bishop and the National Council

§ I. [i.] The Presiding Bishop and the National Council as hereinafter constituted, shall have charge of the unification, development and prosecution of the Missionary, Educational, and Social work of the Church, of which work the Presiding Bishop shall be the executive and administrative head.

[ii.] The Presiding Bishop shall be, ex-officio, the President of the Council. In case of a vacancy in the office of the Presiding Bishop, caused by death, resignation or in case of inability to serve, so much of his duties as pertain to the National Council shall be performed by the First Vice-President of the National Council, or in case of his death, resignation or inability to serve, the Second Vice-President of the National Council as President thereof, to serve until a Presiding Bishop shall have been elected in accordance with the constitution and shall have taken office.

§ II. [i.] The National Council, herein referred to as the Council, shall be composed of sixteen members elected by the General Convention, of whom four shall be Bishops, four shall be Presbyters, and eight shall be Laymen, two Bishops, two Presbyters, and four Laymen to be elected at each triennial meeting of General Convention; and of members elected by the Provincial Synods, each Synod having the right to elect one member at its last regular meeting prior to the triennial meeting of the General Convention. The President, the Vice-Presidents and the Treasurer of the Council shall be ex-officio members thereof.

Term of Office.

[ii.] The term of office of the members of the Council elected by the General Convention (other than the ex-officio members) shall be six years, commencing on the ensuing first day of January, and the term of office of the members elected by the Provincial Synods shall be three years, commencing on the first day of January following the ensuing regular meeting of the General Convention, and all such members shall remain in office until their duly elected successors are entitled, respectively, to assume their offices.

No member of the Council, elected by a Provincial Synod, who, at the expiration of his then current term will have served for six consecutive years shall be eligible for immediate re-election.

Vacancies. How filled.

Should any vacancy occur in the Council through the death or resignation of a member elected by the General Convention or through the change in status of any such member by consecration or ordination the Council shall fill such vacancy by the election of a suitable person to serve until his successor is elected by General Convention. The General Convention shall elect a suitable person to serve the portion of any term which will remain unexpired.

Should any vacancy occur in the Council through the failure of any Provincial Synod to elect a member, or through the death, resignation or removal from the Province, of any such member, the President and Executive Council of the Province shall appoint a suitable person, canonically resident in such Province, to serve until the Provincial Synod shall by election, fill the vacancy.

[iii.] The Council shall exercise the powers conferred upon it by Canon, and such further powers as may be designated by the General Convention, and between sessions of the General Convention may initiate and develop such new work as it may deem necessary. It may, subject to the provision of this Canon enact By-laws for its own government and the government of its several departments.

Powers of Council.

In its capacity as the Board of Directors of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, the Council shall have the power to direct the disposition of the moneys and other property of said Society in accordance with the provisions of this Canon and the orders and budgets adopted or approved by the General Convention.

§ III. [i.] The President shall appoint, subject to confirmation by the Council, two male communicants of the Church, either clerical or lay, to be Vice-Presidents of the Council who shall be ex-officio members thereof. They shall be designated by the President and the Council as First and Second Vice-President, respectively. Each of such Vice-Presidents shall be the Vice-Chairman and a member of such of the Departments, organized under the provisions of Section V. hereof, as may be assigned by the President and Council to his charge, and shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be assigned by the President.

Vice-Presidents.

[ii.] The Council shall elect a Secretary and prescribe his duties.

Secretary.

§ IV. [i.] The Treasurer of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society shall, ex-officio, be the treasurer of the Council. He shall hold office for three years and until his successor is elected.

[ii.] The Presiding Bishop and the Council shall appoint such Assistant Treasurers as may be necessary, to hold office during their pleasure, and until their successors are appointed.

[iii.] The Treasurer and each Assistant Treasurer shall furnish bonds for the faithful performance of their respective duties, in such form and amount as the Council shall prescribe.

[iv.] The accounts of the office of the Treasurer shall be audited annually by a certified public accountant and approved by the Council.

Executive Departments.

§ V. [i.] The Council shall organize the following executive Departments and shall define their duties:

- First: A Department of Domestic Missions.
- Second: A Department of Foreign Missions.
- Third: A Department of Religious Education.
- Fourth: A Department of Christian Social Service.
- Fifth: A Department of Finance.
- Sixth: A Department of Publicity.
- Seventh: A Field Department.

The Council shall have power to combine existing Departments and to organize and define the duties of such other Departments as the work may demand.

[ii.] Each Department may appoint, subject to confirmation by the Council, additional members, as provided by the By-Laws, who shall have seats and votes in the Department, but shall have no seat or vote in the Council. Women shall be eligible to appointment as such additional members.

Executive and other Secretaries.

[iii.] The Presiding Bishop shall be, ex-officio, a member and the chairman of each Department, and may appoint, subject to confirmation by the Council, an Executive Secretary for each Department, and such other secretaries as may be necessary, who shall perform such duties as the Department, subject to the approval of the Presiding Bishop, shall assign to them. Such secretaries shall hold office during the pleasure of the Presiding Bishop.

CANON 59

[iv.] Each Department shall, annually and at such other times as the Presiding Bishop or the Council may require, make full reports of its activities to the Presiding Bishop and to the Council.

Department Reports.

[v.] The Council shall also organize an Advisory Commission on Ecclesiastical Relations, with such officers attached thereto as the Presiding Bishop and the National Council may from time to time determine.

§ VI. [i.] The Council shall meet with the Presiding Bishop at such place, and at such stated times, at least four times each year, as it, with his concurrence, shall appoint, and at such other times as it may be convened. The Council shall be convened at the request of the Presiding Officer or at the written request of any nine members thereof.

Meetings.

[ii.] Nine elected members of the Council shall be necessary to constitute a quorum at any meeting of the Council.

Quorum.

§ VII. [i.] The salaries of the President and all other officers of the Council and of all agents and employees of the Council, shall be fixed by the Council and paid by the Treasurer.

Salaries.

[ii.] The salary of each Bishop of a Missionary District shall be paid by the Treasurer. Such salary shall date from the Bishop's consecration or from the date of his translation, if he be already consecrated, and shall not be diminished without his consent while such Bishop remains in charge of a District.

Program, Budgets and Apportionment.

§ VIII. [i.] The Council shall submit to the General Convention at each regular session thereof a program of its proposed activities for the triennium, including a detailed budget of that part of the program for which it proposes to make appropriation for the ensuing year, and estimated budgets for the two succeeding years. In connection with the preparation of such budget the National Council shall, at least fifteen months before the session of the General Convention transmit to the President of each Province a statement of its existing appropriations for the Dioceses and Missionary Districts within such Province, showing the items for which such appropriations are expended, for the purpose of obtaining the advice of the Province as to changes therein. The Synod, or Council, of each Province shall thereupon, in such manner as the Synod shall determine, consider such budget and report its findings to the National Council for its information. The National Council shall also submit to the General Convention with the budget a plan for the apportionment to the respective Dioceses and Missionary Districts of the sum needed to execute the program.

Joint Sessions for the
of program.

[ii.] There shall be joint sessions of the two Houses for the presentation of such program; and thereafter consideration shall be given and appropriate action taken thereon by the General Convention. The Council shall have the power to expend all sums of money covered by the budget and estimated budgets approved by the Convention, subject to such restrictions as may be imposed by General Convention. It shall also have power to undertake such other work provided for in the program approved by General Convention, or other work under the jurisdiction of the Council, the need for which may have arisen after the action of the General

CANON 59

Convention, as in the judgment of the Council its income will warrant.

[iii.] Upon the adoption by the General Convention of a program and plan of apportionment for the ensuing triennium, the Council shall formally advise each Diocese and Domestic Missionary District with respect to its proportionate part of the estimated expenditure involved in the execution of the program in accordance with the plan of apportionment adopted by the General Convention. Such quotas shall be determined by the Council upon an equitable basis.

Notice of allotted quotas to be given.

[iv.] Each Diocese and District shall thereupon notify each Parish and Mission thereof of the amount of the quota allotted to such Diocese or District, and the amount of such quota to be raised by each Parish or Mission. If the Diocese so determines, the quota allotted by the Diocese or District to each Parish or Mission shall be the combined quota for General and Diocesan work. Each Diocese and District and the Parishes and Missions thereof shall then take necessary steps to raise their respective quotas.

§ IX. [i.] Every Missionary Bishop, or in case of a vacancy, the Bishop in charge of the District, receiving aid from the Council, shall report at the close of each fiscal year to the Council, giving account of his work, of money received from all sources and disbursed for all purposes, and of the state of the Church in his District at the date of such report, all in such form as the Council may prescribe.

Bishops receiving aid to report to Council.

[ii.] Every Bishop of a Diocese receiving aid from the Council shall report at the close of each fiscal year to the Council giving account of the work in his Diocese supported in whole or in part by the Council.

§ X. The Council, as soon as practicable after the close of each fiscal year, shall make and publish a full report of its work to the Church. Such report shall contain an itemized statement of all receipts and disbursements and a statement of all trust funds and other property of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, and of all other trust funds and property in its possession or under its control. The Council shall make a like report including a detailed schedule of the salaries paid to all officers, agents and principal employees, to each General Convention.

Eligibility as Missionaries.

§ XI. No person shall, under any power or authority delegated by this Canon, be appointed a Missionary, who is not, at the time, a Minister or a member of this Church, or of some Church in communion with this Church, in regular standing; Provided, however, that, at the request of the Bishop of a Diocese or Missionary District, other persons not so qualified may be employed in exceptional cases.

§ XII. This Canon shall take effect immediately and all Canons or parts of Canons inconsistent with the provisions of this Canon are hereby repealed.

OFFICERS

ARTICLE I. § 1. The President of the National Council shall preside at all meetings of the Council and of each Department thereof—and shall exercise such further powers and perform such further duties in addition to those prescribed by Canon, as are incident to the office of Chief Executive.

The President of the Council.

§ 2. The two Vice-Presidents, as Vice-Chairmen of the several Departments assigned to their respective jurisdiction, shall in consultation with the President and the respective Executive Secretaries, co-ordinate the activities of the Departments, perform the duties of Chief Executive Assistants to the President, and such other duties as may be prescribed herein, or from time to time by the National Council; and, in the absence of the President, they shall, in their order preside at meetings of the National Council, and in the absence of the President or when directed by him to do so, at meetings of the several Departments.

The Vice-Presidents of the Council.

BY-LAWS

At any meeting of the National Council, in the absence of the President and both the Vice-Presidents, the Council shall be presided over by some member thereof, selected for that purpose by the members present.

At any Departmental meeting, in the absence of the President or one of the Vice-Presidents, the Department shall be presided over by some member thereof, selected for that purpose by the members of the Department present.

The Secretary of the Council.

§ 3. The Secretary of the Council shall hold office during the pleasure of the Council and shall be the Recording Secretary of each of the Departments organized by the Council. The Secretary shall give due notice of all meetings of the Council and of the Departments and of all special committees, and shall communicate to each officer, committee or member of the Council all matters imposing any duty. He shall keep full and accurate minutes of all proceedings of the Council and shall likewise keep and submit the minutes of each of the meetings of the Departments at the next meeting of the Council in the proceedings of which they shall be embodied so that there shall be one complete record. He shall carefully preserve the minutes and records of the Council and of each of the Departments and deliver them to his successor, and perform such other duties as may be assigned to him by the President or by the Council. The seal of The Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society shall be in his custody as Secretary of said Society and in all cases in which its use is directed by resolution of its Board of Directors or by the provisions of these by-laws, it shall be affixed and attested by him, or in case of his necessary absence or other disability, by an Assistant Secretary.

BY-LAWS

§ 4. One or more Assistant Secretaries may be appointed by the Secretary with the approval of the President.

Assistant Secretaries.

§ 5. The Executive Secretaries shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by the President or by the Vice-President in charge of that Department.

The Executive Secretaries.

§ 6. The Treasurer shall be the custodian of all the funds, except trust funds, of the Council and of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, and except as to trust funds, of all securities or other property under the control of the Council or said Society. He shall keep full and accurate records and accounts of all receipts, disbursements, credits, assets, liabilities and general financial transactions, and shall deposit all moneys and other valuable effects under the control of the Council coming into his hands, in such depositories as may be designated by the Council. His books and accounts shall be open at all times during business hours to the inspection of the President or any member of the Council.

The Treasurer.

The Treasurer shall disburse the funds under the control of the Council or said Society in such manner as may be ordered by the specific or general instructions of the Council, taking proper vouchers for all such disbursements. He shall also have the custody of the charter and all deeds, leases, bonds and contracts of the Society.

The Treasurer shall render to the Council and to the Department of Finance, as called for, all such statements and accounts as may be required of him; shall prepare an annual report showing all receipts and disbursements, and showing all property in the possession or under the control of the Council; and shall make such other reports and perform such other duties incidental to his position as may be required of him by the Council or the President or the Department of Finance, or the Vice-President in charge of that Department.

Assistant Treasurers.

§ 7. Each Assistant Treasurer shall have such powers and perform such duties as may be assigned to him by the Treasurer.

Signatures.

§ 8. All instruments of writing, save those hereinafter enumerated, requiring execution in the name of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, shall be signed either by the President, or one of the Vice-Presidents, or by the Treasurer, or Assistant Treasurer and in addition, when necessary, by the Secretary or an Assistant Secretary, who shall affix and attest the corporate seal—unless otherwise ordered by resolution of the Board of Directors of the said Society.

All checks, drafts, orders for payment of money, or bills of exchange, of The Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America shall be signed by the Treasurer, or an Assistant Treasurer or the Cashier.

Receipts for gifts, contributions, bequests and legacies to the Society, agreements and obligations in the nature of refunding or indemnity contracts, may be signed by the Treasurer or an Assistant Treasurer.

Corporate Seal.

§ 9. The corporate seal of the Society shall be circular in form and shall contain the words as impressed hereon.

COMMITTEE ON TRUST FUNDS

Elections.

ARTICLE II. § 1. There is hereby constituted a Committee on Trust Funds which shall consist of the President and the Treasurer of the Council, and three lay members of the Council, who shall be elected at its annual meeting to hold office for one year, and until their successors are elected. The Committee shall organize by electing a Chairman, Secretary and such other officers as may be necessary.

§2. Trust Funds are those moneys, properties or investments which, under the direction of the donor or testator, or by action of the Council, are directed to be held and invested for a period of time or permanently. The Committee on Trust Funds shall receive and hold all trust funds of The Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America and shall have supervision, subject to the direction of the Council, of the investment and reinvestment of the trust funds now held or which shall hereafter be received and shall provide that the income from the said funds is paid to the Treasurer at regular intervals to be by him disbursed in strict conformity with the declared purposes of the several trusts.

Trust Funds
and Custody thereof.

§ 3. In the absence of special instructions on the part of the donor or testator such funds shall be invested as promptly as may be as follows:

Investment of Trust Funds.

(1) In such securities as are or may be authorized by the State of New York for the investment of the funds of savings banks and/or other trust funds, or

(2) In the mortgage lien bonds of a corporation incorporated under the laws of any state in the United States and deriving not less than 80% of its gross income from the business of supplying electric energy, or gas, or both, for light, heat, power and/or other purposes, subject to the following conditions and restrictions:

(a) Such corporation shall, at the time of such investment, be incorporated under the laws of a state having a properly constituted public service commission or a properly constituted commission, board or department having authority similar to that of a public service commission.

(b) The outstanding capital stock of such corporation or the stated capital stock of such corporation in case of a corporation having non-par value shares, shall be equal in par value to at least one-half of the total mortgage debt, issued, assumed or guaranteed by such corporation, or otherwise secured by mortgage lien on any part or all of its property, including any new issue of bonds, then being offered.

(c) At no time within the five fiscal years next preceding the date of any such investment shall such a corporation have failed to have paid, regularly and punctually, the matured principal and interest on all its direct, assumed or guaranteed funded indebtedness.

(d) For the period of three fiscal years next preceding such investment, the gross income of such corporation shall have been not less than \$1,000,000 per annum and the net earnings of such corporation shall have been at least $1\frac{3}{4}$ times the amount of interest and rentals, including in the computation of interest for the last one of such fiscal years or for the twelve months immediately preceding the time of issuance of bonds, one year's interest on any new issue authorized for sale by the corporation.

(e) The mortgage securing such bonds shall either be a closed mortgage insofar as the sale of additional bonds is concerned, or shall provide that additional bonds may be issued only for refunding at not more than 100% of the bonds retired or for new property to the extent of not more than 80% of the value of any such property acquired or to be acquired through the sale of such bonds and shall also provide that no additional bonds under the mortgage shall be issued unless the earnings of the company for the fiscal year, or twelve months period preceding the date of the issue of such additional bonds shall have been not less than $1\frac{3}{4}$ times the interest on all prior mortgage bonds and on the bonds secured by such mortgage including the bonds to be issued or unless the earnings for such period shall be not less than 12% of the par value of all outstanding bonds and bonds to be then issued.

(f) In determining the qualification of an underlying bond under this subdivision, in a case where the property covered by the underlying mortgage has not been owned or operated by the mortgagor corporation for the period mentioned as a basis for qualification, then the record of the underlying corporation may be considered to make up the required period, and if the record of the underlying corporation during its portion of the period, and the record of the successor corporation during the balance of the period respectively, meet the requirements of this subdivision, then such underlying bond shall be considered as eligible.

(g) The term fiscal year, as used in this subdivision, means the regular annual accounting period of the corporation. The term "fiscal year next preceding" shall mean the fiscal year ending not more than fifteen months prior to the date of such investment. The term net earnings, as used in this subdivision, means the amount determined by subtracting the operating expenses including the maintenance charges and taxes from the gross earnings and adding net income derived from sources other than operation. The terms, interest and rentals, as used in this subdivision, include also guaranteed interest and guaranteed dividends on all leased or controlled properties, the earnings of which are included in the gross earnings of the corporation. The term mortgage bond, as used in this subdivision, shall include bonds secured by a direct lien upon physical property or by deposit with the trustee of bonds having such direct lien and shall exclude bonds secured in part by deposit as collateral of the stock of other corporations unless the provisions as to gross and net earnings contained in this subdivision are complied with, regardless of the income from such deposited stock, or

(3) In the mortgage bonds of a corporation, incorporated under the laws of any state in the United States, engaged in the business of supplying service by telephone, subject to the conditions incorporated in Section 2 of this Article, with the further provision that for the five fiscal years preceding such investment the gross revenues of such telephone corporation shall have exceeded $3,000,000 per annum, or

(4) In the obligations of a railroad corporation organized under the laws of the United States of America or any state thereof, issued for the purpose of acquiring locomotives, cars or other similar railroad equipment, subject to the following conditions and restrictions:

(a) They must be the whole or part of an issue maturing serially, either annually or semi-annually, the last of which shall mature not later than 15 years from the date of issue.

(b) They must be secured by or be evidence of a first lien upon or interest in or reservation of title to the equipment in respect of which they have been issued or sold, or by an assignment of, or prior interest in, the rent or purchase notes given for the hiring or purchase of such equipment.

(c) The railroad corporation in whose interest they are issued must have had for three successive fiscal years preceding such investment, gross earnings of not less than $5,000,000 per annum and "gross income" as defined by the Interstate Commerce Commission for a similar period equal to one and one-half times its "deductions from gross income," as defined by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

(d) The total amount of principal of such issue of equipment obligations shall not exceed 80% of the cost or purchase price of the equipment in respect of which they were issued.

(5) Nothing in this Article shall be construed so as to require the sale of securities or property given to the Society by will or otherwise.

§ 4. All securities and money in the hands of this Committee awaiting use or investment shall be deposited with or placed in the charge and custody of such trust company or companies as the Council may designate, as hereinafter provided. Such trust company, or companies, under the advice and direction of this Committee, shall collect and pay over to the Treasurer the income of the securities, invest and re-invest the capital thereof, care for and properly protect the property committed to its charge, keep proper accounts for the Committee, and hold all such property at all times subject to the order of the Committee. All orders for the sale or release of any of the securities in the possession of the trust company shall be signed by two members of this Committee. Money in the care of such trust company, or companies, awaiting investment, shall be withdrawn only by orders signed by two members of this Committee.

Committee on Trust Funds.

This Committee shall keep an accurate account of each trust fund separately and shall make a full report in writing in regard to these funds to the stated meetings of the Council.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON TRUST FUNDS

THE Committee on Trust Funds reports that in accordance with the resolution adopted by the National Council on December 9, 1925, the trust funds in the custody of the Committee, the income of which is available for support of the work of The Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, have been consolidated for investment purposes into one fund. The cash and securities held for these funds were taken over at their book value as of January 1, 1926. The profits on the securities sold or collected during the year have been invested for the protection of the principal of these funds. The average rate of interest collected during the year upon all of these investments was 5.0117% and each of these funds has been credited with its proportionate share of this income and the amount paid over to the Treasurer of the Society.

The Reserve Deposits of the Society are entered separately and the report shows the investments held for such Deposits.

The report also shows the other funds in the custody of the Committee, the investments held for each one of them at the close of the year and the amount of income paid to the Treasurer for each of these funds.

The period covered by this report is from January 1, 1932 to December 31, 1932, inclusive.
